CARIBBEAN AND NORTH ATLANTIC TERRITORIES

The Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1967

Made - - - - - 23rd March 1967
Laid before Parliament 29th March 1967
Coming into Operation As provided in section 1(2) and (3)

At the Court at Windsor Castle, the 23rd day of March 1967

Present,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

Her Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers vested in Her by section 5 of the West Indies Act 1962(a) and of all other powers enabling Her in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

PART I

INTRODUCTORY

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1967.

(2) This Part, Part IV and sections 57(2) and 58 of this Order shall come into operation on 30th March 1967; and as from that date sections 3 to 34 and sections 36 and 42 of the Virgin Islands Constitution and Elections Ordinance 1954(b) and the First Schedule thereto are hereby revoked.

(3) The provisions of this Order other than those mentioned in the last foregoing subsection shall come into operation on such day after the polling in the first general election after 30th March 1967 as the Administrator, by proclamation published in the Gazette, shall appoint; and as from that day the Virgin Islands Letters Patent 1959(c), the Virgin Islands Letters Patent 1960(d) and the Virgin Islands Royal Instructions 1959(e) are hereby revoked.

2.—(1) In this Order, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context—

“the appointed day” means the day appointed under section 1(3) of this Order;

“the Court of Appeal” means the Court of Appeal established by the West Indies Associated States Supreme Court Order 1967(f);

“dollars” means dollars in the currency of the United States of America;

“election” means election of an elected member of the Legislative Council, and “general election” shall be construed accordingly;

“the Gazette” means the official Gazette of the Virgin Islands;

“the High Court” means the High Court established by the West Indies Associated States Supreme Court Order 1967;

(a) 1962 c. 19. (b) No. 7 of 1954. (c) S.I. 1959 II, p. 3450.
(d) S.I. 1960 III, p. 4157. (e) S.I. 1959 I, p. 3458. (f) S.I. 1967/223 (1967 I, p. 364).

“minister of religion” means any person in holy orders and any other person the functions of whose principal occupation include teaching or preaching in any congregation for religious worship;

“the Police Force” means any police force established for the Virgin Islands under any law in force in the Virgin Islands;

“public office” means, subject to the provisions of subsections (7) and (8) of this section, any office of emolument in the public service or any office of emolument under any local government council or authority in the Virgin Islands;

“public officer” means the holder of any public office and includes any person appointed to act in any such office;

“public service” means the service of the Crown in a civil capacity in respect of the government of the Virgin Islands;

“session” in relation to the Legislative Council means the sittings of the Council commencing when the Council first meets after being constituted under this Order, or after its prorogation or dissolution at any time, and terminating when the Council is next prorogued or is dissolved without having been prorogued;

“sitting” in relation to the Legislative Council means a period during which the Council is sitting continuously without adjournment and includes any period during which the Council is in committee.

(2) In this Order, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context—

(a) any reference to power to make appointments to any office shall be construed as including a reference to power to make appointments on promotion and transfer to that office and to power to appoint a person to perform the functions of that office during any period when it is vacant or the holder thereof is unable (whether by reason of absence or infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) to perform those functions;

(b) any reference to power to remove a public officer from office shall be construed as including a reference to any power conferred by any law to require or permit that officer to retire from the public service;

(c) any reference to the holder of an office by a term designating or describing his office shall be construed as including a reference to any person who, under and to the extent of any authority in that behalf, is for the time being performing the functions of that office.

(3) In this Order, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, references to the functions of the Administrator shall be construed as references to his powers and duties in exercise of the executive authority of the Virgin Islands and to any other powers or duties conferred or imposed on him as Administrator by or under this Order or any other law.

(4) Where by this Order any person is directed, or power is conferred on any person or authority to appoint a person, to perform the functions of an office if the holder thereof is unable to perform those functions, the validity of any performance of those functions by the person so directed or of any appointment made in exercise of that power shall not be called in question in any court on the ground that the holder of the office is not unable to perform the functions of the office.

(5) For the purposes of this Order, the resignation of the holder of any office that is required to be addressed to any person shall have effect from the time that it is received by that person.

(6) For the purposes of this Order, a person shall not be considered to hold a public office by reason only—

- (a) that he is in receipt of a pension or other like allowance in respect of public service ; or
- (b) that he is in receipt of any remuneration or allowances in respect of his tenure of the office of Minister or Speaker, Deputy Speaker or member of the Legislative Council.

(7) If it is provided by any law in force in the Virgin Islands that an office shall not be a public office for the purposes of Part IV of this Order, this Order shall have effect accordingly as if that provision of that law were enacted herein.

(8) References in section 17 and Part V of this Order to public offices shall not be construed as including references to—

- (a) the office of a member of any board, committee or other similar body (whether incorporated or not) established by any law in force in the Virgin Islands ; or
- (b) any office of emolument under any local government council or authority in the Virgin Islands.

(9) Where this Order vests in any person power to make appointments to any office, a person may be appointed to that office, notwithstanding that some other person may be holding that office, when that other person is on leave of absence pending relinquishment of that office ; and where two or more persons are holding the same office by reason of an appointment made in pursuance of this subsection, then, for the purposes of any function conferred upon the holder of that office, the person last appointed to the office shall be deemed to be the sole holder of the office.

(10) Where any power is conferred by this Order to make any proclamation, order or regulations or to give any directions, the power shall be construed as including a power exercisable in like manner to amend or revoke any such proclamation, order, regulations or directions.

(11) For the avoidance of doubts it is hereby declared that any person who has vacated his seat in any body, or has vacated any office, established by this Order may, if qualified, again be appointed or elected as a member of that body, or to that office, as the case may be, from time to time.

(12) Save as in this Order otherwise provided or required by the context, the Interpretation Act 1889(a) shall apply, with the necessary adaptations, for the purpose of interpreting this Order and otherwise in relation thereto as it applies for the purpose of interpreting and in relation to an Act of Parliament.

(a) 1889 c. 63.

PART II

THE ADMINISTRATOR

3.—(1) There shall be an Administrator of the Virgin Islands who Administrator shall be appointed by Her Majesty by Commission under Her Sign Manual and Signet and shall hold office during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) The Administrator shall, for the purpose of administering the government of the Virgin Islands, have such powers and duties as are conferred or imposed on him by this Order or any other law and such other powers as Her Majesty may from time to time be pleased to assign to him, and, subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law by which any such powers or duties are conferred or imposed, shall do and execute all things that belong to his office (including the exercise of any powers with respect to which he is empowered by this Order to act in his discretion) according to such instructions, if any, as Her Majesty may from time to time see fit to give him:

Provided that the question whether or not the Administrator has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(3) A person appointed to the office of Administrator shall, before entering upon the functions of that office, make oaths or affirmations of allegiance and for the due execution of that office in the forms set out in the Schedule to this Order.

(4) There shall be charged on the revenues of the Virgin Islands and paid thereout to the Administrator such salary as may from time to time be prescribed by any law in force in the Virgin Islands:

Provided that the salary of the Administrator shall not be reduced during his continuance in office.

4.—(1) During any period when the office of Administrator is vacant Acting Administrator or the holder thereof is absent from the Virgin Islands or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of his office those functions shall, during Her Majesty's pleasure, be assumed and performed by—

- (a) such person as Her Majesty may designate in that behalf by instructions given under Her Sign Manual and Signet or through a Secretary of State, or
- (b) if there is no person in the Virgin Islands so designated and able to perform those functions, the Attorney-General.

(2) Before assuming the functions of the office of Administrator, any such person as aforesaid shall make the oaths or affirmations directed by the last foregoing section to be made by the Administrator.

(3) Any such person as aforesaid shall not continue to perform the functions of the office of Administrator after the holder thereof or some other person having a prior right to perform the functions of that office has notified him that he is about to assume or resume those functions.

(4) The holder of the office of Administrator or any person designated under subsection (1) of this section shall not, for the purposes of this section, be regarded as absent from the Virgin Islands or as unable to perform the functions of the office of Administrator—

- (a) by reason that he is in passage from one part of the Virgin Islands to another ;
- (b) at any time when there is a subsisting appointment of a deputy under the next following section ; or

(c) by reason of absence from the Virgin Islands for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours for the purpose of visiting the United States Virgin Islands.

Deputy to Administrator.

5.—(1) Whenever the Administrator—

- (a) has occasion to be absent from the seat of Government but not from the Virgin Islands; or
- (b) has occasion to be absent from the Virgin Islands for a period which he has reason to believe will be of short duration; or
- (c) is suffering from an illness which he has reason to believe will be of short duration, he may, acting in his discretion, by instrument under the public seal, appoint any person in the Virgin Islands to be his deputy during such absence or illness and in that capacity to perform on his behalf such of the functions of the office of Administrator as may be specified in that instrument.

(2) The power and authority of the Administrator shall not be abridged, altered or in any way affected by the appointment of a deputy under this section, and a deputy shall conform to and observe all instructions that the Administrator may from time to time address to him;

Provided that the question whether or not a deputy has conformed to and observed any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(3) A person appointed as a deputy under this section shall hold that appointment for such period as may be specified in the instrument by which he is appointed, and his appointment may be revoked at any time by Her Majesty by instructions given through a Secretary of State or by the Administrator, acting in his discretion.

Exercise of Administra-

6.—(1) Subject to the next following subsection, the Administrator shall consult with the Executive Council regarding the exercise of any of his functions other than—

(a) any function conferred upon him by this Order which is expressed to be exercisable by him in his discretion or in accordance with the advice of, or after consultation with, any person or authority other than the Executive Council; and

(b) any function conferred upon him by any other law in terms which authorise him to exercise that function without consulting with the Executive Council.

(2) The Administrator shall not be obliged to consult with the Executive Council in any case—

(a) in which the matter is one for which he is responsible under section 17 of this Order and is of such a nature that, in his judgment, Her Majesty's service would sustain material prejudice by reason of his consulting the Council thereon; or

(b) in which the question for decision is, in his judgment, too unimportant to require their advice; or

(c) in which, in his judgment, the urgency of the matter requires him to act before the Council can be consulted;

but in any such case of urgency he shall, as soon as practicable, communicate to the Council the measures he has adopted and the reasons therefor.

(3) When the Administrator has, in pursuance of this section, consulted with the Executive Council—

(a) in the case of a matter for which he is responsible under section 17 of this Order, he may act otherwise than in accordance with the advice given to him by the Council if he considers it right so to do; and

(b) in the case of any other matter he shall act in accordance with the advice given to him by the Council:

Provided that in the case of any such other matter he may act otherwise than in accordance with such advice if he considers it necessary or expedient to do so for the purposes of any of the matters for which he is responsible under section 17 of this Order, but if he so acts he shall, as soon as practicable, report his action and the reasons therefor to a Secretary of State.

(4) Where the Administrator is directed by this Order to exercise any function after consultation with any person or authority other than the Executive Council he shall not be obliged to exercise that function in accordance with the advice of that person or authority.

(5) Nothing in the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to the matters for which provision is made by section 9 or section 43 of this Order.

(6) Where the Administrator is directed by this Order to exercise any function in accordance with the advice of, or after consultation with any person or authority, the question whether he has so exercised that function shall not be enquired into in any court.

7. Subject to the provisions of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Administrator or any person duly authorised by him in that behalf by writing under his hand, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may, under the public seal, make grants and disposition of lands or other immoveable property in the Virgin Islands or interests in such property that are vested in Her Majesty for the purposes of the Government of the Virgin Islands.

8. Subject to the provision of this Order and of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Administrator, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may—

(a) constitute offices for the Virgin Islands and make appointments (including acting appointments), to be held during Her Majesty's pleasure, thereto, and

(b) dismiss any person so appointed or take such other disciplinary action in relation to him as the Administrator may think fit.

9.—(1) The Administrator may, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf—

(a) grant to any person concerned in or convicted of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands a pardon, either free or subject to lawful conditions;

(b) grant to any person concerned in or convicted of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands a pardon, either free or subject to lawful conditions;

- (b) grant to any person a respite, either indefinite or for a specified period, from the execution of any sentence passed on that person for such an offence;
- (c) substitute a less severe form of punishment for that imposed by any sentence for such an offence; or
- (d) remit the whole or any part of any sentence passed for such an offence or any penalty or forfeiture otherwise due to Her Majesty on account of such an offence.
- (2) In the exercise of his powers under this section the Administrator shall consult with the Executive Council, but he shall decide whether to exercise any of those powers in any case in his own deliberate judgment, whether the members of the Council concur in his decision or otherwise.

(3) Without prejudice to the provisions of the last foregoing subsection, whenever any person has been sentenced to death for an offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands the Administrator shall call upon the judge who presided at the trial to make to him a written report of the case of such offender and shall cause such report, together with such other information derived from the record of the case or elsewhere as the Administrator may require, to be taken into consideration at a meeting of the Executive Council so that the Council may advise him on the exercise of his powers under this section in relation to that person.

The public seal. 10. The Administrator shall keep and use the public seal for sealing all things whatsoever that shall pass the said seal.

PART III THE EXECUTIVE

Executive authority of the Virgin Islands. 11.—(1) The executive authority of the Virgin Islands shall be vested in Her Majesty.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Order, the executive authority of the Virgin Islands may be exercised on behalf of Her Majesty by the Administrator, either directly or through officers subordinate to him, but nothing in this subsection shall operate so as to prejudice the provisions of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands whereby functions are, or may be, conferred on persons or authorities other than the Administrator.

Executive Council. 12. There shall be an Executive Council in and for the Virgin Islands which shall consist of the Chief Minister, two other Ministers, and two ex officio members, namely, the Attorney-General and the Financial Secretary.

Appointment of Ministers. 13.—(1) The Administrator, acting in his discretion, shall appoint as the Chief Minister the elected member of the Legislative Council who, in his judgment, is best able to command the support of a majority of the elected members of the Legislative Council.

(2) The other Ministers shall be appointed by the Administrator in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister from among the elected members of the Legislative Council.

(3) If occasion arises for making an appointment of any Minister between a dissolution of the Legislative Council and the polling in the next following general election a person who was an elected member of the Legislative Council immediately before the dissolution may be appointed as if he were still a member of the Legislative Council.

(4) Appointments made under this section shall be made by instrument under the public seal.

14.—(1) If a motion that the Legislative Council should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands receives in the office of the Legislative Council the affirmative votes of a majority of all the elected members thereof the Administrator shall, by instrument under the public seal, revoke the appointment of the Chief Minister:

Provided that before so revoking the Chief Minister's appointment the Administrator shall consult with the Chief Minister and, if the Chief Minister so requests, the Administrator, acting in his discretion, may dissolve the Legislative Council instead of revoking the appointment.

(2) The Chief Minister shall vacate his office if, after the polling in a general election and before the Legislative Council first meets thereafter, the Administrator, acting in his discretion, informs him that he is about to appoint another person as the Chief Minister.

(3) Any Minister shall vacate his office if—

(a) he ceases to be a member of the Legislative Council for any reason other than a dissolution;

(b) he is not an elected member of the Legislative Council when it first meets after a general election;

(c) he is required under the provisions of section 29(4) of this Order to cease to perform his functions as a member of the Legislative Council;

(d) he resigns it by writing under his hand addressed to the Administrator; or

(e) if he is absent from the Virgin Islands without, in the case of the Chief Minister, having given the Administrator prior notice of such absence or, in the case of any other Minister, having obtained the written permission of the Administrator, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister.

(4) A Minister other than the Chief Minister shall also vacate his office if—

(a) the Chief Minister vacates his office; or

(b) his appointment is revoked by the Administrator, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, by instrument under the public seal.

15.—(1) If the Chief Minister is unable, by reason of his illness or absence from the Virgin Islands, to perform the functions of his office, the Administrator may, by instrument under the public seal, authorise any other Minister to perform the functions conferred on the Chief Minister by this Order (other than the functions conferred upon him by events subsection (3) of this section).

(2) The Administrator may, by instrument under the public seal, revoke any authority given under this section.

(3) The powers conferred upon the Administrator by this section shall be exercised by him acting in his discretion if, in his judgment, it is impracticable to obtain the Chief Minister's advice owing to his illness or absence, and in any other case shall be exercised in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister.

Assignment of responsibilities to Ministers.
16.—(1) The Administrator, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, may, by directions in writing, assign to any Minister responsibility for the conduct (subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including responsibility for the administration of any department of government:

Provided that a Minister shall not be charged with responsibility under this section for any of the matters mentioned in the next following section.

(2) The Administrator, acting in his discretion, may at any time call for any official papers or seek any official information or advice available to a Minister with respect to a matter for which that Minister is responsible under this section.

Administrator's special responsibilities.
17. The Administrator shall be responsible for the conduct (subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including the administration of any department of government, with respect to the following matters:—

- (a) external affairs;
- (b) defence, including armed forces;
- (c) internal security, including the Police Force;
- (d) the terms and conditions of service of persons holding or acting in public offices;
- (e) the administration of the courts;
- (f) finance:

Provided that the Administrator, after consultation with the Chief Minister, may assign to any member of the Executive Council responsibility for the conduct on behalf of the Administrator of any business in the Legislative Council with respect to any of the said matters.

Oaths.
18. Every member of the Executive Council shall, before entering upon the duties of his office as a member, make before the Administrator an oath or affirmation of allegiance in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order and an oath or affirmation for the due execution of that office in such form as may be prescribed by any law in force in the Virgin Islands or, if no law in that behalf is for the time being in force, in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order.

Summoning of persons to the Council.
19. The Administrator may summon any public officer to a meeting of the Executive Council whenever, in his opinion, the business before the Council renders the presence of that officer desirable.

Summoning of the Council.
20. The Executive Council shall not be summoned except by the authority of the Administrator, acting in his discretion:

Provided that the Administrator shall summon the Council if the Chief Minister so requests.

21.—(1) The Administrator shall, so far as is practicable, attend and preside at meetings of the Executive Council.

(2) In the absence of the Administrator there shall preside at any meeting of the Executive Council such member of the Council as the Administrator, acting in his discretion, may appoint.

(3) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Council if there are less than two members present besides the Administrator or other person presiding.

(4) Subject to the last foregoing subsection, the Council shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in the membership of the Council (including any vacancy not filled when the Council is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time) and the validity of the transaction of business in the Council shall not be affected by reason only of the fact that some person who was not entitled so to do took part in the proceedings.

22.—(1) The Attorney-General shall have power, in any case in which he considers it desirable so to do—

(a) to institute and undertake criminal proceedings against any person before any civil court in respect of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands;

(b) to take over and continue any such criminal proceedings that have been instituted by any other person or authority; and

(c) to discontinue at any stage before judgment is delivered any such criminal proceedings instituted or undertaken by himself or any other person or authority.

(2) The powers of the Attorney-General under the last foregoing subsection may be exercised by him in person or by officers subordinate to him acting under and in accordance with his general or special instructions.

(3) The powers conferred upon the Attorney-General by paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall be vested in him to the exclusion of any other person or authority:

Provided that where any other person or authority has instituted criminal proceedings, nothing in this subsection shall prevent the withdrawal of those proceedings by or at the instance of that person or authority at any stage before the person against whom the proceedings have been instituted has been charged before the court.

(4) For the purposes of this section, any appeal from any determination in any criminal proceedings before any court, or any case stated or question of law reserved for the purpose of any such proceedings, to any other court or to Her Majesty in Council shall be deemed to be part of those proceedings.

(5) In the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by this section, section 48(2) and section 49 of this Order the Attorney-General shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

(6) There shall be charged on the revenues of the Virgin Islands and paid thereout to the Attorney-General such salary as may from time to time be prescribed by any law in force in the Virgin Islands:

Provided that the salary of the Attorney-General shall not be reduced during his continuance in office.

PART IV
THE LEGISLATURE

Composition

Constitution of Legislature. 23. There shall be a Legislature for the Virgin Islands which shall consist of Her Majesty and a Legislative Council.

Legislative Council. 24. Subject to section 32 of this Order, the Legislative Council shall consist of a Speaker elected as provided in section 31 of this Order, two ex officio members, namely the Attorney-General and the Financial Secretary, one nominated member and seven elected members.

Nominated member. 25.—(1) Subject to section 28 of this Order, the nominated member of the Legislative Council shall be a British subject of the age of twenty-one years or upwards and shall be appointed by the Administrator, after consultation with the Chief Minister, by instrument under the public seal.

(2) The Administrator shall forthwith report to Her Majesty through a Secretary of State every appointment made under this section.

Elected members. 26.—(1) The elected members of the Legislative Council shall be persons qualified for election in accordance with the provisions of this Order and, subject to the provisions of this Order, shall be elected in the manner provided by or under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

(2) For the purposes of elections the Virgin Islands shall be divided into seven electoral districts in such manner as may be provided by or under any such law, and each such district shall return one member to the Council.

Qualifications for elected membership. 27. Subject to the next following section, a person shall be qualified to be elected as a member of the Legislative Council, if, and shall not be qualified to be so elected unless, he—

- (a) is a British subject of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, and
- (b) has resided in the Virgin Islands for a period of twelve months immediately before the date of his nomination for election or is domiciled and resident in the Virgin Islands at that date.

Disqualifications for nominated and elected membership. 28.—(1) No person shall be qualified to be nominated or elected as a member of the Legislative Council who—

- (a) is, by virtue of his own act, under any acknowledgement of allegiance, obedience or adherence to a foreign power or state;
- (b) holds, or is acting in, any public office;
- (c) is a minister of religion;
- (d) has been adjudged or otherwise declared bankrupt under any law in force in any part of the Commonwealth and has not been discharged;
- (e) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in the Virgin Islands;

(f) is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court in any part of the Commonwealth, or is serving a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months imposed on him by such a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by such a court, or is under such a sentence of imprisonment the execution of which has been suspended;

(g) is disqualified for membership of the Council by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands by reason of his having been convicted or reported guilty of any offence relating to elections;

(h) (i) in the case of the nominated member, is a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service, and has not disclosed to the Administrator the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein; or

(ii) in the case of an elected member, is a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service, and has not, within fourteen days before his nomination as a candidate for election, published in the Gazette or in a newspaper circulating in the Virgin Islands a notice setting out the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (f) of the foregoing subsection—

(a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of such sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence; and

(b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

29.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Order, the nominated member of the Legislative Council shall hold his seat therein during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) Every nominated or elected member of the Legislative Council shall vacate his seat therein at the next dissolution of the Council after his appointment or election.

(3) A nominated or elected member of the Legislative Council shall also vacate his seat therein—

- (a) if he resigns it by writing under his hand addressed to the Speaker;
- (b) if he is absent from the sittings of the Council for such period and in such circumstances as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the Council;
- (c) if he ceases to be a British subject;

(d) subject to the next following subsection, if any circumstances arise that, if he were not a member of the Council, would cause him to be disqualified for appointment or election as such by virtue of any provision of subsection (1) of the last foregoing section other than paragraph (h); or

(e) if he becomes a party to any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service or if any firm in which he is a partner, or any company of which he is a director or manager, becomes a party to any such contract, or if he becomes a partner in a firm, or a director or manager of a company which is a party to any such contract:

Provided that, if in the circumstances it shall appear to him or them to be just so to do, the Administrator, acting in his discretion, may exempt the nominated member and the Council may exempt any elected member from vacating his seat under the provisions of this paragraph if such member shall, before becoming a party to such contract as aforesaid, or before, or as soon as practicable after, becoming otherwise interested in such contract (whether as a partner in a firm or director or manager of a company), disclose to the Administrator or to the Council, as the case may be, the nature of such contract and his interest or the interest of any such firm or company therein.

(4) (a) If circumstances such as are referred to in paragraph (d) of the last foregoing subsection arise because a member is declared bankrupt, adjudged to be of unsound mind, under sentence of death or imprisonment or convicted or reported guilty of an offence relating to elections and if it is open to the member to appeal against the decision (either with the leave of a court or other authority or without such leave) he shall forthwith cease to perform his functions as a member but, subject to the next following paragraph, he shall not vacate his seat in the Council until the expiration of a period of thirty days thereafter:

Provided that the Administrator, acting in his discretion (in the case of the nominated member), or the Speaker (in the case of an elected member), may, at the request of the member, from time to time extend that period for further periods of thirty days to enable the member to pursue an appeal against the decision, so, however, that extensions of time exceeding in the aggregate one hundred and fifty days shall not be given without the approval, signified by resolution, of the Legislative Council.

(b) If, on the determination of any appeal, such circumstances continue to exist and no further appeal is open to the member or if, by reason of the expiration of any period for entering an appeal or notice thereof or the refusal of leave to appeal or for any other reason, it ceases to be open to the member to appeal, he shall forthwith vacate his seat.

(c) If at any time before the member vacates his seat such circumstances as aforesaid cease to exist, his seat shall not become vacant on the expiration of the period referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection and he may resume the performance of his functions as a member.

Qualifications of voters.

30.—(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, a person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter for the purposes of elections if, and shall not be so qualified unless, on the qualifying date he has attained the age of twenty-one years and is a British subject and he either—

(a) has resided in the Virgin Islands for twelve months immediately preceding the qualifying date; or

(b) is domiciled and resident in the Virgin Islands at that date; or

(c) is at that date domiciled in the Virgin Islands but is resident in the United States Virgin Islands, having ceased during the two years immediately preceding that date to be resident in the Virgin Islands.

(2) No person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter under this section who on the qualifying date—

(a) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in the Virgin Islands; or

(b) is disqualified by or under any such law from being registered as a voter for the purposes of elections by reason of his having been convicted of an offence relating to elections; or

(c) is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court in any part of the Commonwealth or is serving a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months imposed on him by such a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by such a court.

(3) In this section "the qualifying date" means such date as may be appointed by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands as the date with reference to which the qualifications of any person for registration are to be ascertained.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c) of this section—

(a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of those sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence; and

(b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

31.—(1) When the Legislative Council first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business, it shall elect a person to be the Speaker of the Council, and, if the office of Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council, the Council shall, as soon as practicable elect another person to that office.

(2) The Speaker shall be elected from among persons who are not members of the Legislative Council, and no person shall be elected as Speaker if—

(a) he is not a British subject;

(b) he is a person disqualified for election as an elected member of the Council by virtue of any provision of section 28(1) of this Order other than paragraph (b).

(3) When the Legislative Council first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business except the election of the Speaker, it shall elect a member of the Legislative Council who is not a member of the Executive Council to be Deputy Speaker of the Legislative Council; and if the office of Deputy Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council, the Council shall, as soon as convenient, elect another such member to that office.

Speaker and Deputy Speaker.

- (4) A person shall vacate the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker—
- (a) on a dissolution of the Legislative Council;
- (b) if he announces the resignation of his office to the Legislative Council or if by writing under his hand addressed to the Council and received by the Clerk of the Council he resigns that office;
- (c) in the case of the Speaker—
- (i) if he ceases to be a British subject;
  - (ii) if any circumstances arise that would cause him to be disqualified for election as an elected member of the Council by virtue of any provision of section 28(1) of this Order other than paragraph (h);
  - (iii) on the expiration of a period of thirty days from the date of his election if he was at that date a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service and if, before the expiration of that period, he has not disclosed to the Council the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein and the Council has not exempted him from vacating his office under this subparagraph; or
  - (iv) if any circumstances arise that, if he were an elected member of the Council, would cause him to vacate his seat under paragraph (e) of section 29(3) of this Order;
- (d) in the case of the Deputy Speaker if he ceases to be a member of the Council for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council or if, by virtue of section 29(4) of this Order, he is required to cease to perform his functions as a member or if he is appointed to be a member of the Executive Council.

Temporary nominated member.

32.—(1) If the nominated member of the Legislative Council is unable, by reason of his illness or absence from the Virgin Islands or for any other cause, to perform his functions as a member of the Council, the Administrator, after consultation with the Chief Minister, may, by instrument under the public seal, appoint a person who is qualified for appointment as the nominated member to be temporarily a member of the Council.

(2) The Administrator shall forthwith report to Her Majesty through a Secretary of State every appointment made under this section.

(3) A person appointed under this section to be temporarily a member of the Legislative Council shall vacate his seat if the Administrator, acting in his discretion, revokes his appointment or when he is informed by the Administrator, acting as aforesaid, that the nominated member is again able to perform his functions as a member of the Council, or when the seat of that member becomes vacant.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this section, the provisions of this Order shall apply in relation to a person appointed to be temporarily a member of the Legislative Council as they apply in relation to the nominated member of the Council.

Powers and Procedure

33. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the Legislature shall have power to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Virgin Islands.
34. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the Legislative Council Standing Orders may make, amend and revoke Standing Orders for the regulation and orderly conduct of its own proceedings and the despatch of business, and the passing, intuing and numbering of Bills and the presentation of the same to the Administrator for assent.
35. No member of the Legislative Council shall be permitted to take part in the proceedings of the Council (other than proceedings necessary for the purposes of this section) until he has made and subscribed before the Council an oath or affirmation of allegiance in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order:
- Oath of allegiance.
- Provided that the election of a Speaker and Deputy Speaker of the Legislative Council may take place before the members thereof have made such oath or affirmation.
- 36.—(1) The Speaker or, in his absence, the Deputy Speaker or, if they are both absent, a member of the Legislative Council (not being a member of the Executive Council) elected by the Legislative Council for that sitting shall preside at each sitting of the Legislative Council.
- (2) References in this section to circumstances in which the Speaker or Deputy Speaker is absent include references to circumstances in which the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker is vacant.
- 37.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, all questions proposed for decision in the Legislative Council shall be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting.
- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, only the elected members of the Council shall be entitled to vote on a motion that the Legislative Council should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands.
- (3) The person presiding shall not vote unless on any question the votes are equally divided in which case he shall have and exercise a casting vote:
- Provided that where the motion before the Council is one to which subsection (2) of this section applies the person presiding shall not have a casting vote unless he is an elected member.
38. The Legislative Council shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in the membership thereof (including any vacancy not filled when the Council is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time), and any proceedings therein shall be valid notwithstanding that some person who was not entitled so to do sat or voted in the Council or otherwise took part in the proceedings.
- 39.—(1) If at any sitting of the Legislative Council any member who is present draws the attention of the person presiding at the sitting to the absence of a quorum and, after such interval as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the Council, the person presiding at the sitting ascertains that a quorum of the Council is still not present, the Council shall be adjourned.
- (2) A quorum of the Council shall consist of five members besides the person presiding at the sitting.

Introduction of Bills, etc. 40.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Order and of the Standing Orders of the Legislative Council, any member may introduce any Bill or propose any motion for debate in, or may present any petition to, the Council, and the same shall be debated and disposed of according to the Standing Orders of the Council.

(2) Except on the recommendation of the Administrator signified by a member of the Executive Council, the Legislative Council shall not—

(a) proceed upon any Bill (including any amendment to a Bill) which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the Council, makes provision for imposing or increasing any tax, for imposing or increasing any charge on the revenues or other funds of the Virgin Islands or for altering any such charge otherwise than by reducing it or for compounding or remitting any debt due to the Islands; or

(b) proceed upon any motion (including any amendment to a motion) the effect of which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the Council, is that provision would be made for any of the purposes aforesaid.

Assent to Bills. 41.—(1) A Bill passed by the Legislative Council shall become a law when—

(a) the Administrator has assented thereto in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf and has signed the same in token of such assent, or

(b) Her Majesty has given Her assent thereto through a Secretary of State and the Administrator has signified such assent by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) When a Bill is presented to the Administrator for assent he shall declare that he assents or refuses to assent thereto or that he reserves the Bill for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure;

Provided that, unless he has been authorised by a Secretary of State to assent thereto, the Administrator shall reserve for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure any Bill which appears to him, acting in his discretion—

(a) to be inconsistent with any obligation of Her Majesty or of Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom towards any other state or power or any international organisation;

(b) to be likely to prejudice the Royal prerogative; or

(c) to be in any way repugnant to or inconsistent with the provisions of this Order.

Disallowance of laws. 42.—(1) Any law assented to by the Administrator may be disallowed by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State.

(2) Whenever any law has been disallowed by Her Majesty the Administrator shall cause notice of such disallowance to be published in the Gazette and the law shall be annulled with effect from the date of publication of that notice.

(3) On the annulment of any law under this section, any enactment repealed or amended by or in pursuance of that law shall have effect as from the date of the annulment as if that law had not been made; but save as provided by the foregoing provisions of this subsection section 38(2) of the Interpretation Act 1889 shall apply to that annulment as it applies to the repeal of an Act of Parliament.

43.—(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, Administrator considers that it is necessary or expedient for the purposes of any of the matters for which he is responsible under section 17 of this Order that any Bill introduced, or any motion proposed, in the Legislative Council should have effect, then, if the Legislative Council fails to pass such a Bill or motion within such time and in such form as the Administrator may think reasonable and expedient, the Administrator may, at any time that he thinks fit, and notwithstanding any provisions of this Order or of any Standing Orders of the Legislative Council, declare that such Bill or motion shall have effect as if it had been passed or carried by the Legislative Council, either in the form in which it was so introduced or proposed or with such amendments as the Administrator shall think fit which have been proposed in the Legislative Council or in any committee thereof; and thereupon the said Bill or motion shall have effect as if it had been so passed or carried, and, in the case of any such Bill, the provisions of this Order relating to assent to Bills and disallowance of laws shall have effect accordingly.

(2) The Administrator shall not make any declaration under this section except in accordance with the following conditions, that is to say—

(a) the question whether the declaration should be made shall first be submitted in writing by the Administrator to the Executive Council and if, upon the question being so submitted to it, the Executive Council advises him that the declaration should be made, the Administrator may make the declaration;

(b) if, when the question whether the declaration should be made is submitted to it as aforesaid, the Executive Council does not, within such time as the Administrator thinks reasonable and expedient, advise him that the declaration should be made, then—

(i) the Administrator may submit the said question to a Secretary of State and may make the declaration if, upon the question being so submitted to him, a Secretary of State authorises the Administrator to make the declaration; or

(ii) the Administrator may make the declaration without submitting the said question to a Secretary of State if, in the Administrator's opinion, urgent necessity requires that the declaration be made without obtaining the authority of a Secretary of State; in which case he shall, at the time of making the declaration, certify in writing that urgent necessity requires that the declaration be made without obtaining such authority.

(3)(a) Whenever the Administrator, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (2)(b) of this section, submits to a Secretary of State the question whether a declaration should be made, or makes a declaration without submitting the said question to a Secretary of State, he shall inform the Executive Council in writing of his reasons for so doing.

(b) Whenever the Administrator makes a declaration under this section, other than a declaration made with the authority of a Secretary of State, he shall forthwith report to a Secretary of State the making of, and the reasons for, the declaration and, in the case of a declaration made in accordance with the provisions of sub-paragraph (ii) of subsection (2)(b) of this section, the grounds of urgency.

(4) If any member of the Legislative Council objects to any declaration made under this section, he may, within seven days of the making thereof, submit to the Administrator a statement in writing of his reasons for so objecting; and a copy of such statement shall, if furnished by such member, be forwarded by the Administrator as soon as practicable to a Secretary of State.

(5) Any declaration made under this section that relates to a motion may be revoked by a Secretary of State, and the Administrator shall cause notice of such revocation to be published in the Gazette; and from the date of such publication any motion which has effect by virtue of the declaration shall cease to have effect, and section 38(2) of the Interpretation Act 1889 shall apply to the revocation as it applies to the repeal of an Act of Parliament.

Privileges, etc. of Council. 44. The Legislature may by law determine and regulate the privileges, immunities and powers of the Legislative Council and the members thereof, but no such privileges, immunities or powers shall exceed those of the Commons' House of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of the members thereof.

Miscellaneous

Sessions of Council. 45.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the sessions of the Legislative Council shall be held at such times and places as the Administrator may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) The first session of the Council shall commence within a period of three months after the commencement of this Part of this Order and thereafter there shall be a session of the Council from time to time so that a period of three months does not intervene between the last sitting in one session and the first sitting in the next session.

Prorogation and dissolution. 46.—(1) The Administrator, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, prorogue the Legislative Council.

(2) The Administrator, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, dissolve the Legislative Council.

(3) The Administrator shall dissolve the Legislative Council at the expiration of four years from the date when the Council first meets after any general election unless it has been sooner dissolved.

General elections. 47. A general election shall be held at such time within two months after the commencement of this Part of this Order and after every dissolution of the Council as the Administrator shall appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

Determination of questions as to membership. 48.—(1) The High Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any question whether—

- (a) any person has been validly elected as a member of the Legislative Council;
- (b) any elected member of the Council has vacated his seat therein or is required by virtue of section 29(4) of this Order to cease to perform his functions as a member; or
- (c) any person has been validly elected as Speaker of the Council or, having been so elected, has vacated the office of Speaker.

(2) An application to the High Court for the determination of—
(a) any question under paragraph (a) of the last foregoing subsection may be made by any person entitled to vote in the electoral district and at the election to which the application relates or by any person who was a candidate in that district at that election or by the Attorney-General;

(b) any question under paragraph (b) of that subsection may be made by any person entitled to vote at an election in the electoral district for which the member concerned was returned or by any elected member of the Legislative Council or by the Attorney-General;

(c) any question under paragraph (c) of that subsection may be made by any member of the Legislative Council; and if such an application is made by a person other than the Attorney-General, the Attorney-General may intervene and may then appear or be represented in the proceedings.

(3) The Legislature may make provision with respect to—

(a) the circumstances and manner in which and the imposition of conditions upon which any application may be made to the High Court for the determination of any question under this section;

and

(b) the powers, practice and procedure of the High Court in relation to any such application.

(4) An appeal shall lie as of right to the Court of Appeal from any final decision of the High Court determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

(5) No appeal shall lie from any decision of the Court of Appeal in exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by the last foregoing subsection and no appeal shall lie from any decision of the High Court in proceedings under this section other than a final decision determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

(6) Any question whether—

(a) any person has been validly appointed as the nominated member of the Legislative Council; or

(b) the nominated member of the Council has vacated his seat therein or is required by virtue of section 29(4) of this Order to cease to perform his functions as a member, shall be referred to the Administrator in accordance with any directions given in that behalf by the Administrator, acting in his discretion, and shall be determined by him acting as aforesaid.

49.—(1) Any person who sits or votes in the Legislative Council knowing or having reasonable grounds for knowing that he is not entitled so to do shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars for every day upon which he so sits or votes.

(2) The said penalty shall be recoverable by action in the High Court at the suit of the Attorney-General.

PART V

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Public Service—General

class of public officer, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in the regulations, any of the powers vested in him by the last foregoing subsection.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to—

- (a) any office to which section 53 of this Order applies; or
- (b) any office in the Police Force below the rank of Assistant Superintendent to the extent that the Chief of Police or some other officer of the Police Force is empowered by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands to exercise the powers mentioned in that subsection.

Judicial and Legal Service

52. There shall be for the Virgin Islands a Judicial and Legal Service Commission which shall consist of:—

- (a) the Chief Justice, who shall be Chairman;
- (b) another judge of the Court of Appeal or the High Court nominated by the Chief Justice after consultation with the Administrator; and
- (c) the Chairman of the Public Service Commission.

53.—(1) Power to make appointments to the offices to which this section applies and to remove and exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Administrator, acting after consultation with the Judicial and Legal Service Commission.

(2) This section applies to the offices of Attorney-General and Magistrate, any office in the public service of any registrar or other officer of the High Court who is required to possess legal qualifications, and to such other offices in the public service, for appointment to which persons are required to possess legal qualifications, as may be prescribed by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

Pensions

54.—(1) Subject to the provisions of section 56 of this Order, the law applicable to the grant and payment to any officer, or to his widow, children, dependants or personal representatives, of any pension, gratuity or other like allowance (in this section and the two next following sections referred to as an "award") in respect of the service of that officer in a public office shall be that in force on the relevant day or any later law not less favourable to the person concerned.

(2) For the purposes of this section the relevant day is—

(a) in relation to an award granted before the appointed day, the day on which the award was granted;

(b) in relation to an award granted or to be granted on or after the appointed day to or in respect of a person who was a public officer before that day, the day immediately before that day;

(c) in relation to an award granted or to be granted to or in respect of a person who first becomes a public officer on or after the appointed day, the day on which he becomes a public officer.

(2) The Administrator, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, shall appoint one of the three members of the Public Service Commission to be Chairman of the Commission.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as a member of the Public Service Commission if he is a member of, or a candidate for election to, the Legislative Council, or holds or is acting in any public office.

(4) The office of a member of the Public Service Commission shall become vacant—

(a) at the expiration of three years from the date of his appointment or such earlier time as may be specified in the instrument by which he was appointed;

(b) if he resigns his office by writing under his hand addressed to the Administrator;

(c) if he becomes a member of, or a candidate for election to, the Legislative Council or is appointed to or to act in any public office; or

(d) if the Administrator, acting in his discretion, directs that he shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions thereof (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour.

(5) If the office of a member of the Public Service Commission is vacant or a member is for any reason unable to perform the functions of his office, the Administrator, acting in the manner prescribed by subsection (1) of this section for the appointment of that member, may appoint a person who is qualified for appointment as a member of the Commission to act as a member of the Commission, and any person so appointed shall, subject to the provisions of the preceding subsection, continue so to act until he is notified by the Administrator, acting in his discretion, that the circumstances giving rise to the appointment have ceased to exist:

Provided that, in the case of a vacancy in the office of the Chairman or the inability of the holder thereof to perform his functions, the functions of the office of Chairman shall be performed by such member of the Commission or person acting as a member as the Administrator, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, may designate.

(6) There shall be charged on the revenues of the Virgin Islands and paid thereout to the members of the Public Service Commission such emoluments as may be prescribed by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands:

Provided that the emoluments of a member of the Commission shall not be reduced during his continuance in office.

51.—(1) Power to make appointments to public offices and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Administrator, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission.

(2) The Administrator, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, delegate to any member of the Commission or any public officer or

Power to appoint, etc., to public offices.

(2) Any person who, immediately before the appointed day, holds or is acting in the office of Administrator or any office constituted as aforesaid or any public office otherwise constituted shall, as from that day, continue to hold or to act in that office as if he had been appointed to or to act in that office in accordance with the provisions of this Order.

(3) Any person to whom the last foregoing subsection applies who, before the appointed day, has made any oath or affirmation required to be made by him before assuming the functions of his office shall not, by reason only of that subsection, be required to make a like oath or affirmation.

60. There is reserved to Her Majesty full power to make laws for Powers reserved to Her Majesty.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Order makes new provision for the government of the Virgin Islands. In particular it provides for an Administrator appointed by Her Majesty, an Executive Council and a Legislative Council and contains certain provisions relating to the Public Service.

whom it is granted or to be granted, the law for which he opts shall be taken to be more favourable to him than any other law for which he might have opted.

Pensions, etc., charged on revenues of the Virgin Islands.
55. Awards granted under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands shall be charged on and paid out of the revenues of the Virgin Islands.

Grant and withholding of pensions, etc.
56.—(1) The power to grant any award under any pensions law in force in the Virgin Islands (other than an award to which, under that law, the person to whom it is payable is entitled as of right) and, in accordance with any provisions in that behalf contained in any such law, to withhold, reduce in amount or suspend any award payable under any such law is hereby vested in the Administrator, acting in his discretion.

(2) In this section "pensions law" means any law relating to the grant to any person, or to the widow, children, dependants or personal representatives of that person, of an award in respect of the services of that person in a public office, and includes any instrument made under any such law.

PART VI

TRANSITIONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

Existing laws. 57.—(1) The existing laws shall, as from the appointed day, be construed with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with the provisions of this Order.

(2) (a) The Administrator may, by order published in the Gazette and made at any time before the expiration of one year commencing with the appointed day, make such amendments to any existing law as appear to him to be necessary or expedient for bringing that law into conformity with the provisions of this Order or otherwise for giving effect or enabling effect to be given to those provisions.

(b) An order made under this subsection shall have effect from such date, not being earlier than the appointed day, as may be specified therein, and may be revoked or amended in relation to any law affected thereby by the authority competent to repeal or amend that law.

(3) In this section "existing law" means any Act or Ordinance enacted by any legislature established for the Virgin Islands or the former Colony of the Leeward Islands, or any rule, regulation, order or other instrument made thereunder, that has effect as part of the law of the Virgin Islands immediately before the appointed day.

Standing Orders.
58. The Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Council as in force immediately before Part IV of this Order comes into operation shall, with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with this Order, be the first Standing Orders of the Legislative Council established by this Order as if they had been made in pursuance of section 34 of this Order.

Existing offices and officers.
59.—(1) Any office constituted for the Virgin Islands by the Administrator under article 21 of the Virgin Islands Letters Patent 1959 and subsisting immediately before the appointed day shall, as from the appointed day, be deemed to be an office constituted by the Administrator under section 8 of this Order.

revocation.

(2) This Order shall come into operation on such date as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(3) On the coming into operation of this Order the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Orders 1967 to 1971(b) shall be revoked.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (3) of this section—

(a) the Legislative Council as constituted by the Orders hereby revoked, except that the Financial Secretary shall cease to be a member, shall remain in existence until 1st October 1979 or until it is dissolved pursuant to sections 16(1) and 47(2) of this Order, whichever is the earlier, and during its existence Part IV of the Orders hereby revoked shall continue to apply in relation to the existing Council and the members thereof, except as otherwise provided in this section ; and

(b) pending such dissolution, the Speaker, Deputy Speaker and members of the existing Council (other than the Financial Secretary) may continue to hold their respective offices notwithstanding that they would not be qualified to do so under this Order ; but persons elected to fill their offices in the existing Council, should any of these fall vacant, shall be persons duly qualified

(a) 1962 c. 19.

(b) S.I. 1967/471, 1969/1065, 1970/1942, 1971/1240 (1967 I, p. 1418; 1969 II, p. 3122; 1970 III, p. 6341; 1971 II, p. 3604).

under this Order, elected for electoral districts constituted, and by voters qualified, in accordance with Part IV of the Orders hereby revoked; and

(c) on such dissolution section 48 of this Order shall apply as it does on the dissolution of the Legislative Council constituted under Part IV of this Order.

(2) For the purposes of this Order a person shall be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands if that person—

(a) is a British subject and was born in the Virgin Islands; or

(b) is a British subject and was born outside the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who was born within the Virgin Islands; or

(c) has obtained the status of a British subject by reason of the grant by the Governor of a certificate of naturalisation under The British Nationality and Statute of Aliens Act, 1914(b) or The British Nationality Act, 1948(c); or

(a) S.I. 1967/223 (1967 I, p. 364). (b) 1914 c. 17. (c) 1948 c. 56.

- (d) is a person to whom a certificate has been granted under the provisions of section 15 of the Immigration and Passport Ordinance, 1969 (in this section referred to as "the Ordinance", and references to the Ordinance or to any section thereof include references to any enactment amending or replacing the same) and has not been revoked under section 16 of the Ordinance ; or
- (e) is a British subject above the age of eighteen years who immediately before attaining that age was the child of a person to whom a certificate had been granted under section 15 of the Ordinance and not revoked under section 16 of the Ordinance :

Provided that a person shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under the provisions of this paragraph who—

- (i) subsequent to attaining the age of twenty-one years is ordinarily resident outside the Virgin Islands for a period of not less than five years ; or
- (ii) being a female, marries a person who is not deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under the provisions of this subsection ; or
- (iii) is declared to be no longer a person deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by an order made by the Governor in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance ; or
- (f) is the wife of a person to whom any of the foregoing paragraphs apply and is not living apart from such person under a decree of a competent court or a deed of separation ; or
- (g) is the child of any person to whom any of the foregoing paragraphs of this subsection apply ; or
- (h) is a British subject and the widow of a person who immediately before his death was, or would but for his death have been, deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under any of the foregoing paragraphs of this subsection and who was at the time of his death lawfully married to her and not living apart from her under a decree of a competent court or a deed of separation :

Provided that a woman shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under the provisions of this paragraph if—

- (i) subsequent to the death of her husband she is ordinarily resident outside the Virgin Islands for a period of five years or longer ; or
- (ii) she marries a person who is not deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under the provisions of this subsection.

(3) In this Order, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context—

- (a) any reference to power to make appointments to any office shall be construed as including a reference to power to make appointments on promotion and transfer to that office and to power to appoint a person to perform the functions of that office during any period when it is vacant or the holder thereof is unable (whether by reason of absence or infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) to perform those functions ;
- (b) any reference to power to remove a public officer from office shall be construed as including a reference to any power conferred by any law to require or permit that officer to retire from the public service ;

(c) any reference to the holder of an office by a term designating or describing his office shall be construed as including a reference to any person who, under and to the extent of any authority in that behalf, is for the time being performing the functions of that office.

(4) In this Order, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, references to the functions of the Governor shall be construed as references to his powers and duties in exercise of the executive authority of the Virgin Islands and to any other powers or duties conferred or imposed on him as Governor by or under this Order or any other law.

(5) Where by this Order any person is directed, or power is conferred on any person or authority to appoint a person to perform the functions of an office if the holder thereof is unable to perform those functions, the validity of any performance of those functions by the person so directed or of any appointment made in exercise of that power shall not be called in question in any court on the ground that the holder of the office is not unable to perform the functions of the office.

(6) For the purposes of this Order, the resignation of the holder of any office that is required to be addressed to any person shall have effect from the time that it is received by that person.

(7) For the purposes of this Order, a person shall not be considered to hold a public office by reason only—

(a) that he is in receipt of a pension or other like allowance in respect of public service ; or

(b) that he is in receipt of any remuneration or allowances in respect of his tenure of the office of Minister or Speaker, Deputy Speaker or member of the Legislative Council.

(8) If it is provided by any law in force in the Virgin Islands that an office shall not be a public office for the purposes of Part IV of this Order, this Order shall have effect accordingly as if that provision of that law were enacted herein.

(9) References in section 19 and Part V of this Order to public offices shall not be construed as including references to—

(a) the office of a member of any board, committee or other similar body (whether incorporated or not) established by any law in force in the Virgin Islands ; or

(b) any office of emolument under any local government council or authority in the Virgin Islands.

(10) Where this Order vests in any person power to make appointments to any office, a person may be appointed to that office, notwithstanding that some other person may be holding that office, when that other person is on leave of absence pending relinquishment of that office ; and where two or more persons are holding the same office by reason of an appointment made in pursuance of this subsection, then, for the purposes of any function conferred upon the holder of that office, the person last appointed to the office shall be deemed to be the sole holder of the office.

(11) Where any power is conferred by this Order to make any proclamation, order or regulations or to give any directions, the power shall be construed as including a power exercisable in like manner to amend or revoke any such proclamation, order, regulations or directions.

(12) For the avoidance of doubts it is hereby declared that any person who has vacated his seat in any body, or has vacated any office, established by this Order may, if qualified, again be appointed or elected as a member of that body, or to that office, as the case may be, from time to time.

(13) Save as in this Order otherwise provided or required by the context, the Interpretation Act 1889<sup>(a)</sup> shall apply, with the necessary adaptations, for the purpose of interpreting this Order and otherwise in relation thereto as it applies for the purpose of interpreting and in relation to an Act of Parliament.

PART II

THE GOVERNOR

3.—(1) There shall be a Governor of the Virgin Islands who shall be appointed by Her Majesty by Commission under Her Sign Manual and Signet and shall hold office during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) The Governor shall, for the purpose of administering the Government of the Virgin Islands, have such powers and duties as are conferred or imposed on him by this Order or any other law and such other powers as Her Majesty may from time to time be pleased to assign to him, and, subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law by which any such powers or duties are conferred or imposed, shall do and execute all things that belong to his office (including the exercise of any powers with respect to which he is empowered by this Order to act in his discretion) according to such instructions, if any, as Her Majesty may from time to time see fit to give him:

Provided that the question whether or not the Governor has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(3) A person appointed to the office of Governor shall, before entering upon the functions of that office, make oaths or affirmations of allegiance and for the due execution of that office in the forms set out in the Schedule to this Order.

4.—(1) There shall be a Deputy Governor who shall be such person as Her Majesty may designate in that behalf by instructions given through a Secretary of State and who shall hold office during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) If the office of Deputy Governor is vacant or the person holding that office is acting in the office of Governor under section 5 of this Order or is absent from the Virgin Islands or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of the office of Deputy Governor, such person as Her Majesty may designate in that behalf by instructions given through a Secretary of State shall act in the office of Deputy Governor during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(a) 1889 c. 63.

Acting
Governor.

5.—(1) During any period when the office of Governor is vacant or the Governor is absent from the Virgin Islands or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of his office—

(a) the Deputy Governor ; or

(b) if the office of Deputy Governor is vacant or the Deputy Governor is absent from the Virgin Islands, or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of the office of Governor such person as Her Majesty may designate in that behalf by instructions given through a Secretary of State (in this section referred to as “the person designated”), shall, during Her Majesty’s pleasure, act in the office of Governor and shall perform the functions of that office accordingly.

(2) Before assuming the functions of the office of Governor, the Deputy Governor or the person designated shall make the oaths or affirmations directed by section 3(3) of this Order to be made by the Governor.

(3) The Deputy Governor shall not continue to act in the office of Governor after the Governor has notified him that he is about to assume or resume the functions of that office, and the person designated shall not continue to act in that office after the Governor or Deputy Governor has so notified him.

(4) The Governor or the Deputy Governor shall not, for the purposes of this section, be regarded as absent from the Virgin Islands or as unable to perform the functions of his office—

(a) by reason that he is in passage from one part of the Virgin Islands to another ; or

(b) at any time when there is a subsisting appointment of a deputy under the next following section ; or

(c) by reason of absence from the Virgin Islands for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours for the purpose of visiting the United States Virgin Islands.

(5) In this section “the Governor” means the person holding the office of Governor and “the Deputy Governor” means the person holding the office of Deputy Governor.

Deputy to Governor.

6.—(1) Whenever the Governor—

(a) has occasion to be absent from the seat of Government but not from the Virgin Islands ; or

(b) has occasion to be absent from the Virgin Islands for a period which he has reason to believe will be of short duration ; or

(c) is suffering from an illness which he has reason to believe will be of short duration,

he may, acting in his discretion, by instrument under the public seal appoint the Deputy Governor, or if he is not available any other person in the Virgin Islands, to be his deputy during such absence or illness and in that capacity to perform on his behalf such of the functions of the office of Governor as may be specified in that instrument.

(2) The power and authority of the Governor shall not be abridged altered or in any way affected by the appointment of a deputy under this section, and a deputy shall conform to and observe all instructions that the Governor may from time to time address to him:

Provided that the question whether or not a deputy has conformed to and observed any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(3) A person appointed as a deputy under this section shall hold that appointment for such period as may be specified in the instrument by which he is appointed, and his appointment may be revoked at any time by Her Majesty by instructions given through a Secretary of State or by the Governor, acting in his discretion.

7.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Governor shall consult with the Executive Council in the formulation of policy and in the exercise of all functions conferred upon him by this Order or any other law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, except—

the
functions.

- (a) when acting under instructions given to him by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State; or
- (b) when exercising any function conferred upon him by this Order or any such other law which is expressed to be exercisable by him in his discretion, or in accordance with the advice of, or after consultation with, any person or authority other than the Executive Council; or
- (c) in any case which, in his opinion, involves a matter for which he is responsible under section 19 of this Order:

Provided that in exercising his powers in relation to matters to which subparagraph (c) of this subsection applies, the Governor shall consult with the Chief Minister.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the Governor shall not be obliged to consult with the Executive Council or the Chief Minister if, in his judgment—

- (a) Her Majesty's service would sustain material prejudice; or
- (b) the matter is too unimportant to require consultation; or
- (c) the urgency of the matter requires him to act before he can consult the Executive Council;

but in any case falling within paragraph (c) of this subsection he shall, as soon as practicable, communicate to the Executive Council the measures which he has adopted and the reasons therefor.

(3) In any case in which the Governor is required, under the provisions of this section, to consult the Executive Council, he shall act in accordance with the advice of the Executive Council unless in his opinion such advice would affect a matter for which he is responsible under section 19 of this Order.

(4) Where the Governor is directed by this Order to exercise any function after consultation with any person or authority other than the Executive Council, he shall not be obliged to exercise that function in accordance with the advice of that person or authority.

(5) Whenever the Governor, in pursuance of subsection (3) of this section, acts contrary to the advice given by the Executive Council, he shall, as soon as practicable, report his action and the reasons therefor to a Secretary of State.

(6) Where the Governor is directed by this Order to exercise any function in accordance with the advice of or after consultation with any person or authority, the question whether he has so exercised the function shall not be inquired into in any court.

Powers to dispose of land.

8. Subject to the provisions of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Governor or any person duly authorised by him in that behalf by writing under his hand, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may, under the public seal, make grants and disposition of lands or other immovable property in the Virgin Islands or interests in such property that are vested in Her Majesty for the purposes of the Government of the Virgin Islands.

Powers to constitute offices and make appointments, etc.

9. Subject to the provisions of Part V of this Order and of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Governor, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may—

- (a) constitute offices for the Virgin Islands and make appointments to be held during Her Majesty's pleasure, thereto, and
- (b) dismiss any person so appointed or take such other disciplinary action in relation to him as the Governor may think fit.

Powers of pardon, etc.

10.—(1) The Governor may, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf—

- (a) grant to any person concerned in or convicted of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands a pardon, either free or subject to lawful conditions ;
- (b) grant to any person a respite, either indefinite or for a specified period, from the execution of any sentence passed on that person for such an offence ;
- (c) substitute a less severe form of punishment for that imposed by any sentence for such an offence ; or
- (d) remit the whole or any part of any sentence passed for such an offence or any penalty or forfeiture otherwise due to Her Majesty on account of such an offence.

(2) In the exercise of his powers under this section the Governor shall consult with the Committee established under section 11 of this Order, but he shall decide whether to exercise any of those powers in any case in his own deliberate judgment, whether the members of the Committee concur in his decision or otherwise.

(3) Without prejudice to the provisions of the last foregoing subsection, whenever any person has been sentenced to death (otherwise than by Court Martial) for an offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands the Governor shall call upon the judge who presided at the trial to make him a written report of the case of such offender and shall cause such report, together with such other information derived from the record of the case or elsewhere as the Governor may require to be taken into consideration at a meeting of the Committee so that the Committee may advise him on the exercise of his powers under this section in relation to that person.

Provided that if it is impracticable to obtain such a report, the Governor may act without such a report, but in that case shall, i practicable, cause to be taken into consideration a report furnished by the registrar of the court after consulting counsel for the prosecution and defence in the case.

11.—(1) There shall be for the Virgin Islands an Advisory Committee on the Prerogative of Mercy (in this section and section 10 referred to as the Committee), which shall consist of the Attorney-General, the Chief Medical Officer and four members appointed by the Governor after consultation with the Chief Minister. Establishment and procedure of Mercy Advisory Committee.

(2) The Committee shall not be summoned except by the authority of the Governor, acting in his discretion; and the Governor shall preside at all meetings of the Committee.

(3) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Committee unless there are at least three members present, of whom one shall be the Attorney-General.

(4) The office as a member of the Committee of any member appointed by the Governor under subsection (1) of this section shall become vacant if the Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, revokes his appointment as a member of the Committee.

(5) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, the Committee shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in the membership of the Committee and the validity of the transaction of any business by the Committee shall not be affected by reason only of the fact that some person who was not entitled to do so took part in the proceedings.

(6) Subject to the provisions of this section the Committee may regulate its own proceedings.

12. The Governor shall keep and use the public seal for sealing all things whatsoever that shall pass the said seal. The public seal.

PART III

THE EXECUTIVE

13.—(1) The executive authority of the Virgin Islands shall be vested in Her Majesty. Executive authority of the Virgin Islands.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Order, the executive authority of the Virgin Islands may be exercised on behalf of Her Majesty by the Governor, either directly or through officers subordinate to him, but nothing in this subsection shall operate so as to prejudice the provisions of any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands whereby functions are, or may be, conferred on persons or authorities other than the Governor.

14. There shall be an Executive Council in and for the Virgin Islands which shall consist of the Chief Minister, two other Ministers and the Attorney-General. Executive Council.

Appointment of Ministers.

(a) If a political party gains a majority of the seats of elected members of the Legislative Council the Governor shall appoint as Chief Minister the elected member of the Legislative Council recommended by a majority of the elected members of the Legislative Council who are members of that party.

(b) If no political party gains such a majority or if no recommendation is made under paragraph (a) of this subsection, the Governor, acting in his discretion, shall appoint as Chief Minister the elected member of the Legislative Council who, in his judgment, is best able to command the support of a majority of the elected members of the Legislative Council.

(2) The other two Ministers shall be appointed by the Governor in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister from among the elected members of the Legislative Council.

(3) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, shall appoint one of the Ministers as Deputy Chief Minister. This appointment may be revoked by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, but such revocation shall not in itself affect the Minister's tenure of office as a Minister.

(4) If occasion arises for making an appointment of any Minister between a dissolution of the Legislative Council and the polling in the next following general election, a person who was an elected member of the Legislative Council immediately before the dissolution may be appointed as if he were still a member of the Legislative Council.

(5) Appointments made under this section shall be made by instrument under the public seal.

office of Ministers.

16.—(1) If a motion that the Legislative Council should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands receives in the Legislative Council the affirmative votes of a majority of all the elected members thereof, the Governor shall, by instrument under the public seal, revoke the appointment of the Chief Minister :

Provided that before so revoking the Chief Minister's appointment the Governor shall consult with the Chief Minister and, if the Chief Minister so requests, the Governor, acting in his discretion, may dissolve the Legislative Council instead of revoking the appointment.

(2) The Chief Minister shall vacate his office if, after the polling in a general election and before the Legislative Council first meets thereafter, the Governor, acting in his discretion, informs him that he is about to appoint another person as the Chief Minister.

(3) Any Minister shall vacate his office if—

(a) he ceases to be a member of the Legislative Council for any reason other than a dissolution ; or

(b) he is not an elected member of the Legislative Council when it first meets after a general election ; or

(c) he is required under the provisions of section 30(3) of this Order to cease to perform his functions as a member of the Legislative Council ; or

(d) he resigns it by writing under his hand addressed to the Governor ;
or

(e) if he is absent from the Virgin Islands without, in the case of the Chief Minister, having given the Governor prior notice of such absence or, in the case of any other Minister, having obtained the written permission of the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister.

(4) A Minister other than the Chief Minister shall also vacate his office if—

(a) the Chief Minister vacates his office ; or

(b) his appointment is revoked by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, by instrument under the public seal.

17.—(1) If the Chief Minister is expected to be absent from the Virgin Islands for more than forty-eight hours, the Governor shall, by notice in the Gazette, authorise the Deputy Chief Minister to perform the functions conferred on the Chief Minister under this Order. This authority shall be revoked by the Governor, by notice in the Gazette, on the return of the Chief Minister to the Virgin Islands.

Performance of functions of Chief Minister in certain events.

(2) If the Executive Council advises the Governor that the Chief Minister is unable to perform his functions by reason of illness, the Governor shall, by notice in the Gazette authorise the Deputy Chief Minister to perform the functions conferred on the Chief Minister under this Order. This authority shall be revoked by the Governor if the Executive Council advises him that the Chief Minister is again able to perform his functions.

18.—(1) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, may, by directions in writing, assign to any Minister responsibility for the conduct (subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including responsibility for the administration of any department of government :

Assignment of responsibilities to Ministers.

Provided that a Minister shall not be charged with responsibility under this section for any of the matters mentioned in the next following section.

(2) The Governor, acting in his discretion, may at any time call for any official papers or seek any official information or advice available to a Minister with respect to a matter for which that Minister is responsible under this section.

19. The Governor shall be responsible for the conduct (subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including the administration of any department of government, with respect to the following matters :—

Governor's special responsibilities.

(a) external affairs ;

(b) defence, including armed forces ;

(c) internal security, including the Police Force ;

(d) the terms and conditions of service of persons holding or acting in public offices ;

(e) the administration of the courts :

Provided that the Governor, after consultation with the Chief Minister, may assign to any member of the Executive Council responsibility for the conduct on behalf of the Governor of any business in the Legislative Council with respect to any of the said matters.

Oaths.           20. Every member of the Executive Council shall, before entering upon the duties of his office as a member, make before the Governor an oath or affirmation of allegiance in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order and an oath or affirmation for the due execution of that office in such form as may be prescribed by any law in force in the Virgin Islands or, if no law in that behalf is for the time being in force, in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order.

Summoning of persons to the Council.       21. The Governor may summon any public officer to a meeting of the Executive Council whenever, in his opinion, the business before the Council renders the presence of that officer desirable.

Summoning of the Council.       22. The Executive Council shall not be summoned except by the authority of the Governor, acting in his discretion :
 Provided that the Governor shall summon the Council if the Chief Minister so requests.

Proceedings in the Council.       23.—(1) The Governor shall, so far as is practicable, attend and preside at meetings of the Executive Council.

(2) In the absence of the Governor there shall preside at any meeting of the Executive Council such member of the Council as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may appoint.

(3) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Council if there are less than two members present besides the Governor or other person presiding.

(4) Subject to the last foregoing subsection, the Council shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in the membership of the Council (including any vacancy not filled when the Council is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time), and the validity of the transaction of business in the Council shall not be affected by reason only of the fact that some person who was not entitled so to do took part in the proceedings.

Powers of Attorney-General.       24.—(1) The Attorney-General shall have power, in any case in which he considers it desirable so to do—

(a) to institute and undertake criminal proceedings against any person before any civil court in respect of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands ;

(b) to take over and continue any such criminal proceedings that have been instituted by any other person or authority ; and

(c) to discontinue at any stage before judgment is delivered any such criminal proceedings instituted or undertaken by himself or any other person or authority.

(2) The powers of the Attorney-General under the last foregoing subsection may be exercised by him in person or by officers subordinate to him acting under and in accordance with his general or special instructions.

(3) The powers conferred upon the Attorney-General by paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (1) of this section shall be vested in him to the exclusion of any other person or authority:

Provided that where any other person or authority has instituted criminal proceedings, nothing in this subsection shall prevent the withdrawal of those proceedings by or at the instance of that person or authority at any stage before the person against whom the proceedings have been instituted has been charged before the court.

(4) For the purposes of this section, any appeal from any determination in any criminal proceedings before any court, or any case stated or question of law reserved for the purpose of any such proceedings, to any other court or to Her Majesty in Council shall be deemed to be part of those proceedings.

(5) In the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by this section, section 49(2) and section 50 of this Order the Attorney-General shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

- (f) is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court, or is serving a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months imposed on him by a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by a court, or is under such a sentence of imprisonment the execution of which has been suspended ; or
- (g) is disqualified for membership of the Council by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands by reason of his having been convicted or reported guilty of any offence relating to elections ; or
- (h) is a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service, and has not, within fourteen days before his nomination as a candidate for election, published in the Gazette or in a newspaper circulating in the Virgin Islands a notice setting out the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (f) of the foregoing subsection—

- (a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of such sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence ; and
- (b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

Legislative Council.

30.—(1) Every elected member of the Legislative Council shall vacate his seat therein at the next dissolution of the Council after his election.

(2) An elected member of the Legislative Council shall also vacate his seat therein—

- (a) if he resigns it by writing under his hand addressed to the Speaker ; or
- (b) if he is absent from the sittings of the Council for such period and in such circumstances as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the Council ; or
- (c) if he ceases to be qualified for election ; or
- (d) subject to the next following subsection, if any circumstances arise that, if he were not a member of the Council, would cause him to be disqualified for election as such by virtue of any provision of subsection (1) of the last foregoing section other than paragraph (h); or

- (e) if he becomes a party to any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service or if any firm in which he is a partner, or any company of which he is a director or manager, becomes a party to any such contract, or if he becomes a partner in a firm, or a director or manager of a company which is a party to any such contract:

Provided that, if in the circumstances it shall appear just to the Council so to do, the Council may exempt any elected member from vacating his seat under the provisions of this paragraph if such member shall, before becoming a party to such contract as aforesaid, or before, or as soon as practicable after, becoming otherwise interested in such contract (whether as a partner in a firm or director or manager of a company), disclose to the Council the nature of such contract and his interest or the interest of any such firm or company therein.

- (3) (a) If circumstances such as are referred to in paragraph (d) of the last foregoing subsection arise because a member is declared bankrupt, adjudged to be of unsound mind, under sentence of death or imprisonment or convicted or reported guilty of an offence relating to elections and if it is open to the member to appeal against the decision (either with the leave of a court or other authority or without such leave) he shall forthwith cease to perform his functions as a member but, subject to the next following paragraph, he shall not vacate his seat in the Council until the expiration of a period of thirty days thereafter:

Provided that the Speaker may, at the request of the member, from time to time extend that period for further periods of thirty days to enable the member to pursue an appeal against the decision, so, however, that extensions of time exceeding in the aggregate one hundred and fifty days shall not be given without the approval, signified by resolution, of the Legislative Council.

- (b) If, on the determination of any appeal, such circumstances continue to exist and no further appeal is open to the member or if, by reason of the expiration of any period for entering an appeal or notice thereof or the refusal of leave to appeal or for any other reason, it ceases to be open to the member to appeal, he shall forthwith vacate his seat.

- (c) If at any time before the member vacates his seat such circumstances as aforesaid cease to exist, his seat shall not become vacant on the expiration of the period referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection and he may resume the performance of his functions as a member.

- (4) In any case in which the Council, under paragraph (e) of subsection (2) of this section, decides not to exempt an elected member from vacating his seat, the member may appeal to the High Court against the decision, and subsection (3) of this section shall apply in the same manner as it does in the circumstances therein specified.

31.—(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, a person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter for the purposes of elections if, and shall not be so qualified unless, he is a British subject and is deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands and on the qualifying date has attained the age of eighteen years and he either—

- (a) is domiciled and resident in the Virgin Islands on the qualifying date ; or
- (b) on that date is domiciled in the Virgin Islands and resident in the United States Virgin Islands :

Provided that any person who is registered as a voter on the date on which this Order comes into operation and is a British subject and on the qualifying date is domiciled and resident in the Virgin Islands or on that date is domiciled in the Virgin Islands and resident in the United States Virgin Islands may be registered as a voter notwithstanding that he is not deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands.

(2) No person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter under this section who on the qualifying date—

- (a) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in the Virgin Islands ; or
- (b) is disqualified by or under any such law from being registered as a voter for the purposes of elections by reason of his having been convicted of an offence relating to elections ; or
- (c) is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court or is serving a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months imposed on him by a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by a court.

(3) In this section “ the qualifying date ” means such date as may be appointed by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands as the date with reference to which the qualifications of any person for registration are to be ascertained.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c) of this section—

- (a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of those sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence ; and
- (b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

Speaker and Deputy Speaker.

32.—(1) When the Legislative Council first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business, it shall elect a person to be the Speaker of the Council, and, if the office of Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council, the Council shall, as soon as practicable elect another person to that office.

(2) The Speaker shall be elected from among persons who are not members of the Executive Council or the Legislative Council, and no person shall be elected as Speaker if—

- (a) he is not a person qualified for election as a member of the Legislative Council ; or

(b) he is a person disqualified for election as a member of that Council by virtue of any provision of section 29(1) of this Order other than paragraph (h).

(3) When the Legislative Council first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business except the election of the Speaker, it shall elect a member of the Legislative Council who is not a member of the Executive Council to be Deputy Speaker of the Legislative Council ; and if the office of Deputy Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council, the Council shall, as soon as convenient, elect another such member to that office.

(4) A person shall vacate the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker—

(a) on dissolution of the Legislative Council ; or

(b) if he announces the resignation of his office to the Legislative Council or if by writing under his hand addressed to the Council and received by the Clerk of the Council he resigns that office ; or

(c) if a motion for his removal from office is carried by the votes of six or more elected members of the Council ;

(d) in the case of the Speaker —

(i) if he ceases to be a person qualified for election as a member of the Legislative Council ; or

(ii) if any circumstances arise that would cause him to be disqualified for election as an elected member of that Council by virtue of any provision of section 29(1) of this Order other than paragraph (h) ; or

(iii) on the expiration of a period of thirty days from the date of his election if he was at that date a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service and if, before the expiration of that period, he has not disclosed to the Council the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein and the Council has not exempted him from vacating his office under this subparagraph ; or

(iv) if any circumstances arise that, if he were an elected member of the Council, would cause him to vacate his seat under paragraph (e) of section 30(2) of this Order ;

(e) in the case of the Deputy Speaker if he ceases to be a member of the Council for any reason other than a dissolution of the Council or if, by virtue of section 30(3) of this Order, he is required to cease to perform his functions as a member or if he is appointed to be a member of the Executive Council.

33.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Governor may appoint a Leader of the Opposition. Leader of the Opposition.

(2) The Governor shall appoint as the Leader of the Opposition—

(a) the member of the Legislative Council recommended by a majority of the elected members of the Legislative Council who are members of any opposition party whose numerical strength in that Council is greater than that of any other opposition party ; or

(b) if there is no such party or if no recommendation is made under paragraph (a) of this subsection, the member of the Legislative Council who in the judgment of the Governor is best able to command the support of the members of the Legislative Council in opposition to the Government.

(3) If at any time between the polling in a general election and the next following dissolution of the Legislative Council the Governor is satisfied that, if the office of the Leader of the Opposition were then vacant, he would appoint thereto a person other than the person then holding that office, the Governor shall revoke the appointment of the Leader of the Opposition.

(4) The office of the Leader of the Opposition shall also become vacant—

(a) if for any reason other than a dissolution of the Legislative Council the holder thereof ceases to be a member of that Council ; or

(b) if the holder thereof is appointed as the Chief Minister.

(5) In this section, “opposition party” means a group of members of the Legislative Council in opposition to the Government who are prepared to support one of their number as their leader.

(6) In the exercise of his functions under this section the Governor shall act in his discretion.

Powers and Procedure

Power to make laws.

34. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the Legislature shall have power to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Virgin Islands.

Standing Orders.

35. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the Legislative Council may make, amend and revoke Standing Orders for the regulation and orderly conduct of its own proceedings and the despatch of business, and the passing, intituling and numbering of Bills and the presentation of the same to the Governor for assent.

allegiance.

36. No member of the Legislative Council shall be permitted to take part in the proceedings of the Council (other than proceedings necessary for the purposes of this section) until he has made and subscribed before the Council an oath or affirmation of allegiance in the form set out in the Schedule to this Order:

Provided that the election of a Speaker and Deputy Speaker of the Legislative Council may take place before the members thereof have made such oath or affirmation.

Presiding
Council.

37.—(1) The Speaker or, in his absence, the Deputy Speaker or, if they are both absent, a member of the Legislative Council (not being a member of the Executive Council) elected by the Legislative Council for that sitting shall preside at each sitting of the Legislative Council.

(2) References in this section to circumstances in which the Speaker or Deputy Speaker is absent include references to circumstances in which the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker is vacant.

38.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section and of section 32(4)(c), all questions proposed for decision in the Legislative Council shall be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, only the elected members of the Council shall be entitled to vote in an election of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker or on a motion for the removal from office of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker or on a motion that the Legislative Council should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands.

(3) The person presiding shall not vote unless on any question the votes are equally divided in which case he shall have and exercise a casting vote:

Provided that where the motion before the Council is one to which subsection (2) of this section applies the person presiding shall not have a casting vote unless he is an elected member.

(4) In the event of an equality of votes on any question the motion shall be lost.

39. The Legislative Council shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in the membership thereof (including any vacancy not filled when the Council is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time), and any proceedings therein shall be valid notwithstanding that some person who was not entitled so to do sat or voted in the Council or otherwise took part in the proceedings.

40.—(1) A quorum of the Legislative Council shall consist of five members besides the person presiding at the sitting.

(2) If at any sitting of the Legislative Council any member who is present draws the attention of the person presiding at the sitting to the absence of a quorum and, after such interval as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the Council, the person presiding at the sitting ascertains that a quorum of the Council is still not present, the Council shall be adjourned.

41.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Order and of the Standing Orders of the Legislative Council, any member may introduce any Bill or propose any motion for debate in, or may present any petition to, the Council, and the same shall be debated and disposed of according to the Standing Orders of the Council.

(2) Except on the recommendation of the Minister responsible for finance, the Legislative Council shall not—

- (a) proceed upon any Bill (including any amendment to a Bill) which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the Council, makes provision for imposing or increasing any tax, for imposing or increasing any charge on the revenues or other funds of the Virgin Islands or for altering any such charge otherwise than by reducing it or for compounding or remitting any debt due to the Virgin Islands; or
- (b) proceed upon any motion (including any amendment to a motion) the effect of which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the Council, is that provision would be made for any of the purposes aforesaid.

Assent to Bills.

42.—(1) A Bill passed by the Legislative Council shall become a law when—

- (a) the Governor has assented thereto in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf and has signed the same in token of such assent, or
- (b) Her Majesty has given Her assent thereto through a Secretary of State and the Governor has signified such assent by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) When a Bill is presented to the Governor for assent he shall declare that he assents or refuses to assent thereto or that he reserves the Bill for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure:

Provided that, unless he has been authorised by a Secretary of State to assent thereto, the Governor shall reserve for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure any Bill which appears to him, acting in his discretion—

- (a) to be inconsistent with any obligation of Her Majesty or of Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom towards any other state or power or any international organisation ; or
- (b) to be likely to prejudice the Royal prerogative ; or
- (c) to be in any way repugnant to or inconsistent with the provisions of this Order.

Disallowance of laws.

43.—(1) Any law assented to by the Governor may be disallowed by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State.

(2) Whenever any law has been disallowed by Her Majesty the Governor shall cause notice of such disallowance to be published in the Gazette and the law shall be annulled with effect from the date of publication of that notice.

(3) On the annulment of any law under this section, any enactment repealed or amended by or in pursuance of that law shall have effect as from the date of the annulment as if that law had not been made ; but save as provided by the foregoing provisions of this subsection section 38(2) of the Interpretation Act 1889(a) shall apply to that annulment as it applies to the repeal of an Act of Parliament.

power.

44.—(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, if the Governor considers that it is necessary or expedient for the purposes of any of the matters for which he is responsible under section 19 of this Order that any Bill introduced, or any motion proposed, in the Legislative Council should have effect, then, if the Legislative Council fails to pass such a Bill or motion within such time and in such form as the Governor may think reasonable and expedient, the Governor may, at any time that he thinks fit, and notwithstanding any provisions of this Order or of any Standing Orders of the Legislative Council, declare that such Bill or motion shall have effect as if it had been passed or carried by the Legislative Council, either in the form in which it was so introduced or proposed or with such amendments as the Governor shall think fit which have been proposed in the Legislative Council or in any committee thereof : and thereupon the said Bill or motion shall have effect as if it had been so passed or carried, and, in the case of any such Bill, the provisions of this Order relating to assent to Bills and disallowance of laws shall have effect accordingly.

(a) 1889 c. 63.

(2) The Governor shall not make any declaration under this section except in accordance with the following conditions, that is to say—

- (a) the question whether the declaration should be made shall first be submitted in writing by the Governor to the Executive Council and if, upon the question being so submitted to it, the Executive Council advises him that the declaration should be made, the Governor may make the declaration ;
- (b) if, when the question whether the declaration should be made is submitted to it as aforesaid, the Executive Council does not, within such time as the Governor thinks reasonable and expedient, advise him that the declaration should be made, then—
  - (i) the Governor may submit the said question to a Secretary of State and may make the declaration if, upon the question being so submitted to him, a Secretary of State authorises the Governor to make the declaration ; or
  - (ii) the Governor may make the declaration without submitting the said question to a Secretary of State if, in the Governor's opinion, urgent necessity requires that the declaration be made without obtaining the authority of a Secretary of State ; in which case he shall, at the time of making the declaration, certify in writing that urgent necessity requires that the declaration be made without obtaining such authority.

(3)(a) Whenever the Governor, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (2)(b) of this section, submits to a Secretary of State the question whether a declaration should be made, or makes a declaration without submitting the said question to a Secretary of State, he shall inform the Executive Council in writing of his reasons for so doing.

(b) Whenever the Governor makes a declaration under this section, other than a declaration made with the authority of a Secretary of State, he shall forthwith report to a Secretary of State the making of, and the reasons for, the declaration and, in the case of a declaration made in accordance with the provisions of sub-paragraph (ii) of subsection (2)(b) of this section, the grounds of urgency.

(4) If any member of the Legislative Council objects to any declaration made under this section, he may, within seven days of the making thereof, submit to the Governor a statement in writing of his reasons for so objecting ; and a copy of such statement shall, if furnished by such member, be forwarded by the Governor as soon as practicable to a Secretary of State.

(5) Any declaration made under this section that relates to a motion may be revoked by a Secretary of State, and the Governor shall cause notice of such revocation to be published in the Gazette ; and from the date of such publication any motion which has effect by virtue of the declaration shall cease to have effect, and section 38(2) of the Interpretation Act 1889 shall apply to the revocation as it applies to the repeal of an Act of Parliament.

(6) The powers conferred on the Governor by subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall be exercised by him in his discretion.

Privileges, etc. of Council

45. The Legislature may by law determine and regulate the privileges, immunities and powers of the Legislative Council and the members thereof, but no such privileges, immunities or powers shall exceed those of the Commons' House of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of the members thereof.

Miscellaneous

46.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the sessions of the Legislative Council shall be held at such times and places as the Governor may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) The first session of the Council shall commence within a period of three months after the first general election held after the commencement of this Order and thereafter there shall be a session of the Council from time to time so that a period of three months does not intervene between the last sitting in one session and the first sitting in the next session.

Prorogation
and dissolution.

47.—(1) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, prorogue the Legislative Council.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, dissolve the Legislative Council.

(3) The Governor shall dissolve the Legislative Council at the expiration of four years from the date when the Council first meets after any general election unless it has been sooner dissolved.

General
elections.

48. A general election shall be held at such time within two months after every dissolution of the Council as the Governor shall appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

Determination of questions as to membership.

49.—(1) The High Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine an appeal under section 30(4) of this Order and any question whether—

(a) any person has been validly elected as a member of the Legislative Council ; or

(b) any elected member of the Council has vacated his seat therein or is required by virtue of section 30(3) of this Order to cease to perform his functions as a member.

(2) An application to the High Court for the determination of—

(a) any question under paragraph (a) of the last foregoing subsection may be made by any person entitled to vote in the electoral district and at the election to which the application relates or by any person who was a candidate in that district at that election or by the Attorney-General ;

(b) any question under paragraph (b) of that subsection may be made by any person entitled to vote at an election in the electoral district for which the member concerned was returned or by any elected member of the Legislative Council or by the Attorney-General ; and if such an application is made by a person other than the Attorney-General, the Attorney-General may intervene and may then appear or be represented in the proceedings.

(3) The Legislature may make provision with respect to—

(a) the circumstances and manner in which and the imposition of conditions upon which any application may be made to the High Court for the determination of any question under this section ; and

(b) the powers, practice and procedure of the High Court in relation to any such application.

(4) An appeal shall lie as of right to the Court of Appeal from any final decision of the High Court determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

(5) No appeal shall lie from any decision of the Court of Appeal in exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by the last foregoing subsection and no appeal shall lie from any decision of the High Court in proceedings under this section other than a final decision determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

50.—(1) Any person who sits or votes in the Legislative Council knowing or having reasonable grounds for knowing that he is not entitled so to do shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars for every day upon which he so sits or votes.

Penalty for unauthorised person sitting or voting.

(2) The said penalty shall be recoverable by action in the High Court at the suit of the Attorney-General.

PART V

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Public Service—General

51.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Public Service Commission which shall consist of three members, of whom two shall be appointed by the Governor acting in his discretion and one shall be appointed by the Governor after consultation with the Civil Service Association.

Public Service Commission.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, shall appoint one of the three members of the Public Service Commission to be Chairman of the Commission.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as a member of the Public Service Commission if he is a member of, or a candidate for election to, the Legislative Council, or holds or is acting in any public office.

(4) The office of a member of the Public Service Commission shall become vacant—

(a) at the expiration of three years from the date of his appointment or such earlier time as may be specified in the instrument by which he was appointed ; or

- (b) if he resigns his office by writing under his hand addressed to the Governor ; or
- (c) if he becomes a member of, or a candidate for election to, the Legislative Council or is appointed to or to act in any public office ; or
- (d) if the Governor, acting in his discretion, directs that he shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions thereof (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour.

(5) If the office of a member of the Public Service Commission is vacant or a member is for any reason unable to perform the functions of his office, the Governor, acting in the manner prescribed by subsection (1) of this section for the appointment of that member, may appoint a person who is qualified for appointment as a member of the Commission to act as a member of the Commission, and any person so appointed shall, subject to the provisions of the preceding subsection, continue so to act until he is notified by the Governor, acting in his discretion, that the circumstances giving rise to the appointment have ceased to exist :

Provided that, in the case of a vacancy in the office of the Chairman or the inability of the holder thereof to perform his functions, the functions of the office of Chairman shall be performed by such member of the Commission or person acting as a member as the Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, may designate.

Power to appoint, etc., to public offices.

52.—(1) Power to make appointments to public offices and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission :

Provided that before appointing any person to the office of a permanent secretary or head of a department the Governor shall in addition consult with the Chief Minister.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, delegate to any member of the Commission or any public officer or class of public officer, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in the regulations, any of the powers vested in him by the last foregoing subsection.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to—

- (a) any office to which section 55 of this Order applies ; or
- (b) any office in the Police Force below the rank of Assistant Superintendent to the extent that the Chief of Police or some other officer of the Police Force is empowered by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands to exercise the powers mentioned in that subsection.

Regulations regarding Public Service Commission.

53. The Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may by regulation make provision for—

- (a) the organisation of the work of the Commission and the manner in which it performs its functions ;

- (b) consultation by the Commission with persons or authorities other than members of the Commission.

Judicial and Legal Service

54. There shall be for the Virgin Islands a Judicial and Legal Service Commission which shall consist of:—
- Judicial and Legal Service Commission.
- (a) the Chief Justice, who shall be Chairman ;
- (b) another judge of the Court of Appeal or the High Court nominated by the Chief Justice after consultation with the Governor ;
and
- (c) the Chairman of the Public Service Commission.

55.—(1) Power to make appointments to the offices to which this section applies and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Governor, acting after consultation with the Judicial and Legal Service Commission.

Power to appoint, etc., to legal offices.

(2) This section applies to the offices of Attorney-General and Magistrate, any office in the public service of any registrar or other officer of the High Court who is required to possess legal qualifications, and to such other offices in the public service, for appointment to which persons are required to possess legal qualifications, as may be prescribed by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

Pensions

56.—(1) Subject to the provisions of section 58 of this Order, the law applicable to the grant and payment to any officer, or to his widow, children, dependants or personal representatives, of any pension, gratuity or other like allowance (in this section and the two next following sections referred to as an “award”) in respect of the service of that officer in a public office shall be that in force on the relevant day or any later law not less favourable to the person concerned.

Applicability of pensions law.

- (2) For the purposes of this section the relevant day is—
- (a) in relation to an award granted before the appointed day, the day on which the award was granted ;
- (b) in relation to an award granted or to be granted on or after the appointed day to or in respect of a person who was a public officer before that day, the day immediately before that day ;
- (c) in relation to an award granted or to be granted to or in respect of a person who first becomes a public officer on or after the appointed day, the day on which he becomes a public officer.

(3) For the purposes of this section, in so far as the law applicable to an award depends on the option of the person to or in respect of whom it is granted or to be granted, the law for which he opts shall be taken to be more favourable to him than any other law for which he might have opted.

- (4) In this section “the appointed day” means 18th April 1967.

Pensions etc., charged on Consolidated Fund of the Virgin Islands.

57. Awards granted under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund of the Virgin Islands.

Grant and withholding of pensions, etc.

58.—(1) The power to grant any award under any pensions law in force in the Virgin Islands (other than an award to which, under that law, the person to whom it is payable is entitled as of right) and, in accordance with any provisions in that behalf contained in any such law, to withhold, reduce in amount or suspend any award payable under any such law is hereby vested in the Governor, acting in his discretion.

(2) In this section “pensions law” means any law relating to the grant to any person, or to the widow, children, dependants or personal representatives of that person, of an award in respect of the services of that person in a public office, and includes any instrument made under any such law.

PART VI

FINANCE

Consolidated Fund.

59. All revenues or other moneys raised or received by or for the purposes of the Government (not being revenues or other moneys that are payable by or under any law into some other fund established for any specific purpose or that may, by or under any law, be retained by the authority that received them for the purpose of defraying the expenses of that authority) shall be paid into and form a Consolidated Fund.

Withdrawal of money from the Consolidated Fund or other public funds.

60.—(1) No money shall be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund except upon the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Minister charged with responsibility for finance (in this Part referred to as “the Minister”):

Provided that where, in the opinion of the Governor, acting in his discretion, moneys are required to enable him to discharge his responsibilities under section 19 of this Order, such moneys may be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund either—

- (a) upon the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Minister ;
- or
- (b) upon the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Governor acting in his discretion.

(2) No warrant shall be issued by the Minister for the purpose of meeting any expenditure unless—

- (a) the expenditure has been authorised for the financial year during which the withdrawal is to take place—
  - (i) by an Appropriation Ordinance ; or
  - (ii) by a supplementary estimate approved by resolution of the Legislative Council ; or
- (b) the expenditure has been authorised in accordance with the provisions of section 62 of this Order ; or

(c) it is expenditure (in this Part referred to as “statutory expenditure”) that is charged upon the Consolidated Fund by this Order or by any other law.

(3) No moneys shall be withdrawn from any public fund other than the Consolidated Fund unless the issue of those moneys has been authorised by or under any law.

61.—(1) The Minister shall cause to be prepared and laid before the Legislative Council as soon as practicable before the commencement of each financial year estimates of the revenues and expenditure of the Virgin Islands for that year: Authorisation of expenditure.

Provided that, if the Legislative Council is dissolved less than three months before the commencement of any financial year, the estimates for that year may be laid before the Council as soon as practicable after the commencement of that year.

(2) The heads of expenditure contained in the estimates (other than statutory expenditure) shall be included in a Bill to be known as an Appropriation Bill which shall be introduced into the Legislative Council to provide for the issue from the Consolidated Fund of the sums necessary to meet that expenditure and the appropriation of those sums to the purposes specified therein.

(3) If in respect of any financial year it is found—

(a) that the amount appropriated by the Appropriation Ordinance to any purpose is insufficient or that a need has arisen for expenditure for a purpose to which no amount has been appropriated by that Ordinance; or a supplementary estimate, showing the sum required or spent, shall be laid before the Legislative Council.

(b) that any moneys have been expended for any purpose in excess of the amount appropriated to that purpose by the Appropriation Ordinance or for a purpose to which no amount has been appropriated by that Ordinance;

(4) Where in respect of any financial year any supplementary estimates have been laid before the Legislative Council in accordance with the provisions of subsection (3) of this section and approved by resolution of that Council, a supplementary Appropriation Bill shall, as soon as practicable after the end of that year, be introduced into that Council to provide for the appropriation to the purposes in question of the sums included in such estimates that have been expended for that year.

(5) Where in respect of any financial year moneys have been withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund upon the authority of a warrant issued by the Governor by virtue of the proviso to section 60(1) of this Order, the Minister shall, if the circumstances of the case so require, cause a statement of expenditure in respect of such moneys to be prepared and laid before the Legislative Council.

Authorisation of expenditure in advance of appropriation.

62. If the Appropriation Ordinance in respect of any financial year has not come into operation by the beginning of that financial year, the Legislative Council by resolution may empower the Minister to authorise the withdrawal of moneys from the Consolidated Fund for the purpose of meeting expenditure necessary to carry on the services of the Government until the expiration of four months from the beginning of that financial year or the coming into operation of the Appropriation Ordinance, whichever is the earlier.

Contingencies fund.

63.—(1) The Legislature may by law make provision for the establishment of a contingencies fund and for authorising the Minister to make advances from that fund if he is satisfied that there is an urgent and unforeseen need for expenditure for which no other provision exists.

(2) When any advance is made from the contingencies fund a supplementary estimate shall, as soon as practicable, be laid before the Legislative Council for the purpose of authorising the replacement of the amount so advanced.

Public Debt.

64.—(1) All debt charges for which the Virgin Islands are liable shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

(2) For the purposes of this section, debt charges include interest, sinking fund charges, the repayment or amortisation of debt and all expenditure in connection with the raising of loans on the security of the revenues of the Virgin Islands or the Consolidated Fund and the service and redemption of debt thereby created.

Remuneration of certain officers.

65.—(1) There shall be paid to the holders of the offices to which this section applies such salary or other remuneration and such allowances as may be prescribed by or under a law enacted by the Legislature.

(2) The remuneration and allowances payable to the holders of those offices shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

(3) The remuneration prescribed in pursuance of this section in respect of the holder of any such office and his other terms of service (other than allowances that are not taken into account in computing, under any law in that behalf, any pension payable in respect of his service in that office) shall not without his consent be altered to his disadvantage after his appointment.

(4) Where a person's remuneration or other terms of service depend upon his option, the remuneration or terms for which he opts shall, for the purposes of subsection (3) of this section, be deemed to be more advantageous to him than any others for which he might have opted.

(5) This section applies to the offices of Governor, Deputy Governor, Chairman or other member of the Public Service Commission, Attorney-General and Auditor.

The Auditor.

66.—(1) There shall be an Auditor whose office shall be a public office.

(2) The accounts of the Legislative Council and all government departments and offices (including the Public Service Commission) shall be audited and reported on annually by the Auditor, and for that purpose the Auditor or any person authorised by him in that behalf shall have access to all books, records, returns and other documents relating to such accounts.

(3) The Auditor shall submit his reports made under subsection (2) of this section to the Minister who shall cause them to be laid before the Legislative Council.

(4) In the exercise of his functions under the provisions of this section, the Auditor shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

PART VII

TRANSITIONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

67.—(1) The existing laws shall, as from the coming into operation of this Order, be construed with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with the provisions of this Order. Existing laws.

(2) (a) The Governor may, by order published in the Gazette and made at any time before the expiration of one year commencing with the coming into operation of this Order, make such amendments to any existing law as appear to him to be necessary or expedient for bringing that law into conformity with the provisions of this Order or otherwise for giving effect or enabling effect to be given to those provisions.

(b) An order made under this subsection shall have effect from such date, not being earlier than the coming into operation of this Order, as may be specified therein, and may be revoked or amended in relation to any law affected thereby by the authority competent to repeal or amend that law.

(3) In this section “existing law” means any Act or Ordinance enacted by any legislature established for the Virgin Islands or the former Colony of the Leeward Islands, or any rule, regulation, order or other instrument made thereunder, that has effect as part of the law of the Virgin Islands immediately before the coming into operation of this Order.

68. The Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Council as in force immediately before this Order comes into operation shall, with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with this Order, be the Standing Orders of the Legislative Council continued in existence by section 1 of this Order and of the Legislative Council established by Part IV of this Order as if they had been made in pursuance of section 35 of this Order. Standing Orders.

69.—(1) Any office constituted for the Virgin Islands by the Governor under the Orders hereby revoked and subsisting immediately before the coming into operation of this Order shall, as from the coming into operation of this Order, be deemed to be an office constituted by the Governor under section 9 of this Order. Existing offices and officers.

(2) Any person who, immediately before the coming into operation of this Order, holds or is acting in the office of Governor or any office constituted as aforesaid or any public office otherwise constituted shall, as from such coming into operation, continue to hold or to act in that office as if he had been appointed to or to act in that office in accordance with the provisions of this Order.

(3) Any person to whom the last foregoing subsection applies who, before the coming into operation of this Order, has made any oath or affirmation required to be made by him before assuming the functions of his office shall not, by reason only of that subsection, be required to make a like oath or affirmation.

Transitional provisions relating to bill awaiting assent.

70. The provisions of section 42 of this Order shall apply to any Bill passed by the Legislative Council continued in existence by section 1 of this Order, but not assented to before its dissolution, as they would apply to a Bill passed by the Legislative Council established by this Order, and the provisions of section 43 of this Order shall apply to any Bill passed by that Legislative Council to which the Governor has given his assent as they would apply to a Bill passed by the Legislative Council established by this Order to which the Governor had given his assent under this Order.

Powers reserved to Her Majesty.

71. There is reserved to Her Majesty full power to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Virgin Islands.

N. E. Leigh,
Clerk of the Privy Council.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order makes new provision for the Government of the Virgin Islands. In particular it provides for a Governor appointed by Her Majesty, an Executive Council and a Legislative Council. The Executive Council will include a Chief Minister and two other Ministers appointed on his advice. The Chief Minister will be the elected member of the Legislative Council recommended by a majority of the elected members of the majority political party, or, if there is no majority political party, the elected member best able to command the support of the majority of elected members. The Legislative Council will consist of a Speaker, nine elected members and one official, the Attorney General. However, the present Legislative Council will remain in existence until the next dissolution of the Council, though the Financial Secretary will cease to be a member.

The Virgin Islands (Constitution) (Amendment)

Made - - - - - 17th May 2000

Laid before Parliament 25th May 2000

Coming into force on a day or days to be appointed under section 1(4)

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 17th day of May 2000

Present,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

Her Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers vested in Her by sections 5 and 7 of the West Indies Act 1962(a) and of all other powers enabling Her in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

Citation, construction and commencement

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Virgin Islands (Constitution) (Amendment) Order 2000 and shall be construed as one with the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976(b).

(2) The Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976 and this Order may be cited together as the Virgin Islands Constitution Orders 1976 to 2000.

(3) In this Order, "the Constitution" means the Constitution set out in the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976.

(4) The provisions of this Order shall come into force on such day or days as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette, and the Governor may appoint different days for the coming into force of different provisions of this Order.

Amendment of section 2 of Constitution

2.—(1) Section 2 of the Constitution shall be amended by replacing subsection (2) by the following:—

"(2) For the purposes of this Order a person shall be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands if that person—

(a) is born in the Virgin Islands and at the time of the birth his father or mother is—

(a) 1962 c. 19.

(b) S.I. 1976/2145 amended by S.I. 1979/1603, 1982/151, 1991/2871 and 1994/1638.

- (i) a British Dependent Territories citizen by virtue of birth, registration or naturalisation in the Virgin Islands or by virtue of descent from a father or mother who was born in the Virgin Islands; or
- (ii) settled in the Virgin Islands; and for this purpose "settled" means ordinarily resident in the Virgin Islands without being subject under the law in force in the Virgin Islands to any restriction on the period for which he may remain; or
- (b) is born in the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who is deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent or who, if deceased, would, if alive, be deemed so to belong to the Virgin Islands; or
- (c) is a child adopted in the Virgin Islands by a person who is deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent; or
- (d) is born outside the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who is a British Dependent Territories citizen by virtue of birth in the Virgin Islands; or
- (e) is a British Dependent Territories citizen by virtue of naturalisation or registration in the Virgin Islands; or
- (f) is a person to whom a certificate has been granted under section 16 of the Immigration and Passport Act 1977 of the Virgin Islands (in this subsection referred to as "the Act", and references to the Act or to any section thereof include references to any enactment amending, replacing or re-enacting the same) and has not been revoked under section 17 of the Act; or
- (g) is a spouse of a person deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands and has been granted a certificate under section 16 of the Act."

(2) For the purposes of the Constitution as amended by this Order, a person shall also be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands if, immediately before the date on which this section comes into force, that person was deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by virtue of section 2(2) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976:

Provided that a person who was deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by virtue of section 2(2)(e) of that Order and who subsequent to attaining the age of twenty-one years is ordinarily resident outside the Virgin Islands for a period of not less than five years shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands.

Addition of new section 5A to Constitution

3. The following new section shall be inserted in the Constitution after section 5:—

"Functions of Deputy
Governor.

5A.—(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, the Deputy Governor shall—

- (a) assist the Governor in the exercise of his functions relating to matters for which he is responsible under section 19 of this Order;

- (b) assist the Governor in the exercise of such of his other functions, being functions in the exercise of which the Governor is not obliged to act in accordance with the advice of some other person or authority, as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may direct; and
- (c) perform such other functions, not of a ministerial nature, as (subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law) may be assigned to the Deputy Governor, at the request of the Chief Minister, by the Governor acting in his discretion.

(2) The Governor, acting in his discretion, may, by writing under his hand, authorise the Deputy Governor to exercise for and on behalf of the Governor, subject to such exceptions and conditions as the Governor may from time to time specify, any or all of the functions of the office of Governor.

(3) The powers and authority of the Governor shall not be affected by any authority of the Deputy Governor under subsection (2) of this section and, subject to the provisions of this Order and of any other law by which any function which the Deputy Governor is authorised to exercise is conferred, the Deputy Governor shall comply with such instructions relating to the exercise of that function as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may from time to time address to him:

Provided that the question whether or not the Deputy Governor has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court of law.

(4) Any authority given under subsection (2) of this section may at any time be varied or revoked by Her Majesty by instructions given through a Secretary of State or by the Governor, acting in his discretion, by writing under his hand.

(5) In subsection (2) of this section the reference to any functions of the office of Governor does not include a reference to—

- (a) the functions conferred upon the Governor by this section; or
- (b) any functions conferred upon the Governor by any Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom or by any Order of Her Majesty in Council or other instrument made under any such Act other than this Order.”.

Replacement of section 14 of Constitution

4. Section 14 of the Constitution shall be replaced by the following:—

“14. There shall be an Executive Council in and for the Virgin Islands which shall consist of the Chief Minister, not less than three nor more than four other Ministers and the Attorney-General.”.

Amendment of section 15 of Constitution

5. Section 15(2) of the Constitution shall be amended by substituting the word “four” for the word “three”.

Amendment of section 23 of Constitution

6. Section 23(3) of the Constitution shall be amended by substituting the words “three Ministers” for the words “two members”.

Replacement of section 29 of Constitution

7. Section 29 of the Constitution shall be replaced by the following:—

"Disqualifications for elected membership. 29.—(1) No person shall be qualified to be elected as a member of the Legislative Council who—

- (a) is, by virtue of his own act, under any acknowledgment of allegiance, obedience or adherence to a foreign power or state; or
  - (b) holds, or is acting in, any public office; or
  - (c) has been adjudged or otherwise declared bankrupt under any law in force in any country and has not been discharged; or
  - (d) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in any country; or
  - (e) at the date of election, is under sentence of death imposed on him by a court of law in any country, or is serving or has at any time within the period of five years immediately preceding that date been serving any part of a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) of at least twelve months imposed on him by such a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him by such a court; or is under such a sentence of imprisonment the execution of which has been suspended; or
  - (f) is disqualified for membership of the Council by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands relating to offences connected with elections; or
  - (g) is a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service, and has not, within fourteen days before his nomination as a candidate for election, published in the Gazette or in a newspaper circulating in the Virgin Islands a notice setting out the nature of such contract and his interest, or the interest of such firm or company, therein.
- (2) For the purposes of paragraph (e) of the foregoing subsection—
- (a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of such sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence; and
  - (b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine."

Amendment of section 32 of Constitution

8. Section 32 of the Constitution shall be amended:—

(a) by replacing subsection (2) by the following:—

"(2) The Speaker shall be elected from among the elected members of the Council or persons qualified to be elected members of the Council, other than Ministers, and no person shall be elected as Speaker if he is a person disqualified for election as a member of the Council by virtue of any provision of section 29(1) of this Order other than paragraph (g).";

(b) in subsection (4)(d)(ii), by substituting the words "paragraph (g)" for the words "paragraph (h)"; and

(c) in subsection (4)(d), by inserting immediately after subparagraph (iv) the word "or" and the following new subparagraph:—

"(v) if he is appointed to be a member of the Executive Council;".

Amendment of section 42 of Constitution

9. Section 42(2) of the Constitution shall be amended by deleting the words "or refuses to assent".

Amendment of section 46 of Constitution

10. Section 46 of the Constitution shall be amended by adding the following new subsection:—

"(3) When the Council is in session, the Speaker may call meetings of the Council from time to time and, if no meeting has been called sooner, shall call a meeting within two months of the previous meeting."

Amendment of section 51 of Constitution

11. Section 51 of the Constitution shall be amended by replacing subsections (1) and (2) by the following:—

"(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Public Service Commission which shall consist of five members, of whom two shall be appointed by the Governor acting in his discretion, one shall be appointed by the Governor acting in accordance with the advice of the Chief Minister, one shall be appointed by the Governor acting in accordance with the advice of the Leader of the Opposition and one shall be appointed by the Governor acting after consultation with the Civil Service Association.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister, shall appoint one of the five members of the Public Service Commission to be Chairman of the Commission."

12. Section 52 of the Constitution shall be amended by replacing subsection (2) by the following:—

"(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, delegate to any member of the Commission or any public officer or class of public officer, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in the regulations, any of the powers vested in him to make appointments to public offices and to remove or exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices. Except in so far as regulations made under this section otherwise provide, any power delegated by such regulations may be exercised by any person to whom it is delegated without reference to the Public Service Commission."

Replacement of section 53 of Constitution

13. Section 53 of the Constitution shall be replaced by the following:—

"Regulations regarding Public Service Commission.

53. The Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, make provision for—

- (a) the organisation of the work of the Commission and the manner in which it performs its functions;
- (b) consultation by the Commission with persons or authorities other than members of the Commission;
- (c) the protection and privileges of members of the Commission in respect of the performance of their functions and the privilege of communications to and from the Commission and its members in the case of legal proceedings; and
- (d) the definition and trial of offences in relation to the functions of the Commission and the imposition of penalties for such offences:

Provided that no such penalty shall exceed a fine of one thousand dollars or imprisonment for a term of one year or both such fine and imprisonment."

Addition of new Part VIA to Constitution

14. The following new Part and sections shall be inserted in the Constitution after section 66:—

“PART VIA*THE COMPLAINTS COMMISSIONER AND REGISTER OF INTERESTS

The Complaints
Commissioner.

66A.—(1) There shall be a Complaints Commissioner for the Virgin Islands.

(2) The Complaints Commissioner shall be appointed by the Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Minister and the Leader of the Opposition, by instrument under the public seal.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as Complaints Commissioner if he is or has been within the preceding three years—

- (a) an elected member of the Legislative Council; or
- (b) the holder of any office in any political party.

(4) The office of the Complaints Commissioner shall become vacant—

- (a) at the expiration of the period specified in the instrument by which he was appointed;
- (b) if he resigns his office by writing under his hand addressed to the Governor;
- (c) if he becomes an elected member of the Legislative Council or the holder of any office in any political party; or
- (d) if the Governor, acting in his discretion, directs that he shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions thereof (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour, or for contravention of subsection (5) of this section.

(5) Subject to such exceptions as the Governor, acting in his discretion, may authorise by directions in writing, the Complaints Commissioner shall not hold any other office of emolument either in the public service or otherwise nor engage in any occupation for reward other than the duties of his office.

Complaints
Commissioner.

66B.—(1) The Complaints Commissioner shall have such functions and jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law.

(2) In the exercise of his functions, the Complaints Commissioner shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Registration
of interests.

66C.—(1) There shall be for the Virgin Islands a Register of Interests, which shall be maintained by a Registrar who shall be appointed, and may be removed from office, by the Governor acting in his discretion.

(2) It shall be the duty of any person to whom this section applies to declare to the Registrar, for entry in the Register of Interests, such interests, assets, income and liabilities of that person, or of any other person connected with him, as may be prescribed by law.

(3) A person shall make a declaration under subsection (2) of this section upon assuming the functions of his office and at such intervals thereafter (being no longer than twelve months) as may be prescribed by law.

(4) This section applies to all members of the Legislative Council (including Ministers) and the holders of such other offices (except that of Governor) as may be prescribed by law.

(5) A law made under this Order shall make provision for giving effect to this section, including the sanctions which may be imposed for a failure to comply with, or the making of false statements in purported compliance with, subsections (2) and (3) and, notwithstanding anything contained in Part IV of this Order, the sanctions which may be imposed may include the suspension of a member of the Legislative Council from sitting and voting therein for such period as may be prescribed in such a law.”.

Transitional provisions

15.—(1) Any person who, immediately before the day on which section 11 of this Order comes into force, holds or is acting in the office of a member of the Public Service Commission shall, on and after that day, continue to hold or act in that office as if he had been appointed to hold or act in it by the Governor acting in his discretion or, as the case may be, after consultation with the Civil Service Association in accordance with section 51 of the Constitution as amended by this Order:

Provided that any such person who under or by virtue of this Constitution would have been required to vacate his office at the expiration of any period shall vacate his office at the expiration of that period.

(2) Any regulations made by the Governor in pursuance of section 52(2) or 53 of the Constitution before the day on which sections 12 and 13 of this Order come into force shall have effect on and after that day as if they had made in pursuance of section 52(2) or 53 of the Constitution as amended by this Order.

A. K. Galloway
Clerk of the Privy Council

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends the Constitution of the Virgin Islands by making provision to revise the definition of persons deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands, to define the functions of the Deputy Governor, to permit the number of Ministers to be increased to five, for the sittings of the Legislative Council, for a public register of interests and for a Complaints Commissioner; and for matters relating to the powers of the Governor, the quorum of Executive Council, Legislative Council disqualifications, the election of the Speaker and the Public Service.

SCHEDULE 1 — FORMS OF OATHS AND AFFIRMATIONS
SCHEDULE 2 — REVOCATIONS

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 13th day of June 2007

Present,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

Her Majesty, in exercise of the powers conferred upon Her by sections 5 and 7 of the West Indies Act 1962<sup>(a)</sup> and of all other powers enabling Her to do so, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is ordered, as follows:

Citation, commencement and establishment of Constitution

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Virgin Islands Constitution Order 2007.

(2) This Order shall come into force on the day on which the Legislative Council of the Virgin Islands is dissolved next following the day on which this Order is made, which day is in this Order referred to as “the appointed day”.

(a) 1962 c. 19.

(3) On the appointed day the following provisions of this Order shall have effect as the Constitution of the Virgin Islands; but until the day after the polling in the first general election in the Virgin Islands after the appointed day—

- (a) the office of Premier shall continue to be called Chief Minister;
- (b) the Cabinet shall continue to be called the Executive Council; and
- (c) no person shall be appointed to the office of Cabinet Secretary.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

Whereas the people of the territory of the Virgin Islands have over centuries evolved with a distinct cultural identity which is the essence of a Virgin Islander;

Acknowledging that the society of the Virgin Islands is based upon certain moral, spiritual and democratic values including a belief in God, the dignity of the human person, the freedom of the individual and respect for fundamental rights and freedoms and the rule of law;

Mindful that the people of the Virgin Islands have expressed a desire for their Constitution to reflect who they are as a people and a country and their quest for social justice, economic empowerment and political advancement;

Recognising that the people of the Virgin Islands have a free and independent spirit, and have developed themselves and their country based on qualities of honesty, integrity, mutual respect, self-reliance and the ownership of the land engendering a strong sense of belonging to and kinship with those Islands;

Recalling that because of historical, economic and other reasons many of the people of the Virgin Islands reside elsewhere but have and continue to have an ancestral connection and bond with those Islands;

Accepting that the Virgin Islands should be governed based on adherence to well-established democratic principles and institutions;

Affirming that the people of the Virgin Islands have generally expressed their desire to become a self-governing people and to exercise the highest degree of control over the affairs of their country at this stage of its development; and

Noting that the United Kingdom, the administering power for the time being, has articulated a desire to enter into a modern partnership with the Virgin Islands based on the principles of mutual respect and self-determination;

Now, therefore, the following provisions have effect as the Constitution of the Virgin Islands.

CHAPTER 1 INTERPRETATION

Interpretation

- 2.—(1) In this Constitution, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context—
- “the Chief Justice” means the Chief Justice of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court;
  - “the Court of Appeal” means the Court of Appeal established by the Supreme Court Order 1967(a);
  - “dollars” means dollars in the currency of the Virgin Islands or the United States of America;

(a) S.I. 1967/223, amended by S.I. 1983/1108, 2000/3060.

“election” means election of an elected member of the House of Assembly and “general election” shall be construed accordingly;

“the High Court” means the High Court established by the Supreme Court Order 1967;

“legal practitioner” means a person qualified as a legal practitioner as prescribed by law;

“the Police Force” means any police force established for the Virgin Islands under any law in force in the Virgin Islands;

“public office” means, subject to section 3, any office of emolument in the public service or any office of emolument under any local government council or authority in the Virgin Islands;

“public officer” means the holder of any public office and includes any person appointed to act in any such office;

“public service” means the service of the Crown in a civil capacity in respect of the Government of the Virgin Islands;

“session”, in relation to the House of Assembly, means the sittings of the House commencing when the House first meets after being constituted by this Constitution, or after its prorogation or dissolution at any time, and terminating when the House is next prorogued or is dissolved without having been prorogued;

“sitting”, in relation to the House of Assembly, means a period during which the House is sitting continuously without adjournment and includes any period during which the House is in committee.

- (2) For the purposes of this Constitution, a person belongs to the Virgin Islands if that person—
- (a) is born in the Virgin Islands and at the time of the birth his or her father or mother is or was—
    - (i) a British overseas territories citizen (or a British Dependent Territories citizen) by virtue of birth, registration or naturalisation in the Virgin Islands or by virtue of descent from a father or mother who was born in the Virgin Islands; or
    - (ii) settled in the Virgin Islands; and for this purpose “settled” means ordinarily resident in the Virgin Islands without being subject under the law in force in the Virgin Islands to any restriction on the period for which he or she may remain, but does not include persons on contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands or any statutory body or Crown corporation;
  - (b) is born in the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who belongs to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent or who, if deceased, would, if alive, so belong to the Virgin Islands;
  - (c) is a child adopted in the Virgin Islands by a person who belongs to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent;
  - (d) is born outside the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who is a British overseas territories citizen by virtue of birth in the Virgin Islands or descent from a father or mother who was born in the Virgin Islands or who belongs to the Virgin Islands by virtue of birth in the Virgin Islands or descent from a father or mother who was born in the Virgin Islands;
  - (e) is a British overseas territories citizen by virtue of registration in the Virgin Islands;
  - (f) is a person to whom a certificate has been granted under section 16 of the Immigration and Passport Act 1977 of the Virgin Islands (in this subsection referred to as “the Act”, and references to the Act or to any section thereof include references to any enactment amending, replacing or re-enacting the same) and has not been revoked under section 17 of the Act; and (without prejudice to the right of any person to apply for the grant of such a certificate under the Act) a British overseas territories citizen by virtue of naturalisation in the Virgin Islands has a right by virtue of this Constitution to apply for the grant of such a certificate;

- (g) is the spouse of a person who belongs to the Virgin Islands and has been granted a certificate under section 16 of the Act; or
- (h) was immediately before the commencement of this Constitution deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands by virtue of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976(a).

(3) In this Constitution, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, any reference to the holder of an office by a term designating or describing his or her office shall be construed as including a reference to any person who, under and to the extent of any authority in that respect, is for the time being performing the functions of that office.

(4) In this Constitution, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, references to the functions of the Governor shall be construed as references to his or her powers and duties in exercise of the executive authority of the Virgin Islands and to any other powers or duties conferred or imposed on him or her as Governor by or under this Constitution or any other law.

References to public office

3.—(1) For the purposes of this Constitution, a person shall not be considered to hold a public office by reason only that—

- (a) he or she is in receipt of a pension or other like allowance in respect of public service; or
- (b) he or she is in receipt of any remuneration or allowances in respect of his or her tenure of the office of Minister, Speaker, Deputy Speaker or member of the House of Assembly, or member of the Public Service Commission, the Teaching Service Commission, the Judicial and Legal Services Commission, or the Police Service Commission.

(2) If it is provided by any law in force in the Virgin Islands that an office shall not be a public office for the purposes of section 66(1)(a), this Constitution shall have effect accordingly as if that provision of that law were enacted herein.

(3) References in section 60 and Chapter 7 to public offices shall not be construed as including references to—

- (a) the office of a member of any board, committee or other similar body (whether incorporated or not) established by any law in force in the Virgin Islands; or
- (b) any office of emolument under any local government council or authority in the Virgin Islands.

Appointments

4.—(1) In this Constitution, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, any reference to power to make appointments to any office shall be construed as including a reference to power to make appointments on promotion or transfer to that office and to power to appoint a person to perform the functions of that office during any period when it is vacant or the holder of it is unable (whether by reason of absence or infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) to perform those functions.

(2) Where by this Constitution any person is directed, or power is conferred on any person or authority to appoint a person, to perform the functions of an office if the holder of that office is unable to perform those functions, the validity of any performance of those functions by the person so directed or of any appointment made in exercise of that power shall not be called in question in any court on the ground that the holder of the office is not unable to perform the functions of that office.

(3) Where this Constitution vests in any person power to make appointments to any office, a person may be appointed to that office, notwithstanding that some other person may be holding that office, when that other person is on leave of absence pending relinquishment of that office; and where two or more persons are holding the same office by reason of an appointment made in pursuance of this subsection, then, for the purposes of any function conferred on the holder of that office, the person last appointed to the office shall be deemed to be the sole holder of the office.

Re-election or reappointment

5. Any person who has vacated his or her seat in the House of Assembly or has vacated any office constituted by or under this Constitution may, if qualified, again be elected as a member of the House or appointed to that office, as the case may be, from time to time in accordance with this Constitution.

Removal from office

6. In this Constitution, unless it is otherwise provided or required by the context, any reference to power to remove a public officer from office shall be construed as including a reference to any power conferred by any law to require or permit that officer to retire from the public service.

Resignation

7. For the purposes of this Constitution, the resignation of the holder of any office that is required to be addressed to any person shall have effect from the time that it is received by that person, unless otherwise specified in the letter of resignation.

Power to amend or revoke instruments

8. Where any power is conferred by this Constitution to make any proclamation, order or regulations or to give any directions, the power shall be construed as including a power exercisable in like manner to amend or revoke any such proclamation, order, regulations or directions.

CHAPTER 2

FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual

9. Whereas every person in the Virgin Islands is entitled to the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual;

Whereas those fundamental rights and freedoms are enjoyed without distinction of any kind, such as sex, race, colour, language, religion, political or other opinion, national, ethnic or social origin, association with a national minority, property, family relations, economic status, disability, age, birth, sexual orientation, marital or other status, subject only to prescribed limitations;

Whereas it is recognised that those fundamental rights and freedoms apply, subject to respect for the rights and freedoms of others and for the public interest, to each and all of the following, namely—

- (a) life, equality, liberty, security of the person and the protection of the law;
- (b) freedom of conscience, expression, movement, assembly and association; and
- (c) protection for private and family life, the privacy of the home and other property and from deprivation of property save in the public interest and on payment of fair compensation;

Now, therefore, it is declared that the subsequent provisions of this Chapter shall have effect for the purpose of affording protection to the aforesaid rights and freedoms, and to related rights and freedoms, subject to such limitations of that protection as are contained in those provisions, being limitations designed to ensure that the enjoyment of the protected rights and freedoms by any individual does not prejudice the rights and freedoms of others or the public interest.

Interpretation of Chapter 2

10.—(1) In this Chapter, unless the contrary intention appears—

“contravention”, in relation to any requirement, includes a failure to comply with that requirement, and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly;

“court” means any court of law or tribunal having jurisdiction in the Virgin Islands, including Her Majesty in Council, but excepting, save in section 14, a court established by or under disciplinary law;

“disciplinary law” means a law regulating the discipline of any disciplined force;

“disciplined force” means—

- (a) a naval, military or air force;
- (b) any police force of the Virgin Islands;
- (c) the prison service of the Virgin Islands;

“member”, in relation to a disciplined force, includes any person who, under the law regulating the discipline of that force, is subject to that discipline;

“minor” means a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years or such other age as may be prescribed for this purpose by any law;

“period of public emergency” means any period during which—

- (a) Her Majesty is at war; or
- (b) there is in force in the Virgin Islands a proclamation of emergency under section 27(1) or under any law enacted by the Legislature to like effect.

(2) In relation to any person who is a member of a disciplined force raised under a law enacted by the Legislature, nothing in or done under the authority of the disciplinary law of that force shall be held to contravene the provisions of this Chapter other than sections 11, 13 and 14.

(3) In relation to any person who is a member of a disciplined force raised otherwise than as aforesaid and lawfully present in the Virgin Islands, nothing in or done under the authority of the disciplinary law of that force shall be held to contravene any of the provisions of this Chapter.

Protection of right to life

11.—(1) Every person has a right to life which shall be protected by law.

(2) No person shall be deprived intentionally of his or her life.

(3) A person shall not be regarded as having been deprived of his or her life in contravention of this section if he or she dies as a result of a lawful act of war or the use, to such extent and in such circumstances as are permitted by law, of force which is no more than absolutely necessary—

- (a) for the defence of any person from violence;
- (b) in order to effect a lawful arrest or to prevent the escape of a person lawfully detained; or
- (c) for the purpose of suppressing a riot, insurrection or mutiny.

Equality before the law

12.—(1) Everyone is equal before the law and has the right to equal protection and benefit of the law.

(2) Subject to such limitations as are prescribed by law, equality includes the full and equal enjoyment of all rights and freedoms.

Protection from inhuman treatment

13. No person shall be subjected to torture or to inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

Protection from slavery and forced labour

- 14.—(1) No person shall be subjected to slavery, servitude or forced labour.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), “forced labour” does not include—
- (a) any labour required in consequence of the sentence or order of a court;
  - (b) any labour required of a member of a disciplined force in pursuance of his or her duties as such or, in the case of a person who has conscientious objections to service in a naval, military or air force, any labour that such person is required by law to perform in place of such service;
  - (c) labour required of a person while he or she is lawfully detained that is reasonably necessary in the interests of hygiene; or
  - (d) any labour required for the purpose of dealing with any situation arising during a period of public emergency or at a time when any other emergency or calamity threatens the well-being of the community, to the extent that the requiring of such labour as may be prescribed in emergency regulations is reasonably justifiable for that purpose.

Protection of right to personal liberty

- 15.—(1) Every person has the right to liberty and security of the person.
- (2) No person shall be deprived of his or her personal liberty, save as may be authorised by law in any of the following cases—
- (a) in execution of the sentence or order of a court (whether of the Virgin Islands or otherwise) in respect of a criminal offence of which that person has been convicted or in respect of any other order of the court;
  - (b) for the purpose of bringing that person before a court in execution of the order of a court;
  - (c) upon reasonable suspicion of that person having committed or of being about to commit a criminal offence under any law;
  - (d) in the case of a minor, under the order of a court or in order to bring that person before a court or with the consent of his or her parent or legal guardian, for his or her education or welfare;
  - (e) for the purpose of preventing the spread of an infectious or contagious disease;
  - (f) in the case of a person who is, or reasonably suspected to be, of unsound mind, addicted to drugs or alcohol, or a vagrant, for the purpose of his or her care or treatment or the protection of the community;
  - (g) for the purpose of preventing the unlawful entry of that person into the Virgin Islands, or for the purpose of effecting the expulsion, extradition or other lawful removal of that person from the Virgin Islands, or for the purpose of restricting that person while he or she is being conveyed through the Virgin Islands in the course of his or her extradition or removal as a convicted prisoner from one country to another.
- (3) Any person who is arrested or detained shall be informed promptly, as prescribed by law, in a language that he or she understands, of the reason for his or her arrest or detention and of his or her right to remain silent.
- (4) Any person who is arrested or detained shall have the right, at any stage and at his or her own expense, to retain and instruct without delay a legal practitioner of his or her own choice, which shall include the right to hold private communication with such legal practitioner and, in the case of a minor, to communicate with his or her parent or legal guardian.
- (5) Any person who is arrested or detained—
- (a) for the purpose of bringing him or her before a court in execution of the order of a court; or
  - (b) upon reasonable suspicion of his or her having committed or being about to commit a criminal offence under any law, and who is not released, within the period prescribed by law, shall be brought promptly before a court.

(6) If any person arrested or detained as mentioned in subsection (5)(b) is not charged within the period or extended period prescribed by law, then, without prejudice to any further proceedings, he or she shall be released either unconditionally or on reasonable conditions, including such conditions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that he or she appears later for trial or for proceedings preliminary to trial.

(7) For the purpose of subsection (2)(a), a person charged with a criminal offence in respect of whom a special verdict has been returned that he or she was guilty of the act or omission charged but was insane when he or she did the act or made the omission shall be regarded as a person who has been convicted of a criminal offence, and the detention of that person in consequence of such a verdict shall be regarded as detention in execution of the order of a court.

Provisions to secure protection of law

16.—(1) If any person is charged with a criminal offence, then, unless the charge is withdrawn, the case shall be afforded a fair hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial court established by law.

(2) Every person who is charged with a criminal offence shall—

- (a) be presumed to be innocent until he or she is proved guilty according to law;
- (b) be informed promptly, as prescribed by law, in a language that he or she understands and in detail, of the nature of the offence charged;
- (c) be given adequate time and opportunity for the preparation of his or her defence;
- (d) be permitted to defend himself or herself before the court in person or, at his or her own expense, by a legal practitioner of his or her own choice or where he or she is unable to afford to retain a legal practitioner and the interests of justice so require, by a legal practitioner at the public expense provided through an established public legal aid scheme as prescribed by law;
- (e) be entitled to examine in person or by his or her legal practitioner the witnesses called by the prosecution before the court, and to obtain the attendance and carry out the examination of witnesses to testify on his or her behalf before the court on the same conditions as those applying to witnesses called by the prosecution;
- (f) be permitted to have without payment the assistance of an interpreter if he or she cannot understand or speak the language used at the trial of the charge; and
- (g) when charged on indictment in the High Court, have the right to trial by jury, and except with that person's own consent the trial shall not take place in his or her absence, unless he or she so behaves in the court as to render the continuance of the proceedings in his or her presence impracticable and the court has ordered him or her to be removed and the trial to proceed in his or her absence.

(3) No person shall be held to be guilty of a criminal offence on account of any act or omission that did not, at the time it took place, constitute such an offence, and no penalty shall be imposed for any criminal offence that is severer in degree or description than the maximum penalty that might have been imposed for that offence at the time when it was committed.

(4) No person who shows that he or she has been tried by a competent court for a criminal offence and either convicted or acquitted shall again be tried for that offence, save upon the order of a superior court in the course of appeal or review proceedings relating to the conviction or acquittal.

(5) No person shall be tried for a criminal offence if he or she shows that he or she has been granted a pardon for that offence, either free or subject to lawful conditions.

(6) No person who is tried for a criminal offence shall be compelled to give evidence at the trial.

(7) Every person who has been convicted by a court of a criminal offence shall have the right—

- (a) to receive free of charge a copy of his or her conviction record and any sentence imposed as a consequence thereof; and
- (b) to appeal to a superior court against the conviction or the sentence or both as may be prescribed by law.

(8) When a person has, by a final decision of a court, been convicted of a criminal offence and, subsequently, the conviction has been quashed, or that person has been pardoned, on the ground that a newly-disclosed fact shows that there has been a miscarriage of justice, he or she shall be compensated out of public funds for any punishment that he or she has suffered as a result of the conviction unless it is proved that the non-disclosure in time of that fact was wholly or partly his or her fault.

(9) For the determination of the existence or extent of his or her civil rights and obligations, every person shall have the right to a fair hearing within a reasonable time before an independent and impartial court or other authority established by law.

(10) Except with the agreement of all the parties thereto, all proceedings for the trial of any criminal charge or for the determination of the existence or extent of any person's civil rights or obligations before any court or other authority, including the announcement of the decision, shall be held in public.

(11) Nothing in subsection (10) shall prevent the court or other authority from excluding from the proceedings persons other than the parties thereto and their legal representatives to such extent as the court or other authority may—

- (a) by law be empowered to do and may consider necessary or expedient in circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice or in interlocutory proceedings or in the interests of the welfare of minors or the protection of the private lives of persons concerned in the proceedings; or
- (b) by law be empowered or required to do in the interests of defence, public safety, public order or public morality.

(12) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene—

- (a) subsection (2)(a), to the extent that the law in question imposes on any person charged with a criminal offence the burden of proving particular facts;
- (b) subsection (2)(e), to the extent that the law in question imposes reasonable conditions that must be satisfied if witnesses called to testify on behalf of an accused person are to be paid their expenses out of public funds; or
- (c) subsection (4), to the extent that the law in question authorises a court to try a member of a disciplined force for a criminal offence notwithstanding any trial and conviction or acquittal of that member under the disciplinary law of that force; but any court so trying and convicting such a member shall in imposing any sentence take into account any punishment imposed on that member under that disciplinary law.

17.—(1) All persons deprived of their liberty (in this section referred to as “prisoners”) have the right to be treated with humanity and with respect for the inherent dignity of the human person.

(2) Save where the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health or the administration of justice otherwise require, unconvicted prisoners shall be segregated from convicted prisoners.

(3) Every juvenile prisoner shall be segregated from adult prisoners and shall be entitled to have any criminal proceedings against him or her pursued with the greatest possible expedition.

Protection of freedom of movement

18.—(1) A person shall not be deprived of his or her freedom of movement, that is to say, the right to move freely throughout the Virgin Islands, the right to reside in any part of the Virgin Islands, the right of a person who belongs to the Virgin Islands or on whom residence status has been conferred by law to enter and leave the Virgin Islands, and immunity from expulsion from the Virgin Islands.

(2) Any restriction on a person's freedom of movement that is involved in his or her lawful detention shall not be held to contravene this section.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision—

- (a) for the imposition of restrictions on the movement or residence within the Virgin Islands or on the right to leave the Virgin Islands of persons generally or any class of persons that are reasonably justifiable in a democratic society in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health;
  - (b) for the imposition of restrictions, by order of a court, on the movement or residence within the Virgin Islands of any person or on any person's right to leave the Virgin Islands either in consequence of that person having been found guilty of a criminal offence or for the purpose of ensuring that he or she appears before a court later for trial for a criminal offence or for proceedings relating to his or her extradition or lawful removal from the Virgin Islands;
  - (c) for the imposition of restrictions on persons who do not belong to the Virgin Islands; but—
    - (i) no restriction may be imposed by virtue only of this paragraph on the right of any such person, so long as he or she is lawfully present in the Virgin Islands, to move freely throughout the Virgin Islands and to reside anywhere in the Virgin Islands;
    - (ii) no restriction may be imposed by virtue only of this paragraph on the right of any such person to leave the Virgin Islands; and
    - (iii) no such person shall be liable, by virtue only of this paragraph, to be expelled from the Virgin Islands unless the requirements specified in subsection (4) are satisfied;
  - (d) for the imposition of restrictions on the acquisition or use by any person of any land or other property in the Virgin Islands and the imposition of any fee in respect thereof;
  - (e) for the imposition of restrictions on the movement or residence within the Virgin Islands or on the right to leave the Virgin Islands of any public officer that are reasonably required for the proper performance of his or her functions;
  - (f) for the removal of a person from the Virgin Islands to be tried or punished in some other country for a criminal offence under the law of that other country or to undergo imprisonment in some other country in execution of the sentence of a court in respect of a criminal offence of which he or she has been convicted, or to relocate to some other country for the protection of the person with his or her consent; or
  - (g) for the imposition of restrictions on the right of any person to leave the Virgin Islands that are reasonably justifiable in a democratic society in order to secure the fulfilment of any obligations imposed on that person by law.
- (4) The requirements to be satisfied for the purposes of subsection (3)(c)(iii) are as follows—
- (a) the decision to expel that person is taken by an authority, in a manner and on grounds prescribed by law;
  - (b) that person has the right, save where the interests of defence, public safety or public order otherwise require, to submit reasons against his or her expulsion to a competent authority prescribed by law;
  - (c) that person has the right, save as aforesaid, to have his or her case reviewed by a competent authority prescribed by law; and
  - (d) that person has the right, save as aforesaid, to be represented for the purposes of paragraphs (b) and (c) before the competent authority or some other person or authority designated by the competent authority.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (3)(e), “law” in subsection (3) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government of the Virgin Islands.

Protection of private and family life and privacy of home and other property

19.—(1) Every person has the right to respect for his or her private and family life, his or her home and his or her correspondence, including business and professional communications.

(2) Except with his or her own consent, no person shall be subjected to the search of his or her person or property or the entry by others on his or her premises.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, town and country planning, the development of mineral resources, or the development or utilisation of any other property in such manner as to promote the public benefit;
- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons;
- (c) to enable an officer or agent of the Government of the Virgin Islands, a local government authority or a body corporate established by law for public purposes to enter on the premises of any person in order to inspect those premises or anything on them for the purpose of any tax, rate or due or in order to carry out work connected with any property that is lawfully on those premises and that belongs to the Government of the Virgin Islands or that authority or body corporate, as the case may be;
- (d) to authorise, for the purpose of enforcing the judgment or order of a court in any proceedings, the search of any person or property by order of a court or the entry upon any premises by such order; or
- (e) for the prevention or detection of offences against the criminal law or the customs law.

Protection of the right to marry and found a family

20.—(1) Every man and woman of a marriageable age has the right to marry and found a family in accordance with laws enacted by the Legislature.

(2) No person shall be compelled to marry without his or her free and full consent.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene subsection (1) to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of public order, public morality or public health;
- (b) for regulating, in the public interest, the procedures and modalities of marriage; or
- (c) for protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons.

(4) Spouses shall be entitled to equal rights and subject to equal responsibilities—

- (a) as between themselves, both during the marriage and, if the marriage is dissolved, at its dissolution; and
- (b) as regards their children, where there are any, both during the marriage and, if the marriage is dissolved, at and after its dissolution;

but this equality of rights and responsibilities shall be subject to such arrangements or measures as may be agreed or as may be ordered by a court, in accordance with prescribed law, in the interests of the spouses and their children.

Protection of freedom of conscience

21.—(1) No person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of conscience.

(2) Freedom of conscience includes freedom of thought and of religion, freedom to change one’s religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and either in public or in private, to manifest and propagate one's religion or belief in worship, teaching, practice and observance.

(3) No religious community or denomination shall be prevented from or hindered in providing religious instruction for persons of that community or denomination in the course of any education provided by it whether or not it is in receipt of any government subsidy, grant or other form of financial assistance designed to meet, in whole or in part, the cost of such education.

(4) No person shall be compelled to take any oath which is contrary to his or her religion or belief or to take any oath in a manner which is contrary to his or her religion or belief, although such person may be required to make an affirmation in lieu of taking an oath.

(5) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health; or
- (b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons, including the right of any person to observe and practise his or her religion or belief without the unsolicited intervention of adherents of any other religion or belief.

(6) References in this section to a religion shall be construed as including references to a religious denomination, and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly.

Protection of the right to education

22.—(1) This section is without prejudice to section 21.

(2) Every child of the appropriate age, as provided by law, shall be entitled to receive primary education which shall, subject to subsection (4), be free.

(3) Except with his or her own consent (or, in the case of a minor, the consent of his or her parent or legal guardian), no person attending a public educational institution shall be required to receive religious instruction or to take part in or attend any religious ceremony or observance.

(4) Every person who is the parent or legal guardian of a child shall be entitled to have his or her child (of whatever age) educated, at his or her own expense unless a law otherwise provides, in a private school (that is to say, a school other than one established by a public authority) and, in such a school, to ensure the religious and moral education of his or her child in accordance with his or her own convictions.

(5) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene subsection (4) to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society and to the extent that the law makes provision requiring private schools, as a condition of their being allowed to operate and on terms no more onerous than are applicable to schools established by a public authority, to satisfy—

- (a) such minimum educational standards (including standards relating to the qualifications of teaching staff and other staff) as may be prescribed by or under any law; and
- (b) such minimum standards imposed in the interests of public order, public morality or public health as may be so prescribed.

Protection of freedom of expression

23.—(1) No person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of expression.

(2) A person's freedom of expression includes freedom to hold opinions without interference, freedom to receive information and ideas without interference, freedom to disseminate information and ideas without interference (whether to the public generally or to any person or class of persons) and freedom from interference with his or her correspondence or other means of communication.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

- (a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health;

(b) for the purpose of protecting the reputations, rights and freedoms of other persons, or the private lives of persons concerned in legal proceedings or proceedings before statutory tribunals, preventing the disclosure of information received in confidence, maintaining the authority and independence of the courts, or regulating telecommunications, posts, broadcasting or public shows; or

(c) that imposes restrictions on public officers that are reasonably required for the proper performance of their functions.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3)(c), “law” in subsection (3) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government of the Virgin Islands.

Protection of freedom of assembly and association

24.—(1) No person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of his or her freedom of peaceful assembly and association.

(2) The freedom of peaceful assembly and association includes the right to assemble freely and associate with other persons and, in particular, to form or belong to political parties or trade unions or other lawful associations for the promotion and protection of his or her interests.

(3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that it is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society—

(a) in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality or public health;

(b) for the purpose of protecting the rights and freedoms of other persons; or

(c) for the imposition of restrictions on public officers that are reasonably required for the proper performance of their functions.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3)(c), “law” in subsection (3) includes directions in writing regarding the conduct of public officers generally or any class of public officer issued by the Government of the Virgin Islands.

Protection from deprivation of property

25.—(1) No property of any description shall be compulsorily taken possession of, and no interest in or right to or over property of any description shall be compulsorily acquired, except in accordance with law and where—

(a) the taking of possession or acquisition is necessary or expedient in the interests of defence, public safety, public order, public morality, public health, or the development or utilisation of any property in such manner as to promote the public benefit;

(b) there is reasonable justification for any hardship that may result to any person having an interest in or right to or over the property;

(c) provision is made by a law applicable to the taking of possession or acquisition—

(i) for the prompt payment of adequate compensation; and

(ii) securing to any person having an interest in or right to or over the property a right of access to the High Court, whether direct or on appeal from a tribunal or other authority, for the determination of his or her interest or right, the legality of the taking of possession or acquisition and the amount of compensation to which he or she is entitled, and for the purpose of obtaining prompt payment of that compensation; and

(d) the same rights of appeal as are accorded generally to parties to civil proceedings in the High Court sitting as a court of original jurisdiction are given to any party to proceedings in that Court relating to such a claim.

(2) No person who is entitled to compensation under this section shall be prevented from remitting, within a reasonable time after he or she has received any amount of that compensation, the whole of that amount to any country of his or her choice outside the Virgin Islands.

- (3) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene subsection (1)—
- (a) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession or acquisition of any property, interest or right—
    - (i) in satisfaction of any tax, rate, statutory contribution, levy or due;
    - (ii) by way of penalty for breach of the law or forfeiture in consequence of breach of the law;
    - (iii) as an incident of a lease, tenancy, mortgage, charge, bill of sale, pledge or contract;
    - (iv) by way of the taking of a sample for the purposes of any law;
    - (v) when the property consists of an animal, upon its being found trespassing or straying;
    - (vi) in the execution of a judgment or order of a court;
    - (vii) in circumstances where it is reasonably necessary so to do because the property is in a dangerous state or likely to be injurious to the health of human beings, animals or plants;
    - (viii) in consequence of any law with respect to the limitation of actions or prescription;
    - (ix) for so long as may be necessary for the purposes of any examination, investigation, trial or enquiry or, in the case of land, for the purpose of carrying out on it work of reclamation, erection of a utility service item for the public benefit, drainage, soil conservation or the conservation of other natural resources or work relating to agricultural development or improvement (being work relating to such development or improvement that the owner or occupier of the land has been required, and has, without reasonable excuse, refused or failed, to carry out), provided that the provision or, as the case may be, the thing done under its authority is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society;

- (b) to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the taking of possession of, or the acquisition of any interest in or right to or over, any of the following property, that is to say—
  - (i) enemy property;
  - (ii) property vested in the Crown as bona vacantia;
  - (iii) property of a deceased person or a person who is unable, by reason of legal incapacity, to administer it personally, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the persons entitled to the beneficial interest in it;
  - (iv) property of a person adjudged bankrupt or a body corporate in liquidation, for the purpose of its administration for the benefit of the creditors of that person or body and, subject thereto, for the benefit of other persons entitled to the beneficial interest in the property; or
  - (v) property subject to a trust, for the purpose of vesting the property in persons appointed as trustees under the instrument creating the trust or by a court or by order of a court for the purpose of giving effect to the trust.

(4) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision for the compulsory taking of possession of any property, or the compulsory acquisition of any interest in or right to or over property, where that property, interest or right is held by a body corporate established by law for public purposes in which no moneys have been invested other than moneys provided from public funds.

Protection from discrimination

26.—(1) In this section, the expressions—

- (a) “discriminatory” means affording different treatment to different persons on any ground such as sex, race, colour, language, religion, political or other opinion, national, ethnic or social origin, association with a national minority, property, family relations, economic status, disability, age, birth, sexual orientation, marital or other status; and

- (b) “public authority” means any statutory body or company or association in which the Government of the Virgin Islands has an interest and which performs a public function or duty.

(2) Subject to subsections (4), (5) and (7), no law shall make any provision that is discriminatory either of itself or in its effect.

(3) Subject to subsections (6), (7) and (8), no person shall be treated in a discriminatory manner by any person acting under any written law or performing the functions of any public office or any public authority.

(4) Subsection (2) shall not apply to any law so far as the law makes provision—

- (a) for the imposition of taxation or appropriation of revenue by the Government of the Virgin Islands or any local authority or body for local purposes;
- (b) with respect to the entry into or exclusion from, or the employment, engaging in any business or profession, movement or residence within, the Virgin Islands of persons who do not belong to the Virgin Islands, or for any other purpose with respect to such persons to the extent that the provision is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society;
- (c) for the application, in the case of persons of any such description as is mentioned in subsection (1)(a) (or of persons connected with such persons), of the law with respect to adoption, marriage, divorce, burial, devolution of property on death or other like matters that is the personal law applicable to persons of that description; or
- (d) whereby persons of any such description as is mentioned in subsection (1)(a) may be subjected to any disability or restriction or may be accorded any privilege or advantage that, having regard to its nature and to special circumstances pertaining to those persons or to persons of any other such description, is reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

(5) Nothing in any law shall be held to contravene subsection (2) to the extent that it makes provision with respect to qualifications (not being qualifications specifically relating to any such description as is mentioned in subsection (1)(a)) for service as a public officer or as a member of a disciplined force or for the service of a local government authority or a body corporate established by law for public purposes.

(6) Subsection (3) shall not apply to anything that is expressly or by necessary implication authorised to be done by any such provision of law as is referred to in subsection (4) or (5).

(7) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene this section to the extent that the law in question makes provision whereby persons of any such description as is mentioned in subsection (1)(a) may be subjected to any restriction on the rights and freedoms guaranteed by section 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 or 24 if that restriction would, in accordance with that section, be a restriction authorised for the purposes of that section on the ground that—

- (a) the provision by or under which it is imposed is reasonably required in the interests of a matter, or for a purpose, specified in that section; and
- (b) the provision and the restriction imposed under it are reasonably justifiable in a democratic society.

(8) Nothing in subsection (3) shall affect any discretion relating to the institution, conduct or discontinuance of civil or criminal proceedings in any court that is vested in any person by or under this Constitution or any other law.

Provisions for periods of public emergency

27.—(1) A period of public emergency may be declared by the Governor, by proclamation published in the manner provided in subsection (2), when—

- (a) the well-being or security of the Virgin Islands is threatened by war, invasion, general insurrection, public disorder, natural disaster or other public emergency; and

(b) the declaration is considered necessary by the Governor to maintain or restore peace and order.

(2) A proclamation shall be taken to be published if it is published in the Gazette or in a newspaper published in the Virgin Islands, or if it is posted in prominent public places or announced on the radio.

(3) Without prejudice to the power of the Legislature to make laws under this Constitution, during a period of public emergency the Governor may make such regulations for the Virgin Islands as appear to him or her to be necessary or expedient for securing the public safety, the defence of the Virgin Islands or the maintenance of public order, or for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community.

(4) Regulations made under subsection (3) shall—

- (a) have effect only prospectively;
- (b) have effect, subject to this section, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law in force in the Virgin Islands or any rule of law having effect therein;
- (c) unless previously revoked, expire at the end of the period of public emergency during which they were made unless provision for their continuance in force (without or without modification) is made by the Legislature.

(5) Nothing in any law or done under its authority shall be held to contravene any of the provisions of this Chapter other than sections 11, 13, 14(1), 16(2)(a), 16(3), 16(4), 16(5) and 16(6) to the extent that the law authorises the taking during any period of public emergency of measures that are reasonably justifiable for dealing with the situation that exists in the Virgin Islands during that period.

(6) Before exercising any function under subsection (1) or (3) or under any law enacted by the Legislature to like effect, the Governor shall consult the Cabinet or, if that is not practicable in the circumstances, the Premier; but if in the judgement of the Governor it is impracticable for him or her to consult either the Cabinet or the Premier, the function shall be exercised by the Governor acting in his or her discretion.

(7) Where the Governor has consulted the Cabinet or the Premier under subsection (6), the Governor shall, save in matters falling within the Governor's special responsibilities under section 60(1), act in accordance with any advice given to him or her by the Cabinet or the Premier, unless instructed otherwise by a Secretary of State.

(8) Where any proclamation of emergency has been made by the Governor under subsection (1), a copy of the proclamation shall as soon as practicable be laid before and debated in the House of Assembly, and if the House is not due to meet within five days of the making of that proclamation it shall meet within that period or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(9) A proclamation of emergency shall, unless it is sooner revoked by the Governor, cease to be in force at the expiration of a period of fourteen days beginning on the date on which it was made or such longer period as may be provided under subsection (10), but without prejudice to the making of another proclamation of emergency at or before the end of that period.

(10) If at any time while a proclamation of emergency is in force (including any time while it is in force by virtue of this subsection) a resolution is passed by the House of Assembly approving its continuance in force for a further period not exceeding three months, beginning on the date on which it would otherwise expire, the proclamation shall, if not sooner revoked, continue in force for that further period.

(11) Nothing contained in this section or any emergency regulations shall be construed to preclude the House of Assembly from—

- (a) meeting whenever practicable in accordance with its Standing Orders; and
- (b) directing that reports relating to the emergency, including the implementation of any emergency regulations, be prepared and presented in such manner and within such periods to the House of Assembly as the House may determine.

Protection of persons detained under emergency laws

28.—(1) When a person is detained by virtue of any law in relation to a period of public emergency the following provisions shall apply—

- (a) notification shall, not more than ten days after the commencement of his or her detention, be published in a public place (and thereafter as soon as possible in the Gazette) stating that he or she has been detained and giving particulars of the provision of law by virtue of which his or her detention is authorised;
- (b) he or she shall (if not sooner released), as soon as reasonably practicable and in any case not more than four days after the commencement of his or her detention, be informed, in a language that he or she understands, of the grounds on which he or she is detained and furnished with a written statement;
- (c) his or her case shall, not more than thirty days after the commencement of his or her detention and thereafter during the detention at intervals of not more than three months, be reviewed by an independent and impartial tribunal established by law and presided over by a person appointed by the Chief Justice;
- (d) he or she shall be afforded reasonable opportunity to consult a legal practitioner of his or her own choice and to hold private communication with such legal practitioner; and
- (e) he or she shall, at the hearing of his or her case by the tribunal appointed for its review, be permitted to appear in person or by a legal practitioner of his or her own choice.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1)(d) and (e), if the detained person is unable to retain a legal practitioner of his or her own choice, the tribunal may approve such person as it deems fit to make representations to it, provided that nothing in subsection (1)(d) or (e) shall be construed as entitling a detained person to legal representation at public expense.

(3) On any review by a tribunal of the case of a detained person under this section, the tribunal may make recommendations concerning the necessity or expediency of continuing his or her detention to the authority by which it was ordered but, unless it is otherwise provided by law, that authority shall not be obliged to act in accordance with any such recommendations.

Protection of the environment

29. Every person has the right to an environment that is generally not harmful to his or her health or well-being and to have the environment protected, for the benefit of present and future generations, through such laws as may be enacted by the Legislature including laws to—

- (a) prevent pollution and ecological degradation;
- (b) promote conservation; and
- (c) secure ecologically sustainable development and use of natural resources while promoting justifiable economic and social development.

Protection of children

30. The Legislature may, in addition to any rights and freedoms provided in this Chapter which afford protection to children, enact such laws as it considers fit to promote the well-being and welfare of children and to afford them protection from any harm, exploitation, neglect, abuse, maltreatment or degradation and to provide them with such facilities as would aid their growth and development.

Enforcement of protective provisions

31.—(1) If any person alleges that any of the foregoing provisions of this Chapter has been, is being or is likely to be contravened in relation to him or her (or, in the case of a person who is detained, if any other person alleges such a contravention in relation to the detained person), then, without prejudice to any other action with respect to the same matter that is lawfully available, that person (or that other person) may apply to the High Court for redress.

(2) The High Court shall have original jurisdiction—

- (a) to hear and determine any application made by any person under subsection (1); and
- (b) to determine any question arising in the case of any person that is referred to it under subsection (7), and may make such declarations and orders, issue such writs and give such directions as it may consider appropriate for the purpose of enforcing or securing the enforcement of any of the foregoing provisions of this Chapter to the protection of which the person concerned is entitled.

(3) The High Court may decline to exercise its powers under subsection (2) if it is satisfied that adequate means of redress for the contravention alleged are or have been available to the person concerned under any other law.

(4) Without prejudice to the generality of subsections (2) and (3), where, in exercise of its powers under those subsections, the High Court determines that one of the foregoing provisions of this Chapter has been contravened in relation to any person, it may order, or, as the case may be, declare that the court which made the reference to it under subsection (7) (“the referring court”) has the power to order (within such limits as the High Court may declare), the award to that person of such damages as the High Court or, as the case may be, the referring court considers just and appropriate.

(5) An award of damages may not be made under subsection (4) in respect of the enactment of any law by the Legislature or the making, under such a law, of any subordinate legislation, but such an award may be made in respect of anything done by any person acting by virtue of any such law or subordinate legislation or in performing the functions of any public office or any public authority.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (5), “public authority” has the meaning prescribed in section 26(1)(b).

(7) If in any proceedings in any court (other than the High Court, the Court of Appeal, Her Majesty in Council or a court-martial) any question arises as to the contravention of any of the foregoing provisions of this Chapter, the person presiding in that court may, and shall if any party to the proceedings so requests, refer the question to the High Court unless, in the opinion of the court in which the question arose, the raising of the question is merely frivolous or vexatious.

(8) Where any question is referred to the High Court under subsection (7), the High Court shall give its decision on the question and the referring court shall dispose of the case in accordance with that decision or, if that decision is the subject of an appeal to the Court of Appeal or to Her Majesty in Council, in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeal or, as the case may be, of Her Majesty in Council.

(9) An appeal shall lie as of right to the Court of Appeal from any final determination of any application or question by the High Court under this section, and an appeal shall lie as of right to Her Majesty in Council from the final determination by the Court of Appeal of the appeal in any such case.

(10) The Legislature may by law confer on the High Court such powers in addition to those conferred by this section as may appear to be necessary or desirable for the purpose of enabling that Court more effectively to exercise the jurisdiction conferred on it by this section.

(11) The Legislature may by law make, or provide for the making of, provision with respect to the practice and procedure—

- (a) of the High Court in relation to the jurisdiction and powers conferred on it by or under this section;
- (b) of the High Court or the Court of Appeal in relation to appeals under this section from determinations of the High Court or the Court of Appeal; and
- (c) of other courts in relation to references to the High Court under subsection (7), including provision with respect to the time within which any application, reference or appeal shall or may be made or brought.

Proceedings which might affect freedom of conscience

32. If a court's determination of any question arising under this Chapter might affect the exercise by a religious organisation (itself or its members collectively) or by an individual of the right to freedom of conscience as defined and protected by section 21, it must have particular regard to the importance of that right.

Proceedings which might affect freedom of expression

33.—(1) This section applies if a court is considering whether to grant any relief which, if granted, might affect the exercise of the right to freedom of expression as defined and protected by section 23.

(2) No such relief shall be granted so as to restrain publication before trial, unless the court considers and makes an order that the interests of justice will not be served by such publication.

(3) The court shall have particular regard to the importance of the right to freedom of expression and, where the proceedings relate to material which the respondent claims, or which appears to the court, to be journalistic, literary or artistic material (or to conduct connected with such material), to—

- (a) the extent to which—
  - (i) the material has become, or is about to become, available to the public; or
  - (ii) it is, or would be, in the public interest for the material to be published; and
- (b) any relevant privacy code.

Establishment of a Human Rights Commission

34.—(1) There may be established by law a human rights commission (in this section referred to as "the commission").

(2) The composition, powers and duties of the commission (which shall not derogate from the provisions of this Chapter) shall be such as may be prescribed by the law establishing it and may include the following—

- (a) the receipt and investigation of complaints of breaches or infringements of any right or freedom referred to in this Chapter;
- (b) the provision of a forum for dealing with, and participation of the commission in promoting conciliation with respect to, complaints and disputes concerning any matter relating to this Chapter;
- (c) issuing guidance on procedures for dealing with any complaints of breaches or infringements of rights and freedoms referred to in this Chapter;
- (d) imparting knowledge to the public with respect to the rights and freedoms referred to in this Chapter or in relation to any international instrument or activity relating to human rights; and
- (e) preparing and submitting periodically reports concerning its activities to the Legislature.

(3) The power of the commission to deal with any matter under this Chapter shall be exercised only with the agreement or concurrence of the persons concerned therewith.

(4) Nothing contained in or done pursuant to any law establishing the commission shall—

- (a) oblige a person to refer any complaint of a breach or infringement of any right or freedom referred to in this Chapter to the commission; or
- (b) prevent a person from seeking redress directly from the court in relation to any breach or infringement of a right or freedom referred to in this Chapter, and the fact that such person had previously sought the assistance of the commission with respect to such breach or infringement shall not be a bar.

THE GOVERNOR

Governor

35.—(1) There shall be a Governor of the Virgin Islands who shall be appointed by Her Majesty by Commission under Her Sign Manual and Signet and shall hold office during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) The Governor shall have such powers and duties as are conferred or imposed on him or her by this Constitution or any other law and such other powers as Her Majesty may from time to time be pleased to assign to him or her.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution and of any other law by which powers or duties are conferred on the Governor, the Governor shall do and execute all things that belong to his or her office (including the exercise of any powers with respect to which the Governor is empowered by this Constitution to act in his or her discretion) according to such instructions, if any, as Her Majesty may from time to time see fit to give him or her; but the question whether or not the Governor has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(4) A person appointed to the office of Governor shall, before entering upon the functions of that office, make oaths or affirmations of allegiance and for the due execution of that office in the forms set out in Schedule 1.

Deputy Governor

36.—(1) There shall be a Deputy Governor who shall be such person, being a Virgin Islander as defined in section 65(2), as Her Majesty may designate as such by instructions given through a Secretary of State and who shall hold office during Her Majesty's pleasure.

(2) If the office of Deputy Governor is vacant or if the person holding that office is—

- (a) acting in the office of Governor under section 37;
- (b) absent from the Virgin Islands; or
- (c) for any other reason unable to perform the functions of the office of Deputy Governor, such person as Her Majesty may designate by instructions given through a Secretary of State shall act in the office of Deputy Governor during Her Majesty's pleasure.

Acting Governor

37.—(1) During any period when the office of Governor is vacant or the Governor is absent from the Virgin Islands or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of his or her office—

- (a) the Deputy Governor; or
- (b) if the office of Deputy Governor is vacant, or the Deputy Governor is absent from the Virgin Islands or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of the office of Governor, such person as Her Majesty may designate by instructions given through a Secretary of State (in this section referred to as "the person designated"), shall, during Her Majesty's pleasure, act in the office of Governor and shall perform the functions of that office accordingly.

(2) Before assuming the functions of the office of Governor, the Deputy Governor or the person designated shall make the oaths or affirmations directed by section 35(4) to be made by the Governor.

(3) The Deputy Governor shall not continue to act in the office of Governor after the Governor has notified him or her that he or she is about to assume or resume the functions of that office, and the person designated shall not continue to act in that office after the Governor or Deputy Governor has so notified him or her.

(4) The Governor or the Deputy Governor shall not, for the purposes of this section or section 36, be regarded as absent from the Virgin Islands or as unable to perform the functions of his or her office—

- (a) by reason that he or she is in passage from one part of the Virgin Islands to another;
- (b) at any time when there is a subsisting appointment of a deputy under section 39; or
- (c) by reason of absence from the Virgin Islands for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours for the purpose of visiting the United States Virgin Islands.

(5) In this section “the Governor” means the person holding the office of Governor and “the Deputy Governor” means the means the person holding the office of Deputy Governor.

Functions of Deputy Governor

38.—(1) Subject to subsection (2), the Deputy Governor shall—

- (a) assist the Governor in the exercise of his or her functions relating to matters for which the Governor is responsible under section 60;
- (b) assist the Governor in the exercise of such of his or her other functions, being functions in the exercise of which the Governor is not obliged to act in accordance with the advice of any other person or authority, as the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may direct; and
- (c) perform such other functions, not of a ministerial nature, as (subject to this Constitution and any other law) may be assigned to the Deputy Governor, at the request of the Premier, by the Governor acting in his or her discretion.

(2) The Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may, by writing under his or her hand, authorise the Deputy Governor to exercise for and on behalf of the Governor any or all of the functions of the office of Governor, subject to such exceptions and conditions as the Governor may from time to time so specify.

(3) The power and authority of the Governor shall not be affected by any authority of the Deputy Governor under subsection (2) and, subject to the provisions of this Constitution and of any other law by which any function which the Deputy Governor is authorised to exercise is conferred, the Deputy Governor shall comply with such instructions relating to the exercise of that function as the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may from time to time address to the Deputy Governor; but the question whether or not the Deputy Governor has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(4) Any authority given under subsection (2) may at any time be varied or revoked by Her Majesty by instructions given through a Secretary of State or by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, by writing under his or her hand.

(5) In subsection (2) the reference to any functions of the office of Governor does not include a reference to—

- (a) the functions conferred on the Governor by this section; or
- (b) any functions conferred on the Governor by any Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom or by any Order of Her Majesty in Council or other instrument made under any such Act other than this Order.

Deputy to Governor

39.—(1) Whenever the Governor—

- (a) has occasion to be absent from the seat of Government but not from the Virgin Islands;
- (b) has occasion to be absent from the Virgin Islands for a period which he or she has reason to believe will be of short duration; or

- (c) is suffering from any illness which he or she has reason to believe will be of short duration, the Governor may, acting in his or her discretion, by instrument under the public seal, appoint the Deputy Governor, or if the Deputy Governor is not available any other person in the Virgin Islands who is a Virgin Islander as defined in section 65(2), to be his or her deputy during such absence or illness and in that capacity to perform on his or her behalf such of the functions of the office of Governor as may be specified in that instrument.

(2) The power and authority of the Governor shall not be affected by the appointment of a deputy under this section, and a deputy shall comply with such instructions as the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may from time to time address to the deputy; but the question whether or not a deputy has in any matter complied with any such instructions shall not be enquired into in any court.

(3) A person appointed as a deputy under this section shall hold that appointment for such period as may be specified in the instrument by which he or she is appointed, and the appointment may be revoked at any time by Her Majesty by instructions given through a Secretary of State or by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion.

Exercise of Governor's functions

40.—(1) Subject to this section, the Governor shall consult with the Cabinet in the exercise of all functions conferred on him or her by this Constitution or any other law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, except—

- (a) when acting under instructions given to him or her by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State;
- (b) when exercising any function conferred on him or her by this Constitution or any such other law which is expressed to be exercisable by the Governor in his or her discretion, or in accordance with the advice of, or after consultation with, any person or authority other than the Cabinet; or
- (c) in any case which, in his or her opinion, involves a matter for which he or she is responsible under section 60;

but in exercising his or her powers in relation to matters to which paragraph (c) applies, the Governor shall consult with the Premier.

(2) The Governor shall not be obliged to consult with the Cabinet or the Premier if, in his or her judgement—

- (a) Her Majesty's service would sustain material prejudice;
- (b) the matter is not materially significant so as to require consultation; or
- (c) the urgency of the matter requires the Governor to act before he or she can consult the Cabinet or the Premier, but in any case falling within paragraph (c) the Governor shall, as soon as practicable, communicate to the Cabinet the measures which he or she has adopted and the reasons for them.

(3) In any case in which the Governor is required under this section to consult the Cabinet, the Governor shall act in accordance with the advice of the Cabinet unless in his or her opinion such advice would affect a matter for which he or she is responsible under section 60.

(4) Where the Governor is directed by this Constitution to exercise any function after consultation with any person or authority other than the Cabinet, he or she shall not be obliged to exercise that function in accordance with the advice of that person or authority.

(5) Whenever the Governor, in pursuance of subsection (3), acts contrary to the advice given by the Cabinet, he or she shall, as soon as practicable, report his or her action and the reasons for it to a Secretary of State.

(6) Where the Governor is directed by this Constitution to exercise any function in accordance with the advice of, or after consultation with, any person or authority, the question whether he or she has so exercised that function shall not be enquired into in any court.

Crown lands

41.—(1) Subject to any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Governor or the Minister when duly authorised by the Governor by writing under his or her hand, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may, under the public seal, make grants and dispositions of lands or other immovable property in the Virgin Islands or interests in such property that are vested in Her Majesty for the purposes of the Government of the Virgin Islands; but any such grant or disposition shall require the prior approval of the Cabinet.

(2) The Minister shall have responsibility for administering all lands and other property referred to in subsection (1).

(3) In this section "the Minister" means the Minister charged with responsibility for Crown lands.

Powers to constitute offices and make appointments, etc

42. Subject to Chapter 7 and any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, the Governor, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf, may—

- (a) constitute offices for the Virgin Islands and make appointments to them, to be held during Her Majesty's pleasure; and
- (b) dismiss any person so appointed or take such disciplinary action in relation to him or her as the Governor may think fit.

Powers of pardon, etc

43.—(1) The Governor may, in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf—

- (a) grant to any person concerned in or convicted of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands a pardon, either free or subject to lawful conditions;
- (b) grant to any person a respite, either indefinite or for a specified period, from the execution of any sentence passed on that person for such an offence;
- (c) substitute a less severe form of punishment for that imposed by any sentence for such an offence; or
- (d) remit the whole or any part of any sentence passed for such an offence or any penalty or forfeiture otherwise due to Her Majesty on account of such an offence.

(2) In the exercise of the powers conferred on the Governor by this section the Governor shall consult with the Committee established by section 44, but the Governor shall decide whether to exercise any of those powers in any case in his or her own deliberate judgement, whether the members of the Committee concur in his or her decision or otherwise.

Advisory Committee on the Prerogative of Mercy

44.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands an Advisory Committee on the Prerogative of Mercy (in this section and section 43 referred to as "the Committee"), which shall consist of the Attorney General, the Director of Health Services and four members appointed by the Governor after consultation with the Premier.

(2) The Committee shall not be summoned except by the authority of the Governor, acting in his or her discretion; and the Governor shall preside at all meetings of the Committee.

(3) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Committee unless there are at least three members present, of whom one shall be the Attorney General.

(4) The office as a member of the Committee of any member appointed by the Governor under subsection (1) shall become vacant if the Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier, revokes that appointment.

(5) Subject to subsection (3), the Committee shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in its membership, and the validity of the transaction of any business by the Committee shall not be affected by reason only of the fact that some person who was not entitled to do so took part in the proceedings.

(6) Subject to this section the Committee may regulate its own proceedings.

The public seal

45. The Governor shall keep and use the public seal for sealing all things that require to be sealed.

CHAPTER 4 THE EXECUTIVE

Executive authority of the Virgin Islands

46.—(1) The executive authority of the Virgin Islands shall be vested in Her Majesty.

(2) Subject to this Constitution, the executive authority of the Virgin Islands may be exercised on behalf of Her Majesty by the Governor, either directly or through officers subordinate to him or her.

(3) Nothing in subsection (2) shall operate so as to prejudice any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands whereby functions are, or may be, conferred on persons or authorities other than the Governor.

Cabinet

47.—(1) There shall be a Cabinet in and for the Virgin Islands which shall consist of the Premier, four other Ministers and one ex officio member, namely the Attorney General.

(2) The number of Ministers referred to in subsection (1) may be increased by a law made in pursuance of section 63(2) which increases the number of elected members of the House of Assembly; but in no circumstances may the number of Ministers exceed two-fifths of the total number of elected members of the House.

(3) The Cabinet shall have responsibility for the formulation of policy, including directing the implementation of such policy, insofar as it relates to every aspect of government, except those matters for which the Governor has special responsibility under section 60, and the Cabinet shall be collectively responsible to the House of Assembly for such policies and their implementation.

(4) Subject to this Constitution, the Cabinet shall determine its own rules of procedure for the conduct of its business.

Meetings of the Cabinet

48. The Cabinet shall meet regularly at such times as its rules of procedure may prescribe, and shall also meet whenever the Premier, or the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, where practicable after consultation, so requests; and upon receipt of such request the Cabinet Secretary shall summon the Cabinet.

Proceedings in the Cabinet

49.—(1) The Governor shall, so far as practicable, attend and preside at meetings of the Cabinet.

(2) In the absence of the Governor there shall preside at any meeting of the Cabinet the Premier, or in his or her absence, the Deputy Premier.

(3) Subject to section 63(4), no business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Cabinet if there are less than three Ministers present, one of whom shall be the Premier or the Minister performing the functions of the Premier under section 55.

(4) The Cabinet Secretary, the Governor and the Premier shall form a Cabinet Steering Group for the purpose of setting the agenda of the Cabinet; the Governor and the Premier shall each be entitled to inscribe items on the agenda and the Cabinet Secretary shall comply accordingly.

(5) In the absence of any member of the Cabinet Steering Group the person performing the functions of that member shall act in his or her place.

(6) The Attorney General shall not be entitled to vote in the Cabinet.

(7) Subject to subsection (3), the Cabinet shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in its membership (including any vacancy not filled when the Cabinet is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time), and the validity of the transaction of business in the Cabinet shall not be affected by reason only of the fact that some person who was not entitled to do so took part in the proceedings.

Summoning of persons to the Cabinet

50.—(1) Whenever any business before the Cabinet renders the presence of a public officer desirable, the Premier may summon such public officer to a meeting of the Cabinet; and the Premier shall summon such an officer if the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, so requests.

(2) Where a matter before the Cabinet concerns or relates to a statutory body and the presence of an officer of the statutory body is considered desirable, the Premier may summon that officer to a meeting of the Cabinet.

Cabinet Secretary

51.—(1) There shall be—

- (a) a Cabinet Office, which shall be an office in the Government of the Virgin Islands; and
- (b) a Cabinet Secretary, whose office shall be a public office, who shall be a person who is a Virgin Islander as defined in section 65(2) and who shall be appointed in accordance with section 92(5), (6) and (7).

(2) The Cabinet Secretary shall have charge of the Cabinet Office, attend meetings of the Cabinet and be responsible for keeping the minutes of the meetings of the Cabinet and for conveying the conclusions reached at the meetings to the appropriate person or authority.

(3) The Cabinet Secretary shall—

- (a) provide such policy advice and technical support to the Cabinet as the Cabinet may require;
- (b) transmit copies of all papers submitted for consideration by the Cabinet to its members;
- (c) inform all its members of the summoning of any meeting of the Cabinet and of the matters to be discussed at any such meeting;
- (d) furnish all its members, as soon as practicable after each meeting of the Cabinet, with a copy of the confirmed minutes of the previous meeting showing the matters discussed and the conclusions reached at the meeting;
- (e) promote and facilitate adherence to the rules of procedure of the Cabinet;
- (f) monitor the implementation of Cabinet decisions and report periodically to the Cabinet in respect thereof; and
- (g) perform such other functions as are incidental to the functions of the Cabinet Secretary.

(4) The functions conferred on the Cabinet Secretary by subsection (3)(b), (c) and (d) may be exercised by the Cabinet Secretary in person or by officers subordinate to him or her acting under and in accordance with his or her general or special instructions.

Appointment of Ministers

52.—(1) The Premier shall be appointed by the Governor as follows—

- (a) if a political party gains a majority of the seats of elected members of the House of Assembly the Governor shall appoint as Premier the elected member of the House recommended by a majority of the elected members of the House who are members of that party;
- (b) if no political party gains such a majority or if no recommendation is made under paragraph (a), the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, shall appoint as Premier the elected member of the House of Assembly who, in his or her judgement, is best able to command the support of a majority of the elected members of the House.

(2) The other Ministers shall be appointed by the Governor in accordance with the advice of the Premier from among the elected members of the House of Assembly.

(3) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, shall appoint one of the Ministers as Deputy Premier.

(4) The appointment of a Deputy Premier under subsection (3) may be revoked by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, but such revocation shall not in itself affect the Minister's tenure of office as a Minister.

(5) If occasion arises for making an appointment of any Minister between a dissolution of the House of Assembly and the polling in the next following general election, a person who was an elected member of the House immediately before the dissolution may be appointed as if he or she were still a member of the House.

(6) Appointments made under this section shall be made by instrument under the public seal.

Tenure of office of Ministers

53.—(1) If a motion on the Order Paper that the House of Assembly should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands receives in the House the affirmative votes of a majority of all the elected members of the House, the Governor shall, by instrument under the public seal, revoke the appointment of the Premier; but before so revoking the Premier's appointment the Governor shall consult with the Premier and, if the Premier so requests, the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may dissolve the House of Assembly instead of revoking the appointment.

(2) The Premier shall vacate his or her office if, after the polling in a general election and before the House of Assembly first meets thereafter, the Governor, acting in accordance with section 52(1), informs the Premier that he or she is about to appoint another person as the Premier.

(3) Any Minister shall vacate his or her office if—

- (a) he or she ceases to be a member of the House of Assembly for any reason other than a dissolution;
- (b) he or she is not an elected member of the House of Assembly when it first meets after a general election;
- (c) he or she is required under section 67(4) to cease to perform his or her functions as a member of the House of Assembly; or
- (d) he or she resigns it by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Premier or, in the case of the Premier, he or she resigns it by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Governor.

(4) A Minister other than the Premier shall also vacate his or her office if—

- (a) the Premier vacates his or her office; or
- (b) his or her appointment is revoked by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, by instrument under the public seal.

Absence of Ministers from the Virgin Islands

54. The Premier shall give written notice to the Governor before being absent from the Virgin Islands, and any other Minister shall obtain the written permission of the Premier before being absent from the Virgin Islands; but where in either case the Premier or Minister is to be absent from the Virgin Islands for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours, prior verbal notification shall be given to the Governor or the Premier, as the case may be.

Performance of functions of Premier in certain events

55.—(1) If the Premier is expected to be absent from the Virgin Islands for more than forty-eight hours, the Governor shall authorise the Deputy Premier to perform the functions of the office of Premier; and the Governor shall revoke this authority on the return to the Virgin Islands of the Premier.

(2) If both the Premier and the Deputy Premier are expected to be absent from the Virgin Islands for more than forty-eight hours, the Governor shall authorise another Minister designated by the Premier to perform the functions of the office of Premier; and the Governor shall revoke this authority on the return to the Virgin Islands of either the Premier or the Deputy Premier.

(3) If the Cabinet advises the Governor that the Premier is unable to perform his or her functions by reason of illness, the Governor shall authorise the Deputy Premier to perform the functions of the office of Premier; and the Governor shall revoke this authority if the Cabinet advises him or her that the Premier is again able to perform his or her functions.

(4) If the Cabinet advises the Governor that both the Premier and the Deputy Premier are unable to perform their functions by reason of absence or illness, the Governor shall authorise another Minister designated by the Premier (or, if the Premier makes no such designation, appointed by the Governor on the advice of the Cabinet, and where the Cabinet fails to give such advice within twenty-four hours of the Governor seeking such advice, selected by the Governor in his or her discretion) to perform the functions of the office of Premier; and the Governor shall revoke this authority if the Cabinet advises him or her that the Premier or the Deputy Premier is again able to perform his or her functions.

(5) Any authority given or revoked by the Governor under this section shall be in writing.

Assignment of responsibilities to Ministers

56.—(1) The Governor shall, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, by directions in writing, assign to any Minister responsibility for the conduct (subject to this Constitution and any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including responsibility for the administration of any department of government.

(2) Without prejudice to section 60(2), (3) and (4), a Minister shall not be assigned responsibility under this section for any of the matters mentioned in section 60(1).

(3) The Governor may not confer on any Minister Authority to exercise any function that is conferred or imposed by this Constitution or any other law on the Governor or any person or authority other than a Minister; but nothing in this subsection affects the power of the Legislature under section 71.

(4) For the avoidance of doubt, subject only to subsections (2) and (3), any matter may be assigned to a Minister under subsection (1).

(5) Where a Minister has been assigned responsibility under this section for the administration of any department of government, the Minister shall (subject to this Constitution and any other law) exercise direction and control over that department, including directing the implementation of government policy as it relates to that department, and, subject to such direction and control, the department shall, unless otherwise agreed between the Governor and the Premier, be under the supervision of a permanent secretary who shall be a public officer; but two or more departments of government may be placed under the supervision of one permanent secretary.

(6) A Minister assigned responsibility for any matter under this section shall exercise his or her responsibility in accordance with the policies of the Government of the Virgin Islands as determined by the Cabinet and in accordance with the collective responsibility of the members of the Cabinet for the policies and decisions of the Government.

(7) The Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may at any time request from a Minister any official papers or seek any official information or advice available to that Minister with respect to a matter for which that Minister is responsible under this section, and shall inform the Premier of any such request.

National Security Council

57.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a National Security Council which shall consist of—

- (a) the Governor, as Chairman;
- (b) the Premier;
- (c) one other Minister appointed in writing by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier;
- (d) the Attorney General, ex officio; and
- (e) the Commissioner of Police, ex officio.

(2) A Minister appointed under subsection (1)(c) shall vacate his or her seat on the National Security Council if—

- (a) his or her office becomes vacant under section 53; or
- (b) the Governor so directs in writing, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier.

(3) The National Security Council shall advise the Governor on matters relating to internal security and the Governor shall be obliged to act in accordance with the advice of the Council, unless he or she considers that giving effect to the advice would adversely affect Her Majesty's interest (whether in respect of the United Kingdom or the Virgin Islands); and where the Governor has acted otherwise than in accordance with the advice of the Council, he or she shall report to the Council at its next meeting.

(4) The Commissioner of Police shall—

- (a) provide regular briefings to the National Security Council on matters of internal security, including the Police Force;
- (b) have responsibility for the day to day operation of the Police Force and shall report regularly on such operation to the Governor; and
- (c) inform the Premier of any significant security developments in the Virgin Islands, including the occurrence of any significant criminal activity.

(5) The National Security Council may invite any person or summon any public officer to attend and participate in, or provide briefings to, the Council on the areas of their work bearing on internal security.

(6) The Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may summon a meeting of the National Security Council whenever he or she considers it desirable to do so, and the Governor shall summon such a meeting whenever the Premier so requests.

(7) Subject to this section, the National Security Council may regulate its own procedure.

(8) The Cabinet Secretary shall be the Secretary to the National Security Council.

Attorney General

58.—(1) There shall be an Attorney General of the Virgin Islands, whose office shall be a public office and who shall be appointed in accordance with section 95.

(2) The Attorney General shall be the principal legal adviser to the Government of the Virgin Islands.

Director of Public Prosecutions

59.—(1) There shall be a Director of Public Prosecutions, whose office shall be a public office and who shall be appointed in accordance with section 95.

(2) The Director of Public Prosecutions shall have power, in any case in which he or she considers it desirable to do so—

- (a) to institute and undertake criminal proceedings against any person before any civil court in respect of any offence against any law in force in the Virgin Islands;
- (b) to take over and continue any such criminal proceedings that have been instituted by any other person or authority; and
- (c) to discontinue at any stage before judgment is delivered any such criminal proceedings instituted or undertaken by himself or herself or any other person or authority.

(3) The powers of the Director of Public Prosecutions under subsection (2) may be exercised by him or her in person or by officers subordinate to him or her acting under and in accordance with his or her general or special instructions.

(4) The powers conferred on the Director of Public Prosecutions by subsection (2)(b) and (c) shall be vested in him or her to the exclusion of any other person or authority; but where any other person or authority has instituted criminal proceedings, nothing in this subsection shall prevent the withdrawal of those proceedings by or at the instance of that person or authority at any stage before the person against whom the proceedings have been instituted has been charged before the court.

(5) For the purposes of this section, any appeal from any determination in any criminal proceedings before any court, or any case stated or question of law reserved for the purpose of any such proceedings, to any other court or to Her Majesty in Council shall be deemed to be part of those proceedings.

(6) In the exercise of the powers conferred on him or her by this section and section 88(2) the Director of Public Prosecutions shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Governor's special responsibilities

60.—(1) The Governor shall be responsible for the conduct (subject to this Constitution and any other law) of any business of the Government of the Virgin Islands, including the administration of any department of government, with respect to the following matters—

- (a) external affairs, subject to subsection (4);
- (b) defence, including the armed forces;
- (c) internal security, including the Police Force, without prejudice to section 57;
- (d) the terms and conditions of service of persons holding or acting in public offices, without prejudice to section 92; and
- (e) the administration of the courts;

and the Governor shall keep the Premier fully informed concerning the general conduct of these matters, and the Premier may request information in respect of any particular matter.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier, may assign to any member of the Cabinet responsibility for the conduct, on behalf of the Governor, of any business in the House of Assembly with respect to any of the matters mentioned in subsection (1).

(3) The Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may, by directions in writing, delegate, with the prior approval of a Secretary of State, to the Premier or any other Minister designated by the Governor on the advice of the Premier such responsibility for matters of external affairs or internal security as the Governor may think fit upon such terms and conditions as he or she may impose.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (3), the Governor shall, by directions in writing, delegate to the Premier or to any other Minister designated by the Governor on the advice of the Premier, on the terms and conditions set out in subsection (5), responsibility for the conduct of external affairs as they relate to any matters that fall under the portfolios of Ministers, including—

- (a) the Caribbean Community, the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States, the Association of Caribbean States, the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean, or any other Caribbean regional organisation or institution;
- (b) other Caribbean regional affairs relating specifically to issues that are of interest to or affect the Virgin Islands;
- (c) the relationship between the Virgin Islands and the United States Virgin Islands in matters of mutual interest;
- (d) tourism and tourism-related matters;
- (e) taxation and the regulation of finance and financial services; and
- (f) European Union matters directly affecting the interests of the Virgin Islands.

(5) The terms and conditions referred to in subsection (4) are the following—

- (a) separate authority shall be required from or on behalf of a Secretary of State for the commencement of formal negotiation and the conclusion of any treaty or other international agreement by the Government of the Virgin Islands, provided that general authority may be granted in specified matters to commence the formal negotiation of, and where it is deemed appropriate, to conclude any such treaty or international agreement;
- (b) no political declaration, understanding or arrangement in the field of foreign policy shall be signed or supported in the name of the Government of the Virgin Islands without the prior approval of a Secretary of State;
- (c) a formal invitation to a member of government or Head of State of another country to visit the Virgin Islands shall not be issued without prior consultation with the Governor;
- (d) the costs of any activities in pursuance of subsection (4) shall be borne by the Government of the Virgin Islands;
- (e) the Premier or other Minister shall keep the Governor fully informed of any activities in pursuance of subsection (4); and
- (f) the Premier or other Minister shall provide to the Governor on request all papers and information, including the text of any instrument under negotiation, available to the Premier or other Minister with respect to any activities in pursuance of subsection (4).

(6) Any matter that is delegated to the Premier or to any other Minister under subsection (4) shall be performed by the Premier or such other Minister in a manner that is in the best interests of the Virgin Islands and not prejudicial to the interests of Her Majesty and, for this purpose, the Governor and the Premier shall from time to time hold conference to ensure the proper safeguard of those interests.

(7) In the event of any disagreement regarding the exercise of any delegated authority under subsection (4), the matter shall be referred to a Secretary of State whose decision on the matter shall be final and whose directions shall be complied with.

(8) Where the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, determines that the exercise of any function conferred on any other person or authority (other than the House of Assembly) would involve or affect any matter mentioned in subsection (1), the Governor may, acting after consultation with the Premier, give directions as to the exercise of that function, and the person or authority concerned shall exercise the function in accordance with those directions.

Oaths and affirmations

61. Every member of the Cabinet and the Cabinet Secretary, and every member of the National Security Council (except the Governor), shall, before entering upon the duties of his or her office, make before the Governor an oath or affirmation of allegiance and an oath or affirmation for the due execution of that office in the forms set out in Schedule 1.

THE LEGISLATURE
Composition

Composition of Legislature

62. There shall be a Legislature of the Virgin Islands which shall consist of Her Majesty and a House of Assembly.

House of Assembly

63.—(1) The House of Assembly shall consist of a Speaker elected as provided in section 69, thirteen elected members, and one non-voting ex officio member, namely the Attorney General.

(2) A law made under section 71 may alter the number of elected members of the House of Assembly, provided that the number of elected members shall be not less than thirteen; but no such law shall come into force—

- (a) unless, where the law provides for an alteration in the number of electoral districts referred to in section 64(2)(b), a Bill providing for the altered number of electoral districts and their boundaries to take account of the altered number of elected members has been passed following a report by an electoral district boundaries commission; and
- (b) until the dissolution of the House of Assembly next following the enactment of such law.

(3) For its enactment a Bill for a law made in pursuance of subsection (2) shall require the support of two-thirds of the elected members of the House of Assembly.

(4) A law made in pursuance of subsection (2) shall provide for the quorum in the House of Assembly and the Cabinet.

Elected members

64.—(1) The elected members of the House of Assembly shall be persons qualified for election in accordance with this Constitution and, subject to this Constitution, shall be elected in the manner provided by or under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

(2) Subject to section 63(2), for the purposes of elections the Virgin Islands—

- (a) shall be a single electoral district and shall return four members to the House of Assembly; and
- (b) shall also be divided into nine electoral districts in such manner as may be provided by or under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands, and each such district shall return one member to the House of Assembly.

Qualifications for elected membership

65.—(1) Subject to this section and section 66, a person shall be qualified to be elected as a member of the House of Assembly if, and shall not be qualified to be so elected unless, he or she—

- (a) was so qualified immediately before the commencement of this Constitution; or
- (b) is a person who—
  - (i) is a Virgin Islander of the age of twenty-one years or upwards; and
  - (ii) is otherwise qualified as a voter under section 68.

(2) Subject to subsections (3) and (4), for the purposes of subsection (1)(b)(i) a “Virgin Islander” is a person who belongs to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent who was—

- (a) born in the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who at the time of the birth was a British overseas territories citizen (or a British Dependent Territories citizen) by virtue of birth in the Virgin Islands or by virtue of descent from a father or mother who was born in the Virgin Islands;

- (b) born in the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who at the time of the birth belonged to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent; or
- (c) born outside the Virgin Islands of a father or mother who at the time of the birth belonged to the Virgin Islands by birth or descent.

(3) A person born outside the Virgin Islands who belongs to the Virgin Islands by descent shall not be qualified to be elected as a member of the House of Assembly unless one of his or her grandparents belonged to the Virgin Islands by birth.

(4) A person, whether born in or outside the Virgin Islands, who would otherwise be qualified to be elected as an elected member of the House of Assembly by virtue of subsection (1)(b) shall not be so qualified unless—

- (a) where that person has never been domiciled in the Virgin Islands, he or she has resided in the Virgin Islands for at least five years immediately before the date of his or her nomination for election; or
- (b) where that person was formerly domiciled in the Virgin Islands but has lived outside the Virgin Islands for a continuous period of at least ten years (excluding periods related to medical or educational purposes), he or she has resided in the Virgin Islands for at least three years immediately before the date of his or her nomination for election and is domiciled in the Virgin Islands at that date.

Disqualifications for elected membership

66.—(1) No person shall be qualified to be elected as a member of the House of Assembly who—

- (a) holds, or is acting in, any public office;
- (b) has been adjudged or otherwise declared bankrupt under any law in force in any country and has not been discharged;
- (c) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in any country;
- (d) at the date of election, is under sentence of death imposed on him or her by a court of law in any country, or is serving or has at any time within the period of five years immediately preceding that date been serving any part of a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) of at least twelve months imposed on him or her by such a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him or her by such a court; or is under such a sentence of imprisonment the execution of which has been suspended;
- (e) is disqualified for membership of the House of Assembly by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands relating to offences connected with elections; or
- (f) is a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service, and has not, within fourteen days before his or her nomination as a candidate for election, published in the Gazette or in a newspaper circulating in the Virgin Islands a notice setting out the nature of such contract and his or her interest, or the interest of such firm or company, in it.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(d)—

- (a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of such sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence; and
- (b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

Tenure of seats of members of House of Assembly

67.—(1) Every elected member of the House of Assembly shall vacate his or her seat in the House at the next dissolution of the House after his or her election.

(2) Notwithstanding that a member of the House of Assembly has vacated his or her seat by virtue of subsection (1), every such member shall be entitled to continue receiving the benefits and privileges of a member until the polling day for election for a new House of Assembly, provided that such benefits and privileges shall cease if the member fails to win a seat at the general election.

(3) An elected member of the House of Assembly shall also vacate his or her seat in the House—

- (a) if he or she resigns it by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Speaker;
- (b) if he or she is absent from the sittings of the House for such period and in such circumstances as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the House;
- (c) if he or she ceases to be qualified for election;
- (d) subject to subsections (4), (5) and (6), if any circumstances arise that, if he or she were not a member of the House, would cause him or her to be disqualified for election as such by virtue of any provision of section 66(1) other than paragraph (f); or
- (e) subject to subsection (7), if he or she becomes a party to any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service or if any firm in which he or she is a partner, or any company of which he or she is a director or manager, becomes a party to any such contract, or if he or she becomes a partner in a firm, or a director or manager of a company, which is a party to any such contract.

(4) If circumstances such as are referred to in subsection (3)(d) arise because a member is declared bankrupt, adjudged to be of unsound mind, under sentence of death or imprisonment or convicted of an offence relating to elections and if it is open to the member to appeal against the decision (either with the leave of the court or other authority or without such leave) he or she shall forthwith cease to perform his or her functions as a member but, subject to subsection (5), he or she shall not vacate his or her seat in the House until the expiration of a period of thirty days thereafter; but the Speaker may, at the request of the member, from time to time extend that period for further periods of thirty days to enable the member to pursue an appeal against the decision, so, however, that extensions of time exceeding in the aggregate one hundred and fifty days shall not be given without the approval, signified by resolution, of the House of Assembly.

(5) If, on the determination of any appeal, the circumstances referred to in subsection (4) continue to exist and no further appeal is open to the member or if, by reason of the expiration of any period for entering an appeal or notice of appeal or the refusal of appeal or for any other reason, it ceases to be open to the member to appeal, he or she shall forthwith vacate his or her seat.

(6) If at any time before the member vacates his or her seat the circumstances referred to in subsection (4) cease to exist, the seat of that member shall not become vacant on the expiration of the period referred to in subsection (4) and he or she may resume the performance of his or her functions as a member.

(7) If in the circumstances it appears just to the House of Assembly to do so, the House may exempt any elected member from vacating his or her seat under subsection (3)(e) if such member, before becoming a party to such contract as there described, or before or as soon as practicable after becoming otherwise interested in such contract (whether as a partner in a firm or director or manager of a company), discloses to the House the nature of such contract and his or her interest or the interest of any such firm or company in it.

(8) Any request by an elected member for exemption under subsection (7) shall be made by way of motion, which shall be placed on the Order Paper for a decision of the House of Assembly.

(9) In any case in which the House of Assembly, under subsection (7), decides not to exempt an elected member from vacating his or her seat, the member may appeal to the High Court against the decision, and subsections (4), (5) and (6) shall apply in the same manner as they do in the circumstances there specified.

Qualifications of voters

68.—(1) Subject to subsection (3), a person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter for the purposes of elections if, and shall not be so qualified unless, he or she belongs to the Virgin Islands and on the qualifying date has attained the age of eighteen years and he or she either—

- (a) is domiciled and resident in the Virgin Islands on the qualifying date; or
- (b) on that date is domiciled in the Virgin Islands and resident in the United States Virgin Islands.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), any person who was qualified to be registered as a voter immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall continue to be so qualified thereafter.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be registered as a voter under this section who on the qualifying date—

- (a) is a person certified to be insane or otherwise adjudged to be of unsound mind under any law in force in the Virgin Islands;
- (b) is disqualified by or under any such law from being registered as a voter for the purposes of elections by reason of his or her having been convicted of an offence relating to elections; or
- (c) is under sentence of death imposed on him or her by a court or is serving a sentence of imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months imposed on him or her by a court or substituted by competent authority for some other sentence imposed on him or her by a court.

(4) In this section “the qualifying date” means such date as may be appointed by or under any law in force in the Virgin Islands as the date with reference to which the qualifications of any person for registration are to be ascertained.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (3)(c)—

- (a) two or more sentences of imprisonment that are required to be served consecutively shall be regarded as separate sentences if none of those sentences exceeds twelve months, but if any one of those sentences exceeds that term they shall be regarded as one sentence; and
- (b) no account shall be taken of a sentence of imprisonment imposed as an alternative to or in default of the payment of a fine.

Speaker and Deputy Speaker

69.—(1) When the House of Assembly first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business it shall elect a person to be the Speaker of the House.

(2) If the office of Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the House of Assembly, the House shall as soon as practicable elect another person to that office.

(3) The Speaker shall be elected from among the elected members of the House of Assembly or from persons qualified to be elected members of the House, other than Ministers, and no person shall be elected as Speaker if he or she is a person disqualified for election as a member of the House by virtue of any provision of section 66(1) other than paragraph (f).

(4) When the House of Assembly first meets after any general election and before it proceeds to the despatch of any other business except the election of the Speaker, it shall elect a member of the House who is not a member of the Cabinet to be Deputy Speaker of the House.

(5) If the office of Deputy Speaker falls vacant for any reason other than a dissolution of the House of Assembly, the House shall as soon as convenient elect to that office another member of the House who is not a member of the Cabinet.

(6) A person shall vacate the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker—

- (a) on dissolution of the House of Assembly;
- (b) if he or she announces the resignation of his or her office to the House of Assembly or if by writing under his or her hand addressed to the House and received by the Clerk of the House he or she resigns that office;
- (c) if a motion on the Order Paper for his or her removal is carried by the votes of a majority of all the elected members of the House; or
- (d) if he or she is appointed to be a member of the Cabinet.

(7) A person shall also vacate the office of Speaker—

- (a) if he or she ceases to be a person qualified for election as a member of the House of Assembly;
- (b) if any circumstances arise that would cause him or her to be disqualified for election as an elected member of the House by virtue of any provision of section 66(1) other than paragraph (f);
- (c) on the expiration of a period of thirty days from the date of his or her election if he or she was at that date a party to, or a partner in a firm or a director or manager of a company which is a party to, any contract with the Government of the Virgin Islands for or on account of the public service and if, before the expiration of that period, he or she has not disclosed to the House of Assembly the nature of such contract and his or her interest, or the interest of such firm or company, in it and the House has not exempted him or her from vacating his or her office under this paragraph; or
- (d) if any circumstances arise that, if he or she were an elected member of the House of Assembly, would cause him or her to vacate his or her seat under section 67(3)(d).

(8) A person shall also vacate the office of Deputy Speaker if—

- (a) he or she ceases to be a member of the House of Assembly for any reason other than a dissolution of the House; or
- (b) by virtue of section 67(4), he or she is required to cease to perform his or her functions as a member of the House.

Leader of the Opposition

70.—(1) Subject to this section, the Governor may appoint a Leader of the Opposition.

(2) The Governor shall appoint as the Leader of the Opposition—

- (a) a member of the House of Assembly recommended by a majority of the elected members of the House who are members of any opposition party whose numerical strength in the House is greater than that of any other opposition party; or
- (b) if there is no such party or if no recommendation is made under paragraph (a), the member of the House of Assembly who in the judgement of the Governor is best able to command the support of the members of the House in opposition to the Government.

(3) If at any time between the polling in a general election and the next following dissolution of the House of Assembly the Governor is satisfied that, if the office of the Leader of the Opposition were then vacant, he or she would appoint to that office a person other than the person then holding that office, the Governor shall revoke the appointment of the Leader of the Opposition.

(4) The office of the Leader of the Opposition shall also become vacant—

- (a) if for any reason other than a dissolution of the House of Assembly the holder of that office ceases to be a member of the House; or
- (b) if the holder of that office is appointed as a Minister.

(5) In this section “opposition party” means a group of members of the House of Assembly in opposition to the Government who are prepared to support one of their number as their leader.

(6) In the exercise of his or her functions under this section the Governor shall act in his or her discretion.

Powers and Procedure

Power to make laws

71. Subject to this Constitution, the Legislature shall have power to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Virgin Islands.

Standing Orders

72. Subject to this Constitution, the House of Assembly may make, amend and revoke Standing Orders for the regulation and orderly conduct of its own proceedings and the despatch of business, and the passing, entitling and numbering of Bills and the presentation of Bills to the Governor for assent.

Oaths and affirmations

73. No member of the House of Assembly shall be permitted to take part in the proceedings of the House (other than proceedings necessary for the purposes of this section) until he or she has made and subscribed before the House an oath or affirmation of allegiance and an oath or affirmation for the due execution of office as such member in the forms set out in Schedule 1; but the election of the Speaker and Deputy Speaker may take place before the members of the House have made such oaths or affirmations.

Presiding in the House of Assembly

74.—(1) The Speaker or, in his or her absence, the Deputy Speaker or, if they are both absent, a member of the House of Assembly (not being a member of the Cabinet) elected by the House for that sitting shall preside at each sitting of the House.

(2) References in this section to circumstances in which the Speaker or Deputy Speaker is absent include references to circumstances in which the office of Speaker or Deputy Speaker is vacant.

Voting

75.—(1) Subject to this section, section 53(1), section 63(3) and section 69(6)(c), all questions proposed for decision in the House of Assembly shall be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting.

(2) Only the elected members of the House of Assembly shall be entitled to vote—

- (a) in an election of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker;
- (b) on a motion on the Order Paper for the removal from office of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker; or
- (c) on a motion on the Order Paper that the House of Assembly should declare a lack of confidence in the Government of the Virgin Islands.

(3) The person presiding shall not vote unless on any question the votes are equally divided in which case he or she shall have and exercise a casting vote; but where the motion before the House of Assembly is one to which subsection (2) applies the person presiding shall not have a casting vote unless he or she is an elected member.

(4) In the event of an equality of votes on any question in respect of subsection (2) the motion shall be lost.

Validity of proceedings

76. The House of Assembly shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy in its membership (including any vacancy not filled when the House is first constituted or is reconstituted at any time), and any proceedings in the House shall be valid notwithstanding that some person who was not entitled to do so sat or voted in the House or otherwise took part in the proceedings.

Quorum

77.—(1) Subject to section 63(4), a quorum of the House of Assembly shall consist of seven members besides the person presiding at the sitting.

(2) If at any sitting of the House of Assembly any member who is present draws the attention of the person presiding at the sitting to the absence of a quorum and, after such interval as may be prescribed in the Standing Orders of the House, the person presiding at the sitting ascertains that a quorum of the House is still not present, the House shall be adjourned.

Introduction of Bills, etc

78.—(1) Subject to this Constitution and the Standing Orders of the House of Assembly, any member may introduce any Bill or propose any motion for debate in, or may present any petition to, the House, and the same shall be debated and disposed of according to the Standing Orders of the House.

(2) Except on the recommendation of the Minister responsible for finance, the House of Assembly shall not

- (a) proceed upon any Bill (including any amendment to a Bill) which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the House, makes provision for imposing or increasing any tax, for imposing or increasing any charge on the revenues or other funds of the Virgin Islands or for altering any such charge otherwise than by reducing it or for compounding or remitting any debt due to the Virgin Islands; or
- (b) proceed upon any motion (including any amendment to a motion) the effect of which, in the opinion of the person presiding in the House, is that provision would be made for any of the purposes mentioned in paragraph (a).

Assent to Bills

79.—(1) A Bill passed by the House of Assembly shall become a law when—

- (a) the Governor has assented to it in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf and has signed it in token of such assent; or
- (b) Her Majesty has given Her assent to it through a Secretary of State and the Governor has signified such assent by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) When a Bill is presented to the Governor for assent the Governor shall declare that he or she assents to it or that he or she reserves the Bill for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure; but unless the Governor has been authorised by a Secretary of State to assent to it, the Governor shall reserve for the signification of Her Majesty's pleasure any Bill which appears to him or her, acting in his or her discretion—

- (a) to be inconsistent with any obligation of Her Majesty or of Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom towards any other state or power or any international organisation;
- (b) to be likely to prejudice the Royal prerogative; or
- (c) to be in any way repugnant to or inconsistent with this Constitution.

Disallowance of laws

80.—(1) Any law assented to by the Governor may be disallowed by Her Majesty through a Secretary of State; but no law shall be disallowed until the expiration of a period notified by a Secretary of State to the Governor, who shall advise the Speaker of that period, in order to give the House of Assembly an opportunity to reconsider the law in question.

(2) Whenever any law has been disallowed by Her Majesty the Governor shall cause notice of such disallowance to be published in the Gazette and the law shall be annulled with effect from the date of publication of that notice.

(3) Section 16(1) of the Interpretation Act 1978(a) shall apply to the annulment of any law under this section as it applies to the repeal of an Act of Parliament, save that any enactment repealed or amended by or in pursuance of that law shall have effect as from the date of the annulment as if that law had not been made.

Governor's reserved power

81.—(1) If the Governor considers it urgently necessary, for the purpose of complying with any international obligation applicable to the Virgin Islands, that any Bill introduced, or any motion to which this section applies proposed, in the House of Assembly should have effect, then, if the House fails to pass the Bill or carry the motion within such time and in such form as the Governor thinks fit, and notwithstanding any provisions of this Constitution or any other law or any Standing Orders, the Governor may, subject to subsection (2), declare that such Bill or motion shall have effect as if it had been passed or carried by the House, either in the form in which it was introduced or proposed or with such amendments as the Governor thinks fit which have been moved or proposed in the House or any committee of the House; and such Bill or motion shall be deemed thereupon to have been so passed or carried, and the provisions of this Constitution and, in particular, the provisions relating to assent to Bills and disallowance of laws, shall have effect accordingly.

(2) The Governor shall not make any declaration under this section except in accordance with the following conditions—

- (a) the question whether the declaration should be made shall first be submitted in writing by the Governor to the Cabinet and if, upon the question being submitted to it, the Cabinet advises the Governor that the declaration should be made, the Governor shall make the declaration;
- (b) if, when the question whether the declaration should be made is submitted to it as aforesaid, the Cabinet does not, within such time as the Governor thinks reasonable and expedient, advise the Governor that the declaration should be made, then the Governor may submit the said question to a Secretary of State and may make the declaration if, upon the question being submitted to him or her, the Secretary of State authorises the Governor to make the declaration.

(3) If any member of the Cabinet so desires, he or she may, within thirty days of the date of the making of a declaration under this section, submit to the Governor a statement in writing of his or her comments on the making of such declaration, and the Governor shall forward such statement, or a copy of it, as soon as practicable to a Secretary of State.

(4) This section applies to any motion—

- (a) relating to or for the purposes of a Bill;
- (b) proposing or amending a resolution which, if passed by the House of Assembly, would have the force of law; or
- (c) proposing or amending a resolution upon which the coming into force or continuance in force of any instrument subsidiary to a Bill depends.

(a) 1978 c. 30.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a Bill shall be validly introduced, and a motion shall be validly proposed, if it is introduced or proposed by any one member of the House of Assembly.

(6) The powers conferred on the Governor by subsections (1) and (2) shall be exercised by the Governor in his or her discretion.

Privileges, immunities and powers of House of Assembly

82. The Legislature may by law determine and regulate the privileges, immunities and powers of the House of Assembly and of its members, but no such privileges, immunities or powers shall exceed those of the Commons House of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of its members.

Miscellaneous

Sessions of House of Assembly

83.—(1) Subject to this section, the sessions of the House of Assembly shall be held at such times and places as the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

(2) The first session of the House of Assembly shall commence within a period of two months after the first general election held after the commencement of this Constitution, and thereafter there shall be a session of the House from time to time so that a period of three months does not intervene between the last sitting in one session and the first sitting in the next session.

(3) When the House of Assembly is in session, the Speaker may call meetings of the House from time to time and, if no meeting has been called sooner, shall call a meeting within two months of the previous meeting.

(4) In subsection (3), “meeting” means any sitting or sittings of the House of Assembly commencing when the House first meets after being summoned at any time and terminating when the House is adjourned sine die or at the conclusion of a session.

Prorogation and dissolution

84.—(1) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, prorogue the House of Assembly; but the Governor shall prorogue the House at least once in each calendar year except in any year during which the House is dissolved.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier, may at any time, by proclamation published in the Gazette, dissolve the House of Assembly.

(3) The Governor shall dissolve the House of Assembly at the expiration of four years from the date when the House first meets after any general election unless it has been sooner dissolved.

Recalling dissolved House of Assembly in case of emergency

85. If, between a dissolution of the House of Assembly and the next ensuing general election, an emergency arises of such a nature that, in the opinion of the Governor, it is necessary for the House to be recalled, the Governor may, acting after consultation with the Premier, summon the House that has been dissolved, and that House shall thereupon be deemed (except for the purposes of section 86) not to have been dissolved, but shall be deemed (except as aforesaid) to be dissolved on the date on which the next ensuing general election is held.

General elections

86. A general election shall be held at such time within two months, but not earlier than twenty-one days, after every dissolution of the House of Assembly as the Governor shall appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

Determination of questions as to membership

87.—(1) The High Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine an appeal under section 67(9) and any question whether—

- (a) any person has been validly elected as a member of the House of Assembly; or
- (b) any elected member of the House of Assembly has vacated his or her seat in the House or is required by virtue of section 67(4) to cease to perform his or her functions as a member.

(2) An application to the High Court for the determination of any question under subsection (1)(a) may be made by—

- (a) any person entitled to vote in the electoral district and at the election to which the application relates;
- (b) any person who was a candidate in that district at that election; or
- (c) the Attorney General.

(3) An application to the High Court for the determination of any question under subsection (1)(b) may be made by—

- (a) any person entitled to vote at an election in the electoral district for which the member concerned was returned;
- (b) any elected member of the House of Assembly; or
- (c) the Attorney General.

(4) If an application is made under subsection (2) or (3) by a person other than the Attorney General, the Attorney General may intervene and may then appear or be represented in the proceedings.

(5) The Legislature may make provision with respect to—

- (a) the circumstances and manner in which, and the imposition of conditions upon which, any application may be made to the High Court for the determination of any question under this section; and
- (b) the powers, practice and procedure of the High Court in relation to any such application.

(6) An appeal shall lie as of right to the Court of Appeal from any final decision of the High Court determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1).

(7) No appeal shall lie from any decision of the Court of Appeal in exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by subsection (6), and no appeal shall lie from any decision of the High Court in proceedings under this section other than a final decision determining such a question as is referred to in subsection (1).

(8) In the exercise of the powers conferred on him or her by this section, the Attorney General shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Penalty for unauthorised sitting or voting

88.—(1) Any person who sits or votes in the House of Assembly knowing or having reasonable grounds for knowing that he or she is not entitled to do so shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars for every day on which he or she so sits or votes, or such other penalty as may be prescribed by law.

(2) The said penalty shall be recoverable by action in the High Court at the suit of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

CHAPTER 6
THE JUDICATURE

Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court

89. The Supreme Court Order 1967(a) shall continue to apply to the Virgin Islands as it applied immediately before the commencement of this Constitution, and accordingly the High Court and the Court of Appeal of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court shall continue to have jurisdiction in the Virgin Islands.

Subordinate courts and tribunals

90. There shall be such courts and tribunals in and for the Virgin Islands subordinate to the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court, and such courts and tribunals shall have such jurisdiction and powers, as may be prescribed by any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

CHAPTER 7
THE PUBLIC SERVICE
Public Service - General

Public Service Commission

91.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Public Service Commission which shall consist of five members, of whom—

- (a) two shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion;
- (b) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier;
- (c) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Leader of the Opposition; and
- (d) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting after consultation with the Civil Service Association;

but the Governor shall, as far as practicable, appoint as one member of the Commission a person who is ordinarily resident in an island of the Virgin Islands other than Tortola.

(2) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier, shall appoint one of the five members of the Public Service Commission to be Chairman of the Commission.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as a member of the Public Service Commission if he or she is a member of, or a candidate for election to, the House of Assembly, or holds or is acting in any public office.

(4) The office of a member of the Public Service Commission shall become vacant—

- (a) at the expiration of five years from the date of his or her appointment or such earlier time as may be specified in the instrument by which he or she was appointed;
- (b) if he or she resigns office by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Governor;
- (c) if he or she becomes a member of, or a candidate for election to, the House of Assembly or is appointed to or to act in any public office; or
- (d) if the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, directs that he or she shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions of that office (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour.

(a) S.I. 1967/223, amended by S.I. 1983/1108, 2000/3060.

(5) If the office of a member of the Public Service Commission is vacant or a member is for any reason unable to perform the functions of his or her office, the Governor, acting in the manner prescribed by subsection (1) for the appointment of that member, may appoint a person who is qualified for appointment as a member of the Commission to act as a member of the Commission, and any person so appointed shall, subject to subsection (4), continue so to act until he or she is notified by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, that the circumstances giving rise to the appointment have ceased to exist; but in the case of a vacancy in the office of the Chairman or the inability of the holder of that office to perform his or her functions, the functions of the office of Chairman shall be performed by such member of the Commission or person acting as a member as the Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier, may designate.

(6) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Public Service Commission if there are less than four members of the Commission present.

(7) Any question proposed for decision at any meeting of the Public Service Commission shall be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting; and if on any question the votes are equally divided the Chairman shall have and exercise a casting vote.

(8) The Public Service Commission shall be served by a secretariat, the members of which shall be public officers.

(9) Subject to this Constitution, in the exercise of its functions the Public Service Commission shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Power to appoint, etc, to public office

92.—(1) Subject to this section and to the other provisions of this Constitution, power to make appointments to public offices and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Public Service Commission; but the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may act otherwise than in accordance with that advice if he or she determines that compliance with that advice would prejudice Her Majesty's service.

(2) Before exercising the powers vested in the Governor by subsection (1), the Governor may, acting in his or her discretion, once refer the advice of the Public Service Commission back to the Commission for reconsideration by it.

(3) If the Public Service Commission, having reconsidered its original advice under subsection (2), substitutes for it different advice, subsection (2) shall apply to that different advice as it applies to the original advice.

(4) Before appointing any person to the office of head of department or any more senior office the Governor shall in addition consult with the Premier.

(5) Power to make appointments to the office of Cabinet Secretary is vested in the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier; but the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may decline to act in accordance with that advice if he or she determines that compliance with that advice would prejudice Her Majesty's service.

(6) Where the Governor declines to act in accordance with the advice of the Premier under subsection (5), he or she shall refer the matter to the Premier requesting advice on the appointment, pursuant to subsection (7), of another person to the office of Cabinet Secretary and the Governor shall act in accordance with that advice.

(7) Whenever occasion arises for making an appointment under subsection (5) the Public Service Commission shall submit to the Premier a list of persons who appear to the Commission to be qualified and competent for the appointment and the Premier shall advise the Governor to appoint a person whose name appears on the list, provided that the Premier may request once an additional list of persons from the Public Service Commission from which to advise an appointment.

(8) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, delegate to any member of the Commission or any public officer or class of public officer, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in the regulations, any of the powers vested in the Governor to make appointments to public offices and to remove or exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices; and except in so far as regulations made under this subsection otherwise provide, any power delegated by such regulations may be exercised by any person to whom it is delegated without reference to the Public Service Commission.

(9) The Premier may from time to time request a report from the Public Service Commission about the functioning of the public service.

(10) This section does not apply to—

- (a) any office to which section 95 applies; or
- (b) any office in the Police Force.

Teaching Service Commission

93.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Teaching Service Commission which shall consist of three members, of whom—

- (a) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion;
- (b) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Cabinet; and
- (c) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting after consultation with the British Virgin Islands Teachers Union.

(2) The provisions of section 91(2) to (9) shall apply in relation to the Teaching Service Commission as they apply in relation to the Public Service Commission and for that purpose shall have effect as if the references therein to the latter were references to the former; but for that purpose the reference in section 91(6) to “four members” shall have effect as if it were a reference to “two members”.

(3) The provisions of section 92(1), (2), (3) and (8) shall, in their application to any office of teacher in the Government Teaching Service, have effect in relation to any such office as if the references therein to the Public Service Commission were references to the Teaching Service Commission.

Judicial and Legal Services Commission

94.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Judicial and Legal Services Commission which shall consist of—

- (a) the Chief Justice, who shall be Chairman;
- (b) one judge of the Court of Appeal or the High Court nominated by the Chief Justice after consultation with the Governor and the Virgin Islands General Legal Council;
- (c) the Chairman of the Public Service Commission; and
- (d) two other members appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition who will each nominate one member, at least one of whom shall be a legal practitioner.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1)(d), the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition shall alternate in nominating a legal practitioner, with the Premier making the first such nomination upon the commencement of this Constitution, provided that such nomination shall not be construed as precluding the nomination of two legal practitioners under subsection (1)(d).

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed under subsection (1)(d) if he or she is a member of, or a candidate for election to, the House of Assembly or holds or is acting in any public office.

(4) The office of a member of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission appointed under subsection (1)(d) shall become vacant—

- (a) at the expiration of five years from the date of his or her appointment or such earlier time as may be specified in the instrument by which he or she was appointed;
- (b) if he or she resigns office by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Governor;

- (c) if he or she becomes a member of, or a candidate for election to, the House of Assembly, or is appointed to or to act in any public office; or
- (d) if the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, directs that he or she shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions of that office (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour.

(5) If the office of a member of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission appointed under subsection (1)(d) becomes vacant or if such a member is for any reason unable to perform the functions of that office, the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier or the Leader of the Opposition, as the case may be, may appoint another suitably qualified person to that office for the unexpired term of the previous holder of the office or until the holder of the office is able to resume his or her functions.

(6) Any decision of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission shall require the concurrence of not less than three members of the Commission, and the Commission shall take its decisions in such form and manner as it may determine.

(7) In the exercise of its functions, the Judicial and Legal Services Commission—

- (a) shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority; and
- (b) may regulate its own procedure.

Power to appoint, etc, to legal offices

95.—(1) Power to make appointments to the offices to which this section applies, and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices, shall vest in the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission; but the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may act otherwise than in accordance with that advice if he or she determines that compliance with that advice would prejudice Her Majesty's service.

(2) Before exercising the powers vested in the Governor by subsection (1), the Governor may, acting in his or her discretion, once refer the advice of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission back to the Commission for reconsideration by it.

(3) If the Judicial and Legal Services Commission, having reconsidered its original advice under subsection (2), substitutes for it different advice, subsection (2) shall apply to that different advice as it applies to the original advice.

(4) This section applies to the offices of—

- (a) Attorney General;
- (b) Director of Public Prosecutions;
- (c) Magistrate;
- (d) any office in the public service of the Attorney General's Chambers or of any Registrar or other officer of the High Court who is required to possess legal qualifications; and to such other offices in the public service, for appointment to which persons are required to possess legal qualifications, as may be prescribed by any law or Government policy for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands.

(5) No person shall be appointed to the office of Attorney General unless he or she is qualified to be admitted in the Virgin Islands as a legal practitioner and has had at least ten years' practical experience as a legal practitioner.

(6) No person shall be appointed to the office of Attorney General unless he or she belongs to the Virgin Islands unless, in the opinion of the Judicial and Legal Services Commission, there is no such person who is suitably qualified and able and willing to be so appointed.

(7) No person shall be appointed to the office of Director of Public Prosecutions unless he or she is qualified to be admitted in the Virgin Islands as a legal practitioner and has had at least seven years' practical experience as a legal practitioner.

(8) A person qualified under subsection (7) shall be appointed to act in the office of Director of Public Prosecutions whenever the office falls vacant and until a person is appointed substantively to that office, or whenever the holder of that office is for any reason unable to perform his or her functions (including by reason of suspension under subsection (10)).

(9) A person holding the office of Attorney General, Director of Public Prosecutions or Magistrate may only be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions of his or her office (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour.

(10) Where the issue of the removal of the Director of Public Prosecutions from office has been referred to the Judicial and Legal Services Commission, the Governor shall suspend the Director of Public Prosecutions from performing the functions of his or her office pending the outcome of the referral.

Police Service Commission

96.—(1) There shall be in and for the Virgin Islands a Police Service Commission which shall consist of five members, of whom—

- (a) two shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in his or her discretion;
- (b) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier;
- (c) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Leader of the Opposition; and
- (d) one shall be appointed by the Governor, acting after consultation with the Police Welfare Association.

(2) The provisions of section 91(2) to (9) shall apply in relation to the Police Service Commission as they apply in relation to the Public Service Commission and for that purpose shall have effect as if the references therein to the latter were references to the former.

Power to appoint, etc, to offices in the Police Force

97.—(1) Power to make appointments to offices in the Police Force and to remove and to exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices shall vest in the Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Police Service Commission; but the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may act otherwise than in accordance with that advice if he or she determines that compliance with that advice would prejudice Her Majesty's service.

(2) Where the Police Service Commission advises that any person should be appointed to an office in the Police Force of a rank superior to Chief Inspector, that advice shall require the approval of the National Security Council before being submitted to the Governor; but the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may act without the approval of the National Security Council if he or she determines that to do otherwise would prejudice Her Majesty's service.

(3) Before exercising the powers vested in the Governor by subsection (1), the Governor may, acting in his or her discretion, once refer the advice of the Police Service Commission back to the Commission for reconsideration by it.

(4) If the Police Service Commission, having reconsidered its original advice under subsection (3), substitutes for it different advice, subsection (3) shall apply to that different advice as it applies to the original advice.

(5) The Governor, acting after consultation with the Police Service Commission, may, by regulations published in the Gazette, delegate to any member of the Commission or any public officer or class of public officer, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed in the regulations, any of the powers vested in the Governor to make appointments to offices in the Police Force and to remove or exercise disciplinary control over persons holding or acting in such offices; and except in so far as regulations made under this subsection otherwise provide, any power delegated by such regulations may be exercised by any person to whom it is delegated without reference to the Police Service Commission.

Legislation regarding Commissions

98.—(1) The Legislature may by law make provision for—

- (a) the organisation of the work of a Commission and the manner in which it performs its functions;
- (b) consultation by a Commission with persons or authorities other than its members;
- (c) the protection and privileges of members of a Commission in respect of the performance of their functions and the privilege of communications to and from a Commission and its members in the case of legal proceedings;
- (d) the definition and trial of offences in relation to the functions of a Commission and the imposition of penalties for such offences; and
- (e) conferring on a Commission other related functions, without prejudice to the functions conferred on such Commission by this Constitution.

(2) In this section “Commission” means the Public Service Commission, the Teaching Service Commission, the Judicial and Legal Services Commission or the Police Service Commission.

Pensions

Applicability of pension law

99.—(1) Subject to section 101, the law applicable to the grant and payment to any officer, or to his or her widow or widower, children, dependants or personal representatives, of any pension, gratuity or other like allowance (in this section and sections 100 and 101 referred to as an “award”) in respect of the service of that officer in the public service shall be that in force on the relevant day or any later law not less favourable to the person concerned.

(2) For the purposes of this section the relevant day is—

- (a) in relation to an award granted before the appointed day, the day on which the award was granted;
- (b) in relation to an award granted or to be granted on or after the appointed day to or in respect of a person who was a public officer before that day, the day immediately before that day;
- (c) in relation to an award granted or to be granted to or in respect of a person who first becomes a public officer on or after the appointed day, the day on which he or she becomes a public officer.

(3) For the purposes of this section, in so far as the law applicable to an award depends on the option of the person to or in respect of whom it is granted or to be granted, the law for which he or she opts shall be taken to be more favourable to him or her than any other law for which he or she might have opted.

(4) In this section “the appointed day” means the date of commencement of this Constitution.

Pensions, etc, charged on Consolidated Fund or Pension Fund

100. Awards granted under any law for the time being in force in the Virgin Islands shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund or the Pension Fund of the Virgin Islands.

Grant and withholding of pensions, etc

101.—(1) The power to grant any award under any pensions law in force in the Virgin Islands (other than an award to which, under that law, the person to whom it is payable is entitled as of right) and, in accordance with any provisions in that respect contained in any such law, to withhold, reduce in amount or suspend any award payable under any such law is hereby vested in the Governor, acting in his or her discretion.

(2) In this section “pensions law” means any law relating to the grant to any person, or to the widow or widower, children, dependants or personal representatives of that person, of an award in respect of the services of that person in a public office, and includes any instrument made under any such law.

CHAPTER 8

FINANCE

Consolidated Fund

102. All revenues or other moneys raised or received by or for the purposes of the Government of the Virgin Islands (not being revenues or other moneys that are payable by or under any law into some other fund established for any specific purpose or that may, by or under any law, be retained by the authority that received them for the purpose of defraying the expenses of that authority) shall be paid into and form a Consolidated Fund.

Withdrawal of money from Consolidated Fund or other public funds

103.—(1) No money shall be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund except on the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Minister charged with responsibility for finance (in this Chapter referred to as “the Minister”); but where, in the opinion of the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, moneys are required to enable the Governor to discharge his or her responsibilities under section 60, such moneys may be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund either—

- (a) on the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Minister; or
- (b) on the authority of a warrant under the hand of the Governor, acting in his or her discretion.

(2) No warrant shall be issued by the Minister for the purpose of meeting any expenditure unless—

- (a) the expenditure has been authorised for the financial year during which the withdrawal is to take place—
  - (i) by an Appropriation Act; or
  - (ii) by a supplementary estimate approved by resolution of the House of Assembly;
- (b) the expenditure has been authorised in accordance with section 105; or
- (c) it is expenditure (in this Chapter referred to as “statutory expenditure”) that is charged on the Consolidated Fund by this Constitution or any other law.

(3) No moneys shall be withdrawn from any public fund other than the Consolidated Fund unless the issue of those moneys had been authorised by or under any law.

Authorisation of expenditure

104.—(1) The Minister shall cause to be prepared and laid before the House of Assembly as soon as practicable before the beginning of each financial year estimates of the revenues and expenditure of the Virgin Islands for that year; but if the House is dissolved less than three months before the beginning of any financial year, the estimates for that year may be laid before the House as soon as practicable after the beginning of that year.

(2) The heads of expenditure contained in the estimates (other than statutory expenditure) shall be included in a Bill to be known as an Appropriation Bill which shall be introduced into the House of Assembly to provide for the issue from the Consolidated Fund of the sums necessary to meet that expenditure and for the appropriation of those sums to the purposes specified in it.

(3) If in respect of any financial year it is found—

- (a) that the amount appropriated by the Appropriation Act to any purpose is insufficient or that a need has arisen for expenditure for a purpose to which no amount has been appropriated by that Act; or
- (b) that any moneys have been expended for any purpose in excess of the amount appropriated to that purpose by the Appropriation Act or for a purpose to which no amount has been appropriated by that Act, a supplementary estimate, showing the sums required or spent, shall be laid before the House of Assembly.

(4) Where in respect of any financial year any supplementary estimates have been laid before the House of Assembly in accordance with subsection (3) and approved by resolution of the House, a Supplementary Appropriation Bill shall, as soon as practicable after the end of that year, be introduced into the House to provide for the appropriation to the purposes in question of the sums included in such estimates that have been expended for that year.

(5) Where in respect of any financial year moneys have been withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund on the authority of a warrant issued by the Governor by virtue of section 103(1)(b), the Minister shall, if the circumstances of the case so require, cause a statement of expenditure in respect of such moneys to be prepared and laid before the House of Assembly.

Authorisation of expenditure in advance of appropriation

105. If the Appropriation Act in respect of any financial year has not come into force by the beginning of that financial year, the House of Assembly may by resolution empower the Minister to authorise the withdrawal of moneys from the Consolidated Fund for the purpose of meeting expenditure necessary to carry on the services of the Government of the Virgin Islands until the expiration of four months from the beginning of that financial year or the coming into force of the Appropriation Act, whichever is the earlier.

Contingencies Fund

106.—(1) The Legislature may by law make provision for the establishment of a Contingencies Fund and for authorising the Minister to make advances from that fund if he or she is satisfied that there is an urgent and unforeseen need for expenditure for which no other provision exists.

(2) When any advance is made from the Contingencies Fund a supplementary estimate shall, as soon as practicable, be laid before the House of Assembly for the purpose of authorising the replacement of the amount so advanced.

Public debt

107.—(1) All debt charges for which the Virgin Islands are liable shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund or the Debt Service Fund.

(2) For the purposes of this section, debt charges include interest, sinking fund charges, the repayment or amortisation of debt, and all expenditure in connection with the raising of loans on the security of the revenues of the Virgin Islands or the Consolidated Fund and the service and redemption of debt thereby created.

Remuneration of certain officers

108.—(1) There shall be paid to the holders of the offices to which this section applies such salary or other remuneration and such allowances as may be prescribed by or under any law enacted by the Legislature.

(2) The remuneration and allowances payable to the holders of those offices shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

(3) The remuneration prescribed in pursuance of this section in respect of the holder of any such office and his or her other terms of service (other than allowances that are not taken into account in computing, under any law in that respect, any pension payable in respect of his or her service in that office) shall not without the consent of that person be altered to his or her disadvantage after his or her appointment.

(4) Where a person's remuneration or other terms of service depend upon his or her option, the remuneration or terms for which he or she opts shall, for the purpose of subsection (3), be deemed to be more advantageous to that person than any others for which he or she might have opted.

(5) This section applies to the offices of Deputy Governor, Chairman or other member of the Public Service Commission, the Teaching Service Commission, the Judicial and Legal Services Commission and the Police Service Commission, Attorney General, Director of Public Prosecutions, Magistrate, Auditor General, Complaints Commissioner and Registrar of Interests.

The Auditor General

109.—(1) There shall be an Auditor General whose office shall be a public office.

(2) The accounts of the House of Assembly and all Government departments and offices (including the Public Service Commission, the Teaching Service Commission, the Police Service Commission and such other body as may be designated by law) shall be audited and reported on annually by the Auditor General, and for that purpose the Auditor General or any person authorised by him or her shall have access to all books, records, returns and other documents relating to such accounts.

(3) The Auditor General shall submit his or her reports made under subsection (2) to the Minister who shall, within three months of the receipt of the reports, cause them to be laid before the House of Assembly.

(4) In the exercise of his or her functions under this section, the Auditor General shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

CHAPTER 9

THE COMPLAINTS COMMISSIONER AND REGISTER OF INTERESTS

The Complaints Commissioner

110.—(1) There shall be a Complaints Commissioner for the Virgin Islands.

(2) The Complaints Commissioner shall be appointed by the Governor, acting after consultation with the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition, by instrument under the public seal.

(3) No person shall be qualified to be appointed as Complaints Commissioner if he or she is or has been within the preceding three years—

- (a) an elected member of the House of Assembly; or
- (b) the holder of any office in any political party.

(4) The office of the Complaints Commissioner shall become vacant—

- (a) at the expiration of the period specified in the instrument by which he or she was appointed;
- (b) if he or she resigns office by writing under his or her hand addressed to the Governor;
- (c) if he or she becomes an elected member of the House of Assembly or the holder of any office in any political party; or
- (d) if the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, directs that he or she shall be removed from office for inability to discharge the functions of the office (whether arising from infirmity of body or mind or any other cause) or for misbehaviour, or for contravention of subsection (5).

(5) Subject to such exceptions as the Governor, acting in his or her discretion, may authorise by directions in writing, the Complaints Commissioner shall not hold any other office of emolument either in the public service or otherwise nor engage in any occupation for reward other than the duties of his or her office.

Functions of Complaints Commissioner

111.—(1) The Complaints Commissioner shall have such functions and jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law.

(2) In the exercise of his or her functions, the Complaints Commissioner shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Registration of interests

112.—(1) There shall be for the Virgin Islands a Register of Interests, which shall be maintained by a Registrar who shall be appointed, and may be removed from office, by the Governor acting in his or her discretion.

(2) It shall be the duty of any person to whom this section applies to declare to the Registrar, for entry in the Register of Interests, such interests, assets, income and liabilities of that person, or of any other person connected with him or her, as may be prescribed by law.

(3) A person shall make a declaration under subsection (2) upon assuming the functions of his or her office and at such intervals thereafter (being no longer than twelve months) as may be prescribed by law.

(4) This section applies to all members of the House of Assembly (including Ministers) and the holders of such other offices (except that of Governor) as may be prescribed by law.

(5) A law made under this Constitution shall make provision for giving effect to this section, including the sanctions which may be imposed for a failure to comply with, or the making of false statements in purported compliance with, subsections (2) and (3) and, notwithstanding anything contained in Chapter 5, the sanctions which may be imposed may include the suspension of a member of the House of Assembly from sitting and voting in the House for such period as may be prescribed in such a law.

CHAPTER 10

TRANSITIONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

Meaning of the appointed day

113. In this Chapter, “the appointed day” means the day referred to in section 1(2) of this Order, that is to say the date of commencement of this Constitution.

Revocations

114. The instruments specified in Schedule 2 are revoked with effect from the appointed day.

Existing laws

115.—(1) Subject to this section, the existing laws shall have effect on and after the appointed day as if they had been made in pursuance of or in consistency with this Constitution and shall be construed with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with this Constitution.

(2) The Legislature may by law make such amendments to any existing law as appear to it to be necessary or expedient for bringing that law into conformity with this Constitution or otherwise for giving effect to this Constitution; and any existing law shall have effect accordingly from such day, not being earlier than the appointed day, as may be specified in the law made by the Legislature.

(3) In this section “existing laws” means laws and instruments (other than Acts of the Parliament of the United Kingdom and instruments made under them) having effect as part of the law of the Virgin Islands immediately before the appointed day.

Existing offices and officers

116.—(1) Any office established by or under the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976<sup>(a)</sup> and existing immediately before the appointed day shall on and after that day, so far as consistent with this Constitution, continue as if it had been established by or under this Constitution.

(2) Any person who immediately before the appointed day holds or is acting in any office continued by virtue of subsection (1) shall, on and after that day, continue to hold or act in that office as if he or she had been appointed to hold or act in it in accordance with or under this Constitution.

(3) Any person to whom subsection (2) applies who, before the appointed day, has made any oath or affirmation required to be made before assuming the functions of his or her office shall be deemed to have made any like oath or affirmation so required by this Constitution or any other law.

(4) The person who, immediately before the appointed day, holds the office of Chief Minister shall, on and after that day, perform the functions of the office of Premier in accordance with this Constitution; and (in accordance with section 1(3) (a) until the day after the polling in the first general election after the appointed day that office shall continue to be called Chief Minister.

Standing Orders

117. The Standing Orders of the Legislative Council established by the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976 as those Standing Orders are in force immediately before the appointed day shall, except as may be provided under section 72, have effect on and after that day as if they had been made under that section as Standing Orders of the House of Assembly established by this Constitution, but they shall be construed with such adaptations and modifications as may be necessary to bring them into conformity with this Constitution.

Elections

118. A general election shall be held at such time within three months, but not earlier than twenty-one days, of the appointed day as the Governor shall appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.

Power reserved to Her Majesty

119. There is reserved to Her Majesty full power to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Virgin Islands.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order establishes a new Constitution for the Virgin Islands, to replace the Constitution of 1976. The new Constitution includes, for the first time, a chapter setting out the fundamental rights and freedoms of the individual and provisions for their enforcement. It provides for a Governor as Her Majesty's representatives in the Islands, and for a Premier and Ministers who form a Cabinet together with the Attorney General. It provides for an elected House of Assembly, which together with Her Majesty forms the Legislature. The Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court continues to have jurisdiction in the Islands. Provision is made for a Public Service Commission, a Teaching Service Commission, a Judicial and Legal Services Commission, and a Police Service Commission to provide advice on appointments to offices in these services. A new National Security Council is established, as is the office of Director of Public Prosecutions. Provision is also made for public finance, a Complaints Commissioner, and a Register of Interests.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 8th day of October 2015

Present,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

Her Majesty, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the West Indies Act 1962<sup>(a)</sup> and of all other powers enabling Her to do so, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order as follows:

Citation, construction and commencement

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Virgin Islands Constitution (Amendment) Order 2015 and comes into force on 5th November 2015.

(2) The Virgin Islands Constitution Order 2007<sup>(b)</sup> (hereinafter referred to as the “principal Order”) and this Order shall be construed as one and may be cited together as the Virgin Islands Constitution Orders 2007 to 2015.

Amendment of principal Order

2. The principal Order is amended by inserting after section 52 the following—

“52A.—(1) The Governor, acting in accordance with the advice of the Premier, may appoint no more than two Junior Ministers from among the elected members of the House of Assembly to assist in the performance of Ministerial functions relating to economic development.

(2) Section 50(1) shall apply in relation to Junior Ministers as it applies in relation to public officers.

(3) Sections 3(1)(b), 52(5) and (6), 53(3) and (4), 54, 56, 69(3) and 112(4) shall apply in relation to Junior Ministers as they apply in relation to Ministers.

(4) Sections 61, 69(4) and (5) and 74(1) shall apply in relation to Junior Ministers as they apply in relation to members of the Cabinet.”.

CHAPTER 237.

COMMISSIONS OF INQUIRY.

(29th July, 1880.)

2/1933
S.R.O. 22/1956
17/1970

Short title.

2. It shall be lawful for the Governor whenever he shall deem it advisable, to issue a commission appointing one or more commissioners, and authorising such commissioners, or any quorum of them therein mentioned, to inquire into the conduct or management of any department of the public service in the Territory, or of any public officer of the Territory, or of any parish or district thereof, or into any matter in which an inquiry would, in the opinion of the Governor, be for the public welfare. Each such commission shall specify the subject of inquiry, and may, in the discretion of the Governor, if there is more than one commissioner, direct which commissioner shall be chairman, and direct where and when such inquiry shall be made, and the report thereof rendered, and prescribe how such commission shall be executed, and may direct whether the inquiry shall, or shall not, be held in public. In the absence of a direction to the contrary, the inquiry shall be held in public, but the commissioners shall nevertheless be entitled to exclude any particular person, or persons, for the preservation of order, for the due conduct of the inquiry or for any other reason:

Power to Governor to appoint commissions of inquiry.

Provided that, when any inquiry, as aforesaid, shall be directed not to be held in public, it shall not be lawful for any person, without the authority of the Governor, to write, print, publish, circulate, or make public, or to procure for the purpose of writing, printing, publishing, circulating, or making public, or to cause to be written, printed, published, circulated, or made public, or to be in any way concerned in the writing, printing, publication, circulation, or making public of, the evidence, or any part thereof, taken on such inquiry, or the proceedings, or any part thereof, on such inquiry; and any person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable to pay a fine not exceeding four hundred and eighty dollars, or to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one year, or both.

Filling up of vacancies and alterations of commissions.

3. In case any commissioner shall be or become unable or unwilling to act, or shall die, the Governor may appoint another commissioner in his place; and any commission issued under this Act may be altered, as the Governor may deem fit, by any subsequent commission issued by the Governor, or may be revoked altogether by a notification to that effect published in the Gazette.

Death etc., of Governor not to affect commission.

4. No commission issued under this Act shall lapse by reason of, or be otherwise affected by, the death, absence, or removal of the Governor issuing the same.

Oath of commissioner.

5. It shall be the duty of each commissioner appointed under this Act to make and subscribe an oath that he will, faithfully, fully, impartially, and to the best of his ability, discharge the trust, and perform the duties, devolving upon him by virtue of such commission, which oath may be taken before any Justice of the Peace or Magistrate, and shall be deposited by the Commissioner with the Governor.

Appointment of secretary.

6. The Governor may appoint a secretary to attend the sittings of the commission, to record their proceedings, to keep their papers, summon and minute the testimony of witnesses, and generally to perform such duties, connected with such inquiry, as the commissioners shall prescribe, subject to the directions, if any, of the Governor.

Duties of commissioners.

7. It shall be the duty of the commissioners, after taking such oath, to make a full, faithful, and impartial inquiry into the matter specified in such commission, and to conduct such inquiry in accordance with the directions, if any, in the commission, and, in due course, to report to the Governor, in writing, the result of such inquiry, and also, when required, to furnish to the Governor, a full statement of the proceedings of such commission, and of the reasons leading to the conclusions arrived at or reported.

Chairman to have casting vote.

8. If the commissioners shall, in any case, be equally divided in any question that arises during the proceedings of the commission, the chairman of the commission shall have a second or casting vote.

9. The commissioners acting under this Act may make such rules for their own guidance, and the conduct and management of proceedings before them, and the hours and times and places for their sittings, not inconsistent with their commission, as they may, from time to time, think fit, and may, from time to time, adjourn for such time and to such place as they may think fit, subject only to the terms of their commission.

Commissioners may make rules, and adjourn meetings.

10. (1) Commissioners acting under this Act shall have the powers of a Judge of the High Court within the Territory in respect of the following matters—

Powers in relation to witnesses. 13/1963.

(a) summoning witnesses and parties concerned and examining such persons on oath;

(b) calling for the production of books, plans and documents; and

(c) receiving evidence by affidavit ordering that interrogatories be administered and requiring the person concerned to make a full and true reply.

(2) All summonses for the attendance of witnesses and other persons, or for the production of documents, may be in the form specified in the Schedule, and shall be signed by one of the commissioners, or by the secretary.

11. Every commissioner acting under this Act shall have in the exercise of his duty as a commissioner the same protection and immunity as a Judge of the High Court.

Protection of commissioners. 13/1963.

12. Any person whose conduct is the subject of inquiry under this Act, or who is in any way implicated, or concerned in the matter under inquiry, shall be entitled to be represented by counsel at the whole of the inquiry, and any other person who may consider it desirable that he should be so represented may, by leave of the commission, be represented in the manner aforesaid.

Representation by Counsel.

13. A barrister or solicitor appointed by the Attorney General to assist the commissioners, or a barrister or solicitor authorised by the commissioners to appear before them for the purpose of representing any person, or any other person authorised by the commissioners to appear before them may, so far as the commissioners think proper, examine or cross-examine any witness on any matter which the commissioners deem relevant to the inquiry and a witness so examined or cross-examined shall have the same privileges and be subject to the same liabilities as if he were examined by a commissioner.

Punishment of witnesses for perjury.

14. Any witness who shall wilfully give false evidence in any such inquiry, concerning the subject matter of such inquiry, shall be guilty of perjury, and be liable to be prosecuted and punished accordingly.

Attendance of witnesses, payment of expenses.

15. All persons summoned to attend and give evidence, or to produce books, plans or documents, or any other matter, at any sitting of any such commission, shall be bound to obey the summons served upon them as fully, in all respects, as witnesses are bound to obey subpoenas issued from the High Court, and shall be entitled to the like expenses as if they had been summoned to attend the High Court on a criminal trial, if the same shall be allowed by the commissioners, but the commissioners may disallow the whole or any part of such expenses in any case, if they think fit. Orders for the payment of such witnesses shall be made, as nearly as may be, as orders are made for the payment of witnesses at the High Court, and shall be paid at such time and in such manner as the Governor may direct. Every person refusing or omitting, without sufficient cause, to attend at the time and place mentioned in the summons served on him, and every person attending, but leaving the commission without the permission of the commissioners, or refusing to answer, or to answer fully and satisfactorily to the best of his knowledge and belief, all questions put to him by or with the concurrence of the commissioners, or refusing or omitting, without sufficient cause, to produce any books, plans, or documents, or other matters in his possession or under his control, and mentioned or referred to in the summons served on him, and every person who shall, at any sitting of the commission, wilfully insult any commissioner, or the secretary, or wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the commission, shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred and forty-four dollars:

Provided always, that no person giving evidence before the commission shall be compellable to incriminate himself, and every such person shall, in respect of any evidence given by him before the commission, be entitled to all the privileges to which a witness giving evidence before the High Court is entitled in respect of evidence given by him before such Court.

16. No statement made by any person who is called as a witness before any commission of inquiry, or any commissioners appointed in pursuance of this Act, in answer to any question put by or before such commission or commissioners, shall, except in cases of indictments for perjury, be admissible in evidence in any proceeding, civil or criminal.

Statement of witness before commission not admissible.

17. The Governor may direct the Commissioner of Police to detail constables to attend upon any such commissioners to preserve order during the proceedings of the commission, and to perform such other duties as usually pertain to their office when in attendance upon the High Court, and to serve summonses on witnesses, and to perform such ministerial duties as such commissioners shall direct.

Police to attend at commissions.

18. The Governor may direct what remuneration, if any, shall be paid to any commissioners acting under this Act, and to their secretary, and to any other persons employed in or about any such commission, and may direct payment of any other expenses attendant upon the carrying out of any such commission, or under any proceedings for any penalty under this Act. Such sums, so directed to be paid, shall be paid by the Financial Secretary out of the ordinary cash balance in the Treasury of the Territory.

Remuneration of commissioners and secretary.

19. All commissions and all process and proceedings before the commissioners under this Act shall be free from stamp duty.

Commissions free from stamp duty.

20. All commissions under this Act, and all revocations of any such commissions, shall be published in the Gazette, and shall take effect from the date of such publication.

Publication of commissions.

21. No proceedings shall be commenced for any penalty under this Act, except by the direction of the Attorney General, or of the commissioners. The commissioners may direct their secretary, or such other person as they may think fit, to commence and prosecute the proceedings for such penalty.

Recovery of penalties.

CHAPTER 36.

JURY.

(1st July, 1914.)

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be cited as the Jury Act. Short title.
2. (1) In this Act— Interpretation.

“alphabetical order” means alphabetical order of surnames;

“business” includes the cultivation of land:

Provided that, where two or more parcels of land are cultivated as distinct units, the cultivation of each such parcel shall be deemed to be a distinct business;

“civil proceeding” means any proceeding other than a criminal proceeding;

“counters” means slips, disks or pieces of wood, metal, paper, parchment, bone, ivory, or other similar substance;

“juror” means a person whose name is included in a jurors’ register for the time being in force;

“jurors’ register” when not qualified by the addition of a year, means jurors’ register for the time being in force;

“prescribed particulars” means the place of abode and the title, quality, calling, or business, and the property qualification;

“proceeding” includes cause, matter, or issue of fact, in the High Court;

“Registrar” includes representative authorised in writing by the Registrar;

"special jurors' list" when not qualified by the addition of a year, means the special jurors' list for the time being in force;

(2) "The prescribed manner" of distinguishing as a special juror in any list made under the provisions of section 8, and in any jurors' register, a person whose name is therein included, is by writing the letters "S.J." in the column headed "Remarks," opposite to the name of such person;

(3) "The prescribed manner" of entering names in a panel of array is by entering the names in alphabetical order; writing opposite to each name the place of abode of the person named; and prefixing the number "1" to the first name, the number "2" to the second name, and so on, in respect of each name, in an arithmetical series.

Books, ballot box and counters.

3. (1) The Registrar shall, if and when necessary, at the expense of the Territory, provide himself with a jurors' book, a special jurors' book, a preliminary panel book, a ballot box and a sufficient number of counters for carrying out the provisions of this Act.

(2) The counters so provided shall be numbered, respectively, in an arithmetical series, from one upwards, and shall be, as far as possible, exactly similar each to the other, except as regards the numbers, so as not to be distinguishable to the touch.

PART I.

QUALIFICATION OF JURORS.

4. Every person, between the ages of 21 and 60 years, who—

(a) has in his or her own name, or in trust for him or her, any lands or tenements, in the Territory, of the value of two hundred and forty dollars or upwards; or

(b) rents any lands or tenements, in the Territory, of the annual value of forty eight dollars, or upwards; or

(c) holds any office or situation, in the Territory, at a salary amounting, with allowances, to the sum of two hundred and forty dollars per annum, or upwards; or Qualification of common jurors.

14/1963.

(d) is in receipt of an income, from whatever source derived, of one hundred and forty-four dollars per annum, or upwards, shall, unless exempted or disqualified under the provisions of sections 6 and 7, be liable to serve as a common juror.

5. Every person, between the ages of 21 and 60 years, who—

Qualification of special jurors.
14/1963.

(a) has, in his or her own name, or in trust for him or her, any lands or tenements, in the Territory, of the value of four thousand, eight hundred dollars, or upwards; or

(b) has, in his own name, or in trust for him, any lands, within the Territory, of not less than one hundred acres in extent; or

(c) holds any office or situation, in the Territory, at a salary amounting, with allowances, to the sum of nine hundred and sixty dollars per annum, or upwards; or

(d) is in receipt of any income, from whatever source derived, of seven hundred and twenty dollars per annum, or upwards; or

(e) is the attorney of any tenant or trustee, absent from the Territory of lands, within the Territory, of not less than one hundred acres in extent, shall, unless exempted or disqualified under the provisions of sections 6 and 7 be liable to serve as a special juror: Provided that every person, liable, for the time being, to serve as a special juror, shall also be liable to serve as a common juror.

6. Each of the persons described in the First Schedule shall be exempt from serving either as a common juror or a special juror.

Exemption.
First Schedule.

7. Each of the following persons shall be disqualified from serving either as a common juror or a special juror, viz—

(a) aliens who have not been previously domiciled in the Territory for at least 10 years;

Disqualification.

(b) persons disabled by unsoundness of mind, or by deafness, blindness, or other permanent infirmity of body;

(c) persons who have been previously convicted of any treason, felony, or infamous crime, and have not received a free pardon; and

(d) persons who cannot read and write the English language and understand the same when spoken.

PART II.

JURORS' REGISTER AND SPECIAL JURORS' LIST.

8. Between the 1st and 7th days of December of every year, the Registrar—

Jurors' list.

(a) shall make out, in the form in the Second Schedule, a list, for the ensuing calendar year, in alphabetical order, of all persons resident in the Territory, who, in his opinion, are liable to serve as common jurors, with the full Christian name and surname, and the prescribed particulars, or each such person set forth, to the best of his knowledge and belief, in the proper columns of the list, and shall also distinguish in the list, in the prescribed manner, such of the said persons as are, in his opinion, also liable to serve as special jurors; and Second Schedule.

(b) when the list is complete, shall write at the end thereof a notice, in the form in the Second Schedule, stating the day on which the list will be revised by the Magistrate as hereinafter provided; which day shall be the day of the first sitting of the Magistrate's Court after the expiration of 14 days from the day of the publication of the list and notice as hereinafter provided.

9. (1) As soon as practicable after the Registrar has completed any such list and notice, he shall publish the same by causing a copy of the list and notice to be posted in a conspicuous place at, or near, the door, or one of the doors, of the Court House, and in such other place or places as the Governor may direct.

Publication of jurors' list.

(2) When the list and notice are published by copies being posted as aforesaid, the copies shall be kept posted until after the list has been revised as hereinafter provided.

10. (1) When any such list and notice have been made out and published by the Registrar, as aforesaid, then, at the first sitting of the Magistrate's Court which shall be held after the expiration of 14 days from the day of the publication aforesaid—

(a) the Registrar shall produce to the Magistrate the original list and notice; satisfy the Magistrate as to the day on which the same were published as aforesaid; and answer such questions as may be put to him by the Magistrate touching the list; and

(b) the Magistrate shall revise the said list and shall upon any evidence which may be adduced before him, or of his own knowledge, information and belief—

(i) strike out from the list the name of any person therein included, who, in the opinion of the Magistrate, is not liable to serve as a common juror;

(ii) add to the list the name of any person, who, in the opinion of the Magistrate, is liable to serve as a common juror: Provided that where the name of any person is so added, the full Christian name and surname, and the prescribed particulars, of each such person shall be set forth in the proper columns of the list, to the best of the Magistrate's knowledge, information and belief;

(iii) decide which of the persons, whose names were originally included in, or have been added by him to the list, are also liable to serve as special jurors, and see that the name of each of the persons, who, in his opinion, are so liable, is distinguished in the list in the prescribed manner, and that the name of no other person included in the list is so distinguished; and

(iv) correct any error or omission which shall appear to him to have been made in respect of the prescribed particulars of any person included in the list:

Provided that, before making any alteration in the list, the Magistrate shall hear any objection which the Registrar may make thereto.

(2) Any person may appear at the revision, either personally, or by his counsel or solicitor, and claim, and adduce evidence to show, that he is, or is not, liable to serve as a common juror, or as a special juror, as the case may be, or may, instead of appearing at the revision, give the Magistrate notice in writing of the particulars of his claim, supporting the same by such evidence as he may think fit, and, in this latter case, the Magistrate shall, as far as he reasonably can, inquire into the claim notwithstanding that the claimant does not appear before him:

Provided that, in any case where any claim is made under this subsection, the burden of proof shall lie on the person making it.

(3) The Magistrate may call any evidence which he may think fit with respect to any matter touching the revision.

(4) As soon as the list has been revised by the Magistrate, as aforesaid, he shall write a certificate thereon in the form in the Third Schedule and shall return the list to the Registrar.

Third Schedule.

Jurors' register.

11. (1) On the receipt of any such list, so revised and certified as aforesaid, the Registrar shall cause the list, but not the notice and certificate at the end thereof, to be copied into the jurors' book:

Provided that—

(a) in the heading, the word "Register" shall be substituted for the word "List."

(b) the names of the persons included in the list, as revised by the Magistrate, shall be copied in the jurors' book in alphabetical order.

(2) The copy of the jurors' list so made in the jurors' book shall be the jurors' register for the calendar year stated in the heading.

(3) Every jury register shall continue in force during the calendar year stated in the heading.

(4) Every person, whose name is included in the jurors' register, shall, while the register is in force, be liable to be summoned to, and serve as a common juror, as hereinafter provided.

Special jurors' list.

12. (1) As soon as any juror's register has been completed under the provisions of section 11, the Registrar shall cause a list to be made, in the special jurors' book, of the names of the persons included in the register, and therein distinguished, in the prescribed manner, as special jurors. In such list the names shall be copied in alphabetical order, and opposite to each name, shall be written the prescribed particulars, copied from the jurors' register, and the number "1" shall be prefixed to the first name, and the number "2" to the second name, and so on, in an arithmetical series until the last name is numbered. The list so made in the special jurors' book shall be headed "Special Jurors' List for the year" (filling in the year stated in the heading of the jurors' register) and shall be known as the special jurors' list for that year, and shall continue in force during that year.

(2) Every person whose name is included in the special jurors' list shall, while the list is in force, be liable to be summoned to serve as a special juror as hereinafter provided.

PART III.

AMENDMENT OF JURORS' REGISTER.

13. (1) At any time while a juror's register is in force—

Amendment of jurors' register.

(a) the Registrar, if he has cause to believe that any person, whose name is included in the register, is dead, or has permanently ceased to reside in the Territory, or is permanently disabled from serving as a juror by unsoundness of mind, or by blindness, deafness, or other bodily infirmity, shall bring the matter to the notice of the Magistrate, at the same time producing the register; and

(b) the Magistrate shall thereupon inquire into the matter, and if, either upon evidence adduced, or of his own knowledge, information and belief, he is of opinion that the person is dead, or has permanently ceased to reside in the Territory, or is permanently disabled from serving as a juror by unsoundness of mind, or bodily infirmity, as aforesaid, may cancel the entry in the jurors' register relating to such person, by ruling lines through the entry, and writing in the column of the register headed "Remarks," opposite to the entry, the word "cancelled," together with his signature and the date.

(2) When any entry in a register is cancelled under this section, the Registrar shall thereupon cancel the corresponding entry, (if any), in the special jurors' list, and shall also, if the name of the person to whom the entry relates is included in the last preliminary panel, and is not therein marked "Impanelled," cancel the name where it occurs in the said panel.

PART IV.

ARRAYS OF COMMON JURORS.

Time of impanelling.
Number to be impanelled.

14. (1) Whenever the date approaches for a sitting of the High Court, the Registrar shall, on such a day as will leave sufficient time for the persons impanelled to be duly summoned, as hereinafter provided, impanel in the manner hereinafter prescribed, an array of common jurors to serve at the said Court.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsection (4) of section 16, every array of common jurors shall consist of thirty persons, but any judge may, by an order in writing under his hand, direct a greater number to be impanelled and, when any such order has been made, the number directed in the order shall be impanelled accordingly.

Certain jurors not to be impanelled.

15. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (4) of section 16, the Registrar shall not impanel in an array of common jurors any juror, who is known, or believed, by him to be temporarily absent from the Territory, and not likely to return in time to be summoned to attend a sitting of the High Court, and shall not impanel in the same array of common jurors more than one of the jurors, who, to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, are employed, at the time, in the same business:

Provided that where the number of jurors employed in the same business exceeds eight the Registrar may impanel in the same array of common jurors one third of the number of jurors so employed at the time.

(2) Where two or more distinct businesses are carried on by, or on behalf or for the benefit of, the same person, or persons, the fact that a juror, employed in one of such businesses, has been impanelled to serve on an array, shall not excuse another juror, employed in another of such businesses, from being impanelled in the same array.

(3) Any person carrying on, or for the time being in charge of, any business in the Territory, may, from time to time, give to the Registrar a list of jurors employed in the business, and the Registrar, upon receiving the said list, shall, when he next proceeds to impanel a jury, make such enquiries as he may think fit, and act accordingly.

(4) The decision of the Registrar as to whether two or more jurors are, or are not, employed in the same business shall, for the purposes of this section, be final.

16. (1) When the Registrar is impaneling an array of common jurors, he shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (4), make in the preliminary panel book a preliminary panel, in the form in the Fourth Schedule, in which he shall, after any names, which under the provisions of section 17, are to be inserted therein, insert as many more names as may be required, taken alternately from the first and the last parts of the jurors' register, as follows, namely—impanelling.

Fourth Schedule.

(a) he shall ascertain which of the persons, whose names are included in the first part of the jurors' register, was impanelled last, at the last impaneling of an array of common jurors, whether in the same or the preceding year, and shall insert in the preliminary panel, as the next name, the name which in the register, immediately succeeds the name of such person;

(b) he shall next ascertain which of the persons, whose names are included in the last part of the register, was impanelled last, at the last impaneling aforesaid, and shall insert in the preliminary panel, as the next name, the name which, in the register, immediately precedes the name of such person;

(c) he shall insert in the preliminary panel, as the next name, the name, which, in the register, is the second name below the name of the person first ascertained, as above provided, and as the next name, the name which, in the register, is the second name above the name of the person last ascertained, as above provided, and so on, until as many names as may be required are inserted in the preliminary panel: Provided that, if and whenever, this is no longer possible, he shall insert in the preliminary panel the first name in the register, and next the last name in the register, and next the second name in the register and next the last name but one in the register, and so on, until as many names, as may be required, are inserted in the preliminary panel.

(2) As each name is included in the preliminary panel, whether taken from the last preceding preliminary panel, as prescribed in section 17, or from the register, as prescribed in subsection (1) the Registrar shall—

(a) if there is no objection, under section 15 to the person named being impanelled, write the word "Impanelled" opposite the name in the preliminary panel; or

(b) if the person named is known by the Registrar to be temporarily absent from the Territory, and not likely to return in time to be duly summoned for a sitting of the High Court, or is known to be employed in any business in which another person, whose name has already been inserted in the preliminary panel and therein marked "Impanelled," is known by the Registrar to be employed, the Registrar shall write in the preliminary panel, opposite the name of the person so absent, or so employed as first mentioned, instead of the word "Impanelled," the words, according to the circumstances, "Temporarily absent," or "Employed in the same business as _____," (inserting the name previously inserted in the preliminary panel, and therein marked "Impanelled," of the person known by the Registrar to be employed in the same business.)

(3) When thirty names inserted in the preliminary panel have been marked "Impanelled," as aforesaid, the preliminary panel shall be complete.

(4) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, if, when the Registrar is impanelling an array of common jurors to serve at the High Court, the number of jurors, whose names are included in the jurors' register, does not exceed thirty, the Registrar shall impanel, as the array to serve at the said Court, all the jurors whose names are included in the register, and such array shall be good and valid, although the number impanelled is less than thirty.

Preliminary panel.

17. Every preliminary panel shall be made in the preliminary panel book, and shall be signed and dated by the Registrar, and, whenever the Registrar is making out a preliminary panel under this section, if there are any names included, but not marked "Impanelled" in the last preceding preliminary panel the Registrar shall insert such names, or such of them as have not been cancelled under the provisions of section 13 as the first names in the new preliminary panel, in the same order in which they occur in the last preceding preliminary panel.

Panel of array.

18. (1) As soon as the Registrar has completed a preliminary panel as aforesaid, he shall cause the names, therein marked "Impanelled," to be entered in the prescribed manner in a panel of array.

(2) When an array is impanelled under subsection (4) of section 16 the names of the persons impanelled shall be entered in the prescribed manner in a panel of array.

PART V.

ARRAYS OF SPECIAL JURORS.

Special jury in criminal cases.

19. In any criminal proceeding, any Judge may, upon the application of the Crown, or the person charged, order the proceeding to be tried by a special jury, and, if he shall think fit, appoint a special day for the trial.

Special jury in civil cases.

20. (1) Any party to any civil proceeding, who is entitled to have the same tried by a Judge and jury, may, subject to the provisions of subsection (1) of section 44, have the proceeding tried by a Judge and special jury, on giving notice in writing to that effect to the other party to the proceeding, and also to the Registrar:

Provided that such notice is given not less than 14 days before the day fixed for the holding of the Court at which the proceeding is to be tried.

(2) A Judge may, at any time, on the application of any party to any civil proceeding, order, subject to the provisions of subsection (1) of section 44, that the proceeding be tried by a Judge and special jury upon such terms as he may think fit, and may appoint a special day on which the trial shall commence.

(3) The time specified in subsection (1) may be varied by rules of Court.

Mode of impanelling.

21. (1) Whenever an order has been made for the trial of any proceeding by a Judge and special jury, or whenever notice has been given pursuant to the provisions of subsection

(1) of section 20, the Registrar shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (2), and subsection (1) of section 44, appoint a time for impanelling the array of special jurors pursuant to such order, or notice, and shall give notice of the time so appointed to every party to the proceeding, and, at the time so appointed shall proceed to impanel the array as follows—

(a) he shall put into the ballot box, for every name included in the special jurors' list, a counter inscribed with a number corresponding to the number prefixed to that name in the said list, and, having thoroughly intermixed the counters, shall draw out of the box, one by one, thirty of the said counters, and, as each counter is drawn, write down in a list the number inscribed on the counter and the name in the special jurors' list to which that number is prefixed:

Provided that, if the number of names in the special jurors' list is less than thirty, the Registrar shall first enter in the list all the names included in the special jurors' list, and shall then, fairly and indifferently select, out of the persons of the greatest repute, property and intelligence, whose names are included in the jurors' register such a number, as, in addition to those whose names are already entered in the list then being prepared, will make up the full number of thirty, and shall enter in the last mentioned list the name of each person so selected;

(b) the plaintiff in the proceeding shall then be at liberty to strike out one of the thirty names contained in the said list and the defendant in the proceeding, another, and so on alternately, until eighteen names have been struck out:

Provided that if either the plaintiff or the defendant is absent or unrepresented or does not exercise his right, the Registrar shall strike out on his behalf:

And provided that in the case of a criminal proceeding the word "plaintiff" means the Crown and the word "defendant" the person charged;

(c) the Registrar shall then cause the twelve names remaining in the list to be entered in the prescribed manner in a panel of array;

(d) the persons, whose names are included in the said panel, shall be the array of special jurors to be summoned for the trial of the said proceeding;

(e) the Registrar shall, on demand of any party to the proceeding, supply him with a copy of the said panel as soon as possible after the panel is complete;

(f) any party to the proceeding, who is dissatisfied with the manner in which the array has been impanelled, or with the conduct of the Registrar in impanelling it, may apply to a Judge, who may, if he sees sufficient grounds, set aside the impanelling, and order another array to be impanelled, and give such directions in the matter as he may think fit.

(2) Whenever, in any proceeding, an array of special jurors has been impanelled, the parties to any other proceeding, which is to be tried with a special jury at the same Court as the first-mentioned proceeding, may agree in writing that the array impanelled in the first-mentioned proceeding shall be impanelled as the array in the proceeding to which they are parties, and, on the agreement being filed, the Registrar shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (1) of section 44, impanel the said array accordingly.

PART VI.

SUMMONING OF JURORS.

22. As soon as an array, whether of common or special jurors, has been impanelled, the Registrar shall proceed to summon each of the jurors included in the array to attend on the day fixed for the holding of the next sitting of the High Court, unless, in the case of an array of special jurors, another day has been appointed by a Judge, in which case the jurors included in the array shall be summoned to attend on that day.

Day for which jurors to be summoned.

Service of summons.

23. A summons to attend as a juror shall be signed by the Registrar, and may be served either—

(a) by being delivered to the juror, or left at his usual place of abode, at least six days before the day on which the juror is summoned to attend; or

(b) through the post office in the manner and on the conditions following—

(i) the summons and the duplicate thereof shall each be legibly addressed to the juror at his place of abode, as described in the jurors' register, or, at such other address as the Registrar shall, after enquiry, believe to be correct, and the summons and the duplicate thereof shall each have the words "Jury Summons" legibly written thereon on the same side as the address;

- (ii) the summons, together with the duplicate thereof, shall be delivered to the postmaster of the principal post office in the Territory at his office during business hours at least eight days before the day on which the juror is cited to attend;
- (iii) the postmaster shall compare the address on the duplicate with the address on the summons, and if they both agree, and if the summons and the duplicate both have legibly written thereon the words "Jury Summons," shall stamp the duplicate with the stamp of the post office, and return it to the person who brought it to him, and shall keep the summons for transmission to its address, treating it in all respects as a registered letter except that it shall be forwarded open and that no fee shall be charged;
- (iv) if it is reported to the postmaster that any summons so kept by him has not been delivered at its address, the postmaster shall endorse thereon the cause of the non-delivery, and forward it without delay to the Registrar, who shall forthwith endorse on the face of the duplicate the words "Not delivered" and sign and date such endorsement;
- (v) a duplicate purporting to be a summons to a juror, stamped as hereinbefore provided and not endorsed "Not delivered," as hereinbefore provided, shall be prima facie evidence that the summons was duly served on the juror:

Provided that no such summons shall be served through the post office in any part of the Territory in the manner herein provided, unless and until the Governor shall, in writing, notify the postmaster that jury summonses may be served through the post office in the Territory or in that part thereof, and the Governor may cancel, alter, or amend such notification at any time.

PART VII.

TRIALS.

24. Every application, made at a sitting of the High Court, for the quashing of an array, shall be heard and determined by the presiding Judge, and no array shall be quashed on the ground of any formal defect, or of any breach of any of the provisions of this Act, unless the presiding Judge is satisfied that it is expedient, on the merits and in the interests of justice, that the array should be quashed.

Quashing of array.

25. If, at any sitting of the High Court, a proceeding is brought on for trial before the jury impanelled for the trial of any other proceeding have been discharged, the presiding Judge may order another jury to be impanelled from the jurors who are not then impanelled.

Impanelling of further jury.

26. Every jury impanelled for the trial of any proceeding shall consist of nine persons and no more.

Number of jury.

27. When a common jury is being impanelled for the trial in the High Court of any person or persons charged with any treason, felony or misdemeanour—

Peremptory challenges and standing by.

(a) the person charged, or each of the persons charged, may peremptorily and without assigning cause challenge any number of jurors not exceeding three;

(b) the Crown shall have the same right as, at the commencement of this Act, it has in England, to ask that jurors stand by until the panel has been "gone through" or perused.

28. (1) When a jury is being impanelled for the trial of any proceeding, any juror, whose name has been drawn as hereinbefore provided, may be challenged for cause by any of the parties to the issue, and, where any such challenge is made, the same shall be inquired into by the presiding Judge, who, after hearing any evidence which may be adduced, may allow, or disallow such challenge, and the decision of the Judge, as to what is or is not, sufficient cause, shall be final.

Challenges for cause.

(2) In this section "cause" means anything which, in the opinion of the presiding Judge, renders it improper, or inadvisable, that the person challenged should be impanelled for the trial of the proceeding.

Mode of impaneling

29. (1) A jury for the trial of a proceeding shall be impanelled as follows, that is to say—

(a) the Registrar shall place in the ballot box, for every name included in the panel of the array, whether it be an array of common or special jurors, a counter inscribed with a number corresponding to the number prefixed to the name in the panel, and, having thoroughly intermixed the counters, shall proceed to draw, one by one, out of the box, nine counters, and, as each counter is drawn, shall write down the number inscribed on the counter, and, opposite to the number, the name in the panel to which that number is prefixed, and call out the name. The juror named shall then enter the jurors' box:

Provided that, if any jurors so drawn and called do not appear and enter the jurors' box, or, in a criminal proceeding, being present, are asked by the Crown to stand by, the Registrar shall proceed in the manner above mentioned until nine jurors have entered the jurors' box. If, from any cause, the full number of nine cannot be made up from the jurors included in the array, the presiding Judge may require as many other jurors present to serve on the jury as may be necessary to complete the full number, and every juror so required shall be liable to serve as a juror for the trial of the said proceeding, and shall, as soon as his name is called, enter the jurors' box.

(b) When nine jurors are in the jurors' box, if any challenges are made, whether peremptorily or for cause, as each challenge is made, it shall be heard and determined, and, if the challenge is allowed, the juror challenged shall leave the box, and another juror be selected in the manner above mentioned, and, on his entering the box, the next challenge, if any, shall be made and determined, and, if it is allowed, the juror challenged shall leave the box, and another juror be selected in his stead, in the manner above mentioned, and shall enter the box.

(c) As soon as nine men are in the jurors' box, if any are not challenged, or have not been successfully challenged, they shall be the jurors impanelled for the trial of the proceeding, and shall then be counted and sworn.

(d) In every criminal proceeding, the person charged shall, before any juror is sworn, be informed of his right, and be given a reasonable opportunity to challenge whether peremptorily or for cause, before the Registrar begins to administer the oath to any of the jurors, but no challenge shall be allowed after the Registrar has, with the leave of the presiding Judge, begun to administer the oath to any of the jurors impanelled.

(2) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, where, at any sitting of the High Court, no objection shall be made by any party to a proceeding, the proceeding may be tried by the Judge with the same jury which, at the same Court has previously tried, or been drawn to try, another proceeding, or the Judge may order any of the said jury to whom both parties object, or who is, or are, excused by the Judge, or successfully challenged, to withdraw, and another juror or other jurors to be drawn instead, and may try the first mentioned proceeding with a jury composed of the residue of the original jury and such additional juror or jurors. The Jury, by whom any proceeding is to be tried under this section, shall first be duly sworn for the trial of the proceeding in the same manner as if they had been impanelled under subsection (1).

30. Jurors impanelled for the trial of any proceeding shall be sworn in the same manner, subject to the provisions of section 51, and with the same form of oath, in and with which jurors, impanelled in England for the trial of a similar proceeding, might, at the commencement of this Act, be sworn.

Swearing jury.

31. Whenever, at the trial of any proceeding, the presiding Judge is of opinion that it is expedient, in the interest of justice, that the jury impanelled to try the proceeding should have a view of any place, or of any real or personal property, connected with the proceeding, the Judge may order such view to be made accordingly, under such conditions as to costs, and generally, as he shall think fit.

View.

32. After a jury has been impanelled and sworn for the trial of a proceeding, they may, in the discretion of the presiding Judge, and subject to such conditions as he may think fit, be allowed, at any time before giving their verdict, reasonable refreshment, to be procured in criminal cases at the expense of the Crown, and in civil cases at their own expense.

Refreshment to jury.

Death, absence or incapacity of juror.

33. If, during the trial of any proceeding, not being the trial of a capital charge, one of the jury shall die, or become incapable of serving, or shall absent himself, it shall not be necessary to discharge the jury, or to add thereunto another juror, but the trial shall be proceeded with by the remaining eight jurors notwithstanding such death, absence or incapacity.

Separation of jury during adjournments. 5/1968

34. (1) Whenever, at any sitting of the High Court, the trial of any person charged with any felony, other than treason, or treason felony, or with any misdemeanour, is adjourned, before the jury begin to consider their verdict, either from one day to another day, or from one hour to another hour of the same day the Judge may permit the jury to leave the Court and separate until the close of the said adjournment, provided the following oath has been previously administered to them in open court—

"You swear that, during any adjournment of this trial of the issue joined between Our Sovereign Lady the Queen and the prisoner at the bar (or defendant as the case may be) which you have been sworn to try, you will not, whilst separated and until you shall be assembled in Court again, speak with, listen to, or hold any communication, verbal, written or otherwise, with any person whomsoever, other than your fellow jurors impanelled and sworn for the trial of the said issue, on any matter whatever relative to the said trial; and that, upon the termination of every adjournment of the said trial, you will again come into this Court. So help you God."

(2) When the said oath has once been taken by a juror in the course of a trial, it shall not be necessary to administer it to him again during the same trial.

(3) If any juror shall refuse to take the said oath, his refusal shall not prevent the separation or departure of so many of the jurors as shall have taken it, but the juror so refusing shall be kept, during such adjournment by the proper officers sworn, in the usual manner, neither themselves to speak to, nor hold any communication with, such juror touching any matter relative to the said trial.

Verdict.

35. A verdict of a jury shall not, in any proceeding, be accepted within two hours after the conclusion of the Judge's summing up, unless it is unanimous; but, after the expiration of two hours from the conclusion of the summing up, any verdict, in which seven of them agree, may be accepted as the verdict of the whole, unless it is the verdict of guilty, or not guilty, of a capital charge, which shall not be accepted at any time unless it is unanimous.

36. If, in any proceeding, no verdict is delivered by a jury within four hours after the conclusion of the summing up of the presiding Judge, and the Judge is satisfied that there is no prospect of the jury agreeing, he may discharge them.

Jury not agreeing may, in certain cases, be discharged.

37. Whenever, from any cause, the trial of any proceeding shall prove abortive, the presiding Judge may discharge the jury, and the proceeding may be tried with a new jury, duly impanelled and sworn, either at the same, or, if the Judge so order, at the next sitting of the High Court, in the same manner as if the former abortive trial had not taken place.

New trial in case of abortive trial.

PART VIII.

EXCUSES OF JURORS.

Excusing jurors.

38. No juror, duly summoned to attend at a sitting of the High Court, shall be entitled to be excused from attendance thereat, on the ground of any exemption, or disqualification, or on any other ground, save and except illness or unavoidable accident, but the Judge presiding at the said Court, or, before the commencement of the sitting, any Judge, or, if no Judge is present in the Territory, the Registrar, may, upon reasonable and sufficient cause being shown upon oath, or where the cause is the state of the juror's health, on a certificate purporting to be signed by a duly qualified medical practitioner, exempt a juror summoned to attend thereat from attendance during the whole or any part of the sitting.

38A. Any Judge before whom a case is or may be heard may, in his discretion, on an application made by a woman to be exempted from service on a jury by reason of the nature of the evidence to be given or of the issues to be tried, grant such exemption.

Exemption of woman in certain cases.

PART IX.

FINES OF JURORS.

Fines.

39. (1) As soon as may be convenient after the opening of a sitting of the High Court, the names of the jurors impanelled to serve thereat shall be called, and every juror, who, having been duly summoned, does not answer to his name, after it has been thrice called, may be fined by the presiding Judge any sum not exceeding four dollars and eighty cents.

(2) Whenever at any sitting of the said Court a jury is being impanelled and sworn for the trial of any proceeding—
 (a) every juror duly summoned to attend the Court, provided he has not been excused, and provided he is not at the time serving on a jury for the trial of another proceeding; and

(b) every juror present in Court and required by the Judge to serve on a jury under the provisions of subsection (1) of section 29, who fails to answer to his name when called, or refuses to enter the jury box, or leaves the jury box without the permission of the Judge, or refuses to be sworn for the trial of the proceeding, may be fined by the presiding Judge any sum not exceeding two hundred and forty dollars.

(3) Every juror sworn to try a proceeding at a sitting of the High Court, who shall leave the jury box without the permission of the presiding Judge, or who, when the jury are allowed to separate during any adjournment of the Court, fails to return into Court at the termination of the adjournment, may be fined by the presiding Judge any sum not exceeding two hundred and forty dollars.

Registrar to record fines.

40. Whenever a juror is fined under the preceding section of this Act, the Registrar shall record in his minute book the name of the juror and the amount and cause of the fine.

Reduction or remission of fines.

41. (1) Whenever a juror is fined under this Act, the presiding Judge may, at any time during, or within one week after the closing of the Court, upon sufficient cause being shown, reduce or remit the fine.

(2) Whenever a Judge, under this section, reduces, or remits, any fine, he shall give due notice of such reduction or remission, to the Registrar, and the Registrar shall thereupon duly note such remission or reduction, accordingly, in the margin of his minute book, opposite to the entry therein of the imposing of the fine.

Payment and recovery of fines.

42. (1) Where any fine has been imposed on a juror under this Act, and the fine has not been remitted, the amount of the fine, or, if the fine has been reduced, the amount to which the fine has been reduced, shall be paid to the Registrar before the closing of the session of the Court then in progress, and, in case of default, the Registrar shall immediately after the closing of the said session issue a warrant, directed to the Provost Marshal, requiring him to levy by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the juror, the amount of the fine, or, if the fine has been reduced, the amount to which the fine has been reduced, and every such warrant shall be executed in the same manner as a writ of fiere facias in the High Court.

(2) Where any such levy is made, the amount of the fine, or, if the fine has been reduced, the amount to which the fine has been reduced, shall, together with the reasonable expenses of the levy, be paid out of the proceeds thereof, and the surplus, if any, of the proceeds of the levy shall be returned to the juror.

(3) In case any warrant is issued, as in this section provided, and no goods and chattels of the juror can be found on which to levy, or, in case any levy is made as in this section provided, and the proceeds of the levy shall be insufficient to pay the reasonable expenses of the levy and the amount to recover which the levy was made, any Judge, on the application of the Registrar, such application being supported by an affidavit, or affidavits, verifying the facts, may, by warrant of commitment under his hand directed to the Provost Marshal and the keeper of the prison, order the juror to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding one month, unless the amount due in respect of the warrant to levy and the execution thereof, is sooner paid, and may issue such further process as may be necessary to enforce the said order.

Provided that, where any application is made under this section for a warrant of commitment, the Judge may adjourn the application and order notice thereof to be served on the juror.

PART X.

PAYMENT OF JURORS.

Scale in civil proceedings.

43. (1) Every juror who attends at the Court for the trial of a civil proceeding in obedience to a summons served upon him in that behalf, under this Act, shall be entitled to receive the sums in this subsection mentioned, that is to say—

(a) in the case of special jurors summoned as such and duly sworn for the trial of the proceeding, the sum of one dollar and forty-four cents for each day or part of a day during which they shall serve as jurors;

(b) in the case of special jurors summoned as such but not sworn for the trial of the proceeding, the sum of one dollar and forty-four cents only;

(c) in the case of common jurors duly sworn for the trial of the proceeding, the sum of ninety-six cents for each day or part of a day during which they shall serve as jurors;

(d) in the case of common jurors not sworn for the trial of the proceeding, the sum of ninety-six cents only;

(e) in the case of all jurors, the expenses actually incurred in travelling to the Court where the civil proceeding is tried, but not exceeding twelve cents per mile for every mile of the journey travelled:

Provided that jurors not sworn for the trial of a proceeding shall be entitled to receive the expenses incurred for travelling in respect of the first day's attendance only.

(2) Every common juror who attends at the High Court for the trial of criminal proceedings in obedience to a summons served upon him in that behalf under this Act, and who is duly sworn for the trial of a civil proceeding, shall be entitled to receive—

(a) the sum of ninety-six cents for each day or part of a day during which he serves as a juror in the civil proceeding.

(b) the expenses actually incurred in travelling to the Court where the civil proceeding is tried, but not exceeding twelve cents per mile:

Provided that no juror shall receive an allowance under this enactment who shall be entitled to receive the allowance provided by subsection (1) of section 47.

(3) Every juror who by reason of his service as a juror in the trial of a civil proceeding is necessarily absent from his home at night shall be entitled to receive in addition to the sums hereinbefore in this section mentioned, the following sums, that is to say—

(a) in the case of a special juror, for each night while so absent, the sum of ninety-six cents;

(b) in the case of a common juror, for each night while so absent, the sum of forty-eight cents.

44. (1) No array of special jurors shall be impanelled in any civil proceeding, unless the party applying for the impanelling shall first deposit with the Registrar such sum as the Registrar may think fit, for the payment, in accordance with section 43, of such of the jurors, included in the said array, as may afterwards be impanelled as a jury for the trial of the said proceeding.

Deposit in advance of jury money.

(2) No common jury shall be impanelled for the trial of any civil proceeding, unless the party applying for the impanelling has first deposited with the Registrar, such sum as the Registrar may think fit, for the payment of the jury, in accordance with the provisions of section 43.

(3) Where the decision of the Registrar as to the amount of any deposit payable under this section is questioned by the party by whom it is to be paid, then, if or whenever a judge is present in the Territory, the Judge shall hear the Registrar and the party, and decide what shall be the amount of the deposit.

45. (1) Where any deposit is made, in any civil proceeding, under the provisions of section 44, the Registrar shall, at the close of each day during which the jury serve on the trial of the proceeding, pay, out of the deposit, to each of the jurors impanelled, the sum to which he is entitled under the provisions of section 43, and, if, after the jury have been discharged, the deposit is not yet exhausted, shall pay the surplus to the party by whom the deposit was made, but, if and whenever, at the close of any day, the money deposited for the payment of the jurors is exhausted, he shall at once report the fact to the presiding Judge, who shall forthwith discharge the jury, unless the party, at whose instance the jury was impanelled, or any other party to the proceeding, shall forthwith deposit with the Registrar such further sum as the Judge shall think fit for the payment of the jury as aforesaid.

Payment of jurors during trial.

(2) Whenever a jury is discharged under the provisions of this section, the trial shall proceed before the Judge alone in the same manner as if the jury had not been impanelled.

Costs consequent on trial by jury.

46. (1) Whenever any civil proceeding is tried by a common jury, and the costs of the trial are awarded to the party to the proceeding at whose instance the jury was impanelled, such costs shall, unless the presiding Judge otherwise order, include the moneys which have been paid to the jury under the provisions of section 45.

(2) Whenever a civil proceeding is tried by a special jury, and the costs of the trial are awarded to the party to the proceeding at whose instance the special jury was impanelled, the costs so awarded shall not include any of the additional costs occasioned by the proceeding being tried by a special jury instead of a common jury, unless the Judge, before whom the proceeding was tried shall, before the taxation of the costs, certify in writing, under his hand, that the same was, in his opinion, a proper proceeding to be tried by a special jury.

Provided that, in default of such certificate, the party to whom the costs have been awarded, shall unless the Judge presiding at the trial otherwise order, be allowed the sums, which would, under the provisions of section 45, have been paid to a common jury.

Rules for payment of jurors out of public funds.

47. (1) The Governor in Council may make rules authorising the payment, of such allowances, on such scales and in such cases, as he may think fit, to jurors attending at the High Court, in pursuance of summonses under this Act, or impanelled under the provisions of this Act:

Provided that no juror shall receive any allowance, under the said rules, in respect of any day on which he has served on a jury impanelled and sworn for the trial of a civil proceeding.

(2) The said allowances may include compensation for loss of time, and expenses paid, or incurred, in going to, attending at, and returning from, the said Court.

(3) All allowances payable under any such rules, shall be paid, on the warrant of the Governor, out of the Treasury.

PART XI.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

48. No alien shall be entitled to be tried by a jury de medietate linguae, but every alien shall be triable by a jury impanelled and sworn under this Act, in the same manner as if he were a British subject. Trial of aliens.

49. Where any person holds the combined offices of Registrar and Magistrate, he may perform the duties imposed on him by this Act in respect of each of the said offices, notwithstanding such combination. Combination of offices.

50. Whenever the taking of an oath is required under this Act, the provisions of the Oaths Act shall apply. Affirmations in lieu of oath. Cap. 51.

51. Whenever a juror is sworn, under the provisions of this Act, upon a Book, he shall not be required to kiss the Book, but shall hold it in his right hand, while the oath is being administered to him, and when the oath has been administered to him, shall say "I will," or such other words of assent as shall be directed by the presiding Judge. Kissing the Book in swearing.

JURORS' LIST FOR THE YEAR 19

Christian and Surname at length.	Place of abode.	Calling.	Nature of Qualification.	Remarks.

NOTICE.

The above are the persons whom it is proposed should be inserted in the Jurors' Register for the year 19 . The list will be revised at the sittings of the Magistrates' Court to be holden at _____, on the _____ day of _____, at _____ o'clock, and the Magistrate may then make such changes therein as he may think fit, either by adding or striking out names, or otherwise. Any person, whether included or not included in the said list, may then appear personally, or by his counsel or solicitor, and claim that he is, or is not, liable to serve as a common or special juror, as the case may be, or, if unable to attend personally, may give the Magistrate notice in writing of his claim, supporting it by such evidence as he may think fit, and the Magistrate will then, as far as he reasonably can, inquire into the claim. The Magistrate's decision in revising the said list will be conclusive, and all persons included in the said list, after it has been revised by the Magistrate, will be liable during the year 19 to be summoned and serve as common or special jurors, as the case may be, notwithstanding any disqualification or exemption other than illness or unavoidable accident.

Dated this _____ day of _____ 19 .
Registrar.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

S. 10 (4).

I CERTIFY that this list has been revised by me, and that it is, to the best of my knowledge, information and belief, a true and correct list of the persons who are liable to serve in the Territory as common jurors, and that such, and such only, of the said persons as are also liable to serve as special jurors, are, in the said list, distinguished as such in the prescribed manner.

13/1987

1. This Act may be cited as the Non-belongers Land Holding Regulation Act.

Short title.
31/1977.

2. In this Act—

Interpretation.

“banker” means any person, body corporate, partnership or unincorporated body of persons lawfully carrying on the business of banking in the Territory who holds a general banking licence under section 5 (2) (a) of the Banking Ordinance;

“debenture” includes every mortgage or charge by a company whether floating or otherwise on any of the company’s property or on its undertaking or on its uncalled capital and also every obligation by the company (not being a bill of exchange or promissory note) for the payment of a debt or the repayment of money lent or to be lent;

“member of a company” includes any person entitled under the memorandum or articles or any resolution of the company to participate in its assets or in its divisible profits but a servant or agent of the company shall not be deemed to be a member by reason only that the amount of his emoluments depends wholly or partially on the amount of the company’s profits;

“non-belonger” means any person other than a person deemed to belong to the Virgin Islands under the provisions of section 2 (2) of the Constitution and includes a non-belonger company;

13/1987.

13/1987.

(i) any company incorporated outside the Territory;

(ii) any company incorporated in the Territory and to which the provisions of section 6 apply;

“share” includes stock and in the case of a company not having a share capital the interest of a member in the assets of the company;

“unlicensed non-belonger” means a non-belonger who does not hold a licence granted under this Act.

PART I.

HOLDING OF LAND BY UNLICENSED NON-BELONGERS.

Forfeiture of land and mortgages held by unlicensed aliens.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Act, neither land in the Territory nor a mortgage on land in the Territory shall, after the commencement of this Act, be held by an unlicensed alien, and any land or mortgage so held shall be forfeited to Her Majesty:

Provided that—

9/1961.

(a) land may be acquired and held by on an annual tenancy or for any less interest for the purposes of his residence, trade, or business, but an unlicensed non-belonger shall not so hold more than five acres of land in all;

9/1961.

(b) land or any interest therein acquired by a banker in the exercise of any right of foreclosure of a mortgage held by such banker shall not be forfeited to Her Majesty while such land or interest therein is held by such banker within a period of five years from the date of such acquisition or within such extended time (if any) as the Governor may decide to be reasonable;

13/1987.

(c) land or any interest therein acquired by an unlicensed non-belonger by sale from a banker who—

(i) holds such land or interest therein under the preceding paragraph (b); or

(ii) sells such land or interest therein in the exercise of any right or power as mortgagee under a mortgage held by such banker, shall not be subject to the provisions of this Act;

(d) land acquired by an unlicensed non-belonger under a will or on an intestacy shall not be forfeited if, within one year from the death of the testator or intestate or within such extended time (if any) as the Governor may decide to be reasonable, the land is sold or the non-belonger obtains a licence to hold the land;

(e) a mortgage acquired by an unlicensed non-belonger under a will or on an intestacy shall not be forfeited; but the non-belonger shall not unless he obtains a licence to hold the mortgage, be entitled to foreclose or enter into possession of the mortgage land;

(f) (i) nothing in this Act shall affect the interest of a judgment creditor in the land of his judgment debtor, but save as hereinafter provided the debtor's land shall not be acquired by an unlicensed non-belonger; 9/1961.

(ii) land or any interest therein acquired by an unlicensed non-belonger on sale in the enforcement of any right or power as mortgagee under a mortgage held by a banker shall not be subject to the provisions of this Act; 13/1987.

(g) nothing in this Act shall affect the estate or interest of a non-belonger in any land or mortgage held by him at the commencement of this Act;

(h) nothing in this Act shall affect any citizen or subject of a foreign state upon whom there has been conferred by Treaty the right to hold land within the Territory or the Government of any foreign state in so far as such Government may be enabled to own land within the Territory for consular use. 13/1987.

4. (1) The Governor may grant a licence—

(a) to a non-belonger;

(b) to a non-belonger company that has been granted any licence required under section 9, to hold any land or any interest therein as owner, tenant or mortgagee.

Licenses for non-belongers and non-belonger companies to hold land or mortgages. 13/1987.

(2) A licence granted under subsection (1), other than a licence granted under the provisions of the Banking Act, to hold a general banking licence shall—

(a) be subject to such terms and conditions as the Governor may deem fit; and

(b) be operative only as to the person or company, as the case may be, and the land described and as to the interest specified therein.

(3) A licence granted under this Act shall be of no force or effect until registered in the Record Office of the Territory.

(4) On the breach of any condition in a licence granted under this Act, the land or interest therein of the non-belonger or the non-belonger company held under authority thereof shall be forfeited to Her Majesty or such non-belonger or non-belonger company shall be subject to such penalty as the Governor may determine.

Effect of forfeiture.

5. (1) Land or a mortgage forfeited under this Act shall not vest in Her Majesty unless and until a judgment is obtained declaring the forfeiture; but on such judgment being obtained the title of Her Majesty shall relate back to and commence at the time when the forfeiture took place.

(2) A judgment declaring a forfeiture of land shall operate to vest in Her Majesty all the estate and interest of the non-belonger in the forfeited land.

(3) A judgment declaring a forfeiture of a mortgage shall operate to vest in Her Majesty all the estate and interest of the non-belonger in the mortgaged land subject to any right of redemption subsisting therein, and also to vest in Her Majesty the right to recover and receive and to enforce all securities for the mortgage money.

No. 1 of 1950. Virgin Islands Constitution.

LEEWARD ISLANDS.

[L.S.]

I ASSENT,

P. D. MACDONALD,

Acting Governor.

21th July, 1950.

LEEWARD ISLANDS.

No. 1 of 1950.

An Act to alter the present legislative authority of, and to provide for the constitution of a Legislative Council for, the Presidency of the Virgin Islands.

WHEREAS by section 10 of the Leeward Islands Act, 1871, it is enacted that, subject as is therein mentioned, the Governor with the consent of the General Legislative Council may make laws for the Leeward Islands or any part thereof, on, among other matters, such subjects in respect of each Presidency as the Island Legislature thereof may declare to be within the competency of the General Legislature:

Preamble.
34 & 35 Vict,
c. 107.

AND WHEREAS by the Constitution Ordinance, 1902, of the Presidency of the Virgin Islands, it is enacted and declared that the constitution of the said Presidency is a subject within the legislative competency of the General Legislature:

1/1902.

AND WHEREAS in pursuance of the said enactment and declaration the Virgin Islands Act was passed whereunder the Legislative Council then constituted for the Presidency of the Virgin Islands ceased to be determined after the commencement of the said Act and the Governor of the Leeward Islands was thereunder empowered to make Ordinances for the peace, order and good government of the said Presidency:

Cap. 82.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the constitution of the said Presidency of the Virgin Islands should now be altered and that a Legislative Council be constituted for the said Presidency in manner hereinafter appearing:

LEEWARD ISLANDS.

2 Virgin Islands Constitution, No 1 of 1950

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Governor and General Legislative Council of the Leeward Islands as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Virgin Islands Constitution Act, 1950.

Interpretation.

2. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

“clear income” means the gross income received by a person for his own use, less such payments made by him as would be allowable as deductions—excepting those allowed in respect of earned income, residence in the Presidency, British nationality, a wife, children and life insurance premiums—in arriving at a chargeable income under the provisions of any Income Tax Ordinance, or regulations made thereunder, for the time being in force in the Presidency;

“Commissioner” means the person for the time being holding the office of Commissioner of the Presidency and includes every person for the time being acting as Commissioner in his stead;

“Council” means the Legislative Council of the Presidency;

“dollars” mean dollars in the currency of the Colony;

“election” means an election of members to the Council;

“minister of religion” means any clergyman, minister, priest, or other person who exercises spiritual functions or performs the offices of religion for or in respect of any Christian or other Church, community or body within the Presidency;

“Proclamation” means a written or printed notice under the hand of the Governor, published by his order in the Presidency; of the Virgin Islands, 1951. 3 ISLANDS.

“Presidency” means the Presidency of the Virgin Islands in the Colony;

“public office” means any office of emolument in the service of the Crown, or of a municipal corporation within the Presidency;

“registering officer” means a person appointed as such by the Governor in respect of the registration of voters.

(2) References in this Act to His Majesty's dominions shall have effect as if they included references to all British protectorates and British protected states and to all territories administered by the Government of any part of His Majesty's dominions under the trusteeship system of the United Nations.

(3) For the purposes of this Act a person shall not be considered to hold an office of emolument under the Crown by reason only that he is in receipt of a pension or other like allowance in respect of service under the Crown; and if it shall be declared by any law in force in the Presidency that an office shall not be an office of emolument under the Crown for all or any of the purposes of this Act, this Act shall have effect accordingly as if such law were enacted therein.

(4) This Act shall be construed—

(a) as if subsection (1) of section 1 of the India (Consequential Provision) Act, 1949, applied to it in the same way as that subsection applies to laws in force on the date mentioned in that subsection; and

Geo. 6. c. 92

(b) as if subsection (2) of section 3 of the British Nationality Act, 1948, as interpreted by subsection (1) of section 1 of the Ireland Act, 1949, and subsection (2) of section 1 of the Ireland Act, 1951, applied to it as if those subsections applied to laws in force at the dates of the commencement of those Acts respectively.

11 & 12 Geo. 6.
c. 56

Abrogation of power of Governor to legislate and constitution of Legislative Council.

3. From and after the coming into operation of this Act, the power vested in the Governor to make Ordinances for the peace, order and good government of the Presidency shall cease and determine, and there shall be in and for the Presidency a Legislative Council which shall be constituted in such manner and have such powers as are hereinafter provided.

Composition of Council.

4. The Council shall be composed of three official members, two nominated members and four elected members.

Official members.

5. (1) The official members shall be—

(a) The Commissioner as President.

(b) Two other persons holding office in the public service of the Colony or the Presidency, appointed by office or by name by His Majesty by any Instruction or Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, or by the Governor by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency in pursuance of instructions from His Majesty through the Secretary of State.

Nominated members.

(2) The nominated members shall be such persons not holding public office as may from time to time be appointed by His Majesty by any Instruction or Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, or by the Governor by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency in pursuance of instructions from His Majesty through the Secretary of State.

Elected members.

(3) The elected members shall be persons qualified as hereinafter provided and elected in manner provided by or in pursuance of any law enacted under this Act.

Precedence of members.

6. The members of the Council shall take precedence as His Majesty may specially assign and in default thereof, first the official members according to the priority of the Instruments appointing them to be members or, if appointed by the same

Instrument, according to the order in which they are named therein; secondly, the nominated and elected members according to the respective dates of the Instruments appointing them or upon which they were declared elected, as the case may be.

If as regards two or more members other than official members such dates coincide, the members shall take precedence—

(a) in the case of two nominated members appointed by the same Instrument, in the order in which they are named therein;

(b) in the case of two or more elected members, not having obtained the same number of votes, according to the number of votes obtained by each;

(c) in any other case according to the alphabetical order of their names.

7. The Commissioner may summon to the Council the person for the time being performing the functions of head of any Government department in the Colony notwithstanding that such person may not be a member of the Council, when in the opinion of the Commissioner the business before the Council renders the presence of such person desirable. Any person so summoned shall be entitled to take part in the proceedings of the Council relating to the matter in respect of which he was summoned but shall not thereby become a member of the Council and shall not have the right to vote in the Council.

Power to summon officials to attend meetings of Council.

8. (1) Whenever the functions of an office, the holder of which is ex-officio a member of the Council, are being lawfully discharged by some other official member of the Council, whether appointed by office or by name or whenever any official member shall be declared by the Governor by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency to be incapable of acting as a member of the Council, or be suspended from the exercise of his functions as a member or be absent from the Presidency, the Governor may by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Pres-

Provisional appointment of official and nominated members.

Presidency appoint some other person holding public office under the Government of the Colony or the Presidency to be provisionally a member of the Council to fill the vacancy thereby created in the number of the official members. Every such provisional appointment may be disallowed by His Majesty through the Secretary of State, or may be revoked by the Governor by any such Instrument as aforesaid.

(2) Whenever any nominated member of the Council shall be declared by the Governor by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency to be incapable of acting as a member of the Council, or be suspended from the exercise of his functions as a member or be absent from the Presidency, the Governor may by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency appoint some other person to be provisionally a member of the Council in the place of such member. Every such provisional appointment may be disallowed by His Majesty through the Secretary of State, or may be revoked by the Governor by any such Instrument as aforesaid.

(3) The Governor shall without delay report to His Majesty through the Secretary of State every provisional appointment of any person as a member of the Council.

(4) Every person provisionally appointed shall be to all intents and purposes a member of the Council until the next dissolution of the Council after his appointment or until his appointment shall be disallowed or revoked or superseded by the permanent appointment of an official member or a nominated member of the Council or until the functions of the office, the holder of which is ex-officio a member of the Council cease to be discharged as aforesaid or until the person whose place he has been appointed shall be declared by the Governor by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency to be incapable of acting as a member of the Council or shall cease to be suspended or shall return to the Presidency, as the case may be.

9. No person shall be elected as an elected member of the Council who:—

Disqualifications for elected membership.

(a) is, by virtue of his own act, under any acknowledgment of allegiance, obedience or adherence to a foreign Power or State;

(b) holds, or is acting in, any public office;

(c) is a minister of religion;

(d) is an undischarged bankrupt, having been adjudged or otherwise declared bankrupt under any law in force in any part of His Majesty's dominions;

(e) has been sentenced by a court in any part of His Majesty's dominions to death or to imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months, and has not either suffered the punishment to which he was sentenced or such other punishment as may by competent authority have been substituted therefor, or received a free pardon;

(f) is disqualified for membership of the Council by any law in force in the Presidency relating to offences connected with elections;

(g) is not entitled to be registered as a voter;

(h) does not—

(i) possess a clear income of at least four hundred and eighty dollars per annum; or

(ii) own real property in the Presidency of the value of at least one thousand four hundred and forty dollars above all charges and encumbrances affecting the same; or

(iii) occupy land in the Presidency, as tenant to another, of rental value of at least two hundred and forty dollars per annum.

Tenure of office of members.

10. (1) Every official member of the Council appointed by name and every nominated member of the Council shall hold his seat in the Council during His Majesty's pleasure.

(2) Every official member of the Council appointed by name and every nominated and elected member of the Council shall in any case cease to be a member at the next dissolution of the Council after his appointment or election, or previously thereto if his seat shall become vacant under the provisions of this Act.

(3) The seat of an elected member of the Council shall become vacant—

(a) upon his death;

(b) if, without the leave of the Commissioner previously obtained, he shall be absent from three consecutive meetings of the Council;

(c) if he shall take any oath, or make any declaration or acknowledgment of allegiance, obedience or adherence to any foreign Power or State; or do, concur in or adopt any act done with the intention that he shall become a subject or citizen of any foreign Power or State;

(d) if he shall be adjudged or otherwise be declared bankrupt under any law in force in any part of His Majesty's dominions;

(e) if he shall be sentenced by a court in any part of His Majesty's dominions to death or imprisonment (by whatever name called) for a term exceeding twelve months;

(f) if he shall become subject to any of the disqualifications specified in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) or (f) of section 9 of this Act.

(4) An official member of the Council appointed by name or a nominated or elected member of the Council may by writing under his hand addressed to the Governor resign his seat on the Council. The seat of any such official member or of a nominated member shall become vacant upon the acceptance of his resignation by the Governor, and the seat of an elected member shall become vacant upon the receipt of his resignation by the Governor.

(5) Any person whose seat in the Council has become vacant may, if qualified, again be appointed or elected as a member of the Council from time to time.

11. The Council shall not be disqualified for the transaction of business by reason of any vacancy or vacancies among the official, nominated, or elected members, and any proceedings therein shall be valid notwithstanding that some person, who was not entitled to do so, sat or voted in the Council or otherwise took part in the proceedings.

Vacancies amongst members not to prevent transaction of business.

12. No member of the Council, who has not already subscribed to the Oath of Allegiance in respect of the office which he holds, shall sit or vote therein until he shall have taken and subscribed the following oath before the Governor or some person authorised by the Governor to administer such oath:—

Oath of Allegiance to be taken by members.

“I, A.B., do swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King George the Sixth, His Heirs and Successors according to law. So help me God!”

Provided that any person may make an affirmation in like terms instead of the said oath.

13. (1) The Governor may, by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency, suspend an official or nominated member from the exercise of his functions as a member of the Council. Every such suspension shall be forthwith reported by the Governor to His Majesty through the Secretary of State, and shall remain in force unless and until either it shall be removed by the Governor by Instrument under the said Seal or it shall be disallowed by His Majesty through the Secretary of State and such removal or disallowance shall be published in the Gazette.

(2) The Governor may, by Instrument under the Public Seal of the Presidency, declare an official member appointed by name or a nominated member of the Council to be, by reason of illness, temporarily incapable of discharging his functions as a member of the Council, and thereupon such member shall not sit or vote in the Council until he is declared, in manner aforesaid, again to be capable of discharging his said functions.

Governor may summon prorogue or dissolve Council.

14. The Governor may, at any time, by Proclamation, summon, prorogue or dissolve the Council.

Duration of Council.

15. The Governor shall dissolve the Council at the expiration of three years from the date of the return of the first writs at the last preceding general election, if it shall not have been sooner dissolved.

Penalty for unqualified persons sitting or voting.

16. Every person who, having been returned as an elected member of the Council, but not having been at the time of his election qualified to be an elected member, sits or votes in the Council, shall for every day on which he sits or votes, and every person who sits or votes in the Council after his seat has become vacant, shall for every day on which he sits or votes after his seat has become vacant, be liable to a penalty of ninety-six dollars to be recoverable by action in the Supreme Court at the suit of the Attorney General.

Qualification of voters.

17. Every person who—

(a) has attained the age of twenty-one years; and

(b) is not a lunatic so found under any law in force in the Presidency; and

(c) is a British subject; and

(d) has resided in the Presidency for twelve months immediately preceding the date of registration or is domiciled in the Presidency and is resident therein at the date of such registration; and

(e) is not disqualified from being registered as a voter by any law in force in the Presidency relating to offences connected with elections, shall be entitled to be registered as a voter and when registered, to vote at the election of members of the Council;

Provided that—

Firstly, no person shall be registered as a voter or be entitled to vote for the election of a member of the Council who has been convicted of perjury in any Court in His Majesty's dominions or in any territory under His Majesty's protection, or who has been sentenced by any such Court to death, or penal servitude, or imprisonment for a term exceeding twelve months, and has not either suffered the punishment to which he was sentenced or such other punishment as by competent authority may have been substituted for the same or received a free pardon from His Majesty; and

Secondly, no person shall be registered as a voter who has within twelve months immediately preceding the first day of January in any year in which a register of voters is prepared, received any relief from public funds except such special relief as may be declared by the Governor by Proclamation in the Gazette not to be relief for the purposes of this proviso; and

Thirdly, no person shall be registered as a voter unless he shall with his own hand have subscribed his name to his claim to be registered and written thereon the date of such subscription, or, if he is incapacitated by blindness or any other physical cause from so doing, such subscription and writing shall be performed on his behalf by the registering officer.

18. A general election shall be held at such time, within two months after every dissolution of the Council, as the Governor shall by Proclamation appoint:

General
Elections.

Provided that the first general election after the coming into operation of this Act shall be held on such date as the Commissioner shall by Proclamation appoint.

Meetings of Council.

19. There shall be at least one meeting of the Council in every year, and there shall not be an interval of more than twelve months between any two consecutive meetings thereof.

Person to preside over meetings.

20. The Commissioner, or in his absence any member of the Council appointed in writing by him, or in default of such appointment, the member present who shall stand first in order of precedence, shall preside at every meeting of the Council.

Voting.

21. Subject to the provisions of this Act, all questions brought before the Council shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting, and the Commissioner shall have a casting vote if the votes be equally divided, but shall not have an original vote.

In the absence of the Commissioner from the Council, the member presiding shall have an original vote, and also a casting vote if the votes are equally divided.

Quorum.

22. No business except that of adjournment shall be transacted in the Council if objection is taken by any member present that there are less than five members present besides the President or other member presiding.

Standing Orders.

23. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act and of any Instructions under His Majesty's Sign Manual and Signet, the Council may from time to time make, amend and revoke Standing Orders for the regulation and orderly conduct of its own proceedings and the despatch of business, and for the passing, intituling and numbering of Bills, and for the presentation thereof to the Governor for assent.

(2) The first Standing Orders of the Council shall be made by the Governor and may be amended or revoked by the Council under sub-section (1) of this section.

24. It shall be competent for any member of the Council to propose any question for debate therein; and such question, if seconded by any other member, shall be debated and disposed of according to the Standing Orders:

Question etc., for debate.

Provided that—

- (i) no Ordinance, vote, resolution or question, the object or effect of which may be to dispose of or charge any part of His Majesty's revenue arising within the Presidency, or to revoke, alter or vary any such disposition or charge, shall be proposed, except by the Commissioner or with his consent; and
- (ii) no vote, resolution or question, the object or effect of which may be to suspend the Standing Orders of the Council, shall be proposed except by the Commissioner or with his consent.

25. It shall be lawful for the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, to make laws for the peace, order and good government of the Presidency.

Power of Council.

26. If the Governor shall consider that it is expedient—

Powers of Governor.

(a) in the interest of public faith or of good government (which expression shall, without prejudice to their generality, include the responsibility of the Presidency as a component part of the British Empire, and all matters pertaining to appointment, salary and other conditions of service of any public officer or officers); or that any bill introduced, or any motion, resolution or vote proposed for decision, in the Council should have effect, then if the Council fail to pass such bill, motion, resolution or vote within such time as the Governor may think reasonable and expedient, the Governor, at any time within his discretion, may, notwithstanding any provisions of any law of the Colony or Presidency or of any Standing Orders of the Council, declare that such bill, motion, resolution or vote shall have effect, and thereupon the same shall have effect as if it had been passed by the Council, and in the case of any such bill; the provisions of this Act as to assent to bills and disallowance of Ordinances shall apply accordingly.

(b) to secure detailed control of the finances of the Presidency during such time as, by virtue of receipt of financial assistance by the Presidency from His Majesty's Exchequer for the purpose of balancing the annual budget or otherwise, such control rests with His Majesty's Government;

Assent to bills.

27. When a bill has been passed by the Council the Governor shall declare according to his discretion, but subject to any Instructions addressed to him under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet or through the Secretary of State, either that he assents thereto, that he refuses assent thereto or that he reserves the same for signification of His Majesty's pleasure thereon. If the Governor assents, the bill shall be signed by him or by the Commissioner in token of such assent.

Disallowances of Ordinances.

28. When the Governor assents to a bill, he shall by the first convenient opportunity send an authentic copy of the Ordinance to the Secretary of State, and it shall be lawful for His Majesty, at any time within eighteen months after such copy is received by the Secretary of State, to notify the Governor of his disallowance of such Ordinance, and every such Ordinance shall cease to have effect from the date upon which the Governor shall signify such disallowance by message to the Council, or a date to be named by Proclamation, and thereupon any enactment repealed or amended by, or in pursuance of, the Ordinance disallowed shall have effect as if such Ordinance had not been made. Subject as aforesaid, the provisions of subsection (1) of section 6 of the Interpretation of Laws Ordinance, 1898, of the Presidency, shall apply to such disallowance as they apply to the repeal of an Ordinance.

29. A bill reserved for the signification of His Majesty's pleasure shall take effect as soon as His Majesty has given his assent to the same by Order in Council, or through a Secretary of State, and the Governor has signified such assent by message to the Council or by Proclamation.

Reserved bills.

30. For the purpose of the election of members of the Council the Presidency shall form one electoral district.

Electoral district.

31. Subject to the provisions of this Act, provision may be made, by or in pursuance of any law enacted under this Act, for the election of elected members of the Council including (without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power) the following matters, that is to say:—

Laws as to elections, &c.

(a) the registration of voters;

(b) the ascertainment of the qualifications of voters and of candidates for election;

(c) the holding of elections;

(d) the determination of all questions which may arise as to the right of any person to be or remain a member of the Council;

(e) the definition and trial of offences relating to the elections and the imposition of penalties therefor, including disqualification for membership of the Council, or for registration as a voter, or for voting at elections, of any person concerned in any such offence.

32. (1) At any time before the coming into operation of this Act the Governor may, by Ordinance made for the Presidency, make such provision as appears to him to be necessary or expedient for giving effect to the provisions of this Act and in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power may make provision for all or any of the matters specified in section 31 of this Act.

Provisions necessary to give effect to this Act.

(2) This section shall come into operation forthwith.

CHAPTER 166.

PRISON.

12/1954
7/1956
37/1961
1/1985

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Prison Ordinance. Short title.

2. In this Ordinance— Interpretation.

“prisoner” means any person lawfully sentenced or ordered to be imprisoned or detained in prison;

“prison” means gaol, and includes the airing ground or other ground or buildings occupied by prison officers and contiguous thereto and any other place which the Governor shall by proclamation published in the Gazette declare to be a prison.

PROVISION, MAINTENANCE AND CLOSING OF PRISONS.

3. There shall be provided and maintained at the expense of the Territory, adequate accommodation for its prisoners in a prison: Territory to provide and maintain prison.

Provided however that the buildings and premises in the Territory now used as a prison shall continue to be used as the prison for the Territory.

4. The Governor may with the approval of the Legislative Council alter, enlarge or rebuild any prison in the Territory or may, if necessary, build new prisons in lieu of or in addition to any existing prisons. Power to alter prisons and build new ones.

4A. The Governor may by proclamation published in the Gazette declare any place to be a prison. Governor may declare any place to be a prison.
12/1975.

5. (1) The Governor may at any time by proclamation declare any prison in the Territory to be closed; and every prison which the Governor shall so declare to be closed shall, Closing of prisons.

as from the date of the proclamation, cease to be used as a prison accordingly.

(2) Persons committed to any prison closed under this section shall, upon the closing of such prison, be deemed to be committed to the prison nearest thereto, or to such other prison as the Governor may appoint or determine.

VISITING COMMITTEE.

Visiting
committee.

6. (1) Rules made under section 27 shall provide for the constitution by the Governor of a visiting committee of a prison consisting of Justices of the Peace of the Territory appointed at such times, in such manner and for such periods as may be prescribed by the Rules.

(2) Rules made as aforesaid shall prescribe the functions of the visiting committee and shall among other things require members to pay frequent visits to a prison and hear any complaints which may be made by the prisoners, to consider periodically the character, conduct and prospects of each prisoner and report to the Governor any matter which they consider it expedient to report; and any member of the visiting committee may at any time enter the prison and shall have free access to every part of it and to every prisoner.

PRISON OFFICERS.

Prison officers.

7. (1) The Governor shall appoint an officer with such title as he may approve who shall be in charge of the prison in the Territory and shall superintend and manage the same.

(2) In addition to the officer appointed under subsection (1) the Governor shall appoint such other officers including an honorary chaplain, as may be necessary, for the efficient management of the prison.

(3) The duties of the officers appointed by virtue of subsections (1) and (2) shall be such as may be prescribed by rules made under section 27.

Powers of prison officers.

8. Every male prison officer while acting as such shall have all the powers, authority, protection and privileges of a constable.

CONFINEMENT AND TREATMENT OF PRISONERS.

9. (1) A prisoner, whether sentenced to imprisonment or committed to prison on remand or pending trial or otherwise, may be lawfully confined in any prison.

Place of confinement of prisoners.

(2) Prisoners shall be committed to such prisons as the Governor may from time to time direct; and may by direction of the Governor be removed during the term of their imprisonment from the prison in which they are confined to any other prison in the Territory.

(3) A writ, warrant or other legal instrument addressed to the officer in charge of a prison and identifying that prison by its situation or by any other sufficient description shall not be invalidated by reason only that the prison is usually known by a different description.

10. (1) Every prisoner shall be deemed to be in the legal custody of the officer in charge of the prison.

Legal custody of prisoner.

(2) A prisoner shall be deemed to be in legal custody while he is confined in, or is being taken to or from, any prison and while he is working, or is for any other reason, outside the prison in the custody or under the control of an officer of the prison.

11. (1) Except as provided by this section, corporal punishment shall not be inflicted in any prison.

Corporal punishment in prisons.

(2) Rules made under section 27 may authorise the infliction of corporal punishment for mutiny, incitement to mutiny, or gross personal violence to an officer of a prison when committed by a male prisoner.

(3) The rules shall not authorise the infliction of corporal punishment except by order of the visiting committee made at a meeting at which not less than three members are present; and no such order shall be made except after an inquiry in which the evidence is given on oath:

Provided that the Governor may, if he thinks fit in any particular case, direct that the functions exercisable as aforesaid by the visiting committee shall be exercised by a magistrate appointed by him in that behalf.

(4) The punishment which may be inflicted under such an order as aforesaid shall not exceed—

(a) in the case of a person appearing to the visiting committee or magistrate to be not less than twenty-one years of age, eighteen strokes of a cat-o'-nine-tails or tamarind rod; or

(b) in the case of a person appearing to them or him to be under that age, twelve strokes of a tamarind rod, and if corporal punishment is inflicted, no further punishment by way of confinement in cells or restricted diet shall be imposed.

(5) Where an order for the infliction of corporal punishment has been made under this section, a copy of the notes of the evidence given at the inquiry, a copy of the order and a statement of the grounds on which it was made shall forthwith be given to the Governor; and the order shall be carried into effect only after confirmation by the Governor and, if the Governor confirms the order with modifications, in accordance with the modifications.

(6) A refusal by the Governor to confirm such an order as aforesaid shall not prejudice any power to impose another punishment for the offence for which the order was made.

Duty of officer in charge to deliver calendar of prisoners.

12. The officer in charge of every prison in which persons committed for trial before the High Court are confined shall deliver to that Court a calendar of those persons.

Removal of prisoners for judicial and other purposes.

13. (1) Rules made under section 27 may provide in what manner an appellant within the meaning of the Court of Appeal Rules, when in custody, is to be taken to, kept in custody at, and brought back from, any place at which he is entitled to be present for the purposes of those rules, or any place to which the Court of Appeal or any judge thereof may order him to be taken for the purpose of any proceedings of that Court.

(2) The Governor may—

(a) if he is satisfied that the attendance at any place in the Territory of a person detained in a prison in the Territory is desirable in the interests of justice or for the purposes of any public inquiry, direct him to be taken to that place;

(b) if he is satisfied that a person so detained requires medical or surgical treatment of any description, direct him to be taken to a hospital or other suitable place for the purpose of the treatment, and where any person is directed under this subsection to be taken to any place he shall, unless the Governor otherwise directs, be kept in custody while being so taken, while at that place, and while being taken back to the prison in which he is required in accordance with law to be detained.

(3) It shall be lawful for any magistrate, in any case where he may see fit to do so, upon application to issue a warrant or order under his hand for any prisoner to be taken from the prison to his Court for the purpose of answering any charge that may be preferred against him.

14. For the purpose of taking a person to or from any prison under the order of any authority competent to give the order a constable or other officer may act outside the area of his jurisdiction and shall notwithstanding that he is so acting have all the powers, authority, protection and privileges of his office.

Power of constable, etc., to act outside his jurisdiction.

15. (1) In any sentence of imprisonment the word "month" shall, unless the contrary is expressed, be construed as meaning calendar month.

Calculation of term of sentence.

(2) A prisoner who but for this subsection would be discharged on a Sunday, Christmas Day or Good Friday, shall be discharged on the day next preceding.

16. (1) Rules made under section 27 may make provision whereby, in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the rules, a person serving a sentence of imprisonment for such a term as may be so prescribed may be granted remission of such part of that sentence as may be so prescribed on the ground of his industry and good conduct, and on the discharge of a person from prison in pursuance of any such remission as aforesaid his sentence shall expire.

Remission for good conduct and award of gratuities.

(2) Rules made as aforesaid may also provide for the award of gratuities on their discharge to prisoners who have been sentenced to imprisonment with hard labour for a term of or exceeding twelve months.

17. (1) If the Governor is satisfied that by reason of the condition of a prisoner's health it is undesirable to detain him in prison, but that, such condition of health being due in whole or in part to the prisoner's own conduct in prison, it is desirable that his release should be temporary and conditional only, the Governor may, if he thinks fit, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, by order authorise the temporary discharge of the prisoner for such period and subject to such conditions as may be stated in the order.

(2) Where an order of temporary discharge is made in the case of a prisoner not under sentence, the order shall contain conditions requiring the attendance of the prisoner at any further proceedings on his case at which his presence may be required.

(3) Any prisoner discharged under this section shall comply with any conditions stated in the order of temporary discharge, and shall return to prison at the expiration of the period stated in the order, or of such extended period as may be fixed by any subsequent order of the Governor, and if the prisoner fails so to comply or return, he may be arrested without warrant and taken back to prison.

(4) Where a prisoner under sentence is discharged in pursuance of an order of temporary discharge, the currency of the sentence shall be suspended from the day on which he is discharged from prison under the order to the day on which he is received back into prison, so that the former day shall be reckoned and the latter shall not be reckoned as part of the sentence.

(5) Nothing in this section shall affect the duties of the medical officer of a prison in respect of a prisoner whom the Governor does not think fit to discharge under this section.

Prisoner may be released under compulsory supervision order.
37/1961.

17A. (1) Any prisoner sentenced to imprisonment may be released under the provisions of a compulsory supervision order.

(2) A compulsory supervision order shall be issued by the Governor and shall be enforced for a period not exceeding twelve months from the date on which the prisoner is discharged from prison, and it shall be lawful for the Governor to revoke such order at his discretion.

(3) A compulsory supervision order may be made in regard to a period which may extend beyond the date on which the prisoner's sentence of imprisonment ends, provided that no such order shall be enforced for a period exceeding twelve months from the date of the prisoner's release.

(3A) Nothing in subsections (2) and (3) shall be construed as preventing the Governor from issuing successive supervision orders in respect of the same prisoner if— 1/1985.

(a) the fresh supervision order takes effect immediately upon the expiry of the previous supervision order;

(b) the fresh supervision order is not being issued for a greater period than twelve months; and

(c) the Governor is satisfied that the circumstances of the case are such that the issue of a fresh supervision order is desirable.

(3B) For the purposes of paragraph (a) of subsection (3A), a fresh supervision order shall be deemed to take effect immediately upon the expiration of another supervision order if— 1/1985.

(a) the fresh supervision order is served on the prisoner before the expiration of a period of two weeks following the date on which the previous order expired; or

(b) the fresh supervision order is served on the prisoner after the expiration of a period of two weeks referred to in paragraph (a) by reason of a failure to serve the order if the failure is due to—

(i) the conduct of the prisoner; or

(ii) circumstances that, the Governor is satisfied, could not have been avoided.

(4) Every compulsory supervision order shall be in the form prescribed in the Schedule and shall be issued subject to the prescribed conditions, provided that the Governor may waive any condition in the case of any particular prisoner.

(5) If a prisoner released under the provisions of a compulsory supervision order is convicted of any offence or fails to comply with any of the conditions of such order, the order may be revoked by the Governor.

(6) When any compulsory supervision order is revoked, the prisoner in respect of whom such order was made, shall, after undergoing any other punishment to which he has been sentenced, undergo a further term of imprisonment equal to the portion of his imprisonment remaining unexpired at the date of his release under the said order. For the purpose of remission, any sentence imposed on the prisoner while under the provisions of a compulsory supervision order and the period of imprisonment remaining unexpired at the time of his release under the order shall be regarded as one sentence.

(7) A prisoner released from prison after having been recalled to prison in consequence of the Governor having revoked his compulsory supervision order shall be released under the provisions of a compulsory supervision order for a period not exceeding twelve months from the date on which the prisoner is so released.

(8) Whenever a compulsory supervision order is revoked by the Governor the Magistrate shall, on production to him of a certificate of such revocation signed by the Governor, issue a warrant for the apprehension of the person in respect of whom such order was made; and such person on being apprehended shall be brought before the Magistrate, who shall make out his warrant for the recommitment of such person to undergo the residue of his sentence remaining unexpired at the date of his release under the order.

(9) For the purpose of this section the Governor may, by notice published in the Gazette, determine what class or classes of prisoners shall be subject to compulsory supervision.

OFFENCES.

Escape, attempt to escape, and prison breach.

18. Every prisoner who—

(a) escapes or attempts to escape from any prison wherein he is lawfully confined; or

(b) escapes or attempts to escape during the time of his conveyance to or from a prison, or whilst on his way to or from any road or public work, or during the time of his employment therein; or

(c) forcibly breaks out of any cell or other place in which he is lawfully confined or makes any breach therein with intent to escape, shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance and on conviction thereof on indictment be liable to imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years.

Rescue, or promotion of rescue, of prisoners.

19. Every person who rescues, or attempts to rescue any person who has been convicted, or who is in custody, on a charge of felony, shall be guilty of felony and shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding three years; and every person who rescues, or attempts to rescue, any person who has been convicted, or who is in custody, on a criminal charge other than felony, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding eighteen months; and all persons aiding, assisting or abetting the commission of any such offence as aforesaid shall be liable to be prosecuted and punished in the same manner as principals.

20. Every person having the custody of a prisoner, who shall knowingly and wilfully allow him to escape, shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two years.

permitting prisoner to escape.

21. Every person having the custody of a prisoner, who, through negligence or carelessness, allows any such prisoner to escape, shall be liable to fine or imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the Court.

Negligently permitting prisoner to escape.

22. Any person who assaults or resists any prison officer in the execution of his duty, or aids or excites any person so to assault or resist any such officer shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two months; or, if the offender be a prisoner, he shall be liable, on conviction on indictment, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding one year:

Assaulting or resisting prison officers.

Provided however that no prisoner shall be liable both to punishment under this section and section 11 for an assault against a prison officer.

23. Any person who aids any prisoner in escaping or attempting to escape from a prison or who, with intent to facilitate the escape of any prisoner, conveys anything into a prison or to a prisoner or places anything anywhere outside a prison with a view to its coming into the possession of a prisoner, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

Assisting prisoner to escape.

23A. Any person who knowingly harbours a prisoner who has escaped from prison or gives him any assistance with intent to prevent, hinder or interfere with his being retaken into prison or custody shall be guilty of an offence and shall be

Assisting escaped prisoner an offence.
12/1975.

liable on summary conviction to a fine of two hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of twelve months.

Unlawful conveyance of spirits or tobacco into prison, etc.

24. Any person who contrary to the rules of a prison brings or attempts to bring into the prison or to a prisoner any spirituous or fermented liquor or tobacco, or places any such liquor or any tobacco anywhere outside the prison with intent that it shall come into the possession of a prisoner, and any officer who contrary to those rules allows any such liquor or any tobacco to be sold or used in the prison, shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Unlawful introduction of other articles.

25. Any person who contrary to the rules of a prison conveys or attempts to convey any letter or any other thing into or out of the prison or to a prisoner or places it anywhere outside the prison with intent that it shall come into the possession of a prisoner shall, where he is not thereby guilty of an offence under either section 23 or section 24 be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Display of notice of penalties.

26. The officer in charge of every prison shall cause to be affixed in a conspicuous place outside such prison a notice of the penalties to which persons committing offences under sections 23, 24 and 25 are liable.

RULES.

Power to make rules.
12/1975.

27. (1) The Governor in Council may make rules for the regulation and management of prisons, the conduct, discipline and duties of the officers employed therein, and the classification, treatment, employment, discipline and control of prisoners.

(2) Rules made under this section shall make provision for ensuring that a person who is charged with any offence under the rules shall be given a proper opportunity of presenting his case.

Reconciliation with other laws.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this Ordinance, no other written law and no practice or procedure relating to land shall apply to land registered under this Ordinance so far as it is inconsistent with this Ordinance:

Provided that, except where a contrary intention appears, nothing contained in this Ordinance shall be construed as permitting any dealing which is forbidden by the express provisions of any other written law or as overriding any provision of any other written law requiring the consent or approval of any authority to any dealing.

PART II.

ORGANISATION AND ADMINISTRATION.

Division 1—Land Registries and Officers.

Registration
Districts.

4. For the purposes of this Ordinance there shall be established and maintained at Road Town a land registry in which there shall be kept—

(a) a register, to be known as the Land Register, in accordance with Division 2 of this Part;

(b) a map to be known as the Registry Map, in accordance with Division 3 of this Part;

(c) parcel files containing the instruments which support subsisting entries in the land register and any filed plans and documents;

(d) a book, to be known as the application book, in which shall be kept a record of all applications numbered consecutively in the order in which they are made at the registry;

(e) an index, in alphabetical order, of the names of the proprietors of land, leases and charges, showing the numbers of the parcels in which they are interested; and

(f) a register and a file of powers of attorney;

(g) such registers as are specified under the Condominium Ordinance.

15/1979.
Cap. 219.

5.* The Governor shall appoint a Registrar of Lands, who shall be responsible for administering the land registry in accordance with this Ordinance.

Registrar.

6. The Registrar** may exercise the following powers in addition to any other powers conferred on him by this Ordinance, that is to say—

General powers of Registrar.

(a) he may require any person to produce any instrument, certificate or other document or plan relating to the land, lease or charge in question, and that person shall produce the same;

(b) he may summon any person to appear and give any information or explanation respecting land, a lease or a charge, or any instrument, certificate or other document or plan relating to the land, lease or charge in question, and such person shall appear and give such information or explanation;

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, section 5 shall be repealed and replaced by the following new section—

5. (1) The Governor shall appoint a Chief Registrar of Lands who shall be responsible for administering the Land Registry in accordance with this Ordinance.

Appointment of Chief Registrar and Registrar.

(2) The Governor shall appoint a Registrar of Lands who shall be responsible for assisting the Chief Registrar of Lands in administering the Land Registry and for carrying out such functions as may be delegated to him in accordance with subsection (3).

(3) The Chief Registrar may by notice in writing delegate to the Registrar all or any of the powers and functions conferred upon him under the provisions of this Ordinance which notice may also specify the manner in which the Registrar shall carry out such delegated powers and functions." — Vide section 2 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

** With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(c) he may refuse to proceed with any registration if any instrument, certificate or other document, plan, information or explanation required to be produced or given is withheld or any act required to be performed under this Ordinance is not performed;

(d) he may administer oaths or take a declaration in lieu thereof, and may require that any proceedings, information or explanation shall be verified on oath or by statutory declaration;

(e) he may order that the costs, charges and expenses incurred by him or by any person in connection with any investigation or hearing held by him for the purposes of this Ordinance shall be borne and paid by such person in such manner and in such proportions as he may think fit, and the amount of any such costs, charges and expenses as shall have been incurred by the Registrar shall be deemed to be a fee to which the provisions of sections 154 and 155 shall apply.

Indemnity of Officers.

7. The Registrar* shall not, nor shall any other officer of the registry, be liable to any action or proceeding for or in respect of any act or matter done or omitted to be done in good faith in the exercise or supposed exercise of the powers of this Ordinance, or any regulations made thereunder.

Seal of Registry.

8. The registry shall have a seal, and every instrument purporting to bear the imprint of such seal shall be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is shown, shall be deemed without further proof to be issued by or under the direction of the Registrar.*

Division 2—The Land Register.

The Land
Register.
15/1979.
Cap. 223.

9. (1) The Land Register shall comprise a register in respect of every parcel which has been adjudicated in accordance with the Land Adjudication Ordinance or in respect of each strata lot to be registered in accordance with section 5 of the Condominium Ordinance, and a register in respect of each lease required by this Ordinance to be registered.

Cap. 219.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) Each register shall show whether the land is private land or Crown land and, in respect of private land, whether the title is absolute or provisional, and shall be divided into three sections as follows—

A—the property section, containing a brief description of the land, strata lot or lease, together with particulars of its appurtenances and, where the title is provisional of the information recorded in the adjudication record under section 16(1)(d) of the Land Adjudication Ordinance, and a reference to the Registry Map and filed plan, if any;

B—the proprietorship section, containing the name, and, where possible, address of the proprietor and a note of any inhibition, caution or restriction affecting his right of disposition;

C—the incumbrances section, containing a note of every incumbrance and every right adversely affecting the land strata lot or lease.

(3) No entry shall be required in the proprietorship section of land which is described as Crown Land.

10. Whenever an adjudication record has become final under section 23 of the Land Adjudication Ordinance and the Adjudication Officer has delivered the adjudication record to the Registrar*, the Registrar* shall prepare a register for each parcel shown in the adjudication record and for any lease required to be registered, and shall register therein any of the particulars in the adjudication record which requires registration.

11. (1) The first registration of any parcel shall be effected by the preparation of a register in accordance with the provisions of section 9 and the signing by the Registrar* of the particulars of the ownership and the particulars of incumbrances, if any, appearing thereon.

Manner of registration.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) Every subsequent registration shall be effected by an entry in the register in such form as the Registrar* may from time to time direct, and by the cancellation of the entry, if any, which it replaces.

Cancellation of obsolete entries.

12. The Registrar* may cancel any entry in the register which he is satisfied has ceased to have any effect.

New editions of Register.

13. The Registrar* may at any time open a new edition of a register showing only subsisting entries and omitting therefrom all entries that have ceased to have any effect.

Division 3—Maps, Parcels and Boundaries

Registry Map.

14. (1) The Registry Map shall be compiled from the demarcation maps made under the Land Adjudication Ordinance, and shall be divided into registration sections which, so far as is possible, shall have the same boundaries and names as the adjudication sections; the registration sections, where the adjudication sections are so divided, shall be divided into blocks which shall be given the same letters or numbers or combinations of letters and numbers as the adjudication blocks.

(2) The parcels in each registration section or block shall be numbered consecutively following the numbering in the adjudication proceedings, and the name of the registration section and the number or letter of the block (if any) and the number of the parcel shall together be a sufficient reference to any parcel.

(3) The Registrar* may, at any time, cause registration sections or blocks to be combined or divided, or cause their boundaries to be varied.

(4) A plan may be filed in respect of a particular parcel to augment the information available from the registry map, and the filing of the plan shall be noted in the register.

Correction of the
and new editions.

15. (1) The Registrar* may cause to be made a survey of any land for the purposes of this Ordinance and, after informing every person affected thereby, may cause the Registry Map to be corrected as a result of such survey.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) The Registrar* may, at any time, direct the preparation of a new Registry Map or any part thereof, and there may be omitted therefrom any matter which the Registrar* considers obsolete.

16. (1) On the application of a proprietor of land, and subject to the agreement of all persons affected thereby, the Registrar* may order the alteration of the Registry Map, but no such alteration shall be effected except on the instructions of the Registrar* in writing in the prescribed form, to be known as a mutation form, and the mutation form shall be filed.

Mutation.

(2) Whenever the boundary of a parcel is altered on the Registry Map, the parcel number shall be cancelled and the parcel shall be given a new number.

17. (1) Except where, under section 18, it is noted in the register that the boundaries of a parcel have been fixed, the Registry Map and any filed plan shall be deemed to indicate the approximate boundaries and the approximate situation only of the parcel.

General boundaries.

(2) Where any uncertainty or dispute arises as to the position of any boundary, the Registrar*, on the application of any interested party, shall, on such evidence as the Registrar* considers relevant, determine and indicate the position of the uncertain or disputed boundary.

(3) Where the Registrar* exercises the power conferred by subsection (2), he shall make a note to that effect on the Registry Map and in the register and shall file such plan or description as may be necessary to record his decision.

(4) No court shall entertain any action or other proceedings relating to a dispute as to the boundaries of registered land unless the boundaries have been determined as provided in this section.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(5) Except where, as aforesaid, it is noted in the register that the boundaries of a parcel have been fixed the court or the Registrar* may, in proceedings concerning the parcel, receive such evidence as to its boundaries and situation as it or he thinks fit.

Fixed boundaries.

18. (1) If the Registrar in his discretion considers it desirable to indicate on a filed plan, or otherwise to define in the register, the precise position of the boundaries of a parcel or any parts thereof, or if any interested person makes application to the Registrar*, the Registrar* shall give notice to the owners and occupiers of the land adjoining the boundaries in question of the intention to ascertain and fix the boundaries.

(2) The Registrar* shall, after giving all persons appearing by the register to be affected an opportunity of being heard, cause to be defined by survey the precise position of the boundaries in question, file a plan containing the necessary particulars and make a note in the register that the boundaries have been fixed and thereupon the plan shall be deemed to define accurate the boundaries of the parcel.

Maintenance of boundary features.

19. (1) Every proprietor of land shall maintain in good order any features which demarcate his boundaries, whether established pursuant to the requirements of any other written law or pursuant to an order of the Registrar* or of the proprietor's own accord.

(2) The Registrar* may in writing order the demarcation within a specified time of any boundary by the erection of a boundary mark in such permanent manner as he may direct, and any person who fails to comply with such an order shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance and on summary conviction before a Magistrate shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(3) The Registrar* may in writing order which of adjoining proprietors shall be responsible for the care and maintenance of any feature demarcating a common boundary feature or any part of it to fall into disrepair or to be destroyed or removed shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

20. (1) Any person who wilfully defaces, removes, injures or otherwise impairs any boundary feature or any part of it unless authorised to do so by the Registrar* shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months.

Interference with
features.

(2) Any person convicted of such offence, whether or not any penalty therefor is imposed upon him, shall be liable on summary conviction to pay the cost of restoring the boundary feature, and such cost shall be recoverable as a civil debt by any person responsible under section 19 for the maintenance of the feature.

21. (1) Where contiguous parcels are owned by the same proprietor and are subject in all respects to the same rights and obligations, the Registrar*, on application by the proprietor, may combine those parcels by closing the registers relating to them and opening a new register or registers in respect of the parcel or parcels resulting from the combination.

Combinations and subdivisions.

(2) Upon the application of the proprietor of a parcel for the division of his parcel into two or more parcels, the Registrar* shall effect the division by closing the register relating to the parcel and opening new registers in respect of the new parcels resulting from the division, and recording in the new registers all subsisting entries appearing in the closed register:

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Provided that—

- (i) nothing shall be done under this section which would be inconsistent with this Ordinance or any other written Ordinance; and
- (ii) no parcel which is subject to a lease shall be subdivided so as to subdivide the land comprised in such lease; and
- (iii) where a proprietor is subdividing his parcel for the purpose of building development, the Registrar* may require him to submit a plan of the proposed subdivisions prepared by a surveyor authorised under the Land Surveyor's Ordinance, and certified by the appropriate authority as conforming with the requirements of any planning law for the time being in force.

Cap. 215.

Reparcellation.

22. (1) The Registrar* may, on the application of the proprietors of continuous parcels who are desirous of changing the layout of their parcels, and with the consent in writing of all other persons in whose names any right or interest in such parcels is registered, and of any cautioner, cancel the registers relating to such parcels and prepare new registers in accordance with the revised layout:

Provided that, where in the opinion of the Registrar* a proposed reparcellation involves substantial changes of ownership which should be effected by transfers without invoking this section, he may refuse to effect such reparcellation.

(2) Upon any such reparcellation, the new parcel shall, notwithstanding section 37 vest in the persons in whose names they are registered.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

PART III.

EFFECT OF REGISTRATION.

23. Subject to the provisions of section 27, the registration of any person as the proprietor with absolute title of a parcel shall vest in that person the absolute ownership of that parcel, together with all rights and privileges belonging or appurtenant thereto, free from all other interests and claims whatsoever, but subject—

Effect of registration with absolute title.

(a) to the leases, charges and other incumbrances and to the conditions and restrictions, if any, shown in the register; and

(b) unless the contrary is expressed in the register, to such liabilities, rights and interests as affect the same and are declared by section 28 not to require noting on the register:

Provided that—

(i) nothing in this section shall be taken to relieve a proprietor from any duty or obligation to which he is subject as a trustee.

(ii) the registration of any person under this Ordinance shall not confer on him any right to any minerals or to any mineral oils unless the same are expressly referred to in the register.

24. Subject to the provisions of section 27, the registration of any person as the proprietor with a provisional title of a parcel shall not affect or prejudice the enforcement of any estate, right or interest adverse to or in derogation of the title of that proprietor arising before such date or under such instrument or in such other manner as is specified in the register of that parcel, but save as aforesaid, such registration shall have the same effect as the registration of a person with absolute title.

Effect of registration with provisional title.

25. Subject to the provisions of section 27, the registration of a person as the proprietor of a lease shall vest in that person the leasehold interest described in the lease, together with all implied and expressed rights and privileges belonging or appurtenant thereto and subject to all implied and expressed agreements, liabilities and incidents of the lease:

Effect of registration of a lease.

Provided that if the title of the lessor is a provisional title the enforcement of any estate, right or interest affecting or in derogation of the right of the lessor to grant the lease shall not be prejudiced.

Effect of registration as Crown Land.

26. The registration of land as Crown land shall, subject to any registered incumbrances, enable the Governor in Council by a disposition registered under this Ordinance to dispose of such land.

Voluntary transfer.

Cap. 285.

27. Every proprietor who has acquired land, a lease or a charge by transfer without valuable consideration shall hold it subject to any unregistered rights or interests subject to which the transferer held it, and subject also to the provisions of any law relating to bankruptcy and to the winding-up provisions of the Companies Ordinance, but save as aforesaid such transfer when registered shall in all respects have the same effect as a transfer for valuable consideration.

Overriding interests.

28. Unless the contrary is expressed in the register, all registered land shall be subject to such of the following overriding interests as may for the time being subsist and effect the same, without their being noted on the register—

(a) rights of way, rights of water and any easement or profit subsisting at the time of first registration under this Ordinance;

(b) natural rights of light, air, water and support;

(c) rights of compulsory acquisition, resumption, entry, search, user or limitation of user conferred by any other written Ordinance;

(d) leases or agreements for leases for a term not exceeding two years, and periodic tenancies within the meaning of section 2.

(e) any unpaid moneys which, without reference to registration under this Ordinance are expressly declared by any written law to be a charge upon land;

(f) rights acquired or in process of being acquired by virtue of any written law relating to the limitation of actions or by prescription;

(g) the rights of a person in actual occupation of land or in receipt of the rents and profits thereof save where inquiry is made of such person and the rights are not disclosed;

(h) electric supply lines, telephone and telegraph lines, or poles, pipelines, aqueducts, canals, weirs and dams erected, constructed or laid in pursuance or by virtue of any power conferred by any written law;

(i) arrears of land or house tax due to the Government:

Provided that the Registrar* may direct registration of any of the liabilities, rights and interests hereinbefore defined in such manner as he thinks fit.

29. (1) Any proprietor registered with a provisional title or any interested person may at any time apply to the Registrar* to be registered or to have the proprietor registered, as the case may be, with an absolute title.

Conversion of provisional into absolute title.

(2) If the applicant satisfies the Registrar* that the qualification to which the provisional title is subject has ceased to be of effect, the Registrar* shall make an order for the registration of the proprietor with absolute title after such advertisement as the Registrar* may think fit.

(3) On the making of any such order or on the application of any interested party after the expiration of twenty years from the date of first registration with a provisional title, the Registrar* shall substitute in the register the words "absolute title" for the words "provisional title" and the title of the proprietor shall thereupon become absolute.

30. Every proprietor acquiring any land, lease or charge shall be deemed to have had notice of every entry in the register relating to the land, lease or charge.

Entries to constitute actual notice.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

PART IV.

CERTIFICATES AND SEARCHES.

Land certificates and certificates of lease.

31. (1) The Registrar* shall, if requested by any proprietor of land or a lease where no land certificate or certificate of lease has been issued, issued to him a land certificate or a certificate of lease, as the case may be, in the prescribed form showing all subsisting entries in the register affecting that land or lease:

Provided that—

- (i) only one such certificate shall be issued in respect of each parcel of land or lease;
- (ii) no certificate of lease shall be issued unless the lease is for a certain period exceeding twenty five years.

(2) A land certificate or certificate of lease shall be only prima facie evidence of the matters shown therein, and the land or lease shall be subject to all entries in the register whether they are shown on the certificate or not.

(3) When there is more than one proprietor, the proprietors shall agree among themselves as to who shall receive the certificate, and failing agreement the certificate shall be filed in the registry.

(4) The date of issue of a land certificate or certificate of lease shall be noted in the register.

Production of certificates.

32. (1) If a land certificate or a certificate of lease has been issued, then, unless it is filed in the registry, or the Registrar* dispenses with its production it shall be produced on the registration of any dealing with the land or lease to which it relates, and a note of such registration shall be made on the certificate.

(2) If the disposition is a transfer, the certificate if produced shall be destroyed, and in such case a new certificate may be issued to the new proprietor.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar"— Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(3) If the disposition is a charge, the certificate, if any, shall be filed in the registry.

33. On the registration of any disposition of a lease or charge the duplicate and the triplicate of the lease or charge shall be produced to the Registrar*, who shall note particulars of the disposition on the filed lease or charge and on the duplicate and triplicate thereof unless the Registrar* is satisfied that they cannot be produced.

Dispositions of leases and charges.

34. (1) If a land certificate or certificate of lease is lost or destroyed, the proprietor may apply to the Registrar* for the issue of a new certificate, and shall produce evidence to satisfy the Registrar* of the loss or destruction of the previous certificate.

Lost or destroyed certificates.

(2) The Registrar* may require a statutory declaration that the certificate has been lost or destroyed.

(3) The Registrar*, if satisfied with the evidence as to the destruction or loss of the certificate, and after the publication of such notice as he may think fit, may issue a new certificate.

(4) When a lost certificate is found, it shall be delivered to the Registrar for cancellation.

35. (1) Any person, on application in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee, may inspect during official hours of business any register and any sheet of the Registry Map or any filed instrument or plan.

Searches and copies.

(2) Any person, on application in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee, may require an official search in respect of any parcel, and the Registrar* shall issue a certificate of official search setting forth particulars of the subsisting entries in the register of that parcel.

(3) Any person, on application in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee, shall be entitled to a certified copy of any register or part of the Registry Map or any plan or instruments filed in the registry.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Evidence.

36. (1) A certified copy of the register or part of the Registry Map or any plan or instrument filed in the registry shall be admissible in evidence in all actions and matters and between all persons or parties, to the same extent as the original, and a signature on any such certified copy purporting to be the signature of the Registrar* shall be presumed to be the signature of the Registrar* until the contrary is proved.

(2) No legal practitioner, trustee, personal representative or other person in a fiduciary position shall be answerable in respect of any loss occasioned by the inaccuracy of any such certified copy as is referred to in subsection (1).

(3) No process for compelling the production of the register, or of the Registry Map, or of any filed instrument or plan, shall issue from any court except with the leave of that court, which leave shall not be granted if a certified copy will suffice, and any such process, if issued, shall bear thereon a statement that it is issued with the leave of the court.

PART V.

DISPOSITIONS.

Division 1—General.

Subsequent dealings

37. (1) No land, lease or charge shall be capable of being disposed of except in accordance with this Ordinance, and every attempt to dispose of such land, lease, or charge otherwise than in accordance with this Ordinance shall be ineffectual to create, extinguish, transfer, vary or affect any estate, right or interest in the land, lease or charge.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing any unregistered instrument from operation as a contract, but no action may be brought upon any contract for the disposition of any interest in land unless the agreement upon which such action is brought, or some memorandum or note thereof, is in writing, and is signed by the party to be charged or by some other person thereunto by him lawfully authorised:

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Provided that such an action shall not be prevented by reason only of the absence of writing, where an intending purchaser or lessee who has performed or is willing to perform his part of a contract—

- (i) has in part performance of the contract taken possession of the property or any part thereof; or
- (ii) being already in possession, continues in possession in part performance of the contract and has done some other act in furtherance of the contract.

38. (1) No person dealing or proposing to deal for valuable consideration with a proprietor shall be required or in any way concerned—

Protection of persons dealing in registered land.

(a) to inquire or ascertain the circumstances in or the consideration for which such proprietor or any previous proprietor was registered; or

(b) to see to the application of any consideration or any part thereof; or

(c) to search any register kept under the Registration and Records Ordinance.

(2) Where the proprietor of land, a lease or a charge is a trustee he shall, in dealing therewith, be deemed to be absolute proprietor thereof, and no disposition by such trustee to a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration shall be defeasible by reason of the fact that such disposition amounted to a breach of trust.

39. Where an instrument is presented for registration later than three months from the date of the instrument then, as well as the registration fee, an additional fee equal to the registration fee shall be payable for each three months which have elapsed since such date:

Additional fee for delayed registration.

Provided that in no such case shall the additional fee exceed five times the original registration fee payable.

40. (1) If he is satisfied that any person, through his wilful default has failed to register any instrument which is registerable under this Ordinance, the Registrar* may by notice in writing order such person to present such instrument for registration, and thereupon the registration fee and any additional fee payable under section 39 shall become due and shall be payable whether the instrument is presented for registration or not.

Power to compel registration.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with an order of the Registrar under subsection (1) within one month of the service of the notice shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance and shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding sixty dollars.

Priority of registered interests.

41. (1) Interests appearing in the register shall have priority according to the order in which the instruments which led to their registration were presented to the registry, irrespective of the dates of the instruments and notwithstanding that the actual entry in the register may be delayed:

Provided that where an instrument is prepared in the registry it shall be deemed to have been presented on the date on which application for its preparation was made to the Registrar.

(2) Instruments sent by post or under cover and received during the hours of business shall be deemed to be presented simultaneously immediately before the closing of the office on that day, and instruments so sent but received between the time of closing and the next opening of the office for business shall be deemed to be presented simultaneously immediately after such opening.

(3) Where more than one instrument or application are presented on the same day, or on different days but at so short an interval from each other that in the opinion of the Registrar* there is doubt as to their order of priority, the Registrar* may refuse registration until he has heard and determined the rights of the parties interested thereunder.

42. (1) Where any person proposing to deal with registered land has, with the consent in writing of the proprietor, applied for an official search and has stated in his application the particulars of the proposed dealing, the registration of any instrument affecting the land to be comprised in or affected by the proposed dealing shall be stayed for a period (hereinafter referred to as the suspension period) of fourteen days from the time at which application for the search was made, and a note shall be made in the register accordingly.

Stay of registration.

(2) If within the suspension period a properly executed instrument affecting the proposed dealing is presented for registration, such instrument shall have priority over any other instrument which may be presented for registration during the suspension period, and shall be registered notwithstanding any caution or other entry for which application for registration may have been made during the suspension period.

(3) Subject to subsection (2), any instrument or document for which application for registration is made during the suspension period other than that affecting the proposed dealing shall be dealt with in the same manner, shall have the same priority and shall be as effectual as if no stay of registration had been obtained.

43. Where, upon the registration of a dealing, the interest of—Merger of registered interests.

(a) lessor and lessee; or

(b) chargor and chargee; or—

(c) the proprietor of a parcel which is burdened with an easement, profit or restrictive agreement and the proprietor of a parcel which benefits therefrom vest in the same proprietor, such interests shall not merge unless a surrender or discharge is registered or the parcels are combined or there is a declaration of merger, which may be contained in the instrument evidencing the dealing.

Division 2 – Leases.

44. Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of any other written law, the proprietor of land may lease the land or part of it to any person for a definite period or for the life of the lessor or of the lessee or for a period which though indefinite may be terminated by the lessor or the lessee, and subject to such conditions as he may think fit:

Provided that, if only part is leased, the lease shall be accompanied by a plan or other description which the Registrar, in his absolute discretion, deems adequate to identify the part leased.

Periodic
tenancies.

45. (1) Where in any lease the term is not specified and no provision is made for the giving of notice to terminate the tenancy, the lease shall be deemed to have created a periodic tenancy.

(2) Where the proprietor of a land permits the exclusive occupation of the land or any part thereof by any other person at a rent but without any agreement in writing, that occupation shall be deemed to constitute a periodic tenancy.

(3) The period of a periodic tenancy created by this subsection shall be the period by reference to which the rent is payable, and the tenancy may be determined by either party giving to the other notice, the length of which shall, subject to any other written law, be not less than the period of the tenancy and shall expire on one of the days on which rent is payable.

Registration of leases.

46. A lease for a specified period exceeding two years or for the life of the lessor or of the lessee, or a lease which contains an option whereby the lessee may require the lessor to grant him a further term or terms which, together with the original term, exceed two years, shall be in the prescribed form, and shall be completed by—

(a) opening a register in respect of the lease in the name of the lessee; and

(b) filing the lease; and

(c) noting the lease in the incumbrances section of the register of the lessor's land or lease.

Lessor's consent to dealing with lease.

47. Upon the registration of a lease containing an agreement, expressed or implied, by the lessee that he will not transfer, sub-let, charge or part with possession of the land leased or any part thereof without the written consent of the lessor, the agreement shall be noted in the register of the lease, and no dealing with the lease shall be registered until the consent of the lessor, verified in accordance with section 108, has been produced to the Registrar*.

48. Where any land is subject to a charge, no lease of such land shall be registered without the previous consent in writing of the proprietor of the charge, verified in accordance with section 108, unless the charge expressly dispenses with the necessity for such consent.

Lease of charged land.

49. (1) Where the period of a lease is expressed as commencing on a particular day, that day is excluded in computing that period.

Duration of leases.

(2) Where no day of commencement is named, the period commences on the date of execution of the lease, and that day is excluded in computing that period.

(3) Where the period is a year or a number of years, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, the lease shall last during the whole anniversary of the day on which such period commences.

50. (1) A lease may be made for a period to commence on a future date, not being later than twenty-one years from the date on which the lease is executed, but shall be of no effect unless it is registered.

Future leases.

(2) Any instrument purporting to create a lease to commence on a date more than twenty-one years after the date of the instrument, or to take effect on the fulfilment of any condition, is void.

51. (1) Where a person, having lawfully entered into occupation of any land as lessee, continues to occupy that land with the consent of the lessor after the termination of the lease he shall, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, be deemed to be a tenant holding the land on a periodic tenancy on the same conditions as those of the lease so far as those conditions are appropriate to a periodic tenancy.

Holding over.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the acceptance of rent in respect of any period after the termination of the lease shall, if the former tenant is still in occupation and subject to any agreement to the contrary, be taken as evidence of consent to the continued occupation of the land.

Agreements
implied in leases
on part of lessor.

52. Save as otherwise expressly provided in the lease, there shall be implied in every lease agreements by the lessor with the lessee binding the lessor—

(a) that, so long as the lessee pays the rent and observes and performs the agreements and conditions contained, or implied in the lease and on his part to be observed and performed, the lessee shall and may peaceably and quietly possess and enjoy the leased premises during the period of the lease without any lawful interruption from or by the lessor or any person rightfully claiming through him;

(b) not to use or permit to be used any adjoining or neighbouring land of which he is the proprietor or lessee in any way which would render the leased premises unfit or materially less fit for the purpose for which they were leased;

(c) where part only of a building is leased, to keep the roof, main walls and main drains, and the common passages and common installations, in repair;

(d) where any dwelling-house, flat or room is leased furnished, that such house, flat or room is fit for habitation at the commencement of the tenancy; and

(e) that if at any time the leased premises or any part thereof are destroyed or damaged by fire, civil commotion or accident not attributable to the negligence of the lessee, his servants or his licensees, so as to render the leased premises or any part thereof wholly or partially unfit for occupation or use, the rent or a just proportion thereof according to the nature and extent of the damage sustained shall be suspended and cease to be payable until the leased premises have again been rendered fit for occupation and use; but that if the leased premises have not been so rendered fit for occupation and use within six months of their destruction or damage as aforesaid, the lessee may at his option, and on giving one month's written notice of his intention so to do, terminate the lease.

53. Save as otherwise expressly provided in the lease, there shall be implied in every lease agreements by the lessee with the lessor binding the lessee—

Agreements
implied in leases
on part of lessee.

(a) to pay the rent reserved by the lease at the times and in the manner therein specified;

(b) to pay all rates, taxes, and other outgoings which are at any time payable in respect of the leased premises during the continuance of the lease unless the same are payable exclusively by the lessor by virtue of any written law;

(c) in the case of agricultural land, to farm the same in accordance with the practice and any rules of good husbandry and to yield up the land at the end of the term in good heart;

(d) except where part only of a building is leased, or where a dwelling-house is leased furnished, to keep all buildings comprised in the lease and all boundary marks in repair;

(e) where part only of a building is leased, or where a dwelling-house is leased furnished, to keep the leased premises, except the roof, main walls and main drains, and the common passages and common installations in repair;

(f) where the lease is of furnished premises, to keep the furniture of the period, fair wear and tear only excepted, and to replace such articles as are lost, destroyed or so damaged as to be beyond repair with articles of equal value to those so lost, destroyed or damaged;

(g) to permit the lessor or his agent with or without workmen or others at all convenient times and after reasonable notice to enter on the leased premises and examine their condition;

(h) to repair or otherwise make good any defect or breach of agreement for which the lessee is responsible and of which notice has been given by the lessor to the lessee, within such reasonable period as may be specified in the notice; and

(i) not to transfer, charge, sublease or otherwise part with the possession of the leased premises or any part thereof without the previous written consent of the lessor, but such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

Meaning of "in repair."

54. Where an agreement is contained or implied in any lease to keep a building or a particular part of a building "in repair", it shall, in the absence of an express provision to the contrary, mean in such state of repair as that in which a prudent owner might reasonably be expected to keep his property, due allowance being made for the age, character and locality of the building at the commencement of the lease:

Provided that there shall not be read into such an agreement an undertaking to put any building into a better state of repair than that in which it was at the commencement of the lease.

Lessor's right of forfeiture and effect of forfeiture of subleases.

55. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 57 and to any provision to the contrary in the lease, the lessor shall have the right to forfeit the lease if the lessee—

(a) commits any breach of, or omits to perform, any agreement or condition on his part expressed or implied in the lease; or

(b) is adjudicated bankrupt; or

(c) being a company, goes into liquidation.

(2) The right of forfeiture may be—

(a) exercised, where neither the lessee nor any person claiming through or under him is in occupation of the land, by entering upon and remaining in possession of the land; or

(b) enforced by action in the court.

(3) The right of forfeiture shall be taken to have been waived if—

(a) the lessor accepts rent which has become due since the breach of agreement or condition which entitled the lessor to forfeit the lease or has by any other positive action shown an intention to treat the lease as subsisting; and

(b) the lessor is, or should by reasonable diligence have become, aware of the commission of the breach;

Provided that the acceptance of rent after the lessor has commenced an action in the court under subsection (2) shall not operate as a waiver.

(4) The forfeiture of a lease shall terminate every sublease and every other interest appearing in the register relating to that lease, but—

(a) where the forfeiture is set aside by the court on the grounds that it was procured by the lessor in fraud of the sub lessee; or

(b) where the court grants relief against the forfeiture under section 57 of this Ordinance, every such sublease and other interest shall be deemed not to have terminated.

56. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the lease, no lessor shall be entitled to exercise the right of forfeiture for the breach of any agreement or condition in the lease, whether expressed or implied, until the lessor has served on the lessee a notice—

Notice before forfeiture.

(a) specifying the particular breach complained of; and

(b) if the breach is capable of remedy, requiring the lessee to remedy the breach within such reasonable period as is specified in the notice; and

(c) in any other than non-payment of rent, requiring the lessee to make compensation in money for the breach, and the lessee has failed to remedy the breach within a reasonable time thereafter, if it is capable of remedy, and to make reasonable compensation in money.

57. (1) A lessee upon whom a notice has been served under section 56, or against whom the lessor is proceeding, by action or re-entry, to enforce his right of forfeiture, may apply to the court for relief; and the court may grant or refuse relief, as the court, having regard to the proceedings and the conduct of the parties and the circumstances of the case, thinks fit, and, if it grants relief, may grant it on such terms as it thinks fit.

Relief against forfeiture.

(2) The court on application by any person claiming as sublessee or chargee any interest in the property or part of the property comprised in the lease forfeited or sought to be forfeited, may make an order vesting the property or such part in such sublessee or chargee for the whole period of the lease or any loss period, upon such conditions as the court in the circumstances of the case thinks fit:

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall apply in the case of a forfeiture arising from a breach to which the sublessee is a party or from the breach of an express agreement or condition against subleasing, parting with the possession of or disposing of the property leased.

(3) For the purpose of this section a lease limited to continue as long only as the lessee abstains from committing a breach of agreement or condition shall be and take effect as a lease to continue for any longer term for which it could subsist, but terminable by a proviso for re-entry on such breach.

(4) This section shall have effect notwithstanding any stipulation or agreement to the contrary and whether the lease is registered or not.

Variation and extension of leases.

58. Subject to the provisions of section 56, the agreements and conditions contained or implied in any registered lease may be varied, negatived or added to, and the period of any registered lease may from time to time be extended, by an instrument executed by the lessor and the lessee for the time being and registered before the expiration of the then current term of the lease.

Substitution.

59. Where upon presentation of a lease for registration the Registrar* is satisfied that the lessee is the person registered as the proprietor of a prior lease in respect of the same land, he shall cancel the registration of the prior lease and register the new lease subject to the incumbrances registered against the prior lease.

Subleases.

60. (1) Subject to any provision in his lease affecting his right to do so, the proprietor of a registered lease may, by a sublease in the prescribed form, sublease for any period which is less than the remainder of the period of his lease.

(2) Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Ordinance, the provisions of this Ordinance affecting leases, lessors and lessees shall apply to subleases, sublessors and sublessees, with such adaptations as are necessary.

(3) If a lease is terminated by operation of law or under any law relating to bankruptcy or liquidation proceedings such termination shall terminate the sublease.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(4) In addition to the agreements specified by this Ordinance to be implied in leases, there shall be implied in every sublease under this Ordinance an agreement by the sublessor that he will, during the continuance of the sublease, pay the rent reserved by the lease under which the sublessor holds, and observe and perform the agreements and conditions thereof.

(5) Where a sublessee has paid to the sublessor's lessor the rent or any part of the rent payable by the sublessor under the lease which the sublessor holds, the sublease shall be entitled to set off any sum so paid against the rent payable by him to the sublessor in respect of the sublease.

61. (1) Where the lessor and the lessee agree that the lease shall be surrendered, it shall be surrendered in the following manner—

Surrender of leases.

(a) an instrument shall be prepared in the prescribed form, or else the word "surrendered" shall be inscribed on the lease or on the duplicate or triplicate thereof;

(b) the instrument or inscription shall then be executed by the lessor and lessee;

(c) the Registrar shall then cancel the registration of the lease; or

(d) the instrument or inscribed lease shall then be filed, and thereupon, or upon such earlier date as is expressed in the instrument or inscription, the interest of the lessee shall cease.

(2) No lease which is subject to a charge or a sublease shall be surrendered without the consent in writing of the proprietor of the charge or sublease.

62. (1) Where —

Determination of leases.

(a) the period of a lease has expired; or

(b) an event upon which a lease is expressed to terminate has happened; or

(c) a lessor has lawfully re-entered; or

(d) a notice duly given to terminate the lease has expired, and the lessor has recovered possession of the land leased, the lease and every other interest appearing on the register relating to the lease shall thereupon terminate, and the lessor may apply in writing to the Registrar* to cancel the registration.

(2) An application under this section shall be supported by such evidence of the matters giving rise to the termination and the recovery of possession by the lessor as the Registrar* may require, and the Registrar* on being satisfied of the matters set forth in the application shall cancel the registration of the lease.

Voluntary registration of leases.

63. Where application is made to the Registrar* to register any lease which is not compulsorily registrable under this Ordinance but which is capable of registration, the Registrar* shall not register such lease unless—

(a) it is in the prescribed form, or in such form as the Registrar* may approve; and

(b) in the case of a sublease, every lease superior to that sublease complies with condition (a) and is registered in priority to the sublease.

Division 3 – Charges

Form and effect of charges.

64. (1) A proprietor may, by an instrument in the prescribed form, charge his land or lease or charge to secure the payment of an existing or a future or a contingent debt or other money or money’s worth or the fulfilment of a condition, and the instrument shall, except where section 72 has by the instrument been expressly excluded, contain a special acknowledgement that the chargor understands the effect of that section, and the acknowledgement shall be signed by the chargor or, where the chargor is a corporation, by one of the persons attesting the affixation of the common seal.

(2) A date for the repayment of the money secured by a charge may be specified in the charge instrument, and where no such date is specified or repayment is not demanded by the chargee on the date specified the money shall be deemed to be repayable three months after the service of a demand in writing by the charge.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words “Chief Registrar” shall be substituted for the word “Registrar” — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(3) The charge shall be completed by its registration as an incumbrance and the registration of the person in whose favour it is created as its proprietor and by filing the instrument.

(4) A charge shall not operate as a transfer but shall have effect as a security only.

(5) There shall be included, in an instrument of charge securing the fulfilment of a condition or the payment of an annuity or other periodical payment not of the nature of interest on a capital sum, such provisions as the parties think fit for disposing, subject to the provisions of section 76, of the money which may arise on the exercise by the chargee of his power of sale, either by setting aside the proceeds of sale or part thereof and investing it to make future periodical payments, or by payment to the chargee of such proceeds or part thereof to the extent of the estimated capital value of the chargee's interest or otherwise.

65. A proprietor whose land or lease or charge is subject to a charge may create a second or subsequent charge in the same manner as the first charge and then the same provisions shall apply thereto, but any sale under the power expressed or implied in any such charge shall be expressed to be subject to all prior charges unless all those charges have been discharged.

Second or subsequent charges.

66. If any question arises whether any payment made by the chargor is in respect of principal or interest, such payment shall be presumed to be in respect of interest to the extent of all interest which is due and payable at the date of payment.

Presumption that money paid is interest.

67. There shall be implied in every charge, unless the contrary is expressed therein, agreements by the chargor with the chargee binding the chargor—

Agreements implied in charges.

(a) to pay the principal money on the day therein appointed and, so long as the principal money or any part thereof remains unpaid, to pay interest thereon, or on so much thereof as for the time being remains unpaid, at the rate and on the days and in manner therein specified;

(b) to pay all rates, taxes and other outgoings which are at any time payable in respect of the charged property;

(c) to repair and keep in repair all buildings and other improvements upon the charged land or comprised in the charged lease and to permit the chargee or his agent, at all reasonable times and after reasonable notice to the chargor, to enter the land and examine the state and condition of such buildings and improvements;

(d) to insure and keep insured all buildings upon the charged land or comprised in the charged lease against loss or damage by fire in the joint names of the chargor and chargee with insurers approved by the chargee to the full value thereof;

(e) in the case of a charge of agricultural land, to farm the land in accordance with the rules of good husbandry;

(f) in the case of a charge of land or of a lease, not to lease the charged land or any part thereof, or sublease the whole or any part of the land comprised in the charged lease, for any period longer than one year without the previous consent in writing of the chargee, but such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld;

(g) not to transfer the land, lease or charge charged or any part thereof without the previous written consent of the chargee but such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld;

(h) in the case of a charge of a lease, during the continuance of the charge to pay the rent reserved by the lease and observe and perform the agreement and conditions thereof, and to keep the chargee indemnified against all proceedings, expenses and claims on account of the nonpayment of the rent or any part thereof, or the breach or nonobservance of the said agreements and condition or any of them, and, if the lessee has an enforceable right to renew the lease, to renew it;

(i) where the charge is a second or subsequent charge, that the chargor will pay the interest from time to time accruing due on each prior charge when it becomes due, and will at the proper time repay the principal money due on each prior charge; and

(j) where the chargor fails to comply with any of the agreements implied by paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), (g) and (h) that the chargee may spend such money as is necessary to remedy the breach, and may add the amount so spent to the principal money, and that thereupon the amount shall be deemed for all purposes to be part of the principal money secured by the charge.

68. Where a charge contains an agreement, expressed or implied, by the chargor with the chargee that he will not transfer the land, lease or charge charged or any part thereof without the written consent of the chargee, the agreement shall be noted in the register and no transfer by the chargor shall be registered until the written consent of the chargee, verified in accordance with section 108 has been produced to the Registrar*.

transfer.

69. The amount secured, the method of repayment, the rate of interest or the term of the charge may be varied by the registration of an instrument of variation executed by the parties to the charge, but no such variation shall affect the rights of the proprietor of any subsequent charge, unless he has consented to the variation in writing on the instrument of variation.

Variation of charges.

70. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a chargor, on payment of all money due and owing under the charge at the time of payment or on fulfilment of any condition secured thereby and on payment of any costs or expenses properly incurred by the chargee in exercising any power conferred on him by section 72, may redeem the charged land or lease or charge at any time before it has been sold under section 75, and any agreement or provision which purports to deprive the chargor of this right of redemption shall be void; and, for the purpose of this subsection, land, a lease or a charge shall be deemed to have been sold when a bid has been accepted at the auction sale.

redemption.

(2) If the chargor wishes to redeem the charged land or lease or charge before the date for repayment specified in the charge, he shall be entitled to do so on payment to the chargee, in addition to any other money then due or owing under the charge, of interest on the principal sum secured thereby for the unexpired portion of the term of the charge.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(3) If the chargor seeks to redeem the charged land or lease or charge after the date specified in the charge, or where no such date is specified, he shall give the chargee three months' notice of his intention to redeem the charge or shall pay him three months' interest in lieu thereof.

(4) If at any time the chargor is entitled and desires to repay the money secured by the charge, and the chargee is absent or cannot be found, or the Registrar* is satisfied that the charge cannot be discharged otherwise, the chargor may deposit the amount due with the Registrar* in trust for the person entitled thereto, and thereupon the obligations of the chargor under the charge shall cease, and the Registrar* shall cancel the registration of the charge and shall pay the amount deposited to the chargee if the chargee applies for it within six years of the date of deposit, and if the amount is not so paid it shall be paid into the public Treasury.

Right of third party to transfer of charge.

71. On his tendering to the chargee such sums as would have been payable to the chargee if the chargor had sought to redeem the charge under section 70, any of the following persons, that is to say—

(a) any person, other than the chargor, who has an interest in the land or lease or charge charged; or

(b) any surety for the payment of the amount secured by the charge; or

(c) any creditor of the chargor who has obtained a decree for sale of the charged land, lease or charge, may require the chargee to transfer the charge to him.

Chargee's remedies.

72. (1) If default is made in payment of the principal sum or of any interest or any other periodical payment or of any part thereof, or in the performance or observance of any agreement expressed or implied in any charge, and continues for one month, the chargee may serve on the chargor notice in writing to pay the money owing or to perform and observe the agreement, as the case may be.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) If the chargor does not comply, within three months of the date of service, with a notice served on him under subsection (1), the chargee may—

(a) appoint a receiver of the income of the charged property; or

(b) sell the charged property:

Provided that a chargee who has appointed a receiver may not exercise the power of sale unless the chargor fails to comply, within three months of the date of service, with a further notice served on him under that subsection.

(3) The chargee shall be entitled to sue for the money secured by the charge in the following cases only—

(a) where the chargor is bound to repay the same;

(b) where, by any cause other than the wrongful act of the chargor or chargee the charged property is wholly or partially destroyed or the security is rendered insufficient and the chargee has given the chargor a reasonable opportunity of providing further security which will render the whole security sufficient, and the chargor has failed to provide such security;

(c) where the chargee is deprived of the whole or part of his security by, or in consequence of, the wrongful act or default of the chargor:

Provided that—

(i) in the case specified in paragraph (a)—

(a) a transferee from the chargor shall not be liable to be sued for the money unless he has agreed with the chargee to pay the same; and

(b) no action shall be commenced until a notice served in accordance with subsection (1) has expired;

(ii) the court may, at its discretion, stay a suit brought under paragraph (a) or paragraph (b), notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, until the chargee has exhausted all his other remedies against the charged property.

73. (1) The appointment of a receiver under the powers conferred by section 72 shall be in writing signed by the chargee.

Appointment powers, remuneration and duties of receiver.

(2) A receiver may be removed at any time and a new receiver appointed in writing signed by the chargee.

(3) A receiver appointed under this section shall be deemed to be the agent of the chargor for the purposes for which he is appointed; and the chargor shall be solely responsible for the receiver's acts and defaults unless the charge otherwise provides.

(4) The receiver shall have power to demand and recover all the income of which he is appointed receiver by action or otherwise, in the name of the chargor, and to give effectual receipts accordingly for the same.

(5) A person paying money to the receiver shall not be concerned to inquire into the validity of the receiver's appointment.

(6) Subject to the provisions of subsection (8) the receiver shall be entitled to retain out of any money received by him all costs, charges and expenses incurred by him as receiver, and, for his remuneration, a commission at such rate, not exceeding five per cent of the gross amount of all moneys received, as is specified in his appointment, or if no rate is so specified at the rate of five per cent of that gross amount, or such other rate as the chargor and the chargee and other chargees, if any, agree or the court thinks fit to allow on application made by the receiver for that purpose.

(7) The receiver shall apply insurance money in making good the loss or damage in respect of which the money is received.

(8) Subject to the provisions of subsection (7), the receiver shall apply all money received by him in the following order of priority—

(a) in discharge of all rents, rates, taxes and out-goings whatever affecting the charged property; or

(b) in keeping down all annual sums or other payments and the interest on all principal sums, having priority to the charge in right whereof he is receiver; and

(c) in payment of his commission, costs, charges and expenses and of the premiums on fire, life and other insurance, if any, properly payable under the charge instrument or under this Ordinance, and the cost of executing necessary or proper repairs directed in writing by the chargee; and

(d) in payment of the interest accruing due in respect of any principal money due under the charge; and

(e) in or towards the discharge of the money secured by the charge, if so directed in writing by the chargee, and shall pay the residue, if any, of the money received by him to the person who, but for the appointment of the receiver, would have been entitled to receive the income of which he is appointed receiver, or who is otherwise entitled to the charged property.

74. (1) The proprietor of a charge on land or a lease who has appointed a receiver under the powers conferred on him by section 77 shall, in the absence of any express provision to the contrary contained in the charge, have power, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of any other written law—

Chargee's powers of leasing.

(a) to grant leases in respect of the charged land or the land comprised in the charged lease or any part or parts thereof; and

(b) to accept a surrender of any lease so granted and of any lease created by the chargor, and may, for such purposes, execute in the place of the chargor any instrument required to effect such lease or surrender.

(2) Every lease granted by a chargee shall—

(a) be made to take effect in possession not later than twelve months after its date;

(b) reserve the best rent that can reasonably be obtained, regard being had to the circumstances of the case, but without a fine or premium being obtained;

(c) be for a term not exceeding twenty-one years; and

(d) contain a declaration by the chargee that he has appointed a receiver, with the date of appointment.

75. (1) A chargee exercising his power of sale shall act in good faith and have regard to the interests of the chargor, and may sell or concur with any person in selling the charged land, lease or charge, or any part thereof, together or in lots, by public auction for a sum payable in one amount or by instalments, subject to such reserve price and conditions of sale as the chargee thinks fit, with power to buy in at the auction and to resell by public auction without being answerable for any loss occasioned thereby.

Power of sale.

(2) Where the chargor is in possession of the charged land or the land comprised in the charged lease, the chargee shall become entitled to recover possession of the land upon a bid being accepted at the auction sale.

(3) A transfer by a chargee in exercise of his power of sale shall be made in the prescribed form, and the Registrar* may accept it as sufficient evidence that the power has been duly exercised, and any person suffering damage by an irregular exercise of the power shall have his remedy in damages only against the person exercising the power.

(4) Upon registration of such transfer, the interest of the chargor as described therein shall pass to and vest in the transferee freed and discharged from all liability on account of the charge, or on account of any other incumbrance to which the charge has priority (other than a lease, easement or profit subsisting at the time and the charge was effected or to which the chargee has consented in writing).

(5) A chargee, in exercising his power of sale, shall have the same powers and rights in regard to easements and restrictive agreements as are conformed upon a proprietor by sections 93 and 94.

Application of purchase money.

76. The purchase money received by a chargee who has exercised his power of sale, after discharge of any prior incumbrances to which the sale is not made subject or after payment into court of a sum sufficient to meet any such prior incumbrances, shall be applied—

(a) first, in payment of all costs and expenses properly incurred and incidental to the sale or any attempted sale;

(b) secondly, in accordance with any express provision in the charge (as required by section 64) for disposing of such money and, in the absence of any such express provision, in discharge of the money due to the chargee at the date of the sale; and

(c) thirdly, in payment of any subsequent charges in the order of their priority,

and the residue of the money so received shall be paid to the person who immediately before the sale was entitled to redeem the charged land, lease or charge.

77. The provisions of sections 70(2) and (3), 72, 73, 74 and 75 may in their application to a charge be varied or added to in the charge:

Variation of powers.

Provided that any such variation or addition shall not be acted upon, unless the court, having regard to the proceedings and conduct of the parties and to the circumstances of the case, so orders.

78. For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that the chargee shall not be entitled to foreclose, nor to enter into possession of the charged land or the land comprised in a charged lease or to receive the rents and profits thereof by reason only that default has been made in the payment of the principal sum or of any part thereof or in the performance or observance of any agreement expressed or implied in the charge.

No right of entry into possession or foreclosure.

79. (1) A discharge, whether of the whole or of a part of a charge, shall be made by an instrument in the prescribed form, or (if of the whole) the word "Discharged" may be endorsed on the charge or the duplicate or triplicate and the endorsement executed by the chargee and dated.

Discharge of charge.

(2) A discharge shall be completed by cancellation in the register of the charge, or part thereof as the case may require, and filing the instrument of discharge or the endorsed charge.

80. Upon proof to the satisfaction of the Registrar—

Satisfaction of charges.

(a) that all money due under a charge has been paid to the chargee or by his direction; or

(b) that there has occurred the event or circumstances upon which, in accordance with the provisions of any charge, the money thereby secured ceases to be payable and that no money is owing under the charge, the Registrar* shall order the charge to be cancelled in the register, and thereupon the land, lease or charge shall cease to be subject to the charge.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Tacking and further advances.

81. (1) Provision may be made in the charge for a chargee to make further advances or give credit to the chargor on a current or continuing account, but, unless that provision is noted in the register, further advances shall not rank in priority to any subsequent charge except with the consent in writing of the proprietor of the subsequent charge.

(2) Except as provided in this section, there is no right to tack.

Consolidation.

82. A chargee has no right to consolidate his charge with any other charge unless the right is expressly reserved in the charges or in one of them and is noted in the register against all the charges so consolidated.

Division 4—Transfer.

Transfer.

83. (1) A proprietor, by an instrument in the prescribed form, may transfer his land, lease or charge to any person with or without consideration.

(2) The transfer shall be completed by registration of the transferee as proprietor of the land, lease or charge and by filing the instrument.

(3) The transferee of a charge may require the chargor to execute the transfer for the purpose of acknowledging the amount due under the charge at the date of execution of the transfer.

Certificates as to payment of rates.

84. The Registrar* shall not register any instrument purporting to transfer or to vest any land, or a lease of land, situated within the area of a rating authority unless there is produced to the Registrar a written statement by the authority that all rates and other charges payable to the authority in respect of the land for the last twelve years have been paid, up to and including the last rateable period before the day on which the instrument was presented for registration.

Provided that no such statement shall be required where the instrument relates to—

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

- (i) land which is subject to a lease, and the leasehold interest is, by virtue of any written law, the rateable property; or
- (ii) a lease, and the land or another leasehold interest is, by virtue of any written law, the rateable property.

85. A transfer to take effect on the happening of any event or on the fulfilment of any condition or at any future time shall not be capable of registration.

Transfer to take effect immediately.

86. (1) Any condition or limitation purporting to restrain absolutely a transferee or any person claiming under him from disposing of the interest transferred shall be void.

Conditions repugnant to interest transferred.

(2) Any condition or limitation made in relation to a transfer which purports to determine the interest of the transferee on the happening of any future event or on the failure of any future event to happen shall be void.

(3) Except as provided in Division 5 of this Part, no transfer of land shall contain a direction that the land shall be used or enjoyed by the transferee in a particular manner.

87. No part of the land comprised in a register shall be transferred unless the proprietor has first subdivided the land and new registers have been opened in respect of each subdivision.

Transfers of part.

88. On the transfer of a lease, unless the contrary is expressed in the transfer, there shall be implied—

Transfer of leases.

(a) a warranty on the part of the transferor that the rent, agreements and conditions on the part of the lessee to be paid, performed and observed have been so paid, performed and observed up to the date specified in the transfer or, if no such date is specified the date of the transfer; and

(b) an agreement on the part of the transferee to pay the said rent as from the day following the date specified in the transfer or the date of the transfer, as the case may be, and to perform and observe the said agreements and conditions.

89. A transferee from a lessor or from a lessee shall possess all the rights, and be subject to all the liabilities, of the lessor or lessee, as the case may be, expressed or implied in the lease, or arising or which have arisen thereunder, and the transferor shall cease to be under any obligation or possessed of any rights in respect of the lease:

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the rights or liabilities of the lessor or lessee, as the case may be, in respect of a breach of any of the agreements expressed or implied in the lease which occurred before the transfer.

Transfer subject to charge.

90. In every transfer of land or a lease subject to a charge, there shall be implied an agreement by the transferee with the transferor to pay the interest secured by the charge at the rate and at the times and in the manner specified in the charge and to keep the transferor indemnified against the principal sum secured by the charge and from and against all liability in respect of any of the agreements on the part of the transferor therein contained or implied.

Transfer subject to lease.

91. A transfer of land which is subject to a lease shall be valid without the lessee acknowledging the transferee as lessor, but nothing in this section—

(a) affects the validity of any payment of rent made by the lessee to the transferor; or

(b) renders the lessee liable, on account of his failure to pay rent to the transferee for any breach of agreement to pay rent, before notice of the transfer is given to the lessee by the transferee or transferor.

Transfer of unregistered leases.

92. A transfer of a lease of registered land which lease does not require registration, and is not so registered, shall not itself require registration, but if application is made to the Registrar to register such transfer, he shall not do so unless the transfer is in the prescribed form and the lease and prior transfers or other dealings therewith have been registered.

Division 5—Easements, Restrictive Agreements, Profits and Licences.

Easements.

93. (1) The proprietor of land or a lease may, by an instrument in the prescribed form, grant an easement over his land or the land comprised in his lease, to the proprietor or lessee of other land for the benefit of that other land.

(2) Any proprietor transferring or leasing land or a lease may in the transfer or lease grant an easement, for the benefit of the land transferred or leased, over land retained by him, or reserve an easement for the benefit of land retained by him.

(3) The instrument creating the easement shall specify clearly—

(a) the nature of the easement, the period for which it is granted and any conditions, limitations or restrictions intended to affect its enjoyment; and

(b) the land burdened by the easement and, if required by the Registrar*, the particular part thereof so burdened; and

(c) the land which enjoys the benefit of the easement, and shall, if so required by the Registrar*, include a plan sufficient in the Registrar's estimation to define the easement.

(4) The grant or reservation of the easement shall be completed by its registration as an incumbrance in the register of the land burdened and in the property section of the land which benefits, and by filing the instrument.

(5) An easement granted by the proprietor of a lease shall be capable of existing only during the subsistence of the lease.

94. (1) Where an instrument, other than a lease or charge, contains an agreement (hereinafter referred to as a restrictive agreement) by one proprietor restricting the building on or the user or other enjoyment of his land for the benefit of the proprietor of other land, and is presented to the Registrar*, the Registrar* shall note the restrictive agreement in the incumbrances section of the register of the land or lease burdened by the restrictive agreement, either by entering particulars of the agreement or by referring to the instrument containing the agreement and shall file the instrument.

Restrictive
agreements.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) Unless it is noted in the register, a restrictive agreement is not binding on the proprietor of the land or lease burdened by it or on anybody acquiring the land or lease.

(3) The note of a restrictive agreement in the register does not give the restrictive agreement any greater force or validity than it would have had if it had not been registerable under this Ordinance and had not been noted.

(4) In so far as the restrictive agreement is capable of taking effect, not only the proprietors themselves but also their respective successors in title shall be entitled to the benefit and subject to the burden of it respectively, unless the instrument otherwise provides.

Profits.

95. (1) The proprietor of land or a lease may, by an instrument in the prescribed form, grant a profit.

(2) The instrument shall indicate clearly the nature of the profit, the period for which it is to be enjoyed and—

(a) whether it is to be enjoyed in gross, or as appurtenant to other land or a lease; and

(b) whether it is to be enjoyed by the grantee exclusive or by him in common with the grantor.

(3) The grant of a profit shall be completed—

(a) by its registration as an incumbrance in the register of the land or lease which it affects; and

(b) where it is appurtenant to other land or a lease, by its registration in the property section of the register of the land or lease to which it is appurtenant; and

(c) by filing the instrument.

(4) A profit which is not appurtenant to land may be dealt with as though it were land.

(5) A profit granted by the proprietor of a lease shall be capable of subsisting only during the subsistence of the lease.

Release and extinguishment of easements, profits and restrictive agreements.

96. (1) Upon presentation of a duly executed release in the prescribed form, the registration of the easement, profit or restrictive agreement shall be cancelled, and the easement, profit or restrictive agreement shall thereupon be extinguished.

(2) On the application of any person affected thereby, the Registrar* may cancel the registration of an easement, profit or restrictive agreement upon proof to his satisfaction that—

(a) the period of time for which it was intended to subsist has expired; or

(b) the event upon which it was intended to terminate has occurred; or

(c) it has been abandoned.

97. The Court shall have power, on the application of any person interested in land affected by an easement, restrictive agreement or profit by order wholly or partially to extinguish or modify any such easement, profit or restrictive agreement (with or without payment by the applicant of compensation to any person suffering loss in consequence of the order), on being satisfied—

Discharge and modification of easements, profits and restrictive agreements.

(a) that, by reason of changes in the character of the property or the neighbourhood or other circumstances of the case which the court deems material, the easement, profit or restrictive agreement ought to be held to be obsolete; or

(b) that the continued existence of the easement, profit or restrictive agreement impedes the reasonable user of the land for public or private purposes without securing practical benefits to other persons or, as the case may be, will unless modified so impede such user; or

(c) that the proposed discharge or modification will not injure the person entitled to the benefit of the easement, profit or restrictive agreement.

98. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as derogating from the natural right to support, light, air or access to a highway appertaining to any land nor from such ancillary rights as are necessary for effective enjoyment of an easement.

Natural rights.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Licences.

99. (1) Without prejudice to section 127, a licence is not capable of registration.

(2) A licence relating to the use or enjoyment of land is ineffective against a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration unless the licensee has protected his interest by lodging a caution under that section.

Division 6—Co-proprietorship and Partition.

Registration of more than one proprietor

100. (1) Every instrument made in favour of two or more persons, and the registration giving effect to it, shall show—

(a) whether such persons are joint proprietors or proprietors in common; and

(b) where they are proprietors in common, the share of each proprietor.

(2) The Governor in Council may for any registration section prescribe either—

(a) the maximum number (whether one or a greater number) of persons who are allowed to be registered in the same register as proprietors; or

(b) the maximum denominator of the vulgar fraction which expresses the share of any proprietor, or both of them, and no dealing shall be registered if its effect would be that that number or that denominator as the case may be, would be exceeded.

Characteristics of joint proprietorship and severance thereof.

101. (1) Where the land, lease or charge is owned jointly no proprietor is entitled to any separate share in the land, and consequently—

(a) dispositions may be made only by all the joint proprietors; and

(b) on the death of a joint proprietor, his interest shall vest in the surviving proprietor or the surviving proprietors jointly.

(2) For avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that—

(a) the sole proprietor of any land, lease or charge may transfer the same to himself and another person jointly; and

(b) a joint proprietor of any land, lease or charge may transfer his interest therein to all the other proprietors.

(3) Joint proprietors, not being trustees, may execute an instrument in the prescribed form signifying that they agree to sever the joint proprietorship, and the severance shall be completed by registration of the joint proprietors as proprietors in common in equal shares and by filing the instrument.

102. (1) Where any land, lease or charge is owned in common, each proprietor shall be entitled to an undivided share in the whole, and on the death of a proprietor his share shall be administered as part of his estate.

Characteristics of proprietorship in common.

(2) No proprietor in common shall deal with his undivided share in favour of any person other than another proprietor in common of the same land, except with the consent in writing of the remaining proprietor or proprietors of the land, but such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

103. (1) An application for the partition of the land owned in common may be made in the prescribed form to the Registrar* by—

Partition of land owned in common.

(a) any one or more of the proprietors; or

(b) any person in whose favour an order has been made for the sale of an undivided share in the land in execution of a decree, and subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of any written law by or under which minimum areas or frontages are prescribed or the consent of any authority to a partition is required, the Registrar* shall effect the partition of the land in accordance with any agreement to the proprietors in common, or, in the absence of agreement, in such manner as the Registrar* may order.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) Partition shall be completed by closing the register of the parcel partitioned and opening registers in respect of the new parcels created by the partition and filing the agreement or order.

When Registrar* may order sale.

104. (1) Where for any reason the land sought to be partitioned is incapable of partition or the partition would adversely affect the proper use of the land, and a demand is made by the applicant or one or more of the other proprietors in common that the land or any share or shares in the land be sold, the Registrar* shall on order of a Judge, in default of any agreement between the proprietors in common, value the land and the shares of the proprietors in common and order the sale of the land or the separation and sale of such shares by public auction or make such other order for the disposal of the application as he thinks fit.

(2) A proprietor in common shall be entitled to purchase the land or any share so offered for sale, either at the auction or at any time by private treaty before the auction.

Procedure where share is small.

105. (1) Where the land sought to be partitioned is capable of partition generally, but the resultant share of any particular proprietor in common would be less in area than any minimum prescribed by or under any written law, the Registrar* shall add such share to the share of any other proprietor or distribute such share amongst two or more other proprietors in such manner and in such proportions as, in default of agreement, he thinks fit.

(2) Where the Registrar* proceeds in accordance with subsection (1), he shall assess the value of the share added or distributed and shall order that there be paid to the proprietor of the share by each proprietor who has received in addition to his share the value of such addition.

(3) Where any sum is payable under subsection (2) by any proprietor in common to any other proprietor in common, the Registrar* may order that such sum be secured by way of charge on the share of the person liable to pay it.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

PART VI.

INSTRUMENTS AND AGENTS.

106. (1) Every disposition of land, a lease or a charge shall be affected by an instrument in the prescribed form or in such other form as the Registrar may in any particular case approve, and every person shall use a printed form issued by the Registrar unless the Registrar* otherwise permits.

Form of instruments.

(2) Leases and charges shall be presented for registration in triplicate.

(3) Instruments shall contain a true statement of the amount of value of the purchase price or loan or other consideration (if any), and an acknowledgement of the receipt of the consideration.

107. (1) Every instrument evidencing a disposition shall be executed by all persons shown by the register to be proprietors of the interest affected and by all other parties to the instrument:

Execution of instruments.

Provided that the Registrar* may dispense with execution by any particular party (other than the donee under a disposition by way of gift) where he considers that such execution is unnecessary.

(2) Subject to section 120(2) an instrument shall be deemed to have been executed only—

- (a) by a natural person, if signed by him;
- (b) by a corporation—
  - (i) if sealed with the common seal of the corporation, affixed thereto in the presence of and attested by its clerk, secretary or other permanent officer and by a member of the board of directors, council or other governing body of the corporation; or

- (ii) in the case of a corporation not required by law to have a common seal, if signed by such persons as are authorised in that behalf by any law or by the statute or charter of the corporation or, in the absence of any express provision, by the persons duly appointed in writing for that purpose by the corporation, evidence of which appointment has been produced to the satisfaction of the Registrar*.

Verification of execution.

108. (1) Subject to subsection (3), a person executing an instrument shall appear before the Registrar* or such public officer or other person as is prescribed and, unless he is known to the Registrar* or such public officer or other person, shall be accompanied by a creditable witness for the purpose of establishing his identity.

(2) The Registrar* or public officer or other person shall satisfy himself as to the identity of the person appearing before him and ascertain whether he freely and voluntarily executed the instrument, and shall complete thereon a certificate to that effect.

(3) An instrument which is required to be executed by or on behalf of the Crown, shall be deemed to be executed when it has been signed by the Governor.

(4) The Registrar* may dispense with verification under this section—

(a) if he considers that it cannot be obtained or can be obtained only with difficulty and he is otherwise satisfied that the document has been properly executed; or

(b) in cases in which to his knowledge the document has been properly executed, and shall record on the document his reasons for dispensing with the appearance of the parties.

(5) No instrument executed out of the Virgin Islands shall be registered unless it has endorsed thereon or attached thereto a certificate in the prescribed form completed—

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(a) if the instrument was executed in the Commonwealth, by a Judge, magistrate, justice of the peace, notary public, commissioner for oaths or administrative officer;

(b) if the instrument was executed in a foreign country, by a British consular officer or pro-consul or such other person or class of persons as the Governor may determine.

109. No instrument required by law to be stamped shall be accepted for registration unless it is duly stamped. Stamps.

110. (1) Subject to subsection (2) and to section 112 (2), all instruments accepted by the Registrar* shall be retained in the registry for as long as they support a current entry in the register and for six years thereafter. Disposal of instruments.

(2) When a lease or charge is registered, particulars of registration shall be noted on the duplicate and the triplicate thereof, and the duplicate and the triplicate shall be returned to the person who presented them.

(3) Six years or more after an entry in the register has been superseded or has ceased to have any effect, the Registrar* may destroy any instrument which supported the entry.

111. (1) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that the name of a person under the age of twenty-one years may be entered in the register either on the first registration or as a transferee or on transmission. Minors.

(2) Nothing in this section enables any such person to deal with land or any interest in land by virtue of such registration, and, where to his knowledge a minor is registered, the Registrar* shall enter a restriction accordingly.

(3) Where a disposition by a minor whose minority has not been disclosed to the Registrar* has been registered, such disposition may not be set aside only on the grounds of minority.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Agents and persons under disability.

112. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section no instrument executed by any person as agent for any other person shall be accepted by the Registrar* unless the person executing it was authorised in that behalf by a power of attorney executed and verified in accordance with sections 107 and 108.

(2) The original of such power of attorney or, with the consent of the Registrar*, a copy thereof by the Registrar shall be filed.

(3) Where any person who, if not under a disability might have made any application, done any act or been a party to any proceeding under this Ordinance or under any rules made thereunder is a minor, a person of unsound mind or a person under any other disability, the guardian of such person, or if there is no such guardian, a person appointed under some written law to represent that person may make any application, do any act and be party to any proceeding on behalf of that person, and shall generally represent that person for the purposes of this Ordinance.

(4) Before accepting any document executed by a guardian or a person so appointed to represent a person under a disability, the Registrar* shall satisfy himself that the person claiming to be the guardian is entitled to execute the document or require the production of the appointment of the person so appointed, and shall file a note of the explanation which satisfied him or a copy of the appointment, as the case may be.

Gift to person under disability.

113. A person under a disability who has been registered as proprietor of land, a lease or a charge acquired by him by way of gift may, within six months after he ceases to be under a disability, repudiate the gift if he has not already disposed of the subject-matter thereof, but no such repudiation shall be effective until—

(a) he has transferred the land, lease or charge to the donor who shall be bound to accept it; and

(b) the transfer has been registered.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

114. (1) Upon the application of the donor or the donee of a power of attorney which contains any power to dispose of any interest in land, such power of attorney shall be entered in the register of powers of attorney and the original, or with the consent of the Registrar* a copy thereof certified by the Registrar shall be filed in the file of powers of attorney.

Powers of attorney.

(2) Every such power of attorney shall be in the prescribed form or such other form as the Registrar* may in any particular case approve, and shall be executed and verified in accordance with section 107 and 108.

(3) The donor of a power of attorney filed in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1) of this section may at any time give notice to the Registrar* in the prescribed form that the power has been revoked, and thereupon the revocation shall be entered in the register of powers of attorney and noted upon the power, and the notice shall be filed in the file of powers of attorney.

(4) Any interested person may give notice in writing to the Registrar* that a power of attorney which has been registered under subsection (1) has been revoked by the death, bankruptcy or disability of the donor or the death or disability of the donee, accompanied by such evidence as the Registrar* requires, and thereupon the revocation shall be entered in the register of powers of attorney and noted upon the power and the notice shall be filed in the file of powers of attorney.

(5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not apply to a power of attorney given for valuable consideration during any time during which it is, by virtue of the terms thereof, irrevocable.

(6) If owing to the length of time since the execution of a power of attorney or for any other reason the Registrar* considers it desirable, he may require evidence that the power has not been revoked, and may refuse to register any disposition by the donee of the power of attorney until satisfactory evidence is produced.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Effect of registered power of attorney.

115. (1) A power of attorney which has been registered under section 114 and of which no notice of revocation has been registered under that section shall be deemed to be subsisting as regards any person acquiring any interest in land affected by the exercise of revocation and in good faith, or any person deriving title under such a person.

(2) Any person making any payment or doing any act in good faith in pursuance of a power of attorney registered under section 114 shall not be liable in respect of the payment or act by reason only that before the payment or act the donor of the power had died or become subject to a disability or become bankrupt or had revoked the power, if the fact of death, disability, bankruptcy or revocation was not at the time of the payment or act known to the person making or doing the payment or act.

PART VII.

TRANSMISSIONS AND TRUSTS.

Transmission on death of joint proprietor.

116. If one of two or more joint proprietors of any land, lease or charge dies, the Registrar, on proof of his satisfaction of the death, shall delete the name of the deceased from the register.

Transmission on death of sole proprietor or proprietor in common.

117. (1) If a sole proprietor or a proprietor in common dies, his personal representative, on application to the Registrar* in the prescribed form and on production to him of the grant, shall be entitled to be registered by transmission as proprietor in the place of the deceased with the addition after his name of the words "as executor of the will of ..... deceased" or "as administrator of the estate of ..... deceased", as the case may be.

(2) Upon production of a grant, the Registrar* may, without requiring the personal representative to be registered, register by transmission—

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(a) any transfer by the personal representative;

(b) any surrender of a lease or discharge of a charge by personal representative.

(3) In this section, "grant" means the grant of probate of the will or the grant of letters of administration of the estate of the deceased proprietor.

118. (1) Subject to any restriction on his power of disposing of the land, lease or charge contained in his appointment, the personal representative or the person beneficially entitled on the death of the deceased proprietor, as the case may be, shall hold the land, lease or charge subject to any liabilities, rights or interests which are unregistered but are nevertheless enforceable and subject to which the deceased proprietor held the same but for the purpose of any dealing he shall be deemed to have been registered as proprietor thereof with all the rights conferred by this Ordinance on a proprietor who has acquired land, a lease or a charge, as the case may be, for valuable consideration.

Effect of transmission by death.

(2) The registration of any person as aforesaid shall relate to and take effect from the date of the death of the proprietor.

119. (1) A trustee in bankruptcy shall, upon production to the Registrar* of a certified copy of the order of court adjudging a proprietor bankrupt, or directing that the estate of a deceased proprietor shall be administered according to the law of bankruptcy, be registered as proprietor of any land, lease or charge of which the bankrupt or deceased proprietor is proprietor, in his place, and a copy of the order shall be filed.

Transmission in bankruptcy.

(2) A trustee in bankruptcy shall be described in the register as "trustee of the property of ..... a bankrupt".

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(3) The trustee in bankruptcy shall hold any land, lease or charge of which he is registered as proprietor subject to any restrictions contained in any Ordinance relating to bankruptcy or in any order of court and subject to any liabilities, rights or interests which are unregistered but are nevertheless enforceable and subject to which the bankrupt or the deceased proprietor held the same, but for the purpose of any dealing with such land, lease or charge the trustee in bankruptcy shall have all the rights and be subject to all the limitations conferred or imposed by this or any other written law on a proprietor who has acquired land, a lease or a charge for valuable consideration.

Liquidation.

120. (1) Where a company is being wound up, the liquidator shall produce to the Registrar* any resolution or order appointing him liquidator, and the Registrar* shall enter the appointment in respect of any land, lease or charge of which the company is registered as proprietor, and shall file the copy of the resolution or order.

(2) An instrument executed by or on behalf of a company in liquidation delivered for registration after the appointment of the liquidation has been entered under subsection (1) of this section shall be sealed with the common seal of the company and attested by the liquidator or, in the case of a company not required by law to have a common seal, shall be signed by the liquidator whose signature shall be verified in accordance with section 10.

Transmission by compulsory acquisition or judgment of court.

121. Where the crown or any person has become entitled to any land, lease or charge under any law or by virtue of any order or certificate of sale made or issued under any law, the Registrar* shall, on the application of any interested person supported by such evidence as he may require, register the Crown or the person entitled, as the proprietor.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

122. (1) A person acquiring land or a lease or a charge in a fiduciary capacity may be described by that capacity in the instrument of acquisition and, if so described, shall be registered with the addition of the words "as trustee", but the Registrar* shall not enter particulars of any trust in the register. Trusts.

(2) An instrument which declares or is deemed to declare any trusts, or a certified copy thereof, may be deposited with the Registrar* for safe custody; but such instrument or copy shall not form part of the register or be deemed to be registered.

(3) Where the proprietor of land, a lease or a charge is a trustee, he shall hold the same subject to any unregistered liabilities, rights or interests to which it is subject by virtue of the instrument creating the trusts, but for the purpose of any registered dealings he shall be deemed to be the absolute proprietor thereof, and no person dealing in good faith for valuable consideration shall be deemed to have notice of the trust, nor shall any breach of the trust create any right to indemnify under this Ordinance.

(4) Any cestui que trust under a deed shall have the right to present a caution to the Registrar* to prevent any dealing with the land by the trustee in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of the trust deed.

123. Whenever two or more proprietors are registered jointly as trustees, and the survivor of such proprietors would not be entitled to exercise alone the powers which are vested in them, the Registrar* shall enter a restriction to that effect.

Survivor of trustees.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

PART VIII.

RESTRAINTS ON DISPOSITION.

Division 1—Inhibitions.

Power of court to inhibit registered dealings.

124. (1) The court may make an order (hereinafter referred to as an inhibition) inhibiting for a particular time, or until the occurrence of a particular event, or generally until further order, the registration of any dealing with any land, lease or charge.

(2) A copy of the inhibition under the seal of the court, with particulars of the land, lease or charge affected thereby, shall be sent to the Registrar*, who shall register it in the appropriate register, and no inhibition shall bind or affect the land, lease or charge until it has been registered.

Effect of inhibition.

125. So long as an inhibition remains registered, no instrument which is inconsistent with it shall be registered.

Cancellation of inhibition.

126. The registration of an inhibition shall be cancelled in the following cases and in no others—

(a) on the expiration of the time limited by the inhibition; or

(b) on proof to the satisfaction of the Registrar* of the occurrence of the event specified in the inhibition; or

(c) on the land, lease or charge being sold by a chargee unless such sale is itself inhibited; or

(d) by order of the court.

Division 2—Cautions.

Lodging of cautions.

127. (1) Any person who—

(a) claims any unregistrable interest whatsoever, in land or a lease or a charge; or

(b) is entitled to a licence; or

(c) has presented a bankruptcy petition against the proprietor of any registered land, lease or charge; or

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(d) being a bank, has advanced money on a current account to the proprietor of land or a lease or a charge, may lodge a caution with the Registrar* forbidding the registration of dispositions of the land, lease or charge concerned and the making of entries affecting the same.

(2) A caution may either—

(a) forbid the registration of dispositions and the making of entries altogether; or

(b) forbid the registration of dispositions and the making of entries to the extent therein expressed.

(3) A caution shall be in the prescribed form and shall state the interest claimed by the cautioner and the Registrar may require the cautioner to support it by a statutory declaration.

(4) The Registrar* may reject a caution which he considers unnecessary.

(5) Subject to the provisions of this section, the caution shall be registered in the appropriate register.

128. (1) The Registrar* shall give notice in writing of a caution to the proprietor whose land, lease or charge is affected by it.

Notice and effect of caution.

(2) So long as a caution remains registered, no disposition which is inconsistent with it shall be registered except with the consent of the cautioner or by order of the court.

129. (1) A caution may be withdrawn by the cautioner or removed by order of the court, or, subject to the provisions of subsection (2), by order of the Registrar*.

Withdrawal and removal of caution.

(2) (a) The Registrar* may, on the application of any person interested, serve notice on the cautioner warning him that his caution will be removed at the expiration of the time stated in the notice.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(b) If at the expiration of the time stated the cautioner has not objected, the Registrar may remove the caution.

(c) If the cautioner objects to the removal of the caution, he shall notify the Registrar in writing of his objection within the time specified in the notice, and the Registrar*, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, shall make such order as he thinks fit, and may in the order make provision for the payment of costs.

(3) On registration of a transfer by a chargee in exercise of his power of sale under section 75, the Registrar shall remove any caution which purports to prohibit any dealing by the chargor and which was registered after the charge by virtue of which the transfer has been effected.

(4) On the withdrawal or removal of a caution, its registration shall be cancelled, but any liability of the cautioner previously incurred under section 131 shall not be affected by the cancellation.

Second caution in respect of same matter.

130. The Registrar* may refuse to accept a further caution by the same person or anyone on his behalf in relation to the same matter as a previous caution.

Wrongful cautions.

131. Any person who lodges or maintains a caution wrongfully and without reasonable cause shall be liable, in an action for damages at the suit of any person who has thereby sustained damage, to pay compensation to such person.

Division 3—Restrictions.

Restrictions.

132. (1) For the prevention of any fraud or improper dealing or for any other sufficient cause, the Registrar* may, either with or without the application of any person interested in the land, lease or charge, after directing such inquiries to be made and notices to be served and hearing such persons as he thinks fit, make an order (hereinafter referred to as a restriction) prohibiting or restricting dealings with any particular land, lease or charge.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) A restriction may be expressed to endure—

(a) for a particular period; or

(b) until the occurrence of a particular event; or

(c) until the making of a further order, and may prohibit or restrict all dealings or only such dealings as do not comply with specified conditions, and the restrictions shall be registered in the appropriate register.

(3) The Registrar* shall order a restriction to be entered in any case where it appears to him that the power of the proprietor to deal with the land, lease or charge is restricted.

133. (1) Upon the entry of a restriction the Registrar* shall give notice thereof in writing to the proprietor affected thereby.

Notice, and effect of restriction.

(2) So long as any restriction remains registered, no instrument which is inconsistent with it shall be registered except by order of the court or of the Registrar*.

134. (1) The Registrar* may at any time, upon application by any person interested or of his own motion, and after giving the parties affected thereby an opportunity of being heard, order the removal or variation of a restriction.

Removal and variation of restrictions.

(2) Upon the application of a proprietor affected by restriction, and upon notice thereof to the Registrar*, the court may order a restriction to be removed or varied or make such other order as it thinks fit, and may make an order as to costs.

PART IX.

PRESCRIPTION.

135. (1) The ownership of land may be acquired by peaceable, open and uninterrupted possession without the permission of any person lawfully entitled to such possession for a period of twenty years:

Acquisition of land by prescription.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Provided that no person shall so acquire the ownership of Crown land.

(2) Any person who claims to have acquired the ownership of land by virtue of the provisions of subsection (1) may apply to the Registrar* for registration as proprietor thereof.

Principles of possession.

136. (1) Where it is shown that a person has been in possession of land, or in receipt of the rents or profits thereof, at a certain date and is still in possession or receipt thereof, it shall be presumed that he has, from that date, been in uninterrupted possession of the land or in uninterrupted receipt of the rents or profits until the contrary be shown.

(2) Possession of land or receipt of the rents or profits thereof by any person through whom a claimant derives his possession shall be deemed to have been the possession or receipt of the rents or profits by the claimant.

(3) Where from the relationship of the parties or from other special cause it appears that the person in possession of land is or was in possession on behalf of another his possession shall be deemed to be or to have been the possession of that other.

(4) If a person whose possession of land is subject to conditions imposed by or on behalf of the proprietor continues in such possession after the expiry of the term during which such conditions subsist, without fulfilment or compliance with them by such person and without any exercise by the proprietor of his right to the land, such subsequent possession shall be deemed to be peaceable, open and uninterrupted possession within the meaning of section 135.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4)—

(a) a tenancy at will shall be deemed to have terminated at the expiration of a period of one year from the commencement thereof unless it has previously been determined;

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(b) a periodic tenancy shall be deemed to have terminated at the expiration of the period:

Provided that where any rent has subsequently been paid in respect of the tenancy it shall be deemed to have terminated at the expiration of the period for which the rent has been paid.

(6) Possession shall be interrupted—

(a) by physical entry upon the land by any person claiming it in opposition to the person in possession with the intention of causing interruption if the possessor thereby loses possession; or

(b) by the institution of legal proceedings by the proprietor of the land to assert his right thereto; or

(c) by any acknowledgement made by the person in possession of the land to any person claiming to be the proprietor thereof that such claim is admitted.

(7) No person possessing land in a fiduciary capacity on behalf of another shall acquire by prescription the ownership of the land as against such other.

137. (1) On application by any person for registration as proprietor under section 135 the application shall be advertised by the Registrar* at the expense of the applicant in such manner as the Registrar* may direct.

Procedure on application.

(2) The Registrar* shall give notice of any such application to the proprietor of the land affected and to any other persons who may, in his opinion, be affected thereby.

(3) After one month has elapsed from the date of giving notice under subsection (2) the Registrar*, on being satisfied that the applicant has acquired the ownership of the land claimed, may allow the application and register him as proprietor of the land claimed, subject to any interests on the register which have not been extinguished by the possession.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Acquisition of easements and profits by prescription.

138. (1) Except in respect of Crown land, easements and profits may be acquired without registration by peaceable, open and uninterrupted enjoyment thereof for a period of twenty years:

Provided that no easement or profit shall be so acquired unless the proprietor of the land burdened by such easement or profit is, or by reasonable diligence might have been aware of such enjoyment by his own efforts have prevented it.

(2) Where any person claims to have acquired an easement or profit by virtue of the provisions of subsection (1) he may apply to the Registrar* for the registration thereof and the Registrar*, on being satisfied as to the claim and subject to such notices, advertisements and conditions as the Registrar* may direct, shall register the easement or profit as an incumbrance on the register of the land affected and, in the case of an easement, in the property register of the land which benefits.

PART X.

RECTIFICATION AND INDEMNITY.

Certification by Registrar*.

139. (1) The Registrar* may rectify the register or any instrument presented for registration in the following cases—

(a) in formal matters and in the case of errors or omissions not materially affecting the interests of any proprietor;

(b) where any person has acquired an interest in land by prescription under Part IX;

(c) in any case and at any time with the consent of all persons interested;

(d) where, upon resurvey, a dimension or area shown in the register or registry map is found to be incorrect, but in such case the Registrar shall first give notice to all persons appearing by the register to be interested or affected of his intention so to rectify.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) Upon proof of the change of the name or address of any proprietor, the Registrar* shall, on the written application of the proprietor, make an entry in the register to record the change.

140. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) the court may order rectification of the register by directing that any registration be cancelled or amended where it is satisfied that any registration including a first registration has been obtained, made or omitted by fraud or mistake.

Rectification by court.

(2) The register shall not be rectified so as to affect the title of a proprietor who is in possession or is in receipt of the rents or profits and acquired the land, lease or charge for valuable consideration, unless such proprietor had knowledge of the omission, fraud or mistake in consequence of which the rectification is sought, or caused such omission, fraud or mistake or substantially contributed to it by his act, neglect or default.

141. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of any written law relating to the limitation of actions, any person suffering damage by reason of—

Right of indemnity.

(a) any rectification of the register under this Ordinance; or

(b) any mistake or omission in the register which cannot be rectified under this Ordinance, other than a mistake or omission in a first registration; or

(c) any error in a certificate of official search issued by the Registrar* or in a copy of or extract from the register or in a copy of or extract from any document or plan, certified under the provisions of this Ordinance, shall be entitled to be indemnified by the Government out of moneys provided by the Legislative Council.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) No indemnity shall be payable under this Ordinance to any person who has himself caused or substantially contributed to the damage by his fraud or negligence, or who derives title (otherwise than under a registered disposition made bona fide for valuable consideration) from a person who so caused or substantially contributed to the damage.

Amount of indemnity.

142. Where an indemnity is awarded in respect of the loss of any interest in land, it shall not exceed—

(a) where the register is not rectified, the value of the interest at the time when the mistake or omission which caused the damage was made; or

(b) where the register is rectified, the value of the interest immediately before the time of rectification.

Procedure for claiming indemnity.

143. The Registrar* may, on the application of any interested party, determine whether a right of indemnity has arisen under this Part and, if so, award indemnity, and may add thereto any costs and expenses properly incurred in relation to the matter.

Recovery of indemnity paid.

144. Where any moneys are paid by way of indemnity under this Part, the Governor shall be entitled to recover by suit or otherwise the amount so paid from any person who has caused or substantially contributed to the loss of his fraud or negligence, and to enforce any express or implied agreement or other right which the person who is indemnified would have been entitled to enforce in relation to the matter in respect of which the indemnity has been paid.

Errors in survey.

145. (1) As between the Government and a proprietor, no claim to indemnity shall arise and no suit shall be maintained on account of any surplus or deficiency in the area or measurement of any land disclosed by a survey showing an area measurement differing from the area or measurement disclosed on any subsequent survey or from the area or measurement shown in the register or on the Registry Map.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) As between a proprietor and any person from or through whom he acquired the land, no claim to indemnity shall be maintainable on account of any surplus or deficiency in the area or measurement above or below that shown in any other survey or above or below the area or measurement shown in the register or on the Registry Map, after a period of six months from the date of registration of the instrument under which the proprietor acquired the land.

PART XI.

DECISIONS OF REGISTRAR AND APPEALS.

146. Whenever any question arises with regard to the exercise of any power or the performance of any duty conferred or imposed on him by this Ordinance, the Registrar* may and shall if required to do so by an aggrieved party state a case for the opinion of the High Court; and thereupon the High Court shall give its opinion thereon, which shall be binding upon the Registrar*.

Power of Registrar to state case.

147. (1) The Governor or any person aggrieved by a decision, direction, order, determination or award of the Registrar* may, within thirty days of the decision, direction, order, determination or award, give notice to the Registrar* in the prescribed form of his intention to appeal to the High Court against the decision, direction, order, determination or award.

Appeals.

(2) On receipt of a notice of appeal, the Registrar* shall prepare and send to the Court and to the appellant, and to any other person appearing to him from the register to be affected by the appeal, a brief statement of the question in issue.

(3) On the hearing of the appeal, the appellant and the Registrar* and any other person who, in the opinion of the Court, is affected by the appeal may, subject to any rules of court, appear and be heard in person or by a legal practitioner.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(4) The Court may make such order on the appeal as the circumstances may require, and every such order shall be given effect to by the Registrar.

(5) The costs of the appeal shall be in the discretion of the Court.

Effect of appeal on disposition.

148. (1) An appeal to the Court shall not affect a disposition for valuable consideration made in good faith and registered before delivery of notice of the appeal to the Registrar*.

(2) A note that an appeal is pending shall be made in the register affected by the appeal and any disposition shall be subject to such notice.

Appeal Rules.

149. The Chief Justice may make rules of Court for regulating applications and appeals to the Court under the provisions of this Ordinance, and for the fees to be paid in respect thereof.

PART XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Addresses.

150. Any person who under this Ordinance submits a caution or any instrument for registration, or is the proprietor of any land, lease or charge, shall furnish to the Registrar* in writing a postal address within the Virgin Islands for service, and shall notify him in writing of any change in that address:

Provided that the Registrar* may in his discretion dispense with this requirement in regard to any particular registration or kind of registration.

Service of notices.

151. A notice under this Ordinance shall be deemed to have been served on or given to any person—

(a) if served on him personally; or

(b) if served on an attorney holding a power of attorney whereunder such attorney is authorised to accept such service; or

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(c) if sent by registered post to him at his last known postal address in this territory or elsewhere and a receipt purporting to have been signed by him has been received in return; or

(d) if service cannot be effected in one of the above-mentioned ways, by displaying it in a prominent place on the land affected and by publishing in three consecutive issues of the Gazette.

152. (1) Where by this Ordinance a thing is to be or may be done after giving a person an opportunity of being heard that person shall be deemed to have been given such an opportunity—

Meaning of "opportunity of being heard".

(a) if he attends before the Registrar* personally or by a legal practitioner or other agent, and is given such an opportunity; or

(b) if he intimates, personally or by a legal practitioner or other agent, that he does not wish to be heard; or

(c) if he fails to attend pursuant to a notice in writing indicating the nature of the thing to be done and appointing a day and time not less than ninety days after service of the notice at which he will, if he attends before the Registrar*, be heard.

(2) Where a person or a legal practitioner or other agent on his behalf attends before the Registrar* concerning a matter on which he is entitled to an opportunity of being heard, or fails to attend pursuant to such a notice as aforesaid, the Registrar* may, if he thinks fit, adjourn the hearing from time to time, and, notwithstanding failure to attend, may, if he thinks fit, hear such person at any time.

(3) Where by this Ordinance all persons interested are to be given an opportunity of being heard, it shall be sufficient if all persons who, according to any subsisting entry in the register, appear to be so interested or affected are given such opportunity.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Offences.

153. (1) Any person who—

(a) knowingly misleads or deceives any person authorised by or under this Ordinance to require information in respect of any land or interest in land; or

(b) fraudulently issues or makes, or fraudulently procures the issue or making, of any certificate or other document, or any registration, or any erasure or alteration in any certificate or other document or in any register; or

(c) fraudulently uses, assists in fraudulently using or is privy to the fraudulent use of any instrument or form purporting to be issued or authorised by the Registrar*; or

(d) causes any defacement, obliteration, mutilation or unauthorised entry or alteration to be made on or in any register or filed instrument, shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance and shall be liable on summary conviction before a Magistrate to a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) If any person after the delivery to him of a summons to attend before the Registrar* or to produce any document neglects or refuses without reasonable cause to attend in accordance with the summons, or to produce any document which he is required by the summons to produce, or to answer upon oath or otherwise any question which is lawfully put to him by the Registrar* under the powers conferred by this Ordinance, he shall be guilty of an offence against this Ordinance and shall on summary conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Fees.

154. (1) There shall be payable in respect of land certificates, certificates of leases, searches, survey plans, printed forms and all other matters connected with registration, such fees as shall from time to time be prescribed, and the Registrar* may refuse registration until the fees are paid.

---

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

(2) The Registrar* may act notwithstanding that the prescribed fee or any part thereof has not been paid, but the unpaid fee or part of a fee shall be recorded in the register.

(3) The Registrar* may refuse to register a disposition of any land, lease or charge against which unpaid fees are recorded until such fees are paid.

155. Unpaid fees or expenses incurred by the Registrar* shall constitute a civil debt recoverable by the Registrar* in a Magistrate's court.

Recovery of fees and expenses.

156. An order for the payment of a sum of money made by the Registrar* under any power conferred by this Ordinance, shall be deemed to be an order of a Magistrate's court and shall be enforceable as such.

Enforcement of Registrar's orders for payment.

157. Civil suits and proceedings relating to the ownership or the possession of land, or to a lease or charge, registered under this Ordinance or to any interest in any such land, lease or charge, being an interest which is registered or registrable under this Ordinance, or being an interest which is referred to in section 28, shall be tried by the High Court, or where the value of the subject matter in dispute does not exceed five hundred dollars by a Magistrate's Court.

Jurisdiction of Courts.

158. The Governor may make rules generally to give effect to the purposes and provisions of this Ordinance, and in particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, for prescribing the forms to be used under this Ordinance and the fees payable for anything to be done thereunder, and for prescribing anything which under this Ordinance may be prescribed.

Rules.

159. Nothing in this Ordinance shall prejudice any of the interests, rights, powers and privileges conferred on the Crown or the Government by any other written Ordinance.

Saving of rights.

160. Subject to section 159, this Ordinance binds the Crown and the Government.

Act to bind Crown and Government.

* With effect from the date on which the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977 is brought into force, the words "Chief Registrar" shall be substituted for the word "Registrar" — Vide section 4 of the Registered Land (Amendment) Ordinance, 1977.

Other law.

161. Any matter not provided for in this Ordinance or in any other written law in relation to land, leases and charges registered under this Ordinance and interests therein shall be decided in accordance with the principles of justice, equity and good conscience.

“owner” includes the person for time being entitled to receive the rent of the premises in relation to which the expression is used, whether on his own account or as agent of or trustee for any other person, or who would be so entitled if the premises were let at a rent;

“premises” means any messuages, buildings, easements and hereditaments of any tenure and includes any land whether open or closed whether built on or not, whether public or private and whether or not maintained under any enactment and in any aircraft, ship, vessel, boat, bulk, barge, tent, caravan, shed or similar structure.

Minister responsible for health of inhabitants.

3. The Minister shall generally be responsible for the promotion and preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the Territory and for this purpose may, by Notice published in the Gazette, divide the Territory into such areas as he may determine, establish such health or sanitation districts within any such area, and assign duties to such persons in relation thereto as he thinks necessary.

Functions of Minister.

4. (1) The Minister shall be responsible for the administration of this Ordinance, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, his functions shall include—

(a) the prevention, treatment, limitation and suppression of disease, including the conduct of investigations and enquiries in respect thereof; and

(b) the publishing of reports, information and advice concerning public health including the education of the public in the preservation of health.

(2) The Minister may—

(a) delegate to any Board or Committee established under section 8 (1) such of his functions under subsection (1) as he thinks fit; and

(b) give directions to any Board or Committee established under section 8 (1) as to the exercise and performance of any function delegated to it under paragraph (a) and the Board or Committee so directed shall give effect to such directions.

(3) A Board or Committee to which the Minister delegates any of his functions under subsection (2) (a) shall permit the Chief Medical Officer and such other Medical Officer of Health as may be nominated by the Chief Medical Officer to attend every meeting thereof which is concerned with any matter relating to those functions.

- (b) open and break up any sewer, drain or tunnel in or over such street or bridge;
- (c) remove and use all earth and material in and under any such street or bridge;
- (d) do all other acts which the Minister considers necessary, causing as little damage as possible in the exercise of the powers granted by this section.

8. (1) The Minister may establish such Boards and Committees as he thinks fit for the purposes of this Ordinance, consisting of such members not exceeding five as may be appointed by him by Notice published in the Gazette and in like manner, he may revoke the appointment of any such member, at any time without assigning any reason therefor.

(2) The procedure and by-laws of every such Board or Committee shall be such as may be determined by the Minister.

(3) The functions of every such Board or Committee established under subsection (1) shall be—

(a) to advise the Minister on such matters relating to his functions under this Ordinance as he may refer to it for advice; and

(b) to discharge any functions delegated to it by the Minister under section 4 (2).

(4) No remuneration shall be payable to members of any such Boards or Committees except with the approval of the Governor in Council.

Chief Medical Officer to discharge functions of Minister.

9. (1) Except as the Minister may otherwise direct the Chief Medical Officer shall discharge the functions conferred on the Minister under this Ordinance and every Medical Officer of Health, Public Health Nurse, Public Health Inspector or other public health officer shall discharge functions under this Ordinance as directed by the Minister or the Chief Medical Officer and in so doing shall be deemed to be acting under the authority of this Ordinance.

(2) Subject to subsection (1) such officers may take such steps as are necessary for the execution and administration of this Ordinance, the regulations made thereunder and of any orders or directives given by the Minister or the Chief Medical Officer and may call upon any member of the Police Force to lend such assistance as may be required in the execution and administration thereof.

Regulations.

10. (1) The Minister may make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of this Ordinance and without limiting the generality of the foregoing may make regulations in relation to—

(a) the forms to be used for the purposes of this Ordinance;

(b) the declaration of notifiable and communicable disease, the treatment and prevention thereof and the isolation of patients suffering therefrom;

(c) the prevention, treatment, limitation and suppression of disease, the closing or destruction of buildings in which infected persons have lodged or resided, and the restriction of the movement of persons into and out of infected areas;

(d) the collection and publication of epidemiological and other data pertaining to the public health;

(e) the prevention of the overcrowding of premises;

(f) the institution of measures for ensuring the purity of water supplies;

(g) the prevention, abatement or removal of nuisances and insanitary conditions on premises;

(h) sewers and sewage disposal works;

(i) the collection, removal and sanitary disposal of rubbish, night-soil and other offensive matter;

(j) the licensing of persons, places and institutions for the carrying on of prescribed businesses in the interest of public health;

(k) prescribing the method of carrying on any offensive trade or business;

(l) the slaughtering of animals for use as food for human consumption;

(m) the keeping of domestic animals;

(n) the disposal of dead animals;

(o) the control and destruction of mosquitoes, termites and other insects, rodents and other vermin;

(p) the importation, preparation and distribution of food and drink intended for human consumption in so far as it concerns public health;

(q) the inspection and prevention from contamination of food and drink intended for human consumption, the analysing and testing of samples of such food and drink, the issuing of certificates in relation thereto, the condemnation, seizure and disposal of such articles as are unfit for human consumption;

(r) the inspection of hotels, boarding-houses and other places of accommodation;

(s) the provision and maintenance of sanitary conditions in schools;

- (t) the inspection of the places of business of barbers, hairdressers and beauticians;
- (u) the inspection and sanitary conditions of beaches and swimming pools in the interest of public health;
- (v) the medical and dental examination and treatment of school children, the removing of children from school and the closing of schools in the interest of public health;
- (w) the interment of the dead, the entry into the Territory and the exit therefrom of dead bodies and matters incidental thereto;
- (x) the inspection of undertaking establishments, morgues, crematoria and other places used in connection with the preparation, transportation and disposal of dead bodies;
- (y) the method of carrying on an offensive trade or business;
- (z) the control and use of public baths, washrooms and sanitary conveniences;
- (aa) the registration, proper management, control and inspection of private hospitals and nursing homes, nurseries and kindergartens or other similar institutions;

(2) A notice under subsection (1) shall indicate the nature of the works to be executed and specify a period of time after the expiration of which the Minister may cause the work to be carried out if they have not previously been executed.

(3) A person served with a notice under subsection (1) or any person having an estate or interest in the premises to which the notice relates may, at any time before the expiration of the period of time specified in the notice or twenty-one days whichever is the longer and in accordance with any rules of court for the time being in force, appeal to a Judge in Chambers against the notice on any of the following grounds—

(a) that the notice or requirement is not justified for the protection or in the interest of public health;

(b) that there is some informality, defect or error in or in connection with the notice;

(c) that the Minister has refused unreasonably to approve the execution of alternative works;

(d) that works required by the notice to be executed are unreasonable in character or extent or are unnecessary;

(e) that in the time within the works are required by the notice to be executed is not reasonably sufficient for the purpose;

(f) that the notice might lawfully have been served on the occupier of the premises to which it relates instead of the owner or on the owner instead of the occupier and it would have been equitable for it to have been so served;

(g) where the work is work for the common benefit of the premises to which the notice relates and other premises, or that some other person being the owner or occupier of the other premises to be benefited, ought to contribute towards the expenses of executing any works required.

(4) Where an appeal under subsection (3) is based on the grounds specified in paragraph (b) thereof, the Judge shall dismiss the appeal if he is satisfied that the informality, defect or error was not a material one.

(5) Where the grounds upon which an appeal is brought under subsection (3) include a ground specified in paragraph (f) or (g) of that subsection, the appellant shall serve a copy of his notice of appeal on each other person referred to therein and may serve a copy thereof on any other person having an estate or interest in the premises to which the notice under subsection (1) relates.

(6) On the hearing of an appeal under subsection (5) the Judge may make such order as he thinks fit in respect of the person by whom any work is required to be executed and the contribution to be made by any other person towards the cost of the work or as to the proportion in which any expenses which may become recoverable by the Minister under subsection (11) are to be borne by the appellant and such other person.

(7) In exercising his powers under subsection (6), the Judge shall have regard—

(a) as between an owner and an occupier to the terms and conditions, whether contractual or statutory, of the tenancy and to the nature of the works required; and

(b) in any case, to the degree of benefit to be derived by the different persons concerned.

(8) Where an appeal is brought under subsection (3), the Judge shall give directions for giving effect to his decisions including, where appropriate, directions for quashing the notice to which the appeal relates or for varying the terms of such notice in favour of the appellant.

(9) Where the notice to which the appeal relates is varied, or the appeal is dismissed, the Judge may, if he thinks fit, direct that the notice shall not come into force until such date, being not more than twenty-eight days from the determination of the appeal, as he thinks fit.

(10) The determination of an appeal under subsection (3) by a Judge in Chambers shall be final.

(11) If at the expiration of the period specified in the notice under subsection (1) or directed by a Judge in the determination of an appeal under subsection (3), the work specified in the notice as varied by a Judge has not been executed, the Minister may cause such work to be carried out and on completion thereof may recover the reasonable costs

(12) In any proceedings under subsection (11) the validity of the notice to which the proceedings relate shall not be questioned on any ground specified in subsection (3).

12. (1) If at the expiration of the period specified in the notice under section 11 (1) or directed by the Judge in the determination of the appeal under subsection 11 (3), an owner or operator of a business has failed to execute the work specified in the notice, or in the notice as varied by the Judge, as the case may be, the Minister may, without prejudice to the provisions of section 11 (11), apply to the High Court for an order for closure of such business.

Order for closure.

(2) If the High Court having heard an application under subsection (1) is made, is satisfied as to the matters referred to in subsection (1), it may make an order for closure.

(3) The High Court may, at any time on being satisfied that the works required to be executed by the notice have been executed, revoke an order for closure made under subsection (2).

13. (1) Where any Board or Committee established under this Ordinance reports to the Minister—

Overall enforcement powers of Minister.

(a) the existence of any local condition in any part of the country tending to endanger public health, and there are no powers under any law other than this section whereby such condition may be guarded against; or

(b) that any part of the country appears to be threatened with or affected by any communicable disease in epidemic proportions, and that measures apart from or in addition to those specifically provided for in this Ordinance, should be taken promptly, the Minister may by Order published in the Gazette direct the enforcement of any measures recommended by the Board or Committee, or any other measures that he thinks expedient for removing or otherwise guarding against any such condition and the probable consequences thereof, or for preventing or mitigating as far as possible any such disease.

(2) An Order made under subsection (1) may extend to the whole Territory or to such part thereof or to such particular places in the Territory as may be specified therein.

(3) A copy of every Order made under subsection (1) shall be posted in a conspicuous place at every police station and post office in the Territory.

(4) Any person who contravenes the provisions of any Order made under subsection (1) shall be guilty of an offence.

Minister may prohibit assembly of persons.

14. (1) Where he has reasonable cause to believe that there is prevalent in the Territory or in any part thereof any communicable disease in epidemic proportions, the Minister may, by Order published in the Gazette, prohibit the assembly of persons exceeding such number as may be prescribed in that Order at any place specified therein, and such prohibition may be applicable to the whole Territory or to any part thereof.

(2) Every person who is present at, or promotes, aids or assists in the promotion of any assembly prohibited under subsection (1) shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months.

Minister may order closure of public places or schools.

15. (1) Where he has reasonable cause to believe there is prevalent in the Territory or in any part thereof, any communicable disease in epidemic proportions, and is satisfied that it is in the interest of public health to do so, the Minister may by Order published in the Gazette, direct that any public place or any school in the Territory, or in the area in which such disease is prevalent shall be closed for such period as he thinks necessary.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with any Order made under subsection (1) shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months in respect of every day in which there has been failure so to comply.

Powers of entry.

16. (1) The Chief Medical Officer, a Medical Officer of Health or any person authorised in writing by the Minister may at all reasonable times enter, if necessary using such force as may be required, any premises for the purpose of—

(a) ascertaining whether there is or has been on or in connection with the premises any contravention of this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder;

(b) ascertaining whether or not circumstances exist which would authorise or require the Minister to take any action or execute any work under this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder;

(c) taking any action or executing any work authorised or required to be taken or executed under this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder;

(d) performing any function conferred on the Minister or on any such Medical Officer or other authorised person under this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder; or

(e) generally examining and inspecting the premises.

(2) Any officer or person authorised to enter any premises under subsection (1), on leaving any unoccupied premises which he has entered pursuant to that subsection, shall leave the premises as effectually secured against trespassers as he found them.

(3) Where any power of entry conferred under this section is to be exercised by a person authorised by the Minister, the Chief Medical Officer or a Medical Officer of Health, the person claiming the right to enter shall produce the document authorising him in that behalf.

(4) A document purporting to have been signed by the Minister, the Chief Medical Officer or a Medical Officer of Health shall be deemed, until the contrary is proved, to have been signed by that person.

17. (1) Any person who—

Offences.

(a) assaults, resists, obstructs or intimidates;

(b) uses indecent, abusive or insulting language to;

(c) interferes with or hinders; or

(d) by any gratuity, bribe, promise or other inducement prevents or attempts to prevent the due execution of his duty by, any officer or other person acting under the authority of this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars and to imprisonment for six months.

(2) Any person who fails to carry out or contravenes any of the provisions of this Ordinance for which no specific penalty is provided shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars and to imprisonment for six months, and in the case of a second or subsequent offence to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months.

Exception from liability.

18. (1) Nothing done by the Minister, the Chief Medical Officer, a Medical Officer of Health or any duly authorised person shall, if done bona fide for the purpose of executing any of the provisions of this Ordinance or by any regulations made thereunder, subject such person to any action, suit, prosecution, legal proceeding, liability, claim or demand whatsoever.

(2) Where a person is so personally exempt by reason of subsection (1) the Crown shall be liable to the extent that it would be as if the person were a servant or agent of the Crown.

Persons entitled to take proceedings.

19. Proceedings against any person for an offence against this Ordinance and for the recovery of any fines imposed under this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder may be instituted by any person authorised in that behalf by the Minister, and such authorised person may prosecute or conduct such proceedings.

Prosecutions to be commenced within six months.

20. All prosecutions for offences against this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder shall be commenced within six months next after the commission of such offence.

Reference to owner or occupier in certain proceedings.

21. Where in any proceedings under this Ordinance relating to nuisances it becomes necessary to mention or refer to the owner or occupier of any premises and his name is unknown or cannot on reasonable enquiry be ascertained, it shall be sufficient to designate him as the "owner" or "occupier" of such premises, without name or description.

Payment of administrative expenses.

22. Any expenses incurred in the administration of this Ordinance shall be defrayed out of moneys voted for the purpose by the Legislative Council.

Savings.

“British subject” has the meaning assigned thereto by the British Nationality Acts 1948 to 1965 of the United Kingdom or any Acts of the United Kingdom amending or replacing them;

“Chief Immigration Officer” means the person appointed as such by the Governor under section 4(1)(a);

“child” means a person under the age of eighteen years who is the child, stepchild, or lawfully adopted child of any person; and “children” shall be construed accordingly;

“deserter” means a member of the crew of a ship who being permitted to land in the Territory in accordance with section 22 fails to leave the Territory in accordance with the provisions of that section;

“embark” means embark in a vessel and any reference to “embark” shall be construed as including a reference to attempting to embark;

“engage in gainful occupation” means, subject to any exceptions which may be prescribed—

- (a) to take and continue in any employment; or
- (b) to practise any profession or to carry on any trade or to engage in business or to engage in such other form of occupation as may be prescribed, where such employment, profession, trade, or business is taken or continued, or is practised, carried on or engaged in, either directly or indirectly for reward, profit or gain:

Provided that such expression shall not include any exemption which may be prescribed;

“immigration officer” includes the Chief Immigration Officer, the Deputy Chief Immigration Officer and any person appointed by the Governor under section 4 to be an immigration officer;

“land” means land from a vessel and any reference to “land” shall be construed as including a reference to attempting to land;

“lien” in relation to any ship means a maritime lien;

“master” or “captain” as the case may be, means the person having command or charge of a vessel;

“member of crew” in relation to a vessel, means any person actually employed in the working or service of the vessel including the master or captain;

“Minister” means the Minister from time to time charged with portfolio responsibility for immigration and passport matters;

“passenger” means any person arriving in or departing from the Territory in any vessel other than a member of the crew;

“passport” means a valid passport issued not more than ten years previously by or on behalf of the Government of the country of which the person to whom it relates is a subject or citizen, or some other recognised travel document satisfactorily establishing the national status and identity of the person to whom it relates which passport or document is still in force and has attached to it a photograph of the person to whom it relates;

“resident” means any person to whom a valid and subsisting certificate of residence granted under section 18 relates;

“police officer” has the meaning ascribed thereto by section 2 of the Police Act; Cap. 165.

“port” includes airport;

“regulations” means regulations made under section 49;

“ship” means any steam-ship, sloop, boat or craft of any kind for travel or transport other than by air;

“stop list” means the list maintained by the Chief Immigration Officer under section 25;

“Supreme Court” means the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court;

“Territory”, other than in section 49(g)(ii), means the Territory of the Virgin Islands; and “vessel” means any ship, and any description of aircraft or other means of travel by sea or air.

3. (1) For the purposes of this Ordinance a person shall be deemed to belong to the Territory if that person—

(a) is a British subject and was born in the Territory;

(b) is a British subject and was born outside the Territory of a father or mother who was born within the Territory;

(c) has obtained the status of a British subject by reason of the grant by the Governor of a certificate of naturalisation under the British Nationality and Statute of Aliens Act, 1914 or the British Nationality Acts 1948 to 1965 of the United Kingdom; or

(d) is a person to whom a certificate has been granted under section 16 and has not been revoked under section 17;

(e) is a British subject above the age of eighteen years who immediately before attaining that age was the child of a person to whom a certificate had been granted under section 16 and not revoked under section 17:

Persons who are deemed to belong to the Territory.

Provided that a person shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Territory under the provisions of this paragraph who,—

- (i) subsequent to attaining the age of twenty-one years is ordinarily resident outside the Territory for a period of not less than five years; or
- (ii) being a female, marries a person who is not deemed to belong to the Territory under the provisions of this subsection; or
- (iii) is declared to be no longer a person deemed to belong to the Territory by an order made by the Governor in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance; or

(f) is the wife of a person to whom any of the foregoing paragraphs apply and is not living apart from such person under a decree of a competent court or a deed of separation; or

(g) is the child of any person to whom any of the foregoing paragraphs of this subsection apply; or

(h) is a British subject and the widow of a person who immediately before his death was, or would but for his death have been, deemed to belong to the Territory under any of the foregoing paragraphs of this subsection and who was at the time of his death lawfully married to her and not living apart from her under a decree of a competent court or a deed of separation:

Provided that a woman shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Territory under the provisions of this paragraph if—

- (i) subsequent to the death of her husband she is ordinarily resident outside the Territory for a period of five years or longer; or
- (ii) she marries a person who is not deemed to belong to the Territory under the provisions of this subsection.

(2) The Governor may, at any time, by order declare any person deemed to belong to the Territory by virtue only of subsection (1)(c) to be no longer deemed to belong to the Territory on the grounds that such person—

(a) has shown himself by act or speech to be disloyal or disaffected towards Her Majesty;

(b) has during any war in which Her Majesty was engaged, unlawfully traded or communicated with an enemy or been associated with or engaged in any business that was to his knowledge carried on in such manner as to assist any enemy in that war; or

(c) has within five years of the grant of such certificate been imprisoned in any country for a criminal offence for a period of one year or more,

or where the certificate has been revoked under section 17(2)(d) and upon publication of such order in the Gazette such person shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Territory.

(3) Any reference in this Ordinance to a power to detain any person shall be construed as a power to detain that person in any place approved by the Governor for that purpose, and such person shall, while so detained, be deemed to be in legal custody.

(4) Subject to the express provisions of this Ordinance or any other Act, Ordinance or law from time to time in force, where the provisions of this Ordinance are in conflict with any other Act, Ordinance or law the provisions of this Ordinance shall prevail.

(5) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as derogating in any way from or abridging any of the provisions of the Quarantine Ordinance or of any rules made thereunder by or which the movements of any person may be restricted.

Cap. 196.

(6) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as derogating from or abridging—

(a) any provision of any agreement made under the authority of any Ordinance whereby special provision is made with respect to admission into residence or occupation in or departure from the Territory of certain persons or classes of persons mentioned in such agreement; or

(b) the exercise of any power conferred upon the Governor by the British Nationality Acts 1948 to 1965 of the United Kingdom.

PART II.

IMMIGRATION OFFICERS.

Appointment of immigration officers.

4. (1) (a) The Governor shall appoint a Chief Immigration Officer for the purposes of this Ordinance.

(b) The Governor may from time to time appoint a Deputy Chief Immigration Officer and such officer shall, subject to the provisions of section 13, have and exercise all the powers vested in the Chief Immigration Officer by this Ordinance.

(c) The Governor may appoint such number of persons to be immigration officers as may be necessary or expedient for all or any specified parts of the Territory for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Ordinance.

(2) The Minister may from time to time give to the Chief Immigration Officer, any Deputy Chief Immigration Officer or immigration officer general or special directions, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance as to the exercise or performance of their powers, discretions, or functions under this Ordinance and the Chief Immigration Officer and all immigration officers shall comply with any such general or special directions so given.

General powers of immigration officers.

5. (1) For the purpose of exercising his powers and functions and carrying out his duties under this Ordinance, any immigration officer may—

(a) board any ship within the territorial waters of the Territory or any aircraft which has landed in the Territory;

(b) without a search warrant, search any such vessel or anything contained therein or any vehicle being landed in the Territory from any such vessel;

(c) interrogate any person reasonably supposed not to belong to the Territory who—

(i) desires to enter or leave the Territory;

(ii) being in the Territory is reasonably suspected of having entered without leave in contravention of section 20;

(iii) having been granted leave to land in the Territory for a specified period is reasonably believed to have remained in the Territory in excess of that period; purposes of this Ordinance shall not be defeated he may arrest such person without warrant whereupon the provisions of section 37 of the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act shall apply in every such case.

Penalties for failing to answer.

7. Any person who, under the provisions of section 5—

(a) having been summoned under subsection (2), without reasonable excuse fails to attend at the time and place appointed;

(b) refuses or fails to answer fully and truthfully any question or inquiry lawfully put to him in the course of interrogation under subsection (1)(c);

(c) gives any answer which he knows or has reasonable cause to believe to be false or misleading to any such question or inquiry, as aforesaid;

(d) when required to produce any document under subsection (2), refuses or fails to produce within a reasonable time any such document which it is in his power to produce or, with the intention of misleading any immigration officer produces any document which he knows or has reasonable cause to believe to be false or misleading; or

(e) otherwise knowingly misleads or attempts to mislead any immigration officer acting under subsection (1)(c) or (2), shall be guilty of an offence.

Admissibility of answers given in interrogation.

8. (1) All answers to questions lawfully put in interrogation under section 5(1)(c) and all documents produced on requisition under section 5(2) shall be admissible in evidence in relation to any matter arising under or connected with this Ordinance or any regulations, in any proceedings to which this section applies.

(2) This section shall apply to—

(a) any civil proceedings; and

(b) any criminal proceedings in respect of an offence under section 7.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as rendering any such answer or document inadmissible in evidence in any proceedings in which it would otherwise be admissible.

9. It shall be the duty of every police officer and customs officer to aid and assist generally in carrying out the provisions of this Ordinance; and if any contravention of, or failure to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or of any regulations made thereunder, or of any orders or directions given thereunder, becomes known to any police officer or customs officer, then it shall be the duty of such officer forthwith to report the contravention or failure to comply to an immigration officer.

Duties of police and customs officer.

10. (1) The Governor shall have the powers and discharge the duties conferred or imposed upon the Governor by or under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Functions of Governor.

(2) Any determination, decision, direction or Order come to, given or made by the Governor in exercise of any power conferred upon him, or in discharge of any duty imposed upon him, by or under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be final and conclusive, and shall not be subject to question or review by any court or tribunal whatsoever; and it shall not be incumbent upon the Governor or any public officer, to give any reasons to any person or to any public authority whatsoever for any such determination, decision, direction or order.

PART III.

DEPARTMENT AND BOARD OF IMMIGRATION.

11. There shall be a Department of Immigration consisting of the Chief Immigration Officer, the Deputy Chief Immigration Officer and such other officers as may be appointed by the Governor.

Department of Immigration.

12. The Chief Immigration Officer shall be responsible for the administration and discipline of the Department.

Chief Immigration Officer responsible for Department.

13. (1) There shall be a Board called "The Board of Immigration" consisting of the Chief Immigration Officer and six other members who shall be appointed by the Governor, acting on the advice of the Minister.

(2) (a) The Governor, acting on the advice of the Minister, shall appoint one of the members to be Chairman of the Board.

(b) If the Chairman is unable to attend a Board meeting because of illness, absence from the Territory or other cause and the Governor does not appoint someone to act during his inability to attend, the Board shall appoint someone from among their own number to be Chairman for that meeting.

(3) The Governor, acting on the advice of the Minister, may appoint another person to be a temporary member during the absence of any member of the Board who, through illness, absence from the Territory or for any other cause is unable to sit on the Board.

(4) The Board may act by any three of its members notwithstanding any vacancy in the number of members constituting it.

(5) The Board shall have power to regulate its own procedure.

(6) The Deputy Chief Immigration Officer may attend meetings of the Board and take part, but shall have no vote.

(7) In the absence of the Chief Immigration Officer however, the Deputy Chief Immigration Officer shall have all the powers (for the purpose of meetings of the Board) of the Chief Immigration Officer.

(8) Every member other than the Chief Immigration Officer shall hold office for a term of two years from the date of his appointment but a member may at any time tender his resignation to the Governor by written notice through the Chairman of the Board.

Functions of Board.

14. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 15 the Board shall be advisory and consultative and shall have no executive or administrative functions.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Board to advise upon all questions concerning or connected with the entry of persons into the Territory, and the residence and occupation in the Territory of persons who do not belong to the Territory

15. (1) The Board shall—

(a) cause to be made enquiries as they think expedient or as the Minister may require, in respect of any matters concerning or connected with any of the designated matters or in respect of any other matters in respect of which their permission, approval or consent or the permission, approval or consent of any immigration officer, is required under this Ordinance;

(b) in respect of matters connected with the designated matters, cause such statistical data to be obtained and recorded by the Department of Immigration and such records or reports to be published, as they may think expedient, or as the Minister may from time to time require; and

(c) cause records to be kept and maintained of the entry of all persons into the Territory and of the departure of all persons from the Territory.

(2) Without prejudice to anything in the Evidence Act any record required to be kept under subsection (1) shall be received in evidence in any court or in any tribunal whatsoever in the Territory as prima facie evidence of any entry or particulars entered therein.

Information and statistics relating to designated matters.

PART IV.

CERTIFICATE THAT A PERSON BELONGS TO THE TERRITORY: RESIDENCE.

16. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, on the recommendation of the Board the Governor in Council may upon application being made in the manner prescribed grant a certificate certifying that the person who applied for the same belongs to the Territory for the purposes of this Ordinance to any person who either—

(i) (a) is a British subject;

Certificate that person belongs to the Territory.

(b) is of good character;

(c) is not less than eighteen years of age;

(d) has been ordinarily resident in the Territory for a period of not less than seven years immediately prior to his application;

(e) has held a certificate of residence granted under section 18 for a period of not less than twelve months immediately preceding the date of application; and

(f) in his application has restated his intention of making the Territory his permanent home and who has satisfied the Board that it is his intention so to do:

Provided that the Governor in Council after consultation with the Board where in the exceptional circumstances of any case it considers it fit so to do, may grant such a certificate to any person who is a British subject and is of good character and who is at the date of making the application for such a certificate ordinarily resident in the Territory and who has been so ordinarily resident for a period or periods amounting in the aggregate to at least ten years notwithstanding that such person has not been so ordinarily resident for the period of not less than seven years immediately prior to his application; or

(ii) is the husband of a person who is deemed to belong to the Territory under section 3(a), (b) or (c) and who is ordinarily resident with such person in the Territory.

(2) In deciding whether a certificate shall be granted under subsection (1)(i) in respect of any applicant the Governor in Council shall consider whether—

(a) the economic situation in the Territory is such that the grant of a certificate to the person concerned will prejudice the protection afforded under this Ordinance to other persons engaging in which the applicant is engaged or in which he is likely to engage;

(b) that the applicant has established a close personal connection with the Territory;

(c) the applicant's character and previous conduct are unexceptional; and

(d) the applicant's continued residence in the association with the Territory may afford some advantage to the Territory.

17. (1) Where a person is granted a certificate under section 16(1) such certificate shall cease to be valid—

Validity of certificate issued under section 16.

(a) if granted under paragraph (i) thereof, subsequent to the grant of the certificate such person is ordinarily resident outside the Territory continuously for a period of five years;

(b) if granted under paragraph (i) thereof, such person ceases to have the status of a British subject; or

(c) if granted under paragraph (ii) thereof, such husband lives apart from his spouse under a decree of a competent court or a deed of separation.

(2) A certificate granted under section 16 may be revoked by the Governor in Council by Order on the grounds that the person to whom it was granted—

(a) has shown himself by act or speech to be disloyal or disaffected towards Her Majesty;

(b) has during any war in which Her Majesty was engaged, unlawfully traded or communicated with an enemy or been associated with or engaged in any business that was to his knowledge carried on in such manner as to assist an enemy in that war;

(c) has, within five years of the grant of such certificate, been imprisoned in any country for a criminal offence for a period of one year or more; or

(d) has obtained such certificate by means of fraud, false representation or concealment of any material fact.

(3) No Order shall be made in exercise of the powers conferred by subsection (2), unless the Chief Immigration Officer has first given the person against whom the Order is proposed to be made a notice in writing of the grounds on which it is proposed to be made and has offered such person an opportunity to be heard.

18. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this section, on the recommendation of the Board the Governor in Council may grant a certificate of residence to any person who applies for the same in the prescribed manner and who—

Certificate of residence.

(a) is of good character; and

(b) in his application has stated his intention of residing permanently in the Territory.

(2) When a certificate of residence is granted to any person under this section, the Governor in Council may then, or on the subsequent application by that person endorse the certificate to relate also to the wife and any dependent child under the age of eighteen years of that person ordinarily resident with him subject to such conditions as the Governor in Council may impose.

Revocation of certificate of residence.

19. The Governor in Council may, after consultation with the Board, revoke a certificate of residence or any endorsement thereon on the grounds that the person to whom it relates—

(a) subsequent to the grant of such certificate has been ordinarily resident outside the Territory continuously for a period of three years;

(b) since the coming into force of this Ordinance has engaged in any gainful occupation without first obtaining a work permit under the Labour Code Ordinance, if he is so required to do under the said Ordinance;

(c) has in any country including the Territory been imprisoned for a criminal offence for one year or more;

(d) has so conducted himself that in the opinion of the Chief Immigration Officer it is not in the public interest that he should continue to enjoy the privileges conferred by the certificate; or

(e) being the wife of the person to whom such certificate was granted at the time when the certificate was granted has subsequently—

(i) commenced to live apart from her husband under a decree of a competent court or under a deed of separation; or

(ii) ceased to be married to her husband by reason of dissolution or annulment of marriage.

Cap. 293.

PART V.

ENTRY INTO THE TERRITORY.

Restriction on landing and embarking.

20. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance a person shall not land in the Territory from any place outside the Territory or embark in the Territory for any destination outside the Territory—

(a) save with the leave of an immigration officer; and

(b) elsewhere than at an authorised port of entry or at such other place as an immigration officer may in any particular case allow.

(2) An immigration officer may on the examination of a person other than a person who falls within any of the categories enumerated in section 21 and who enters or seeks to enter the Territory—

(a) refuse him admission into the Territory; or

(b) admit him into the Territory subject to a condition restricting the period for which he may remain in the Territory with or without conditions for restricting his employment or occupation in the Territory.

(3) Any person landing or embarking in the Territory in contravention of this section shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months.

(4) The Chief Immigration Officer may by Order in writing direct the removal from the Territory of any person who has been convicted of an offence against subsection (3) and has been sentenced therefor to a term of imprisonment, and such person may, at any time before the expiration of his sentence, be placed on board any vessel about to leave the Territory and which is specified in the Order and shall be deemed to be in legal custody until the departure of such vessel.

(5) The master or captain of any vessel and the owner and any agent of the owner of any vessel from or in which a person lands or embarks in contravention of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence and liable—

(a) on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars and to imprisonment for twelve months; or

(b) on conviction in the High Court to a fine of two thousand dollars and to imprisonment for two years:

Provided that it shall be a good defence in proceedings against any such master, captain owner or agent, under this subsection for him to prove to the satisfaction of the court that he did not know and had no means of knowing that such person had so landed or embarked.

(6) In any proceedings under this section evidence that any person found in the Territory is not deemed to belong to the Territory and that there is no record of his having had the leave of any immigration officer to land in the Territory shall be evidence of his having landed in the Territory in contravention of this section, until the contrary is shown to the satisfaction of the court.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other written law a prosecution for an offence against this section may be commenced at any time.

Persons entitled to land and embark.

21. (1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Ordinance, a person shall be entitled to land or embark in the Territory and shall be permitted by any immigration officer so to land or embark, if he satisfies the immigration officer that he comes within any of the following categories—

- (a) persons deemed to belong to the Territory;
- (b) persons who are entitled to be residents under section 18;
- (c) persons enjoying relevant diplomatic or consular or other similar privileges by virtue of any Act or Ordinance or in accordance with recognised international practice;
- (d) serving members of any of Her Majesty's Forces on duty in the Territory;
- (e) persons employed in the service of the Government of the Territory;
- (f) persons employed in the service of such Caribbean inter-regional organisations as the Minister may, by Notice in the Gazette designate;
- (g) persons employed in the service of any country in the Commonwealth engaged upon official duties in the Territory;
- (h) persons whom an immigration officer is authorised by the Governor to treat as entitled to land in the Territory; and
- (i) wife and children of any person coming within category (d), (e), (f) or (g) whether travelling with or separately from such person.

(2) The burden of proof that any person is a person to whom this section applies shall lie upon that person.

22. (1) Subject to subsection (2), section 20 shall not apply to any person who—

Crew members and persons in transit.

(a) being a member of the crew of a ship at a port in the Territory, lands, otherwise than for the purpose of being discharged or after being discharged, at any time while the ship remains at that port; or

(b) lands from an aircraft at an authorised port for the purpose only of embarking and leaving the Territory in an aircraft at that port and remains throughout the period between the landing and embarkation within such limits as may be approved for the purposes by an immigration officer.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in subsection (1), an immigration officer may at any time give notice to any person on board any vessel other than a person entitled to land in the Territory under section 21 prohibiting him from landing without the leave of an immigration officer and thereupon section 20 shall apply to such person.

23. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Ordinance an immigration officer may grant leave to any person to land and remain in the Territory for such period as he may determine in accordance with subsection (2), upon being satisfied that that person—

Grant of leave to land.

(a) has in his possession either a ticket, or some other means of travelling to some other country which he will be able to enter, or a valid permit, not having been obtained by fraud or misrepresentation, issued to him under section 31 permitting him to remain in the Territory for the period specified therein;

(b) will not engage or seek to engage in any gainful occupation other than occupation which is specified in a valid permit, not having been obtained by a fraud or misrepresentation;

(c) is not likely to behave in a manner prejudicial to the peace, order and good government of the Territory;

(d) is not suffering from a mental disorder nor is mentally defective;

(e) is not suffering from any contagious or infectious disease which, in the opinion of a medical practitioner appointed under paragraph (e) of section 5(1) makes his presence in the Territory dangerous to the community;

(f) is not a person who is reasonably believed to have come to the Territory for any immoral purpose, or who is not believed to be a prostitute or to have come to the Territory for the purpose of prostitution;

(g) has not been convicted in any place of, or admits to having committed, an offence of a nature punishable in the Territory with imprisonment for a term of three years or more who by reason of such conviction is deemed by the Chief Immigration Officer to be undesirable;

(h) is not addicted to the use of any drug;

(i) has not been convicted of an offence under any written law relating to dangerous or narcotic drugs whether in the Territory or in any state or country outside the Territory;

(j) has not at any time advocated—

- (i) the overthrow by force or violence of the lawful Government of the Territory or of any other state or country or of all forms of law;
- (ii) the abolition of organised Government; or
- (iii) the assassination of any person or the unlawful destruction of property;

(k) has not been a member of or affiliated to any organisation which entertains or teaches any doctrine specified in sub-paragraphs (i) to (iii) of paragraph (j);

(l) is not a person whose name is for the time being entered in the stop list;

(m) is not a member of a class of persons declared by the Governor in Council, by Order, to be a prohibited class of persons for the purpose of this section;

(n) is not a person whose presence in the Territory would in the opinion of the Chief Immigration Officer and on the direction of the Minister be undesirable and not conducive to the public good;

(o) is not a person who is incapable of supporting himself and his dependants during such time as he may be permitted to remain in the Territory; and

(p) is not the dependant of a person who is precluded from being granted leave to land by reason of any of the provisions of this section.

(2) The period for which an immigration officer may grant to any person leave to remain in the Territory under subsection (1) shall be—

(a) where such person produces a permit issued to him under section 31 permitting him to remain in the Territory, the period specified in that permit;

(b) where such person does not produce to the immigration officer such a permit, such period not exceeding six months as the immigration officer may, subject to any directions of the Minister determine.

(3) When a person has been granted leave to land and remain in the Territory for a period under subsection (1) the Chief Immigration Officer may, for good cause, vary that period and any extension thereof shall be subject to the payment of the fee prescribed.

(4) Any person who, without lawful excuse, the proof of which shall be upon him, in the Territory harbours, maintains or employs a person who has landed in contravention of any of the foregoing provisions of this section, and whom he knows or has reasonable cause to believe to have so landed, shall be guilty of an offence.

24. Where any person is not granted leave to land in the Territory by an immigration officer under section 23 the Chief Immigration Officer may, in his discretion, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Ordinance, permit such person in writing to land and remain in the Territory for such period and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed or as the Chief Immigration Officer may deem fit to impose.

Special leave to land.

25. Where the Governor in Council is satisfied that any person who is not a person deemed to belong to the Territory and who is for the time being outside the Territory—

Stop List.

(a) is a person who has, while in the Territory conducted himself in a manner which is undesirable; or

(b) is a person whose landing in the Territory appears undesirable in view of information or advice received from any source which he considers reliable, then and in either case the Governor may cause that person's name to be entered on a list to be called "the Stop List" to be maintained by the Chief Immigration Officer.

Removal of persons refused leave to land.

26. (1) Where leave to land has not been granted to a person under section 23 or 24 an immigration officer may, subject to subsection (2), give directions—

(a) to the master or captain of the vessel in which such person arrived in the Territory, requiring him to remove that person from the Territory in that vessel;

(b) to the owners or agents of such vessel requiring them to remove such person from the Territory in any vessel specified in the directions, being a vessel of which they are owners or agents;

(c) to such owners or agents requiring them to make arrangements for the removal of such person from the Territory in any vessel bound for a country specified in the directions being either—

(i) a country of which such person is a national or in which he embarked for the Territory; or

(ii) a country to which there is reason to believe that such person will be admitted, and for securing him a passage to that country.

(2) No directions shall be given under this section in respect of any person after the expiration of six months from the date on which he last arrived in the Territory.

(3) A person in respect of whom directions are given under subsection (1) may be placed under the authority of an immigration officer on board any vessel in which he is to be removed in accordance with the directions.

(4) A person to whom leave to land is refused may be detained, under the authority of an immigration officer, pending the giving of directions in his case under subsection (1) and pending his removal in pursuance of directions so given; and where any such person is on board a vessel he may, under the like authority, be removed therefrom for such detention under this subsection.

Removal of persons landing unlawfully etc.

27. (1) If any person—

(a) is found in the Territory after landing in contravention of this Ordinance;

(b) has been permitted to land in the Territory from a vessel of which he was a member of the crew subject to a condition that he should leave the Territory by a specified vessel or within a specified period, but fails to comply with that condition or is reasonably suspected of intending so to fail; or

(c) has landed in the Territory from a vessel of which he was a member of the crew in accordance with section 22 without the leave of an immigration officer, but fails to leave with the vessel from the port where he has landed, or is reasonably suspected of intending so to fail, section 26 shall apply to him as if he had been refused leave to land by an immigration officer:

Provided that in respect of any person to whom paragraphs (b) or (c) apply, the period of six months specified in section 26(2) shall be extended to twelve months.

(2) If any person lands in the Territory from a vessel on which he was a stowaway, section 26 shall thereupon apply to him as if he had been refused leave to land by an immigration officer:

Provided that in any such case—

(a) section 26(2) shall not apply; and

(b) section 26(1)(c) shall be deemed to include a reference to the country in which that person stowed away.

28. In any case where a person lands from a vessel in contravention of any provisions of this Part then without prejudice to any other provisions of this Ordinance, the local representative of such vessel shall be financially responsible for any public charges reasonably incurred in respect of such person's maintenance, including any detention, while in the Territory and his subsequent repatriation, removal or deportation therefrom.

Financial responsibility for persons landing illegally.

PART VI.

RESIDENCE AND EMPLOYMENT IN THE TERRITORY.

29. (1) No person other than a person entitled to land in the Territory in accordance with section 21 shall remain in the Territory after the expiration of the period during which he is permitted to remain in the Territory by the immigration officer under section 23 unless such person is in the possession of a valid permit issued in accordance with section 31 permitting him to so remain in the Territory.

(2) Where any person ceases to be a person entitled to land in the Territory in accordance with section 21 this section shall apply to that person upon the expiration of such period of time as reasonably to allow for the departure of that person from the Territory as the Chief Immigration Officer may in his discretion permit.

(3) Any person who contravenes the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence.

Restrictions upon seeking to engage in gainful occupation.

30. (1) Subject to subsection (2), no person shall seek to engage himself in any gainful occupation in the Territory unless he is in possession of a valid permit issued in accordance with the provisions of section 31 permitting him to do so.

(2) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any person who comes within any of the categories set out in paragraphs (a), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) of section 21.

(3) Any person who seeks to engage in any gainful occupation in contravention of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence.

Permission to reside or to seek to engage in gainful employment.

31. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this section, upon application being made in the prescribed form the Chief Immigration Officer may in accordance with the provisions of any regulations and of any directions of the Governor grant a permit in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and in the prescribed form to any person permitting such person—

(a) to remain in the Territory for the period specified in the permit otherwise than for the purpose of engaging in any gainful occupation; or

(b) to remain in the Territory for the period specified in the permit for the purpose of seeking to be engaged in gainful occupation specified in the permit and with the view of obtaining a valid permit to engage himself in such gainful occupation.

(2) Without prejudice to any other provisions of this Ordinance, any person applying for a permit under this section may be required by the Chief Immigration Officer—

(a) to furnish him with such evidence of good character in respect of himself and his dependants as the Minister may consider necessary;

(b) to furnish him with medical certificates with respect to himself and his dependants certified by medical authorities acceptable to the Minister and with such particulars as the Minister may consider necessary;

(c) to satisfy him that he is able to maintain himself and his dependants in the Territory;

(d) to provide—

(i) in the case of a person wishing to remain in the Territory for purposes other than engaging in gainful occupation, an undertaking, in writing, that he will not engage in any gainful occupation in the Territory; or

(ii) in the case of a person wishing to remain in the Territory for the purposes of engaging in any gainful occupation, full particulars of such occupation;

(e) to give a bond for such sum and with such sureties as the Minister may approve for securing payment of any public charges, including any cost of transporting the applicant and his dependants to a country outside the Territory willing to receive him, that may be incurred in respect of the applicant or his dependants:

Provided that the Minister shall cancel any such bond on the applicant subsequently acquiring a certificate under section 16 or 18 and may cancel any such bond at any time on being satisfied that the necessity for the bond no longer exists:

And provided further that in the case of a person who is to be employed in the Territory, the prospective employer shall be required to give bond in lieu of the person himself; and

(f) to furnish such particulars (whether of the same kind as those hereinbefore referred to or not) as the Minister may consider material to the consideration of any application.

(3) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, no permit under subsection (1) shall be granted to any person if the Minister has notified the Chief Immigration Officer in writing that such a permit shall not be granted to such person.

Conditions of permits.

32. (1) Any permit granted under section 31—

(a) may be limited in duration to a period specified in the permit;

(b) may be granted subject to such conditions or restrictions, in addition to any conditions or restrictions which may be prescribed, as the Minister may in any case direct; and

(c) shall be subject to any special conditions or restrictions which the Minister may require the Chief Immigration Officer to impose in respect of any particular person;

(d) may be cancelled by the Chief Immigration Officer in the event of the Chief Immigration Officer being satisfied that the person to whom it is granted has failed to comply with any condition or restriction contained therein; and

(e) shall be cancelled by the Chief Immigration Officer forthwith upon a deportation order being made under section 40 in respect of the person to whom the permit is granted.

(2) Any condition or restriction imposed under paragraph (b) or (c) or subsection (1) shall be set out in the permit.

PART VII.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS RELATING TO IMMIGRATION CONTROL.

Duty of local representative of vessel to give notice of arrival.

33. (1) It shall be the duty of the local representative of every vessel arriving in the Territory to give adequate and timely notification of the arrival of the vessel to the Chief Immigration Officer and, if required, to furnish such particulars as he may then have in his possession regarding the passengers and crew on board such vessel.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or with any requirements duly given thereunder, shall be guilty of an offence.

34. (1) The master of every vessel arriving in the Territory, and the local representative of any such vessel shall, if so required by an immigration officer, as soon as practicable after the arrival of such vessel and before any passenger or member of the crew has landed in the Territory deliver to an immigration officer a list showing separately—

Inward passenger and crew manifests.

(a) the names and particulars of the passengers on board the vessel;

(b) the names of the passengers whose journey by that vessel is to be completed in the Territory;

(c) the names and particulars of any other person (including persons rescued at sea and stowaways) on board the vessel:

Provided that an immigration officer may allow any person on board the vessel to land, without prejudice to any other provision of this Ordinance, before such lists are duly delivered.

(2) The master of every vessel arriving in the Territory shall, if so required by an immigration officer answer truthfully all proper questions put to him by that officer relating to the passengers and members of the crew of the vessel for the purposes of this Ordinance.

(3) Any person who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence.

35. (1) It shall not be lawful for the master or captain of any vessel to cause or allow any passenger or member of the crew or other person on board the vessel to land in the Territory before permission generally to land has been given by an immigration officer.

Control of landing from vessels.

(2) The master of any vessel who contravenes any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence:

Provided that it shall be a good defence for a person charged with an offence under this section to prove that any such landing took place in a case of emergency, and was, at the earliest time practicable notified to an immigration officer.

36. (1) Every passenger arriving in or departing from the Territory shall complete and deliver to the person prescribed a declaration in the prescribed form.

Declaration on disembarkation and embarkation.

(2) It shall be the duty of the owner of the vessel in or from which any passenger embarks or disembarks to provide such passengers at the expense of such owner with the prescribed form.

(3) Any person who in completing the prescribed declaration knowingly makes any false statement or representation shall be guilty of an offence.

Duty of persons entering or departing to produce passport, etc.

37. (1) Every person intending to land in, or as the case may be, depart from the Territory shall if required to do so by an immigration officer produce for inspection any passport, visa, document evidencing nationality or identity or any document evidencing permission to enter any country, in his possession.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with any such requirement shall be guilty of an offence.

(3) If any person without lawful authority, alters any certificate or document issued or made under this Ordinance, or uses for the purpose of this Ordinance or has in his possession for such use any forged, altered or irregular certificate, passport, visa or other document he shall be guilty of an offence.

(4) It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council, by Order, to exempt any persons or class of persons either permanently or for a limited period from the requirement of being in possession of a passport or of such other documents as are mentioned in subsection (1).

Outward passenger and crew manifests.

38. (1) The local representative of every vessel departing from the Territory shall furnish to an immigration officer before the departure of the vessel, lists showing separately—

(a) the names and particulars of the passengers on board the vessel;

(b) the names and particulars of the members of the crew of the vessel; and

(c) the names and particulars of any other person on board the vessel.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with any requirement duly made under subsection (1) shall be guilty of an offence.

Distribution of copies of stop list etc., to shipping agents, etc.

39. It shall be lawful for the Chief Immigration Officer to cause copies of the stop list, or notification of the entry in or removal of any name from the stop list, to be given to the representatives of ships or aircraft ordinarily calling at the Territory or to bona fide travel agencies.

PART VIII.

DEPORTATION AND PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE REMOVAL OF PERSONS FROM THE TERRITORY.

40. (1) Subject to the provisions of sections 41 to 44 inclusive, if at any time after a person, other than a person deemed to belong to the Territory, has landed in the Territory, it shall come to the knowledge of the Governor that such person—

Procedure where deportation is desirable.

(a) has landed or remained in the Territory contrary to any provisions of this Ordinance;

(b) has been convicted of any offence against this Ordinance, or of any other offence within the Territory punishable with imprisonment for three months or more;

(c) is a person whose presence in the Territory would in the opinion of the Governor, acting after consultation with the Chief Immigration Officer, be undesirable and not conducive to the public good, the Governor may make an order (hereinafter referred to as the "deportation order") requiring such person to leave the Territory within the time fixed by the deportation order and thereafter to remain out of the Territory.

(2) In the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by subsection (1), the Governor may act in his discretion in any matter where he deems it necessary to do so.

(3) Where a deportation order is made in respect of a person who immediately before the making thereof was lawfully within the Territory under this Ordinance, a copy of the order shall be served upon him by an immigration officer or by any police officer and he shall be entitled within the period of seven days next following the date of such service to appeal in writing to the Governor against the making of the order.

41. (1) The Governor may only make a deportation order in respect of a British subject—

Power of Governor to make deportation order in respect of British subject.

(a) who is a convicted person in respect of whom the court, certifying to the Governor that he has been convicted recommends that a deportation order should be made in his case, either in addition to or in lieu of dealing with him in any other way in which the court had power to deal with him;

(b) who is an undesirable person; or

(c) who is a destitute person:

Provided that no person who is a British subject shall be deported under this section except in special or aggravated circumstances, if he has been continuously resident in the Territory for the immediately preceding period of ten years.

(2) Where any case in which a court of summary jurisdiction has made a recommendation for the making of a deportation order is brought by way of appeal before the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court certifies to the Governor that it does not concur in the recommendation, then such recommendation shall be of no effect, but without prejudice to the power of the Governor to make a deportation order under paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (1).

Procedure with respect to making deportation order in respect of British subject.

42. Except in the case of a convicted person, no deportation order shall be made in respect of a British subject except where a Magistrate, nominated by the Governor has, in accordance with sections 43 and 44, made a report on the case and the Governor is satisfied, having regard to the findings of fact and any conclusions of law as stated in the report that any deportation order may lawfully be made.

Service of notice and arrest of British subject charged.

43. (1) The Governor shall cause a notice to be served upon a British subject in respect of whom it is proposed that a deportation order be made, (hereinafter in this section and in section 44 referred to as "the British subject charged") specifying with sufficient particulars to give him reasonable information as to the nature of the facts alleged against him, the grounds upon which it is alleged that an order may be made against him, and requiring him to show cause, before a Magistrate nominated by the Governor at time to be stated in the notice, why such order should not be made in respect of him.

(2) In any case where it is intended to take proceedings against any person under section 41 on the ground that he is an undesirable person, and it is represented on oath or affidavit sworn before any Magistrate that that person is an undesirable person, the Magistrate nominated as aforesaid may issue a warrant for his arrest; and if the notice mentioned in subsection (1) has not already been served upon him, it shall be so served within twenty-four hours of his apprehension.

44. (1) At the time appointed in the notice served under section 43 or at any adjournment of the hearing the Magistrate nominated as aforesaid shall take such evidence upon oath as is tendered in support of the charges, and the witnesses may be cross-examined by the British subject charged or by his counsel, and the person charged may, on his own behalf, call such witnesses and tender such other evidence as may be relevant upon the questions at issue; but no hearing under this subsection shall be deemed to be held in open court.

Powers of Magistrate nominated by the Governor in respect of British subject charged.

(2) The Magistrate after considering the evidence adduced before him and after making any further investigations which he may consider desirable, shall make a report to the Governor setting out his findings of fact and his conclusion on any questions of law involved, and, if he thinks fit, making a recommendation as to the issue in the case of any order under section 41.

45. (1) Subject to subsection (5) any person in whose case a deportation order has been made may be placed, under the authority of the Governor, on board any vessel which is about to leave the Territory and the master or captain of the vessel shall, if so required by an immigration officer, take such steps as may be necessary for preventing the person from landing from the vessel before it leaves the Territory, and may for that purpose detain the person in custody on board the vessel.

Removal of persons subject to deportation orders.

(2) The Governor or an immigration officer may give directions to the master or captain of any vessel which is about to leave the Territory, requiring him to afford to any person in whose case a deportation order has been made, and to his dependants, if any, a passage to any port specified in the directions, being a port at which the vessel is to call in the course of its voyage, and proper accommodation and maintenance during the passage.

(3) The Governor, may, if he thinks fit, apply any money or property belonging to any such person as aforesaid in payment of the whole or any part of the expenses of or incidental to the voyage from the Territory and the maintenance until departure of the person and his dependants, if any.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), any person in whose case a deportation order has been made may be detained, under the authority of the Governor, until he is dealt with under subsection (1); and a person in whose case a recommendation for deportation is in force under section 41 shall, unless the court, in a case where the person is not sentenced to imprisonment, otherwise directs, be detained until the Governor makes a deportation order in his case or directs him to be released.

(5) A person in whose case a deportation order is made who is entitled in accordance with section 40(1) to appeal to the Governor against the making of the order, shall not be placed upon a vessel under subsection (1) or detained under subsection (4) until the expiration of the period of seven days from the date of service upon him of a copy of the order or, in the event of his making such an appeal, until the decision of the Governor thereon is known.

Lien on vessel landing passengers contrary to this Ordinance.

46. (1) If a passenger lands or attempts to land in the Territory, or does any act preparatory to landing in the Territory to the knowledge of the master or captain of a vessel by which such passenger arriving and landing is, or would be, in contravention of this Ordinance such vessel shall be subject to a lien in favour of Her Majesty for the sum of two thousand dollars in respect of each such passenger so landing, attempting to land or making preparation to land and the amount so charged may be sued for and recovered by the Chief Immigration Officer in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) Any immigration officer or any police officer, acting under instructions of the Financial Secretary shall detain, by force if necessary, any vessel charged with the payment of any sum under this section, until the hour of six o'clock in the afternoon of the third day following the landing of the passenger in respect of which the same is charged:

Provided that such detainer shall cease upon payment to the officer detaining such vessel, or the person placed by him in actual charge of such vessel, of all sums charged upon such vessel or upon the vessel being arrested under the process of any court of competent jurisdiction issued in any action for the recovery of the sums last aforesaid.

(3) For the purposes of any action for the recovery of any sums charged upon an aircraft under this section such aircraft shall be deemed to be a ship and the law relating to Admiralty actions in rem shall apply to such action accordingly.

(4) Where the sum charged upon a vessel under this section exceeds the value of such vessel it shall be lawful for the Supreme Court on the application of the Chief Immigration Officer to order the destruction of the vessel.

47. If a passenger lands in the Territory from any vessel contrary to this Ordinance, and such passenger is, on the complaint of the master or captain, apprehended and conveyed on board such vessel under the provisions of section 26 or 27 the lien arising under section 46 on the landing of such passenger shall cease to exist on his being so conveyed on board as aforesaid, but shall revive if such passenger again lands contrary in this Ordinance.

Lien to cease if passenger returned on board.

48. In the event of any vessel becoming subject to a lien in respect of any passenger under section 46, the Governor may, either before or after any suit has been commenced for the recovery of such amount remit the whole or such part thereof as he shall deem expedient, and order the release of such vessel on such terms and conditions as he shall think fit.

Power to Governor to remit lien.

PART IX.

REGULATIONS: PROCEDURE: REPEAL.

49. The Governor in Council may make regulations—

Power to make regulations.

(a) prescribing the circumstances in which a vessel is deemed to be arriving in or departing from the Territory;

(b) designating places in the Territory as ports of entry for the examination by immigration officers of persons seeking to enter or entering the Territory;

(c) requiring persons disembarking or embarking in the Territory or any class of such persons to produce to an immigration officer, if so required, landing or embarkation cards in such form as the Governor in Council may direct and requiring the owners or agents of vessels to supply those cards to such persons;

(d) prescribing the functions of immigration officers;

(e) prescribing the means to be taken of identifying persons suspected of being in the Territory contrary to this Ordinance or to any repealed Act or Ordinance relating to immigration;

(f) prescribing the forms to be used for the purposes of this Ordinance;

(g) authorising the payment of the fees for—

(i) the issue and renewal of passports; and

(ii) British visas to aliens for the purpose of visiting British Territory;

(h) prescribing the fees to be paid for—

(i) the issue of a certificate that a person belongs to the Territory and for a certificate of residence; and

(ii) the issue of any permit under this Ordinance;

(i) prescribing the fees to be paid in respect of any matter or thing prescribed under this Ordinance or any regulations;

(j) providing for the payment and recovery of any expenses incurred by the Government in connection with detention, maintenance, medical treatment and removal from the Territory of any person under this Ordinance;

(k) prohibiting or restricting any vessel or class of vessels from entering or leaving the Territory otherwise than at certain specified ports, imposing restrictions or conditions on any vessel or class of vessels entering any port within the Territory and requiring the master or captain of any vessel or such other person as may be specified in the regulations to undertake such obligations as may be deemed by the Governor in Council necessary or expedient for giving effect thereto;

(l) prescribing penalties, not exceeding the penalty specified in section 53 for any offence against any regulations;

(m) prescribing anything that is authorised or required to be prescribed by this Ordinance; and

(n) generally for the carrying out of the objects and purposes of this Ordinance.

50. If any question arises in any proceedings under this Ordinance or under any regulations or in reference to anything done or proposed to be done thereunder as to whether a vessel has come from a particular country or otherwise, the burden of proving that the vessel has not come from a particular country shall lie upon the person charged or, as the case may be, upon the person who, in those proceedings, is interested in proving that the vessel has not come from that particular country.

Burden of proof.

51. (1) Any person who—

Assisting.

(a) knowingly assists any person to land in the Territory;

(b) connives in the landing in the Territory of any person; or

(c) wilfully does any act preparatory to the landing in the Territory of any person, where such landing is, or would be, from any vessel entering or leaving the Territory otherwise than in accordance with any regulations made under paragraph (b) of section 49 applying to such vessel, shall be guilty of an offence.

(2) Any person who commits an offence under this section or who contravenes any regulations shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine of three thousand dollars and to imprisonment for two years, and any vessel found in the Territory in contravention of any regulations shall be liable to forfeiture and shall be proceeded against and condemned in such manner as is prescribed by the Customs Ordinance:

Cap. 104.

Provided that any such vessel which is of or below one hundred net tons may be condemned by the Magistrate upon proof to his satisfaction that such vessel has been used in contravention of such regulations.

(3) In any proceedings under this section for the condemnation of a vessel found in the Territory in contravention of any regulations, the High Court, or Magistrate having jurisdiction therein may order the destruction of such vessel.

52. Where any officer of the Royal Navy or any customs officer or police officer has reasonable grounds for believing that any person on board any vessel which is in the territorial waters of the Territory is landing or preparing to land in the Territory in contravention of the provisions of this Ordinance, he may board such vessel and exercise the powers conferred on an immigration officer under section 5.

General penalty.

53. Any person who commits or attempts to commit an offence under this Ordinance or any regulations made thereunder shall, except where any other penalty is provided, be liable on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars and imprisonment for twelve months.

Power to prohibit entry of aliens.

54. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Ordinance or in any other law the Governor may, after consultation with the Minister, by Order prohibit the entry into the Territory of any alien or class of aliens.

Saving for existing rights.

55. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to affect any existing rights acquired by any person before the date of the passing of this Ordinance by virtue of any provision in the Immigration and Passport Ordinance, 1969.

Repeal and transitional.

56. (1) The Immigration and Passport Ordinance, 1969 is repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding the repeal of the Immigration and Passport Ordinance, 1969 (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the repealed Ordinance")—

(a) any certificate of identity that a person belongs to the Territory and any certificate that a person is not a prohibited immigrant granted to any person under the repealed Ordinance and in force at the date of commencement of this Ordinance shall have effect as though it had been granted under the corresponding provisions of this Ordinance;

(b) any permit permitting any person to enter and remain in the Territory in force at the date of commencement of this Ordinance shall have effect as though it were a permit granted under section 31 of this Ordinance;

(c) any notice, form, order, rule, regulation or direction prescribed, made, issued or given under the repealed Ordinance shall continue in force as if it had been prescribed, made, issued or given under this Ordinance and may be repealed, revoked, varied or amended accordingly;

(d) the person who immediately before the date of the coming into operation of this Ordinance was holding and for the purpose of this subsection a certificate purporting to be signed on behalf of the Board as to the date on which such evidence came to its knowledge shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

(4) In any proceedings for an offence under this Ordinance the wife or husband of the accused shall be competent to give evidence against the accused:

Provided that a wife or husband shall not be compelled to give evidence to disclose any communication made to her or him during the marriage with the accused.

(5) Where an offence under this Ordinance which has been committed by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of or to be attributable to any negligence on the part of any directors, manager, secretary or other officer of the body corporate, they as well as that body shall be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and penalized.

37. (1) In any case where a person has been convicted of the offence under subsection (1) of section 35 of failing to pay a contribution he shall be liable to pay to the Fund a sum equal to the amount which he failed to pay.

Recovery of contributions on prosecution.

(2) On any such conviction as is mentioned in subsection (1) above, if notice of intention to do so has been served with the summons or warrant, evidence may be given of the failure on the part of the person concerned to pay other contributions during the two years preceding the date of the offence, and on proof of such failure the persons concerned shall be liable to pay to the Fund a sum equal to the total of all the contributions which he is so proved to have failed to pay.

(3) Where any person is charged with an offence as is mentioned in subsection (1) or (2) and a probation order is made in respect of such offence the forgoing provisions of this section shall apply as if the making of the order were a conviction.

(4) Any sum ordered to be paid out of the Fund under this section shall be recoverable as a penalty.

(5) Any sum paid by an employer under this section shall be treated as a payment in satisfaction of the unpaid contributions and any part of such which represents employee's contribution shall not be recoverable by the employer from the insured person.

(6) If an employer being a corporate body fails to pay to the Fund any sum which the employer has been ordered to pay under this section such sum or part thereof as remains unpaid shall be a debt due to the Fund jointly and severally from any directors of the body corporate who knew or reasonably be expected to have known of the failure to pay the contribution in question.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the Board from recovering any sums due to the Fund by means of civil proceedings.

38. (1) All sums due to the Fund under this Ordinance shall be recoverable as debts due to the Board and, without prejudice to any remedy may be recoverable as a civil debt:

Provided that any sum due by way of contributions shall for such date as may be prescribed, bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum or such other rate as may be prescribed.

(2) Proceedings for the summary recovery of sums due to the Fund may, notwithstanding anything in any enactment to the contrary, be brought at any time from the time when the matter complained of arose.

(3) Proceedings for the summary recovery as civil debts of sums due to the Fund may be instituted by an Officer of the Board authorized in that behalf by special or general directions of the Board and any such officer may, although not a barrister or a solicitor conduct such proceedings.

38A. (1) An officer or agent of the board authorized in that behalf (hereinafter referred to as “the authorized officer”) may make an application to the court for an order to seize goods and chattels of the defendant in execution of a judgment debt where such judgment debt has remained unpaid despite a court order to that effect.

(2) The Court on the application of the authorized officer shall cause to be issued an order of attachment and sale whereby the authorized officer shall be empowered to levy or cause to be levied by distress and sale of goods and chattels, wherever they may be found within the Territory, the money payable under the judgment and the costs of the execution.

(4) Where a Court has made an order for payment of any sum of money by installments, no order of execution of the judgment shall be issued until after the default in payment of some installments according to the order.

(5) In or upon every order of execution against the property of any person, the court shall specify the sum of money and costs adjudged, and the fees of the execution of the order.

(6) Every authorized officer executing any order of execution issued from a court against the property of chattels of any person may by virtue thereof seize _

(a) any of the goods and chattels of that person, except the wearing apparel and bedding of that person or his family and the tools and implements of his trade, to the value, which shall to that extent be protected from seizure;

and

(b) any money, bank notes, bills of exchange, promissory notes, bonds, specialties or securities for money belonging to that person.

(7) Goods seized in execution under process of a court shall thereof be safeguard in such manners as the court directs.

(8) The authorized officer shall hold any bills of exchange, promissory bonds, specialties or other securities for money seized in execution under an order of a court as security of the amount directed to be levied by the execution, or for so much thereof as has not been otherwise levied or raised for the benefit of the Board, and the authorized officer may sue in the name of the defendant, or in the name of any person in whose name the defendant might have sued, for the recovery of the sum secured or made payable thereby, when the time of payment thereof arrives.

(9) If any person rescues or attempts to rescue any goods seized in execution under an order of the court or in any other way resists or obstructs the execution of an order for the enforcement of a judgment of a court, he shall be liable, either on an order made in that behalf by the court from which the order of execution issues, or on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding three months.

(10) The provisions of Part XI of the Magistrate's Code of Procedure shall apply with the necessary modification in respect of an order made under this section save that for purposes of this section the word "constable" in that Part shall be read as if it were a reference to the words "authorized officer" in this section.

39. (1) Where an employer has failed or neglected to pay any contribution which he is liable to pay in respect of or on behalf of an insured person, and by reason of such failure or neglect such person or any other person becomes disentitled to any benefit on a lower scale, the Director may, on being satisfied that the contributions should have been paid by the employer, pay to the person or the other person benefit at the rate to which he would have been entitled if the failure or neglect had not occurred and the Board shall be entitled to recover from the employer summarily as a civil debt a sum equal to the amount of the benefit so paid or the contributions not paid whichever be the greater.

Proceedings for benefits lost by employer default.

(2) Proceedings may be taken under this section notwithstanding that proceedings have been taken under any other provision of this Ordinance in respect of the same failure or neglect.

(3) Proceedings under this section may, notwithstanding any enactment to the contract, be brought at any time within one year after the date on which the person concerned, would, but for the employer's failure or neglect have been entitled to receive the benefit in question.

PART V

MISCELLANEOUS

Crown Servants.

40. This Ordinance shall apply to persons employed by or under the Crown in like manner as if the Crown were a private person, with such modifications as may be made therein by regulations for the purpose of adapting the provisions of this Ordinance to the case of such persons:

Provided that the provisions of this Ordinance shall not affect adversely any vested rights of an employee under any pension or superannuation scheme in existence before the coming into operation of this Ordinance.

Persons employed aboard ships, vessels or aircraft.

41. (1) Without prejudice to the generality of any other power to make regulations the Minister may make regulations modifying in such manner as he thinks proper the provisions of this Ordinance in relation to persons who are or have not been employed on board any ship, vessel, or aircraft.

(2) Regulations made under subsection (1) may in particular provide –

- (a) for the insurance under this Ordinance of persons who are or have been employed on or after the appointed day on board ships, vessels, or aircraft notwithstanding they do not fulfill the conditions of section 18;
- (b) for excepting for insurance under this Ordinance or from liability to pay contributions, any persons employed as aforesaid who neither are domiciled nor have a place of residence in the Territory;
- (c) for the taking of evidence for the purpose of any claim for benefit in any place outside the Territory;
- (d) for enabling persons on board ships, vessels, or aircraft to authorize the payment of the whole or any part of their dependants as may be prescribed;
- (e) for withholding any benefit which may be payable to a mariner for any period while the owner of his ship or vessel is under a statutory obligation to pay him wages.

42. For the purposes of giving effect to any agreement with the Government of any other part of the Commonwealth or the Government of any other country, being an agreement which provides reciprocity in matters of Social Security, it shall be lawful for the Minister by order, to modify or adapt the provisions of this Ordinance in their application to cases affected by the agreement.

Reciprocal agreements with other countries.

43. (1) Stamp duty shall not be chargeable upon any draft or order or receipt given in respect of any benefit or upon any receipt given in respect of any other payment out of the Fund under subsection (2) of section 3 of this Ordinance or upon any receipt given by an officer or employee of the Board for or in respect of any sum payable to the Fund.

(3) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other law, where no penalty is specified for any offence under this Ordinance or regulations made thereunder, regulations may provide a penalty for one hundred dollars for each offence being a contravention of or failure to comply with any regulation, or where the offence consists of continuing thereof, five hundred dollars together with a further twenty-five dollars for each day on which it so continues.

(4) Any power conferred by this Ordinance to make regulations may be exercised –

- (a) either in relation to all cases to which the power extends or in relation to all such cases subject to specified exceptions or in relation to any specified cases or class of cases;
- (b) so as to make as represents the cases in relation to which it is exercised –
  - (i) the full provision for all cases to which the power extends or any less provision;

- (ii) the same provision for all cases to which the power is exercised, or different provision for different cases, or different provision as respects the same case for different purposes of this Ordinance;

- (iii) any such provision either unconditionally or subject to any specified condition.

(5) Without prejudice to any specific provision of this Ordinance any regulation may contain such incidental or supplementary provisions as appear to the Minister to be expedient for the purposes of the regulations.

45. (1) All regulations shall be laid before the Legislative Council as soon as may be after they are made and if within a period of thirty days beginning with the day on which such regulations are so laid the Legislative Council resolves that the regulations be annulled they shall thereupon cease to have effect but without prejudice to anything previously done thereunder or to the making of new regulations.

(2) In reckoning any period of thirty days specified in subsection (1) no account shall be taken of any time during which the Legislative Council is dissolved or prorogued or during which the Legislative Council is adjourned for more than fourteen days.

46. (1) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed to prevent an employer from operating any private schemes providing, for any person who is or has been employed by him, benefits of any kind whether similar to benefits under this Ordinance or greater.

(2) Where any such employer desires to modify any such scheme in operation before the coming into effect of this Ordinance such modification shall have prior approval of the Minister.

47. (1) In any case where –

- (a) any warrant of distress of executed against the property of any employer and the property is seized or sold in pursuance of the execution; or

- (b) on the application of a secured creditor the property of an employer is sold, the proceeds of the sale of the property shall not be distributed to any person entitled thereto until the Court ordering the sale has made provision for the payment of any amounts due in respect of contributions payable by the employer.

PART I SHORT TITLE AND INTERPRETATION

Short Title.

1. This act may be cited as the International Business Companies Act, 1984.

Interpretation.

2.(1) In this Act

"Articles" means the Articles of Association of a company incorporated under this Act;

"authorized capital" of a company means the sum of the aggregate par value of all shares with par value which the company is authorized by its Memorandum to issue plus the amount, if any, stated in its Memorandum as authorized capital to be represented by shares without par value which the company is authorized by its Memorandum to issue;

"capital" of a company means the sum of the aggregate par value of all outstanding shares with par value of the company and shares with par value held by the company as treasury shares plus

- (a) the aggregate of the amounts designated as capital of all outstanding shares without par value of the company and shares without par value held by the company as treasury shares, and
- (b) the amounts as are from time to time transferred from surplus to capital by a resolution of directors;

"Companies Act" means the Companies Act of the British Virgin Islands;

"court" means the Supreme Court or a Judge thereof;

"licence fee payment date" means the date on which the company licence fee is paid pursuant to the provisions of section 105;

"licence fee final payment date" means 30th April or 31st October in any year;

"member" means a person who holds shares in a company;

"Memorandum" means the Memorandum of Association of a company incorporated under this Act;

"person" includes a trust, the estate of a deceased individual, a partnership, or an unincorporated association of persons;

"person resident in the British Virgin Islands" means a person who ordinarily resides within the British Virgin Islands or carries on business from an office or other fixed place of business within the British Virgin Islands but does not include a company incorporated under this Act;

"Register" means the Register of International Business Companies maintained by the Registrar in accordance with subsection (1) of section 14;

"registered agent" means the person who is at any particular time performing the functions of registered agent of a company incorporated under this Act pursuant to subsection (1) of section 39;

"Registrar" means the Registrar of Companies;

"securities" means shares and debt obligations of every kind, and options, warrants and rights to acquire shares or debt obligations;

"surplus" in relation to a company, means the excess, if any, at the time of the determination, of the total assets of the company over the sum of its total liabilities, as shown in the books of account, plus its capital;

"treasury shares" means shares of a company that were previously issued but were repurchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired by the company and not cancelled.

- (2) A reference to money in this Act is a reference to the currency of the United States of America.
- (3) A company that is incorporated under the Companies Act or under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands shall be a company incorporated under this Act if it is continued as a company incorporated under this Act in accordance with Part VIII and references in this Act to a "company incorporated under this Act" shall be construed accordingly.
- (4) A reference in this Act to voting in relation to shares shall be construed as a reference to voting by members holding the shares except that it is the votes allocated to the shares that shall be counted and not the number of members who actually voted and a reference to shares being present at a meeting shall be given a corresponding construction.
- (5) Unless otherwise defined in the Articles of a company incorporated under this Act, the expression "resolution of directors" means
  - (a) a resolution approved at a duly constituted meeting of directors or of a committee of directors of a company, by affirmative vote of a simple majority or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the directors present at the meeting who voted and did not abstain; or
  - (b) a resolution consented to in writing by an absolute majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of all the directors or of all the members of the committee, as the case may be; but, where a director is given more than one vote in any circumstances, he shall in the circumstances be counted for the purposes of establishing majorities by the number of votes he casts.
- (6) Unless otherwise defined in the Articles of a company incorporated under this Act, the expression "resolution of members" means
  - (a) a resolution approved at a duly constituted meeting of the members of a company by the affirmative vote of
    - (i) a simple majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the votes of the shares that were present at the meeting and entitled to vote thereon and were voted and did not abstain, or
    - (ii) a simple majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles of the votes of each class or series of shares which were present at the meeting and entitled to vote thereon as a class or series and were voted and not abstained and of a simple majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the

- votes of the remaining shares entitled to vote thereon that were present at the meeting and were voted and not abstained; or
- (b) a resolution consented to in writing by
- (i) an absolute majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the votes of shares entitled to vote thereon, or
  - (ii) an absolute majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the votes of series of shares entitled to vote thereon as a class or series and of an absolute majority, or such larger majority as may be specified in the Articles, of the votes of the remaining shares entitled to vote thereon.

PART II CONSTITUTION OF COMPANIES

3. Subject to the requirements of this Act, the registered agent named in the Memorandum may, by subscribing to a Memorandum and to Articles, incorporate a company under this Act.

4. No company shall be incorporated under this Act unless immediately upon its incorporation the company is an International Business Company.

- 5.(1) For purposes of this Act, an International Business Company is a company that does not
- (a) carry on business with persons resident in the British Virgin Islands;
  - (b) own an interest in real property situate in the British Virgin Islands, other than a lease referred to in paragraph (e) of subsection (2);
  - (c) carry on banking or trust business, unless it is licensed under the Banks and Trust Companies Act, 1990;
  - (d) carry on business as an insurance or reinsurance company, insurance agent or insurance broker, unless it is licensed under an enactment authorizing it to carry on that business;
  - (e) carry on the business of company management unless it is licensed under the Company Management Act, 1990; or
  - (f) carry on the business of providing the registered office or the registered agent for companies incorporated in the British Virgin Islands.
- (2) For purposes of paragraph (a) of subsection (1), an International Business Company shall not be treated as carrying on business with persons resident in the British Virgin Islands by reason only that
- (a) it makes or maintains deposits with a person carrying on banking business within the British Virgin Islands;
  - (b) it makes or maintains professional contact with solicitors, barristers, accountants, bookkeepers, trust companies, administration companies, investment advisers or other similar persons carrying on business within the British Virgin Islands;
  - (c) it prepares or maintains books and records within the British Virgin Islands;
  - (d) it holds, within the British Virgin Islands, meetings of its directors or members;
  - (e) it holds a lease of property for use as an office from which to communicate with members or where books and records of the company are prepared or maintained.
  - (f) it holds shares, debt obligations or other securities in a company incorporated under this Act or under the Companies Act; or
  - (g) shares, debt obligations or other securities in the company are owned by any person resident in the British Virgin Islands or by any company incorporated under this Act or under the Companies Act.
- 6.(1) Without affecting the operation of section 99, if a company is incorporated under this Act without having satisfied the requirements prescribed for an International Business

Company under section 5, or if having satisfied the requirements it subsequently ceases to satisfy the requirements for a continuous period of more than 30 days, the company shall upon expiration of that period notify the Registrar of that fact.

- (2) A company that willfully contravenes subsection (1) is liable to a penalty of $100.00 for each day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director, who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.

7. Subject to section 74, no member, director, officer, agent or liquidator of a company incorporated under this Act is liable for any debt, obligation or default of the company, unless specifically provided in this Act or in any other law for the time being in force in the British Virgin Islands, and except in so far as he may be liable for his own conduct or acts.

8. A company may be incorporated under this Act for any object or purpose not prohibited under this Act or under any other law for the time being in force in the British Virgin Islands.

9.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, this Act or any other law for the time being in force in the British Virgin Islands, a company incorporated under this Act has the power, irrespective of corporate benefit, to perform all acts and engage in all activities necessary or conducive to the conduct, promotion or attainment of the objects or purposes of the company, including the power to do the following:

- (a) issue registered shares or shares issued to bearer or both;
- (b) issue the following:
  - (I) voting shares,
  - (ii) non-voting shares,
  - (iii) shares that may have more or less than one vote per share,
  - (iv) shares that may be voted only on certain matters or only upon the occurrence of certain events, and
  - (v) shares that may be voted only when held by persons who meet specified requirements;
- (c) issue common shares, preferred shares, limited shares or redeemable shares;
- (d) issue shares that entitle participation only in certain assets;
- (e) issue options, warrants or rights, or instruments of a similar nature, to acquire any securities of the company;
- (f) issue securities that, at the option of the holder thereof or of the company or upon the happening of a specified event, are convertible into, or exchangeable for, other securities in the company or any property then or to be owned by the company;
- (g) purchase, redeem, or otherwise acquire and hold its own shares;
- (h) guarantee a liability or obligation of any person and to secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge or other charge, of any of its assets for that purpose; and
- (i) protect the assets of the company for the benefit of the company, its creditors and its members, and at the discretion of the directors, for any person having a direct or indirect interest in the company; and
- (j) issue shares in any one or more currencies.

- (2) For purposes of paragraph (i) of subsection (1), notwithstanding any other provision of this Act or of any other law for the time being in force in the British Virgin Islands or any rule of law to the contrary, the directors may cause the company to transfer any of its assets in trust to one or more trustees, to any company, association, partnership, foundation or similar entity; and, with respect to the transfer, the directors may provide that the company, its creditors, its members or any person having a direct or indirect interest in the company, or any of them, may be the beneficiaries, creditors, members, certificate holders, partners or holders of any other similar interest.

- (3) The rights or interests of any existing or subsequent creditor of the company in any assets of the company are not affected by any transfer under subsection (2), and those rights or interests may be pleaded against any transferee in any such transfer.

10.(1) No act of a company incorporated under this Act and no transfer of real or personal property by or to a company so incorporated is invalid by reason only of the fact that the company was without capacity or power to perform the act, or to transfer or receive the property, but the lack of capacity or power may be pleaded in the following cases:

- (a) in proceedings by a member against the company to prohibit the performance of any act or the transfer of real or personal property by or to the company; or
- (b) in proceedings by the company, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative, or through members in a derivative action, against the incumbent or former directors of the company for loss or damage due to their unauthorized act.

- (2) For purposes of paragraph (a) of subsection (1), the court may set aside and prohibit the performance of a contract if

- (a) the unauthorized act or transfer sought to be set aside or prohibited is being, or is to be, performed or made under any contract to which the company is a party;
- (b) all the parties to the contract are parties to the proceedings; and
- (c) it appears fair and reasonable to set aside or prohibit the performance of the contract; and in so doing the court may, in applying this subsection, award to the company or to the other parties to the contract such compensation as may be reasonable except that in determining the amount of compensation the court shall not take into account anticipated profits to be derived from the performance of the contract.

11.(1) The word "Limited", "Corporation", "Incorporated", "Societe Anonyme" or "Sociedad Anonima" or the abbreviation "Ltd.", "Corp.", "Inc." or "S.A." must be part of the name of every company incorporated under this Act, but a company may use and be legally designated by either the full or the abbreviated form.

- (2) No company shall be incorporated under this Act under a name that

- (a) is identical with that under which a company in existence is already incorporated under this Act or registered under the Companies Act or so nearly resembles the name as to be calculated to deceive, except where the company in existence gives its consent; or
- (b) contains the words "Assurance", "Bank", "Building Society", "Chamber of Commerce", "Chartered", "Cooperative", "Imperial", "Insurance", "Municipal", "Royal", "Trust Company", "Trustee Company", or a word conveying a similar meaning, or any other word that, in the opinion of the Registrar, suggests or is calculated to suggest
  - (I) the patronage of Her Majesty or that of a member of the Royal Family,
  - (ii) a connection with Her Majesty's Government or a department thereof, or
  - (iii) a connection with a municipality or other local authority or with a society or body incorporated by Royal Charter; except with the approval of the Registrar in writing.
- (c) is indecent, offensive, or, in the opinion of the Registrar, objectionable.

- (3) A company may amend its Memorandum to change its name.

- (4) If a company is incorporated under a name that

- (a) is identical with a name under which a company in existence was incorporated under this Act or registered under the Companies Act, or
  - (b) so nearly resembles the name as to be calculated to deceive;
- the Registrar may, without the consent of the company in existence, give notice to the last registered company to change its name and if it fails to do so within 60 days from the date of the notice, the Registrar must amend the Memorandum of the company to change its name to such name as the Registrar deems appropriate, and the Registrar must publish notice of the change in the Gazette.
- (5) Subject to subsections (2) and (4), where a company changes its name, the Registrar must enter the new name on the Register in place of the former name, and must issue a certificate of incorporation indicating the change of name.
  - (6) A change of name does not affect any rights or obligations of a company, or render defective any legal proceedings by or against a company, and all legal proceedings that have been commenced against a company by its former name may be continued against it by its new name.
  - (7) Subject to subsection (2) the Registrar may, upon a request made by any person, reserve for 90 days a name for future adoption by a company under this Act.

12.(1) The Memorandum must include

- (a) the name of the company;
- (b) the address within the British Virgin Islands of the registered office of the company;
- (c) the name and address within the British Virgin Islands of the registered agent of the company;
- (d) the objects or purposes for which the company is to be incorporated;
- (e) the currency in which shares in the company shall be issued;
- (f) a statement of the authorized capital of the company setting forth the aggregate of the par value of all shares with par value that the company is authorized to issue and the amount, if any, to be represented by shares without par value that the company is authorized to issue;
- (g) a statement of the number of classes and series of shares, the number of shares of each such class and series and the par value of shares with par value and that shares may be without par value, if that is the case;
- (h) a statement of the designations, powers, preferences and rights, and the qualifications, limitations, or restrictions of each class and series of shares that the company is authorized to issue, unless the directors are to be authorized to fix any such designations, powers, preferences, rights, qualifications, limitations and restrictions, and in that case, an express grant of such authority as may be desired to grant to the directors to fix by a resolution any such designations, powers, preferences, rights, qualifications, limitations and restrictions that have not been fixed by the Memorandum;
- (i) a statement of the number of shares to be issued as registered shares and the number of shares to be issued as shares issued to bearer, unless the directors are authorized to determine at their discretion whether shares are to be issued as registered shares or to bearer, and in that case an express grant of such authority as may be desired must be given to empower the directors to issue shares as registered shares or to bearer as they may determine by resolution of directors;
- (j) whether registered shares may be exchanged for shares issued to bearer and whether shares issued to bearer may be exchanged for registered shares;
- (k) if shares issued to bearer are authorized to be issued, the manner in which a required notice to members is to be given to the holders of shares issued to bearer; and

- (1) a statement that the company may not carry on the activities set forth in subsection (1) of section 5 which statement shall set forth verbatim the activities described in that subsection, unless it is licensed to carry out any of the activities referred to in that subsection; and
  - (2) For purposes of paragraph (d) of subsection (1), if the Memorandum contains a statement either alone or with other objects or purposes that the object or purpose of the company is to engage in any act or activity that is not prohibited under any law for the time being in force in the British Virgin Islands, the effect of that statement is to make all acts and activities that are not illegal part of the objects or purposes of the company, subject to any limitations in the Memorandum.
  - (3) The Memorandum must be subscribed by the registered agent named in the Memorandum in the presence of another person who must sign his name as a witness.
  - (4) The Memorandum, when registered, binds the company and its members from time to time to the same extent as if each member had subscribed his name and affixed his seal thereto and as if there were contained in the Memorandum, on the part of himself, his heirs, executors and administrators, a covenant to observe the provisions of the Memorandum, subject to this Act.
- 13.(1)The Memorandum, when submitted for registration, must be accompanied by Articles prescribing regulations for the company.
- (2) The Articles must be subscribed by the registered agent named in the Memorandum in the presence of another person who must sign his name as a witness.
  - (3) The Articles, when registered, bind the company and its members from time to time to the same extent as if each member had subscribed his name and affixed his seal thereto and as if there were contained in the Articles, on the part of himself, his heirs, executors and administrators, a covenant to observe the provisions of the Articles, subject to this Act.
- 14.(1)The Registrar shall not register the Memorandum or the Articles delivered to him unless he is satisfied that all requirements of this Act in respect of registration have been complied with and
- (a) a solicitor engaged in the formation of the company; or
  - (b) the registered agent named in the Memorandum of the company to be registered agent, certifies in writing that the requirements of this Act in respect of registration have been complied with and the written certification delivered to the Registrar is sufficient evidence of compliance.
- (2) Subject to subsection (1), the Registrar shall retain and register the Memorandum and Articles submitted to him in a Register to be maintained by him to be known as the Register of International Business Companies.
  - (3) Upon the registration of the Memorandum and the Articles, the Registrar shall issue a certificate of incorporation under his hand and seal certifying that the company is incorporated.
- 15.(1)Upon the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of incorporation of a company, the company is, from the date shown on the certificate of incorporation, a body corporate under the name contained in the Memorandum with the full capacity of an individual who is sui juris.
- (2) A certificate of incorporation of a company incorporated under this Act issued by the Registrar is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of incorporation.

16. (1) Subject to any limitation or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may amend its Memorandum or Articles by a resolution of members or, where permitted by its Memorandum or Articles or by this Act, by a resolution of directors.
- (2) A company that amends its Memorandum or Articles must submit to the Registrar an extract of the resolution of members or the resolution of directors amending the Memorandum or Articles, as the case may be, certified as a true copy of the resolution amending the Memorandum or Articles by
- (a) the solicitor engaged in advising the company; or
  - (b) the registered agent named in the Memorandum of the company,
- and the Registrar must retain and register the certified copy of the extract of the resolution.
- (3) An amendment to the Memorandum or Articles has effect from the time the amendment is registered by the Registrar.
- (4) A company that wilfully contravenes subsection (2) is liable to a penalty of $50.00 for each day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.

17.A copy of the Memorandum and a copy of the Articles must be given to any member who requests a copy on payment by the member of such amount as the directors may determine to be reasonably necessary to defray the costs of preparing and furnishing them.

PART III

CAPITAL AND DIVIDENDS

17A. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, the unissued shares and treasury shares of a company incorporated under this Act shall be at the disposal of the directors who may, without limiting or affecting any rights previously conferred on the holders of any existing shares or class or series of shares, offer, allot, grant options over or otherwise dispose of shares to such persons, at such times and upon such terms as the company may, by resolution of directors, determine.

18. No share in a company incorporated under this Act may be issued until the consideration in respect of the share is fully paid, and when issued the share is for all purposes fully paid and non-assessable save that a share issued for a promissory note or other written obligation for payment of a debt may be issued subject to forfeiture in the manner prescribed in section 19A.

19. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, each share in a company incorporated under this Act shall be issued for money, services rendered, personal property (including other shares, debt obligations or other securities in the company), an estate in real property, a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute money or property, or any combination thereof.

19A.(1) The Memorandum or Articles, or agreement for the subscription of shares, of a company incorporated under this Act may contain provisions for the forfeiture of shares for which payment is not made pursuant to a promissory note or other written binding obligation for payment of a debt.

(2) Any provision in the Memorandum or Articles, or in an agreement for the subscription of shares of a company incorporated under this Act providing for the forfeiture of shares shall contain a requirement that written notice specifying a date for payment to be made be served on the member who defaults in making payment pursuant to a promissory note or other written binding obligation to pay a debt.

- (3) The written notice referred to in subsection (2) shall name a further date not earlier than the expiration of 14 days from the date of service of the notice on or before which the payment required by the notice is to be made and shall contain a statement that in the event of non-payment at or before the time named in the notice the shares, or any of them, in respect of which payment is not made will be liable to be forfeited.
- (4) Where a notice has been issued under this section and the requirements of the notice have not been complied with, the directors may, at any time before tender of payment, by resolution of directors forfeit and cancel the shares to which the notice relates.
- (5) The company is under no obligation to refund any moneys to the member whose shares have been cancelled pursuant to subsection (4) and that member shall be discharged from any further obligation to the company.

20.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, shares in a company incorporated under this Act may be Issued for such amount as may be determined from time to time by the directors, except that in the case of shares with par value, the amount shall not be less than the par value; and, in the absence of fraud, the decision of the directors as to the value of the consideration received by the company in respect of the issue is conclusive, unless a question of law is involved.

(2) A share issued by a company incorporated under this Act upon conversion of, or in exchange for, another share or a debt obligation or other security in the company, shall be treated for all purposes as having been issued for money equal to the consideration received or deemed to have been received by the company in respect of the other share, debt obligation or security.

21. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may issue fractions of a share and unless and to the extent otherwise provided in the Memorandum or Articles, a fractional share has the corresponding fractional liabilities, limitations, preferences, privileges, qualifications, restrictions, rights and other attributes of a whole share of the same class or series of shares.

21A.(1) The authorized capital, if any, of a company incorporated under this Act may be stated in more than one currency in which case the par value of the shares, if any, shall be expressed in the same currencies.

(2) The Registrar may issue guidelines with respect to the calculation of fees payable pursuant to section 104 for companies with an authorized capital stated in a currency other than United States dollars.

22.(1) Upon the issue by a company incorporated under this Act of a share with par value, the consideration in respect of the share constitutes capital to the extent of the par value and the excess constitutes surplus.

(2) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, upon the issue by a company incorporated under this Act of a share without par value, the consideration in respect of the share constitutes capital to the extent designated by the directors and the excess constitutes surplus, except that the directors must designate as capital an amount of the consideration that is at least equal to the amount that the share is entitled to as a preference, if any, in the assets of the company upon liquidation of the company.

- (3) Upon the disposition by a company incorporated under this Act of a treasury share, the consideration in respect of the share is added to surplus.

23.(1) A share issued as a dividend by a company incorporated under this Act shall be treated for all purposes as having been issued for money equal to the surplus that is transferred to capital upon the issue of the share.

- (2) In the case of a dividend of authorized but unissued shares with par value, an amount equal to the aggregate par value of the shares shall be transferred from surplus to capital at the time of the distribution.
- (3) In the case of a dividend of authorized but unissued shares without par value, the amount designated by the directors shall be transferred from surplus to capital at the time of the distribution, except that the directors must designate as capital an amount that is at least equal to the amount that the shares are entitled to as a preference, if any, in the assets of the company upon liquidation of the company.

- (4) A division of the issued and outstanding shares of a class or series of shares into a larger number of shares of the same class or series having a proportionally smaller par value does not constitute a dividend of shares.

24.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may amend its Memorandum to increase or reduce its authorized capital, and in connection therewith, the company may

- (a) increase or reduce the number of shares which the company may issue;
- (b) increase or reduce the par value of any of its shares; or
- (c) effect any combination under paragraphs (a) and (b).

- (2) Where a company reduces its authorized capital under subsection (1), then, for purposes of computing the capital of the company, any capital that immediately before the reduction was represented by shares but immediately following the reduction is no longer represented by shares shall be deemed to be capital transferred from surplus to capital.

- (3) A company shall, in writing, inform the Registrar of any increase or decrease of its authorized capital.

25.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may amend its Memorandum

- (a) to divide the shares, including issued shares, of a class or series into a larger number of shares of the same class or series; or
- (b) to combine the shares, including issued shares, of a class or series into a smaller number of shares of the same class or series.

- (2) Where shares are divided or combined under subsection (1), the aggregate par value of the new shares must be equal to the aggregate par value of the original shares.

26. Shares of a company incorporated under this Act are personal property and are not of the nature of real property.

- 27.(1) A company incorporated under this Act must state in its Articles whether or not certificates in respect of its shares shall be issued.
- (2) If a company incorporated under this Act issues certificates in respect of its shares, the certificates
- (a) must be signed by two directors or two officers of the company, or by one director and one officer; or
  - (b) must be under the common seal of the company, with or without the signature of any director or officer of the company; and the Articles may provide for the signatures or common seal to be facsimiles.
- (3) A certificate issued in accordance with subsection (2) specifying a share held by a member of the company is prima facie evidence of the title of the member to the share specified therein.
- 28.(1) A company incorporated under this Act shall cause to be kept one or more registers to be known as share registers containing
- (a) the names and addresses of the persons who hold registered shares in the company;
  - (b) the number of each class and series of registered shares held by each person;
  - (c) the date on which the name of each person was entered in the share register;
  - (d) the date on which any person ceased to be a member;
  - (e) in the case of shares issued to bearer, the total number of each class and series of shares issued to bearer; and
  - (f) with respect to each certificate for shares issued to bearer,
    - (I) the identifying number of the certificate;
    - (ii) the number of each class or series of shares issued to bearer specified therein; and
    - (iii) the date of issue of the certificate; but the company may delete from the register information relating to persons who are no longer members or information relating to shares issued to bearer that have been cancelled.
- (2) The share register may be in any such form as the directors may approve but if it is in magnetic, electronic or other data storage form, the company must be able to produce legible evidence of its contents.
- (3) R E P E A L E D.
- (4) A copy of the share register, commencing from the date of registration of the company, shall be kept at the registered office of the company referred to in section 38.
- (5) The share register is prima facie evidence of any matters directed or authorized by this Act to be contained therein.
- (6) A company that wilfully contravenes this section is liable to a penalty of $25.00 for each day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.
29. (1) If (a) information that is required to be entered in the share register under Section 28 is omitted therefrom or inaccurately entered therein; or
- (b) there is unreasonable delay in entering the information in the share register, a member of the company, or any person who is aggrieved by the omission, inaccuracy or delay, may apply to the court for an order that the share register be rectified, and the court may either grant or refuse the application, with or without costs to be paid by the applicant, or order the rectification of the share register, and may direct the company to pay all costs of the application and any damages the applicant may have sustained.

- (2) The court may, in any proceedings under subsection (1), determine any question relating to the right of a person who is a party to the proceedings to have his name entered or omitted from the share register, whether the question arises between
- (a) two or more members or alleged members; or
  - (b) between members or alleged members and the company;
- and generally the court may in the proceedings determine any question that may be necessary or expedient to be determined for the rectification of the share register.
- 30.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, registered shares of a company incorporated under this Act may be transferred by a written instrument of transfer signed by the transferor and containing the name and address of the transferee.
- (2) In the absence of a written instrument of transfer mentioned in subsection (1), the directors may accept such evidence of a transfer of shares as they consider appropriate.
- (3) A company shall not be required to treat a transferee of a registered share in the company as a member until the transferee's name has been entered in the share register.
- (4) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act must, on the application of the transferor or transferee of a registered share in the company, enter in its share register the name of the transferee of the share.
- (5) A transfer of registered shares of a deceased, incompetent or bankrupt member of a company incorporated under this Act made by his personal representative, guardian or trustee, as the case may be, or a transfer of registered shares owned by a person as a result of a transfer from a member by operation of law, is of the same validity as if the personal representative, guardian, trustee or transferee had been the registered holder of the shares at the time of the execution of the instrument of transfer.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), what amounts to incompetence on the part of a person is a matter to be determined by the court after having regard to all the relevant evidence and the circumstances of the case.
31. A share issued to bearer is transferable by delivery of the certificate relating to the share.
- 32.(1) Where a governmental authority, whether it is legally constituted or not, in any jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands
- (a) by or in connection with a nationalization, expropriation, confiscation, coercion, force or duress, or similar action; or
  - (b) by or in connection with the imposition of any confiscatory tax, assessment, or other governmental charge, takes or seizes any shares or other interests in a company incorporated under this Act, the company itself or a person holding shares or any other interest in the company, including an interest as a creditor, may apply to the court for an order that the company disregard the taking or seizure and continue to treat the person who would have held shares or any other interest in the company but for the taking or seizure of the shares or other interest as continuing to hold the shares or other interest.

- (2) Without affecting subsection (1), where a person whose shares or other interests have been taken or seized as referred to in subsection (1) is other than a natural person, the person making the application under subsection (1), or the company itself, may apply to the court for an additional order for the company to treat the persons believed by the company to have held the direct or indirect beneficial interests in the share or other interests in the company as the holder of those shares or other interests.
- (3) The court may, upon application made to it under subsection (1) or (2),
- (a) grant such relief as it considers equitable and proper; and
  - (b) order that any shares of or other interests in the company vest in such trustees as the court may appoint upon such trusts and for such purposes as the court determines.
- 33.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire and hold its own shares but only out of surplus or in exchange for newly issued shares of equal value.
- (1A) Subject to subsection (1), a company incorporated under this Act may not purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire its own shares without the consent of the member whose shares are to be purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired, unless the company is permitted to purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire the shares without that consent by virtue of
- (a) the provisions of the Memorandum or Articles of the company;
  - (b) the designations, powers, preferences, rights, qualifications, limitations and restrictions with which the shares were issued; or
  - (c) the subscription agreement for the issue of the shares.
- (2) No purchase, redemption or other acquisition permitted under subsection (1) shall be made unless the directors determine that immediately after the purchase, redemption or other acquisition
- (a) the company will be able to satisfy its liabilities as they become due in the ordinary course of its business; and
  - (b) the realizable value of the assets of the company will not be less than the sum of its total liabilities, other than deferred taxes, as shown in the books of account, and its capital; and, in the absence of fraud, the decision of the directors as to the realizable value of the assets of the company is conclusive, unless a question of law is involved.
- (3) A determination by the directors under subsection (2) is not required where shares are purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired,
- (a) pursuant to a right of a member to have his shares redeemed or to have his shares exchanged for money or other property of the company;
  - (b) by virtue of a transfer of capital pursuant to paragraph (b) (iii) of section 35(1);
  - (c) by virtue of the provisions of section 83; and
  - (d) pursuant to an order of the court.
- (4) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, shares that a company purchases, redeems or otherwise acquires may be cancelled or held as treasury shares unless the shares are purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired by virtue of a reduction in capital in a manner that would be a contravention of the requirements of section 35(3), in which case they shall be cancelled but they shall be available for reissue; and upon the cancellation of a share, the amount included as capital of the company with respect to that share shall be deducted from the capital of the company.

- (5) A company incorporated under this Act may purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire the shares of the company at a price lower than fair value if permitted by, and then only in accordance with, the terms of
- (a) its Memorandum or Articles; or
  - (b) a written agreement for the subscription for the shares to be purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired.
34. Where shares in a company incorporated under this Act
- (a) are held by the company as treasury shares; or
  - (b) are held by another company of which the first company holds, directly or indirectly, shares having more than 50 per cent of the votes in the election of directors of the other company,
- the shares of the first company are not entitled to vote or to have dividends paid thereon and shall not be treated as outstanding for any purpose under this Act except for purposes of determining the capital of the first Company.
- 35.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles and subject to subsections (3) and (4), the capital of a company incorporated under this Act may, by a resolution of members or by a resolution of directors be
- (a) increased by transferring an amount out of the surplus of the company to capital; or
  - (b) reduced by transferring an amount out of capital of the company to surplus.
- (2) R E P E A L E D.
- (3) No reduction of capital shall be effected that reduces the capital of the company to an amount that is less than the sum of
- (a) the aggregate par value of
    - (i) all outstanding shares with par value, and
    - (ii) all shares with par value held by the company as treasury shares; and
  - (b) the aggregate of the amounts designated as capital of
    - (i) all outstanding shares without par value, and
    - (ii) all shares without par value held by the company as treasury shares that are entitled to a preference, if any, in the assets of the company upon liquidation of the company.
- (4) No reduction of capital shall be effected under subsection (1) unless the directors determine that immediately after the reduction
- (a) the company will be able to satisfy its liabilities as they become due in the ordinary course of its business; and
  - (b) the realizable value of the assets of the company will not be less than its total liabilities, other than deferred taxes, as shown in the books of account, and its remaining capital; and, in the absence of fraud, the decision of the directors as to the realizable value of the assets of the company is conclusive, unless a question of law is involved.
36. (1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may, by a resolution of directors, declare and pay dividends in money, shares or other property.
- (2) Dividends shall only be declared and paid out of surplus.
  - (3) No dividend shall be declared and paid unless the directors determine that immediately after the payment of the dividend

- (a) the company will be able to satisfy its liabilities as they become due in the ordinary course of its business; and
- (b) the realizable value of the assets of the company will not be less than the sum of its total liabilities, other than deferred taxes, as shown in the books of account, and its capital; and, in the absence of fraud, the decision of the directors as to the realizable value of the assets of the company is conclusive, unless a question of law is involved.

37. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may, by a resolution of directors, include in the computation of surplus for any purpose under this Act the net unrealized appreciation of the assets of the company, and, in the absence of fraud, the decision of the directors as to the value of the assets is conclusive, unless a question of law is involved.

37A.(1) A mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act must be in writing signed by, or with the authority of, the holder of the bearer share or the registered holder of the registered share to which the mortgage or charge relates.

- (2) In the case of a bearer share, a mortgage or charge thereof is not valid and enforceable unless the certificate for the share to be mortgaged or charged is deposited with the mortgagee or chargee but the deposit of the certificate with the mortgagee or chargee shall not constitute a transfer of the bearer share, title to which shall only pass upon due compliance with the provisions of law governing realization of the security by the mortgagee or chargee.
- (3) A mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act need not be in any specific form but it must clearly indicate
  - (a) the intention to create a mortgage or charge; and
  - (b) the amount secured by the mortgage or charge or how that amount is to be calculated.
- (4) A mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act may be governed by the law of a jurisdiction other than the British Virgin Islands, but if a law other than the law of the British Virgin Islands is specified as the governing law
  - (a) the mortgage or charge must be in compliance with the requirements of its governing law in order for the mortgage or charge to be valid and binding on the company; and
  - (b) the remedies available to a mortgagee or chargee shall be governed by the governing law and the instrument creating the mortgage or charge save that the rights between the mortgagor or mortgagee as a member of the company and the company shall continue to be governed by the Memorandum and the Articles of the company and this Act.
- (5) If no law is specified to govern a mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act, the instrument creating the mortgage or charge shall be governed by the laws of the British Virgin Islands and, in the case of a default by the mortgagor or chargor on the terms of the mortgage, the mortgagee or chargee is entitled to the following remedies:
  - (a) subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the instrument creating the mortgage or charge, the right to sell the shares; and
  - (b) the right to appoint a receiver who, subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the instrument creating the mortgage or charge, may
    - (I) vote the shares,
    - (ii) receive dividends and other payments in respect of the shares, and
    - (iii) exercise other rights and powers of the mortgagor or chargor in respect of the shares, until such time as the mortgage or charge is discharged.

- (6) Subsection (5) also applies to a mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act where the law of the British Virgin Islands is specified as the governing law.
- (7) Subject to any provisions to the contrary in the instrument of mortgage or charge of shares of a company incorporated under this Act, all amounts that accrue from the enforcement of the mortgage or charge shall be applied in the following manner:
- (a) firstly, in meeting the costs incurred in enforcing the mortgage or charge;
  - (b) secondly, in discharging the sums secured by the mortgage or charge; and
  - (c) thirdly, in paying any balance due to the mortgagor or chargor.
- (8) The remedies referred to in subsection (5) are not exercisable until
- (a) a default has occurred and has continued for a period of not less than 30 days, or such shorter period as may be specified in the instrument creating the mortgage or charge; and
  - (b) the default has not been rectified within 14 days from service of the notice specifying the default and requiring rectification thereof.
- (9) In the case of the mortgage or charge of registered shares there may be entered in the share register of the company
- (a) a statement that the shares are mortgaged or charged;
  - (b) the name of the mortgagee or chargee; and
  - (c) the date on which the statement and name are entered in the share register.

PART IV REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT

38. A company incorporated under this Act shall at all times have a registered office in the British Virgin Islands, and the registered office must be an office maintained in the British Virgin Islands by the company or its registered agent.

39.(1) A company incorporated under this Act shall at all times have a registered agent in the British Virgin Islands.

(2) No person shall be a registered agent unless he has been licensed as a registered agent under the Company Management Act or under the Banks and Trust Companies Act.

40. R E P E A L E D.

40A.(1) The Registrar shall maintain a register of licensed registered agents in which the following details shall be recorded:

- (a) the name of the registered agent;
- (b) the address of the registered agent;
- (c) the names of the individuals authorized to sign on behalf of any firm or corporation that is a registered agent;
- (d) the date when the first licence to act as a registered agent was issued pursuant to the Company Management Act, 1990 or the Banks and Trust Companies Act, 1990; and
- (e) in a case where a registered agent ceases to be a registered agent,
  - (i) the date on which the registered agent ceased to be licensed, and
  - (ii) whether the cessation was due to failure to renew his licence, death or liquidation or revocation under the Company Management Act or under the Banks and Trust Companies Act.

- (2) The Registrar shall, during the month of February in each year, publish in the Gazette, a list of registered agents as appeared on the register of licensed registered agents on 31st January in that year.
- (3) Any change in the details kept by the Registrar in the register of registered agents pursuant to subsection (1) shall be notified immediately by the registered agent to the Registrar, and, upon payment of such fee as may be prescribed by the Governor in Council, the Registrar shall record the change in the register of registered agents.
- (4) Where the registered agent of a company desires to cease to act as registered agent and the registered agent is unable to reach an agreement with the company for which he is registered agent concerning his replacement, the following provisions apply:
- (a) the registered agent shall give not less than 90 days written notice to any director or officer of the company of which he is the registered agent at the director's or officer's last known address, or if the registered agent is not aware of the identity of any director or officer then the person from whom the registered agent last received instructions concerning the company, specifying the wish of the registered agent to resign as registered agent and shall together with the notice provide a list of all registered agents in the British Virgin Islands with their names and addresses;
  - (b) the registered agent shall submit to the Registrar a copy of the notice and list of registered agents referred to in paragraph (a);
  - (c) if, at the time of expiry of the notice, the company has not adopted a resolution to amend its Memorandum to change its registered agent, the registered agent shall inform the Registrar in writing that the company has not changed its registered agent whereupon the Registrar shall publish a notice in the Gazette that the name of the company will be struck off the Register, unless the company, within 30 days from the date of the publication of the notice in the Gazette, registers with the Registrar a copy of a resolution amending its Memorandum to change its registered agent; and
  - (d) if a company fails within 30 days from the date of the publication of the notice referred to in paragraph (c) to register with the Registrar a copy of a resolution amending its Memorandum to change its registered agent, the Registrar shall strike the name of the company off the Register and shall publish in the Gazette a notice that the name of the company has been struck off the Register.
- (5) Where the licence of a registered agent has been revoked under the Company Management Act, 1990 or the Banks and Trust Companies Act, 1990, or if a registered agent dies or fails to renew his licence the Inspector of Company Managers or the Inspector of Banks and Trust Companies, as the case may be, shall, for the purpose of changing the registered agent of the company, communicate with each company for which the person whose licence has been revoked or who has died or has failed to renew his licence is the registered agent and the provisions of subsection (4) have effect mutatis mutandis for the purpose of providing the procedures for changing the registered agent.
- (6) A company that has been struck off the Register under this section remains liable for all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations of the company, and the striking-off does not affect the liability of any of its members, directors, officers or agents.

41. A company that wilfully contravenes sections 38 or 39 is liable to a penalty of $25.00 for each day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.

PART V
DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, AGENTS AND LIQUIDATORS

42. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, the business and affairs of a company incorporated under this Act shall be managed by a board of directors that consists of one or more persons who shall be individuals or companies.

43.(1) The first directors of a company incorporated under this Act shall be elected by the subscribers to the Memorandum; and thereafter, the directors shall be elected by the members for such term as the members may determine and where permitted by the Memorandum or Articles of a company incorporated under this Act, the directors may also elect directors for such term as the directors may determine.

(2) Each director holds office until his successor takes office or until his earlier death, resignation or removal.

(3) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles

(a) a director may be removed from office by a resolution of members or by a resolution of directors; and

(b) a director may resign his office by giving written notice of his resignation to the company and the resignation has effect from the date the notice is received by the company or from such later date as may be specified in the notice.

(4) Subject to any limitations or provision to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a vacancy in the board of directors may be filled by a resolution of members or of a majority of the remaining directors.

43A.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may keep a register to be known as a register of directors containing

(a) the names and addresses of the persons who are directors of the company;

(b) the date on which each person whose name is entered in the register was appointed as a director of the company; and

(c) the date on which each person named as a director ceased to be a director of the company.

(2) The register of directors may be in such form as the directors approve, but if it is in magnetic, electronic or other data storage form, the company must be able to produce legible evidence of its contents.

(3) A copy of the register of directors, commencing from the date of the registration of the company, shall be kept at the registered office of the company referred to in section 38.

(4) The register of directors is prima facie evidence of any matters directed or authorized by this Act to be contained therein.

44. The number of directors shall be fixed by the Articles and, subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, the Articles may be amended to change the number of directors.

45. The directors have all the powers of the company that are not reserved to the members under this Act or in the Memorandum or Articles.

46. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, the directors may, by a resolution of directors, fix the emoluments of directors in respect of services to be rendered in any capacity to the company.

47.(1) The directors may, by a resolution of directors, designate one or more committees, each consisting of one or more directors.

(2) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, each committee has such powers and authority of the directors, including the power and authority to affix the common seal of the company, as are set forth in the resolution of directors establishing the committee, except that no committee has any power or authority with respect to the matters requiring a resolution of directors under sections 43 and 53.

48.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, the directors of a company incorporated under this Act may meet at such times and in such manner and places within or outside the British Virgin Islands as the directors may determine to be necessary or desirable.

(2) A director shall be deemed to be present at a meeting of directors if

- (a) he participates by telephone or other electronic means; and
- (b) all directors participating in the meeting are able to hear each other.

49.(1) Subject to a requirement in the Memorandum or Articles to give longer notice, a director shall be given not less than 3 days notice of meetings of directors.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a meeting of directors held in contravention of that subsection is valid if all of the directors, or such majority thereof as may be specified in the Memorandum or Articles entitled to vote at the meeting, have waived the notice of the meeting; and, for this purpose, the presence of a director at the meeting shall be deemed to constitute waiver on his part.

(3) The inadvertent failure to give notice of a meeting to a director, or the fact that a director has not received the notice, does not invalidate the meeting.

50. The quorum for a meeting of directors is that fixed by the Memorandum or Articles; but, where no quorum is so fixed, a meeting of directors is properly constituted for all purposes if at the commencement of the meeting one half of the total number of directors are present in person or by alternate.

51. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, an action that may be taken by the directors or a committee of directors at a meeting may also be taken by a resolution of directors or a committee of directors consented to in writing or by telex, telegram, cable or other written electronic communication, without the need for any notice.

52.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a director may by a written instrument appoint a written instrument appoint an alternate who need not be a director.

(2) An alternate for a director appointed under subsection (1) is entitled to attend meetings in the absence of the director who appointed him and to vote or consent in the place of the director.

53.(1)The directors may, by a resolution of directors, appoint any person, including a person who is a director, to be an officer or agent of the company.

- (2) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, each officer or agent has such powers and authority of the directors, including the power and authority to affix the common seal of the company, as are set forth in the Articles or in the resolution of directors appointing the officer or agent, except that no officer or agent has any power or authority with respect to the matters requiring a resolution of directors under this Act.
- (3) The resolution of directors appointing any person to be an agent of the company may authorize the agent to appoint one or more substitutes or delegates to exercise some or all of the powers conferred on the agent by the company.

54.(1)Every director, officer, agent and liquidator of a company incorporated under this Act, in performing his functions, shall act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the company and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

- (2) No provision in the Memorandum or Articles of a company incorporated under this Act or in any agreement entered into by the company relieves a director, officer, agent or liquidator of the company from the duty to act in accordance with the Memorandum or Articles or from any personal liability arising from his management of the business and affairs of the company.

55.Every director, officer, agent and liquidator of a company incorporated under this Act, in performing his functions, is entitled to rely upon the share register kept under section 28, the books of accounts and records and the minutes and copies of consents to resolutions kept under section 66 and any report made to the company by any other director, officer, agent or liquidator or by any person selected by the company to make the report.

56.(1)Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, no agreement or transaction between

- (a) a company incorporated under this Act; and
  - (b) one or more of its directors or liquidators, or any person in which any director or liquidator has a financial interest or to whom any director or liquidator is related, including as a director or liquidator of that other person, is void or voidable for this reason only or by reason only that the director or liquidator is present at the meeting of directors or liquidators, or at the meeting of the committee of directors or liquidators, that approves the agreement or transaction or that the vote or consent of the director or liquidator is counted for that purpose.
- (2) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, an agreement or transaction referred to in subsection (1) is valid if
- (a) the material facts of the interest of each director or liquidator in the agreement or transaction and his interest in or relationship to any other party to the agreement or transaction are disclosed in good faith or are known by the other directors or liquidators; and
  - (b) the agreement or transaction is approved or ratified by a resolution of directors or liquidators that has been approved
    - (i) without counting the vote or consent of any interested director or liquidator, or
    - (ii) by the unanimous vote or consent of all disinterested directors or liquidators if the votes or consents of all disinterested directors or liquidators is insufficient to approve a resolution of directors or liquidators.

- (3) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, an agreement or transaction referred to in subsection (1) is valid if
- (a) the material facts of the interest of each director or liquidator in the agreement or transaction and his interest in or relationship to any other party to the agreement or transaction are disclosed in good faith or are known by the members entitled to vote at a meeting of members; and
  - (b) the agreement or transaction is approved or ratified by a resolution of members.
- (3A) subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, an agreement or transaction referred to in subsection (1) is valid unless it is shown that at the time the agreement or transaction was authorized, approved or ratified by resolution of directors or by resolution of members the agreement or transaction was unfairly prejudicial to one or more members of the company or to the creditors of the company except that no person who voted in favour of the resolution authorizing, approving or ratifying the agreement or transaction shall be capable subsequently of impugning or objecting to the agreement or transaction.
- (4) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a director or liquidator who has an interest in any particular business to be considered at a meeting of directors, liquidators or members may be counted for purposes of determining whether the meeting is duly constituted in accordance with section 50 or otherwise.
- 57.(1) Subject to subsection (2) and any limitations in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act may indemnify against all expenses, including legal fees, and against all judgments, fines, and amounts paid in settlement and reasonably incurred in connection with legal, administrative or investigative proceedings any person who
- (a) is or was a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed proceedings, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, an officer or a liquidator of the company; or
  - (b) is or was, at the request of the company, serving as a director, officer or liquidator of, or in any other capacity is or was acting for, another company or a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise.
- (2) Subsection (1) only applies to a person referred to in that subsection if the person acted honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the company and, in the case of criminal proceedings, the person had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.
- (3) The decision of the directors as to whether the person acted honestly and in good faith and with a view to the best interests of the company and as to whether the person had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful is in the absence of fraud, sufficient for the purposes of this section, unless a question of law is involved.
- (4) The termination of any proceedings by any judgment, order, settlement, conviction or the entering of a nolle prosequi does not, by itself, create a presumption that the person did not act honestly and in good faith and with a view to the best interests of the company or that the person had reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.
- (5) If a person referred to in subsection (1) has been successful in defence of any proceedings referred to in subsection (1), the person is entitled to be indemnified against all expenses, including legal fees, and against all judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with the proceedings.
- 58.A company incorporated under this Act may purchase and maintain insurance in relation to any person who is or was a director, an officer or a liquidator of the company, or who at the request of the company is or was serving as a director, an officer or a liquidator of, or in any other capacity is or was acting for, another company or a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against any liability asserted against the person and incurred by the person in that capacity, whether or not the company has or would have had the power to indemnify the person against the liability under subsection (1) of section 57.

PART VI
PROTECTION OF MEMBERS AND CREDITORS

- 59.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, the directors of a company incorporated under this Act may convene meetings of the members of the company at such times and in such manner and places within or outside the British Virgin Islands as the directors consider necessary or desirable.
- (2) Subject to a provision in the Memorandum or Articles for a lesser percentage, upon the written request of members holding more than 50 per cent of the votes of the outstanding voting shares in the company, the directors shall convene a meeting of members.
- (3) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a member shall be deemed to be present at a meeting of members if
- (a) he participates by telephone or other electronic means; and
  - (b) all members participating in the meeting are able to hear each other.
- (4) A member may be represented at a meeting of members by a proxy who may speak and vote on behalf of the member.
- (5) The following apply in respect of joint ownership of shares;
- (a) if 2 or more persons hold shares jointly each of them may be present in person or by proxy at a meeting of members and may speak as a member;
  - (b) if only one of them is present in person or by proxy, he may vote on behalf of all of them; and
  - (c) if 2 or more are present in person or by proxy, they must vote as one.
60. (1) Subject to a requirement in the Memorandum or Articles to give longer notice, the directors shall not give less than 7 days notice of meetings of members to those persons whose names on the date the notice is given appear as members in the share register referred to in section 28 and are entitled to vote at the meeting;
- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), and subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, a meeting of members held in contravention of the requirement to give notice is valid if members holding a 90 per cent majority, or such lesser majority as may be specified in the Memorandum of Articles, of
- (a) the total number of shares entitled to vote on all the matters to be considered at the meeting; or
  - (b) the votes of each class or series of shares where members are entitled to vote thereon as a class or series together with an absolute majority of the remaining votes, have waived notice of the meeting; and, for this purpose, the presence of a member at the meeting shall be deemed to constitute waiver on his part.
- (3) The inadvertent failure of the directors to give notice of a meeting to a member, or the fact that a member has not received the notice, does not invalidate the meeting.

61. The quorum for meeting of members for purposes of a resolution of members is that fixed by the Memorandum or Articles; but, where no quorum is so fixed, a meeting of members is properly constituted for all purposes if at the commencement of the meeting there are present in person or by proxy one-half of the votes of the shares of each class or series of shares entitled to vote as a class or series thereon and the same proportion of the votes of the remaining shares entitled to vote thereon.

62.(1) Except as otherwise provided in the Memorandum or Articles, all shares vote as one class and each whole share has one vote.

(2) The directors of a company incorporated under this Act may fix the date notice is given of a meeting as the record date for determining those shares that are entitled to vote at the meeting.

62A.(1) One or more members of a company incorporated under this Act may by agreement in writing deposit bearer shares with, or transfer registered shares to, any person authorized to act as trustee for the purpose of vesting in such person, who may be designated voting trustee, the right to vote thereon and the following provisions shall apply:

- (a) the period of time for which the trustee may vote shall not exceed 10 years;
- (b) subject to paragraph (a), the agreement may contain any other provisions not inconsistent with the purpose of the agreement;
- (c) a copy of the agreement shall be filed at the registered office of the company and shall be open to the inspection of members of the company
  - (i) in the case of any beneficiary of the trust under the agreement, daily during business hours, and
  - (ii) in the case of members of the company, subject to the provisions of section 67;
- (d) where certificates for registered shares have been issued for shares that are to be transferred to a trustee pursuant to this section, new certificates shall be issued to the voting trustee to represent the shares so transferred and the certificates formerly representing the shares that have been transferred shall be surrendered and cancelled;
- (e) where a certificate is issued to a voting trustee, an endorsement shall be made on the certificate that the shares represented thereby in the case of registered shares and the certificates in case of bearer shares are held by the person named therein pursuant to an agreement;
- (f) there shall be noted in the share register of the company against the record of the shares held by the trustee the fact that such an agreement exists;
- (g) the voting trustee may vote the shares so issued or transferred during the period specified in the agreement;
- (h) shares registered in the name of the voting trustee may be voted either in person or by proxy and, in voting the shares, the voting trustee shall not incur any liability as member or trustee, except in so far as he may be liable for his own conduct or acts;
- (i) where two or more persons are designated as voting trustees and the right and method of voting any shares registered in their names at any meeting of members or on any resolution of members are not fixed by the agreement appointing the trustees, the right to vote shall be determined by a majority of the trustees, or if they are equally divided as to the right and manner of voting the shares in any particular case, the votes of the shares in such case shall be divided equally among the trustees;
- (j) at any time within 2 years prior to the time of expiration of any voting trust agreement as originally fixed or as last extended as provided in this subsection, one or more beneficiaries of the trust under the voting trust agreement may, by written agreement and with the written consent of the voting trustee, extend the duration of the voting trust agreement for an additional period not exceeding 10 years from the expiration date of the trust as originally fixed or as last extended; and

- (k) the voting trustee shall, prior to the time of expiration of a voting trust agreement, as originally fixed or as previously extended, as the case may be, file at the registered office of the company a copy of the extension agreement and of his consent thereto, and thereupon the duration of the voting trust agreement shall be extended for the period fixed in the extension agreement, but no extension agreement shall affect the rights or obligations of persons not parties thereto.
- (2) Two or more members of a company incorporated under this Act may by agreement in writing provide that in exercising any voting rights the shares held by them shall be voted
- (a) as provided by the agreement;
  - (b) as the parties may agree; or
  - (c) as determined in accordance with such procedure as they may agree upon.
- (3) No agreement made pursuant to subsection (2) shall be effective for a period of more than 10 years from the date it is made, but at any time within the 2 years immediately preceding the date of the expiration of the agreement the parties may extend its duration for an additional period, not exceeding 10 years at any one time, as they may desire.
- (4) The validity of any voting trust or other voting agreement is not affected during a period of 10 years from the date when it was created or last extended by reason only of the fact that under its terms, it will or may last beyond a period of 10 years.
- (5) This section shall be deemed not to invalidate any voting or other agreement among members or any irrevocable proxy that is not otherwise illegal.
63. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles, an action that may be taken by members at a meeting of members may also be taken by a resolution of members consented to in writing or by telex, telegram, cable or other written electronic communication, without the need for any notice.
64. (1) Any notice, information or written statement required under this Act to be by a company incorporated under this Act to members must be served
- (a) in the case of members holding registered shares,
    - (i) in the manner prescribed in the Memorandum or Articles, as the case may be, or
    - (ii) in the absence of a provision in the Memorandum or Articles, by personal service or by mail addressed to each member at the address shown in the share register; and
  - (b) in the case of members holding shares issued to bearer, in the absence of a provision in the Memorandum or Articles, or if the notice, information or written statement can no longer be served as specified in the Memorandum and Articles, if the notice, information or written statement is published in a newspaper circulated in the British Virgin Islands and a newspaper in the place where the company has its principal office.
- (2) Subject to a requirement in the Memorandum or Articles to give a specific length of notice, the directors must give sufficient notice of meetings of members to members holding shares issued to bearer to allow a reasonable opportunity for them to take action in order to secure or exercise the right or privilege, other than the right or privilege to vote, that is the subject of the notice.
- (3) For purposes of subsection (2), what amounts to sufficient notice is a matter of fact to be determined after having regard to all the circumstances.
- 65.(1) Any summons, notice, order, document, process, information or written statement to be served on a company incorporated under this Act may be served by leaving it, or by sending it, by registered mail, addressed to the company, at its registered office, or by leaving it with, or by sending it by registered mail to, the registered agent of the company.

- (2) Service of any summons, notice, order, document, process, information or written statement to be served on a company incorporated under this Act may be proved by showing that the summons, notice, order, document, process, information or written statement
    - (a) was mailed in such time as to admit its being delivered in the normal course of delivery, within the period prescribed for service; and
    - (b) was correctly addressed and the postage was prepaid.
- 66.(1) A company incorporated under this Act shall keep such accounts and records as the directors consider necessary or desirable in order to reflect the financial position of the company.
- (2) A company incorporated under this Act shall keep
    - (a) minutes of all meetings of
      - (i) directors,
      - (ii) members,
      - (iii) committees of directors,
      - (iv) committees of officers, and
      - (v) committees of members; and
    - (b) copies of all resolutions consented to by
      - (i) directors,
      - (ii) members,
      - (iii) committees of directors,
      - (iv) committees of officers, and
      - (v) committees of members.
  - (3) The books, records and minutes required by this section shall be kept at the registered office of the company or at such other place as the directors determine.
  - (3A) A company incorporated under this Act shall have a common seal and an imprint thereof shall be kept at the registered office of the Company.
  - (4) A company that wilfully contravenes this section is liable to a penalty of $25.00 for each day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.
- 67.(1) A member of a company incorporated under this Act may, in person or by attorney and in furtherance of a proper purpose, request in writing specifying the purpose to inspect during normal business hours the share register of the company or the books, records, minutes and consents kept by the company and to make copies or extracts therefrom.
- (2) For purposes of subsection (1), a proper purpose is a purpose reasonably related to the member's interest as a member.
  - (3) If a request under subsection (1) is submitted by an attorney for a member, the request must be accompanied by a power of attorney authorizing the attorney to act for the member.
  - (4) If the company, by a resolution of directors, determines that it is not in the best interest of the company or of any other member of the company to comply with a request under subsection (1), the company may refuse the request.

- (5) Upon refusal by the company of a request under subsection (1), the member may before the expiration of a period of 90 days of his receiving notice of the refusal, apply to the court for an order to allow the inspection.
- 68.(1) Contracts may be entered into on behalf of a company incorporated over this Act as follows:
- (a) a contract that, if entered into between individuals, is required by law to be in writing and under seal, may be entered into by or on behalf of the company in writing under the common seal of the company, and may, in the same manner, be varied or discharged;
  - (b) a contract that, if entered into between individuals is required by law to be in writing and signed by the parties, may be entered into by or on behalf of the company in writing and signed by a person acting under the express or implied authority of the company, and may, in the same manner, be varied or discharged; and
  - (c) a contract that, if entered into between individuals, is valid although entered into orally, and not reduced to writing, may be entered into orally by or on behalf of the company by a person acting under the express or implied authority of the company, and may, in the same manner, be varied or discharged.
- (2) A contract entered into in accordance with this section is valid and is binding on the company and its successors and all other parties to the contract.
- (3) Without affecting paragraph (a) of subsection (1), a contract, agreement or other instrument executed by or on behalf of a company by a director or an authorized officer or agent of the company is not invalid by reason only of the fact that the common seal of the company is not affixed to the contract, agreement or instrument.
69. (1) A person who enters into a written contract in the name of or on behalf of a company incorporated under this Act before the company comes into existence, is personally bound by the contract and is entitled to the benefits of the contract, except where
- (a) the contract specifically provides otherwise; or
  - (b) subject to any provisions of the contract to the contrary, the company adopts the contract under subsection (2).
- (2) Within a reasonable time after a company incorporated under this Act comes into existence, the company may, by any action or conduct signifying its intention to be bound thereby, adopt a written contract entered into in its name or on its behalf before it came into existence.
- (3) When a company adopts a contract under subsection (2),
- (a) the company is bound by, and entitled to the benefits of, the contract as if the company had been in existence at the date of the contract and had been a party to it; and
  - (b) subject to any provisions of the contract to the contrary, the person who acted in the name of or on behalf of the company ceases to be bound by or entitled to the benefits of the contract.
- 70.(1) If any contract, agreement, deed or other instrument relating to the payment of a claim or the delivering or transferring of property, whether real or personal, wherever situate, is entered into by a company incorporated under this Act and the contract, agreement, deed or other instrument designates a payee or beneficiary to receive the payment or property
- (a) upon the death of a person making the designation;
  - (b) upon the death of another person; or
  - (c) upon the happening of any other event specified in the contract, agreement, deed or other instrument, then, any such payment, delivery or transfer, the rights of any payee or beneficiary, and the ownership of any property received, are not impaired or defeated by any law or rule of law governing the transfer of property by will, gift or intestacy.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies to a contract, agreement, deed or other instrument referred to in that subsection notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the law of any other jurisdiction, including the law of any jurisdiction where the person making the designation referred to in subsection (1) resides or is domiciled, and notwithstanding that
- (a) the designation is revocable or subject to change; or
  - (b) the claim or property
    - (i) is not yet payable or transferable, as the case may be, at the time the designation is made, or
    - (ii) is subject to withdrawal, collection or assignment by the person making the designation.

70A.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may create a mortgage, charge or other encumbrance over any of its assets situate in any part of the world in accordance with the law of any jurisdiction of the company's choice and the mortgage, charge or other encumbrance shall be binding on the company to the extent, and in accordance with, the requirements, of the chosen law.

- (2) A company incorporated under this Act may maintain at its registered office a register of mortgages, charges and other encumbrances in which there shall be entered particulars regarding each mortgage, charge and other encumbrances as follows:
- (a) the sum secured;
  - (b) the assets secured;
  - (c) the name and address of the mortgagee, chargee or other encumbrancer;
  - (d) the date of creation of the mortgage, charge or other encumbrance; and
  - (e) the date on which the particulars specified in paragraphs (a) to (d) in respect of the mortgage, charge or other encumbrance are entered in the register.
- (3) In the event that an application is made to a court in the British Virgin Islands to enforce any mortgage, charge or other encumbrance created by a company incorporated under this Act and there are assets of the company which are subject to two or more mortgages, charges or other encumbrances, then, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, priorities shall be determined in accordance with the dates of entry in the register of mortgages and charges; and, unregistered mortgages, and other encumbrances created after 1st January, 1991 shall rank after registered mortgages, charges and other encumbrances, but unregistered mortgages, charges and other encumbrances created prior to 1st January 1991 shall have priority over mortgages, charges and other encumbrances registered pursuant to this provision and shall rank in order of their creation.

71. A promissory note of exchange shall be deemed to have been made, accepted or endorsed by a company incorporated under this Act if it is made, accepted or endorsed in the name of the company

- (a) by or on behalf or on account of the company; or
- (b) by a person acting under the express or implied authority of the company; and if so endorsed, the person signing the endorsement is not liable thereon.

72.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may, by an instrument in writing, whether or not under its common seal, authorize a person, either generally or in respect of any specified matters, as its agent to act on behalf of the company and to execute contracts, agreements, deeds and other instruments on behalf of the company.

(2) A contract, agreement, deed or other instrument executed on behalf of the company by an agent appointed under subsection (1), whether or not under his seal, is binding on the company and has the same effect as if it were under the common seal of the company.

73.(1) A document requiring authentication or attestation by a company incorporated under this Act may be signed by a director, a secretary or by an authorized officer or agent of the company, and need not be under its common seal.

(2) If the signature of any director, officer or agent authenticating or attesting any document is verified in writing by the registered agent of a company the company is bound by the document.

74. If at any time there is no member of a company incorporated under this Act, any person doing business in the name of or on behalf of the company is personally liable for the payment of all debts of the company contracted during the time and the person may be sued therefore without joinder in the proceedings of any other person.

PART VII
MERGER, CONSOLIDATION, SALE OF ASSETS, FORCED REDEMPTIONS, ARRANGEMENTS AND DISSENTERS.

75. In this Part,

"consolidated company" means the new company that results from the consolidation of 2 or more constituent companies;

"consolidation" means the uniting of 2 or more constituent companies into a new company;

"constituent company" means an existing company that is participating in a merger or consolidation with one or more other existing companies;

"merger" means the merging of 2 or more constituent companies into one of the constituent companies;

"parent company" means a company that owns at least 90 per cent of the outstanding shares of each class and series of shares in another company;

"subsidiary company" means a company at least 90 per cent of whose outstanding shares of each class and series of shares are owned by another company;

"surviving company" means the constituent company into which one or more other constituent companies are merged.

76.(1) Two or more companies incorporated under this Act may merge or consolidate in accordance with subsections (3) to (5).

(2) One or more companies incorporated under this Act may merge or consolidate with one or more companies incorporated under the Companies Act in accordance with subsections (3) to (5), if the surviving company or the consolidated company will satisfy the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5.

- (3) The directors of each constituent company that proposes to participate in a merger or consolidation must approve a written plan of merger or consolidation containing, as the case requires,
- (a) the name of each constituent company and the name of the surviving company or the consolidated company;
  - (b) in respect to each constituent company,
    - (i) the designation and number of outstanding shares of each class and series of shares, specifying each such class and series entitled to vote on the merger or consolidation, and
    - (ii) a specification of each such class and series, if any, entitled to vote as a class or series;
  - (c) the terms and conditions of the proposed merger or consolidation, including the manner and basis of converting shares in each constituent company into shares, debt obligations or other securities in the surviving company or consolidated company, or money or other property, or a combination thereof;
  - (d) in respect of a merger, a statement of any amendment to the Memorandum or Articles of the surviving company to be brought about by the merger; and
  - (e) in respect of a consolidation, everything required to be included in the Memorandum and Articles for a company incorporated under this Act, except statements as to facts not available at the time the plan of consolidation is approved by the directors.
- (4) Some or all shares of the same class or series of shares in each constituent company may be converted into a particular or mixed kind of property and other shares of the class or series, or all shares of other classes or series of shares, may be converted into other property.
- (5) The following apply in respect of a merger or consolidation under this section:
- (a) the plan of merger or consolidation must be authorized by a resolution of members and the outstanding shares of a class or series of shares are entitled to vote on the merger or consolidation as a class or series if the Memorandum or Articles so provide or if the plan of merger or consolidation contains any provisions that, if contained in a proposed amendment to the Memorandum or Articles, would entitle the class or series to vote on the proposed amendment as a class or series;
  - (b) if a meeting of members is to be held, notice of the meeting, accompanied by a copy of the plan of merger or consolidation, must be given to each member, whether or not entitled to vote on the merger or consolidation;
  - (c) if it is proposed to obtain the written consent of members, a copy of the plan of merger or consolidation must be given to each member, whether or not entitled to consent to the plan of merger or consolidation;
  - (d) after approval of the plan of merger or consolidation by the directors and members of each constituent company, articles of merger or consolidation must be executed by each company and must contain
    - (i) the plan of merger or consolidation and, in the case of a consolidation, any statement required to be included in the Memorandum and Articles for a company incorporated under this Act;
    - (ii) the date on which the Memorandum and Articles of each constituent company were registered by the Registrar;
    - (iii) the manner in which the merger or consolidation was authorized with respect to each constituent company;
  - (e) the articles of merger or consolidation must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register them in the Register; and

- (f) upon the registration of the articles of merger or consolidation, the Registrar shall issue a certificate under his hand and seal certifying that the articles of merger or consolidation have been registered.
- (6) A certificate of merger or consolidation issued by the Registrar is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of the merger or consolidation.
- 77.(1) A parent company incorporated under this Act may merge with one or more subsidiary companies incorporated under this Act or under the Companies Act, without the authorization of the members of any company, in accordance with subsections (2) to (6), if the surviving company is a company incorporated under this Act and will satisfy the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5.
- (2) The directors of the parent company must approve a written plan of merger containing
- (a) the name of each constituent company and the name of the surviving company;
  - (b) in respect to each constituent company,
    - (i) the designation and number of outstanding shares of each class and series of shares, and
    - (ii) the number of shares of each class and series of shares in each subsidiary company owned by the parent company; and
  - (c) the terms and conditions of the proposed merger, including the manner and basis of converting shares in each company to be merged into shares, debt obligations or other securities in the surviving company, or money or other property, or a combination thereof.
- (3) Some or all shares of the same class or series of shares in each company to be merged may be converted into property of a particular or mixed kind and other shares of the class or series, or all shares of other classes or series of shares, may be converted into other property; but, if the parent company is not the surviving company, shares of each class and series of shares in the parent company may only be converted into similar shares of the surviving company.
- (4) A copy of the plan of merger or an outline thereof must be given to every member of each subsidiary company to be merged unless the giving of that copy or outline has been waived by that member.
- (5) Articles of merger must be executed by the parent company and must contain
- (a) the plan of merger;
  - (b) the date on which the Memorandum and Articles of each constituent company were registered by the Registrar; and
  - (c) if the parent company does not own all shares in each subsidiary company to be merged, the date on which a copy of the plan of merger or an outline thereof was made available to the members of each subsidiary company.
- (6) The articles of merger must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register them in the Register.
- (7) Upon the registration of the articles of merger, the Registrar shall issue a certificate under his hand and seal certifying that the articles of merger have been registered.
- (8) A certificate of merger issued by the Registrar is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of the merger.

78.(1) A merger or consolidation is effective on the date the articles of merger or consolidation are registered by the Registrar or on such date subsequent thereto, not exceeding 30 days, as is stated in the articles of merger or consolidation.

- (2) As soon as a merger or consolidation becomes effective
- (a) the surviving company or the consolidated company in so far as is consistent with its Memorandum and Articles, as amended or established by the articles of merger or consolidation, has all rights, privileges, immunities, powers, objects and purposes of each of the constituent companies;
  - (b) in the case of a merger, the Memorandum and Articles of the surviving company are automatically amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its Memorandum and Articles are contained in the articles of merger;
  - (c) in the case of a consolidation, the statements contained in the articles of consolidation that are required or authorized to be contained in the Memorandum and Articles of a company incorporated under this Act, are the Memorandum and Articles of the consolidated company;
  - (d) property of every description, including choses in action and the business of each of the constituent companies, immediately vests in the surviving company or the consolidated company; and
  - (e) the surviving company or the consolidated company is liable for all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations of each of the constituent companies.
- (3) Where a merger or consolidation occurs
- (a) no conviction, judgment, ruling, order, claim, debt, liability or obligation due or to become due, and no cause existing, against a constituent company or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, is released or impaired by the merger or consolidation; and
  - (b) no proceedings, whether civil or criminal, pending at the time of a merger or consolidation by or against a constituent company, or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, are abated or discontinued by the merger or consolidation, but
    - (i) the proceedings may be enforced, prosecuted, settled or compromised by or against the surviving company or the consolidated company or against the member, director, officer or agent thereof, as the case may be, or
    - (ii) the surviving company or the consolidated company may be substituted in the proceedings for a constituent company.
- (4) The Registrar shall strike off the Register
- (a) a constituent company that is not the surviving company in a merger; or
  - (b) a constituent company that participates in a consolidation.

79.(1) One or more companies incorporated under this Act may merge or consolidate with one or more companies incorporated under the laws of jurisdictions outside the British Virgin Islands in accordance with subsections (2) to (4), including where one of the constituent companies is a parent company and the other constituent companies are subsidiary companies, if the merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the jurisdictions in which the companies incorporated outside the British Virgin Islands are incorporated.

- (2) The following apply in respect of a merger or consolidation under this section:
- (a) a company incorporated under this Act shall comply with the provisions of this Act with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of companies incorporated under this Act and a company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands shall comply with the laws of that jurisdiction; and

- (b) if the surviving company or the consolidated company is to be incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands, it must submit to the Registrar
- (i) an agreement that a service of process may be effected on it in the British Virgin Islands in respect of proceedings for the enforcement of any claim, debt, liability or obligation of a constituent company incorporated under this Act or in respect of proceedings for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting member of a constituent company incorporated under this Act against the surviving company or the consolidated company;
  - (ii) an irrevocable appointment of the Registrar as its agent to accept service of process in proceedings referred to in subparagraph (i);
  - (iii) an agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting members of a constituent company incorporated under this Act the amount, if any, to which they are entitled under this Act with respect to the rights of dissenting members; and
  - (iv) a certificate of merger or consolidation issued by the appropriate authority of the foreign jurisdiction where it is incorporated; or, if no certificate of merger is issued by the appropriate authority of the foreign jurisdiction, then, such evidence of the merger or consolidation as the Registrar considers acceptable.
- (3) The effect under this section of a merger or consolidation is the same as in the case of a merger or consolidation under Section 76 if the surviving company or the consolidated company is incorporated under this Act, but if the surviving company or the consolidated company is incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands, the effect of the merger or consolidation is the same as in the case of a merger or consolidation under section 76 except in so far as the laws of the other jurisdiction otherwise provide.
- (4) If the surviving company or the consolidated company is incorporated under this Act, the merger or consolidation is effective on the date the articles of merger or consolidation are registered by the Registrar or on such date subsequent thereto, not exceeding 30 days, as is stated in the articles of merger or consolidation; but if the surviving company or the consolidated company is incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands, the merger or consolidation is effective as provided by the laws of that other jurisdiction.

80. Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, any sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition other than a mortgage, charge or other encumbrance or the enforcement thereof of more than 50 per cent of the assets of a company incorporated under this Act, other than a transfer pursuant to the power described in subsection (2) of section 9, if not made in the usual or regular course of the business carried on by the company, shall be made as follows:

- (a) the proposed sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition must be approved by the directors;
- (b) upon approval of the proposed sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition, the directors must submit the proposal to the members for it to be authorized by a resolution of members;
- (c) if a meeting of members is to be held, notice of the meeting, accompanied by an outline of the proposal, must be given to each member, whether or not he is entitled to vote on the sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition; and
- (d) if it is proposed to obtain the written consent of members, an outline of the proposal must be given to each member, whether or not he is entitled to consent to the sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition.

- 81.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in the Memorandum or Articles,
- (a) members holding 90 per cent of the votes of the outstanding shares entitled to vote; and
  - (b) members holding 90 per cent of the votes of the outstanding shares of each class and series of shares entitled to vote as a class or series, on a merger or consolidation under section

76, may give a written instruction to a company incorporated under this Act directing the company to redeem the shares held by the remaining members.

- (2) Upon receipt of the written instruction referred to in subsection (1), the company shall redeem the shares specified in the written instruction irrespective of whether or not the shares are by their terms redeemable.
- (3) The company must give written notice to each member whose shares are to be redeemed stating the redemption price and the manner in which the redemption is to be effected.

82.(1) In this section, "arrangement" means

- (a) an amendment to the Memorandum or Articles;
  - (b) a reorganization or reconstruction of a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (c) a merger or consolidation of one or more companies incorporated under this Act with one or more other companies, if the surviving company or the consolidated company is a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (d) a separation of two or more businesses carried on by a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (e) any sale, transfer, exchange or other disposition of any part of the property, assets or business of a company incorporated under this Act to any person in exchange for shares, debt obligations or other securities of that other person, or money or other property, or a combination thereof;
  - (f) any sale, transfer, exchange or other disposition of shares, debt obligations or other securities in a company incorporated under this Act held by the holders thereof for shares, debt obligations or other securities in the company or money or other property, or a combination thereof;
  - (g) a winding-up and dissolution of a company incorporated under this Act; and
  - (h) any combination of any of the things specified in paragraphs (a) to (g).
- (2) If the directors of a company incorporated under this Act determine that it is in the best interests of the company or the creditors or members thereof, the directors of the company may, by a resolution of directors, approve a plan of arrangement that contains the details of the proposed arrangement, even though the proposed arrangement may be authorized or permitted by any other provision of this Act or otherwise permitted.
  - (3) Upon approval of the plan of arrangement by the directors, the company must make application to the court for approval of the proposed arrangement.
  - (4) The court may, upon an application made to it under subsection (3), make an interim or final order that is not subject to an appeal unless a question of law is involved and in which case notice of appeal must be given within the period of 20 days immediately following the date of the order, and in making the order the court may
    - (a) determine what notice, if any, of the proposed arrangement is to be given to any person;
    - (b) determine whether approval of the proposed arrangement by any person should be obtained and the manner of obtaining the approval;
    - (c) determine whether any holder of shares, debt obligations or other securities in the company may dissent from the proposed arrangement and receive payment of the fair value of his shares, debt obligations or other securities under section 83;
    - (d) conduct a hearing and permit any interested person to appear; and
    - (e) approve or reject the plan of arrangement as proposed or with such amendments as it may direct.

- (5) Where the court makes an order approving a plan of arrangement, the directors of the company, if they are still desirous of executing the plan, shall confirm the plan of arrangement as approved by the court whether or not the court has directed any amendments to be made thereto.
- (6) The directors of the company, upon confirming the plan of arrangement, shall
- (a) give notice to the persons to whom the order of the court requires notice to be given; and
  - (b) submit the plan of arrangement to those persons for such approval, if any, as the order of the court requires.
- (7) After the plan of arrangement has been approved by those persons by whom the order of the court may require approval, articles of arrangement must be executed by the company and must contain
- (a) the plan of arrangement;
  - (b) the order of the court approving the plan of arrangement; and
  - (c) the manner in which the plan of arrangement was approved, if approval was required by the order of the court.
- (8) The articles of arrangement must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register them in the Register.
- (9) Upon the registration of the articles of arrangement, the Registrar shall issue a certificate under his hand and seal certifying that the articles of arrangement have been registered.
- (10) A certificate of arrangement issued by the Registrar is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of the arrangement.
- (11) An arrangement is effective on the date the articles of arrangement are registered by the Registrar or on such date subsequent thereto, not exceeding 30 days, as is stated in the articles of arrangement.
- 83.(1) A member of a company incorporated under this Act is entitled to payment of the fair value of his shares upon dissenting from
- (a) a merger, if the company is a constituent company, unless the company is the surviving company and the member continues to hold the same or similar shares;
  - (b) a consolidation, if the company is a constituent company;
  - (c) any sale, transfer, lease, exchange or other disposition of more than 50 per cent of the assets or business of the company, if not made in the usual or regular course of the business carried on by the company, but not including
    - (i) a disposition pursuant to an order of the court having jurisdiction in the matter;
    - (ii) a disposition for money on terms requiring all or substantially all net proceeds to be distributed to the members in accordance with their respective interests within one year after the date of disposition; or
    - (iii) a transfer pursuant to the power described in subsection (2) of section 9;
  - (d) a redemption of his shares by the company pursuant to section 81; and
  - (e) an arrangement, if permitted by the court.
- (2) A member who desires to exercise his entitlement under subsection (1) must give to the company, before the meeting of members at which the action is submitted to a vote, or at the meeting but before the vote, written objection to the action; but an objection is not required from a member to whom the company did not give notice of the meeting in accordance with this Act or where the proposed action is authorized by written consent of members without a meeting.

- (3) An objection under subsection (2) must include a statement that the member proposes to demand payment for his shares if the action is taken.
- (4) Within 20 days immediately following the date on which the vote of members authorizing the action is taken, or the date on which written consent of members without a meeting is obtained, the company must give written notice of the authorization or consent to each member who gave written objection or from whom written objection was not required, except those members who voted for, or consented to in writing, the proposed action.
- (5) A member to whom the company was required to give notice who elects to dissent must, within 20 days immediately following the date on which the notice referred to in subsection (4) is given, give to the company a written notice of his decision to elect to dissent, stating
  - (a) his name and address;
  - (b) the number and classes or series of shares in respect of which he dissents; and
  - (c) a demand for payment of the fair value of his shares; and a member who elects to dissent from a merger under section 77 must give to the company a written notice of his decision to elect to dissent within 20 days immediately following the date on which the copy of the plan of merger or an outline thereof is given to him in accordance with section 77.
- (6) A member who dissents must do so in respect of all shares that he holds in the company.
- (7) Upon the giving of a notice of election to dissent, the member to whom the notice relates ceases to have any of the rights of a member except the right to be paid the fair value of his shares.
- (8) Within 7 days immediately following the date of the expiration of the period within which members may give their notices of election to dissent, or within 7 days immediately following the date on which the proposed action is put into effect, whichever is later, the company or, in the case of a merger or consolidation, the surviving company or the consolidated company, must make a written offer to each dissenting member to purchase his shares at a specified price that the company determines to be their fair value; and if, within 30 days immediately following the date on which the offer is made, the company making the offer and the dissenting member agree upon the price to be paid for his shares, the company shall pay to the member the amount in money upon the surrender of the certificates representing his shares.
- (9) If the company and a dissenting member fail, within the period of 30 days referred to in subsection (8), to agree on the price to be paid for the shares owned by the member, within 20 days immediately following the date on which the period of 30 days expires, the following shall apply:
  - (a) the company and the dissenting member shall each designate an appraiser;
  - (b) the 2 designated appraisers together shall designate a third appraiser;
  - (c) the 3 appraisers shall fix the fair value of the shares owned by the dissenting member as of the close of business on the day prior to the date on which the vote of members authorizing the action was taken or the date on which written consent of members without a meeting was obtained, excluding any appreciation or depreciation directly or indirectly induced by the action or its proposal, and that value is binding on the company and the dissenting member for all purposes; and
  - (d) the company shall pay to the member the amount in money upon the surrender by him of the certificates representing his shares.
- (10) Shares acquired by the company pursuant to subsection (8) or (9) shall be cancelled but if the shares are shares of a surviving company, they shall be available for reissue.

- (11) The enforcement by a member of his entitlement under this section excludes the enforcement by the member of a right to which he might otherwise be entitled by virtue of his holding shares, except that this section does not exclude the right of the member to institute proceedings to obtain relief on the ground that the action is illegal.
- (12) Only subsections (1) and (8) to (11) shall apply in the case of a redemption of shares by a company pursuant to the provisions of section 81 and in such case the written offer to be made to the dissenting member pursuant to subsection (8) shall be made within 7 days immediately following the direction given to a company pursuant to section 81 to redeem its shares.

PART VIII CONTINUATION

84.(1) A company incorporated under the Companies Act or incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands may, if it will satisfy the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5, continue as a company incorporated under this Act as follows:

- (a) articles of continuation, written in the English language or if written in a language other than the English language, accompanied by a certified translation into the English language, must be approved
    - (i) by a majority of the directors or the other persons who are charged with exercising the powers of the company, or
    - (ii) in such other manner as may be established by the company for exercising the powers of the company;
  - (b) the articles of continuation must contain
    - (i) the name of the company and the name under which it is being continued,
    - (ii) the jurisdiction under which it is incorporated,
    - (iii) the date on which it was incorporated,
    - (iv) the information required to be included in a Memorandum under subsection (1) of section 12, and
    - (v) the amendments to its Memorandum and Articles, or their equivalent, that are to be effective upon the registration of the articles of continuation;
  - (c) the articles of continuation, accompanied by a copy of the Memorandum and Articles of the company, or their equivalent, written in the English language or if written in a language other than the English language, accompanied by a certified translation into the English language, and, in the case of a foreign company, evidence satisfactory to the Registrar that the company is in good standing, must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register them in the Register; and
  - (d) upon the registration of the articles of continuation, the Registrar shall issue a certificate of continuation under his hand and seal certifying that the company is incorporated under this Act.
- (2) A company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands is entitled to continue as a company incorporated under this Act notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the laws of the jurisdiction under which it is incorporated.
- (3) Notwithstanding any provisions of the Companies Act, a company incorporated under that Act may, by resolution of the directors, continue the incorporation of the company under this Act.
- (4) Where a company incorporated under the Companies Act has continued its incorporation under this Act, the Registrar shall strike the name of the company off the Register maintained under that Act and publish notice of the striking-off in the Gazette.

85.(1) A company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands that is permitted under section 84 to continue as a company incorporated under this Act, may, after complying with paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) of section 84, submit to the Registrar the following documents:

- (a) articles of continuation, accompanied by a copy of its Memorandum and Articles, or their equivalent, written in the English language, or if written in a language other than the English language accompanied by a certified translation into the English language; and
  - (b) a written authorization designating one or more persons who may give notice to the Registrar, by telex, telegram, cable or by registered mail, that the articles of continuation should become effective.
- (2) The Registrar shall not, prior to the receipt of the notice referred to in subsection (1), permit any person to inspect the documents referred to in subsection (1) and shall not divulge any information in respect thereof.
- (3) Upon receipt of the notice referred to in subsection (1), the Registrar shall
- (a) register the documents referred to in subsection (1) in the Register; and
  - (b) issue a certificate of continuation under his hand and seal certifying that the company is incorporated under this Act.
- (4) For purposes of subsection (3), the Registrar may rely on a notice referred to in subsection (1) sent, or purported to be sent, by a person named in the written authorization.
- (5) Prior to the registration of the documents referred to in subsection (1), a company may rescind the written authorization referred to in subsection (1) by delivering to the Registrar a written notice of rescission.
- (6) If the Registrar does not receive a notice referred to in subsection (1) from a person named in the written authorization within one year immediately following the date on which the documents referred to in subsection (1) were submitted to the Registrar, the articles of continuation are rescinded.
- (7) A company entitled to submit to the Registrar the documents referred to in subsection (1) may authorize the Registrar to accept as resubmitted the documents referred to in that subsection, before or after the documents previously submitted referred to in subsection (1) have been rescinded.

86. A Certificate of continuation issued by the Registrar under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 84 or under subsection (3) of section 85 is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of continuation.

87.(1) From the time of the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of continuation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 84 or under subsection (3) of section 85

- (a) the company to which the certificate relates
  - (i) continues to be a body corporate, incorporated under this Act, under the name designated in the Articles of continuation,
  - (ii) is capable of exercising all powers of a company incorporated under this Act, and
  - (iii) is no longer to be treated as a company incorporated under the Companies Act or a company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands;
- (b) the Memorandum and Articles of the company, or their equivalent, as amended by the articles of continuation, are the Memorandum and Articles of the company;

- (c) property of every description, including choses in action and the business of the company, continue to be vested in the company; and
  - (d) the company continues to be liable for all of its claims, debts, liabilities and obligations.
- (2) Where a company is continued under this Act
- (a) no conviction, judgment, ruling, order, claim, debt, liability or obligation due or to become due, and no cause existing, against the company or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, is released or impaired by its continuation as a company under this Act; and
  - (b) no proceedings, whether civil or criminal, pending at the time of the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of continuation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 84 or under subsection (3) of section 85 by or against the company, or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, are abated or discontinued by its continuation as a company under this Act, but the proceedings may be enforced, prosecuted, settled or compromised by or against the company or against the member, director, officer or agent thereof, as the case may be.
- (3) All shares in the company that were outstanding prior to the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of continuation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 84 or under subsection (3) of section 85 in respect to the company shall be deemed to have been issued in conformity with this Act, but a share that at the time of the issue of the certificate of continuation was not fully paid shall be paid up no later than one year immediately following the date of the issue of the certificate of continuation and until the share is paid up, the member holding the share remains liable for the amount unpaid on the share.
- (4) If at the time of the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of continuation under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 84 or under subsection (3) of section 85 in respect to the company any provisions of the Memorandum and Articles of the company do not in any respect accord with this Act
- (a) the provisions of the Memorandum and Articles continue to govern the company until the provisions are amended to accord with this Act or for a period of 2 years immediately following the date of the issue of the certificate of continuation, whichever is the sooner;
  - (b) any provisions of the Memorandum and Articles of the company that are in any respect in conflict with this Act cease to govern the company when the provisions are amended to accord with this Act or after the expiration of a period of 2 years after the date of the issue of the certificate of continuation, whichever is the sooner; and
  - (c) the company shall make such amendments to its Memorandum and Articles as may be necessary to accord with this Act within a period that is not later than 2 years immediately following the date of the issue of the certificate of continuation.
- 88.(1) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act and for which the Registrar would issue a certificate of good standing pursuant to subsection (1) of section 114, may, by a resolution of directors or by a resolution of members, continue as a company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands in the manner provided under those laws.
- (2) A company incorporated under this Act that continues as a company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands does not cease to be a company incorporated under this Act unless the laws of the jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands permit the continuation and the company has complied with those laws.

- (2A) The registered agent of a company incorporated under this Act that continues as a company incorporated under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands may within 30 days of the continuation of the company under the laws of the foreign jurisdiction submit to the Registrar an affidavit to the effect that the company has continued its incorporation under the laws of the named foreign jurisdiction and the Registrar shall retain and register the affidavit.
- (2B) Upon registration of the affidavit referred to in subsection (2A) the Registrar shall
- (a) strike the name of the company off the Register;
  - (b) issue a certificate of discontinuance; and
  - (c) publish the striking off in the Gazette.
- (3) Where a company incorporated under this Act is continued under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands
- (a) the company continues to be liable for all of its claims, debts, liabilities and obligations that existed prior to its continuation as a company under the laws of the jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands;
  - (b) no conviction, judgment, ruling, order, claim, debt, liability or obligation due or to become due, and no cause existing, against the company or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, is released or impaired by its continuation as a company under the laws of the jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands;
  - (c) no proceedings, whether civil or criminal, pending by or against the company, or against any member, director, officer or agent thereof, are abated or discontinued by its continuation as a company under the laws of the jurisdiction outside the British Virgin Islands, but the proceedings may be enforced, prosecuted, settled or compromised by or against the company or against the member, director, officer or agent thereof, as the case may be; and
  - (d) service of process may continue to be effected on the registered agent of the company in the British Virgin Islands in respect of any claim, debt, liability or obligation of the company during its existence as a company incorporated under this Act.

PART IX WINDING-UP, DISSOLUTION AND STRIKING-OFF

89. A company incorporated under this Act shall commence to wind up and dissolve by a resolution of directors upon expiration of such time as may be prescribed by its Memorandum or Articles for its existence or upon the happening of an event which has been specified in the Memorandum or Articles as an event that shall terminate the existence of the company.

90.(1) A company incorporated under this Act that has never issued shares may voluntarily commence to wind up and dissolve by a resolution of directors.

(2) Subject to any limitations or provisions to the contrary in its Memorandum or Articles, a company incorporated under this Act that has previously issued shares may voluntarily commence to wind up and dissolve by a resolution of members or by a resolution of directors.

91. Upon the commencement of a winding-up and dissolution required under section 89 or permitted under section 90, the directors may only

- (a) authorize a liquidator, by a resolution of directors, to carry on the business of the company if the liquidator determines that to do so would be necessary or in the best interests of the creditors or members of the company; and

- (b) determine to rescind the articles of dissolution as permitted under paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 95.

92.(1) A liquidator shall, upon his appointment in accordance with this Part, and upon the commencement of a winding-up and dissolution, proceed

- (a) to identify all assets of the company;
- (b) to identify all creditors of and claimants against the company;
- (c) to pay or provide for the payment of, or to discharge, all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations of the company;
- (d) to distribute any surplus assets of the company to the members in accordance with the Memorandum and Articles;
- (e) to prepare or cause to be prepared a statement of account in respect of the actions and transactions of the liquidator; and
- (f) to send a copy of the statement of account to all members if so required by the plan of dissolution required by section 94.

- (2) A transfer, including a prior transfer, described in subsection (2) of section 9 of all or substantially all of the assets of a company incorporated under this Act for the benefit of the creditors and members of the company, is sufficient to satisfy the requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) of subsection (1).

93. In order to perform the duties imposed on him under section 92, a liquidator has all powers of the company that are not reserved to the members under this Act or in the Memorandum or Articles, including, but not limited to, the power

- (a) to take custody of the assets of the company and, in connection therewith, to register any property of the company in the name of the liquidator or that of his nominee;
- (b) to sell any assets of the company at public auction or by private sale without any notice;
- (c) to collect the debts and assets due or belonging to the company;
- (d) to borrow money from any person for any purpose that will facilitate the winding-up and dissolution of the company and to pledge or mortgage any property of the company as security for any such borrowing;
- (e) to negotiate, compromise and settle any claim, debt, liability or obligation of the company;
- (f) to prosecute and defend, in the name of the company or in the name of the liquidator or otherwise, any action or other legal proceedings;
- (g) to retain solicitors, accountants and other advisers and appoint agents;
- (h) to carry on the business of the company, if the liquidator has received authorization to do so in the plan of liquidation or by a resolution of directors permitted under section 91, as the liquidator may determine to be necessary or to be in the best interests of the creditors or members of the company;
- (i) to execute any contract, agreement or other instrument in the name of the company or in the name of the liquidator; and
- (j) to make any distribution in money or in other property or partly in each, and if in other property, to allot the property, or an undivided interest therein, in equal or unequal proportions.

- (2) Notwithstanding paragraph (h) of subsection (1), a liquidator shall not, without the permission of the court, carry on for a period in excess of 2 years the business of a company that is being wound up and dissolved under this Act.

94.(1) The directors of a company required under section 89 or proposing under section 90 to wind up and dissolve the company must approve a plan of dissolution containing

- (a) a statement of the reason for the winding-up and dissolving;

- (b) a statement that the company is, and will continue to be, able to discharge or pay or provide for the payment of all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations in full;
  - (c) a statement that the winding-up will commence on the date when articles of dissolution are submitted to the Registrar or on such date subsequent thereto, not exceeding 30 days, as is stated in the articles of dissolution;
  - (d) a statement of the estimated time required to wind up and dissolve the company;
  - (e) a statement as to whether the liquidator is authorized to carry on the business of the company if the liquidator determines that to do so would be necessary or in the best interests of the creditors or members of the company;
  - (f) a statement of the name and address of each person to be appointed a liquidator and the remuneration proposed to be paid to each liquidator; and
  - (g) a statement as to whether the liquidator is required to send to all members a statement of account prepared or caused to be prepared by the liquidator in respect of his actions or transactions.
- (2) If a winding-up and dissolution is being effected in a case where subsection (2) of section 90 is applicable,
- (a) the plan of dissolution must be authorized by a resolution of members, and the holders of the outstanding shares of a class or series of shares are entitled to vote on the plan of dissolution as a class or series only if the Memorandum or Articles so provide;
  - (b) if a meeting of members is to be held, notice of the meeting, accompanied by a copy of the plan of dissolution, must be given to each member, whether or not entitled to vote on the plan of dissolution; and
  - (c) if it is proposed to obtain the written consent of members, a copy of the plan of dissolution must be given to each member, whether or not entitled to consent to the plan of dissolution.
- (3) After approval of the plan of dissolution by the directors, and if required, by the members in accordance with subsection (2), articles of dissolution must be executed by the company and must contain
- (a) the plan of dissolution; and
  - (b) the manner in which the plan of dissolution was authorized.
- (4) Articles of dissolution must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register them in the Register and within 30 days immediately following the date on which the articles of dissolution are submitted to the Registrar, the company must cause to be published, in the Gazette, in a publication of general circulation in the British Virgin Islands and in a publication of general circulation in the country or place where the company has its principal office, a notice stating
- (a) that the company is in dissolution;
  - (b) the date of commencement of the dissolution; and
  - (c) the names and addresses of the liquidators.
- (5) A winding-up and dissolution commences on the date the articles of dissolution are registered by the Registrar or on such date subsequent thereto, not exceeding 30 days, as is stated in the articles of dissolution.
- (6) A liquidator shall, upon completion of a winding-up and dissolution, submit to the Registrar a statement that the winding-up and dissolution has been completed and upon receiving the notice, the Registrar shall
- (a) strike the company off the Register; and

- (b) issue a certificate of dissolution under his hand and seal certifying that the company has been dissolved.
- (7) Where the Registrar issues a certificate of dissolution under his hand and seal certifying that the company has been dissolved
- (a) the certificate is prima facie evidence of compliance with all requirements of this Act in respect of dissolution; and
  - (b) the dissolution of the company is effective from the date of the issue of the certificate.
- (8) Immediately following the issue by the Registrar of a certificate of dissolution under subsection (6), the liquidator shall cause to be published in the Gazette, a notice that the company has been dissolved and has been struck off the Register.
- (9) A company that wilfully contravenes subsection (4) is liable to a penalty of $50.00 for every day or part thereof during which the contravention continues, and a director or liquidator who knowingly permits the contravention is liable to a like penalty.
- 95.(1) In the case of a winding-up and dissolution permitted under section 90, a company may, prior to submitting to the Registrar a notice specified in subsection (4) of section 94, rescind the articles of dissolution by
- (a) a resolution of directors in the case of a winding-up and dissolution under subsection (1) of section 90; or
  - (b) a resolution of members in the case of a winding-up and dissolution under subsection (2) of section 90.
- (2) A copy of a resolution referred to in subsection (1) must be submitted to the Registrar who must retain and register it in the Register.
- (3) Within 30 days immediately following the date on which the resolution referred to in subsection (1) has been submitted to the Registrar, the company must cause a notice stating that the company has rescinded its intention to wind up and dissolve to be published in the Gazette, in a publication of general circulation in the British Virgin Islands and in a publication of general circulation in the country or place where the company has its principal office.
- 96.(1) Where
- (a) the directors or, as the case may be, the members of a company that is required under section 89 or permitted under section 90 to wind up and dissolve, at the time of the passing of the resolution to wind up and dissolve the company, have reason to believe that the company will not be able to pay or provide for the payment of or discharge all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations of the company in full; or
  - (b) the liquidator after his appointment has reason so to believe, then, the directors, the members or the liquidator, as the case may be, shall immediately give notice of the fact to the Registrar.
- (2) Where a notice has been given to the Registrar under subsection (1), all winding-up and dissolution proceedings after the notice has been given shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act relating to winding up and dissolution and those provisions shall apply mutatis mutandis to the winding-up and dissolution of the company.
- 97.(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Act relating to winding-up and dissolution, a company incorporated under this Act may be wound up by the court under any of the circumstances, in so far as they are applicable to a company incorporated under this Act, in which a company incorporated under the Companies Act may be wound up by the court and, in that case, the provisions of the Companies Act relating to winding-up and dissolution apply mutatis mutandis to the winding-up and dissolution of the company.

- (2) Any person who, pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1), files, or causes to be filed, a petition for the winding up of a company incorporated under this Act, shall forthwith serve on the Registrar a notice that the petition has been filed, and the Registrar must retain and register the notice.
98. (1) The provisions of the Companies Act regarding receivers and managers govern mutatis mutandis the appointment, duties and powers and liabilities of receivers and managers of the assets of any company incorporated under this Act.
- (2) This section comes into operation on such date as the Governor may appoint by proclamation published in the Gazette.
- 99.(1) Notwithstanding section 6, where the Registrar has reasonable cause to believe that a company incorporated under this Act no longer satisfies the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5, the Registrar must serve on the company a notice that the name of the company may be struck off the Register if the company no longer satisfies those requirements.
- (2) If the Registrar does not receive a reply within 30 days immediately following the date of the service of the notice referred to in subsection (1), he must serve on the company another notice that the name of the company may be struck off the Register if a reply to the notice is not received within 30 days immediately following the date thereof and that a notice of the contemplated striking-off will be published in the Gazette.
- (3) If the Registrar
- (a) receives from the company a notice stating that the company no longer satisfies the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5, in reply to a notice served on the company under subsection (1) or (2); or
  - (b) does not receive a reply to a notice served on the company under subsection (2) as required by that subsection, he must publish a notice in the Gazette that the name of the company will be struck off the Register unless the company or another person satisfies the Registrar that the name of the company should not be struck off.
- (4) At the expiration of a period of 90 days immediately following the date of the publication of the notice under subsection (3), the Registrar shall strike the name of the company off the Register, unless the company or any other person satisfies the Registrar that the name of the company should not be struck-off, and the Registrar must publish notice of the striking-off in the Gazette.
- (5) If a company fails to pay the increased licence fee due under subsection (3) of section 105 on or before the expiration period of a period of 2 months from the time specified in subsection (1) or (2), as the case may be, of section 105, the Registrar shall within 2 months from the expiration of the said period of 2 months send to the registered agent of the company a written notice that the name of the company will be struck off the Register if the licence fee specified in subsection (4) of section 105 is not paid on or before the next licence fee final payment date.
- (6) If a company fails to pay the increased fee stated in the notice referred to in subsection (5) at or before the next licence fee final payment date, the Registrar shall strike the name of the company off the Register on the date immediately following the next licence fee final payment date.

- (7) Within one month following each licence fee final payment date, the Registrar shall send to the registered agent of each company the name of which has been struck off the Register notice of striking off.
- (8) Within two months following each licence fee final payment date the Registrar shall publish in the Gazette the names of all companies struck off the Register on the date immediately following the licence fee final payment date.
- (9) A company the name of which has been struck off the Register under this section remains liable for all claims, debts, liabilities and obligations of the company, and the striking-off does not affect the liability of any of its members, directors, officers or agents.
- (10) The striking off of a company shall not be affected by any failure on the part of the Registrar to serve a notice on the registered agent or to publish a notice in the Gazette.
- (11) Subsections (5) to (8) do not apply to a company in the process of being wound up and dissolved.

100.(1) If the name of a company has been struck off the Register under subsection name of the company, or a creditor, member or liquidator thereof, may apply to the court to have the name of the company restored to the Register.

- (2) If upon an application under subsection (1) the court is satisfied that
  - (a) at the time the name of the company was struck off the Register, the company did satisfy the requirements prescribed for an International Business Company under section 5, and
  - (b) it would be fair and reasonable for the name of the company to be restored to the Register, the court may order the name of the company to be restored to the Register upon payment to the Registrar of all fees due under Section 104 and all licence fees due under section 105 without any increase for late payment, and upon restoration of the name of the company to the Register, the name of the company is deemed never to have been struck off the Register.
- (3) If the name of a company has been struck off the Register under subsection (6) of section 99, the company, or a creditor, member or liquidator thereof, may, within 10 years immediately following the date of the striking off, apply to the Registrar to have the name of the company restored to the Register, and upon payment of
  - (a) all fees due under section 104;
  - (b) the increased licence fee due under subsection (3) of section 105; and
  - (c) the increased licence fee due under subsection (3) of section 105 for each year during which the name of the company remains struck off the Register, the Registrar shall restore the name of the company to the Register and upon restoration of the name of the company to the Register, the name of the company is deemed never to have been struck off the Register.
- (3A) If the name of a company has been struck off the Register under subsection (5) or subsection (6) of section 40A, the company, or a creditor, member or liquidator thereof, may apply to the Registrar to have the name of the company restored to the Register.
- (3B) If upon an application under subsection (3A) the Registrar is satisfied that
  - (a) a licensed person has agreed to act as registered agent of the company; and
  - (b) it would be fair and reasonable for the name of the company to be restored to the Register, the Registrar may restore the name of the company to the Register upon satisfaction of the conditions set forth in subsection (3C) and upon restoration of the name of the company to the Register, the name of the company is deemed never to have been struck off the Register.

- (3C) The conditions referred to in subsection (3B) are as follows:
- (a) the submission to the Registrar by the applicant for the restoration of a copy of the resolution amending the Memorandum of the company to change the registered agent; and
  - (b) payment to the Registrar by the applicant for the restoration of:
    - (i) all fees due under section 104, and
    - (ii) all licence fees due under section 105 without increase for late payment.
- (4) For purposes of this Part, the appointment of an official receiver under section 102 operates as an order to restore the name of the company to the Register.

- 101.(1) Where the name of a company has been struck off the Register, the company, and the directors, members, liquidators and receivers thereof, may not legally
- (a) commence legal proceedings, carry on any business or in any way deal with the assets of the company;
  - (b) defend any legal proceedings, make any claim or claim any right for, or in the name of, the company; or
  - (c) act in any way with respect to the affairs of the company.
- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where the name of the company has been struck off the Register, the company, or a director, member, liquidator or receiver thereof, may
- (a) make application for restoration of the name of the company to the Register;
  - (b) continue to defend proceedings that were commenced against the company prior to the date of the striking-off; and
  - (c) continue to carry on legal proceedings that were instituted on behalf of the company prior to the date of striking-off.
- (3) The fact that the name of a company is struck off the Register does not prevent
- (a) the company from incurring liabilities;
  - (b) any creditor from making a claim against the company and pursuing the claim through to judgment or execution; or
  - (c) the appointment by the court of an official liquidator for the company under section 102.

102. The court may appoint a person to be the official liquidator in respect of a company the name of which has been struck off the Register.

- 103.(1) If the name of a company has been struck off the Register under section 99 and remains struck off continuously for a period of 10 years, the company shall be deemed to have been dissolved, but the Registrar may, if he determines that it is in the best interests of the Crown to do so, apply to the court on or before the expiration of the period of 10 years to have the company put into liquidation and a person appointed by the court shall be the official liquidator thereof.
- (2) The duties of an official liquidator in respect of a company in liquidation pursuant to subsection (1) are limited to
- (a) identifying and taking possession of all assets of the company;

- (b) calling for claims by advertisement in the Gazette and in such other manner as he deems appropriate, requiring all claims to be submitted to him within a period of not less than 90 days immediately following the date of the advertisement; and
  - (c) applying those assets that he recovers in the following order of priority:
    - (i) in satisfaction of all outstanding fees, licence fees and penalties due to the Registrar, and
    - (ii) in satisfaction pari passu of all other claims admitted by the official liquidator.
- (3) In order to perform the duties with which he is charged under subsection (2), the official liquidator may exercise such powers as the court may as it considers reasonable confer on him.
  - (4) The official liquidator may require such proof as he considers necessary to substantiate any claim submitted to him and he may admit, reject or settle claims on the basis of the evidence submitted to him.
  - (5) When the official liquidator has completed his duties, he shall submit a written report of his conduct of the liquidation proceedings to the Registrar and, upon receipt of the report by the Registrar, all assets of the company, wherever situate, that are not disposed of, vest in the Crown and the company is dissolved.
  - (6) The official liquidator is entitled to such remuneration out of the assets of the company for his services as the court approves, but if the company is unable to discharge all of its claims, debts, liabilities and obligations, payment of the official liquidator's remuneration shall be a charge on the Consolidated Fund.
  - (7) No liability attaches to an official liquidator.
    - (a) to account to creditors of the company who have not submitted claims within the time allowed by him; or
    - (b) for any failure to locate any assets of the company.

PART X FEES AND PENALTIES

104. There shall be paid to the Registrar fees as follows:

- (a) $300.00 upon the registration by the Registrar of a company incorporated under this Act the authorized capital of which does not exceed $50,000.00 and all the shares of which have a par value;

- (y) $100.00 upon the registration by the Registrar of an affidavit attesting to a company incorporated under this Act continuing its incorporation under the laws of another jurisdiction; and
- (z) $50.00 upon registration by the Registrar of any documents referred to in section 111B.

105.(1) A company that is incorporated in the first six months of a year shall on or before 31st May in the following year and in each succeeding year pay to the Registrar a licence fee as follows:

- (a) $300.00 if on the licence fee payment date its authorized capital does not exceed $50,000.00 and all its shares have par value;
- (b) $1,000.00 if on the licence fee payment date its authorized capital exceeds $50,000.00; and
- (c) $350.00 if on the licence fee payment date -
  - (i) its authorized capital does not exceed $50,000.00 and some or all of its shares have no par value, or
  - (ii) it has no authorized capital and all its shares have no par value.

(2) A company that is incorporated in the second six months of a year shall on or before 30th November in the following year and in each succeeding year pay to the Registrar a licence fee as follows:

- (a) $300.00 if on the licence fee payment date its authorized capital does not exceed $50,000.00 and all its shares have par value;
- (b) $1,000.00 if on the licence fee payment date its authorized capital exceeds $50,000.00; and
- (c) $350.00 if on the licence fee payment date -
  - (i) its authorized capital does not exceed $50,000.00 and some or all of its shares have no par value, or
  - (ii) it has no authorized capital and all its shares have no par value.

(3) If a company fails to pay the amount due as the licence fee under subsection (1) or (2), as the case may be, by the time specified therein, then the licence fee increases by 10 per cent of that amount.

(4) If a company fails to pay the amount due as an increased licence fee under subsection (3) at or before the expiration of a period of 2 months from the time specified in subsection (1) or (2), as the case may be, then the licence fee increases by 50 per cent of that amount.

(5) This section does not apply to a company in the process of being wound up and dissolved.

The new section 105 comes into operation on 1st January, 1992.

106. Any penalty incurred under this Act shall be paid to the Registrar.

107. Any fee, licence fee or penalty payable under this Act that remains unpaid for 30 days immediately following the date on which demand for payment is made by the Registrar is recoverable at the instance of the Attorney General before a magistrate in civil proceedings as a debt due to the Crown notwithstanding the amount sought to be recovered.
108. A company incorporated under this Act continues to be liable for all fees, licence fees and penalties payable under this Act notwithstanding that the name of the company has been struck off the Register and all those fees, licence fees and penalties have priority to all other claims against the assets of the company.
109. All fees, licence fees and penalties paid under this Act shall be paid by the Registrar into the Consolidated Fund.
- 110.(1) The Registrar may refuse to take any action required of him under this Act for which a fee is prescribed until all fees have been paid.
- (2) The Registrar may refuse to continue under this Act a company incorporated under the Companies Act until all fees prescribed as payable by the Company under the Companies Act have been paid.

PART XI

INCOME TAXES, STAMP DUTIES AND REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS

- 111.(1) Notwithstanding any provision of the Income Tax Act,
- (a) a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (b) all dividends, interest, rents, royalties, compensations and other amounts paid by the company to persons who are not persons resident in the British Virgin Islands; and
  - (c) capital gains realized with respect to any shares, debt obligations or other securities of a company incorporated under this Act by persons who are not persons resident in the British Virgin Islands,
- are exempt from all provisions of the Income Tax Act.
- (2) No estate, inheritance, succession or gift tax, rate, duty, levy or other charge is payable by persons who are not persons resident in the British Virgin Islands with respect to any shares, debt obligations or other securities of a company incorporated under this Act.
- (3) Notwithstanding any provision of the Stamp Act,
- (a) all instruments relating to transfers of property to or by a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (b) all instruments relating to transactions in respect of the shares, debt obligations or other securities of a company incorporated under this Act; and
  - (c) all instruments relating to other transactions relating to the business of a company incorporated under this Act, are exempt from the payment of stamp duty.
- (4) Notwithstanding any provisions of the Registration and Records Act, all deeds and other instruments relating to
- (a) transfers of property to or by a company incorporated under this Act;
  - (b) transactions in respect of the shares, debt obligations or other securities of a company incorporated under this Act; and
  - (c) other transactions relating to the business of a company incorporated under this Act, are exempt from the provisions of that Act.

- 111A.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may elect to submit for registration by the Registrar any of the following registers:
- (a) its share register;
  - (b) its register of directors; or
  - (c) its register of mortgages and charges.
- (2) A company that has elected to submit for registration a copy of a register shall, until it otherwise notifies the Registrar pursuant to subsection (3), submit for registration any changes in a register by submitting for registration a copy of the register containing the changes.
- (3) A company that submits for registration a copy of a register with the Registrar may elect to cease registration of changes in the register by so informing the Registrar in writing.
- (4) If a company elects to submit for registration any register pursuant to subsection (1), then, until such time as the company informs the Registrar pursuant to subsection (3) that it elects to cease to register changes in any register, the company is bound by the contents of each copy register submitted to the Registrar.
- 111B.A company incorporated under this Act may submit to the Registrar for registration
- (a) any document or copy of a document creating a mortgage, charge or other encumbrance over some or all its assets;
  - (b) any document or copy of a document amending any document referred to in paragraph (2); and
  - (c) any document releasing or discharging a mortgage, charge or other encumbrance over any or all its assets, and the Registrar must retain and register the document or, as the case may be, the copy thereof.

PART XII MISCELLANEOUS

- 112.(1) The Governor in Council may make regulations with respect to the duties to be performed by the Registrar under this Act and in so doing may prescribe the place where the office for the registration of International Business Companies is located.
- (2) Without limiting or affecting subsection (1), the Governor in Council may make regulations with respect to the conduct, duties and responsibilities of registered agents.
- 113.Any certificate or other document required to be issued by the Registrar under this Act shall be in such form as the Governor in Council may approve.
- 114.(1) The Registrar shall, upon request by any person, issue a certificate of good standing under his hand and seal certifying that a company incorporated under this Act is of good standing if the Registrar is satisfied that
- (a) the name of the company is on the Register; and
  - (b) the company has paid all fees, licence fees and penalties due and payable.
- (2) The Certificate of good standing issued under subsection (1) must contain a statement as to whether
- (a) the company has submitted to the Registrar articles of merger or consolidation that have not yet become effective;

- (b) the company has submitted to the Registrar articles of arrangement that have not yet become effective;
  - (c) the company is in the process of being wound up and dissolved; or
  - (d) any proceedings to strike the name of the company off the Register have been instituted.
115. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of section 85, a person may
- (a) inspect the documents kept by the Registrar pursuant to this Act; and
  - (b) require a certificate of incorporation, merger, consolidation, arrangement, continuation, dissolution or good standing of a company incorporated under this Act, or a copy or an extract of any document or any part of a document of which he has custody, to be certified by the Registrar; and a certificate of incorporation, merger, consolidation, arrangement, continuation, dissolution or good standing or a certified copy or extract is prima facie evidence of the matters contained therein.

- (2) A document or a copy or an extract of any document or any part of a document certified by the Registrar under subsection (1) is admissible in evidence in any proceedings as if it were the original document.

116. For purposes of determining matters relating to title and jurisdiction but not for purposes of taxation, the situs of the ownership of shares, debt obligations or other securities of a company incorporated under this Act is in the British Virgin Islands.

117.(1) A company incorporated under this Act may, without the necessity of joining any other party, apply to the court, by summons supported by an affidavit, for a declaration on any question of interpretation of this Act or of the Memorandum or Articles of the company.

- (2) A person acting on a declaration made by the court as a result of an application under subsection (1) shall be deemed, in so far as regards the discharge of any fiduciary or professional duty, to have properly discharged his duties in the subject matter of the application.

118. A judge of the Supreme Court may exercise in Chambers any jurisdiction that is vested in the court by this Act and in exercise of that jurisdiction, the judge may award costs as may be just.

119. This act, except for section 98, comes into operation on such day as the Governor appoints by proclamation published in the Gazette.

Short title of Ordinance/Act	Extent of Amendment

| 1. This Act may be cited as the Interpretation Act. 2. For the purposes of this Act, the expression— "Act" means any Act or Ordinance of the Legislature of the Virgin Islands passed on or before the commencement of this Act; "enactment" means an Act or a statutory instrument or any provision in an Act or statutory instrument; "instrument" includes a proclamation, order or warrant (other than an order made or a warrant issued by a court), notice, scheme, rule, regulation or by-law; "private Act" means an Act for the purpose of affecting or benefiting some particular person passed in accordance with any standing orders of the Legislative Council for the time being in force in that behalf; "statutory instrument" means an instrument made under an Act; "statutory document" means any document, other than a statutory instrument or an order of a court, issued under an Act; "Territory" means the Virgin Islands. 3. (1) Every provision of this Act extends and applies— (a) to every enactment whether passed or made before or after the commencement of this Act; and (b) to every public document made or issued before or after the commencement of this Act, unless a contrary intention appears in this Act, the enactment or the public document. | Short title. Meaning of certain expressions used in this Act. Application. |
|--|---|

(2) The provisions of this Act apply to this Act as they apply to an enactment passed after the commencement of this Act and references in this Act to an enactment so passed shall be construed accordingly.

Rules not inconsistent not excluded.

4. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as excluding the application to an enactment of a rule of construction applicable thereto and not inconsistent with this Act.

Styles of statutes.

5. All statutes of the Territory shall be styled Acts.

Enacting and other clauses and words of enactment.

6. (1) The words of enactment shall follow the preamble (if any) and the several clauses within the body of the statute shall follow in a concise and enunciative form.

(2) Subject to the Constitution, in every Bill presented to the Governor for assent, the words of enactment shall be as follows—

"Enacted by the Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:"

Acts to be deemed public.

7. Every Act shall be a public Act.

Private Acts.

8. A provision in a private Act shall not affect rights of a person otherwise than as therein mentioned or referred to.

Enactments to apply to the whole Territory.

9. Every enactment shall, unless the contrary intention appears, apply to the whole Territory.

Crown.

10. (1) A reference in an enactment to the Sovereign or to the Crown shall be construed in either case as a reference both to the Sovereign for the time being and as a reference to the Crown in right of its government of the Territory.

(2) In any enactment, the expression "Her Majesty" includes Her Majesty the Queen, Her heirs and successors.

(3) An enactment shall not bind or in any manner whatsoever affect the Crown or the rights and prerogatives of the Crown unless it is expressly stated therein that the Crown is bound thereby.

(4) This Act is binding on the Crown.

(5) Every private Act shall be construed as containing a saving for the rights of the Crown.

Substantive enactments.

11. Every provision of an enactment has effect as a substantive enactment without introductory words.

Preamble, marginal notes and headings.

12. (1) The preamble to an enactment shall be construed as a part of the enactment and intended to assist in explaining the purport and object of the enactment.

(2) Marginal notes and headings in an enactment and references to other enactments in the margin or at the end of an enactment shall not be construed as part of the enactment and shall be deemed to have been inserted for convenience of reference only.

References in enactments.

13. (1) A reference in an enactment to any other enactment shall be construed as a reference to that other enactment as for the time being amended by or under any other enactment, including the enactment in which the reference is made.

(2) A reference in an enactment to any statute passed by the United Kingdom Parliament, or to any instrument made under any such statute, shall be construed as a reference to that statute or instrument as it applies for the time being in the Territory; and any such statute or instrument shall be read with such formal alterations as to names, localities, courts, officers, persons, moneys, penalties and otherwise as may be necessary to make such statute or instrument applicable to the circumstances.

(3) Where in any enactment reference is made to a provision of a United Kingdom Act and that provision is subsequently repealed and re-enacted without substantial modification such reference shall, if the context requires, be construed as a reference to the provision as so re-enacted.

(4) A reference in an enactment by number or letter to a Part, section, subsection, paragraph, sub-paragraph, or other division of another enactment or of a United Kingdom Act shall be construed as a reference to such Part, section, subsection, paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division of such other enactment or Act as printed by authority of law.

(5) A reference in an enactment by number or letter to two or more Parts, divisions, sections, subsections, paragraphs, sub-paragraphs, schedules, instruments or forms shall be construed as including the number or letter first mentioned and the number or letter last mentioned.

(6) Where in an enactment reference is made to a Part, division, section, schedule or form without anything in the context to indicate that a reference to a Part, division, section, schedule or form of some other enactment is intended, the reference shall be construed as a reference to a Part, division, section, schedule or form of the enactment in which the reference is made.

(7) Where in a section of an enactment reference is made to a subsection, paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division without anything in the context to indicate that a reference to a subsection, paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division of some other section or provision is intended, the reference shall be construed as a reference to a subsection, paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division of the section in which the reference is made.

(8) Where in a schedule or Part of a schedule to an enactment reference is made to a paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division without anything in the context to indicate that a reference to a paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division of some other enactment or division is intended, the reference shall be construed as a reference to the paragraph, sub-paragraph or other division of the schedule or the Part of the schedule in which the reference is made.

(9) Where in an enactment reference is made to a statutory instrument or statutory document, without anything in the context to indicate that a reference to a statutory instrument or statutory document made under some other enactment is intended, the reference shall be construed as a reference to a statutory instrument or statutory document, as the case may be, made under the enactment in which the reference is made.

(10) A reference in an enactment to any power exercisable, or to any statutory instrument or statutory document made or issued or act or thing done, under any enactment or any United Kingdom Act shall include a reference to a power exercisable, a statutory instrument or statutory document made or issued or act or thing done, by virtue of that enactment or Act or of any statutory instrument or statutory document made or issued under or by virtue of that enactment or Act.

(11) The expression "herein" where used in a section or other division of an enactment passed or made after the commencement of this Act relates to the whole enactment and not to that section or division only.

14. (1) An Act may be amended, altered or repealed in the same session of the Legislative Council.

Amending provisions.
7/1992.

(2) An amending enactment shall, so far as consistent with the tenor thereof, operate and be construed as part of any enactment which it amends and, without limiting or affecting subsection (1) of section 13 shall, as from the date on which it comes into operation, have effect accordingly for the purpose of the construction and operation of any other enactment which refers to, or is incorporated with, the enactment which it amends.

15. (1) Subject to the Constitution, the date on which an Act becomes law is the date on which the Governor signs it in token of his assent thereto in Her Majesty's name and on Her Majesty's behalf and in this Act the expression "Governor's Assent" means such assent as aforesaid.

Date of passing
etc. of enactments.

(2) Subject to the Constitution, the Governor's Assent and the day, month and year thereof shall be inscribed on every Act immediately above the year and number of the Act; and such inscription shall be taken to be part of the Act.

(3) The date of the making of every statutory instrument is the date therein expressed as the date of the execution thereof, but where the instrument is made by two or more authorities jointly and is therein expressed to have been executed by those authorities on different dates, the date of the making thereof shall be the last date so expressed.

(4) Where a statutory instrument made or to be made after the commencement of this Act by an authority requires the concurrence or approval of any other authority, that concurrence or approval shall be formally inscribed on the instrument either—

- (a) on or before the date of the making thereof; or
- (b) if the other authority has before that date indicated an intention to concur in or approve of the making of the instrument, within one month after such making.

Coming into force of enactments. 7/1992.

16. (1) Where an enactment or any part thereof is expressed to come into force or operation on a particular day (whether that day is before or after the date of the passing of such enactment, or where the enactment is a statutory instrument, of the making thereof, and whether such day is named in the enactment or is to be appointed or fixed or ascertained in any other manner) the enactment shall be construed as coming into force immediately on the expiration of the day before that particular day.

(2) Where an Act provides that—

(a) it is to come into force or operation on a day or date to be fixed by the Governor by proclamation or by a Minister by notice;

(b) or that it is not to come into force or operation until a day or date to be so fixed, any such proclamation or notice may apply to the whole or to any provision or provisions of the Act and may be issued at different times in respect of any such provision or provisions.

Expiration of enactments.

17. (1) Where an enactment is expressed to expire, lapse or otherwise cease to have effect on a particular day, the enactment shall, except as provided by subsection (2), be construed as ceasing to have effect immediately on the expiration of that day.

(2) Where a Bill is introduced into any session of the Legislative Council for the continuance of any Act limited to expire in that session and that Act expires before the Bill, having passed the Legislative Council, receives in that session the Governor's Assent and is published in the Gazette, then, subject to subsection (3), that Act shall be deemed to have continued as fully and effectively in operation as if the Bill had received the Governor's Assent and been published in the Gazette before that Act expired.

(3) Subsection (2) does not operate so as to render any person liable under any Act that has expired to any penalty or forfeiture by reason of any act done by him before the date on which the Bill for the continuance of that Act, having passed the Legislative Council, receives the Governor's Assent and is published in the Gazette.

Exercise of powers before commencement of enactment.

18. Where an enactment that has not come into force immediately on the passing or making thereof confers power—

- (a) to make appointments;
- (b) to hold elections;
- (c) to make statutory instruments or to issue statutory documents;
- (d) to publish documents or to give any notices;
- (e) to prescribe forms;
- (f) to give directions; or
- (g) to do any other act or thing, that power may, for the purpose of making the enactment effective upon its commencement, be exercised at any time after the passing or making thereof, but, except in so far as may be necessary or expedient for that purpose, any statutory instrument or statutory document made under that power shall not have effect before the commencement of the enactment conferring the power.

Statutory powers and duties generally.

19. (1) Where an enactment confers a power or imposes a duty, the power may be exercised and the duty shall be performed from time to time, as occasion requires.

(2) Where an enactment confers a power to make any statutory instrument, the power shall be construed as including power, exercisable in the like manner and subject to the like consents and conditions, if any, to amend, alter, rescind, or revoke that statutory instrument and to make other statutory instruments in lieu thereof; but this subsection shall not apply to an order that is not made by a rule-making authority in the exercise of a statutory power which is of a legislative character.

(3) Where an enactment empowers any person or authority to do any act or thing, all such powers shall be deemed to be also given as are reasonably necessary to enable that person or authority to do that act or thing or acts or things that are incidental to the doing thereof.

(4) Where an enactment authorises or requires an act or thing to be done collectively by more than two persons, a majority of those persons may do that act or thing, unless any quorum fixed by that or any other enactment has not been formed.

(5) Any power conferred by an enactment to make a statutory instrument or issue a statutory document may be exercised—

- (a) either in relation to all cases to which the power extends, or in relation to all those cases subject to specified exceptions, or in relation to any specified cases or classes of case; and
- (b) so as to make, as respects the cases in relation to which it is exercised—
- (i) the full provision to which the power extends or any less provision (whether by way of exception or otherwise);
  - (ii) the same provision for all cases in relation to which the power is exercised, or different provision for different cases or classes of case, or different provision as respects the same case or class for different purposes of the enactment; or
  - (iii) any such provision either unconditionally or subject to any specified condition.
- (6) Where an enactment confers upon any person or authority power to make a statutory instrument, the statutory instrument so made shall be construed subject to the enactment under which it was made and so as not to exceed the power of that person or authority, to the intent that where any statutory instrument would, but for this subsection, have been construed as being in excess of the power conferred upon that person or authority, the statutory instrument shall nevertheless be valid to the extent to which it is not in excess of that power.
- (7) Where an enactment confers upon any person or authority power to make a statutory instrument, any act done under a statutory instrument so made shall be deemed to have been done under that enactment.
- (8) Notwithstanding that a statutory instrument or a statutory document is expressed or purports to be made or issued by a person or authority under a specific enactment, it shall be deemed also to be made or issued under all powers thereunto enabling that person or authority.
- (9) Where an enactment confers powers upon any person or authority power to make a statutory instrument for any general purposes and also for any special purposes incidental thereto, the enumeration of the special purposes shall not be construed as derogating from the generality of the power conferred with respect to the general purposes.

(10) Where an enactment confers a power to make a statutory instrument—

- (a) there may be annexed to a contravention of that statutory instrument a punishment by way of a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or both;
- (b) a breach of any of the provisions of that statutory instrument is an offence; and
- (c) an offence against that statutory instrument is punishable on summary conviction.

20. (1) Subject to the Constitution, words in an enactment that authorise the appointment of a person to any office shall be deemed also to confer on the authority in whom the power is vested—

- (a) power, at the discretion of the authority, to remove or suspend or otherwise discipline him; and
- (b) power, exercisable in the like manner and subject to the like consent and conditions, if any, applicable on his appointment—
  - (i) to reappoint or reinstate him;
  - (ii) to appoint another person in his stead or to act in his stead and to provide for the remuneration of the person so appointed;
  - (iii) to fix or vary his remuneration, to withhold his remuneration in whole or in part during any period of suspension from office, and to terminate his remuneration to his removal from office;

but, where the power of appointment is exercisable only upon the recommendation or subject to the approval, consent or concurrence of some other authority or person, the power of removal shall be exercised only upon the recommendation or subject to the approval, consent or concurrence of that other authority or person.

(2) In an enactment a reference, without qualification, to the holder of any office includes a reference to any person for the time being holding that office, and, in particular—

- (a) words in an enactment directing or empowering the holder of an office to do any act or thing, or otherwise applying to him by the name of his office, shall apply to his deputy, to his successor in office and to their deputies, and

(b) where an enactment confers a power or imposes a duty on the holder of an office, as such, the power may be exercised and the duty shall be performed by the person for the time being charged with the execution of the powers and duties of the office.

(3) When the Governor considers it necessary to change the title of any public office, he shall cause a notice to that effect to be published in the Gazette setting out the former title and the substituted title of such office, and declaring that such change of title shall take effect, or shall be deemed to have taken effect, from a date specified in such notice; and with effect from such date a reference to the former title in any enactment and in any document made or issued under such enactment shall be construed as a reference to the substituted title.

(4) Where by or under any enactment any functions are conferred upon a public officer, the Governor may direct that, if by reason of absence or incapacity through illness or any other cause that officer is during any period unable to perform those functions, such functions shall be performed by a public officer or person designated by the Governor; and during any such period the public officer or person so designated shall perform those functions, subject to such conditions, exceptions and qualifications as the Governor may direct.

(5) Notwithstanding anything in any enactment where the substantive holder of a public office (in this section referred to as "the retiring officer") is on leave of absence pending relinquishment of that office, another person may be appointed substantively to that office; and a person so appointed may perform all the functions of that office to the exclusion of the retiring officer, and without prejudice to any rights or privileges of the retiring officer, is entitled to all rights and privileges (including those relating to emoluments and pensions) appertaining to the office.

Effect of words of incorporation.

21. (1) Where an Act contains words establishing, or providing for the establishment of, a body corporate and applying this section to that body those words operate—

- (a) to vest in that body when established—
(i) the power to sue in its corporate name;

(ii) the power to enter into contracts in its corporate name, and to do so that, in relation to third parties, the body shall be deemed to have the same power to make contracts as an individual who is sui juris has;

(iii) the right to have a common seal and to alter or change that seal at pleasure;

(iv) the right to acquire and hold any real or personal property for purposes for which the corporation is constituted and to dispose of or charge that property at pleasure;

(v) the right to regulate its own procedure and business; and

(vi) the right to employ such staff as may be found necessary for the performance of its functions;

(b) to make that body liable to be sued in its corporate name;

(c) to require that judicial notice shall be taken of the common seal of that body, and that every document purporting to be a document sealed by that body and to be attested in accordance with any enactment applicable to the attestation of documents so sealed shall, unless the contrary is proved, be received in evidence and be deemed to be such a document without further proof;

(d) to vest in a majority of the members of that body the power, subject to any quorum fixed by the enactment under which it is established or by any relevant standing orders, to bind other members thereof; and

(e) to exempt from personal liability for the debts, obligations or acts of that body, such members thereof as do not contravene the provisions of the Act under which the body is established.

(2) Without limiting or affecting subsection (1) of section 3, the application of this section to a body corporate does not—

(a) prevent additional powers being conferred by any enactment on that body; or

(b) prevent the powers conferred by virtue of such application being limited by any enactment; or

(c) prejudice or affect any liability of any member of that body to be surcharged with the payment of any amount which may be disallowed in the accounts of that body by an auditor acting in pursuance of any enactment.

Offences and penalties.

22. (1) Where any act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more than two enactments or under an enactment and at common law, the offender shall be liable to be prosecuted and punished under either or any of those enactments or at common law, but shall not be liable to be punished twice for the same offence.

(2) Where an offence has been committed by a body corporate the liability of whose members is limited, then, notwithstanding and without affecting the liability of that body, any person who at the time of the commission of the offence was a director, general manager, secretary or other like officer of that body or was purporting to act in any such capacity—

(a) is, subject to subsection (3), liable to be prosecuted as if he had personally committed that offence; and

(b) is liable to the like conviction and punishment as if he had personally been guilty of that offence, if on prosecution it is proved to the satisfaction of the court that he consented to, or connived at, or did not exercise all such reasonable diligence as he ought in the circumstances to have exercised to prevent the offence, having regard to the nature of his functions in that capacity and to all the circumstances.

(3) A person shall not be charged under subsection (2) except upon the direction of the Attorney General.

(4) An enactment creating criminal liability for an act or omission which, apart from that enactment, would give rise to civil liability does not operate to affect the civil liability; but this subsection shall not be construed as excluding the application of any rule of law that restricts the right to take civil proceedings in respect of an act or omission that constitutes a felony.

(5) Where an enactment provides a punishment for an offence against the enactment, the offence shall be punishable by a punishment not exceeding that so provided.

(6) Where at the end of a section of any enactment a fine, penalty or term of imprisonment is set out, any contravention of that section shall be an offence against the enactment and shall be punishable by a fine, penalty or term of imprisonment not exceeding that so set out.

(7) Where an enactment passed or made after the commencement of this Act creates an offence the enactment shall operate to provide also that an attempt to commit that offence is an offence under the enactment and punishable as if the offence itself had been committed.

(8) Any enactment under which imprisonment may be awarded shall be construed as providing that any person imprisoned thereunder shall work at such labour as the officer in charge of the prison may direct.

(9) Where under any enactment any animal or thing is or is ordered by a competent authority to be confiscated or forfeited, it shall be deemed to be forfeited to the Crown for the purposes of the Territory.

(10) Where under any enactment any animal or thing ordered or deemed to be forfeited to the Crown is required to be sold, the net proceeds of the sale shall be paid into and form part of the Consolidated Fund.

(11) Nothing in subsection (9) or subsection (10) affects any enactment under which the whole or any part of any fine, penalty or forfeit or the proceeds of any forfeit is recoverable by any person or may be granted by any authority to any person.

(12) Any fine or pecuniary penalty imposed by or under an enactment shall be payable into the Consolidated Fund.

(13) Where in an enactment an offence is declared to be punishable on summary conviction the procedure in respect of the trial and punishment of the offence and the recovery of the penalty, and all matters incidental to or arising in connection with the trial and punishment of the offence and the recovery of the penalty, shall be in accordance with the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act.

Cap. 44.

Rules of procedure of courts and tribunals.

23. (1) Where an enactment confers any jurisdiction on a court or other tribunal or extends or varies any such jurisdiction, the authority having for the time being power to make rules or orders regulating the practice and procedure of that court or tribunal may make such rules or orders (including rules or orders regulating costs, fees, witnesses' expenses and other expenses) as appear to the authority to be necessary for regulating the practice and procedure of that court or tribunal in the exercise of the jurisdiction so conferred, extended or varied, and it is not necessary for any other enactment to confer power on the authority to make any rules or orders for those purposes.

(2) An authority empowered to make rules or orders regulating the practice and procedure of any court or tribunal may not in the exercise of that power make, without the concurrence of the Minister responsible for Finance, an order—

(a) that directs money to be paid out of or in aid of the Consolidated Fund; or

(b) that prescribes or alters court fees;

but the validity of any rule or order made by such an authority shall not in any proceedings in any court or tribunal be impugned either by the court or tribunal or by any party to the proceedings on the ground only that concurrence has not been given or is not expressed to have been given.

(3) All rules or orders made under any enactment and regulating the practice or procedure, or costs, fees or expenses, of any court or tribunal and in force at the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been made in contemplation of this section and may be varied or revoked accordingly.

Appellate courts—powers.
7/1992.

24. (1) Where an enactment provides that an appeal against a decision or determination of any court, tribunal, authority or person (in this section called “the original tribunal”) may be brought to any court, that court (in this section called “the appellate court”) may, for all purposes of and incidental to hearing or determining the appeal, exercise all the powers, authority and jurisdiction of the original tribunal and, in addition, may—

(a) confirm, reverse or vary the decision or determination of the original tribunal;

(b) remit the appeal or any matter arising thereon to the original tribunal with such declarations or directions as the appellate court may think proper;

(c) make such order as to costs and expenses as the appellate court may think proper; and

(i) the original tribunal shall have regard to all the declarations and obey all the directions, if any, that the appellate court gives pursuant to paragraph (b); and

(ii) orders made by the appellate court have the like effect and may be enforced in like manner as orders made by the original tribunal.

(2) Without affecting subsection (1), an appeal court upon an appeal from a decision of another court in a civil or criminal matter may direct that matter to be retried.

25. (1) Where an enactment authorises or requires a document to be served by post or by mail, whether the word “serve” or any of the words “give”, “deliver” or “send” or any other word is used, service of the document may be effected by prepaying, registering and posting an envelope addressed to the person on whom the document is to be served at his usual or last known place of abode or business and containing the document; and, unless the contrary is proved, the document shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the envelope would have been delivered in the ordinary course of post.

(2) Where an enactment authorises or requires a document to be served on any person without directing it to be served in a particular manner, service of that document may be effected either—

(a) by personal service;

(b) by post in accordance with subsection (1); or

(c) by leaving it for him with some adult person at his usual or last known place of abode or business.

(3) In the case of a corporate body or of any association of persons (whether incorporated or not) service of a document may be effected by delivering it to the secretary or clerk of the body or association at the registered or principal office of the body or association or serving it by post on the secretary or clerk at the office.

(4) If it is not practicable after reasonable enquiry to ascertain the name or address of an owner, a lessee, or an occupier of premises on whom a document ought to be served, the document may be served by—

(a) addressing it to him by the description of “owner” or “lessee” or “occupier” of the premises (naming them) to which the document relates and delivering it to some person on the premises; or

documents.

(b) if there is no person on the premises to whom it can be delivered by affixing it, or a copy of it, to some conspicuous part of the premises.

Forms.

26. Where a form is prescribed or specified by any enactment, deviations therefrom not materially affecting the substance nor calculated to mislead shall not invalidate the form used.

Oaths, affirmations and declarations.

27. (1) Where any enactment authorises or requires evidence to be taken on oath, or authorises or directs an oath to be made, taken or administered, the oath may be administered, and a certificate or acknowledgement of its having been made, taken or administered may be given, by any person authorised by the enactment to take the evidence, or by a judge of any court, or a magistrate, or a notary public, or a commissioner for oaths or justice of the peace having authority or jurisdiction in the place where the oath is administered.

(2) In every enactment the words "oath" and "affidavit" shall, as respects persons for the time being allowed by law to affirm or declare instead of swearing, include affirmation and declaration.

(3) A reference in an enactment to a statutory declaration shall be construed—

(a) if made in the Territory, as a reference to a declaration made—

(i) by virtue of any enactment in force relating to statutory declarations, or

(ii) under the Evidence Act;

(b) if made in any part of the Commonwealth outside the Territory, as a reference to a declaration made before a justice of the peace, notary public or other person having authority therein under any law for the time being in force to take or receive a declaration; or

(c) if made in any other place, as a reference to a declaration made before any person having authority, under any United Kingdom Act for the time being in force, to take or receive a declaration.

(4) A power conferred by an enactment upon a justice of the peace to administer any oath or affirmation, or to take any affidavit or declaration may be exercised by a notary public or a commissioner for oaths.

28. (1) Where in an enactment it is declared that the whole or part of any enactment is to cease to have effect, that enactment shall be deemed to have been repealed to the extent to which it is so declared to cease to have effect.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not be taken to affect the operation of any declaration in an enactment that the whole or a part of any enactment is repealed.

29. (1) Where an enactment repeals or revokes an enactment, the repeal or revocation shall not, except as in this section otherwise provided—

(a) revive any enactment or thing not in force or existing at the time at which the repeal or revocation takes effect;

(b) affect the previous operation of the enactment so repealed or revoked, or anything duly done or suffered thereunder;

(c) affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred under the enactment so repealed or revoked;

(d) affect any offence committed against the enactment so repealed or revoked, or any penalty or forfeiture of punishment incurred in respect thereof; or

(e) affect any investigation, legal proceeding or remedy in respect of any such right, privilege, obligation, liability, penalty, forfeiture or punishment as aforesaid, and any such investigation, legal proceeding or remedy may be instituted, continued or enforced, and any such penalty, forfeiture or punishment may be imposed, as if the enactment had not been repealed or revoked.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) shall be taken to authorise the continuance in force after the repeal or revocation of an enactment or of any instrument made under that provision.

(3) Where at any time an enactment expires, lapses or otherwise ceases to have effect, this section applies as if that enactment has then been repealed or revoked.

(4) The inclusion in the repealing provisions of any enactment of any express saving with respect to the repeals affected thereby shall not be taken to affect the operation of this section with respect to the effect of those repeals.

Substituting enactment.

30. (1) Where an enactment repeals or revokes and re-enacts, with or without modification, any enactment, a reference in any other enactment or statutory document to the enactment so repealed or revoked shall, without affecting the operation of subsections (2) and (3), be construed as a reference to the enactment as re-enacted.

(2) Where an enactment repeals or revokes any enactment (in this subsection and in subsection (3) called "the old enactment") and substitutes another enactment therefor by way of amendment, revision or consolidation—

(a) all officers and persons acting under the old enactment continue to act as if appointed under the enactment so substituted;

(b) every bond and security given by a person appointed under the old enactment remains in force and all premises, books, papers and things used or made under the old enactment continue to be used as theretofore so far as is consistent with the enactment so substituted;

(c) all proceedings taken under the old enactment shall be prosecuted and continued under and in conformity with the enactment so substituted, so far as consistently may be;

(d) in the recovery of enforcement of penalties and forfeitures incurred and in the enforcement of rights, existing or accruing under the old enactment or in any other proceedings under the old enactment, the procedure established by the enactment so substituted shall be followed so far as is consistent with the enactment so substituted; and

(e) where any penalty, forfeiture or punishment is reduced or mitigated by any of the provisions of the enactment so substituted, the penalty, forfeiture or punishment, if imposed or awarded after the repeal or revocation, shall be reduced or mitigated accordingly.

(3) Without affecting subsection (2), where an enactment repeals or revokes an enactment and substitutes another enactment therefor by way of amendment, revision or consolidation—

(a) all statutory instruments or statutory documents made, issued, confirmed or granted under the old enactment and all decisions, authorisations, directions, consents, applications, requests or things made, issued, given or done thereunder shall, in so far as they are in force at the commencement of the enactment so substituted, and are not inconsistent therewith, have the like effect and the like proceedings may be had thereon and in respect thereof as if they had been made, issued, confirmed or granted or made, issued, given or done under the corresponding provision of the enactment so substituted; and

(b) any reference to the old enactment in any unrepealed or unrepealed enactment shall, in relation to any subsequent transaction, matter or thing, be construed as a reference to so much of the enactment so substituted as relates to the same subject-matter as the old enactment; and, if nothing in the enactment so substituted relates to the same subject-matter, the old enactment shall stand good, and be read and construed as unrepealed or unrepealed in so far, and in so far only, as is necessary to support, maintain or give effect to such unrepealed or unrepealed enactment.

31. Every enactment shall be construed as always speaking and anything expressed in the present tense shall be applied to the circumstances as they occur, so that effect may be given to each enactment according to its true spirit, intent and meaning.

Enactment
always speaking.

32. Where an enactment confers power to make any statutory instrument or issue any statutory document, then, unless a contrary intention appears—

Expressions in statutory instrument have same meaning as in enactment.

(a) expressions used in the statutory instrument or statutory document have the same respective meaning as in the enactment; and

(b) the expression "the Act" if used in the statutory instrument or statutory document shall be construed as referring to the Act under which the instrument is made or the document issued, as the case may be.

33. (1) Definitions or rules of interpretation contained in an enactment apply to the construction of the provisions of the enactment which contain those definitions or rules of

CONSTITUTION, APPOINTMENT, ENLISTMENT AND RESIGNATION.

Existing Police Force.

3. (1) The Royal Virgin Islands Police Force established in the Territory and in respect of which provision was made under the Police Act 1951 shall continue to be maintained under this Act and shall continue to be designated the Royal Virgin Islands Police Force.

(2) A member of the Force who—

(a) at the date of the commencement of this Act has been a member of the Force prior to that date shall be deemed to have been serving under this Act;

(b) re-enters the Force after the commencement of this Act shall be deemed for pensionable purposes, to have performed his previous service under this Act.

4. (1) The objects of the Force are—

Objects of the Force.

- (a) the maintenance of law and order;
- (b) the preservation of peace;
- (c) the defence of the Territory from external aggression or threat thereof;
- (d) the protection of life and property;
- (e) the prevention and detection of crime; and
- (f) the enforcement of all laws that it is required to enforce.

(2) In the performance of the functions specified in subsection (1), a member of the Force may be issued with and may carry and use for lawful purposes such arms and ammunition as the Commissioner or, in his absence, a Deputy Commissioner may authorise.

5. The Force comprises a Commissioner and such number of Deputy Commissioners, Superintendents, Inspectors, subordinate police officers and constables as the Governor may determine.

Composition of the Force.

6. (1) The Commissioner is charged with the command, superintendence, direction and control of the Force and is answerable directly to the Governor for—Functions of the Commissioner.

- (a) the efficient administration of the Force; and
- (b) the proper expenditure of all public moneys appropriated for the service thereof.

(2) Subject to any general or specific direction of the Governor the Commissioner may, in performing his functions—

- (a) make standing and routine orders for the general administration of the Force as he considers necessary; and
- (b) delegate any of these functions to a Gazetted Police Officer.

7. The function of a Deputy Commissioner is to act as assistant to the Commissioner in the performance of his functions and for that purpose, may—Functions of Deputy Commissioners.

- (a) when authorised by the Commissioner; or
- (b) if authorised by the Governor, in the temporary absence or incapacity of the Commissioner, do or perform or order to be done or performed any act or thing that may be lawfully done or performed or ordered to be done or performed by the Commissioner.

Functions of members of the Force other than the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners.

8. All members of the Force other than the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner shall be stationed in such branches or such divisions as the Commissioner may direct and shall perform such duties as are required by this Act to be performed or as the Commissioner may determine.

Gazetted Officer to be Justices of the Peace.

9. Every Gazetted Police Officer is, ex officio, a Justice of the Peace of the Territory in addition to the functions assigned to him by this Act as a member of the Force; but he shall not act judicially except in so far as he is permitted to do by this Act.

Uniform and accoutrements.

10. (1) Members of the Force shall wear such uniform as the Governor may direct and any such uniform and any arms or accoutrements supplied therewith shall remain the property of the Crown.

(2) Every member of the Force shall upon ceasing to be a member of the Force, deliver to the Gazetted Police Officer, Inspector or subordinate police officer under whose immediate command he was at the time of ceasing to be a member of the Force, every article that was supplied to him for the execution of his duty.

(3) The next of kin, executor or other personal representative of a member of the Force who dies in service shall deliver up to the Commissioner or to a member of the Force nominated by the Commissioner all articles of uniform, equipment and accoutrements that at the time of death were in the possession of the deceased member of the Force.

(4) Any member of the Force and any next of kin, executor or other personal representative, as the case may be, who contravenes subsection (2) or (3) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of three hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of six months; and a Magistrate may issue a warrant for—

(a) the seizure of any article that is not delivered up, as required by subsection (3) wherever the article may be found; and

(b) the arrest of the person in whose possession it is and is unable to account satisfactorily for his possession thereof.

(5) A person, not being a member of the Force, who—

(a) has in his possession an article referred to in subsection (3) that was supplied to a member of the Force for the execution of his duty; and

(b) is unable to account satisfactorily for his possession thereof, is guilty of an offence and may be arrested without warrant by any member of the Force and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of two hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of four months.

11. (1) The Commissioner, Deputy Commissioners and Gazetted Police Officers shall be appointed by the Governor.

Appointment.

(2) Appointments to any rank below the rank of Gazetted Police Officer may be made by the Commissioner acting with the approval of the Governor; but the Governor may in writing delegate to the Commissioner the power to make the appointments.

12. (1) A constable shall be appointed on probation during the first three years of his service in the Force and may, on the conclusion of the probationary period to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, be confirmed in his appointment by the Governor acting on the advice of the Commissioner.

Probationary appointment and termination of service.

(2) The service of a constable on probation may be dispensed with by the Commissioner with the approval of the Governor at any time during the period of probation if the constable is not suitable to perform the duties of his office or if he is not likely to become an efficient and well-conducted member of the Force.

(3) A constable whose service is dispensed with is entitled to service on him either of a notice of one month of termination of his services or pay for one month in lieu of the notice.

(4) The Governor may in writing delegate to the Commissioner the powers conferred on the Governor under this section.

Oaths.
Schedule.

13. Every person, on his first appointment to the Force, shall make before a Magistrate or a Justice of the Peace, the oath or affirmation set forth in paragraph 1 of the Schedule before he begins to perform any of his functions.

Certificate of identity.

14. The Commissioner shall issue to each member of the Force, at the time of his first appointment, a certificate of identity in a form approved by the Governor and signed by the Commissioner.

Resignation.

15. (1) Subject to subsection (2), a member of the Force may resign his office at any time by giving in writing to the Governor submitted through the Commissioner notice of not less than one month of his intention to do so or upon payment of one month's salary in lieu of notice.

(2) The Governor may waive the need for notice or shorten the length of notice as may be reasonable in any particular case.

(3) Subject to this section, a member of the Force who has resigned from the Force may be reappointed to the Force if he was a member of the Force for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the date of his resignation and not more than five years have elapsed before the date of his application for reappointment.

(4) Subsection (3) does not apply if—

(a) the resignation was due to the misconduct of the applicant for reappointment or was due to any act involving moral turpitude on his part; or

(b) during the period of five years immediately preceding the application for reappointment, the applicant for reappointment has engaged in an activity that is contrary to the best interests of the Force.

(5) Where a person is reappointed to the Force under this section, any period of service in the Force or in the service of the Territory in a civil capacity prior to his reappointment shall, notwithstanding the break in service, be taken into account in computing any pension payable to him.

16. (1) An Inspector, subordinate police officer or a constable may, on the recommendation of the Commissioner, be discharged from the Force if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable—Discharge.

(a) has had a punishment imposed on him under section 37;

(b) has been pronounced by a medical board to be physically or mentally unfit for further service;

(c) has been found to be no longer efficient in the discharge of his duties; or

(d) has so conducted himself (or it has been found) that his retention in the Force would be contrary to the public interest.

17. No member of the Force shall—

Police officers not to engage in other employment or political activities.

(a) except with the written authority of the Commissioner, take up or engage in any employment, trade, business or office outside of the scope of his duties under this Act; or

(b) except with the written authority of the Governor, engage in a political campaign, or—

(i) take part in the activities or business of a political party or political organisation, or

(ii) become a member or an official of, or adviser to, any political party, whether or not he is paid for his services to that party and whether or not that party operates in the Territory; or

(c) engage in any other activity that is likely—

(i) to interfere with his impartial discharge of his duty, or

(ii) to be a source of conflict with his duties.

18. Every member of the Force has all the rights, powers, authorities, privileges, and immunities conferred on a member of the Force by any law that is now in force in the Territory and likewise in respect of any law that comes into operation in the Territory, upon the coming into operation of that law.

Status of member of the Force.

19. Every member of the Force has all the rights, powers, authorities, privileges, and immunities, and is liable to all the duties and responsibilities, that any constable duly appointed now has or is subject or liable to, or may subsequently have or be subject or liable to, either at common law or by virtue of any law that now is or may subsequently be in force in the Territory upon the coming into force of that law.

General power of police officers.

20. Where, by any law, powers are conferred on a member of the Force of a certain rank, those powers may be lawfully exercised by members of the Force of higher rank.

PART III.

GENERAL DUTIES OF THE FORCE.

Duties of the Force.

21. The general duties of every member of the Force are—

(a) to preserve the peace, prevent and detect crimes and other breaches of the law;

(b) to serve and execute at any time (including Sundays) all process that they may be directed by any court of criminal jurisdiction or by any Magistrate or Coroner, or by any Justice of the Peace in any criminal matter, to serve or execute;

(c) to summon before a Magistrate and to prosecute—

(i) persons found committing any offence, or

(ii) persons whom he reasonably suspects of having committed an offence or may be charged with having committed any offence;

(d) to apprehend and bring before a Magistrate—

(i) persons found committing any offence that renders them liable to arrest without warrant, or

(ii) persons whom he reasonably suspects of having committed any such offence or may be charged with having committed any such offence;

(e) to stop, search and detain—

(i) any aircraft, vessel, boat, vehicle, cart or carriage in or on which he suspects that any stolen, or unlawfully obtained or any smuggled goods may be found, and

(ii) any person whom he reasonably suspects of having or conveying in any manner, anything stolen or unlawfully obtained or any smuggled goods;

(f) to apprehend smugglers or others found committing offences against the revenue laws, and to seize all goods liable to seizure for any breach of the revenue laws and otherwise to aid in the detection of such offences and give such assistance as may be necessary to the officers of the revenue in all departments;

(g) to keep order in and within the precincts and in the vicinity of the Legislative Council and of all courts during all sittings thereof;

(h) to repress internal disturbance;

(i) to defend the Territory against external aggression or the threat thereof when called out to do so; and

(j) generally to do and perform all the duties that relate to the office of a constable.

22. (1) Any member of the Force may arrest without a warrant—

Powers to arrest without a warrant.

(a) any person who commits in his presence an offence punishable either upon indictment or upon summary conviction;

(b) any person whom he suspects upon reasonable grounds of having committed or of being about to commit an offence punishable on indictment;

(c) any person whom another person charges with having committed an offence punishable upon indictment;

(d) any person who assaults or obstructs a police officer in the execution of his duty or has escaped or who attempts to escape from lawful custody;

(e) any person who commits a breach of the peace in his presence or whom he reasonably believes may commit a breach of the peace;

(f) any person—

(i) in whose possession anything that may reasonably be suspected to be stolen property is found, or

(ii) who may reasonably be suspected of having committed an offence with reference to that thing;

(g) any person whom he finds lying or loitering in any highway, yard or other place between the hours of eight o'clock in the evening and five o'clock in the morning and not giving a satisfactory account of himself;

(h) any person whom he finds in any highway, yard or other place between the hours of eight o'clock in the evening and five o'clock in the morning and suspects upon reasonable grounds of having committed or being about to commit an offence punishable on indictment;

(i) any person found between the hours of eight o'clock in the evening and five o'clock in the morning having in his possession without lawful excuse any implement of housebreaking within the context of section 30 of the Larceny Act.

Cap. 39.

(2) Without limiting or affecting the powers conferred on a member of the Force by subsection (1), a member of the Force and any person he called to his assistance may arrest without warrant any person who within view of the member of the Force contravenes any law and—

(a) his name and address are unknown to the member of the Force and cannot be ascertained by him; or

(b) gives a name or address that the member of the Force has reason to believe is false.

Execution of warrants of arrest.

23. A warrant issued by a Magistrate for the apprehension of any person charged with any offence may be executed by any member of the Force at any time notwithstanding that the warrant is not in his possession at the time; but the warrant shall, on demand by the person apprehended, be shown to him as soon as practicable after his arrest.

Police station to be place of detention.

24. (1) Every police station and police post is a place of detention for a temporary confinement of persons charged with offences and those persons may be received and detained according to law.

(2) There shall be provided in every police station and police post cells or other accommodation for the secure confinement of persons referred to in subsection (1).

25. (1) Where a person is in the custody of a member of the Force without a warrant issued by the Court that a member of the Force may, subject to section 26, allow the person in custody bail by recognisance for his appearance before a Magistrate at a specified time and place and shall record the detail in a book to be known as the Police Bail Book which may be produced in evidence in any judicial proceedings relating to any matter recorded therein.

Person in custody without a warrant.

(2) Where a person who has been allowed bail under subsection (1)—

(a) fails to appear at the specified time and place and the Magistrate does not think fit to enlarge the recognisance; or

(b) the Magistrate having enlarged the recognisance, the person fails to appear at the time then appointed, the Magistrate may cause a record of the recognisance to be drawn up and dealt with in accordance with section 197 of the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act.

Cap. 44.

26. (1) When any person is apprehended without warrant after the hour of eight o'clock in the evening and before the hour of five o'clock in the morning, that person shall be taken to a police station, and the member of the Force in charge of the police station may allow bail by recognisance, with security, for the appearance of the person before the Court on a day mentioned in the recognisance to be dealt with according to law.

Persons apprehended after 8 o'clock in the evening.

(2) Any person referred to in subsection (1) who refuses or is unable to give security for his appearance as required by that subsection shall, as soon as is practicable after his apprehension, be brought before the Court to be dealt with according to law, except that, where the time is prescribed by law for taking such a person before the Court, the person must be taken before a Court within the prescribed time.

No bail to be granted in cases of certain offences.

27. Nothing contained in section 25 or 26 authorises a member of the Force to allow bail to a person charged with an offence the penalty for which is life imprisonment or a more severe penalty

Refusal of bail.

28. Where a member of the Force declines or refuses to allow bail to a person in his custody the member of the Force shall, as soon as is practicable, take or cause the person to be taken before the Court for the purpose of having him dealt with according to law.

Power to make measurements, photographs.

29. (1) A Gazetted Police Officer or any member of the Force of or below the rank of Inspector may request a person charged with an offence to submit to the taking and recording, for the purpose of identification, of his measurements, photograph and fingerprint impressions if he suspects that that person, from the nature or character of the offence with which he is charged (being a felony or misdemeanour) has been previously convicted or has been engaged in crime or that his measurements and photograph and fingerprint impressions (or any of them) are required in the interests of justice.

(2) Where a person referred to in subsection (1) refuses to submit to the taking of his measurements, photograph or fingerprint impressions he may be taken before a Magistrate and if the Magistrate is satisfied that the request to submit to the taking and recording thereof is reasonable, he may make such order with respect to the taking of the measurements, fingerprint impressions or the photograph as he considers justifiable.

(3) Where—

(a) measurements, fingerprint impressions or the photograph are taken of a person who has not previously been convicted of any criminal offence; and

(b) that person is subsequently discharged or acquitted by a court, all records that relate to the measurements, fingerprint impressions and the photograph shall, upon the discharge or acquittal of the person, be destroyed in the presence of a Gazetted Police Officer or Inspector or handed over to the person from whom they were taken.

30. Where—

Right of police officer to prosecute.

(a) a member of the Force lays an information or makes a complaint against any person before a Magistrate; or

(b) a person alleged to have committed an offence is apprehended and brought before a Magistrate, any other member of the Force has the same privileges as to addressing the Magistrate who is trying or inquiring into the information, complaint or charge, as the case may be, and examining the witnesses giving evidence as has the member of the Force in whose name the information, complaint or charge is laid, made, or brought.

31. (1) Notwithstanding any other law for the time being in force, a member of the Force may, if he considers it necessary to do so for the maintenance and preservation of law and order or for the prevention or detection of crime, erect or place or cause to be erected or placed, barriers in or across any public road or street or in any public place in such manner as he thinks fit, except that any such barrier shall be adequately illuminated to indicate the presence of the barrier on the road during the hours of darkness.

Road barriers.

(2) Any member of the Force, in uniform, may take all reasonable steps to prevent any vehicle being driven past a barrier erected or placed across a public road or street or in any public place under subsection (1) and a driver of a vehicle who fails to comply with a direction given by a member of the Force in uniform requiring him to stop the vehicle before reaching at or beyond any such barrier is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of seven hundred and fifty dollars or to imprisonment for a term of twelve months.

(3) No liability attaches to a member of the Force for—

(a) any loss or damage that happens to a vehicle; or

(b) any injury sustained by the driver or any other occupant of a vehicle, as a result of the driver of the vehicle failing to comply with a direction given by a member of the Force acting under subsection (2).

Duty to keep order in public road.

32. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law for the time being in force in the Territory members of the Force may, in uniform—

(a) regulate and control traffic on public roads or in public places;

(b) direct all or any particular kind of traffic where it is in the public interest to do so;

(c) keep order on public roads, streets and thoroughfares and at landing places and places of public resort or to which the public have access; and

(d) prevent or cause the removal of, any obstruction pedestrian or vehicular traffic on any public road, street, throughfare or landing place.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with a direction given by a member of the Force in the execution of his duty under any of the provisions of this section is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of two hundred and fifty dollars or to imprisonment for a term of three months and the member of the Force may, at the time of the obstruction, remove it or cause it to be removed to such place as he may designate.

PART IV.

DISCIPLINE.

Desertion.

33. A member of the Force who without reasonable excuse is absent without leave from duty for a continuous period of not less than twenty-eight days shall be deemed, until the contrary is proved, to have deserted the Force and is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of six months.

Punishment for serious offences.

34. (1) Any member of the Force who—

(a) begins, excites, causes, raises, abets, countenances or joins in any mutiny or sedition amongst other members of the Force;

(b) does not attempt to suppress any mutiny or sedition that he knows of within the Force;

(c) conspires with any other member of the Force or with any other person to cause any mutiny or sedition;

(d) having knowledge of any actual or planned mutiny does not without delay give information thereof to his superiors within the Force;

(e) strikes or offers violence of any description to a member of the Force; or

(f) wilfully permits the escape of any person detained in lawful custody, is guilty of an offence.

(2) A member of the Force who is at an unlawful assembly or a riot and does not do everything within his power to suppress it is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of six months.

(3) A member of the Force who—

(a) causes or attempts to cause or does any act calculated to cause disaffection amongst other members of the Force;

(b) induces or attempts to induce or does any act calculated to induce a member of the Force to withhold his services or to commit breach of discipline; or

(c) aids or incites a member of the Force or any other person to assault or resist a member of the Force in the execution of his duty, is guilty of an offence.

(4) a person guilty of an offence under subsections (1) and (3) is liable—

(a) on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term of three years; or

(b) on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of six months.

35. (1) The Commissioner may interdict from duty any Inspector or member of the Force of lower rank who is alleged to have committed an offence—

Interdiction and pay etc.

(a) pending investigation or inquiry into or the trial of, any offence or pending the determination of any appeal;

(b) pending—

- (i) investigation or inquiry into or the hearing of a charge relating to an offence against any of the disciplinary regulations made under this Act, or
- (ii) the final determination of any charge made in respect of any offence against those regulations.

(2) An Inspector or a member of the Force of lower rank interdicted from duty under either paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1) shall, during the period of interdiction, be placed on half pay if he is a bachelor, or three-quarters pay if he is married.

(3) If proceedings referred to in subsection (1) against an Inspector or a member of the Force of lower rank do not result in his dismissal from the Force then he is entitled, on cessation of his interdiction, to the full amount of pay withheld from him, except that if he is—

(a) convicted of an offence, whether upon summary conviction or upon indictment; or

(b) found guilty of an offence at the conclusion of disciplinary proceedings, and is not dismissed from the Force, then, he is not entitled to receive any pay so withheld.

(4) Any Inspector or a member of the Force of lower rank interdicted under this section does not, by reason only of the interdiction, cease to be a member of the Force, but—

(a) the powers, privileges and benefits vested on him by virtue of his office are in abeyance during the period of interdiction; and

(b) the Inspector or member of the Force of lower rank remains subject to the same responsibilities, discipline and penalties and to the same authority as if he had not been indicted.

Dismissal or reduction.

36. (1) The Governor may order the dismissal or discharge from the Force or reduction in rank of any Inspector who has been convicted of a criminal offence or found guilty of a breach of a disciplinary regulation unless the Inspector has successfully appealed against the conviction or the finding of his guilt.

(2) The Governor may order the dismissal or discharge from the Force or as the case may be, reduction in rank of any subordinate police officer or member of the Force of lower rank who has been convicted of a criminal offence or found guilty of a breach of a disciplinary regulation made under this Act unless such person has successfully appealed against the conviction or the finding of his guilt.

(3) Dismissal or reduction in rank under subsection (1) or (2) may be ordered in addition to any punishment that may be imposed on conviction whether or not, in the case of a dismissal, a recommendation to that effect has been made.

[ 37 ] (1) Any offence against the regulations that relates to the discipline of the Force may be inquired into and dealt with—

Hearing and determination of charge and complaint.

(a) in the case of an Inspector or subordinate police officer, by a Gazetted Police Officer; and

(b) in the case of a constable, by an Inspector, if the Gazetted Police Officer or Inspector, as the case may be, inquiring into the offence is not the complainant or a witness in the matter.

(2) A Gazetted Police Officer may impose on an Inspector or on a subordinate police officer, found guilty of an offence against the disciplinary regulations, any of the following punishments—

(a) a reprimand or severe reprimand;

(b) a fine not exceeding seventy-five dollars;

(c) loss of seniority; or

(d) in addition to the punishments specified in paragraph (a), (b) and (c), issue a general warning of dismissal, to be effective for a period not exceeding twelve months.

(3) An Inspector may impose on a constable, found guilty of an offence against the disciplinary regulations, any one or more of the following punishments—

(a) reprimand or severe reprimand;

(b) fine not exceeding fifty dollars; or

(c) loss of seniority, with or without a recommendation to the Commissioner that in addition to the punishments specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) that either a general warning of dismissal or specific warning of dismissal, to be effective for a period not exceeding twelve months, be issued to the offender.

(4) If a Gazetted Police Officer or an Inspector, after inquiring into an offence against the disciplinary regulations, finds that an offence had been committed but considers that—

(a) the punishment is inadequate that he is authorised to impose under the particular circumstances; and

(b) the nature of the disciplinary offence merits a heavier punishment, he shall remit the matter to the Commissioner for imposition of punishment.

(5) The Commissioner may, where a case has been remitted to him under subsection (4) impose any one or more of the punishments under subsection (2) or (3) and in addition thereto—

(a) recommend reduction in rank, loss of seniority, or dismissal or discharge from the Force, as the case may be, in the case of a subordinate police officer or constable; or

(b) recommend the reduction in rank, loss of seniority, discharge or dismissal from the Force in the case of an Inspector.

(6) No member of the Force shall be found guilty of a disciplinary offence unless the charge had been read and inquired into in his presence and he has been given sufficient opportunity to make his defence thereto.

(7) A member of the Force upon whom a punishment is imposed from which he is entitled to appeal to the Governor or to the Commissioner under section 39 shall, at the time when the punishment is imposed, be informed of his right of appeal.

(8) A Gazetted Police Officer or Inspector has the same powers in respect of securing and compelling the attendance of witnesses and their examination upon oath and otherwise as are conferred upon a Magistrate under the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act.

(9) Any person who, on the hearing of a disciplinary charge, gives false evidence on oath is guilty of the offence of perjury.

Cap. 44.

Review by Commissioner.

38. (1) The Commissioner may review any disciplinary proceedings conducted under this Act other than proceedings scheduled by himself.

(2) Where a member of the Force is found guilty of an offence against discipline under this Act a complete record of the proceedings shall be sent to the Commissioner who must examine it and, if he considers that the proceedings ought to be reviewed, may—

- (a) quash the findings;
- (b) quash the findings and find the accused guilty of another offence; or
- (c) with or without altering the findings—
  - (i) reduce or increase the punishment, or
  - (ii) with or without reducing or increasing the punishment alter the nature of it.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), the Commissioner shall not—

- (a) impose a punishment that the officer who conducted the proceedings was not empowered to impose; or
- (b) increase punishment without giving the person to be punished an opportunity of making representations in writing within seven days from the date of the notification of the intention of the Commissioner to increase the punishment.

39. (1) A subordinate police officer or a member of the Force of lower rank in respect of whom the Commissioner has decided to recommend—

- (a) reduction in rank or loss of seniority;
- (b) discharge; or
- (c) dismissal,

may, within seven days from the date on which the decision has been communicated to him, appeal in writing to the Governor against the finding that resulted in the decision or against the decision only or both; and the Governor may confirm or set aside the finding or confirm, set aside or vary the decision and the decision of the Governor is final.

(2) A member of the Force upon whom a Gazetted Police Officer has imposed a punishment or any constable upon whom an Inspector has imposed a punishment may, within seven days from the date on which the punishment has been communicated to him, appeal to the Commissioner.

Appeals.

(3) The Commissioner, in determining an appeal under subsection (2), has the powers of review contained in section 38 and a person who has appealed to the Commissioner and is aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioner may, within seven days from the date on which the decision of the Commissioner has been made known to him, appeal to the Governor.

(4) The Governor upon hearing an appeal may—

(a) allow the appeal;

(b) dismiss the appeal; or

(c) vary the punishment by substituting some other punishment which the Gazetted Police Officer or Inspector may have imposed.

(5) Every appeal under this section shall be in writing and the decision of the Governor is final.

Admonishment.

40. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent the Commissioner, a Gazetted Police Officer or an Inspector from admonishing or cautioning, a member of the Force of a lower rank than himself regarding the misconduct, inefficiency, neglect of duty or any other act of indiscipline of that member of the Force without the institution of proceedings.

(2) Where a member of the Force has been admonished or cautioned under subsection (1), a record shall be made of the admonishment or caution and shall be signed by the person who administered the caution and countersigned by the member of the Force admonished or cautioned.

Fines recoverable from pay.

41. (1) Fines imposed under this Act on a member of the Force for offences against discipline may be enforced by deducting them, either in whole or by monthly deductions, from any money due to him; but in no case shall a single deduction exceed one-third of his salary due to him in any one month.

(2) Where more than one deduction is liable to be made upon the same member of the Force, the enforcement of an order for deduction made later in date shall, if necessary, be postponed until the earlier orders for deduction have been satisfied.

42. A member of the Force who loses or causes damage to any arms, equipment, uniform or other accoutrements or property supplied to him or committed to his charge, in the execution of his duty may, in addition to or in lieu of any other punishment, be ordered to make good either partially or wholly the amount of the loss or damage and the amount may, subject to the limitations set out in section 41 (2), be recovered by deductions from moneys due to him.

Loss or damage to arms and equipment.

43. Nothing in this Part shall be construed as a substitute for the arrest and prosecution of a member of the Force who has committed an offence punishable on summary conviction or on indictment.

Arrest of members of the Force.

PART V.

PAY, ALLOWANCES AND OTHER FINANCIAL PROVISIONS.

44. Every member of the Force is entitled to such pay and allowances as may from time to time be voted for the purpose by the Legislative Council.

Pay and allowances.

45. (1) There shall be maintained a fund to be known as the Police Reward Fund, in this Act referred to as the Reward Fund, into which shall be paid—

Reward Fund.

(a) all fines imposed on members of the Force as a result of disciplinary proceedings; and

(b) subject to subsection (3), all costs and damages awarded to a member of the Force acting as a prosecutor in a summary criminal trial.

(2) The moneys comprising the Reward Fund shall be applied towards the payment of such rewards, gratuities or bounties or for such other purposes as the Commissioner may direct.

(3) Where, by any law in force in the Territory—

(a) it is provided that any part or share of any seizure or forfeiture or proceeds thereof is or may be awarded to any person or prosecutor, informer or otherwise; and

(b) in pursuance thereof any such part or share is awarded to a member of the Force, that member of the Force is entitled to have it for his personal use and benefit.

Investment of Reward Fund.

46. (1) The Governor may direct the Commissioner to invest any moneys belonging to the Reward Fund, or any portion thereof, in any loan or public security under any law in force in the Territory or in any bank; and the principal and interest on every such investment may be applied in like manner and for the like purposes as the Reward Fund.

(2) The Commissioner shall keep an account of the receipts and disbursements of the Reward Fund, which shall be subject to audit by the Chief Auditor.

PART VI.

RETIREMENT, PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES.

Definition for purpose of Part VI.

47. For the purposes of this Part "pay" in relation to a member of the Force, includes his salary, good conduct pay and detective and rent allowances (inclusive of the estimated value of free quarters).

Pensions to be charged on revenue of Territory.

48. There shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund all such amounts as are granted by way of pension, gratuity or other allowance in accordance with the provisions of this Part to persons who have been members of the Force.

Grant of pensions.

49. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Part, the Governor may grant to every member of the Force on his retirement from the Force, if he has served in the Force for a period of ten years or more, a pension at the rate of seventeen-sixtieths of his pay with an addition of one-sixtieth in respect of each complete year of such service in excess of ten years.

(2) A pension granted by virtue of subsection (1) to a person eligible therefor shall not exceed two-thirds of his average pay during the period of three years immediately preceding his retirement.

Pay to be taken for computation of pension etc.

50. (1) For the purposes of computing the amount payable as pension to a member of the Force the following principles shall be followed, as the case requires—

(a) in the case of a member of the Force who has held the same rank for a period of three years immediately preceding the date of his retirement, the pension payable to him shall be based on the full annual pay to which he was entitled at that date in respect of that rank;

(b) in the case of a member of the Force who, at any time during the period of three years immediately preceding the date of his retirement, had been transferred from one rank to another but whose pay has been changed by reasons of the transfer, the pension payable to him shall be based on the full annual pay to which he was entitled in respect of the rank held by him at the date of his retirement; and

(c) in any case not provided for in paragraph (a) or (b), the pension payable to a member of the Force upon his retirement from the Force shall be based on one-third of the aggregate pay enjoyed by him in respect of his service during the three years of his service immediately preceding the date of his retirement.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (c) of subsection (1)—

(a) if one-third of the aggregate pay referred to in that paragraph is less than the highest annual pay to which the member of the Force was entitled at the date of any transfer within the period of three years immediately preceding his retirement, then his pension shall be based on his highest annual pay;

(b) if one-third of the aggregate pay referred to in that paragraph is less than the annual pay to which he was entitled at the date of his retirement had he—

(i) continued to hold the rank from which he was transferred, and

(ii) received all increments that, in the opinion of the Governor, might have been granted to him, then, the pension payable to him shall be based on the annual pay to which he was entitled at the date of his retirement.

(3) For the purposes of calculating pay for the computation of pensions under this section, a member of the Force shall be deemed to have been on duty on full pay throughout the period of three years immediately preceding the date of his retirement but if one-third of the aggregate pay referred to in that paragraph is less than the pay to which he was entitled at the date of his retirement, had he—

(a) continued to hold the rank from which he was transferred, and

(b) received all increments that, in the opinion of the Governor, might have been granted to him, then, the pension payable to him shall be based on the annual pay to which he was entitled at the date of his retirement.

Increase in pension in special circumstances.

51. A member of the Force who has completed more than ten years' service but less than twenty years' service and retires from the Force on the findings of a medical board as provided in subsection (1) of section 52 may be granted a pension based on twenty years' service.

Circumstances in which pension may not be granted.

52. (1) Subject to subsection (2), no pension shall be granted—

(a) to an Inspector who—

(i) has not been in the service of the Force for a continuous period of at least twenty-five years, or

(ii) has not attained the age of fifty-five years, except in a special case where his retirement from the Force on or after attaining the age of fifty years is permitted by the Governor in accordance with section 66(3); or

(b) to a subordinate police officer or constable who—

(i) has not been in the service of the Force for a continuous period of at least twenty-five years, or

(ii) has not attained the age of fifty years, unless the Governor is satisfied by the findings of a medical board that the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable is incapacitated by some infirmity of mind or body for further service in the Force and that the infirmity is likely to be permanent.

(2) Where a member of the Force—

(a) is required to retire in accordance with the provisions of section 54; or

(b) has been discharged in accordance with the provisions of section 16, and a pension, gratuity or other allowance cannot otherwise be granted to him under the provisions of this Part, the Governor may, in his discretion, grant him a pension, gratuity or other allowance not exceeding that for which he would have been eligible if he had been permitted to retire from the service of the Force on the findings of a medical board.

53. The Governor may grant to any member of the Force a gratuity at the rate of half a month's pay for each complete six months of service if the member of the Force has reached the age of retirement without having completed ten years' service.

Gratuity where length of service does not qualify for pension.

54. Where the Governor considers on the recommendations of the Commissioner that it is desirable in the public interest that any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable should be required to retire from the Force, he shall call for a full report from the Commissioner concerning the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable and if after—

Compulsory retirement.

(a) considering the report; and

(b) giving the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable an opportunity of submitting a reply to the grounds upon which his retirement is contemplated, he is satisfied, having regard to the conditions of the Force, the usefulness of the officer thereto and all the other circumstances of the case, that it is desirable in the public interest that the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable retire from the service of the Force, he may require the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable to retire on such date as the Governor may specify.

55. (1) This section applies to an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable who, while he is in the service of the Force—

Retirement.

(a) is permanently injured in the actual discharge of his duty by some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his duty or any accident whilst on duty which is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct; or

(b) contracts a disease to which he is specifically exposed by the nature of his duty, not being a disease wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct.

(2) In this section, unless the contrary intention appears, reference to an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable being injured and to the date on which an injury is sustained shall respectively be construed as including references to an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable who has contracted a disease as is mentioned in subsection (1) and references to the date on which the disease is contracted, as the case may be.

(3) Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable to whom this section applies is the holder of a pensionable office in which he is confirmed—

(a) he may, if—

- (i) his retirement is necessitated or materially accelerated by his injury, and
- (ii) he has been in the service of the Force for a period of less than ten years, be granted, in lieu of any gratuity under section 53, a pension under section 49 except that the words “for a period of ten years or more” appearing in section 49 shall be disregarded; and

(b) he may be granted on his retirement an additional pension at the annual rate of the proportion of his actual pay at the date of his injury appropriate in his case if his capacity to contribute to his support is reduced, as follows—

- (i) slightly impaired, forty four-hundred-and-eightieths of a month’s pay,
- (ii) impaired, eighty four-hundred-and-eightieths of a month’s pay,
- (iii) materially impaired, one hundred and twenty four-hundred-and-eightieths of a month’s pay,
- (iv) totally destroyed, one hundred and sixty four-hundred-and-eightieths of a month’s pay, except that the amount of the additional pension may be reduced to such an extent as the Governor considers reasonable where the injury is not a cause or the sole cause of retirement.

(4) If, at the time of assessing the amounts of any additional pension or pension to be granted under paragraph (b) of subsection (3) to any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable to whom this section applies, there is doubt as to the degree of permanent impairment of his capacity to contribute to his support, he may be granted a provisional award which shall be reviewed when the degree of his permanent impairment is ascertained.

(5) Subsection (1) applies in respect of—

(a) an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable who is proceeding by a route approved by the Governor to or from the Territory at the commencement or termination of his service in the Territory or at the commencement or termination of a period of leave therefrom, and

(i) is permanently injured as the result of damage to any vessel, aircraft or vehicle in which he is travelling, and

(ii) the Governor is satisfied that the damage is attributable to circumstances arising out of any war in which Her Majesty may be engaged; and

(b) an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable who is—

(i) permanently injured while travelling in pursuance of official instructions, and

(ii) the injury is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct.

(6) In a case where subsection (5) applies, the rates of pension prescribed in subsection (3) shall be sixty four-hundred-and-eightieths, one hundred and twenty four-hundred-and-eightieths, one hundred and eighty four-hundred-and-eightieths and two hundred and forty four-hundred-and-eightieths, respectively.

(7) Where the Governor is satisfied that damages have been or will be recovered by an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable in respect of an injury for which an additional pension or pension may be granted under paragraph (b) of subsection (3), the Governor may take the damages into account against such additional pension or pension in such manner and to such extent as he considers reasonable and may withhold or reduce the additional pension accordingly.

(8) For the purpose of subsection (7), an Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable shall be deemed to recover damages whether they are paid in pursuance of a judgment or an order of the Court or by way of settlement or compromise of his claim and whether or not proceedings are instituted to enforce that claim.

(9) If any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable—

(a) is injured in the actual discharge of his duty and the injury is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct; or

(b) contracts a disease to which he is specifically exposed by the nature of his duty, not being a disease wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct, and the effects of either the injury or disease do not necessitate retirement not materially accelerate his retirement then the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable may be granted compensation by way of an ex gratia payment as recommended to the Governor by a panel of two assessors appointed by him at the time for the purpose of assessment.

Reduced pension and gratuity.

56. (1) Every Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable who becomes eligible for a pension under the provisions of this Part may, at his option, be paid on his retirement a reduced pension and gratuity in lieu of a pension for which he may be eligible under this Part.

(2) An option referred to in subsection (1) is exercisable not later than the day immediately preceding the date of retirement of the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable; but the Governor may, in a reasonable case allow an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or constable to exercise the option at any time between the date of retirement and the date of award of pension.

(3) Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable has exercised an option referred to in subsection (1), his decision made as a result of the exercise of the option is irrevocable after the date of his retirement.

(4) Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable who has not exercised an option referred to in subsection (1) dies after the date of retirement but before a pension has been awarded under this Part, the Governor may grant a gratuity and a reduced pension as provided in subsection (1) as if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable had exercised the option before his death.

(5) The date of the exercise of the option by an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable is the date of the receipt by the Commissioner of a written notification thereof signed by the person exercising the option.

57. A reduced pension is a pension equal to three-fourths of the pension that would be payable under this Part including any payments granted under section 55 and a gratuity is the amount that one-fourth of the pension payable under this Part, including the payments referred to in this section, when multiplied by twelve and one-half, represents.

Meaning of reduced pension or gratuity.

58. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 60, where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable dies while in the service of the Force, the Governor may grant to his legal personal representative a gratuity of an amount not exceeding either three times his annual pay or his commuted pension gratuity, if any, whichever is the greater.

Gratuity where Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable dies in the service of the Force or after his retirement.

(2) For the purposes of this section—

(a) “annual pay” means the pay that would be taken for the purpose of computing any pension or gratuity granted to an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable if he had retired from the Force at the date of his death on the findings of a medical board as provided in subsection (1) of section 52; and

(b) “commuted pension gratuity” means the gratuity, if any, that might have been granted to an Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable under section 52, if—

- (i) his service had been wholly in the Territory,
- (ii) he had retired from the Force at the date of his death on the findings of a medical board as provided in subsection (1) of section 52, and
- (iii) he had elected to receive a reduced pension and gratuity.

(3) Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable to whom a gratuity or other allowance has been granted under this Part dies after retirement from the Force, and the amounts paid or payable to him at his death on account of any pension, gratuity or other allowance in respect of his service in the Force are less than the amount of his annual pay at the date of his retirement, the Governor may grant to his legal personal representative a gratuity equal to the deficiency.

Gratuity where death due to injuries received or disease contracted in the discharge of duty.

59. Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable, while he is in the service of the Force, dies—

(a) in the actual discharge of his duty from some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his duty or any accident while on duty; or

(b) as a result of contracting a disease to which he is specifically exposed by the nature of his duty, which injury or disease is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious or culpable negligence or misconduct and death occurs within seven years from the date of the injury or the contracting of the disease, the Governor may grant to the legal personal representative of the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable either a gratuity or an amount not exceeding his pay for ten years or a gratuity under the provisions of section 58, whichever is the greater.

Pension to dependants where Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable dies as a result of injuries received or disease contracted in the discharge of his duties.

60. (1) Where an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable, while he is in the service of the Force dies, either in the actual discharge of his duty from some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his duty or any accident while on duty; or as a result of contracting a disease to which he is specifically exposed by the nature of his duty; which injury or disease is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious or culpable negligence or misconduct and death occurs within seven years from the date of the injury or the contracting of the disease, the Governor may grant, in addition to a grant, if any, made to his legal personal representative under section 58 or section 59, a pension as follows—

(a) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable, leaves a widow but no issue, a pension to her while she remains unmarried at a rate not exceeding one-half of his pay at the date of his death or his full pension entitlement before commutation, whichever is the greater;

(b) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable leaves a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (a) and children, a pension of an amount not exceeding one-eighth of the pension specified in that paragraph, in respect of each child, until he attains the age of eighteen years;

(c) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable leaves children but no widow, or if no pension is granted to his widow, a pension equal to double the amount specified in paragraph (b) in respect of each child until he attains the age of eighteen years;

(d) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable leaves children and a widow to whom a pension is granted under paragraph (a) and the widow subsequently dies, a pension equal to double the amount specified in paragraph (b) in respect of each child as from the date of the death of the widow until the child attains the age of eighteen years;

(e) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable does not leave a widow, or if no pension is granted to his widow, and if his mother is wholly or mainly dependent on him for her support, a pension to his mother of an amount not exceeding the pension that might have been granted to his widow, while his mother is without adequate means of support;

(f) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable does not leave a widow or mother, or if no pension is granted to his widow or mother and if his father is wholly or mainly dependent on him for his support, a pension to the father of an amount not exceeding the pension that might have been granted to his widow, while his father is without adequate means of support;

(g) if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable does not leave any children who may be eligible for pension under the provisions of this section, but leaves a brother or sister who is wholly or mainly dependent on him for support, a pension to any such brother or sister of an amount not exceeding the pension that might have been granted under paragraphs (b) and (c) until he or she attains the age of eighteen years while the brother or sister is without adequate means of support.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1)—

(a) if in the opinion of the Governor there are compassionate grounds for so doing, he may grant to a child of any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable being a child who at the date of the death in service of the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable was wholly or mainly dependent on him for support and had attained the age of eighteen years, a pension for such period as the Governor may determine, of an amount not exceeding the pension that may be granted under paragraph (b) of subsection (1);

(b) where any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable dies in service and leaves a child who was incapacitated at the time of the Inspector's, subordinate police officer's or constable's death the Governor may, notwithstanding any pension that may have been granted under paragraph (b) or paragraph (c) of subsection (1), grant an additional pension in respect of the incapacitated child after he has attained the age of eighteen years and for so long as his incapacity continues, of an amount not exceeding one-half of the pension that may have been granted;

(c) no pension is payable under this subsection at any time in respect of more than six children exclusive of incapacitated children;

(d) in the case of a pension granted under paragraph (e) of subsection (1), if the mother is a widow at the time of the grant of the pension and subsequently re-marries, any pension that is being paid to her ceases as from the date of re-marriage; and if it appears to the Governor at any time that a mother who is in receipt of a pension under subsection (1) is adequately provided with other means of support, the pension shall cease as from such date as the Governor may determine;

(e) a pension granted to a female child under this section ceases upon the marriage of the child.

(3) An Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable shall be deemed to have died in circumstances described in subsection (1) if—

(a) he is proceeding by a route approved by the Governor to or from the Territory or from one island in the Territory to another, at the commencement or termination of his service in the Territory or of a period of leave therefrom and dies as the result of—

(i) damage to any vessel, aircraft or vehicle in which he is travelling, or

- (ii) any act of violence directed against the vessel, aircraft or vehicle, and the Governor is satisfied that the damage or act is attributable to circumstances arising out of war in which Her Majesty may be engaged;

(b) he dies as a result of an injury received while travelling by air in pursuance of official instructions and the injury is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct; except that in a case mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b) the rates of pension prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) shall be fifteen-sixtieths and one-sixth, respectively.

(4) Where the Governor is satisfied that damages have been recovered in respect of a death in respect of which an additional pension or a pension may be granted under subsection (1) the Governor may take those damages into account against the additional pension or pension in such manner and to such extent as he thinks fit and may withhold or reduce the additional pension or pension accordingly.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (1) any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable shall be deemed to recover damages whether they are paid in pursuance of a judgment or an order of a Court or by way of settlement or compromise of his claim and whether or not proceedings are instituted to enforce that claim.

(6) For the purposes of this section—

(a) “brother” and “sister” means brother and sister of the whole blood,

(b) “child” includes—

(i) a posthumous child;

(ii) a step-child;

(iii) an illegitimate child if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable is the mother and the child was conceived before the date of the injury or contracting of the disease, as the case may be, and is wholly or mainly dependent upon the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable for support; and

(iv) an adopted child adopted in a manner recognised by law, before the date of the injury or the contracting of the disease, as the case may be, and is dependent upon the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable for support;

(c) "incapacitated", in relation to a child, means incapable by reason of some specific bodily or mental disability of earning his own living; and a child who is, in any event, too young to earn his own living shall be treated as incapacitated for the purposes of this section if it appears that, by reason of any specific bodily or mental disability, he will be incapable of earning his own living when he attains the age at which he would otherwise be capable of so doing; and

(d) "mother" and "father" include, in relation to a person, his stepmother, or stepfather and a person by whom he has been lawfully adopted.

Pension not of right.

61. No Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable has an absolute right to compensation for past service or to any pension, gratuity or other allowance under this Part.

Pension not to be assignable.

62. No pension granted under this Part is assignable, transferable or liable to be attached, sequestered, or levied upon for or in respect of any debt or claim whatsoever.

Pension to cease on conviction.

63. (1) If any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable to whom a pension has been granted under this Part is convicted before a court in the Commonwealth of any offence for which he is sentenced to death or a term of imprisonment with hard labour exceeding twelve months his pension ceases if he does not within two months from the date of the conviction receive Her Majesty's free pardon, or the equivalent thereof.

(2) The Governor may restore the pension of an Inspector or of a subordinate police officer or constable who after conviction has received Her Majesty's free pardon or its equivalent at any time, if the Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable is resident in the Territory.

Pension to cease on bankruptcy.

64. The pension of an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or a constable ceases upon his becoming a bankrupt but if the pensioner is resident in the Territory, the Governor may during the remainder of the pensioner's life or during such shorter period either continuous or discontinuous, as the Governor thinks fit, pay all or any part of the pension, to which the pensioner would have been entitled by way of pension had he not become bankrupt, to or towards the maintenance and person support or benefit of all or any of the following persons, namely, the pensioner, his wife, and any children of his in such proportions and manner as the Governor considers proper.

65. If any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable to whom a pension has been granted under this Part is appointed to any office in the Public Service or is re-appointed to the Force, the payment of his pension may if the Governor thinks fit, be suspended during the period of his re-employment.

Suspension of pension on re-employment.

66. (1) Every Inspector, subordinate police officer and constable may be required by the Governor to retire from the Force after he has served twenty-five years or more in the Force.

Retirement from the Force.

(2) Every subordinate police officer and constable may be required by the Governor to retire from the Force on or after attaining the age of fifty years.

(3) The Governor may, on recommendation by the Commissioner, permit an Inspector to retire on or after attaining the age of fifty years.

(4) Every Inspector, subordinate police officer and constable shall be required to retire from the Force on his attaining the age of fifty-five years.

67. This Part applies to every Inspector, subordinate police officer and constable who is serving in the Force at the commencement of this Act and is subsequently appointed to or promoted in, the service of the Force.

Application of Part VI.

PART VII.

WELFARE.

68. (1) For the purpose of enabling Inspectors, subordinate police officers and constables of the Force to consider and bring to the notice of the Commissioner and the Governor matters affecting their general welfare and efficiency, there shall be continued under this Act the established organisation known as the Police Welfare Association which shall act through Boards and a Central Committee as provided by rules made under section 69.

(2) No representation shall be made by the Association in relation to any question of discipline, promotion, transfer or leave unless some question of principle is involved.

(3) The Association shall continue to be entirely independent of and unassociated with any body outside the Force.

Police
Association Rules.

69. The Governor may make rules for the constitution and governance of the Association.

Establishment
and administration of Police Welfare Fund.

70. (1) There is established a fund to be known as the Police Welfare Fund, in this Part referred to as the "Welfare Fund".

(2) The Welfare Fund comprises—

(a) the proceeds of all property sold in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (c) of subsection (3) of section 78, after deduction of expenses incurred under that subsection;

(b) all moneys referred to in paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of section 78, after the requirements of that paragraph have been complied with; and

(c) such contributions to the Welfare Fund as the Commissioner considers acceptable for payment into the Welfare Fund.

(3) The Welfare Fund shall be administered by the Commissioner and withdrawals therefrom may only be made on authorisation given by him in writing for the following purposes—

(a) the granting of assistance to wives or families of deceased Inspectors, subordinate police officers and constables;

(b) the providing of suitable comforts to Inspectors, subordinate police officers and constables, who are detained in a hospital for treatment; and

(c) the providing of assistance in any case that the Commissioner considers reasonable for the welfare of an Inspector, a subordinate police officer or constable.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the Commissioner may promote fund raising activities to raise money for payment into the Welfare Fund.

71. The Commissioner may direct the investment of any moneys belonging to the Welfare Fund or any portion thereof by way of a loan or public security under any enactment or by way of deposit in any locally registered bank; and the principal and interest of every such investment may be applied in like manner and for like purposes as the Welfare Fund is by this Act applicable.

Investment of Welfare Fund.

PART VIII.

PROHIBITED ASSOCIATIONS.

72. (1) No member of the Force shall be or become a member of—

Members of the Force not to join prohibited association.

(a) any trade union as defined by the Trade Unions Act, whether or not the trade union is registered or incorporated; or

(b) a prohibited association within the meaning of subsection (3).

(2) A member of the Force who becomes a member of a trade union or prohibited association, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars in addition to dismissal from the Force.

(3) For the purposes of this section "prohibited association" means—

(a) any league or association or body of persons, whether registered or not, that has for its object, or one of its objects, the promotion of feelings of ill-will and hostility between different classes or races;

(b) any other association, society or club, any of the objects of which are calculated to be subversive of good discipline on the part of a member of the Force, and which the Commissioner, with the approval of the Governor, declares to be a prohibited association.

Prohibition of members of the Force receiving benefits from prohibited associations.

73. No member of the Force shall—

(a) receive any financial or other benefit from a prohibited association;

(b) contribute financially or otherwise to a prohibited association; or

(c) knowingly, be a party to any matter prohibited under paragraph (a) or (b).

PART IX.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Canteens.

74. (1) There may be established, with the approval of the Commissioner, police canteens in the Territory at which the keepers thereof may sell intoxicating liquor by retail to members of the Force.

(2) The Commissioner may make rules in regard to the hours during which police canteens shall be kept open on each day for the proper management and control thereof.

Hospital treatment and medical attention at Government expense.

75. (1) All members of the Force are entitled to hospital treatment and medical and surgical attention—

(a) within the Territory, if the treatment is immediately available in the Territory;

(b) outside the Territory, if the treatment is not immediately available in the Territory; and the cost of the treatment and attention is a charge on the Consolidated Fund.

(2) If a member of the Force is incapacitated for duty by his own misconduct the Governor may order that he forfeit the whole or any part of his pay for the period during which he is so incapacitated.

(3) Where any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable dies while he is in the service of the Force the Governor may order that his funeral expenses be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund.

Examination by medical board.

76. The Governor may appoint a medical board consisting of one or more medical practitioners to examine any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable who the Governor considers to be incapacitated for further performance of police duties.

77. The Governor may discharge from the Force any Inspector, subordinate police officer or constable who is certified by a medical board appointed under section 76 to be incapacitated and unfit for further service by reason of any infirmity of mind or body that is likely to be permanent.

Discharge on medical grounds.

78. (1) Where property has come into the possession of the Force in connection with a criminal charge or under section 30 of the Pawnbrokers Act, a Magistrate may, on application by a member of the Force or by a claimant of the property, make an order for the delivery of the property to the person appearing to the Magistrate to be the owner thereof, or if the owner cannot be ascertained, make such order with respect to the property as the Magistrate considers just.

Unclaimed property.

Cap. 296.

(2) The making of an order by a Magistrate under this section does not affect the right of any person to take legal proceedings against any person in possession of the property in question for the recovery of the property.

(3) All property that has come into the possession of the Force under the circumstances mentioned in subsection (1) and all property that has otherwise come into possession of the Force in respect of which the owner has not been ascertained and no order of a court has been made with respect thereto shall be dealt with as follows—

(a) if the property is of a perishable nature, or its custody involves unreasonable expense or inconvenience, it may be sold as soon as convenient after it has come into the possession of the Force;

(b) if the property consists of money, then, after it has remained in the possession of the Force for a period of three months it shall be dealt with in all respects as is provided in this section with regard to the proceeds of sales; and

(c) if the property comprises property not described in paragraph (a) or (b), it may be sold by public auction after it has remained in the possession of the Force for three months and has been advertised for a period of fourteen days or, if the Commissioner approves, it may be appropriated for use by the Force in the execution of its duties if the nature of the property so permits.

(4) The proceeds of all sales under this section shall, after deduction of expenses incurred as a result of custody and the sale thereof, be received by the member of the Force in charge of each sale and paid or transmitted to a member of the Force appointed by the Commissioner who shall deposit them to the credit of the Police Welfare Fund.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (4), property found by any person other than a member of the Force the disposal of which property has not been provided for by any law and has not been claimed by its true owner, may be delivered to the finder on his claiming the property but delivery to the finder shall not be made until the property has remained in the possession of the Force for a period of three months.

(6) In the event of property referred to in subsection (5) being of a nature that necessitates the immediate sale thereof, the proceeds of sale—

(a) shall be paid or transmitted to a member of the Force appointed by the Commissioner who shall deposit the proceeds to the credit of the Police Welfare Fund; and

(b) may, on the expiration of a period of three months from the date of sale, after deduction of the expenses of sale, be transferred to the finder on his claiming them, if they have not been claimed by the true owner.

(7) In all cases in which property deposited with the Force, or the proceeds of the sale thereof are delivered to the finder, the finder may be required to execute a bond of indemnity to the Force in respect of delivery; but if the finder cannot be located or does not claim the property, before the expiration of a period of three months following the date on which the property came into the custody of the Force, the property may be disposed of as set forth in subsection (3).

(8) Subject to any other law for the time being in force, in all cases where property that has been deposited with the Force cannot be dealt with in accordance with subsections (2) to (6), the property may be destroyed by the Force on the order of the Commissioner in each case if it is not claimed after the expiration of a period of three months.

PART X.

VIRGIN ISLANDS AUXILIARY POLICE FORCE.

79. (1) There is established an auxiliary force to be known as the Virgin Islands Auxiliary Police Force. Establishment of Auxiliary Force.

- (2) The Auxiliary Force consists of such persons who—

PART II

ESTABLISHMENT, CONSTITUTION AND STATUS OF THE BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS PORTS AUTHORITY

Establishment of the Authority.

3. (1) For the purposes of this Act, there is hereby established an Authority to be known as the British Virgin Islands Ports Authority.

(2) The Authority shall be a body corporate and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal and may sue and be sued in that name and perform such other acts as bodies corporate perform.

First Schedule.

(3) The provisions of the First Schedule shall have effect with respect to the constitution of the Authority and otherwise in relation thereto.

Functions of the Authority.

4. The functions of the Authority shall be -

(a) to provide, operate, and maintain all port and harbour services and facilities in the Territory as the Minister considers necessary;

(b) to take such action as the Authority considers necessary in relation to the exercise of any of its functions mentioned in paragraph (a);

(c) to provide in any port or harbour, directly or through any authorized agent, regular services for stevedoring, shipping and transshipping, landing and warehousing loading and unloading of any cargo;

- (d) to collect the dues and charges authorized by this Act or the regulations;
- (e) to develop and manage all lands including lands on or under the sea-bed leased to or vested in the authority;
- (f) to perform such acts as the Minister determines and report to the Minister at such times as he requires respecting the matters to which this Act relates; and
- (g) generally to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Powers of the Authority.

5. Without prejudice to section 4, in the exercise of its functions under this Act, the Authority may -

- (a) make rules in relation to officers and other employees of the Authority including their appointment, promotion, remuneration, discipline, conduct, leave, working times, holidays and grant of loans and advances of salary to them;
- (b) make rules and prescribe procedures in respect of the administration of the Authority;
- (c) delegate to the Managing Director or any member of the Authority any such functions as the Authority may consider necessary to delegate for the efficient transaction of business;
- (d) co-ordinate and execute any Government project in any specified port;
- (e) control the entry of vehicles, persons, goods and animals within the limits of any specified port and to regulate their movements within such limits;

- (f) determine, impose and levy rates, charges, dues or fees for -
  - (i) services performed,
  - (ii) the use by any person of any facilities or services provided by the Authority; or
  - (iii) the grant to any person of a certificate, licence or permit;
- (g) prohibit, control or regulate -
  - (i) the use by any person of the services performed or the facilities provided by the Authority; or
  - (ii) the presence of any person, ship, vehicle or goods within any harbour port or premises occupied for the purposes of the Authority;
- (h) enter into agreement with any person for -
  - (i) the supply, construction (whether on or under the sea-bed or elsewhere), manufacture, maintenance or repair of any property, real or personal, which, in the opinion of the Authority, is necessary or desirable for the purpose of discharging any of its functions;
  - (ii) the performance or the provision any of the services or facilities which may be performed or provided by the Authority;
  - (iii) the payment or collection of any rates, charges or other receipts arising out of the performance or the provision of any of those services or facilities referred to in sub-paragraph (ii);
  - (iv) the raising by the Authority of charges or dues different from those specified in the Tariff Book, and for such purposes, to finance or assist in financing whether by way of loan, the holding of stocks, shares or securities, the guaranteeing of interest or dividends on stocks, shares or securities, or otherwise;

- (i) enter into, and perform, directly or through any officer or agent authorized in that behalf by the Authority, all such contracts as may be necessary for the performance of the functions of and the exercise of the powers of the Authority;
- (j) engage in such other activities and do such other things as appear to the Authority to be beneficial or necessary or convenient for it to carry on, for or in connection with the exercise, performance and discharge of its functions or duties under this Act or necessary for carrying on its business;
- (k) established and maintain on and off the coast of the Territory such lights and other means for the guidance and protection of vessels as are necessary for navigation in and out of the specified ports; and
- (l) control the use of, and to issue licences in respect of all vessels crafts, equipment, vehicles and services that are operated within the limits of any specified port.

Powers of entry on land or building.

6. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Authority may authorize any employee or any agent of the Authority to enter at all reasonable hours of the day into or upon, by himself or with such other assistants as are necessary any land or building for the purpose of making any survey or inspection or of executing any work required to be made or executed for the purposes of this Act.

(2) No land or building may be entered upon by a person authorized under subsection (1) unless at least seven days notice thereof is given to the owner or occupier of the land or building.

(3) An employee acting in accordance with an authorization under subsection (1) and all other persons assisting him shall cause no more damage than is necessary for the purpose, and where any damage is so caused to any person, no action or suit shall lie, but such person is entitled to compensation in respect of the damage.

(4) In the case of a dispute in relation to liability or to the amount of compensation payable under this section, the matter shall be determined in accordance with the Arbitration Ordinance, 1976.

(5) Nothing in subsection (3) shall be construed as entitling any person to compensation -

(a) for any damage suffered, unless that person would have been entitled to compensation otherwise than under subsection (3); or

(b) for any damage suffered as a result of the use of any works authorized under this Act or the regulations unless such damage results from negligence in such use.

PART III

FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

Establishment and management of Fund.

7. (1) The Authority shall have its own Fund. All receipts of the Authority shall be paid into the Fund and all payments made by the Authority shall be paid out of the Fund.

(2) The Authority shall keep proper accounts of the Fund and proper records in relation thereto.

(3) The Authority shall, at least two months before the commencement of each financial year, submit to the Minister in respect of such year and in such form as he approves -

(a) estimates of capital expenditure for his approval;

(b) a statement of revenue and other expenditure for his information.

(4) The Authority shall within three months from the end of each financial year to which the accounts relate, prepare and submit a statement of accounts in respect of that year.

(5) The accounts of the Authority shall be audited at least once every financial year by an Auditor appointed by the Authority with the approval of the Minister.

(6) The fee to be paid to the auditor appointed under subsection (5) shall be such sum as the Authority determines.

Power to issue debentures or debenture stock or other security for the purpose of raising capital.

8. (1) Subject to subsection (3), the Authority may, borrow or raise money by the issue of debentures or debenture stock, or other security -

- (a) for the provision of working capital;
- (b) for the provision of capital for the expansion of and additions to its fixed assets;
- (c) for the repayment of any moneys borrowed or raised by the Authority;
- (d) to meet any other expenditure properly chargeable to capital account.

(2) Without prejudice to subsection (1), the Authority may, borrow by the way of overdraft or otherwise such sums as are required by the Authority for meeting its obligations and discharging its functions under this Act.

(3) The total amount of moneys borrowed or raised under this section shall not at any one time exceed such sum, having regard to the assets of the Authority, as the Minister responsible for Finance determines.

Guarantee of borrowings by Government.

9. (1) The Minister responsible for Finance may with the approval of the Legislative Council guarantee, in such manner and on such conditions as he thinks fit, the payment of the principal and of interest and other on any borrowings of the Authority under sections 8 and 10.

(2) Any guarantee given under this section shall be given in writing in the name of the Government, and such guarantee may be signed on behalf of the Government by the Minister responsible for Finance or any person authorized in writing to do so by the Minister responsible for Finance.

(3) As soon as possible after a guarantee is given under this section, the Minister responsible for Finance shall cause to be presented to the Legislative Council a statement of the guarantee.

(4) Where the Government has guaranteed a loan, the Minister responsible for Finance may, from time to time, give general or special directions in writing to the Authority to furnish him with such returns and information with respect to the steps being taken to repay the loan and the Authority shall carry out every such direction.

(5) Where it is made to appear to the Minister responsible for Finance that there is reasonable cause to believe that the Government is or may become liable under any guarantee given under this section, the Minister responsible for Finance may give in writing such directions to the Authority to ensure that satisfactory arrangements are made by the Authority to enable it to duly discharge its obligations under this section and the Authority shall comply with such directions.

(6) Where the Minister responsible for Finance is satisfied that there is default in the repayment by the Authority of any principal moneys or interest guaranteed under this section, he shall direct that the repayment of such moneys or interest be made out of the Consolidated Fund.

borrow from Government.

10. (1) The Authority may borrow by way of advances from the Government such sums as are necessary for carrying out its functions under this Act.

(2) Notice of advances made to the Authority under this section shall be given to the Legislative Council by the Minister responsible for Finance.

(3) For the purposes of making advances to the Authority, the Minister responsible for Finance may authorize advances out of the Consolidated Fund or from the proceeds of any loan to be raised for the purposes of the Authority.

(4) Where advances are to be met from the proceeds of a loan, the Minister responsible for Finance may, pending the raising of that loan, by warrant under his hand authorize the Accountant-

General to make advances out of the Consolidated Fund to the Authority in such sums and on such terms and conditions as he thinks fit.

(5) The repayment of any advances made under this section and the payment of interest and other charges thereon shall, subject to any special terms and conditions which the Minister responsible for Finance stipulates in relation to the repayment, be made by the Authority in like manner and on like conditions as borrowings by the Authority.

Application of moneys of the Authority.

11. The moneys of the Authority in any financial year shall be applied in payment of the following charges: -

- (a) the interest and other charges on, on provisions for repayment of, any loan payable by the Authority;
- (b) the sums required to be paid towards the repayment of any loan made to the Authority;
- (c) the remuneration, fees and allowances payable under this Act;
- (d) the salaries, remuneration, allowances, pensions, gratuities, provident fund and other superannuation benefits of the officers and staff, employed in or in connection with the activities carried on by the Authority;
- (e) the working and establishment expenses of, and the expenditure on, or provision for the maintenance of the property and installations of the Authority, and the discharge of the functions of the Authority properly chargeable to revenue;
- (f) such sums as the Authority may deem appropriate to set aside in respect of obsolescence and depreciation or renewal or installations of the Authority;
- (g) the cost, or any portion thereof, of any new works, plant, or appliances not being a renewal of property as the Authority may determine to charge to revenue; and

- (h) any other expenditure authorized by the Authority and properly chargeable to revenue.

Authorized investments.

12. Any moneys standing to the credit of the Fund which are not immediately required to be expended in meeting the obligations or in the discharge of the functions of the Authority may be invested in securities with the concurrence of the Minister responsible for Finance, for investment by the Authority.

Assets to be interest free.

13. All assets transferred from the Government to the Authority shall be free of interest or any capital obligation except such as are being financed by loans raised by the Government at the commencement of this Act.

Grants for unremunerative services.

14. (1) Where services are provided by the Authority in any place or places, and the Minister is satisfied that -

- (a) those services are unremunerative; and
- (b) it is desirable for social or economic reasons that the service in question should for the time being continue to be provided either in the same or some different form or manner; and
- (c) because of the unremunerative nature of the service which the Minister is satisfied is desirable for those reasons (hereafter in this section referred to as “the required service”) the Authority cannot reasonably be expected to provide them without assistance under this section, then, subject to the provisions of this section, the Minister may from time to time with the concurrence of the Minister responsible for Finance undertake to make grants to the Authority in respect of the provision of the required service during that period not exceeding three years at a time as the Minister may think fit.

(2) The aggregate amount payable by way of grants in pursuance of an undertaking under subsection (1) shall be the amount by which it is estimated, on such basis and in such manner as the Minister, with the concurrence of the Minister responsible for Finance and after consultation with the Authority may determine, that the expenditure properly attributable to the provision of the required service will exceed the revenue properly so attributable.

Fixing of rates, fees etc.

15. (1) The Authority shall fix the rates fees, dues and other charges for or in connection with the carriage, storage or warehousing of goods by means of the Authority, and the fixing of ships' fees, dues, wharfage charges, harbor rates, fees, dues, other charges and the payment, exemption from payment, refund or remission thereof.

(2) The rates, fees, dues and other charges fixed by the Authority under subsection (1) shall be approved by the Legislative Council and shall be published in Gazette and in one issue of a local newspaper.

(3) The rates, fees, dues or other charges prescribed under the Ports and Marine Services Regulations 1988, shall be deemed to be the rates, fees, dues and other charges fixed under subsection (1), until such time such rates, fees, dues and other charges are fixed under this Act.

Rules.

16. (1) The Authority shall by resolution make rules in respect of the following matters –

- (a) the manner in which and the officers by whom payments are to be approved and cheques are to be signed;
- (b) the bank or banks into which the moneys of the Authority are to be deposited, and the title of an account with any such bank and the transfer of funds from one account to another;
- (c) the moneys to be retained by the accountant for the purpose of making petty disbursements or immediate payments, and the maximum amount that may be so disbursed for any one payment;

- (d) the method to be adopted in making payments out of the Fund;
- (e) generally as to all matters necessary for the proper keeping and control of the accounts and books and the control of the finance of the Authority.

(2) All decisions, orders, rules and regulations relating to the financial operations of the Authority and authorized by this Act shall be made by resolution of the Authority at a meeting thereof and shall be recorded in the minutes of the Authority.

Accounts and operations.

17. (1) The Authority shall, as soon as practicable after the end of every month, make up a statement of the financial condition of the Authority as at the close of business on the last business day of each month, and shall transmit a copy to the Minister.

(2) Within four months of the close of each financial year or such longer period as the Minister allows, the Authority shall -

- (a) transmit to the Minister a copy of its annual accounts certified by the auditor;
- (b) submit to the Minister a report on its operations during the year.

(3) The Minister shall lay a copy of the annual accounts of the Authority, together with the certificate of the auditor and the report on the Authority's operations for the year, before the Legislative Council as soon as practicable after he has received such accounts, certificate and report.

Exemption from customs duty, stamp duty, income tax and other taxes.

18. Notwithstanding any other enactment the Authority is exempt from -

- (a) the payment of customs duties and any other duties or taxes on goods imported for its own use;
- (b) the payment of any taxes in respect of lands owned or leased by the Authority;
- (c) the payment of stamp duty on its documents;

- (d) the payment of income tax and any other tax imposed on the income or profits.

Powers of the Minister in relation to the Authority.

19. (1) The Minister may give the Authority general directions in writing as to the performance of its powers under this Act on matters which appear to him to affect the public interest and the Authority shall give effect to such directions.

(2) The Minister may, from time to time, direct the Authority to furnish to him, in such form as he may require, returns, accounts and other information with respect to its property and business, and the Authority shall carry out every such direction.

(3) The Minister may, from time to time, order all or any of the activities of the Authority to be investigated and reported upon by such person or persons as he may specify, and upon such order being made, the Authority shall afford all such facilities and furnish all such information, as may be necessary to carry out the order.

PART IV

STAFF, ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT

OF THE AUTHORITY

Appointment of Managing Director and Deputy.

20. (1) The Authority shall, with the approval in writing of the Governor in Council appoint a Managing Director, and a Deputy Managing Director.

(2) The Managing Director shall, subject to the general direction of the Authority, be the Chief Executive Officer and be charged with the direction of the business of the Authority, the organisation and the exercise, performance and discharge of its powers, duties and functions and the administrative control of the employees of the Authority.

(3) The Managing Director may delegate in writing to the Deputy Managing Director or to any other employee of the Authority, such of his powers, duties or functions as he may from time to time consider necessary and the Deputy Managing Director or any employee to whom such powers, duties and functions are so delegated shall exercise them subject to the general or special directions of the Managing Director.

(4) If the Managing Director is temporarily absent from the Territory or is temporarily incapacitated by illness or for other reasons is temporarily unable to perform his duties, the Deputy Managing Director shall act in the place of the Managing Director until he is able to resume duties.

(5) The Managing Director shall give effect to any of the powers delegated to him under section 5.

Power to appoint officers and other employees.

21. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Part, the Authority may appoint on such terms and conditions as the Authority may determine such other officers and employees as are necessary and proper for the administration, management and performance by the Authority of its functions under this Act.

(2) The Authority may, with the approval of and subject to such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the Minister, provide for the establishment and maintenance of a Pension Scheme or Provident Fund Scheme for the benefit of officers and employees of the Authority, and in any such Scheme different provisions may be made for classes of officers and employees.

Transfer of officers and employees from Government to the Authority.

22. (1) (a) Every officer and employee of the Ports and Marine Services Department shall, at the commencement of this Act, be deemed to be transferred from the service of Government to service of the Authority upon terms and conditions not less favourable in aggregate than those which are attached to the appointments held by such officers and employees under Government and shall be offered within three months thereafter the alternatives of

(i) continuing in the service of the Authority whereby such service shall be retrospective from the date of his transfer and he shall be entitled to such pension, gratuity and other allowances and rights if any as he would have received had he been retired from the service of Government on the abolition of his appointment on the date of his transfer to the Authority;

(ii) transferring to another department of Government, subject to a suitable vacancy existing, with his service with the Authority counting as service with Government in respect of his pension, gratuity and other allowances and rights if any; or

- (iii) being deemed to have retired from the service of Government on the abolition of his appointment on the date he ceases to be in the service of the Authority.
- (b) Any such officer or employee who within one month of the alternatives under paragraph (a) of this subsection being offered him fails to indicate which of the alternatives he elects to accept shall be deemed to have accepted alternative (iii).
- (c) The Authority shall reimburse Government with the cost of the pension, gratuity and other allowance and rights, if any, arising from the period which any such officers or employees who do not elect to continue serving with the Authority did serve with the Authority.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the right of the Authority to terminate the employment of any such officer or employee transferred to the service of the Authority or to vary his rate of pay or conditions of service, in the manner and to the extent that Government could have done had he continued in the service of the Government.

(3) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section where any officer or employee has elected under subparagraph (i) of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) to continue in the service of the Authority, then, such officer or employee shall not be entitled to be paid any pension, gratuity or other allowances that may have accrued to such officer or employee whilst in the service of the Government until such officer or employee would have qualified for a pension, gratuity or other allowances under the Pensions Act, had such officer or employee continued in the service of the Government.

PART V

CONTROL OF SHIPPING

Harbours.
Second
Schedule.

23. (1) The harbours specified in the Second Schedule shall be harbours for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Minister may by order amend the Second Schedule by extending the limits of an existing harbour or by adding thereto or deleting therefrom any harbour.

Vessels under general direction of the Managing Director.

24. (1) All vessels within the territorial waters or entering, being or remaining in any harbour in the Territory are, during their continuance therein, subject to the general direction and control of the Managing Director.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the regulations, the Managing Director may -

- (a) give directions as to where any vessel or sea-plane shall be berthed, moored, anchored, or parked and as to the method of berthing, mooring, anchoring or parking of the vessel or sea-plane within a harbour or the approaches thereto;
- (b) order the removal of any vessel or sea-plane from any berth, station or position to another berth, station or position and specify in the order the time within which removal is to be effected;
- (c) regulate the movement of vessels or sea-planes and other traffic within a harbour and the approaches thereto; and
- (d) request the Master of any vessel to proceed to and render assistance to any other vessel in distress.

foreign vessel from territorial waters.

25. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Regulations, the Minister with the approval of the Governor in Council, may order the removal of any foreign vessel, or sea-plane from the territorial waters and may specify the time limit within which the removal is to be effected.

(2) In specifying the time limit referred to in subsection (1), the Minister may take due account of any limitations of the vessel, sea-plane and of the crew.

(3) Any owner or person in charge of any vessel or sea-plane who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with an order given under section 24 (?) or under subsection (1) of this section is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $2,000.

(4) Where a person has been convicted of an offence under subsection (3) and the order in respect of which the conviction was obtained is still not complied with, that person is guilty of a continuing offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $1,000 for each day in respect of which the offence continues after the first conviction was obtained.

(5) In the case of a failure to comply with any order given under subsection (1) the Minister is satisfied that it is urgent and necessary and in the public interest or for the protection of the marine environment so to do, he may, without prejudice to any proceedings being instituted against any person, request the Authority or the Managing Director to take such measure and action as may be reasonable and necessary for the purpose of having the order complied with; and any measure and action taken at the request of the Minister shall be at the risk and expense of the person against whom the order under subsection (1) was directed.

(6) This section does not apply to a vessel in distress in the territorial waters, if the vessel is removed by the owner or person in charge of it within such period of time as the Minister considers reasonable.

Removal and disposal of wrecks etc.

26. (1) No owner or person in charge of a vessel shall -

- (a) unlawfully place that vessel; or
- (b) allow that vessel to remain sunk, stranded or abandoned, within any harbour, or other territorial waters or in any fairway or on the seashore or on or near any rock, bank, shoal, or reef or in any part of the sea adjacent to the coast of the British Virgin Islands.

(2) Where a vessel is allowed to remain sunk, stranded, abandoned or unlawfully placed in a place mentioned in subsection (1) and the Authority is satisfied that the vessel is likely -

- (a) to cause -

- (i) obstruction to navigation or to the lawful landing of a vessel on the beach, foreshore or bank of the harbour, bank of the inland water or of the sea; or
- (ii) obstruction to the use of the beach, harbour, inland water or sea; or

(b) to constitute -

- (i) a risk of pollution; or
- (ii) a danger to the environment, the Authority may without notice to the owner of the vessel, authorize the Managing Director or any other officer of the Authority to perform in relation to the vessel any of the acts specified in subsection (3).

(3) The acts referred to in subsection (2) are -

- (a) to take possession of or raise, remove or destroy the whole or any part of the vessel;
- (b) to light the vessel or any part of it or buoy it until it is raised, removed or destroyed, as the case may be; or
- (c) to sell, in such manner as may be convenient -
  - (i) the vessel or any part thereof; or
  - (ii) its contents or any part thereof.

(4) The proceeds of a sale under this section shall be appropriated in satisfaction of the expenses incurred by the Authority as a result of the raising of the vessel and of the sale and the remainder shall be held in trust for the person entitled thereto.

(5) If, after the expiration of a period of six months, no claim is made for the remainder of the proceeds to which subsection (4) refers, it shall be paid into the Fund.

(6) If the proceeds of a sale under this section are less than the expenses mentioned in subsection (4), the balance may be recovered in civil proceedings as debt due to the Authority.

(7) An order of the court is not necessary for the taking of possession and sale of a vessel under this section and no liability attaches to the Crown, to the Authority or to any person acting under the authorization of the Authority for any act performed under subsection (3).

Willful sinking and abandoning etc. of vessel in harbour.

27. (1) Any person who, without the permission in writing of the Authority -

- (a) willfully sinks, strands or abandons a vessel in any harbour, or in the territorial waters; or
- (b) does so in contravention of the terms of any such permission, is, without affecting the operation of subsections (2) to (7) of section 26, guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $10,000 or to imprisonment for a term of twelve months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) A vessel that is left anchored in the territorial waters for a period of three months or more and is not removed by the owner upon being requested to remove it by the Managing Director is an abandoned vessel for the purposes of this section and section 26.

Obstruction of territorial waters etc.

28. (1) No person shall unlawfully cause an obstruction or do anything that is likely to cause obstruction to -

- (a) navigation in the territorial waters;
- (b) the lawful use of any landing place, whether or not it has been reserved under the regulations or otherwise;
- (c) the lawful use of any pier, jetty, wharf, quay, dock, or mooring; or
- (d) any works connected with navigation in the territorial waters.

(2) Any person who contravenes subsection (1) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500 or to imprisonment for a term of six months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), the court may, in addition to any punishment it imposes under that subsection, make such order for the removal of the obstruction as it thinks fit and the order may contain a direction that the convicted person pay the cost of the removal.

Setting vessel adrift.

29. Any person who, for the purpose of obtaining salvage or for any other purpose -

- (a) willfully sets any vessel adrift; or
- (b) cuts, breaks or unfastens the moorings of any vessel with intent to set the vessel adrift, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding $2,000 or to imprisonment for a term of six months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Prevention of collisions.

30. (1) The prevention of Collisions at Sea Act, 1987 shall be followed in respect of all vessels, sea-planes and other craft navigating all territorial waters of the British Virgin Islands, including British Vessels registered in the British Virgin Islands, upon the high seas and in all waters connected therewith navigable by seagoing vessels; except in any case as may be prescribed by the Authority or by any regulations under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, of the United Kingdom Parliament or any Act replacing that Act.

(2) Any master or owner of a vessel who operates a vessel in contravention of the regulations referred to in subsection (1) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $5,000.

(3) If any damage to person or property arises as a result of non-compliance with any of the regulations referred to in subsection (1), the damage shall be deemed to have been occasioned by the willful default of the person in charge of the deck or the person for the time being having the immediate control or direction of the vessel, unless the Court is satisfied that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the regulations necessary.

Liability for pollution, damage to property, of Authority or Crown and to marine environment.

31. (1) The owner or master of a vessel is liable to the Authority for -
- (a) any damage, caused, by the vessel or or by any person employed on or about the vessel to any harbour works, installation, plant, equipment or machinery or other property of the Authority or of the Crown.
  - (b) the cost of clearing from the territorial waters or from any part of the foreshore any pollution caused by the vessel or by any person employed on or about the vessel; and
  - (c) any damage or injury to the marine environment or marine life of the British Virgin Islands, arising from or connected with the pollution or any other damage done by the vessel or by any person employed in or about the vessel.

(2) An amount in respect of which the owner of a vessel is liable under subsection (1) is recoverable from the owner of the vessel in civil proceedings as a debt due to the Authority of the Crown.

(3) Subsection (2) shall be construed as not affecting any other remedy available to the Crown under any law for the time being in force in the Territory.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (3), a vessel referred to in subsection (1) and any other vessel belonging to the owner of that vessel may be seized and detained until the estimated cost of making good such damage or injury or of clearing of the pollution has been fully paid or security therefore given to the Authority or the Crown.

Accident and pollution.

32. (1) Where damage or injury referred to in paragraph (a) or (c) of section 31 (1) had been caused by a vessel, or where any vessel in the territorial waters -

- (a) has sustained damage;
- (b) has been the cause of an accident resulting in the loss of life or in serious injury to any person; or
- (c) has sustained any material damage affecting its seaworthiness or efficiency either in its hull or in any part of its machinery, gear or tackle, its owner shall within the period of 24 hours immediately following the accident or as soon as possible thereafter submit to the Managing Director, a written report of the accident or damage and the probable occasion thereof signed by the owner or master.

(2) A master or owner of a vessel who fails without reasonable cause to comply with this section is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500.

Assistance to damaged vessel a duty.

33. (1) Where two or more vessels are involved in a collision, the master or person in charge of each vessel, shall, in so far as he can without damage to his vessel, crew and passengers, if any, -

- (a) render to the other vessel involved in the collision, its master, crew and passengers, such assistance as may be practical and necessary to save them from danger and to stay by the other vessel until he has ascertained that it has no need for further assistance, or
- (b) give to the master or person in charge of the other vessel involved in the collision -
  - (i) his own name and address;
  - (ii) the name of his vessel; and
  - (iii) the name and address of its owner and its owner and its port of registration.

(2) A master or person in charge of a vessel who fails without reasonable cause to comply with this section is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $2,000.

Detention of unsafe vessels.

34. (1) The Managing Director may provisionally detain a vessel that is in a harbor and direct the master not to put it to sea if the Managing Director is satisfied that the vessel is an unseaworthy vessel -

- (a) by reason of the defective condition of its hull, equipment or machinery;
- (b) by reason of undermanning; or
- (c) by reason of overloading or improper loading, and it cannot be put to sea without serious danger to human life, having regard to the nature of the service for which the vessel is being used.

(2) Where a vessel has been provisionally detained under subsection (1), the Managing Director shall serve notice thereof on its owner or master directing him not to put the vessel to sea until the Managing Director has cleared the vessel as safe for being put to sea.

(3) If any ship -

- (a) has been provisionally detained under subsection (1); and
- (b) a notice has been served on the owner or master under subsection (2).

and the ship is put to sea in contravention of that notice, the owner or master, as the case may be, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $1,000.

(4) Every notice served under subsection (2) must contain particulars of the alleged unseaworthiness of the vessel and a statement to the effect that an order for the final detention of the vessel will be issued unless steps are taken within such period as may be specified in the notice for the performance of such conditions with respect to the execution of repairs or alterations, or the unloading or reloading of cargo, or the manning of the vessel, as the Managing Director may require.

(5) The Managing Director may vary a notice given under this section and may extend the period required by the notice within which any act is to be performed.

(6) If the owner or master of any vessel on whom notice has been served under this section complies with the notice within the period specified therein or within any extended period granted, the Managing Director shall release the vessel, but if he fails to comply with the notice the Managing Director shall order the vessel to be finally detained.

(7) An order for final detention of a vessel shall be served on the owner or master of the vessel affected thereby and shall indicate the date from which it is effective.

Provisions in relation to finally detained vessel.

35. (1) No vessel in respect of which an order for final detention has been made shall be put to sea or remain in any harbor for a longer period than ten days after the date of the order for its final detention except in accordance with the written permission of the Managing Director.

(2) The Managing Director may direct that a vessel in respect of which an order for final detention has been made be beached or moored in any part of a harbor where its presence will neither constitute a hazard to navigation nor injuriously affect the interests of other users of the harbor.

(3) The owner or master of a vessel in respect of which an order for final detention has been made who -

- (a) puts the vessel to sea; or
- (b) allows the vessel to remain in any harbor in contravention of any direction given under subsection (2), is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $2,000 if the offence is in contravention of paragraph (a) and $1,000 if the offence is in contravention of paragraph (b).

(4) If any vessel in respect of which an order for final detention had been given remains in any harbor contrary to any direction given under subsection (2), the Managing Director may cause the vessel to be removed and disposed of.

(5) Subsections (3) to (7) of section 26 apply mutatis mutandis with respect to the disposal of a vessel that is in contravention of subsection (4) as they do in respect of vessels that are in contravention of that section.

Cancellation of order for final detention.

36. If at any time after an order for final detention has been made in respect of any vessel but before it has been disposed of under section 35 (4), the owner or master thereof satisfies the Managing Director that the vessel is no longer seaworthy within the meaning of subsection (1) of section 34 the Managing Director shall cancel the order for its final detention.

Appeal against order for final detention.

37. The owner or master of any vessel in respect of which an order for final detention had been made may, within three days of being notified of the order, appeal to the Minister whose decision shall be final.

Putting to sea in inclement weather.

38. Where the Managing Director is satisfied that, by reason of any impending hurricane or other threatening signs of turbulent weather, it would be unsafe to allow any vessel in a harbor to put to sea, he may direct the owner of that vessel not to put it to sea and an owner who puts a vessel to sea contrary to such direction is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500.

Passengers etc. to be embarked etc.
only at a harbor.

39. (1) Subject to subsection (2), no ship may embark or disembark any passenger or goods at any place other than a harbor as described in the Second Schedule.

(2) The Authority may with the consent in writing of -

- (a) the Minister responsible for Finance, in the case of goods;
- (b) the Minister responsible for Immigration and Customs, in the case of passengers, authorise the master of any ship to embark or disembark such goods or passengers at any place, other than at harbour as mentioned in subsection (1), designated by the Authority for the purpose.

Master to supply information.

40. The master of any ship arriving in a harbour shall produce on demand to an authorized employee -

- (a) the ship's register and the ship's papers;
- (b) a list of the passengers, if any, showing particulars of their sex, occupation and nationality;
- (c) a list showing the deaths, if any, which occurred during the voyage;
- (d) a list showing stowaways, if any on the ship; and
- (e) the ship's manifest, and shall also supply such other information in relation to the ship, passengers and cargo thereof, as such employee requires.

Power to arrest ship for harbor rates and charges.

41. (1) Where any harbour rates or charges are owing in respect of any ship, an authorized employee may arrest the ship and the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof, and may detain it until the amount of such rates or charges is paid.

(2) Where, after an arrest under subsection (1), any harbor rates or charges remain unpaid for a period of seven days, the authorised employee may cause the ship and the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof arrested to be sold, and out of the proceeds of such sale he shall retain the amount necessary to meet the expenses of the detention and sale thereof and shall, after paying the amount of any harbour rates or charges which is owing to the Authority, deliver the balance, if any, to the master of the ship.

Power to withhold clearance.

42. (1) Before any discharge or outward clearance is given to any vessel, the Comptroller of Customs or any customs officer shall require the master, owner, or person in charge of the vessel to submit to him a certificate from the Managing Director stating that -

- (a) all dues and charges payable under this Act or the regulations and any costs against the vessel or master or owner or person in charge of such vessel have been paid;
- (b) security to the satisfaction of the Managing Director has been given for the payment of the dues and charges; and
- (c) he has complied with the provisions of this Act and of the regulations.

Removal of wrecks etc.

43. The Authority may take such action as may be prescribed respecting the removal and disposal of any wreck, building, ship or other thing causing obstruction in or about any harbour.

Retention and Delivery of goods etc.

44. (1) Where the owner or master of a ship from which any goods have been landed at a harbour and accepted by the Authority for carriage, storage or warehousing or for delivery to the consignee, notifies the Managing Director in writing that freight or other charges to the amount specified in the notice remain unpaid in respect of the goods, the Managing Director shall obtain and refuse delivery thereof to the consignee or any other person until -

- (a) the payment of any rates, charges and customs duties due in respect of such goods; and
- (b) the production of a receipt for, or a release from, the payment of such amount signed, or purporting to be signed by or on behalf of the ship owner; or
- (c) the payment of the amount by the person entitled to take delivery thereof; or
- (d) the deposit by the consignee of the goods with the Managing Director of a sum of money equal in amount to the sum claimed as freight and other charges as specified in the notice by the owner or master of a ship; and in which event the lien for freight and other charges shall be discharged without prejudice to any other remedy which the shipowner may have for recovery of the freight charges.

(2) When a deposit is made with the Managing Director under paragraph (d) of subsection (1), the person making the same may, within fifteen days after making it, give to the Managing Director notice in writing to retain it, stating in the notice the sums, if any, which he admits to be payable to the shipowner, or, as the case may be, that he does not admit any sum to be so payable, but if no such notice is given, the Managing Director may, at the expiration of the fifteen days, pay the sum deposited over to the shipowner.

(3) If a notice is given as aforesaid the Managing Director shall immediately apprise the shipowner of it, and shall pay or tender to him out of the sum deposited the sum, if any, admitted by the notice to be payable, and shall retain the balance, or, if no sum is admitted to be payable, the whole of the sum deposited, for thirty days from the date of the notice.

(4) At the expiration of those thirty days unless legal proceedings have in the meantime been instituted by the shipowner against the owner of the goods to recover the said balance or sum, or otherwise for the settlement of any disputes which may have arisen between them concerning the freight or other charges as aforesaid, and notice in writing of those proceedings has been served on the Managing Director, the Managing Director shall pay the balance or sum to the owner of the goods. The Managing Director by any payment made under this section shall be discharged from all liability in respect thereof.

(5) Where the Managing Director causes to be delivered any goods in respect of which a notice has been given under subsection (1) to a person producing such receipt or release or making such payment as is referred to in paragraph (b) or (c) or making a deposit as is referred to in paragraph (d) of that subsection, the Authority shall be freed from all liability to any person in respect of the goods.

(6) An authorised employee is entitled to levy such charges as may be determined under this Act or the regulations in respect of the custody of any goods delivered to him in accordance with this section, and he may do all such reasonable acts and incur such reasonable expenses as are necessary for the proper custody and preservation of the goods, and the Authority shall have a lien on the goods for such charges and any other expenses so incurred.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring any person to take into the custody of the Authority any goods which would not otherwise be receivable by means of the Authority under this Act or the regulations, or as requiring the Managing Director to enquire into the validity of any claim for freight or any other charges made in any notice given by a master under subsection (1).

Sale of
of goods by Managing Director.

45. (1) If the lien is not discharged, and no deposit is made as aforesaid the Managing Director may, and, if required by the shipowner, shall, at the expiration of ninety days from the time when the goods were placed in his custody, or, if the goods are of a perishable nature, at such earlier period as in his discretion he thinks fit, sell by public auction, either for home use or for exportation, the goods or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the charges hereinafter mentioned.

(2) Before making the sale the Managing Director shall give notice thereof by advertisement in two local newspapers and also, if the address of the owner of the goods has been stated on the manifest of the cargo, or on any of the documents which have come into the possession of the Managing Director or is otherwise known to him, send notice of the sale to the owner of the goods by post.

(3) The title of a bona fide purchaser of the goods shall not be invalidated by reason of the omission to send the notice required by subsection (2), nor shall any such purchaser be bound to inquire whether the notice has been sent.

Application of proceeds of sale.

46. The proceeds of sale shall be applied by the Managing Director as follows, and in the following order: -

- (a) first, if the goods are sold for home use, in payment of any customs or excise duties owing in respect thereof; then
- (b) in payment of the expenses of the sale; then
- (c) in payment of the charges of the Managing Director and the shipowner according to such priority as may be determined by the terms of the agreement (if any) in that behalf between them; or if there is no such agreement -
  - (i) in payment of the rent, rates, and other charges due to the Managing Director in respect of the said goods; and then
  - (ii) in payment of the amount claimed by the shipowner as due for freight or other charges in respect of the said goods; and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the goods.

Managing Director's rent and expenses.

47. Whenever any goods are placed in the custody of the Managing Director the Managing Director shall be entitled to rent in respect of the same and shall also have power, at the expense of the owner of the goods, to do all such reasonable acts as in the judgment of the Managing Director are necessary for the proper custody and preservation of the goods, and shall have a lien on the goods for the rent and expenses.

Failure to pay customs duty etc.

48. Where customs duty or any other duty or charge payable in respect of goods in possession of the Authority under this Act remains unpaid for a period of one month or more, those goods may be disposed of as unclaimed goods.

Liability for demurrage.

49. The Authority is not liable for any demurrage which may occur or be due on any ship, howsoever such demurrage may have been caused.

Master responsible for contravention of Act etc.

50. The master of a ship is responsible for the compliance in respect of such ship with the provisions of this Act and the regulations, and, in the event of a contravention thereof, he may be proceeded against and held liable for the contravention.

Delivery to masters of copy of Act.

51. The Managing Director shall, on the demand of the master of any ship arriving at any harbor, cause to be delivered to such master on loan for a period of 14 days a copy of this Act and any Regulations relating to harbours, quarantine and matters related thereto.

PART VI PILOTAGE

Compulsory pilotage harbour.

52. (1) The harbours specified in the Second Schedule shall be compulsory pilotage harbours, and all ships, other than exempted ships, navigating, whether by entering, leaving or moving within the limits thereof, shall be under the pilotage of -

(a) a licensed pilot employed by the Authority or a person whose services are on contract with the Authority; or

(b) any other person licensed as a pilot.

(2) For the purposes of this section, exempted ships are -

(a) ships belonging to Her Majesty;

(b) pleasure yachts or fishing vessels;

(c) ferry boats plying as such exclusively within the limits of a harbour;

(d) ships of less than two hundred tons gross registered tonnage;

(e) ships trading exclusively between harbours within the Territorial waters;

(f) tugs, dredgers, barges or similar vessels whose ordinary course of navigation does not extend beyond the limits of the territorial waters.

(3) The Managing Director may exempt any ship from compulsory pilotage.

(4) Where any harbour is a compulsory pilotage harbour, the Authority may prescribe the limits of such harbour for the purposes of compulsory pilotage.

(5) Neither the Authority nor the Crown shall be responsible for any loss or damage through the act, neglect or default of any pilot.

(6) The owner or master of a ship navigating under circumstances in which pilotage is compulsory shall be answerable for any loss or damage caused by the ship or by any fault of the navigation of the ship in the same manner as he would if pilotage were not compulsory.

(7) A pilot shall not be liable for neglect or want of skill in the performance of his duties under this Act or the regulations beyond the sum of five thousand dollars.

(8) Where any proceedings are taken against a pilot for any neglect or want of skill in respect of which his liability is limited under subsection (7), and other claims are made or apprehended in respect of the same neglect or want of skill, the court in which the proceedings are taken -

- (a) may determine the amount of the liability;
- (b) upon payment into court by the pilot of any amount so determined or the sum of five thousand dollars, whichever is the less, may order that the amount so paid into court be distributed rateably among the several claimants;
- (c) may, where that court is the High Court, order that any proceedings pending in any other court in relation to the same matter be stayed; and
- (d) may proceed in such manner and subject to such conditions as to making persons interested parties to the proceedings, the exclusion of any claimants who do not commence proceedings within a certain time, requiring security from the pilot, and the payment of any costs as the court thinks just.

Compulsory pilotage and licencing of pilots.

53. (1) The Authority may with the approval of the Minister upon receipt of the prescribed fee, license as pilots such persons as the Authority is satisfied are competent to conduct cargo vessels and passenger vessels into and out of a harbor.

(2) Every qualified pilot on his appointment shall be issued with a licence, to be known as a “pilot’s license” in such form as the Minister approves and the licence shall, in addition to any other particulars, contain in respect of the person to whom it is issued, the following: -

- (a) his name and address;
- (b) his photograph; and
- (c) the limits within which he must operate as a pilot.

(3) Every pilot’s licence must be signed by the holder thereof and also by the Chairman of the Authority or any other officer authorised by the Chairman.

(4) A pilot’s licence is valid for a period of one-year unless a shorter period is specified in the pilot’s licence for its validity; but it is renewable for a further period of one year upon payment of the prescribed fee.

Production of pilot’s licence.

54. Every pilot shall, when acting as such, produce his pilot’s licence to any person by whom he is employed or to whom he offers his services as pilot.

Delivery up of pilot’s licence.

55. (1) Every pilot shall, when required to do so by the Authority, deliver up his pilot’s licence to the Authority or to such person as the Authority authorises to take possession of the licence.

(2) On the death of a pilot, any person who has possession of such pilot’s licence shall transmit it to the Authority without delay.

(3) A pilot who contravenes subsection (1) and a person who contravenes subsection (2) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $250 or to imprisonment for a term of one month or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Pilot’s licence not transferable.

56. A pilot’s licence is not transferable.

Fraudulent use of pilot's licence.

57. A person who -
- (a) uses or attempts to use a pilot's licence that he is not entitled to use; or
  - (b) uses or attempts to use a pilot's licence for a purpose that is not within the limits specified in the licence in pursuance of paragraph section 53 (2), is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500 or imprisonment for a term of three months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Recovery of pilotage fees.

58. (1) Pilotage fees due to any pilot, in respect of services rendered in respect of a vessel may be recovered by the pilot in civil proceedings from -
- (a) the master or owner of the vessel; or
  - (b) a consignee or an agent who has paid or made themselves liable to any charge or account of the vessel at port of arrival, discharge, loading or departure, except that no action for recovery of pilotage fees shall be entertained by the Court unless a request for payment had been made in writing by the pilot.

Indemnity of consignee or agent for fees.

59. A consignee, or an agent, not being the master or owner of a vessel who is liable for payment of pilotage fees or from whom payment of pilotage fees has been recovered may, out of any moneys received by him on account thereof or belonging to the owner of the vessel, retain any reasonable expenses he has incurred by reason of payment of the fees or of his liability to pay the fees.

Offences in relation to pilots.

60. (1) A pilot who -
- (a) lends his pilot's licence to any person;
  - (b) within or outside the limits of his licence acts as a pilot during a period that he is suspended;
  - (c) within or outside the limits of his licence acts as a pilot while he is under the influence of alcohol or drugs;

- (d) refuses to take charge or willfully delays in taking charge, of any vessel within the limits of his licence -
  - (i) when not prevented from doing so by reason of illness or other reasonable cause; and
  - (ii) upon being requested to do so by the master of the vessel, its owner, agent or consignee or by any member of the Authority or by the Managing Director;
- (e) unnecessarily cuts, slips or causes to be cut or slipped, any cable or line belonging to any vessel;
- (f) refuses when requested by the master to conduct a vessel of which he is in charge into any harbour, port or place into which he is qualified to conduct that vessel, except on reasonable grounds of the likelihood of danger to the vessel; or
- (g) without the consent of the master, quits a vessel of which he has charge before the service for which he has been hired has been performed, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500 or to imprisonment for a term of three months and, in addition thereto, is personally liable for any damage to the vessel that is the result of his action.

(2) A person who aids, abets, counsels or procures the commission of any offence under this section is liable in like manner and to the same extent as specified in subsection (1).

(3) If the person referred to in subsection (1) is a pilot, he is, in addition to the liability he incurs, liable at the discretion of the Authority to suspension or dismissal.

(4) If a pilot while he is in charge of a vessel willfully, negligently or by reason of his being under the influence of drugs or alcoholic drink -

- (a) does anything that -
  - (i) causes or is likely to cause the loss or destruction of, or serious damage to, the vessel, or

(ii) is likely to be a source of danger to the life or limb of any person on board thereof; or

(b) fails to do any lawful act that is necessary to be done by him for -

(i) preserving the vessel from loss, destruction or serious damage; or

(ii) preserving any person belonging thereto or on board thereof from danger to life or limb, is guilty of an offence.

(5) A pilot guilty of an offence under subsection (4) is liable -

(a) on conviction on indictment to a fine of $5,000 or to imprisonment for a term of 2 years or to both such fine and imprisonment; or

(b) on summary conviction to a fine of $2,000 or to imprisonment for a term of twelve months or to both such fine and imprisonment; and, in addition thereto, the Authority may revoke his pilot's licence.

Pilotage certificates to masters and mates.

61. (1) The Authority may, if it thinks fit -

(a) on the application of the master or mate of any vessel; and

(b) on payment by him of the prescribed fee, examine him as to his competence to pilot the vessel of which he is master or mate within any harbour in respect of which there is compulsory pilotage.

(2) If the Authority, after an examination of a master or mate, is satisfied that the master or mate is competent to pilot the vessel of which he is the master or mate, it may issue to him on payment by him of the prescribed fee a certificate to be known as a pilotage certificate specifying -

- (a) the name of the person to whom it is issued;
- (b) the vessel in respect of which it is issued;
- (c) the limits which the master or mate is entitled to pilot the vessel; and
- (d) the period for which it is valid.

(3) A person to whom a pilotage certificate is granted is, while he is acting as master or mate of the vessel specified in the certificate, entitled to pilot that vessel within the limits specified in the certificate.

(4) A pilotage certificate is not transferable and is valid for a period of one year unless a shorter period is specified in the pilotage certificate for its validity; but it is renewable for a further period of one year upon payment of the prescribed fee.

(5) A person to whom a pilotage certificate has been issued who -

- (a) lends his pilotage certificate to any person;
- (b) acts as a pilot after his pilotage certificate has been cancelled under section 62;
- (c) acts as a pilot without having obtained a pilotage certificate; or
- (d) acts as a pilot while he is under the influence of alcohol or drugs, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $500 or to imprisonment for a term of three months; and, in addition, is personally liable for any damage that results from his actions.

Cancellation of pilotage certificate.

62. The Authority may cancel any pilotage certificate it has issued if it is satisfied that the person to whom it was issued has been guilty of misconduct or has shown himself incompetent to pilot the vessel.

Liability of master of vessel.

63. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Act or any law in force in the Territory, the owner or master navigating in circumstances in which pilotage is compulsory is answerable for any loss or damage caused by the vessel or by any fault arising from the navigation of the vessel as he would be if pilotage were not compulsory.

Liability

64. The grant of renewal of a pilot's licence or pilotage in case of grant or renewal of pilot's licence or pilotage certificate.

certificate by the Authority under the powers given to it by this Act does not operate to attach liability to the Crown, the Authority or to any member or staff of the Authority for any loss or damage that arises as a result of any act or default of a person to whom a pilot's licence or a pilotage certificate has been issued.

Pilot to be servant of owner or master.

65. A pilot is, while he is engaged in any act of pilotage, the servant of the owner, master or person in charge of the vessel under pilotage, and neither the Crown nor the Authority nor any member of the Authority is liable for any loss or damage that arises as a result of the act, omission or default of any pilot, whether or not the pilot is normally employed in the service of the Authority.

Inquiries by Authority into conduct of pilots.

66. (1) The Authority may on its own motion or when so directed by the Minister, inquire into the conduct of a pilot whenever -

- (a) there is reason to suspect that the pilot has been guilty of misconduct affecting his capability as a pilot;
- (b) has failed to perform his duty or has been negligent in the performance of his duty as a pilot;
- (c) appears to be no longer competent to act as a pilot; or
- (d) has had an allegation of negligence or incompetence made against him.

(2) If the Authority after the inquiry under subsection (1), is satisfied as to -

- (a) the misconduct, failure, neglect or incompetence of a pilot; or
- (b) the truth of the allegation made against a pilot, it may, with the approval of the Minister, suspend or cancel the pilot's licence of the pilot.

Suspension of pilot's

67. (1) The Authority in its discretion, may suspend the pilot's licence of any pilot pending an inquiry under section 66 licence pending inquiry.

but any such suspension shall be reported forthwith to the Minister by the Authority.

(2) A pilot who is aggrieved by the suspension of his licence under subsection (1) may appeal to the Minister.

(3) The Minister may, after hearing an appeal, either himself or by some person assigned by him for the purpose, affirm, vary or reverse the decision of the Authority but, before varying any decision of the Authority in such a way as to be detrimental to the pilot, the Minister shall give the pilot an opportunity to be heard.

(4) The decision of the Minister under this section is final.

PART VII

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE AUTHORITY AS A WAREHOUSEMAN

Liability for loss etc goods.

68. (1) Subject to this Act or the regulations or any contract, the Authority is of not liable for the loss, misdelivery or detention of, or damage to, goods -

- (a) delivered to or in the possession of the Authority otherwise than for the purposes of carriage, storage or warehousing, except where the loss, misdelivery, detention or damage is caused by the want of reasonable foresight and care on the part of any person employed in or for the purpose of the Authority;
- (b) accepted by the Authority for carriage, storage or warehousing where the loss, misdelivery, detention or damage occurs otherwise than while the goods are being carried, stored or warehoused and is not caused by the want of reasonable foresight and care on the part of any person employed in or for the purpose of the Authority.

(2) The Authority is in no case liable for any loss, misdelivery, detention or damage arising from -

- (a) an act of God;
- (b) an act of war of the Queen's enemies;

- (c) arrest or restraint of princes or rulers, or seizure under legal process;

- (h) insufficient or improper packing or from leakage from defective drums, containers or packages.

Limitation for loss etc. where value of goods given is mis-stated.

69. The liability of the Authority in respect of any goods accepted by the Authority for carriage, storage or warehousing, shall be based on the true value of the goods and not on the mis-stated value of any such goods.

Burden of proof.

70. In any proceedings brought against the Authority, it shall not be necessary for the person claiming damages or compensation to prove how the loss, misdelivery, detention, or damage to the goods occurred.

PART VIII

FERRIES

Ferry Licences.

71. (1) No person shall operate a ferry service within the territorial waters unless he has obtained a licence from the Authority for the purpose.

(2) An application to obtain a licence to operate a ferry service shall be in the prescribed form and is obtainable from the Authority.

(3) The Authority shall upon receiving an application under subsection (2) -

- (a) interview the applicant; and
- (b) carry out such investigations in respect of the application as may be necessary.

(4) The Authority shall upon completion of its investigations, with the approval of the Minister -

- (a) approve the schedule and the route of the ferry service proposed by the applicant; or
- (b) disapprove the application.

(5) Where an application has been granted under this section, the Authority shall, subject to such terms and conditions it may deem fit and upon payment of the prescribed fee, issue to the applicant a licence on such form as may be prescribed.

(6) Where the Authority disapproves an application it shall notify the applicant setting out the reasons for such disapproval.

(7) Notwithstanding the issue of a Ferry Licence under subsection (5) the Authority may, having regard, to the safety of navigation within the territorial waters, amend, modify or vary any condition set out therein.

(8) A Ferry Licence is valid for a period of one year but is renewable for a like period upon payment of the prescribed fee and may only be used in respect of the ferry in relation to which it is issued.

Ferry Licence to be displayed.

72. Where the Authority issues a Ferry Licence, that license shall be displayed in a conspicuous place on the ferry in respect of which the Ferry Licence is issued.

Suspension of Ferry Licence.

73. The Authority may, with the approval of the Minister, suspend a Ferry Licence granted under this Part if the ferry or the mode of its operation is, in the opinion of the Authority, unsafe or, as the case may be, contrary to good seamanship; or contravenes the terms and conditions of a licence; and where a Ferry Licence is suspended, the suspension remains until the Authority is satisfied that the cause of the suspension has been remedied.

Ferries to be licensed in accordance with coastal craft regulations.

74. Every vessel in respect of which a Ferry Licence has been issued shall be licensed in accordance with the regulations relating to coastal craft and if the vessel ceases at anytime to be so registered the Ferry Licence granted under this Part lapses.

Appeal against decision of the Authority.

75. (1) Any person who is aggrieved by a decision of the Authority made under section 73 may, within seven days of the receipt of such decision, appeal in writing against such decision to the Minister.

(2) Upon receipt of any appeal under subsection (1) the Minister shall -

- (a) allow the appeal; or
- (b) confirm the decision of the Authority; or
- (c) require the Authority to vary or reconsider the decision of the Authority.

(3) The decision of the Minister on an appeal under this section shall be final.

Duty of person operating a ferry service to operate approved route and schedule.

76. (1) It shall be the duty of every person who operates a ferry service to operate such service in accordance with the approved route and schedule.

(2) Any departure by a licensee from the approved routes and schedules due to force majeure shall be reported by him to the Managing Director or his representative at the port of arrival or departure.

Offences in relation to this part.

77. (1) Any person who -

- (a) contravenes section 71 (1) or 72;
- (b) in an application for a Ferry Licence willfully makes a statement that he knows to be false;
- (c) operates a ferry while the Ferry Licence is suspended under section 73; or

- (d) operates a ferry contrary to the approved route and schedule under section 76, is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term of three months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) Where a person convicted of an offence under paragraph (c) or (d) of subsection (1) is the holder of a certificate of competency issued under this Act the Court may, in addition to any other penalty that may be imposed, order that the certificate of such person be suspended on such terms and conditions as may be specified in such order or if the certificate was issued outside the Territory, order that the holder shall not be entitled to operate any ship or coastal craft within the territorial waters for such period of time as the Court may determine.

(3) The Court shall cause the particulars of the conviction and of any other order made under subsection (2) to be endorsed on the certificate and shall cause a copy of such particulars to be sent to the Director, who shall thereupon note them on the appropriate register.

(4) A person who, without reasonable cause, fails to produce any certificate required to be produced under this section is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(5) A person who is convicted of an offence under paragraph (a) or (c) or (d) of subsection (1) and continues the offence is guilty of a continuing offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of two hundred dollars in respect of each day or part thereof on which the offence continues after the first conviction.

PART IX

83. If any ship is navigated in circumstances in which pilotage is compulsory and such ship is not under the pilotage of a pilot, the master thereof is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of one thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term of six months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Offences by masters.

84. A master who contravenes any of the provisions of section 39 or 40 or produces any document or gives any information which is false in any material particular is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of two thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a period of twelve months or both such fine and imprisonment.

Power of arrest or removal.

85. (1) A person who commits any offence mentioned in section 80, 82 or 84 may be arrested without a warrant by any member of the Police Force.

(2) A person who commits any offence against this Act or the regulations, other than an offence mentioned in subsection (1), may be arrested without warrant by any member of the Police Force if -

- (a) there is reason to believe that such person will abscond;

- (b) he refuses on demand to give his name and address; or
- (c) there is reason to believe that the name or address given by him is incorrect:

Provided that, save where there is reason to believe that such person will abscond, he shall, if his true name and address are ascertained, be released on his executing a bond without sureties for his appearance before a Magistrate when required.

(3) A person who commits any of the offences set out in section 84 may be required by any member of the Police Force to leave the premises, ship or vehicle, as the case may be, in which such person is at the time of the commission of the offence, and if such person fails to comply with such requirement he may be removed therefrom with such force as may be reasonably necessary in the circumstances.

Compounding of offences.

86. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, where -

- (a) an offence has been committed under this Act; and
- (b) the Managing Director is satisfied that the departure of a vessel may be unduly delayed by reason of the time that is likely to elapse before the trial of the offence is concluded, he may, if the accused person admits to committing the offence, offer him the opportunity of paying to the Managing Director an amount equal to three-quarters of the maximum penalty that the court may impose for the offence as well as the total cost of repairing any damage or replacing any loss sustained by the Authority or the Crown as a result of the offence having been committed.

(2) Where an amount is paid under subsection (1), the Managing Director shall give a receipt for the amount paid and the effect of the receipt given is to discharge the accused person from all liability in respect of the offence.

(3) An amount collected by the Managing Director under this section shall be paid into the Fund.

PART X

GENERAL LEGAL PROVISIONS

Notice of claim.

87. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act, no person -

- (a) is entitled to compensation or damages for non-delivery of the whole of a consignment of goods, or of any separate package forming part of such consignment, accepted by the Authority for carriage, storage or warehousing, unless a claim in writing, giving such particulars as may reasonably be necessary, is given to the Managing Director within six months of the date upon which such goods were accepted by the Authority; and
- (b) is entitled to compensation or damages for any goods missing from a packed or unpacked consignment of, or for misdelivery of, damage or delay to, or detention of, any goods accepted by the Authority for carriage, storage or warehousing unless-
  - (i) the Managing Director is notified of the fact in writing within four days of the date upon which such goods were delivered to the consignee or person entitled to take delivery thereof; and
  - (ii) a claim in writing, giving such particulars as may reasonably be necessary, is given to the Managing Director within one month of such date.

(2) Where the person claiming compensation or damages proves that it was impracticable for him to notify the Managing Director or to give the Managing Director his claim as set out in subsections (1) and (2) within the times specified therein and that such notification or claim was made or given in a reasonable time, nothing in those subsections shall prejudice the right of such person to obtain compensation or damage.

Limitation.

88. Where after the commencement of this Act, any action or other legal proceedings is commenced against the Authority for any act done in pursuance or execution, or intended execution of this Act or the regulations or of any public duty or authority imposed or conferred by this Act or the regulations, or in respect of any alleged neglect or default in the execution of this Act or the regulations, or of any such duty or authority, the following provisions shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act -

- (a) the action or legal proceeding shall not be commenced until at least one month after written notice containing the particulars of the claim, and of intention to commence the action or legal proceeding, has been served upon the Managing Director by the plaintiff or his agent;
- (b) the action or legal proceeding shall not lie or be instituted unless it is commenced within twelve months next after the act, neglect or default or damage complained of, or in the case of a continuing injury or damage, within six months next after the cessation thereof.

Restriction of execution against property of the Crown or the Authority.

89. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Act or the regulations or in any other Act or regulations made under that other Act, where any judgment or order of any court or any award of an arbitration tribunal has been obtained against the Authority for or in respect of anything done or omitted to be done under the provisions of this Act, the regulations, any contract or Otherwise for or in respect of the Authority or its purposes –

- (a) no execution or attachment or process in the nature thereof shall be issued against the Crown or against any property of the Crown or of the Authority, but the Minister responsible for Finance shall cause to be paid out of the Consolidated Fund such amounts as may, by the judgment or order, be awarded against the Crown or against the Authority to the person entitled thereto;
- (b) no property of the Crown or of the Authority shall be seized or taken by any person having by law power to attach or distrain property.

and under-charge of rates.

90. (1) Subject to subsection (2), where the amount paid for any harbour rates or charges is found to be incorrect, then if such amount is-

- (a) an overcharge, the person who paid the rate or charge is entitled to a refund of the amount of the overcharge;
- (b) an undercharge, the amount of the undercharge may be collected from the person who paid the rate or charge.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act, such overcharge or undercharge shall not be refunded, or collected, as the case may be, unless notice in writing containing such particulars as may reasonably be necessary is given -

- (a) by the person claiming such overcharge, to the Managing Director; or
- (b) by the Managing Director to the person against whom the amount of such undercharge is claimed, within six months after the goods were accepted or the services rendered, as the case may be, by the Authority, so however, that where such undercharge is caused by any information or description subsequently found to be incorrect, such period of six months shall commence from the date of the discovery by the Managing Director of the correct information or description.

Medical examination of person claiming compensation or damages.

91. Whenever any person claims compensation or damages against the Authority in respect of any injury alleged to be suffered by him as a result of the operation of the Authority, any court or person having by law, or consent of the parties, authority to determine the claim, may order that the person injured be examined by a registered medical practitioner named in the order, and may also make such order with respect to the costs of the examination as may be thought fit.

PART XII

VESTING OF CERTAIN PROPERTY RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES IN THE AUTHORITY

Vesting of certain property, purposes rights and liabilities.

98. (1) Upon the commencement of this Act, all property including lands and buildings, and all interest therein of whatever nature, belonging to the Crown and used exclusively for the purposes of the Ports and Marine Services Department shall be transferred to and be vested in the Authority.

(2) Where a question arises as to whether any property lands or buildings to which subsection (1) applies was used exclusively for the purposes of the Ports and Marine Services Department, a certificate under the hand of the Minister shall be conclusive.

Transitional provisions.

99. (1) All liabilities incurred by or on behalf of the Ports and Marine Services Department in respect of any of its functions under the Ports and Marine Services Ordinance 1985 and subsisting at the commencement of this Act shall, as from such commencement, have effect as if they had been incurred by the Crown.

(2) Any contract made by or on behalf of the Ports and Marine Services Department in respect of any of its functions to be transferred to the Authority upon the commencement of this Act, shall, as from such commencement, be construed with such modifications and adaptations as are necessary to give effect to the provisions of this section.

(3) Where at the time of the transfer of any functions by or under this Act, any legal proceedings are pending to which the Ports and Marine Services Department is a party and those proceedings relate to the functions transferred by or under this Act, the Authority shall be substituted in those proceedings for the Ports and Marine Services Department and the proceedings shall not abate by reason of the substitution.

(4) All debts and liabilities standing in the books of the Ports and Marine Services Department shall be assumed by the Authority at the time of transfer and be enforceable against the Crown.

(5) All works, capital or otherwise, negotiation of any kind, or any matter incomplete at the time of transfer from the Ports and Marine Services Department to the Authority shall be continued as if there had been no transfer from one body to the other.

(6) If any difficulty arises with respect to any of the provisions of this Act, the Minister may, within one year from the commencement of the Act, make such order as he considers necessary to remove the difficulty and such order may modify the provisions of this Act so far as may appear to the Minister to be necessary or expedient for removing the difficulty.

(7) An order made under subsection (6) shall be subject to a negative resolution.

(8) All equipment in use immediately before the commencement of this Act exclusively for the purposes of the Port and Marine Services Department shall, upon such commencement, be transferred to and be vested in the Authority.

(9) Notwithstanding the repeal by this Act of the Ports and Marine Services Ordinance 1985 or of any written law -

- (a) every rule, or regulation made under such repealed Ordinance or law shall, if it is in force immediately prior to the date of commencement of this Act and is not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, be deemed to be a rule, or regulation made under this Act, and have effect accordingly; and may be amended, replaced or rescinded by any rule, or regulation, as the case may be, under this Act;
- (b) any order or requirement made, table of fees, licences or certificates issued, notice, decision, determination, direction or approval given, application made, or thing done, under the repealed Ordinance or law, by this Act; and every such order requirement, table of fees, licence certificate notice, decision, determination, direction, approval, application or thing shall, if in force on the date immediately prior to the date of commencement of this Act, continue in force and in the case of a licence, or certificate until the date of expiry of such licence or certificate by effluxion of time or otherwise as set out in such licence or certificate and shall, so far as it could have been made, issued, given or done under this Act have effect as if made, issued given or done under the corresponding provisions of this Act.

Repeal and savings.

100. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Ports and Marine Services Ordinance, 1985 is repealed.

Third Schedule.

(2) The enactments specified in the Third Schedule shall continue in force until amended or revoked by the Minister under this Act, and shall be so construed as to give effect to the provisions of this Act.

CONSTITUTION OF THE BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

Resignation and removal in from office.

2. The Chairman or any appointed member of the Authority may resign his office by notice in writing addressed to the Governor in Council, and may be removed from office by the Governor in Council in his discretion at any time.

Tenure of office.

3. (1) Subject to section 2, an appointed member, other than the Chairman or an ex officio member, shall hold office for such periods not exceeding three years, as may be specified in the notice appointing him, and on the expiration of such period shall be eligible for re-appointment, but in the case of appointed members the Governor in Council shall specify such periods of appointment so that the periods of appointment of not more than one-third of the members shall expire in any one year.

(2) Subject to section 2, the Chairman shall hold office as Chairman for a period of three years and may be reappointed for any further period of three years.

(3) The Authority shall once in every year elect from among its appointed members a Deputy-Chairman who shall hold office as Deputy Chairman for a period of one year.

(4) Where the Chairman or a member appointed under subsection (1) is by reason of illness, other infirmity or for any other cause temporarily unable to perform the duties of his office, the Governor in Council may appoint any person to act in his place.

(5) The Authority shall pay to all or any of its members such remuneration, fees and allowances for expenses as may be approved by the Governor in Council.

Meetings of the Authority.

4. (1) The Authority shall meet at least once in every four months or at such other times and places as may be necessary or expedient for the transaction of its business.

(2) The Chairman, or in the event of his absence from the Territory or inability to act as such, the Deputy Chairman, may at any time call a special meeting of the Authority within seven days of the receipt by him of a requisition for that purpose addressed to him in writing and signed by three members.

(3) Subject to sub-section (4), the Chairman, or in his absence the Deputy Chairman, shall preside at all meetings of the Authority.

(4) In the absence of both the Chairman and the Deputy Chairman, the members present and constituting a quorum shall elect a Chairman from among their number to preside at that meeting.

(5) Five members of the Authority present at a meeting shall form a quorum.

(6) The decisions of the Authority shall be by a majority of votes, and in any case in which the voting is equal the Chairman presiding at the meeting, in addition to having an original vote, shall have a casting vote.

(7) Minutes of each meeting shall be confirmed by the Authority and signed by the Chairman or Deputy Chairman at the next meeting of the Authority.

(8) Certified copies of the minutes of each meeting shall be forwarded to the Minister.

(9) Minutes of meetings of the Authority shall be recorded by a person assigned by the Managing Director from among the staff of the Authority to be Secretary.

(10) (1) The Authority may -

(a) appoint such committees composed of members of the Authority and other persons not being members of the Authority, for the purpose of assisting or advising the Authority in the proper carrying out of its functions; and

(b) delegate to such committees functions as it considers necessary.

(2) A person co-opted under paragraph (1) shall not vote at any meeting of the Authority.

(11) Subject to this Act, the Authority may regulate its own procedure.

(12) Any act done or proceeding taken by the Authority under this Act or the regulations shall not be questioned on the ground of the existence of any vacancy in the membership of the Authority, or any defect in the constitution of the Authority.

"(3a) A fee shall be paid on the registration of every licence granted under this Act and the fee payable shall be the same as that payable for the registration or filing of an instrument under the Registered Land Ordinance.";

Cap. 229

(d) by inserting immediately after the new subsection (3a) the following new subsection -

"(3b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (3) the Governor in Council may upon application in writing permit the registration of a licence after the time for its registration has expired, together with any conditions it may deem fit including the payment of an additional filing fee of fifty dollars.";

- (e) by inserting immediately after the new subsection (3b) the following new subsection -

"(3c) Where a person to whom a licence is granted fails to comply with the conditions for development of the land within the prescribed time that person may apply to the Governor for an extension of time to comply with the conditions."

Amendment of section 9 of the principal Act.

5. Section 9 of the principal Act is repealed and the following substituted-

"9. (1) The Governor may on the application of a company to which the provisions of section 6 (1) apply grant a licence for all or any of the following matters -

- (a) for a non-belonger to be a director of a company holding land or an interest in land in the Territory;
- (b) for a non-belonger to hold shares or debentures in a company holding land or an interest in land in the Territory;
- (c) for a non-belonger to be a member of a company having no share capital to hold land or an interest in land in the Territory.

(2) A licence granted under this section shall be subject to the terms and conditions the Governor may deem fit including the terms and conditions in section 4.

(3) The Governor may, by Order, exempt from the provisions of this section -

- (a) a non-belonger company, whose principal business is the provision of a public utility service to the general public in the Territory; or
- (b) any non-belonger company that, by reason of either the number of its members or directors or the purpose for which the licence is required, the Governor considers should be exempted".

6. Section 14A of the principal Act is amended as follows -

Amendment of section 14A of the principal Act.

- (a) by repealing subsection (1) and substituting the following -

"(1) Every application for a licence under section 4 or 9 shall be accompanied by a licence application fee of fifty dollars in the case of an individual applying and seventy-five dollars in the case of an application by a company.";

- (b) by repealing subsection (3) and substituting the following -

"(3) A licence granted under this Act shall be subject to the payment of a fee of one hundred and fifty dollars in the case of an individual and two hundred dollars in the case of a company, and this fee shall be in addition to the fee paid under subsection (1) and shall be paid before the licence is registered in the Land Registry of the Territory.";

- (c) by insertion of a new subsection (4) immediately following the new subsection (3) -

"(4) An application for an extension of time shall be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars in the case of an individual and seventy-five dollars in the case of a company.".

7. Section 15 is amended by repealing subsection (3) and substituting the following -

Amendment of section 15 of the principal Act.

"(3) A person who intentionally contravenes the provisions of this section commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding three thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding two years and the property to which this section applies shall be liable to forfeiture in accordance with this Act".

8. Section 16 of the principal Act is amended by repealing "provision" and substituting "provisions".

Amendment of section 16 of the principal Act.

9. Section 21 of the principal Act is amended -

Amendment of section 21 of the principal Act.

- (a) by renumbering that section as subsection (1); and

- (b) by inserting immediately after subsection (1) as renumbered, the following new subsection -

"(2) Subsection (1) shall not apply to a transfer of property or a transfer of an interest in property (including the shares in a company that owns property) where the property is held pursuant to a licence granted under this Act, if -

- (a) in the case of property registered in the name of an individual, the transfer is -
  - (i) to the legal spouse, children or grandchildren of the individual exclusively,
  - (ii) to a trustee of a trust the beneficiaries of which at the time of transfer are any of the persons referred to in subparagraph (i),
  - (iii) from the trustee to any other trustee of a trust referred to in subparagraph (ii), or
  - (iv) from the trustee of a trust referred to in subparagraph (ii) to any beneficiary of the trust being one of the persons referred to in subparagraph (i); or

CRIMINAL CODE 1997
VIRGIN ISLANDS
NO. 1 OF 1997

AN ACT to amend and codify the criminal laws of the Virgin Islands and other matters connected therewith

[Gazetted 16th May 1997]

ENACTED by Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:

Preliminary

1. This Act (hereinafter referred to as “this Code”) may be cited as the Criminal Code, 1997, and shall come into force on such date as the Governor may, by Proclamation published in the Gazette, appoint.

2. (1) Except as hereinafter expressly provided, nothing in this Code shall affect

- (a) the liability, trial or punishment of a person for an offence against the common law or any other law in force in the Territory other than this Code;
- (b) the power of any court to punish a person for contempt of such court under the Contempt of Court Act;
- (c) the liability or trial of a person or the punishment of a person under any sentence passed or to be passed in respect of any act done or commenced before the commencement of the Code;
- (d) any power of Her Majesty, or of the Governor vested in him as the representative of Her Majesty, to grant any pardon or to remit or commute, in whole or in part, or to respite the execution of any sentence passed or to be passed, or
- (e) Any law for the time being in force for the Government of Her Majesty’s naval, military or air forces.

(2) Where a person does an act, which is punishable under this Code and also punishable under any other law, he shall not be punished for that act both under this Code and that other law.

3. (1) Except as otherwise in this Code, or in the Interpretation Act, expressly provided, this Code shall be interpreted in accordance with the principles of legal interpretation obtaining in England, and expressions used in the Code shall be presumed, so far as is consistent with their context, to be used in accordance with the meanings attached to them in the criminal law of England, and shall be construed in accordance therewith.

(2) In this Code, unless the context otherwise requires,

“arrestable offence” means an offence for which a person may be arrested without a warrant, under the provisions of section 321;

“court” means the High Court or the Magistrate’s Court as the context requires;

“knowingly”, used in connection with any term denoting uttering or using, implies knowledge of the character of the thing uttered or used;

“money” includes bank notes, bank drafts, cheques and other orders, warrants or requests for the payment of money;

“night” or “night-time” means the interval between 1900 hours in the evening and 0600 hours in the morning of the following day;

“oath” includes an affirmation or statutory declaration;

“offence” includes an act, attempt or omission punishable by law;

“person employed in the public service” includes

- (a) a person holding any public office, whether temporarily or permanently by appointment, by election or by operation of law;
- (b) an arbitrator, umpire or referee in any proceeding or matter acting with the sanction of any court or in pursuance of any law;
- (c) any magistrate or justice of the peace;
- (d) any member of any statutory body, tribunal or commission appointed under or in pursuance of any law, and
- (e) any marriage officer or Civil Marriage Officer appointed under the Marriage ordinance when acting in the performance of his functions as such;

“possession” includes not only having in one’s own personal possession, but knowingly having anything in the actual personal possession or custody of any other person, or having anything in any place (whether belonging to or occupied by oneself or not) for the use or benefit of oneself or another person; and if there are two or more persons and any one or more of them with the knowledge and consent of all or any of the others has or have anything in his or their custody or possession it shall be deemed to be in custody and possession of each and all of them;

“property” includes any description of real or personal property, money, debts and legacies and any deeds, instruments or other documents relating to or evidencing the title or right to any property or giving a right to recover or receive any money or goods;

“public” includes not only all persons in the Territory but also persons inhabiting or using any particular place, or any number of persons and also such indeterminate persons as may happen to be affected by the conduct in respect of which such expression is used;

“public place” includes any highway, market place, square, street, bridge or other way, which is lawfully used by the public as of right;

“publicly”, when applied to acts done, means either that they are so done in any public place as to be seen by any person, whether such person be or be not in a public place, or that they are so done in any place which is not a public place as to be likely to be seen by any person in a public place;

“utter” includes using or dealing with or attempting to use or deal with, or attempting to induce any person to use, deal with or act upon the thing in question;

“valuable security” includes a document which is the property of a person and which is evidence of the ownership of any property or of the right to recover or receive any property;

“vessel” includes any thing or device capable of being used for the conveyance of goods or passengers on water from one place to another and includes a hovercraft and any vessel being towed or carried by another vessel;

“wound” means any incision or puncture which breaks the continuity of the whole skin and not merely the cuticle or upper skin.

(3) Except where the context otherwise requires, Part I and II of this Code apply to offences under any other law as they apply to offences under this Code.

4. When an act which, if done wholly within the jurisdiction of the court, would be an offence against this Code, is done partly within and partly beyond the jurisdiction, every person who within the jurisdiction does or takes part in such act may be tried and punished under this Code in the same manner as if such act had been done wholly within the jurisdiction.

PART I

GENERAL RULES AS TO CRIMINAL LIABILITY

5. Ignorance of the law does not afford any excuse for any act or omission which would otherwise constitute an offence unless knowledge of the law by the offender is expressly declared to be an element of the offence.

6. A person is not criminally responsible in respect of an offence relating to property, if the act done or omitted to be done by him with respect to the property was done in the exercise of an honest claim of right and without intention to defraud.

7. (1) Subject to the express provision of this Code or any other law, a person is not criminally responsible for an act or omission which occurs independently of the exercise of his will, or for an event which occurs by accident

(2) Unless the intention to cause a particular result is expressly declared to be an element of an offence constituted in whole or in part by an act or omission, the result intended to be caused by an act or omission is immaterial.

(3) Unless otherwise expressly declared, the motive by which a person is induced to do or not to do or omit to do an act, or to form an intention, is immaterial as regards criminal responsibility.

(4) In determining whether a person has committed an offence, a court

(a) shall but be bound in law to infer that he intended or foresaw a result of his actions by reason only of its being a natural and probable consequence of those actions, but

(b) shall decide whether he did intend or foresee that result by reference to all the evidence, drawing such inference from the evidence as appears proper in the circumstances

8. Subject to the express or implied provisions of this Code or any other law, a person who does or omits to do an act under an honest and reasonable, but mistaken, belief in the existence of any state of things is not criminally responsible for the act or omission to any greater extent than if the real state of things had been such as he believed to exist.

9. Every person is presumed to be of sound mind, and to have been of sound mind at any material time, until the contrary is proved.

10. (1) Subject to subsection (2) and to the provisions of this Code with regard to persons suffering from diminished responsibility, a person shall not be criminally responsible for an act or omission if at the time of doing the act or making the omission he is through any disease affecting his mind incapable of understanding what he is doing or of knowing that he ought not to do the act or make the omission.

(2) A person may be criminally responsible for an act or omission, although his mind is affected by disease, if such disease does not in fact produce upon his mind one or other of the effects in subsection (1) in reference to the act or omission.

11. (1) Save as provided in this section, intoxication shall not constitute a defence to a criminal charge.

(2) Intoxication shall be a defence to a criminal charge if by reason thereof, at the time of the act or omission complained of, the person charged did not know that such act or omission was wrong or did not know what he was doing, and

- (a) the state of intoxication was caused, without his consent, by the malicious or negligent act of another person, or
- (b) the person charged was by reason of intoxication insane, temporarily or otherwise, at the time of such act or omission.

(3) Where a defence under subsection (2) is established, then

- (a) in a case falling within paragraph (a) of subsection (2), the accused shall be discharged;
- (b) in a case falling within paragraph (b) of subsection (2), the provisions of section 10 shall apply and the person charged shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions relating to insanity contained in the Criminal Procedure Act.

(4) Intoxication shall be taken into account for the purpose of determining whether the person charged had formed any intention, in the absence of which he would not be guilty of the offence.

(5) For the purpose of this section "intoxication" shall be deemed to include a state produced by narcotics or drugs.

12. (1) A person under the age of ten years is not criminally responsible for any act or omission.

(2) A person under the age of fourteen years is not criminally responsible for an act or omission unless it is proved that at the time of doing the act or making the omission he had capacity to know that he ought not to do the act or make the omission.

(3) A male person under the age of twelve is presumed to be incapable of having carnal knowledge.

(4) Where a person is charged with an offence under this Code or any other law in respect of a child who is alleged to be under any specified age and that the child appears to the court to be under that age, such child shall be presumed to be under that age unless contrary is proved.

13. A person is not criminally responsible for performing, in good faith and with reasonable care and skill, a surgical operation upon any person for his benefit, or intended benefit or upon an unborn child for the purpose of the preservation of the mother's life, if the performance of the operation is reasonable having regards to the patient's state at the time and all the circumstances of the case.

14. (1) Except for the offence of murder, genocide and treason, a person is not criminally responsible for an offence if the act is done or omitted to be done only because during the time which it is being done or omitted to be done the person is compelled to do or not to do the act by threats on the part of another person.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), a threat must consist of immediate or proximate death or grievous bodily harm upon refusal to comply therewith to that person or any third party.

15. A married woman is not free from criminal responsibility for doing or omitting to do any act merely because the act or omission takes place in the presence of her husband, but on a charge against a wife, other than for treason or murder, it shall be a good defence to prove that the offence was committed in the presence of and under the coercion of the husband.

16. Subject to the express provisions of this Code or any other law for the time being in force in the Territory, criminal responsibility for the use of force in the defence of a person or property shall be determined according to the common law.

17. A person may use such force as is reasonable in the circumstances in preventing crime, or in effecting or assisting in the lawful arrest of offenders or suspected offenders or of persons unlawfully at large.

18. A person shall not be punished twice, either under the provisions of this Code or under the provisions of any other law, for the same offence.

19. (1) When an offence is committed, each of the following persons is deemed to have taken part in committing the offence and to be guilty of the offence, and may be charged with actually committing it, that is to say:

- (a) every person who actually does the act or makes the omission which constitutes the offence;
- (b) every person who does or omits to do any act for the purpose of enabling or aiding any other person to commit the offence;
- (c) every person who aids or abets another person in committing the offence, and
- (d) any person who counsels or procures any person to commit the offence.

(2) In a case arising out of paragraph (d) of subsection (1), the accused may be charged with himself committing the offence or with counseling or procuring its commission.

(3) A conviction of counseling or procuring the commission of an offence entails the same consequences in all respects as a conviction of committing the offence.

(4) Any person who procures another to do or omit to do any act of such a nature that, if he had himself done the act or made the omission the act or omission would have constituted an offence on his part, is guilty of an offence of the same kind, and is liable to the same punishment, as if he himself had done the act or made the omission, and he may be charged with himself doing the act or making the omission.

20. When two or more persons form a common intention to prosecute an unlawful purpose in conjunction with one another and in the prosecution of such unlawful purpose an offence is committed of such a nature that its commission was a probable consequence of prosecution of such unlawful purpose, each of them is deemed to have committed the offence

21. When a person counsels another to commit an offence and an offence is actually committed after such counsel by the person to whom it is give, it is immaterial whether the offence actually committed is the same as that counseled or a different one, or whether the offence is committed in the way counseled or in a different way, provided in either case that the facts constituting the offence actually committed are a consequence of the carrying out of the counsel, and in either case the person who gave the counsel is deemed to have counseled the other person to commit the offence actually committed by him.

PART II

PUNISHMENTS

22. Subject to the provisions of this code and of any other law in force relating to the jurisdiction of particular courts, the following kinds of punishments may be imposed by a court on persons convicted of offences under this Code:

- (a) imprisonment;
- (b) fine;
- (c) payment of compensation to injured party;
- (d) suspended sentence;
- (e) finding security to keep the peace and be of good behavior or to come up for judgment
- (f) probation under the Probation of Offenders Act;
- (g) forfeiture of articles involved in an offence;
- (h) any other punishment expressly provided for by law for the time being in force.

23. (1) A person liable for imprisonment for life or any other period may be sentenced to shorter term, except in the case of a sentence passed in pursuance of section 150.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Code or any other law, a person liable to imprisonment may be sentenced to pay a fine in addition to or instead of imprisonment.

24. (1) Where a fine is imposed under any law then, in the absence of express provisions relating to such fine in such aw, the following provisions shall apply:

- (a) where no limit is expressed as regards the amount of the fine, the amount of the fine, which may be imposed, is unlimited but shall not be excessive;
- (b) in the case of an offence punishable by a fine or a term of imprisonment or both, the imposition of a fine or of a term of imprisonment or both, shall be in the discretion of the court;
- (c) in the case of an offence punishable with imprisonment as well as a fine, and in which the offence is sentenced to a fine (with or without imprisonment) and in every case of an offence punishable with a fine only in which the offender is sentenced to a fine, the court imposing the fine may, in its discretion direct by its sentence that in default of payment of the fine, within such time (if any) as the court may direct, the offender shall suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding the maximum term specified in section 25, which imprisonment shall be in addition to and consecutive with any other imprisonment to which he may have been sentenced or may be liable under a commutation of sentence.

(2) For the purpose of paragraph (c) of subsection (1), where the sentence directs that in default of payment of the fine the offender shall be imprisoned, and if such person has undergone the whole of such imprisonment in default, no court shall issue a distress warrant unless for special reasons to be recorded in writing by the court, it considers it necessary so to do.

25. (1) In the absence of express provisions in any law relating thereto, the term of imprisonment which may be ordered by a court in respect of the non-payment of any sum adjudged to be paid as a fine, costs or compensation or of any sum adjudged to be paid under any law relating to the offence of witch the offender has been convicted, shall be such term as in the opinion of the court will satisfy the justice of the case, but shall not exceed the maximum fixed by the following scale:

Where the amount of the sum of money adjudged to be paid is	The period of imprisonment shall not exceed
0 - $200.00	Four (4) days
$201.00 - $500.00	Thirty (30) days
$501.00 - $1000.00	Two (2) months
$1001.00 - $2000.00	Four (4) months
Exceeds $2000.00	Six (6) months

(2) Imprisonment imposed in default of the payment of any sum payable in respect of a fine, costs or compensation shall terminate immediately the fine is paid or levied by process of law, and in a case where part of the amount payable is paid, the term of the imprisonment shall be reduced in proportion to the amount so paid.

26. (1) Where any person is convicted of an offence under sections 79, 80, 81 or 101, the court may, in addition to or in lieu of any other penalty which may be imposed, order the forfeiture to the Crown of any property which has passed in connection with the commission of the offence or, if such property cannot be forfeited or cannot be found, of such sum as the court shall assess as the value of the property, and any property or sum so forfeited shall be dealt with in such manner as the Governor may direct.

(2) The payment of any sum ordered to be forfeited under subsection (1) may be enforced in the same manner and subject to the same incidents as in the case of the payment of a fine.

27. (1) Any person who is convicted of an offence may be ordered by a court to make compensation to any person injured, in person or property, by his offence and any such compensation may be in addition to any other punishment.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not preclude any person, who or whose property, has been injured by the act or omission of another from bringing an action in respect of such injury but if he shall so do the court, in making an award, shall take into account any compensation that may have been paid by virtue of an order under subsection (1).

28. Subject to limitations imposed by any other law, a court may order any person convicted of an offence to pay costs of and incidental to the prosecution or any part thereof.

29. (1) Subject to subsection (2), where a court passes a sentence of imprisonment for a term of not more than two years for an offence, it may order that the sentence shall not take effect unless, during a period specified in the order, being not less than one year or more than two years from the date of the order, the offender commits in the Territory another offence punishable with imprisonment.

(2) A court shall not deal with an offender by means of a suspended sentence unless it is of the opinion that

- (a) the case is one in which a sentence of imprisonment would have been appropriate even without the power to suspend the sentence; and
- (b) the exercise of that power can be justified by the exceptional circumstances of the case.

(3) A court which passes a suspended sentence on any person for an offence shall

- (a) consider whether the circumstances of the case are such as to warrant in addition the imposition of a fine or of making of a compensation order; or
- (b) not to make a probation order in his case in respect of another offence of which he is convicted by or before the court or for which he is dealt with by the court.

(4) Where an offender is convicted of an offence punishable with imprisonment committed during the period of a suspended sentence, then, unless the sentence has already taken effect, the court shall consider his case and deal with him by one of the following methods:

- (a) the court may order that the suspended sentence shall take effect with the original term unaltered;
- (b) the court may order that the sentence shall take effect with the substitution of a lesser term for the original term;
- (c) the court may by order vary the original order under subsection (1) by substituting for the period specified therein a period expiring not later than two years from the date of the variation;
- (d) the court may make no order with respect to the suspended sentence.

(5) Where the court orders that a suspended sentence shall take effect, with or without any variation of the original term, it may order that that sentence shall take effect immediately or that the term thereof shall commence on the expiration of another term of imprisonment passed on the offender by that or another court.

6) In proceedings for dealing with an offender in respect of a suspended sentence, any question whether the offender has been convicted of an offence punishable with imprisonment committed during the period of the suspended sentence is one of law to be determined by the court and not by the verdict of a jury.

30. (1) Subject to subsection (2), a person convicted of an offence not punishable with imprisonment for life may, instead if, or in addition to, any punishment to which he is liable, be ordered to enter into his own recognizance, with or without sureties, in such amount as the court thinks fit, that he shall keep the peace and be of good behavior for a time to be fixed by the court, and may be ordered to be imprisoned until such recognizance with sureties if so directed, is entered into.

(2) An order of imprisonment under subsection (1) or not entering into the recognizance shall not,

- (a) extend for a period longer than one year; and
- (b) together with the fixed term of imprisonment, if any, extend for a term longer than the longest term to which he might be sentenced to be imprisoned for the offence of which he is convicted.

31. When a person is convicted of an offence not punishable with imprisonment for life, the court may, instead of passing sentence, discharge the offender on entering on his own recognizance, with or without sureties, in such sum as the court thinks fit, conditioned that he shall appear and receive judgment at some future sitting of the court or when called upon.

32. When I this Code or any other law no imprisonment is specially provided for an offence it shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or with a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or with both.

33. (1) Where a person after conviction for an offence is convicted of another offence, either before sentence is passed upon him under the first conviction or before the expiration of that sentence, any sentence other than a sentence of corporal punishment, which is passed upon him under the subsequent conviction, shall be executed after the expiration of the former sentence, unless the court, subject to subsection (20) directs that it shall be executed concurrently with the former sentence or of any part thereof.

(2) No court shall direct that a sentence of imprisonment in default of a payment of a fine shall be executed concurrently with a former sentence imposed under section 24 (1) (c) of this Code or of any part thereof.

34. If a sentence is passed under this Code upon an escaped convict, the sentence shall run consecutively or concurrently, as the court may order, with the unexpired portion of the sentence which the convict was undergoing when he escaped.

35. (1) Where in any trial the court thinks that the charge is proved, but is of the opinion that, having regard to the character, antecedents, age, health or mental condition of the accused, or to the trivial nature of the offence or to the extenuating circumstances in which the offence was committed, it is inexpedient to inflict any punishment, the court may, without proceeding to conviction, make and order dismissing the charge.

(2) An order made under subsection (1) shall, for the purpose of re-vesting or restoring stolen property and of enabling a court to make any order in that behalf, have the like effect of a conviction

(3) Where any charge is dismissed under subsection (1) the court may order the accused person to pay the whole or any part of the costs of and incidental to the prosecution.

PART III

OFFENCES AGAINST GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC ORDER

36. (1) A person commits the offence of treason and is liable on conviction to suffer imprisonment for life if he

- (f) causes an obstruction or disturbance in the course of a judicial proceeding;
- (g) while a judicial proceeding is pending, makes use of any speech or writing misrepresenting such proceeding or capable of prejudicing any person in favour of or against any parties to such proceeding, or calculated to lower the authority of any person before whom the proceeding is to be held
- (h) publishes a report of the evidence taken in any judicial proceeding which has been directed to be held in private;
- (i) attempts wrongfully to interfere with or influence a witness in any judicial proceeding, either before or after he has given evidence

- (j) dismisses any employee because he has given evidence on behalf of a certain party to a judicial proceeding;
- (k) wrongfully retakes possession of any land from any person to whom possession has been awarded by writ or order of a court; or
- (l) commits any other act or intentional disrespect to any court or any judicial proceeding or to any person before whom the proceeding is being held.

(2) When any offence against paragraphs (a), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g) or (l) of subsection (1) is committed in view of the court, the court may cause the offender to be detained in custody, and at any time before the rising of the court on the same day may take cognizance of the offence and summarily sentence the offender to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month.

(3) The provisions of this section shall be deemed to be in addition to and not in derogation of the powers conferred by the Contempt of Court Act, the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act, and any other powers of the High Court or the Court of Appeal to punish for contempt of court.

95. (1) Any person lawfully sworn as a witness, or as an interpreter, in a judicial proceeding who willfully makes a statement, material in that proceeding, which he knows to be false or does not believe to be true, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) Where a statement made for the purpose of a judicial proceeding is not made before the court or tribunal itself but is made on oath before a person authorized by law to administer an oath to the person who makes the statement and to record or authenticate the statement it shall, for the purpose of this section, be treated as having been made in a judicial proceeding.

(3) For the purpose of this section, it is immaterial whether

- (a) the person making the statement is or is not competent to be a witness and whether or not his evidence is admissible; and
- (b) the false testimony is given orally or in writing.

(4) The question whether a statement, in respect of which a charge of perjury is made, was material is a question of law to be determined by the court of trial.

(5) A person shall not be liable to be convicted of an offence under this section, or of any offence declared by any law to be perjury or subordination of perjury, solely upon the evidence of one witness as to the falsity of any statement alleged to be false.

(6) For the purposes of this section, proceedings before any statutory body or tribunal which is empowered to take evidence on oath shall be deemed to be judicial proceedings.

96. Any person who aids, abets, counsels, procures or suborns another person to commit an offence under this Part commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

97. (1) Any person who, with the intent to mislead any court, fabricates evidence or knowingly makes use of fabricated evidence, to defeat, obstruct or pervert the course of justice in any judicial proceeding, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) A person fabricates evidence if he causes any circumstances to exist, or makes any false entry in any book, account or record false or make any document containing a false statement, or makes up a false story in any form whatsoever, or forges any document with intent to mislead any judicial proceedings.

(3) For the purposes of this section and sections 98 and 99 “court” includes a tribunal, commission or inquiry and any person authorized to take evidence on oath.

98. (1) Subject to subsection (2), where two or more inconsistent or contradictory statements of fact or alleged fact, material to the issue or matter in question, have been willfully made on oath by the same witness in any judicial proceedings, whether before the same court, that witness commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

(2) A person shall not be convicted for an offence under this section unless the court is satisfied that the statements or either of them, were or was made with the intent to deceive the court, before which the statements or either of them were or was made.

(3) Upon the trial of any person for an offence under this section, it shall not be necessary to prove the falsity of either the inconsistent or contradictory statements, but upon proof that both the statements were made by the accused, and being satisfied that the accused had the intent referred to in subsection (2) the court may convict the accused.

(4) the trial of any person for an offence under this section, the record of any court containing any statement made on oath by the person charged shall be prima facie evidence of such statement.

99. On the trial of any person

(a) for perjury, or

(b) for procuring or suborning the commission of perjury, the fact of a former trial before the court shall be sufficiently proved by the production of a certificate containing the substance and effect (omitting the formal parts) of the proceedings at the former trial purporting to be signed by the Registrar or other person having custody of the records of the court without proof of the signature or official status of the person appearing to have signed the certificate.

100. For the purposes of this Part, the form and ceremonies used in administering an oath are immaterial if the court or the person before whom the oath is taken has power to administer an oath for the purpose of verifying the statement in question and if the oath has been administered in a form and with the ceremonies which the person taking the oath has accepted without objection or has declared to be binding on him.

101. Any person who asks, receives or obtains, or agrees or attempts to receive or obtain, any property or benefit of any kind for himself or any other person upon any agreement or understanding that he will compound or conceal an offence or will abstain from, discontinue or delay, a prosecution for an offence, or will withhold any evidence thereof, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

102. Any person who

- (a) publicly offers a reward for the return of any property which has been stolen or lost, and in the offer makes use of any words purporting that no question will be asked, or that the person producing such property will not be seized or molested,
- (b) publicly offers to return to any person who may have bought or advanced money by way of loan upon an stolen or lost property the money so paid or advanced, or any other sum of money or reward for the return of such property, or
- (c) prints or publishes an offer referred to under paragraph (a) or (b) commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

103. (1) Subject to subsection (2), any person who, by force, rescues or attempts to rescue from lawful custody any person,

- (a) who is under sentence of imprisonment for life or charged with an offence punishable with imprisonment for life commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.
- (b) who is imprisoned on a charge or under sentence for an offence other than those specified in paragraph (a) commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.
- (c) in any other case, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

(2) If the person rescued is in the custody of a private person, the offender must have been aware of the fact that the person rescued is in lawful custody.

104. Any person who, being in lawful custody, escapes from such custody commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

105. Any person who, having another person in his custody, intentionally or negligently permits him to escape, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

106. (1) A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years, if he

(a) aids a prisoner in escaping or attempting to escape from lawful custody, or

(b) conveys anything or causes anything to be conveyed into a prison with intent to facilitate the escape of a prisoner.

(2) A person who harbours or assists in any manner another person in harbouring a prisoner who has escaped from lawful custody, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

107. Any person who, when any property has been attached or taken under the process or authority of a court, knowingly and with intent to hinder or defeat the attachment process receives, removes, retains, conceals or disposes of such property, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

108. Any person who willfully obstructs or resists any person lawfully charged with the execution of an order or warrant of a court, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

109. Any person who, being employed in the public service, in the discharge of his duties, commits any fraud or breach of trust affecting the public, whether such fraud or breach of trust would have been criminal or not if committed against a private person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

110. A person who gives to any person employed in the public service any information in the truth of which he does not believe, intending thereby to cause, or knowing it to be likely that he will thereby cause, such person employed in the public service

(a) to do or omit anything which such person employed in the public service ought not to do or omit if the true state of facts respecting which such information is given were known to him, or

(b) to use lawful power of such person employed in the public service to the injury or annoyance of any person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

PART VI

OFFENCES RELATING TO RELIGION

111. Any person who destroys, damages or defiles any place of worship or any object which is held sacred by any group or class of persons with the intention thereby of insulting the religion of those persons or with the knowledge that any group or class of persons is likely to consider such destruction, damage or defilement as an insult to their religion, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

112. Any person who voluntarily causes disturbance to any assembly lawfully engaged in the performance of religious worship or ceremony, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

113. Any person who, with the intention of wounding the religious feelings of any other person, writes any word, or utters any word or makes any sound in the hearing of any other person or makes any gesture or places an object in the sight of any other person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

114 Any person who unlawfully hinders the burial of the dead body of any person, or, without lawful authority in that behalf, disinters, dissects or harm the dead body of any person, or being under a duty to cause the dead body of any person to be buried, fails to perform such duty, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

115. (1) Any person who, with the intention of wounding the feelings of any other person or of insulting the religion of any person, or with the knowledge that the feelings of any person are likely to be wounded or that any person is likely to be wounded or that any person is likely to consider that his religion has been insulted thereby, trespasses in any place of worship or of sculpture, or which is set apart for the performance of funeral rites or for the burial or depository of the remains of the dead, or who offers any assembled for any funeral ceremony commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

(3) For the purposes of this section, any flowers, candles, wreaths, tombstones or other thing placed on or near a grave shall, until the contrary be proved, be deemed to have been so placed in memory or respect of or as tribute to the dead.

PART VII
SEXUAL OFFENCES

116. (1) For the purposes of this Part,

“brothel” means a house, room or any other place resorted to by more than one prostitute for the purposes of prostitution, and the fact that one of the women is the owner or tenant and the occupier of the premises is immaterial;

“man: includes a boy;

“woman” includes a girl; and

“unlawful sexual intercourse” means sexual intercourse outside the bond of marriage.

(2) Where upon the trial of an offence under this Part it is necessary to prove intercourse (whether natural or unnatural) it shall not be necessary to prove the completion of the intercourse by the emission of seed, but the intercourse shall be deemed to be complete upon proof of penetration only.

117. (1) A man who rapes a woman commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

(2) A man commits rape if

(a) he has unlawful sexual intercourse with a woman who at the time of the intercourse did not consent to it, and

(b) at the time he knows that she does not consent to the intercourse or he is reckless as to whether she consented to it.

(3) If at the trial for a rape offence the jury has to consider whether a man believed that a woman was consenting to sexual intercourse, the presence or absence of reasonable grounds for such belief is a matter to which the jury is to have regard, in conjunction with any other relevant matters in considering whether he so believed.

(4) In subsection (3) a “rape offence” means rape or attempted rape, or aiding, abetting, counseling or procuring rape or attempted rape, or incitement to rape.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a woman is deemed not to have consented to sexual intercourse if her acquiescence is obtained by threat of force or use of force, or by means of threats or intimidation of any kind, or by fear of bodily harm, or by means of false representations as to the nature of the act or, in the case of a married woman, by personating her husband.

(6) On a trial for rape, the jury may find the accused guilty of

- (a) sexual intercourse with a girl under the age of thirteen years, under section 118;
- (b) sexual intercourse with a girl under the age of sixteen years, under section 119;
- (c) indecent assault on a woman, under section 124;
- (d) procurement of a woman by threats, under section 129;
- (e) procurement of a woman by false pretences, under section 130;
- (f) administering drugs to obtain or facilitate intercourse, under section 131; or
- (g) common assault, under section 183.

(7) A person may be charged for attempting to commit rape or aiding, abetting, counseling or procuring rape or attempting rape, or inciting to rape and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

118. (1) Any man who has sexual intercourse with a girl under the age of thirteen years, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) It is immaterial in the case of a charge for an offence under this section that the intercourse was had with the consent of the girl concerned.

(3) Any man who is convicted of an attempt to commit an offence under this section is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

119. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a man who has unlawful sexual intercourse with a girl above the age of thirteen and under the age of sixteen years, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) It is immaterial in the case of a charge for an offence under this section that the intercourse was had with the consent of the girl concerned.

(3) Where a marriage is void under section 24A of the Marriage Ordinance because the wife is under the age of sixteen years, the invalidity of the marriage does not make the husband guilty of an offence under this section because he had sexual intercourse with her, if at the time he believed her to be his wife and had reasonable cause for the belief.

(4) A man shall not be convicted of an offence under this section because he has unlawful sexual intercourse with a girl under the age of sixteen if he is under the age of twenty one years, and has not previously been charged with a like offence, and he believes her to be of the age of sixteen years or over and has reasonable cause for the belief.

120. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a man who has unlawful sexual intercourse with a woman who is a mental defective, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) A man shall not be convicted of an offence under this section if he did not know and had no reason to suspect that the woman was a mental defective.

(3) For the purpose of this section, it is immaterial that the unlawful sexual intercourse was had with consent.

(4) In this section “a mental defective” means a woman who has been ordered to be detained under the provisions of the Mental Health Ordinance or who is shown by the evidence of two medical practitioners to be suffering from mental disorder, psychopathic disorder or sub-normality.

121. (1) A husband commits the offence of sexual assault if he has sexual intercourse with his wife without her consent by force or fear where there is in existence in relation to them

(a) a decree nisi of the divorce;

(b) a decree of judicial separation

(c) a separation agreement;

(d) a protection order made under the Domestic Violence (Summary Proceedings) Act, 1996; or

(e) any other order for the husband not to molest his wife or have sexual intercourse with her.

(2) A husband who commits the offence of sexual assault is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

(3) No proceedings for an offence under this section shall be instituted except by or with the consent of the Attorney General.

122. (1) A man who has sexual intercourse with a woman whom he knows to be his grand-daughter, daughter, step-daughter, sister or mother, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

(2) In subsection (1), “sister” includes half-sister, and for the purpose of that subsection importing a relationship between two people shall be taken to apply notwithstanding that the relationship is not traced through lawful wedlock.

(3) It is immaterial in the case of a charge for an offence under this section that the intercourse was had with the consent of the woman concerned.

(4) A man convicted if an attempt to commit an offence under this section is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

123. (1) A woman of the age of sixteen years or over who permits a man whom she knows to be her grandfather, father, brother, son or step-son to have sexual intercourse with her, with her consent, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

(2) In subsection (1) “brother” includes half-brother, and for the purposes of that subsection any expression importing a relationship between two people shall apply notwithstanding that the relationship is not traced through lawful wedlock.

(3) A woman convicted of an attempt to commit an offence under this section is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

124. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, any man who makes an indecent assault on a woman commits an offence and is liable on conviction,

(a) if on a girl under the age of thirteen years, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or

(b) in any other case, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) A girl under the age of sixteen years cannot in law give consent, which would prevent an act being an assault for the purpose of this section.

(3) Where a marriage is invalid under section 24A of the Marriage Ordinance, because the wife is under the age of sixteen years, the invalidity of the marriage does not make the husband guilty of an offence under this section by reason of her incapacity to consent while under that age, if he believes her to be his wife and has reasonable cause for that belief.

(4) A woman who is a lunatic, or a mental defective who is receiving treatment for mental or psychopathic disorder, cannot in law give consent which would prevent an act being an assault for the purpose of this section, but a person is only to be treated as guilty of an indecent assault under this section by reason of such incapacity to consent if that person knew or had reason to know that such woman was a lunatic or mental defective receiving treatment.

125. Any person who commit an act of gross indecency with or towards a child under the age of fourteen years or who incites a child under that age to such act with him or another, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years or to a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars, or both.

126. Any person who is the owner or occupier of any premises or who has, or acts or assists in, the management or control of any premises and who induces or knowingly allows a girl under that age of sixteen years to resort or to be on those premises for the purpose of having sexual intercourse with men or with a particular man, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

127. (1) Any person who causes or encourages the prostitution of, or the commission of sexual intercourse with, or an indecent assault on, a girl under the age of sixteen years for whom he is reasonable, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(2) Where a girl has become a prostitute, or has had sexual intercourse or has been indecently assaulted, a person shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have caused or encouraged it if he knowingly allows her to consort with, or to enter or continue in the employment of, any prostitute or person of known immoral character.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), the persons who are to be treated, for the purposes of this section, as responsible for a girl are

- (a) any person who is her parent or legal guardian;
- (b) any person who has the custody or control of her, or to whose charge she has been committed by her parents or legal guardian or by a person having the custody of her; and
- (c) any other person who has the custody, charge or care of her.

(4) In subsection (3),

- (a) “parent” does not include, in relation to any girl, a person deprived of the custody of her by order of any court of competent jurisdiction, but (subject to that) in the case of a girl who has been adopted under the Adoption of Children Act, means her adopters and in the case of a girl who was born outside of marriage, means her mother and any person who has been adjudged to be her (putative) father; and
- (b) “legal guardian” means, in relation to any girl, any person who is for the time being her guardian having been so appointed according to law by deed or will or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) If a charge for an offence under this section, the girl appears to the jury to have been under the age of sixteen years at the time of the offence charged, she shall be presumed to for the purposes of this section to have been so unless the contrary is proved.

128. (1) Any person who, within the Territory, procures or attempts to procure, a woman

- (a) to become a common prostitute, whether within the Territory or elsewhere,
- (b) to leave the Territory, intending her to become an inmate of or to frequent a brothel elsewhere, or
- (c) to leave her usual place of abode in the Territory, intending her to become an inmate of or to frequent a brothel in any part of the world for the purposes of prostitution, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under this section on the evidence of one witness only, unless the witness is corroborated in some material particular,

129. Any person who procures or attempts to procure a woman by threats or intimidation to have unlawful sexual intercourse, whether within the Territory or elsewhere, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

130. Any person who procures, or attempts to procure a woman by false pretences or false representation to have unlawful sexual intercourse whether within the Territory or elsewhere, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

131. (1) Any person who applies or administers to, or causes to be taken by, a woman any drug, matters or thing with intent to stupefy or overpower her so as thereby to enable any man to have unlawful sexual intercourse with her, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under this section on the evidence of one witness only, unless that witness is corroborated in some material particular.

132. (1) Any person who detains a woman against her will on any premises with the intention that she shall have unlawful sexual intercourse with men or with a particular man, or who detains a woman against her will in a brothel, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(2) Where a woman is on any premises for the purpose of having unlawful sexual intercourse, or is in a brothel, a person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to detain her there if, with the intention of compelling or inducing her to remain there, he either withholds from her clothes or any other property belonging to her or threatens her with legal proceedings in the event of her taking away clothes provided for her by him or on his directions.

(3) A woman shall not be liable to any legal proceedings, whether civil or criminal, for taking away or being found in possession of any clothes she needed to enable her to leave premises on which she was for the purposes of having unlawful sexual intercourse or to leave a brothel.

133. (1) A man who knowingly lives wholly or partly on the earnings of prostitution, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years or to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or both.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a man who lives with or is habitually in the company of a prostitute, or who exercises control over a prostitute's movements in a way which shows he is aiding, abetting or compelling her prostitution with others, shall be presumed to be knowingly living on the earnings of prostitution, unless he proves the contrary.

134. A woman who, for the purposes of gain, exercises control, direction or influence over a prostitute's movements in any way which shows that she is aiding, abetting or compelling her prostitution, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years or to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or both.

135. Any person who knowingly lives wholly or partly on the earnings of prostitution of a man, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years or to a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars, or both.

136. Any person who keeps a brothel or manages or assists in managing a brothel commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

137. (1) Any person who is the owner or lessor, or who is the occupier or in control, of any premises, or his agent, who lets or arranges for the letting of the premises as a brothel, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years or to a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars, or both.

(2) Upon the conviction of a person for an offence under subsection (1), after having been previously convicted of an offence under that subsection, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years or to a fine not exceeding here thousand dollars, or both.

138. Any person who commits or attempts to commit an indecent assault on a man or procures or attempts to procure a man to commit an indecent assault on another man, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

PART VIII

ABORTION

139 (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, any person who

- (a) being with child, with intent to procure he own miscarriage, unlawfully administers to herself any poison or other noxious thing, or unlawfully uses any instrument or other means whatsoever with the like intent, or
- (b) with intent to procure the miscarriage of any woman whether or not she is with child, unlawfully administers to her, or causes her to take, any poison or other noxious thing, or unlawfully uses any instrument or other means whatsoever with the like intent, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under subsection (1) when a pregnancy is terminated in a hospital, or other establishment approved for the purposes by the Director of Health Services, by a medical practitioner if two medical practitioners are of the opinion, formed in good faith,

(a) that the continuance of the pregnancy would involve risk of life of the pregnant woman, or injury to the physical or mental health of the pregnant woman greater than if the pregnancy were terminated; or

(b) that there is a substantial risk if the child were born it would suffer from such physical or mental abnormality as to be seriously handicapped.

(3) The reference to the opinion of two medical practitioners and of an approved hospital or other establishment shall not apply to the termination of pregnancy by a registered medical practitioner in a case in which he is of the opinion, formed in good faith, that the termination is immediately necessary to save the life or to prevent grave permanent injury to the physical or mental health of the pregnant woman.

140. Any person who unlawfully supplies or procures any poison or other noxious thing, or any instrument or thing whatsoever, knowing that the same is intended to be unlawfully used or employed with intent to procure the miscarriage of any woman, whether or not she is with child, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

141. (1) Any person who, with intent to destroy the life of a child capable of being born alive, by any willful act or omission causes a child to die before it has an existence independent of its mother, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under subsection (1) if it is proved that the act, which caused the death of the child, was done in good faith for the purpose only of preserving the life of the mother.

(3) For the purposes of this section, evidence that a woman had at any material time been pregnant for a period of twenty-eight weeks or more shall be prima facie proof that she was at the time pregnant of a child capable of being born alive.

PART IX

OFFENCES RELATING TO MARRIAGE

142. (1) Subject to subsection (2), any person who, being married, marries any other person during the life of the former husband or wife, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under subsection (1) by reason of marrying a second time in any of the following cases:

(a) where the husband or wife, as the case may be, of the person marrying a second time has been continually absent from such person for the space of three years immediately preceding the date of the second marriage, and has not been known to the other party to the first marriage to have been living during any part of such period;

(b) where the husband or wife, as the case may be, who marries a second time, although no such period of three years as is specified to in paragraph (a) has elapsed, in good faith and on reasonable grounds believed at the time of the second marriage that the other party to his first marriage was dead; or

(c) where, prior to the date of the second marriage, the first marriage has been dissolved or declared to be void or a decree of nullity made by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) The husband or wife of a person charged with bigamy may be called as a witness for the prosecution or the defence without the consent of the person charged.

143. Any person who willfully and by fraud causes any woman, who is not lawfully married to him, to believe that she is lawfully married to him, and to cohabit or have sexual intercourse with him in that belief, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

144. Any person who dishonestly, or with fraudulent intention, goes through a sham marriage ceremony, knowing that he is not thereby lawfully married, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

145. Any person who impersonates another person in a marriage ceremony, or who marries under a false name or description, with intent to deceive the other party to the marriage, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

PART X

GENOCIDE

146. (1) In this Part, “the Genocide Convention” means the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide approved by the General Assembly of the United Nations on 9th December, 1948.

(2) A person commits an offence of genocide if he commits any act falling within the definition of “genocide” in Article II of the Genocide Convention, as set out in subsection (3)

(3) “Genocide” means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group:

(a) killing members of the group;

(b) causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;

(c) deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part.

(d) imposing measures intended to prevent births to another group;

(e) forcibly transferring children of the group to another group.

147. (1) A person who commits the offence of genocide is liable on conviction,

(a) if the offence consists of the killing of any person, to imprisonment for life;

(b) in any other case, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) A prosecution in respect of genocide shall not be instituted except by, or with the consent of, the Attorney General.

PART XI

HOMICIDE AND OTHER OFFENCES AGAINST THE PERSON

148. (1) Subject to subsection (2) and to the provisions of section 149, 151 and 154, any person who, of malice aforethought express or implied, causes the death of another person by an unlawful act or omission commits murder.

(2) Where on the facts found the offence would under the law of England be reduced to one of manslaughter, then the offence shall be so reduced.

(3) For the purposes of this section, malice aforethought shall be deemed to be established by evidence proving

(a) an intention to cause the death of or to so grievous bodily harm to any person, whether such person is the person actually killed or not, or

(b) knowledge that the act or omission causing death will probably cause the death of or cause grievous bodily harm to some person, whether or not such person is the person actually killed, although such knowledge is accompanied by indifference whether or not death or grievous bodily harm is caused, or by a wish that it may be caused.

149. (1) Where a person kills or is party to the killing of another, he shall not be convicted of murder if he was suffering from such abnormality of mind (whether arising from a condition of arrested or retarded development of mind or other inherent causes or induced by disease or injury) as substantially impaired his mental responsibility for his acts in doing or being a party to the killing.

(2) On a charge of murder, it shall be for the defence to prove that the person charged is by virtue of this section not liable to be convicted of murder.

(3) A person who but for this section would be liable, whether as principal or otherwise, to be convicted of murder shall be liable instead to be convicted of manslaughter.

(4) The fact that one party to a killing is by virtue of this section not liable to be convicted of murder shall not affect the question whether the killing amounted to murder in the case of any other party to it.

150. Any person who is convicted of murder is liable to imprisonment for life.

151. (1) Where on a charge of murder there is evidence on which a jury can find that the person charged was provoked (whether by things done or things said or both) to lose his self-control, the question whether the provocation was enough to make a reasonable man do as he did shall be left to be determined by the jury, and the jury shall take into account everything done and said according to the effect which, in their opinion, it would have on a reasonable man.

(2) Where on a charge of murder, the jury find that all the other elements of the offence have been proved, but there is evidence of provocation, such as is referred to in subsection (1), the jury shall not return a verdict of guilty of murder but shall return a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "provocation" is any wrongful act or insult which is of such a nature as to be likely, when done to an ordinary person, or in the presence of an ordinary person to another person who is under his immediate care, or to whom he stands in a conjugal, parental, filial or fraternal relation, to deprive him of the power of self-control and to induce him to assault the person by whom the act or insult is done or offered.

152. Any person who, by any means, attempts to commit murder is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

153. (1) Any person who, by any unlawful act or omission, causes the death of another person, commits the offence of manslaughter.

(2) Any person who is convicted of manslaughter is liable to imprisonment for life.

(3) For the purposes of this section, an unlawful omission is an omission amounting to culpable negligence to discharge a duty tending to the preservation of life or health, whether such omission is or is not accompanied by an intention to cause death or bodily harm.

154. (1) Where a woman by any willful act or omission causes the death of her child, being a child under the age of twelve months, but at the time of the act or omission the balance of her mind was disturbed by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to the child or the reason of the effect of lactation consequent upon the birth of the child, then notwithstanding that the circumstances were such that but for this section the offence would have amounted to murder, she commits the offence of infanticide, and may for such offence be dealt with and punished as if she had committed the offence of manslaughter.

(2) Where upon the trial of a woman for the murder of her child, being a child under the age of twelve months, the jury are of the opinion that by any willful act or omission she caused its death, but that at the time of the act or omission the balance of her mind was disturbed by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to the child or by reason of the effect of lactation consequent upon the birth of the child, then the jury, notwithstanding that the circumstances were such that but for this section they might have returned a verdict of murder, may return in lieu thereof a verdict of manslaughter.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the power of the jury upon an indictment for murder of a child to return a verdict of manslaughter, or a verdict of guilty but insane, or a verdict of concealment of birth in pursuance of section 161.

155. (1) Any person who maliciously sends, delivers or utters, or directly or indirectly causes to be received, knowing the contents thereof, any letter, writing or other document threatening to kill or murder any person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

(2) For the a purposes of subsection (1), “document” shall be deemed to include any disc, tape, sound track or other device in which sounds or other data are embodied so as to be capable (with or without the aid of some other equipment) of being reproduced therefrom.

156. Any person who conspires with another person or solicits, encourages, persuades, endeavors to persuade, or proposes to any other person to murder any person, whether such person is within the Territory or elsewhere, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

157. (1) Any person who aids, abets, counsels or procures the suicide of another, or the attempt by another to commit suicide, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) If on the trial of an indictment for murder or manslaughter it is proved that the accused aided, abetted, counseled or procured the suicide of the person in question, the jury may find him guilty of the offence.

158. (1) It shall be manslaughter and not murder for a person acting in pursuance of a suicide pact between him and another person to kill the other person or to be a party to that other person killing himself or being killed by a third person.

(2) Where it is shown that the person charged with the murder of another person killed that other or was a party to his killing himself or being killed it shall be for the defence to prove that the person charged was acting in pursuance of a suicide pact between him and the other person

(3) For the purposes of this section, “suicide pact” means a common agreement between two or more persons having for its object the death of all of them, whether or not each is to take his own life, but nothing done by a person entering into a suicide pact shall be treated as done by him in pursuance of the pact unless it is done while he has a settled intention of dying in pursuance of that pact.

159. A person shall be deemed to have caused the death of another person, although his act is not the immediate or the sole cause of death, in any of the following cases:

- (a) if he inflicts bodily injury on another person in consequence of which that other person undergoes surgical or medical treatment which causes his death, and in such a case it is immaterial whether the treatment was proper or mistaken, if it was employed in good faith and with common knowledge and skill; but the person inflicting the injury shall not be deemed to have caused the death if the treatment which was the immediate cause of the death was not employed in good faith or was so employed without common knowledge and skill;

- (b) if he inflicts bodily injury on another person which would not have caused death if the injured person had submitted to proper surgical or medical treatment or had observed proper precautions as to his mode of living;
- (c) if by actual or threatened violence he caused such other person to perform an act which causes the death of that person, such act being a means of avoiding such violence which in the circumstances would appear natural to the person whose death is so caused;
- (d) if by any act or omission he hastens the death of another person suffering under any disease or injury which, apart from such act or omission, would have caused death;
- (e) if his act or omission would not have caused death unless accompanied by an act or omission of the person killed or another person.

160. A child becomes a person capable of being killed when it has completely proceeded in a living state from the body of its mother, whether it has breathed or not, whether it has independent circulation or not and whether the naval string is severed or not.

161. Any person who, when a woman is delivered of a child, endeavours by any secret disposition of the dead body of the child, to conceal birth, whether the child died before, at or after its birth, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

162. (1) A person shall not be deemed to have killed another person if the death of that person does not take place within a year and a day of the act or omission alleged to have contributed to the death of that other person.

(2) The period referred to in subsection (1) shall be reckoned inclusive of the date on which the last act or omission contributing to the death occurred.

163. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously, by any means whatsoever, wounds or causes any grievous bodily harm to any person with intent so to do or with intent to resist or prevent the lawful apprehension or detainer of any person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

164. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously wounds or inflicts any grievous bodily harm upon any other person, either with or without any weapon or instrument, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

165. Any person who unlawfully wounds another person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

166. Any person who, by means whatsoever, attempts to choke, suffocate or strangle any other person, or who by any means calculated to choke, suffocate or strangle, attempts to render any other person insensible, unconscious or incapable of resistance with intent in any such cases thereby to enable himself or any other person to commit, or with intent in any of such cases thereby to assist any other person in committing, any criminal offence, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

167. Any person who unlawfully applies or administers to, or causes to be taken by, or who attempts to administer to or attempts to cause to be taken by, any other person, any chloroform, laudanum or other anesthetic or any stupefying or overpowering drug, matter or thing, with intent in any of such cases thereby to enable himself or any other person to commit or with the intent in any of such cases thereby to assist any other person in committing, any criminal offence, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

168. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously administers to, or causes to be administered to or taken by, any other person any poison or other destructive or noxious thing so as thereby to endanger the life of such person, or so as thereby to inflict upon such other person any grievous bodily harm, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

169. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously administers to, or causes to be administered to or taken by, any other person any poison or other destructive or noxious thing with intent to injure, aggrieve or annoy such person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

170. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously prevents or impedes any person, being on board of or having quitted any ship or vessel which is in distress or wreck, stranded or cast on shore, in his endeavour to save his life, or unlawfully and maliciously prevents or impedes any other person in his endeavour to save the life of any such person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

171. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously, by the use of any corrosive substance or the explosion of any explosive substance, burns, maims, disfigures, disables or causes any grievous bodily harm to any person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

- (c) Assaults any person on account of any act done by him in the execution of any duty imposed on him by law.

187. Any person who is guilty of an aggravated assault on any female, or on any male child whose age appears to the court not to exceed fourteen years, if the assault is not committed in circumstances for which a greater punishment is provided by this Code, is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

188. Any person who assaults, resists or willfully obstructs any police officer acting in the due execution of his duty, or any person acting in aid of such officer, or who assaults any person with intent to resist or prevent the lawful apprehension or detainer of himself or any other person for any offence, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

PART XII

NEGLECT ENDANGERING LIFE OR HEALTH

189. Any person who either as a master or as mistress of any apprentice or servant,

- (a) being legally liable to provide for the apprentice or servant necessary food, lodging or clothing, without lawful excuse, refuses or neglects to provide the same, or

- (b) unlawfully or maliciously does, or causes to be done, any bodily harm to the apprentice or servant, so that the life of the apprentice or servant is endangered or the health of the apprentice or servant is, or is likely to be, thereby seriously or permanently injured, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

190. Any person who, being charged with the duty of providing for another the necessaries of life, without lawful excuse fails to do so, whereby the life of that other person is, or is likely to be, endangered, or his health is, or is likely to be, seriously or permanently injured, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

191. Any person who unlawfully abandons or exposes any child, being under the age of two years, whereby the life of the child is endangered or the health of the child is, or is likely to be, seriously or permanently injured, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

192. (1) If any person, who has attained the age of sixteen years and has the custody or care of any young person under that age, willfully assaults, ill-treats, neglects, abandons or exposes him or causes or procures him to be assaulted, ill-treated, neglected, abandoned or exposed in a manner likely to cause him unnecessary suffering or injury to health (including injury to or loss of sight or hearing or organ of the body and any mental derangement), that person commits an offence and is liable

- (a) on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or both; or
- (b) on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both.

(2) For the purposes of this section,

- (a) a parent or other person legally liable to maintain a child or young person shall be deemed to have neglected the child or young person in a manner likely to cause injury to his health if he has failed to provide adequate food, clothing, medical aid or lodging for him;
- (b) where it is proved that the death of an infant under the age of three years was caused by suffocation (not being suffocation caused by disease or the presence of any foreign body in the throat or the air passages of the infant) while the infant was in bed with some other person who has attained the age of sixteen years, that other person shall, if he was when he went to bed under the influence of drink, be deemed to have neglected the infant in a manner likely to cause injury to its health;
- (c) any person, having attained the age of sixteen years, who gives, or causes to be given, or sells or causes to be sold, to any child under the age of ten years any intoxicating liquor, except upon the order of a duly qualified medical practitioner, or in case of sickness, apprehended sickness, or other urgent cause, shall be deemed to have ill-treated that child in a manner likely to cause injury to the child's health;

- (d) any person, having attained the age of sixteen years, and having the custody, charge or care of any child under the age of seven years, who allows that child to be in any room or yard containing a stove, coal-stove or open fire-place, not sufficiently protected to guard against the risk of that child being burnt or scalded, without taking reasonable precautions against the risk, and by reason thereof that child is killed or suffers serious injury, shall be deemed to have neglected that child in a manner likely to cause injury to the child's health.

(3) A person may be convicted under this section

- (a) notwithstanding that actual suffering or injury to health or the likelihood of actual suffering or injury to health, was obviated by the action of another person;

- (b) notwithstanding the death of the child or young person in question.

(4) If it is proved that a person convicted under this section was directly or indirectly interested in any sum of money accruing or payable in the event of the death of the child or young person, and had knowledge that such sum of money was accruing or becoming payable, then

- (a) in the case of a conviction on indictment, the amount of the fine which may be imposed under this section shall be seven thousand dollars and the court in lieu of any penalty under this section may sentence the person convicted to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years; and

- (b) in a case of summary conviction, the court in determining the sentence shall take into consideration the fact that the person convicted was so interested and had such knowledge.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4),

- (a) a person shall be deemed to be directly or indirectly interested in a sum of money if he has any shares in or any benefit from the payment of that money, notwithstanding that he may not be a person to whom it is legally payable; and

- (b) a copy of a policy of insurance, certified to be a true copy by an officer or agent of the insurance company granting or issuing the policy, shall be evidence that the child or young person therein stated to be insured has in fact been so insured and that the person in whose favour the policy has been granted is the person to whom the money thereby insured is legally payable.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the right of any parent, teacher or other person having the lawful control or charge of a child or young person to administer punishment to him.

193. Any person who unlawfully does an act or omits to do an act which it is his duty to do, by which act or omission harm is caused to any other person, in circumstances which do not constitute an offence under any other provisions of this Code or any other law, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

PART XIII

ABDUCTION, KIDNAPPING AND SIMILAR CRIMES

194. For the purposes of this Part,

(a) any person who, without lawful authority, by force or threat or by any deceitful means compels or induces any person to go from any place is said to abduct that person; and

(b) any person who, without lawful authority,

(i) conveys any person beyond the limit of any Territory without the consent of that person or of some person legally authorized to consent on behalf of that person, or

(ii) imprisons any person within the Territory in such manner as to prevent him from applying to a court for his release or from discovering to any other person the place where he is imprisoned or in such manner as to prevent any such person entitled to have access to him from discovering the place where he is so imprisoned, is said to kidnap that person.

195. Any person who kidnaps another person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

196. Any person who abducts another person with intent to cause that other person to be taken beyond the limits of the Territory or to be secretly and unlawfully confined within the Territory, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

197. Any person who abducts or kidnaps a female of any age with intent to marry or have sexual intercourse with her, or to cause her to be married or to have sexual intercourse with any other person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

198. Any person who unlawfully takes or causes to be taken, any unmarried girl under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession and against the will of her father or mother or other person having the lawful care or charge of her, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

199. (1) Any person who,

- (a) unlawfully either by force or fraud, leads or takes away, or decoys or entices away, or detains any child under the age of fourteen years with intent to deprive any parent, guardian or other person having the lawful care or charge of such child, of the possession of the child,
- (b) with intent to steal any article upon or about the person of such child, to whoever the article may belong, by force or fraud, leads or takes away, or detains the child, or
- (c) with any such intent receives or harbours any such child, knowing the same to have been by force or fraud led, taken, decoyed, enticed away or detained as in this section mentioned, commits and offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) It is a defence to a charge under subsection (1) if the accused claims in good faith and establishes a right to the possession of the child, or is the mother or father of the child.

200. Any person who, without lawful authority, confines another person, in circumstances not constituting an offence under any of the other provisions of this Part, commits and offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

201. Any person who unlawfully compels another person to labour against the will of that other person, commits and offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

PART XIV

OFFENCES RELATING TO PROPERTY

202. For the purposes of this Part,

- (a) “gain” and “loss” are to be construed as extending not only to gain or loss in money or other property, but as extending to any such gain or loss whether temporary or permanent; and
- (i) “gain” includes a gain by keeping what one has, as well as gain by getting what one has not; and
- (ii) “loss” includes a loss by not getting what one might get, as well as a loss by parting with what one has;
- (b) “goods”, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, includes money and every other description of property except land, and includes things severed from the land by stealing.

203. (1) A person is guilty of theft if he dishonestly appropriates property belonging to another with the intention of permanently depriving the other or it, and “thief” and “steal” shall be construed accordingly.

(2) It is immaterial whether or not the appropriation is made with a view to gain, or is made for the thief's own benefit.

(3) Section 204 and 208 shall have effect as regards the interpretation and operation of this section and (except as otherwise provided by this Part) shall apply only for the purposes of this section.

204. (1) A person's appropriation of property belonging to another is not to be regarded as dishonest,

- (a) if he appropriates the property in the belief that he has in law the right to deprive the other of it on behalf of himself or of a third person;
- (b) if he appropriates the property in the belief that he would have the other's consent if the other knew of the appropriation and the circumstances of it; or
- (c) (except where the property came to him as a trustee or personal representative) if he appropriates the property in the belief that the person to whom the property belongs cannot be discovered by taking reasonable steps.

(2) A person's appropriation of property belonging to another may be dishonest notwithstanding that he is willing to pay for the property.

205. (1) Any assumption by a person of the rights of an owner amounts to an appropriation, and this includes, where he has come by the property (innocently or not) without stealing it, any later assumption of the right to it by dealing with it as its owner.

(2) Where property or right or interest in property is or purports to be transferred for value to a person acting in good faith, no later assumption by him of the rights which he believed himself to be acquiring shall, by reason of any defect in the transferor's title, amount to theft of the property.

206. (1) "Property" includes money, defined, whether in the form of cash, cheque, credit card, bank draft, money order or otherwise, and all other property, real or personal, including things in action and other intangible property.

(2) In the case of a credit card the interest or number comprised in the card shall constitute property.

(3) A person cannot steal land, or things forming part of land and severed from it by him or his directions, except in the following cases:

- (a) when he is a trustee or personal representative, or is authorized by power of an attorney, or as a liquidator of a company, or otherwise, to sell or dispose of land belonging to another, and he appropriates the land or anything forming part of it by dealing with it in breach of the confidence reposed in him;
- (b) when he is not in possession of the land and appropriates anything forming part of the land by severing it or causing it to be severed, or after it has been severed; or

(c) when, being in possession of the land under a tenancy, he appropriates the whole or part of any fixture or structure let to be used with the land.

(4) For the purposes of this section, “land” does not include incorporeal hereditament and “tenancy” means a tenancy for years or any less period and includes an agreement for such tenancy, but a person who after the end of the tenancy remains in possession as statutory tenant or otherwise is to be treated as having possession under the tenancy, and “let” shall be construed accordingly.

(5) A person who picks mushrooms growing wild on any land or who picks flowers, fruit or foliage from a plant growing wild, on any land, does not (although not in possession of the land) steal what he picks, unless he does it for reward or for sale or other commercial purposes, and for the purposes of this section “mushroom” includes any fungus, and “plant” includes any shrub or tree.

(7) Wild creatures, tamed or untamed, shall be regarded as property, but a person cannot steal a wild creature not tamed nor ordinarily kept in captivity, or the carcass of any such creature unless it has been reduced into possession by or on behalf of another and possession of it has not since been lost or abandoned, or another person is in the course of reducing it into possession.

207. (1) Property shall be regarded as belonging to any person having possession or control of it, or having in it any proprietary right or interest (not being an equitable interest arising only from a agreement to transfer or grant an interest).

(2) Where property is subject to a trust, the persons to whom it belongs shall be regarded as including any person having a right to enforce the trust, and an intention to defeat the trust shall be regarded accordingly as an intention to deprive of the property any person having that right.

(3) Where a person receives property from or on account of another, and is under an obligation to the other to retain and deal with that property or its proceeds in a particular way, the property or proceeds shall be regarded (as against him) as belonging to the other.

(4) Where a person gets property by another’s mistake, and is under an obligation to make restoration (in whole or in part) of the property or its proceeds or of the value thereof, then to the extent of that obligation the property or proceeds shall be regarded (as against him) as belonging to the person entitled to restoration and an intention not to make restoration shall be regarded accordingly as an intention to deprive that person of the property or proceeds.

(5) Property of a corporation sole shall be regarded as belonging to the corporation notwithstanding a vacancy in the corporation.

208. (1) A person appropriating property belonging to another without meaning the other permanently to lose the thing itself is nevertheless to be regarded as having the intention of permanently depriving the other of it if the intention is to treat the thing as his own to be disposed of regardless of the other’s right, and the borrowing or lending of it may amount to so treating it if the borrowing or lending is for a period and in circumstances making it equivalent to an outright taking or disposal.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1) where a person having possession or control (whether lawfully or not) of property belonging to another, parts with the property under a condition as to its return which may not be able to perform, this (if done for the purposes of his own and without the other's authority) amounts to treating the property as his own regardless of the other's rights.

209. Any person who commits theft is guilty of an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment

(a) on summary conviction, for a term not exceeding two years; or

(b) on conviction on indictment for a term not exceeding ten years.

210. (1) A person is guilty of robbery if he steals and, immediately before or at the time of doing so, and in order to do so, he uses force on any person or seeks to put any person in fear of being then and there subjected to force.

(2) A person who commits robbery is guilty of an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

211. (1) A person commits the offence of burglary if

(a) he enters a building or part of a building as a trespasser and with intent to commit any offence mentioned in subsection (2);

(b) having entered a building or part of a building as a trespasser he steals or attempts to steal anything in the building or that part of it or attempts to inflict on any person therein any grievous bodily harm.

(2) The offences referred to in subsection (1) (a) are offences of stealing anything in the building in question, of inflicting on any person in the building any grievous bodily harm or raping any woman in the building, and of doing unlawful damage to the building or anything therein.

(3) References in this section to a building shall apply also to any inhabited vehicle or vessel and shall apply to any such vehicle or vessel at time when the person having a habitation in it is not there as well as at time when he is.

(4) Any person who is convicted of burglary is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

212. (1) A person commits the offence of aggravated burglary if he commits burglary and at the time have with him any firearm or imitation firearm, any weapon of offence, or any explosive

(2) Any person who is convicted of aggravated burglary is liable to imprisonment for life.

(3) For the purposes of this section

- (a) “firearm” includes an air gun or air pistol, and “imitation firearm” means anything which has the appearance of being a firearm, whether capable of being discharged or not;
- (b) “weapon of offence” means any article made or adapted for use for causing injury to or incapacitating a person, or intended by the person having it with him for such use; and
- (c) “explosive” means any article or substance manufactured for the purpose of producing a practical effect by explosion, or intended by the person having it with him for that purpose.

213. (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), where the public having access to a building in order to view the building, or part of it, or a collection or part of collection housed in it, any person who without lawful authority removes from the building or its grounds the whole or any part of any article displayed, or kept for display, to the public in the building or that part of it or in its grounds, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(2) For the purposes of this section, “collection” includes any collection got together for the temporary purpose, but does not include a collection made or exhibited for the purpose of affecting sale or other commercial dealings.

(3) It is immaterial for the purposes of subsection (1) that the public’s access to a building is limited to a particular period or occasion, but where anything removed from the building or its grounds is there otherwise than as forming part of, or being on loan for exhibition with, a collection intended for permanent exhibition to the public, the person removing it does not thereby commit an offence under this section unless he removes it on a day when the public have access to the building as mentioned in subsection (1).

(4) A person does not commit an offence under this section if he believes that he has lawful authority for the removal of the thing in question or that he would have that authority if the person entitled to give it knew of the removal and the circumstances of it.

214. Any person who dishonestly uses without due authority, or dishonestly causes to be wasted or diverted, any electricity, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

215. Any person who dishonestly uses a telephone, fax, or telex system with intent to avoid payment, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

216. (1) Any person who, for his own use or that of another person takes any conveyance constructed or adapted for the carriage of a person, whether by land, water or air, without having the person’s consent thereto of the owner or hirer thereof (including a hirer under a self-drive or hire purchase contract) or not having other lawful authority or, knowing that such conveyance has been taken without such consent or authority, drives it or allows himself to be carried in or on it, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both and in addition the court may order the offender to pay the owner of the conveyance compensation for the use thereof and for any damage caused to the conveyance.

(2) It is a defence to a charge under subsection (1) to show that the person charged has an honest belief that he acted under lawful authority or that in the circumstances the owner or hirer would have given his consent had he been aware of the taking.

(3) If on a trial for the theft of a conveyance it is found that the accused was not guilty of the theft of the conveyance but then it is proved that the accused committed an offence under this section, he may be found guilty of the offence, and convicted, under this section.

217. (1) Any person who, by any deception, dishonestly obtains property belonging to another, with the intention of permanently depriving the other of it, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

(2) For the purposes of this section a person shall be treated as obtaining property if he obtains ownership, possession or control of it and “obtain” includes obtaining for another or enable another to obtain or retain.

(3) Section 208 shall apply for the purposes of this section, with the necessary adaptation of the reference of the appropriating, as it apply for the purposes of section 203.

(4) For the purposes of this section and sections 218 and 219 “deception” means any deception (whether deliberate or reckless) by words or conduct as to fact or as to law, including a deception as to the present intentions of the person using the deception or any other person.

218. (1) Subject to subsection (2), any person who, by any deception,

(a) dishonestly secures the remission of the whole or any part of any existing liability to make a payment whether his or another’s liability,

(b) with intent to make permanent default in whole or in part on any existing liability to make a payment, or with intent to let another do so, dishonestly induces the creditor to wait for payment (whether or not the due date for payment is deferred) or to forego payment, or

(c) dishonestly obtains any exemption from or abatement of liability to make a payment, commits an offence and is liable

(i) on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year; or

(ii) on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(2) For the purposes of this section, “liability” means legally enforceable liability, and subsection (1) shall not apply in relation to a liability that has not been accepted or established to pay compensation for a wrongful act or omission.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1) (b), a person induced to make in payment a cheque or other security for money by way of conditional satisfaction of a pre-existing liability is to be treated as not being paid but as induced to wait for payment.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (1) (c), “obtains” includes obtaining for another or enabling another to obtain.

219. (1) Any person who, by any deception, dishonestly obtains for himself or any other person any pecuniary advantage, or any services from another, commits an offence and is liable

(a) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year; or

(b) on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(2) The cases in which a pecuniary advantage within the meaning of this section is to be regarded as obtained for a person are where

(a) any debt or charge for which he makes himself liable or is or may become liable (including one not legally enforceable) is reduced in whole or in part or evaded or deferred;

(b) he is allowed to borrow on overdraft, or to take out a policy of insurance or annuity contract, or obtains an improvement of the terms on which he is allowed to do so; or

(c) he is given the opportunity to earn a remuneration or greater remuneration in any office or employment, or to win money by betting.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), the obtaining of services by any person involves circumstances where the other person is induced to confer a benefit by doing some act, or causing or permitting some act to be done on the understanding that the benefit has been or will be paid for.

220. (1) Subject to subsection (3), a person who, knowing that payment on the spot for any goods supplied or services done is required or expected of him, dishonestly makes off without having paid as required or expected and with intent to avoid payment of the amount, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(2) For the purposes of this section, “payment on the spot” includes payment at the time of collecting goods on which work has been done or in respect of which service has been provided.

(3) Subsection (1) shall not apply where the supply of the goods or the doing of the service is contrary to law, or where the service is such that payment is not legally enforceable.

221. (1) Any person who dishonestly, with a view to gain for himself or another or with intent to cause loss to another,

- (a) destroys, defaces, conceals or falsifies any account or any record or document made or required for an accounting purpose, or
- (b) in furnishing information for any purpose, produces or makes use of any account or any such record or document, which to his knowledge is or may be misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a person who makes or concurs in making in any account or other document an entry which is or may be misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular, or who omits or concurs in omitting a material particular from an account or other document, is to be treated as falsifying the account or document.

222. (1) Where an offence under this Part is committed by a body corporate and is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate, or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate commits an offence and are liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

(2) Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, this section shall apply in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate.

223. (1) Where a director or officer (by whatever name called) of a body corporate or unincorporated association (or person purporting to act as such), with intent to deceive the members or creditors of the body corporate or association about its affairs, publishes or concurs in publishing a written statement, account or other document which to his knowledge is or may be misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular, he commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a person who has entered into a security for the benefit of a body corporate or association shall be deemed to be a creditor of it.

(3) Where the affairs of a body corporate or association are managed by its members, this section shall apply to any statement, account or document which a member publishes or concurs in publishing in connection of that body corporate or association.

224. (1) Any person who dishonestly, with a view to gain for himself or another, or with intent to cause loss to another, destroys, defaces or conceals any valuable security, any will or other testamentary document or any original document of or belonging to, or filed or deposited in, any court of justice or any Government department, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) Any person who dishonestly, with a view to gain for himself or another, or with intent to cause loss to another, by any deception procures the execution of a valuable security, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(3) Subsection (2) shall apply in relation to the making, acceptance, endorsement, alteration, cancellation or destruction in whole or in part of a valuable security, and in relation to the signing or sealing of any paper or other material in order that it may be made or converted into, or used or dealt with as, a valuable security, as if that were the execution of a valuable security.

(4) For the purposes of this section “deception” has the same meaning as in section 217 and “valuable security” means any document creating, transferring, surrendering or releasing any right to, in or over property, or authorizing or evidencing the creation, transfer, surrender or release of any such right or the payment of money or the delivery of any property, or the satisfaction of any obligation.

225. (1) A person commits the offence of blackmail, if with a view to gain for himself or another, or with intent to cause loss to another, he makes any unwarranted demand with menaces.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), a demand with menaces is unwarranted unless the person making it does so in the belief

(a) that he has reasonable grounds for making the demand; and

(b) that the use of menaces is a proper means of reinforcing the demand.

(3) The nature of the act or omission demanded is immaterial, and is also immaterial whether the menaces relate to action to be taken by the person making the demand.

(4) Any person convicted of blackmail is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

226. (1) A person handles stolen goods if (otherwise than in the course of stealing), knowing or believing them to be stolen goods, he dishonestly receives the goods or dishonestly undertakes or assists in their retention, removal, disposal or realization by or for the benefit of another person or if he arranges so to do.

(2) Any person who handles stolen goods commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

227. (1) The provisions of this Code relating to goods which have been stolen shall apply, whether the stealing occurred in the Territory or elsewhere (and whether it occurred before or after the commencement of this Code), provided that the stealing, if not an offence under this Code, amounted to an offence where and at the time when the goods were stolen, and references to stolen goods shall be construed accordingly.

(2) For the purposes of those provisions, references to stolen goods shall include, in addition to the goods originally stolen and parts of them, whether in their original state or not,

- (a) any other goods which directly or indirectly represent or have at any time represented the stolen goods in the hands of the thief as being the proceeds of any disposal or realization of the whole or part of the goods stolen or of goods so representing the stolen goods; and
- (b) any other goods which directly or indirectly represent or have at any time represented the stolen goods in the hands of a handler of the stolen goods, or any part of them, as being the proceeds of any disposal or realization of the whole or part of the stolen goods handles by him or of goods so representing them.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1) and (2), no goods shall be regarded as having continued to be stolen goods after they have been restored to the person from whom they were stolen or to other lawful possession or custody, or after that person and any other person claiming through him have otherwise ceased, as regards those goods, to have any right to restitution in respect of the theft.

(4) For the purposes of the provisions of this Code relating to goods which have been stolen (including the provisions of this section), goods obtained in the Territory or elsewhere by blackmail, or in the circumstances referred to in section 217 (1), shall be regarded as stolen, and “steal”, “theft” and “thief” shall be construed accordingly.

228. (1) Any number of persons may be charged n one incident, with reference to the same theft, with having at different times or at the same time handled all or any of the stolen goods, and the persons so charged may be tried together.

(2) On the trial of two or more persons charged for jointly handling any stolen goods the court or the jury, as the case may be, may find any of the accused guilty if satisfied that he handled any of the stolen goods, whether or not he did so jointly with the other accused or any of them.

(3) Where a person is charged with handling stolen goods (but not with any offence other than handling stolen goods), then at any stage of the proceedings, if evidence has been given of his having or arranging to have in his possession the goods that are the subject of the charge, or of his undertaking, or assisting in, or arranging to undertake or assist in their retention, removal, disposal or realization, the following evidence shall be admissible for the purpose of proving that he knew or believed the goods to be stolen goods:

- (a) evidence that he has had in his possession, or has undertaken or assisted in the retention, removal, disposal or realization of the stolen goods from any theft taking place not earlier than twelve months before the offence charged; and
- (b) evidence that he has within five years preceding the date of the offence charged been convicted of theft, or of handling stolen goods, provided that seven days’ notice in writing has been given to him of the intention to prove the conviction.

(4) This section shall be construed in accordance with section 227, and in subsection (3) (b) the references to theft and handling stolen goods shall be construed to include any corresponding offence committed before the coming into force of this Code.

229. (1) I any proceedings for the theft of anything in the course of transmission (whether by post or otherwise), or for handling stolen goods from such a theft, a statutory declaration made by any person that he dispatched or received or failed to receive any goods or postal packet, or that any goods or postal packet when dispatched or received by him were in a particular state or condition, shall be admissible as evidence of the facts stated in the declaration, subject to the following conditions:

- (a) a statutory declaration shall only be admissible where and to the extent to which oral evidence to the like effect would have been admissible in the proceedings; and
- (b) a statutory declaration shall only be admissible if at least seven days before the trial of the charge a copy of it has been given to the accused person and he has not, at least three days before the trial or within such other time as the court may in any particular case allow, given the prosecutor written notice requiring the attendance at the trial of the person making the declaration.

(2) This section shall be construed in accordance with section 227.

230. (1) A person commits an offence if, when not at his place of abode, he has with him any article for use in the course of or in connection with any burglary, theft or cheat, and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) Any person may arrest without warrant anyone who is, or whom he, with reasonable cause, suspects to be, committing an offence under this section.

(3) Where a person is charged with an offence under this section, proof that he had with him any article made or adapted for use in committing a burglary, theft or cheat shall be evidence that he had it with him for such use.

(4) For the purpose of this section an offence under section 216 shall be treated as theft.

231. When any person is convicted of an offence under this Part, the court may order that any article referred to in section 230 (1) carried or used in connection with any such offence, or found in possession of or under the control of such person at the time of his arrest, shall be forfeited to the Crown, or returned to the owner if the article was removed from his possession for such purpose and without his knowledge or consent.

232. (1) Where goods have been stolen, and either a person is convicted of an offence under this Part with reference to the theft (whether or not the stealing is the gist of the offence) or a person is convicted of any other offence but such an offence is taken into consideration in determining his sentence, the court by or before which the offender is convicted may, on the conviction (whether or not the passing of the sentence is in other respects deferred), exercise any of the following powers:

- (a) the court may order anyone having possession or control of the goods to restore them to any person entitled to recover them from him;
- (b) on the application of a person entitled to recover from the person convicted any other goods directly or indirectly representing the first-mentioned goods (as being the proceeds of any disposal or realization of the whole or part of them or of goods so representing them), the court may order those other goods to be delivered to the applicant; or

(c) the court, whether or not an application is made in that behalf, may order that a sum not exceeding the value of the first-mentioned goods shall be paid, out of any money of the person convicted which was in his possession on his apprehension, to any person who, if those goods were in the possession of the person convicted, would be entitled to recover them from him.

(2) Where under subsection (1) the court has power on the conviction of a person to make an order against that person both under paragraph (b) and paragraph(c) thereof with reference to the stealing of the same goods, the court may make orders under both paragraphs provided that the person in whose favour the orders are made does not thereby recover more than the value of those goods.

(3) Where under subsection (1) the court on a person's conviction makes an order under paragraph (a) thereof for the restoration of any goods, and it appears to the court that the person convicted has sold the goods to a person acting in good faith, or has borrowed money on the security of them from a person so acting, the court may order that there shall be paid to the purchaser of the lender, out of any money of the person convicted which was taken out of his possession on his apprehension, a sum not exceeding the amount paid for the purchase by the purchaser or, as the case may be, the amount owed to the lender in respect of the loan.

(4) The powers conferred by subsection (3) exercised whether or not an application in that behalf is made to the court by or on behalf of any person claiming to be interested in the property concerned.

(5) The court shall not exercise the powers conferred by this section unless in the opinion of the court the relevant facts appear from the evidence given at the trial or the available documents, together with admissions made by or on behalf of any person in connection with any proposed exercise of the said powers, and for this purpose "the available documents" means any written statements or admissions which were made for use, and depositions taken at any committal proceedings and any written statements or admissions used as evidence in those proceedings.

(6) Where a person is committed to the High Court for sentence under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure (Committal for Sentence) Act, the powers conferred by this section shall be exercisable by the High Court and not by the Magistrate's Court, and the High Court shall be deemed to be the court before which such person is convicted.

(7) Where an order is made under this section and the person convicted successfully appeals against the conviction of the offence on the basis of which the order was made, the order shall cease to have effect, and a person against whom such an order is made may appeal against the order as if it was part of the sentence imposed on the conviction for the offence.

PART XV

FORGERY, COINING AND COUNTERFEITING

233. (1) For the purposes of this Code, forgery is the making of a false document in order that it may be used as genuine, and in the case of seals and dies referred to in this Part the counterfeiting of a seal or die, and forgery with intent to defraud or deceive shall be punishable as in this Part provided.

(2) A document is false within the meaning of this Part if the whole or any material part thereof purports to be made by or on behalf, or on account, of a person who did not make it not authorize its making, or if though made by or on behalf, or on account, of the person by whom or by whose authority it purports to have been made, the time or place of making, where either is material, or, in the case of a document identified by number or mark, the number or any distinguishing mark identifying the document, is falsely stated therein, and in particular, a document is false

- (a) if any material alteration, whether by addition , insertion, obliteration, erasure, removal or otherwise, has been made in the document;
- (b) if the whole or some material part of it purports to have been made by or on behalf of a fictitious or deceased person; or
- (c) if though made in the name of an existing person, it is made by him or by his authority with the intention that it should pass as having been made by some person, real or fictitious, other than the person who made or authorized it.

(3) A document may be a false document for the purposes of this Part notwithstanding that it is not false in such manner as is described in subsection (2).

(4) For the purposes of this Part,

- (a) it is immaterial in what language a document is expressed or in what place, whether within or without the Territory, it is expressed to take effect;
- (b) forgery of a document may be complete even if the document when forged is incomplete, or is not or does not purport to be such a document as would be binding in law;
- (c) the crossing on any cheque, draft on a banker, post office money order, postal order, coupon or other document the crossing of which is authorized or recognized by law, shall be a material part of such cheque, draft, order, coupon or document;
- (d) “document” does not include a trade mark or other sign used in connection with articles of commerce, although written or printed;
- (e) “currency note” includes any notes (by whatever name called) which are legal tender in the country in which they are issued;
- (f) “bank note” includes any note or bill of exchange of any person or body carrying on banking business in any part of the world.

234. An intent to defraud is presumed to exist if it appears that at the time when the false document was made there was in existence a specific person, ascertained or unascertained, capable of being defrauded thereby, and this presumption is not rebutted by proof that the offender took or intended to take measures to prevent such persons from being defrauded in fact, nor by the fact that he had or thought he has a right to the thing to be obtained by the false document.

235. (1) Any person who, with intent to defraud, forges any of the following documents, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life:

- (a) any will codicil or other testamentary document, either of a dead or a living person, or any probate of letters of administration, whether with or without the will annexed;
- (b) any deed or bond, or any assignment at law or equity of any deed or bond or any attestation of the execution of any deed or bond;

- (b) any register or book kept under the provisions of any law in or under the authority of any court of justice;
- (c) any certificate, office copy or certified copy of any such document, register or book, or any part thereof as is mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b);
- (d) any other document which any judge, magistrate, or justice of the peace is authorized or required by law to make or issue;
- (e) any document which any person authorized to administer an oath under any law in force in the Territory is authorized or required by law to make or issue;
- (f) any document made or issued by the head of any department of the Government or by the Attorney General or any other legal officer in the public service, or any document upon which, by law or usage in force at the time, any court of justice or public officer might act;
- (g) any document or copy of any document used or intended to be used in evidence in any court of justice or any document which is made evidence by law;
- (h) any certificate or consent required by any law relating to the celebration of marriage;
- (i) any license for the celebration of marriage authorized to be issued by any law relating to the celebration of marriage;

- (j) any certificate, declaration or order under any law relating to the registration of births or deaths;
- (k) Any register, book, certificate, declaration, bill of sale, instrument or certificate of mortgage or sale under any law relating to merchants shipping, or any entry or endorsement required by such law to be made in or on any of those documents;
- (l) Any permits, certificate or similar document made or issued under the Customs Ordinance or Customs Duties Ordinances;
- (m) Any official certificate not specified in this subsection;
- (n) Any document purporting to be printed by the Government Printer.

237. Any person who, being the clerk of any court or either officer having the custody of the records of any courts or a person acting on behalf of any such clerk or officer, makes or utters any false process or any false copy or certificate of any record knowing the same to be false, and any person who delivers or causes to be delivered to any person any paper falsely purporting to be any such process or a copy thereof or to be any judgment, decree or order of any court, or a copy thereof, knowing that same to be false, or who acts or professes to act under any such false process knowing the same to be false, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

238. Any persons who knowingly and unlawfully inserts, or cause or permits to be inserted, in any register of births, baptisms, marriage, death or burials, which is by law authorized or required to be kept in the Territory, or in any certified copy thereof any false entry or any matter relating to any birth, baptism, marriage, death or burial, or knowingly gives any false certificate relating to any such occurrence or certifies any writing to be a copy of or extract from any such register, knowing such writing or the part of such register in which such copy or extract is so given, to be false in any material particular, or offers, utters, disposes of or puts off any such register, entry, certified copy or certificate or a copy thereof knowing the same to be false, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

239. Any person who

- (a) forges any passport, or
- (b) makes any statement which to his knowledge is untrue for the purpose of procuring the issue of a passport, whether for himself or for another person,
- (c) alters a passport, whether by addition, insertion, obligation, erasure, removal or otherwise;
- (d) destroys, makes away with or by willful neglect allows another person to obtain possession of, a passport,

- (e) is in unlawful possession of a passport or, being the lawful holder of a passport, [arts with the possession of the passport to another person without lawful authority or for an unlawful purpose, or

- (b) any die peculiarly used in the manufacture of any such paper,
- (c) any facsimile of the signature on, or the design of, any currency note which is legal tender in the Territory, or
- (d) any unfinished or incomplete currency note purporting to be similar to a currency note which is legal tender in the Territory, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

248. For the purposes of this Part,

- (a) a coin shall be deemed to be current if at the material time it is legal tender in the Territory or elsewhere;
- (b) a coin apparently intended to resemble or pass as a current coin shall be deemed to resemble that coin
- (c) a current coin which has been gilt, silvered, washed, coloured or cased over, or in any manner altered so as to resemble any current coin of a higher denomination shall be deemed to be a false or counterfeit coin resembling a current gold or silver coin;
- (d) references to silver coin shall be deemed to include coin of cupro nickel;
- (e) a thing shall be deemed to be in the possession of a person if
  - (i) he has it in his personal custody or possession; or
  - (ii) knowingly and willfully, he has it in the actual custody or possession of any other person or in any place, whether open or closed or any building or structure, whether belonging to or occupied by himself or not, and it is immaterial whether the thing is had in such custody, possession or place for the use of himself or another.

249. (1) Any person who falsely makes or counterfeits any coin resembling any currency coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction,

- (a) in the case where the coin resembles a current gold or silver coin, to imprisonment for life; and
- (b) in the case where the coin resembles a current coin made of any metal other than gold or silver, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) The offence of falsely making or counterfeiting a coin is deemed to be complete although the coin made or counterfeiting thereof has not been finished or perfected.

250. (1) Any person who impairs, diminishes or lightens any current gold or silver coin with intent that the coin so impaired, diminished or lightened may pass for a current gold or silver coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) Any person who unlawfully has in his possession any filing or clipping, or any gold or silver bullion, or any gold or silver dust, solution or otherwise, which has been produced or otherwise obtained by impairing, diminishing or lightening any current gold or silver coin, knowing that it has been so produced or obtained, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

251. (1) Any person who tenders, utters or puts off any false counterfeit coin resembling any current gold or silver coin, knowing it to be false or counterfeit, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) Any person who tenders, utters or puts off any false counterfeit coin resembling any current gold or silver coin, knowing it to be false or counterfeit, and

- (a) at the time of the tendering, uttering or putting off, has in his possession, beside that coin, other such false or counterfeit coin, or
- (b) at the date of the tendering, uttering or putting off, within the period of ten days next following that date, tenders, utters or puts off any other such false or counterfeit coin, knowing it to be false or counterfeit, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

(3) Any person who has in his possession three or more false or counterfeit coins resembling any current gold or silver coin, knowing them to be false or counterfeit, and with intent to utter or put off those coins, or any of them, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years.

(4) Any person who has in his possession three or more false or counterfeit coins resembling any current coin not made of gold or silver, knowing them to be false or counterfeit, and with intent to utter or put off those coins, or any of them, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(5) Any person who commits

- (a) any offence under subsection (1) in respect of a coin resembling a current gold or silver coin, or
- (b) any offence under subsection (2) or (3), having previously been convicted of any such offence or of any other offence under this Part, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(6) Any person who, with intent to defraud, tenders, utters or puts off as for any current gold or silver coin

- (a) any coin not being that current coin and being of less value than that current coin, or
- (b) any metal or piece of metal or mixed metals resembling in size, figure or colour that current coin commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(7) The offence of tendering, uttering or putting off a false or counterfeit coin is deemed to be complete although the coin is not in a fit state to be uttered or the counterfeiting thereof has not been finished or perfected.

252. (1) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, buys, sells, receives, pays or puts off, or offers to buy, sell, receive, pay or put off, any false or counterfeit coin resembling any current coin at or for a lower rate of value than the false or counterfeit coin imports or apparently intended to import, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) An offence under this section shall be deemed to be complete although the coin involved in the offence is not in a fit state to be uttered or the counterfeiting thereof has not been finished or perfected.

253. (1) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him,

- (a) imports or receives into the Territory any false or counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be false or counterfeit, or
- (b) exports from the Territory, or puts on board any aircraft or vessel for the purpose of being so exported, any false or counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be false or counterfeit, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

(2) The provisions of this section shall be without prejudice to any provisions of any other law relating to customs under which there is a prohibition of importation or exportation of false or counterfeit coin, currency or metal tokens resembling coin, or coin which is not of the established standard in weight or fineness.

254. Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, makes, sells, offers for sale or has in his possession for sale, any medal, cast, coin or other thing made wholly or partially of metal or any mixture of metals,

- (a) resembling in size, figure and colour current gold or silver coin,
- (b) having thereon a device resembling a device on any such current coin, or
- (c) being so formed that it can, by gilding, silvering, colouring, washing or other like process be so dealt with as to resemble any such current coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

255. (1) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, knowingly makes or mends, or begins to make or mend, or buy or sells or has in his possession any puncheon, counter puncheon, matrix, stamp, die, pattern, or mould in or upon which there is made or impressed, or which will make or impress, or which is adapted or intended to make or impress, the figure, stamp, or apparent resemblance of both or either of the sides of any current gold or silver coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(2) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, makes or mends, or begins to make or mend, or buys or sells, or has in his possession,

- (a) any edger, edging or other tool, collar, instrument or engine adapted and intended for the marking of coin round the edges with letters, graining or other marks or figures apparently resembling those on the edges of any current gold or silver coin, knowing it to be so adapted and intended, or
- (b) any press for coinage, or any cutting engine for cutting by force of a screw, or of any contrivance, round blanks out of gold, silver or other metal or mixture of metals, or any other machine, knowing the engine or machine to be a press for coinage or knowing the engine or machine to have been used or to be intended to be used for the false making or counterfeiting of any current gold or silver coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

(3) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, knowingly makes or mends, or begins to make or mend, or buys or sells or has in his possession, any instrument, tool or engine adapted and intended for the counterfeiting of any current coin, which is not a current gold or silver coin, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

256. (1) Any person who defaces any current coin by stamping thereon any names or words, whether or not the coin is thereby diminished or lightened, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) A tender of payment in money made in any coin which has been defaced as is mentioned in subsection (1) is not legal tender.

(3) Any person who tenders, utters or puts off any coin which has been defaced as is mentioned in subsection (1), commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(4) No proceedings for an offence under this section shall be instituted without the consent of the Attorney General.

257. Any person who melts down, breaks up or uses otherwise than as currency, any current coin which is legal tender in the Territory, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

258. Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on him, mutilates, perforates or in any way defaces any currency note or bank note, which is legal tender in the Territory, whether by writing, printing, drawing or stamping thereon, or by attaching or affixing thereto anything in the nature or form of an advertisement, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

259. (1) Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies on himself, sells or offers or exposes for sale any article which bears a design in imitation of any currency note, bank note or coin which is legal tender in the Territory or elsewhere, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both.

(2) Any person who makes or causes to be made, or uses for any purpose, any document purporting to be in any way resembling, or so nearly resembling as to be calculated to deceive, any currency note which is legal tender in the Territory or elsewhere, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars in respect of each document.

(3) Any person whose name appears on any document the making of which is an offence under this section who, when requested so to do by a police officer, refuses to disclose the name and address of the person by whom it was made, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

(4) Where the name of any person appears on any document in respect of which any person is liable to be charged with an offence under this section, or on any other document used or distributed in connection with that document, it shall be prima facie evidence that that person caused the document to be made.

260. Where any forged bank note, currency note or any counterfeit coin or any machinery, implement, utensil or material used or intended to be used for the forging of a bank note or currency note or for counterfeiting any coin, is seized under a search warrant or by a police officer, the same shall be forfeited by order of the court before which the offender is tried, or, if there is no trial, by order of the court issuing the search warrant, or in the case of seizure by a police officer, otherwise than in exercise of powers conferred by a court, shall be disposed of in such manner as the Governor, or any person authorized by him in that behalf, may direct and shall be deemed forfeited.

PART XVI

PERSONATION

261. (1) Any person who, with intent to defraud any person, falsely represents himself to be some other person, living or dead and whether fictitious or not, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) If the representation under subsection (1) is that the person making the representation is a person entitled, by will or operation of law, to any specific property and is made in order to obtain such property or possession thereof, such person is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

262. (1) Any person who utters any document which has been issued by any lawful authority to another person, and whereby that other person is certified to be a person possessed of any qualification recognized by law for any purpose, or to be the holder of any office or to be entitled to exercise any profession, trade or business, or to be entitled to any right or privilege or to enjoy any rank or status, and falsely represents himself to be the person named in the document, commits an offence of the same kind and is liable on conviction to the same punishment as if he had forged the document.

(2) Any person who, being a person to whom any document has been issued by lawful authority whereby he is certified to be a person possessed of any qualification recognized by law for any purpose, or to be the holder of any office, or to be entitled to exercise any profession, trade or business, or to be entitled to any right or privilege, or to enjoy any rank or status, sells, gives or lends the document to another person with intent that that other person may represent himself to be the person named therein, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

263. (1) Any person who, for the purpose of obtaining any employment for himself, utters any document of a testimonial character given to another person, falsely pretending that he is the person named in the document, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) Any person who, being a person to whom any document of a testimonial character has been given, gives, sells or lends such document to another person with the intent that that other person may utter the document for the purpose of obtaining employment for himself or for another, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

264. Any person who, without lawful authority or excuse, the proof of which lies upon him, makes in the name of any other etc. person, before any court or person authorized by law to take such acknowledgement, an acknowledgement of liability of any kind, or an acknowledgement of any deed or other instrument, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years.

PART XVII

CRIMINAL DAMAGE AND SIMILAR OFFENCES

265. (1) Any person who, without excuse, destroys or damages any property belonging to another intending to destroy or damage such property, or being reckless as to whether such property would be destroyed or damaged, commits an offence.

(2) A person commits an offence if he, without lawful excuse destroys or damages any property, whether belonging to himself or another,

(a) intending to destroy or damage any property, or being reckless as to whether any property would be destroyed or damaged; and

(b) intending by the destruction or damage to endanger the life of another, or being reckless as to whether the life of another would thereby be endangered.

(3) An offence committed under this section by destroying or damaging property by fire shall be charged as arson.

(4) A person convicted of arson under subsection (1) or of any offence under subsection (2) is liable to imprisonment for life, and a person convicted of any other offence under this section is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

266. Any person who, without lawful excuse, makes to another a threat, intending that that other would fear that it would be carried out,

(a) to destroy or damage any property belonging to that other person or a third person, or

(b) to destroy or damage his own property in a way which he knows is likely to endanger the life of that other person or third person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

267. Any person who has anything in his custody or under his control intending, without lawful excuse, to use it to cause or permit another to use it

(a) to destroy or damage any property belonging to some other person, or

(b) to destroy or damage any property, whether belonging to himself or another, in a way which he knows is likely to endanger the life of some other person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years.

268. (1) This section applies to an offence under section 265, and any offence under section 266 and 267 other than one involving a threat by the person charged to destroy or damage property in a way which he knows is likely to endanger the life of another or involving an intent by the person charged to use or permit the use of something in his custody or under his control so to destroy or damage property.

(2) A person charged with an offence to which this section applies shall, whether or not he would be treated for the purpose of this Part as having a lawful excuse apart from this subsection, be treated for those purposes as having a lawful excuse,

(a) if at the time of the act alleged to constitute the offence he believed that the person whom he believed to be entitled to consent to the destruction of or damage to the property in question had so consented, or would have so consented to it if he had known of the destruction or damage and its circumstances; or

(b) if he destroyed or damaged or threatened to destroy or damage the property in question or, in the case of a charge of an offence under section 267, intended to use or cause or permit the use of something to destroy or damage it, in order to protect property belonging to himself or another or a right or interest in property which was, or which he believed to be, vested in himself or another, and at the time of the acts alleged to constitute the offence he believed

(i) that the property, right or interest was in immediate need of protection; and

(ii) that the means of protection adopted or proposed to be adopted were or would be reasonable having regard to all the circumstances.

(3) For the purposes of this section, it is immaterial whether a belief is justified or not if it is honestly held.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (2), a right or interest in property includes any right or privilege in or over land, whether created by grant, license or otherwise.

(5) This section shall not be construed as casting doubt on any defence recognized by law as a defence to a criminal charge.

269. (1) For the purpose of this Part,

(a) “property” means property of a tangible nature, whether real or personal, including money, growing crops, trees and other vegetable products, and wild creatures, which have been tamed or are ordinarily kept in captivity and any other wild creatures or their carcasses if they have been reduced into possession which has not been lost or abandoned, or are in the course of being reduced into possession;

(b) property shall, subject to paragraph (c), be treated as belonging to any person

i) having the custody of it;

- ii) having in it a proprietary right or interest (not being an equitable interest arising only from an agreement to transfer or grant an interest); or
  - iii) having a charge on it;
- (c) a tenant, under whatever form of tenure, may be convicted of an offence under this Part in respect of the property of his landlord notwithstanding that at the time of the offence the tenant had the custody of such property;
- (d) placing in or allowing any noxious substance to enter, any pond, river, well or watercourse shall be deemed to cause damage to the property of the owner or of any other person who has a right to use that pond, river, well or watercourse for any purpose.

(2) Where the property is subject to a trust, the person to whom it belongs shall be deemed to include any person having a right to enforce the trust.

(3) Property of a corporation sole shall be treated as belonging to the corporation notwithstanding a vacancy in the corporation.

270. On conviction of any person of an offence of destroying or damaging the property of another under section 265, the court may make a compensation order requiring him to pay compensation in respect of any injury, loss or damage arising from the offence.

271 (1) Without prejudice to the power to issue a search warrant under any law, if it is made to appear by information on oath before a Magistrate or a justice of the peace that there is reasonable cause to believe that any person has in his custody or under his control or on his premises anything which there is reasonable cause to believe is intended for use without lawful excuse

- (a) to destroy or damage property belonging to another, or
- (b) to destroy or damage any property in a way likely to endanger the life of another, the Magistrate or the justice of the peace, as the case may be, may grant a warrant authorizing any police officer to search for and seize that thing.

(2) A police officer who is authorized to search any premises under a warrant issued under this section may enter, if necessary by force, and search the premises accordingly and may seize anything which he believes to be intended to be used as mentioned in subsection (1).

272. (1) A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life, if he willfully and unlawfully

- (a) casts away or destroys any aircraft, vehicle or vessel, whether or not same is in a complete state; or
- (b) does any act which tends to the immediate loss or destruction of any aircraft, vehicle or vessel, whether or not he same is in a complete state.

(2) Any person who is convicted of an attempt to commit an offence under subsection (1) is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

PART XVIII

CRIMINAL LIBEL

273. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Part, any person who, by printing, effigy or by any other means in a permanent form and otherwise than solely any gestures, spoken words or sounds, unlawfully publishes any defamatory matter concerning another person with intent to defame that other person, commits the offence of libel and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), for the purposes of this Part, the broadcasting of words by any means of wireless telegraphy shall be treated a publication in a permanent form.

(3) A prosecution for an offence under this section shall not be instituted except by, or with the consent of the Attorney General.

274. (1) Defamatory matter is matter likely to injure the reputation of any person by exposing him to hatred, contempt or ridicule, or likely to damage any person in his profession or trade by an injury to his reputation or to disturb the peace of the community.

(2) It is not necessary for libel that a defamatory meaning should be directly or completely expressed, and it suffices if such meaning and its application to the person alleged to be defamed can be collected either from the alleged libel itself or from any extrinsic circumstances, or partly from one and partly the other.

275. A person publishes a libel if he causes the medium by which the defamatory matter is conveyed to be so dealt with or used that the defamatory meaning thereof becomes known or is likely to become known either to the person defamed or to any other person.

276. Any publication of defamatory matter concerning a person is unlawful within the meaning of this Part, unless

- (a) the matter is true and it was for the public benefit that it should be published; or
- (b) it is privileged on one of the grounds hereafter in this Part mentioned.

277. (1) The publication of defamatory matter is absolutely privileged, and no person shall under any circumstances be liable to punishment under this Code in respect thereof, in any of the following cases:

- (a) if the matter is published by the Governor or by the Legislative Council in any official document or proceeding;

- (b) if the matter is published in the Legislative Council by the Governor or by any member of the Legislative Council;
- (c) if the matter is published by order of the Governor;
- (d) if the matter is published concerning a person subject for the time being to naval, military, air-force or police discipline, and relates to his conduct as a person subject to such discipline and is published by some person having authority over him in respect of such conduct, and to some person also having authority over him in respect of such conduct.
- (e) If the matter is published in the course of any judicial proceeding by a person taking part therein as a judge, magistrate, justice of the peace, commissioner, barrister-at-law, juror, assessor, arbitrator, referee, witness or party thereof;
- (f) If the matter published is in fact a fair report of anything said, done or published in the Legislative Council; or
- (g) If the person publishing the matter does so in pursuance of a duty imposed by law.

(2) For the purposes of this section, references to the Legislative Council shall be deemed to include any committee of the Legislative Council.

(3) Where a publication is absolutely privileged, it is immaterial for the purposes of this Part, whether the matter be true or false, and whether it be or be not known or believed to be false, and whether it be or be not published in good faith.

278. A publication of defamatory matter is privileged if it was published in good faith, if the relation between the parties by and to whom the publication is made is such that the person publishing the matter is under some legal, moral or social duty to publish it to the person to whom the publication is made or has a legitimate personal interest in so publishing it, and provided that the publication does not exceed either in extent or matter what is reasonably sufficient for the occasion, in any of the following cases:

- (a) if the matter published is in fact a fair report of anything said, done or shown in a civil or criminal inquiry or proceeding done before any court, except that if the court prohibits the publication of anything said or shown before it, on the grounds that it is seditious, immoral or blasphemous, the publication thereof shall not be privileged;
- (b) if the matter published is a copy by reproduction, or in fact a fair abstract or summary, of any matter which has been previously published, and the previous publication of which was or would have been privileged under section 277;
- (c) if the matter is an expression of opinion in good faith as to the conduct of a person in a judicial, official or other public capacity, or as to his personal character so far as it appears in such conduct;

- (d) if the matter is an expression of opinion in good faith as to the conduct of a person in relation to any public question or matter, or as to his personal character so far as it appears in such conduct;
- (e) if the matter is an expression of opinion in good faith as to the conduct of any person as disclosed by evidence given in a legal proceeding held in public, whether civil or criminal, or as to the conduct of any person as a party, witness or otherwise in any such proceeding, or as to the character of any person so far as it appears in any such conduct;
- (f) if the matter is an expression of opinion in good faith as to the merits of any book, writing, painting, speech or other work, performance or act published or publicly done or made or submitted by a person to the judgment of the public, or as to the character of a person so far as it appears therein;
- (g) if the matter is a censure passed by a person in good faith on the conduct of another person in any matter in respect of which he has authority, by contract or otherwise, over the other person, or on the character of the other person so far as it appears in such conduct;
- (h) if the matter is a complaint or accusation made by a person in good faith against another person in respect of his conduct in any matter, or in respect of his character so far as it appears in such conduct, to any person having authority by law to inquire into or receive complaints respecting such conduct or matter or
- (i) if the matter is published in good faith for the protection of the rights or interests of the person who publishes it, or of the person to whom it is published or of some person in whom the person to whom it is published is interested.

279. A publication by any person of defamatory matter shall not be deemed to have been made in good faith, within the meaning of section 278, if it is made to appear

- (a) that the matter was untrue and that he did not believe it to be true;
- (b) that the matter was untrue and that he published it without taking reasonable care to ascertain whether it was true or false; or
- (c) that in publishing the matter, he acted with intent to injure the person defamed in a substantially greater degree or substantially otherwise than was reasonably necessary for the interest of the public or the protection of the private right or interest in respect of which he claims to be privileged.

280. If it is proved, on behalf of an accused person, that any defamatory matter was published under such circumstances that the publication would have been justified if made in good faith, the publication shall be presumed to have been made in good faith until the contrary is made to appear, either from the libel itself or from the evidence given on behalf of the accused person or from evidence on behalf of the prosecution.

PART XIX

NUISANCES AND OTHER OFFENCES AGAINST THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL

281. Any person who does an act not authorized by law or who omits to discharge a legal duty and thereby causes a common injury or danger or annoyance, or who obstructs or causes inconvenience to the public in the exercise of common rights, commits the offence of being a common nuisance and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

282. (1) A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred, if he watches and besets

(a) any premises or the approaches to any premises with a view to preventing any person from doing any act which such person has a legal right to do there; or

(b) the house or other place where any person resides, works or carries on business, or happens to be, or the approaches to any such house or place, with a view to preventing such person from doing or compelling him to do any act which such person has a legal right to do or abstain from doing.

(2) No proceeding shall be brought in respect of an offence under this section without the consent of the Attorney General.

283. (1) Any person who sends or causes to be sent any chain letter, or who sends or receives any money or money's worth in connection with any chain letter, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "chain letter" means a document addressed by one person to another suggesting to the person to whom it is addressed or requiring

(a) that he should send a document having the same purport to one or more other persons; and

(b) that he should remit to a person or to an address specified in the first mentioned document money or money's worth.

284. (1) A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, if he,

(a) for the purposes of or by way of trade, or for the purpose of distribution or public exhibition, makes, produces or has in his possession any obscene writing, drawing, print, painting, printed matter, pictures, posters, emblems, photographs, films, discs or any other obscene objects tending to corrupt morals;

(b) for the purposes mentioned in paragraph (a) imports, conveys or exports, or causes to be imported, conveyed or exported, any such matter or thing, or in any manner puts any of the same into circulation;

(c) carries on or takes part in any business, whether public or private, concerned with any such matter or things as mentioned in paragraph (a), or deals in the same in any manner, or distributes them publicly or makes a business of lending them;

(d) advertises or makes known by any means with a view to assisting the circulation of or traffic in, any such matter or thing as mentioned in paragraph (a), that a person is engaged in any of the acts referred to in this section, or advertised or makes known how, or from whom, any such matter or thing can be procured either directly or indirectly; or

(e) publicly exhibits any indecent show or performance, or any show or performance tending to corrupt morals.

(2) On the application of the Commissioner of Police, a Magistrate may order the destruction of any obscene matter or thing to which this section relates and which has been seized by or otherwise come into possession of the police, whether or not any person has been convicted under the provisions of this section in respect of such obscene matter or thing.

285. (1) Any person who

(a) wanders abroad or (not being a blind or disabled person,) places himself in any public place for the purpose of begging, or who causes or procures any child so to do or, having the custody, charge or care of a child, allows the child to be in any street, premises or public place for the purpose of begging or receiving alms, or of inducing the giving of alms (whether or not there is any pretence of singing, playing, performing, offering anything for sale or otherwise),

(b) being a common prostitute behaves in a disorderly or indecent manner in a public place,

(c) pretends to deal in obeah (as defined in section 290), myalism, duppy catching or witchcraft, or tells fortunes by palmistry or like superstitious means intending to deceive or impose people,

(d) publicly does an indecent act,

(e) in any public place conducts himself in a manner likely to cause a breach of the peace,

(f) solicits for immoral purposes in any public place,

(g) in any public place plays any game or pretended game of chance for money or money's worth,

(h) endeavours to obtain, or actually obtains, contributions for a charitable purpose unless authorized in writing so to do by the Commissioner of Police, in accordance with the Public Collections (Control) Ordinance or in pursuance of any instructions in that behalf given by the Governor in Council, or

(i) has no fixed abode and sleeps by night in open or public places, shall be deemed an idle and disorderly person and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) (h) shall not apply to charitable appeals or collections made in any established place of religious worship or on behalf of a religious organization recognized by the Governor in Council for the purpose of this section.

286. (1) Any person who

(a) has in his custody or possession, without lawful excuse (the proof of which lies on him) any pick-lock, key, jimmy or crow-jack, bit or other implement of housebreaking, with intent to break into any house or other building,

(b) is armed with any firearm, cutlass, bludgeon or other offensive weapon or instrument, with intent to commit any criminal act,

(c) is found by night, without lawful excuse (the proof of which lies on him) in or upon any dwelling house, warehouse, garage, stable or other building, or in any enclosed garden, yard or area, or on board any vessel or aircraft,

(d) having previously been convicted of an offence under Part XIV (or of any similar offence involving dishonesty or larceny under any law in force before the coming into force of this Code), frequents any wharf, warehouse or place adjoining thereto, with intent to commit an offence, or

(e) upon being apprehended as an idle and disorderly person, violently resists any police officer arresting him, shall be deemed to be a rogue and a vagabond, and commits an offence and is liable on conviction,

(i) for a first offence under this section, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year;

(ii) for every subsequent offence under this section, or for an offence under this section after having been previously convicted as a rogue and vagabond under any law in force immediately before the coming in force of this Code, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

And every weapon or instrument of house breaking in the possession of the offender at the time of the offence shall, upon the conviction, be forfeited to the Crown.

(2) In proceedings under this section, it shall not be necessary in proving the intent to commit an offence to show that the person accused was guilty of any act or acts tending to show his purpose or intent, and he may be convicted if from the circumstances of the case and his known character as proved to the court, it appears to the court that his intent was as alleged, and his known character, as proved, shall be relevant evidence in that behalf.

287. (1) Any person who, in any public place, conducts himself in a disorderly manner, or conducts himself in such a noisy manner as to disturb the neighbourhood, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) If any person, on any private premises, conducts himself, or allows any other person so to conduct himself thereon, as to repeatedly annoy or disturb the neighbourhood, any person disturbed or annoyed thereby may complain to a Magistrate who, if satisfied by evidence on oath that there are good grounds for such complaint, may cause the person so offending to be warned, and if, after such warning, such person, within three months, so conducts himself, or allows any other person so to conduct himself on the same premises as to annoy or disturb the neighbourhood, he commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(3) Any person who behaves profanely, indecently or in a disorderly manner during the performance of any religious worship or ceremony, or who smokes in any building appropriated for religious worship while any service or ceremony is taking place therein, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(4) Any person who willfully disturbs, interrupts or disquiets any body of persons, assembled for any lawful purpose, by profane discourse, rude or indecent behavior, or by making a noise, either within the place of such assemble or so near thereto as to disturb the same, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(5) Any person who at a lawful public meeting acts in a disorderly manner for the purpose of preventing the transaction of the business for which the meeting was called or who incites any other person so to act, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

288. (1) Any person found drunk in any public place or upon any premises licensed for the sale of alcohol, commits an offence and is liable on conviction

(a) upon a first conviction for such an offence, to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars;

(b) upon a second or subsequent conviction for such an offence, to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars;

(c) upon any subsequent conviction within a period of twelve months from the date of a second or subsequent conviction for such an offence, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, or both.

(2) Any person found drunk in any public place when

(a) in charge of any vehicle or animal, or

(b) in possession of any firearm, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

289. (1) Any person who uses any abusive, blasphemous, indecent, insulting, profane or threatening language

(a) in any public place,

(b) in any place to the annoyance of the public, or

(c) in any circumstances likely to cause a breach of the peace, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Any person who in any public place or at any meeting open to members of the public, whether on payment or otherwise, makes any statement about any person which he knows to be false, or which statement is calculated or likely to bring such person into ridicule, odium, or contempt, or to undermine confidence in such person or in the conduct of public affairs by any person in any official position, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), “person in an official position” includes the Governor, any member of the Executive or Legislative Council, and any judge, magistrate, justice of the peace or member of any Commission of Inquiry issued under the Commissions of Inquiry Act.

(4) Any person who

(a) in any public place or at any meeting open to members of the public, whether on payment or otherwise, makes any statement which he knows to be false, makes such statement recklessly without regard to its truth or otherwise, or

(b) prints or distributes such a statement, which is of such a nature as to be likely to cause fear of alarm or to disturb the public peace or undermine the public confidence in the conduct of public affairs, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(5) A prosecution for an offence under this section shall not be brought except by, or with the consent of, the Attorney General.

290. (1) For the purpose of this section and of section 285 (1) (c),

(a) a person practicing or dealing in obeah or myalism means a person who, to effect any fraudulent or unlawful purposes or for gain, or for the purpose of frightening any person, uses or pretends to use any occult means, or pretends to possess any supernatural power or knowledge; and

(b) “instrument” of obeah or myalism” means anything commonly used in or associated with the practice of obeah or myalism.

(2) A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both, if he

(a) practices or deals in obeah or myalism;

(b) for any fraudulent or unlawful purpose, consults any person practicing or reputed to be practicing, or who has been convicted of any offence under any law relating to, obeah or myalism; or

(c) for the purpose of effecting any purpose or bringing about any event by the use of occult means or any supernatural power or knowledge, consults any person practicing or reputed to be practicing obeah or myalism, or any person who has been convicted of any offence under any law relating to obeah or myalism and agrees to reward the person so consulted.

(3) Any person who has in his possession any instrument of obeah or myalism or who has under his control any premises upon which any such instrument is found shall, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed to be practicing obeah or myalism at the date when such instrument is found.

(4) Any person who composes, prints, sells or distributes any pamphlet or other printed or written matter calculated to promote the superstition of obeah or myalism, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to the same punishment as a person convicted of practicing obeah or myalism.

(5) Any court before which a person is convicted of an offence under this section may, in addition to any fine or sentence of imprisonment imposed, order that the person so convicted shall be subject to police supervision for a period not exceeding two years from the date of imposition of such fine or the expiration of any term of imprisonment, whichever is the later date, and thereupon such person shall be subject to the provisions of the Prevention of Crimes Act

291. Any person who unlawfully or negligently does any act which he knows or has reason to believe to be likely to cause the spread of any infectious or contagious disease, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

292. A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both, if he

(a) intentionally or negligently corrupts or fouls the water of any spring, stream, well or reservoir so as to render it less fit for the use of mankind or any livestock;

(b) intentionally or negligently vitiates the atmosphere in any place so as to render it noxious to the health or comfort of person in the neighbourhood;

(c) for any purpose makes loud noises or offensive smells in such place and circumstances as to interfere with the comfort of persons in the exercise of their common rights; or

(d) deposits offal or refuse in the sea within five hundred yards of the shore.

293. A person commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both, if he

(a) adulterates any article of food or drink so as to make such article noxious as food or drink, intending to sell or offer or sale the same as food or drink, or knowing that it is likely that it will be offered for sale as such;

(b) sells or offers for sale as food or drink any article which has been rendered or has become noxious or in a state unfit for use as food or drink, knowing or having reason to believe that the same is unfit for such use;

(c) adulterates any drug or medical preparation in such manner as to lessen the efficacy or to change the operation of such drug or preparation, or to make it noxious, intending that it shall be or is likely to be sold or offered for sale for any medical purpose as if it had not been so adulterated or rendered noxious; or

(d) knowing that any drug or medical preparation has been adulterated or rendered noxious, as mentioned in paragraph (c), sells the same or offers it for sale or issues it from any dispensary for medicinal purposes as if it had not been so adulterated or rendered noxious, or causes it to be so issued by any person.

294. (1) Any person who, without lawful excuse or authority, wears any uniform of the armed or police force of any Commonwealth country, or any clothing having the appearance or intended to have the appearance of such uniform, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(2) It shall not be an offence under this section for a person taking part in a bona fide theatrical or similar entertainment to wear a costume resembling a military uniform, when required for the purpose of representing a particular character, but in such case the badges shall not be identical with those of any armed or police force of any Commonwealth country.

295. (1) Any person who in any place, negligently or recklessly, carries or uses any fire, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Any person who, by the careless or improper use of fire within any town or village, endangers any lives or property therein, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

296. (1) Any person who, in or in the vicinity of any public place, unlawfully throws or discharges any missile or dangerous object to the damage or danger of any property or person, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), it is immaterial whether or not any person was actually injured or any property damaged, if in the circumstances of the case a reasonable person would have anticipated that such injury or damage might have occurred.

297. Any person who, without the consent of the owner or occupier,

(a) posts any advertisement, bill, placard or other paper against or upon, or

(b) writes upon, soils, marks or defaces, any building, wall, fence, lamp post or other similar object, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

298. Any person who takes or attempts to take any vessel from or out of any mooring, wharf, boat-house, berth, beach, landing-stage or other place for the purpose of using same without the consent of the owner or other person having charge thereof, and without any reasonable claim of right or title thereto, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

299. Any person in charge of any animals (other than cats or dogs) in any public place who willfully remains at such a distance from them as not to have proper control over them, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

300. (1) Subject to subsection (2), any person who, in any public place or within one hundred yards thereof, discharges any firearm or lets off any fireworks, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) A person shall not be convicted of an offence under subsection (1) by reason only that he fires a starting pistol or similar weapon in the ordinary course of the conduct of a sporting or athletic event, or that he lets off a firework in the ordinary course of some festival or celebration at which the use of fireworks has been permitted under the Fireworks Act.

301. (1) Any person who knowingly permits, or is concerned in, the use of any building or place for the purpose of gambling, betting or the holding of a lottery or sweepstake, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both.

(2) A Magistrate or justice of the peace, on being satisfied by evidence on oath that there is good reason to believe that any house or place is kept or used for a purpose contrary to subsection (1) may, by warrant, authorize any police officer, with such assistance and by such force as may be necessary, by day or night to enter such house or place and to search the same and any persons found therein, and to seize all instruments and appliances of gambling, betting, or required for the holding of a lottery or sweepstake, and all money, securities for money and other articles reasonably supposed to have been used or intended to be used for any such purpose, and also to detain any persons there found until the completion of the search of such house or place.

(3) Where any instrument or appliances are found in the house or place searched, every person found therein at the time may be detained in custody until he can be brought before the court, or is granted bail by the police officer in charge of such search, for his appearance before the court.

(4) If, owing to the lateness of the hour or other sufficient cause, a search warrant cannot be obtained with sufficient speed, a police officer in uniform, not below the rank of sergeant, may exercise the powers referred to in subsection (3) without a search warrant.

(5) If any instruments or appliances for gambling, betting or the holding of a lottery or sweepstake are found in any house or place or on any person searched in pursuance of the powers conferred by this section, the fact of such finding shall be deemed to be evidence, until the contrary is made to appear, that such house or place was being used for gambling, betting or the holding of a lottery or sweepstake and that the persons found therein or escaping therefrom were gambling, betting or taking part in a lottery or sweepstake therein, although no such activity was actually seen by any police officer or other person assisting him at the time of entering or searching such house or place.

(6) Any person who is found in the house or place as is mentioned in subsection (5) commits an offence and shall, unless he satisfies the court to the contrary, be deemed to have been taking part in gambling or betting, or in a lottery or sweepstake and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(7) Any person playing or betting in any public place at or with any table or instrument of gambling at any game, or pretended game of chance, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(8) Nothing in this section shall apply to any lottery, sweepstake, pari mutuel or pool betting organized and controlled by an approved social and charitable organization or turf club or in connection with any race meeting held by or under the auspices of such club and, for the purposes of this subsection, "approved" means approved by the Governor in Council.

302. Any person who, being wholly or in part able to maintain his or her children, and if a male, his wife (if any) by work or other lawful means, refuses or neglects to do so, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Proceedings in respect of an offence under subsection (1) shall be without prejudice to any other legal remedy available to any person to enforce the payment of maintenance for, or to recover the cost of any necessaries supplied to, the wife (if any) and family of the offender.

303. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously depastures any animal on any land, public place or thoroughfare, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

304. Any person who willfully obstructs any police officer in the execution of his duties, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

305. (1) Any person who, in any public place, when lawfully called upon by a police officer to assist such officer in apprehending or securing any person whom such officer is endeavouring to apprehend or secure, without reasonable excuse refuses so to do, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Any person who, when lawfully required so to do by a judicial officer or police officer, refuses to give his name and address or gives a false name and address, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

306. (1) Any person who takes or drives or attempts to take or drive any animal from or out of any enclosure, stable, pasture or other place for the purpose of using the animal without the consent of the owner or other person entrusted with the charge thereof, and without having any probable claim or entitle thereto, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Proceedings in respect of an offence under subsection (1) shall be without prejudice to any other legal remedy available to the party aggrieved for the recovery of any such animal and for damages in respect of the taking or using thereof by the offender or for any injury caused to the animal.

307. (1) Any person who behaves in an indecent manner in a public place, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(2) Any person who writes or draws any indecent word, figure or representation in any public place, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

(3) Any person who willfully

(a) exposes in any public place or in any premises visible or accessible to the public from any public place any obscene print, picture, photograph or indecent exhibition, or

(b) exposes his person in any public place or in view thereof, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

308. Any person who is charged with having his possession in any place, or conveying in any manner, anything which is reasonably suspected of being stolen or unlawfully obtained and who does not give an account to the satisfaction of the court as to how he came by that thing, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

309. Any person who, unlawfully and with force, hinders or prevents any person from working at or exercising his lawful trade, business or occupation, or who uses any threat of violence to any such person with intent to hinder him from working at or exercising such trade, business or occupation, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars.

310. (1) Where the facts alleged to constitute an offence charged under this Part appear to the Magistrate also to constitute another offence, not triable summarily, under some other Part or under some other law, the Magistrate, in his discretion, may stay the proceedings brought in respect of such offence under this Part and hold a preliminary inquiry with a view to committing the accused person for trial before the High Court for that other offence.

(2) Where the person committed for trial under subsection (1) is convicted before the High Court of that other offence, no further proceedings shall be taken on the same facts for an offence under this Part.

PART XX

CONSPIRACY, ATTEMPT AND ASSISTING OFFENDERS

311. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Part, a person who agrees with any other person that a course of conduct should be pursued which will necessarily amount to or involve the commission of an offence by one or more of the parties to the agreement if the agreement is carried out in accordance with their intention, is guilty of conspiracy to commit the offence in question.

(2) Where liability for an offence may be incurred without knowledge on the part of the person committing it of any particular fact or circumstance necessary for the commission of the offence, a person shall not be convicted of conspiracy to commit that offence by virtue of subsection (1), unless he and at least one other party to the agreement intend, or know, that the fact or circumstance shall or will exist at the time when the conduct constituting the offence is to take place.

(3) Where in pursuance of an agreement the acts in question in relation to an offence are to be done in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute, that offence shall be disregarded for the purposes of subsection (1), provided that it is an offence which is not punishable with imprisonment except in default of payment of a fine.

(4) For the purposes of this Part,

“offence” means an offence triable in the Territory, and it includes murder notwithstanding that the murder in question would not be so triable if committed in accordance with the intention of the parties; and

“trade dispute” means any dispute or differences between employers and workmen, or between workmen alone, connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment, or the conditions of labour, of any person.

312. Any person who is convicted of conspiracy to commit an offence is, unless any other punishment is provided in this Code or any other law, liable to be punished for a term not exceeding the maximum penalty prescribed for that offence.

313. Any person who conspires with any other person to engage in conduct which tends to corrupt public morals or outrage public decency but would not amount to, or involve the commission of an offence if carried out by a single person otherwise than in pursuance of an agreement, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

314. A person shall not, by virtue of section 311, be convicted of conspiracy to commit an offence, if

(a) he is the sole intended victim of the offence; or

(b) the only person with whom he agrees is (both initially and at all times during the currency of the agreement) a person of any one or more of the following descriptions:

(i) his spouse;

(ii) a person under the age of ten years;

(iii) the sole intended victim of that offence.

315. (1) The rules laid down by section 311 and 314 shall apply for determining whether a person is guilty of an offence of conspiracy under any provisions of any enactment other than section 313.

(2) Incitement and attempt to commit the offence of conspiracy (whether the conspiracy incited or attempted would be an offence at common law or under section 311 or any other enactment) shall, on the coming into force of this Code, cease to be offences.

(3) The fact that the person who, so far as appears from the charge on which any person has been convicted of conspiracy, was the only other party to the agreement on which his conviction was based, has been acquitted of conspiracy by reference to that agreement (whether after being tried with the person convicted or separately) shall not be a ground for quashing his conviction, unless in all the circumstances of the case his conviction is inconsistent with the acquittal of the other person in question.

(4) Any rule of law or practice that is inconsistent with subsection (3) is abolished.

316. (1) Where a person, intending to commit an offence, begins to put his intention into execution by an act which goes so far towards the commission of the offence as to be more than merely a preparatory act, but does not fulfill his intention to such an extent as to commit the offence, he is deemed to attempt to commit the offence.

(2) It is immaterial except in so far as regards punishment, whether the offender does all that is necessary on his part for completing the commission of the offence, or whether the complete fulfillment of his intention is prevented by circumstances independent of his will, or whether he desists on his own motion from the further prosecution of his intention.

317. (1) Any person who attempts to commit an offence, commits an offence and is, unless any other punishment is provided in this Code or any other law, liable on conviction,

(a) if the completed offence is punishable by imprisonment for life, or for ten years or more, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years;

(b) if any other case, to the same penalty as may be imposed for the completed offence itself.

(2) A person charged with an attempt to commit an offence shall be charged under the section, whether of this Code or any other law, creating the offence under which he would be charged if the charge was of the complete offence.

(3) A provision in any law, including this Code, as to the consequences which may or shall follow conviction for any offence or as to the procedure or any other matter applicable where a person is convicted of an offence, shall apply equally where a person is charged or convicted of an attempt to commit the offence.

318. (1) Subject to subsection (2) and (3), where a person has committed an arrestable offence (as defined in section 320), any other person who, knowing or believing him to be guilty of that offence or of some other arrestable offence does, without lawful authority or reasonable excuse, an act to impede his apprehension or prosecution, commits an offence and is said to be an accessory after the fact.

(2) A wife does not become an accessory after the fact to an offence which her husband has committed by receiving in her husband's presence and by his authority another person who has committed an offence in the commission of which her husband has taken part, in order to enable that other person to escape punishment or avoid apprehension.

(3) a husband does not become an accessory after the fact to an offence which his wife has committed by receiving he or assisting he in order to enable her to escape punishment or avoid apprehension.

(4) If on the trial of an indictment for an arrestable offence the jury are satisfied that the offence charged (or some other offence of which the accused might on that charge be found guilty) was committed, but find the accused not guilty of it, they may find him guilty of any offence under subsection (1) of which they are satisfied that he is guilty in relation to the offence charged (or that other offence).

(5) A person who is convicted of being an accessory after the fact is liable to imprisonment according to the gravity of the offence to which he was accessory, as follows:

(a) if the offence is one of which the sentence is fixed by law, he is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years;

(b) if the offence is one for which a person (not previously convicted) may be sentenced to imprisonment for fourteen years or more, he is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years;

(c) if the offence is not included in paragraph (a) or )b) but is one for which a person (not previously convicted) may be sentenced to imprisonment for ten years, he is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years;

(d) in any other case, he is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

319. Where a person has committed an arrestable offence (as defined in section 320), any other person who, knowing or believing that the offence or some other arrestable offence has been committed, and that he has information which might be material assistance in securing the prosecution or conviction of the offender for it, accepts or agrees to accept for not disclosing that information any consideration other than the making good of loss or injury caused by the offence, or the making of a reasonable compensation for that loss or injury, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

PART XXI

MISCELLANEOUS

320. (1) The powers of summary arrest conferred by this section shall apply to offences for which the sentence is fixed by law or for which a person (not previously convicted) may under or by virtue for a term of five years or longer, and to attempts to commit any such offence, and in this Code and in any other law “arrestable offence” means any such offence or attempt.

(2) Any person may arrest, without a warrant, anyone who is, or whom he, with reasonable cause suspects to be, in the act of committing an arrestable offence.

(3) Where an arrestable offence has been committed, any person may arrest, without a warrant anyone who is, or whom he, with reasonable cause suspects to be, guilty of the offence.

(4) Where a police officer, wit reasonable cause, suspects that an arrestable offence has been committed, he may arrest without warrant anyone whom he, with reasonable cause, suspects to be guilty of that offence.

(5) A police officer may arrest, without warrant, any person who is, or whom he, with reasonable cause, suspects to be, about to commit an arrestable offence.

(6) For the purpose of arresting a person under any power conferred by this section, a police officer may enter, if need by force, and search any place where that person is or where the police officer, with reasonable cause, suspects him to be.

(7) This section shall not affect the operation of any enactment restricting the institution of proceedings for an offence, nor prejudice any power of arrest conferred by law apart from this section.

321. (1) For the avoidance of doubt, where an offence is triable either summarily or on indictment and is punishable by imprisonment for five years or longer, if tried on indictment, it shall be deemed to be an arrestable offence notwithstanding that it would be punishable by a lesser term if tried summarily.

(2) Arrestable offences under this Code are shown as such in the fourth column of the Table of offences and penalties in Schedule 1.

322. Any person who causes any wasteful employment of the police by knowingly making to any person a false report tending to show that an offence has been committed, or to give rise to apprehension for the safety of any person or property, or tending to show that he has information material to any police inquiry, commits an offence and is liable on conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both.

323. Where in this Code or any other law it is provided that no prosecution shall be commenced except by or with the consent of the Attorney General, such provision shall not be deemed to prevent the arrest, or the issue of a warrant for the arrest, of a person for such an offence, or the remand in custody or on bail of a person charged with such offence pending the decision of the Attorney General in the matter.

324. The Table of offences and penalties contained in Schedule 1 sets out for convenience of reference to the offences and penalties therefore contained in this Code but shall not be construed to add to or derogate from the provisions in this Code in relation to each such offence.

325. Without prejudice to the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Act or to any other provisions of this Code, where a person is charged with an offence mentioned in the first column of the Table set out in Schedule 2, if the court finds that he is guilty of the offence charged but that, on the evidence before the court, he is guilty of another offence under a section of this Code referred to in the third column of the Table, he may be convicted of that other offence although he was not charged with it.

326. (1) Where any act or omission constitutes an offence under this Code and also under common law, proceedings in respect of that offence shall be brought under the relevant provision of this Code and not under common law, and the common law offence in any such case shall in respect of its application to the Territory, be deemed to have been abolished.

(2) Where any act or omission constitutes an offence under this Code and also under some other enactment, proceedings in respect of that offence shall not be brought under that other enactment except by, or with the consent of, the Attorney General.

327. (1) All distinctions between felony and misdemeanor are hereby abolished.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Code and of the Criminal Procedure Act, on all matters on which a distinction has previously been made between felony and misdemeanor the law and practice in relation thereto shall be the same as the law and practice applicable in relation to misdemeanors immediately before the coming into force of this Code.

328. (1) The following offences under common law are abolished:

(a) any distinct offence, under the common law, of maintenance (including champerty and embracery);

(b) challenging to fight;

(c) eavesdropping;

(d) being a common barrater, a common scold or a common night walker.

(2) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that to the extent (if any) that the following Acts of the Parliament of England apply in the Territory, namely

(a) The Champerty Act (28 Edw. I.c.11),

(b) The Maintenance and Embracery Act 1540 (32 Hen. VIII c.9),

They are hereby repealed in relation to the Territory.

329. (1) The enactments specified in Part I of Schedule 3 are hereby repealed.

(2) The enactments specified in the Schedule 3 first column of Part II of Schedule 3 are hereby amended in the manner indicated in the second column of that Schedule.

(3) The amendments specified in Part III of Schedule 3 shall apply generally to any enactment to which they are relevant.

330. (1) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that any proceedings pending in respect of an offence committed before the coming into force of this Code under any enactment hereby repealed or amended may be continued, and any penalty or punishment imposed, in accordance with the provisions of section 29 (1) (d) and (e) of the Interpretation Act.

(2) Where it is not certain whether an offence was committed before or after the coming into force of this Code, the offence shall be charged under this Code, and if it subsequently appears that the offence was committed before the coming into force of this Code that fact shall not prevent or invalidate a conviction, unless the facts as found do not constitute an offence other than under this Code.

SCHEDULE 1

(Sections 321 and 324)

No. 12 of 2000

An Act to amend the Immigration and Passport Act
(Cap. 130).

[Gazetted 21st December, 2000]

ENACTED by the Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the Immigration and Passport (Amendment) Act, 2000. Short title.

2. Section 2 of the Immigration and Passport Ordinance (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Ordinance") is amended by deleting the definition of "British Subject". Section 2 amended.
Cap. 130

3. Section 3 of the principal Ordinance is amended Section 3 amended.

(a) by the repeal of subsection (1) and the substitution therefor of the following subsection:

"(1) For the purposes of this Ordinance a person shall be deemed to belong to the Territory if that person so qualifies under section 2(2) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order 1976.";

U.K. S.I. 1976
No. 2145

(b) by the repeal of subsection (2) and the substitution therefor of the following subsection:

"(2) Subject to subsection (2A), the Governor may, at any time, by Order declare any person deemed to belong to the Territory by virtue only of a certificate of naturalisation to be no longer deemed to belong to the Territory on the grounds that such person

(a) has shown himself by act or speech to be disloyal or disaffected towards Her Majesty;

(b) has during any war in which Her Majesty was engaged, unlawfully traded or communicated with an enemy or been associated with or engaged in any business that was to his knowledge carried on in such manner as to assist any enemy in that war;

(c) has within five years of the grant of such certificate been sentenced to imprisonment in any country for a criminal offence for a term of one year or more; or

(d) has obtained such a certificate by means of fraud, false representation or concealment of any material fact, and upon publication of such Order in the Gazette such person shall cease to be deemed to belong to the Territory.”;

(c) by the insertion immediately after subsection (2) of the following subsection:

“(2A) The Governor shall not make an Order under subsection (2) if it appears to him that that person would thereupon become stateless.”;

(d) in subsection (6) by the repeal of paragraph (b) and the substitution therefor of the following paragraph:

“(b) the exercise of any power conferred upon the Governor by or under the British Nationality Act 1981.”.

"PART IV

CERTIFICATE THAT A PERSON BELONGS TO THE TERRITORY: RESIDENCE.

Certificate that a person belongs to the Territory.

16. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Governor in Council, after consultation with the Board, may upon application being made in the manner prescribed grant a certificate certifying that the person who applied for the same belongs to the Territory for the purposes of this Ordinance.

(2) A person may be granted a certificate referred to in subsection (1) where

- (a) he qualifies under subsection (3);
- (b) there has been an exercise in relation to him of the power set out in subsection (4);
- (c) he or she is a spouse of a believer and meets the requirements set out in subsection (5) and is not disqualified thereunder.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), a person may be granted a certificate referred to in subsection (1) where he

- (a) is of good character;
- (b) is not less than eighteen years of age;
- (c) has been ordinarily resident in the Territory for a period of not less than ten years immediately prior to his application;
- (d) has held a certificate of residence granted under section 18 for a period of not less than twelve months immediately preceding the date of the application; and

(e) has, in his application, restated his intention of making the Territory his permanent home and has satisfied the Board that it is his intention so to do.

(4) Where in the exceptional circumstances of any case, the Governor in Council considers it fit to do so, it may, after consultation with the Board, grant a certificate referred to in subsection (1) to any person who is of good character and who is at the date of making the application for such a certificate ordinarily resident in the Territory and who has been so ordinarily resident for the period of not less than seven years immediately prior to his application.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), a spouse of a belonger may be granted the certificate referred to in subsection (1) where he or she has been ordinarily resident in the Territory with his or her spouse who is a belonger, and they have been living together as husband and wife, for at least five years, unless within that period of five years the spouse of the belonger has been sentenced to imprisonment in any country for a criminal offence for a term of one year or more.

(6) Where the spouse who is a belonger dies before his or her spouse completes the period of five years' residence referred to in subsection (5) and at the time of death the spouses were living together in the Territory as husband and wife for a period of at least two and a half years before the death of the belonger spouse, the Governor in Council may, upon application, grant the surviving spouse the certificate referred to in subsection (1) as if he or she had completed that period of residence.

(7) In deciding whether a certificate should be granted pursuant to subsection (2) (a) or (b) in respect of any applicant, the Governor in Council shall consider whether

(a) the economic situation in the Territory is such that the grant of a certificate to the applicant will prejudice the protection afforded under this Ordinance to other persons engaging in the trade or

"ordinarily resident" means that the applicant was in the Territory at the beginning of the relevant period specified in subsection (3), (4) or (5) ending with the date of the application, and that

- (a) the number of days on which he was absent from the Territory in that period does not exceed,
  - (i) in the case of subsection (3),
nine hundred days;
  - (ii) in the case of subsection (4), six hundred and thirty days; and
  - (iii) in the case of subsection (5), four hundred and fifty days;
- (b) the number of days on which he was absent from the Territory in the period of twelve months so ending does not exceed ninety;
- (c) he was not, at any time in the period of twelve months so ending, subject under the immigration laws to any restriction on the period for which he might remain in the Territory; and

- (d) he was not, at any time in the relevant period so ending, in the Territory in breach of the immigration laws.

(9) Notwithstanding the definition of "ordinarily resident", an applicant shall be deemed to be ordinarily resident in the Territory where he proves to the satisfaction of the Governor in Council that he had been absent from the Territory on grounds of illness, study, Government service or service in the armed forces of Her Majesty's Government.

Validity of certificate issued under section 16.

17. (1) Where a person is granted a certificate under section 16, such certificate shall cease to be valid if subsequent to the grant of the certificate such person is ordinarily resident outside the Territory continuously for a period of five years, unless he proves to the satisfaction of the Governor in Council that his residence abroad for that period was necessary on the grounds of illness, study, Government service or service in the armed forces of Her Majesty's Government.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and (4), a certificate granted under section 16 may be revoked by the Governor in Council by Order on the grounds that the person to whom it was granted

- (a) has shown himself by act or speech to be disloyal or disaffected towards Her Majesty;
- (b) has during any war in which Her Majesty was engaged, unlawfully traded or communicated with an enemy or been associated with or engaged in any business that was to his knowledge carried on in such manner as to assist an enemy in that war;

- (d) has obtained such certificate by means of fraud, false representation or concealment of any material fact.

(3) No Order shall be made in exercise of the powers conferred by subsection (2) unless the Chief Immigration Officer has first given the person against whom the Order is proposed to be made notice in writing of the grounds on which it is proposed to be made and has offered such person an opportunity to be heard.

(4) Where a person against whom an Order is proposed to be made under subsection (2) desires to be heard in person by the Governor in Council, he may submit a request to the Council through the Chief Immigration Officer.

(5) The Governor in Council shall not make an Order under subsection (2) if it appears that the person concerned would thereupon become stateless.

Certificate of residence.

18. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this section, the Governor in Council may, after consultation with the Board, grant a certificate of residence to any person who applies for the same in the prescribed manner and who

- (a) is of good character; and
- (b) in his application has stated his intention of residing permanently in the Territory.

(2) When a certificate of residence is granted to any person under this section, the Governor in Council may then, or on the subsequent application by the person, endorse the certificate to relate also to the spouse and any dependent child under the age of eighteen years of that person ordinarily resident with him subject to such conditions as the Governor in Council may impose.

(3) An endorsement for a dependent child ceases to have effect when the child attains the age of eighteen years.

(4) A child who attains the age of eighteen years and who wishes to remain in the Territory after the expiration of his endorsement under subsection (3) shall, within six months of his eighteenth birthday, apply for a certificate of residence in his own name and shall not remain in the Territory at the expiration of that period unless

- (a) his application for a certificate of residence is pending; or
- (b) he is permitted to remain in the Territory under this Ordinance or any other law.

Revocation of certificate of residence.

19. The Governor in Council may, after consultation with the Board, revoke a certificate of residence or any endorsement thereon on the grounds that the person to whom it relates

- (a) subsequent to the grant of such certificate has been ordinarily resident outside the Territory continuously for a period of three years;
- (b) has in any country been sentenced to imprisonment for a criminal offence for a term of one year or more; or
- (c) has so conducted himself that it is not in the public interest that he should continue to enjoy the privileges conferred by the certificate."

VIRGIN ISLANDS
POLICE (AMENDMENT) ACT, 2001
ARRANGEMENT OF SECTIONS

- Section*
1. Short title and commencement.
  2. Sections 22A to 22F inserted.
  3. Section 75 amended.

I Assent
FRANCIS J. SAVAGE,
CMG, LVO, OBE
Governor.
6th December, 2001

VIRGIN ISLANDS
No. 11 of 2001

An Act to amend the Police Act (Cap. 165).

[Gazetted 27th December, 2001]

ENACTED by the Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be cited as the Police (Amendment) Act, 2001 and shall come into force on such date as the Governor may, by Proclamation published in the Gazette, appoint.

Sections 22A to 22F inserted. Cap. 165

2. The Police Act (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Act") is amended by inserting after section 22, the following section:

"Limits on period of detention without charge.

22A. (1) Subject to this section and sections 22B and 22C, a person shall not be kept in police detention for more than twenty-four hours without being charged.

(2) The time from which the period of detention of a person is to be calculated shall be the time of his arrest.

(3) Where a person who is in police detention is removed to a hospital because he is in need of medical treatment, any time during which he is being questioned, in hospital or on the way there or back, by a member of the Force for the purpose of obtaining evidence relating to an offence shall be included in the calculation of the period of his detention, but any other time while he is in hospital or on his way there or back shall not be so included.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), a person who at the expiry of twenty-four hours after the time of his arrest is in police detention and has not been charged, shall be released at that time either on bail in accordance with section 22E, or without bail.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to a person whose detention for more than twenty-four hours after the time of his arrest has been authorised or is otherwise permitted in accordance with section 22B or 22C.

(6) A person released under subsection (4) shall not be re-arrested without a warrant for the offence for which he was previously arrested unless new evidence justifying a further arrest has come to light since his release.

(7) A person shall at the time of his arrest be entitled to be informed of his right to counsel of his own choice and at his own expense.

22B. (1) Where a member of the Force of the rank of Chief Inspector or above who is responsible for the police station at which a person is detained has reasonable grounds for believing that

(a) the detention of that person without charge is necessary to secure or preserve evidence relating to an offence for which he is under arrest or to obtain such evidence by questioning him;

(b) an offence for which he is under arrest is an offence punishable by imprisonment for five years or more; and

(c) the investigation is being conducted diligently and expeditiously, he may, in writing, authorise the keeping of that person in police detention for a period expiring at or before forty-eight hours after the time of his arrest.

(2) No authorisation under subsection (1) shall be given in respect of any person more than twenty-four hours after the time of his arrest.

Authorisation of continued detention.

(3) Where a member of the Force authorises the keeping of a person in police detention under subsection (1), it shall be his duty

(a) to provide that person with a copy of the written authorisation and to inform him of the grounds of his continued detention; and

(b) to record the authorisation and grounds in that person's custody record.

(4) Where a member of the Force has authorised the keeping of a person who has not been charged in detention under subsection (1), that person shall be released from detention, either on bail in accordance with section 22E or without bail, not later than forty-eight hours after the time of his arrest, unless

(a) he has been charged with an offence; or

(b) his continued detention is authorised or otherwise permitted in accordance with section 22C.

(5) A person released under subsection (4) shall not be re-arrested without a warrant for the offence for which he was previously arrested unless new evidence justifying a further arrest has come to light since his release.

Warrants of
detention.

22C. (1) Where, on an application on oath made by a member of the Force and supported by an information, a Magistrate is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the further detention of the person to whom the application relates is justified, the Magistrate may issue a warrant of further detention authorising the keeping of that person in police detention.

(2) A Magistrate shall not hear an application for a warrant of further detention unless the person to whom the application relates

- (a) has been furnished with a copy of the information; and
- (b) has been brought before the court for the hearing.

(3) The person to whom the application relates shall be entitled to be legally represented at the hearing and, if he is not so represented but wishes to be so represented

- (a) the Magistrate shall adjourn the hearing to enable him to obtain representation; and
- (b) he may be kept in police detention during the adjournment.

(4) A person's further detention is only justified for the purposes of this section or section 22D if

- (a) his detention without charge is necessary to secure or preserve evidence relating to an offence for which he is under arrest or to obtain such evidence by questioning him;
- (b) an offence for which he is under arrest is an offence punishable by imprisonment for five years or more; and
- (c) the investigation is being conducted diligently and expeditiously.

(5) An application for a warrant of further detention may be made at any time before the expiry of forty-eight hours after the time of arrest of the person to whom the application relates.

(6) Where, on an application for a warrant of further detention, the Magistrate is not satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the further detention of the person to whom the application relates is justified, the Magistrate shall

- (a) refuse the application; or

- (b) adjourn the hearing of the application to a time not later than forty-eight hours after the time of arrest of that person.

(7) The person to whom an application under this section relates may be kept in police detention during an adjournment under subsection (6)(b).

(8) A warrant of further detention shall

- (a) state the time at which it is issued;
- (b) authorise the keeping in police detention of the person to whom it relates for the period stated in it.

(9) The period stated in a warrant of further detention shall be such period, not exceeding thirty-six hours, as the Magistrate thinks fit, having regard to the evidence before him.

(10) Any information submitted in support of an application under this section shall state

- (a) the nature of the offence for which the person to whom the application relates has been arrested;
- (b) the general nature of the evidence on which that person has been arrested;
- (c) the reasons for believing the continued detention of that person to be necessary.

(11) Where an application under this section is refused, the person to whom the application relates shall forthwith be charged or, subject to subsection (12), released, either on bail in accordance with section 22E or without bail.

(12) A person need not be released under subsection (11) before the expiry of twenty-four hours after the time of his arrest or before the expiry of any longer period for which his continued detention is or has been authorised under section 22B.

(13) Where an application under this section is refused, no further application shall be made under this section in respect of the person to whom the refusal relates, unless supported by evidence which has come to light since the refusal.

(14) Where a warrant of further detention is issued, the person to whom it relates shall be released from police detention, either on bail in accordance with section 22E or without bail, upon or before the expiry of the warrant unless he is charged.

(15) A person released under subsection (14) shall not be re-arrested without a warrant for the offence for which he was previously arrested unless new evidence justifying a further arrest has come to light since his release.

22D. (1) On an application on oath made by a member of the Force and supported by an information, a Magistrate may extend a warrant of further detention issued under section 22C if he is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the further detention of the person to whom the application relates is justified.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the period for which a warrant of further detention may be extended shall be such period as the Magistrate thinks fit, having regard to the evidence before him.

(3) The period shall not

- (a) be longer than thirty-six hours; or
- (b) end later than ninety-six hours after the time of arrest.

(4) Where a warrant of further detention has been extended under subsection (1), or further extended under this subsection, on any further application under subsection (1) a Magistrate may further extend the warrant if satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the further detention of the person to whom the application relates is justified; and subsections (2) and (3) shall apply to such further extensions as they apply to extensions under subsection (1).

(5) A warrant of further detention shall, if extended or further extended under this section, be endorsed with a note of the period of the extension.

(6) Subsections (2), (3) and (10) of section 22C shall apply to an application made under this section as they apply to an application made under that section.

(7) Where an application under this section is refused, the person to whom the application relates shall forthwith be charged or, subject to subsection (8), released, either on bail in accordance with section 22E or without bail.

(8) A person need not be released under subsection (7) before the expiry of any period for which a warrant of further detention issued in relation to him has been extended or further extended on an earlier application made under this section.

Bail after arrest.

22E. (1) A member of the Force of the rank of Chief Inspector or above may release on bail a person who had been arrested without being charged, subject to a duty to attend at a police station at such times as may be specified to assist generally with investigations and shall record the detail in the Police Bail Book.

(2) Where a person who has been released on bail under subsection (1) fails to attend at the police station at the time specified under subsection (1) or (4)(c), he commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

(3) Without prejudice to the powers of a member of the Force under section 22, a member of the Force may arrest a person released on bail under subsection (1) if new evidence justifying a further arrest has come to light since his release.

(4) Where a person is released on bail under subsection (1), a member of the Force of the rank of Chief Inspector or above may subsequently give notice in writing to that person that

- (a) his attendance at the police station is no longer required;
- (b) his attendance at the police station at a particular time is not required; or
- (c) the times at which he is required to attend at the police station have been varied to times specified in the notice.

(5) Where a person who was released on bail subject to a duty to attend at a police station so attends, he may be detained without charge at the police station if there are reasonable grounds for believing that his detention is necessary to secure or preserve evidence relating to an offence for which he is under arrest or to obtain such evidence by questioning him.

(6) Where a person who was released on bail subject to a duty to attend at a police station is re-arrested, the provisions of section 22A shall apply to him as they apply to a person arrested for the first time.

Codes of practice.

22F. (1) The Governor may issue codes of practice in connection with the detention, treatment and questioning of persons by members of the Force.

(2) Codes of Practice issued pursuant to subsection (1) shall not come into force unless approved by an affirmative resolution of the Legislative Council."

3. Section 75 of the principal Act is amended

- (a) in subsection (1), by inserting after the word "Force", the words "and the Auxiliary Force";
- (b) in subsection (2), by inserting after the word "Force", the words "or the Auxiliary Force";
- (c) by repealing subsection (3) and substituting the following subsection:

" (3) If a member of the Force or the Auxiliary Force dies while he is in the service of the Force or the Auxiliary Force, as the case may be, the Governor may order that his funeral expenses be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund."

PART II PRINCIPAL FUNCTION AND JURISDICTION OF THE COMMISSIONER

4. (1) Subject to subsection (2) and sections 5 and 6, the principal function of the Commissioner shall be to investigate any action taken by a department of Government or a public authority in the exercise of its administrative functions.

Principal function of the Commissioner.

(2) The Commissioner may investigate a matter referred to in subsection (1) in the following circumstances:

- (a) where a complaint is made, in writing, to the Commissioner by a person alleging that he has sustained an injustice as a result of maladministration;
- (b) where a member of the Legislative Council requests, in writing, the Commissioner to investigate the matter on the ground that a person or body of persons specified in the request has or may have sustained an injustice as a result of maladministration;
- (c) in any other circumstances in which the Commissioner considers that he ought to investigate the matter on the ground that some person or body of persons has or may have sustained an injustice as a result of maladministration.

Restrictions on matters for investigation.

5. (1) In investigating any matter leading to, resulting from or connected with a decision of a Minister, the Commissioner shall not inquire into or question the policy of the Minister in accordance with which the decision was made.

(2) The Commissioner may investigate a matter notwithstanding that such matter raises questions as to the integrity or corruption of the public service or of any department of Government or public authority, and may investigate any conditions resulting from, or calculated to facilitate or encourage corruption in the public service or any such department or authority, but he shall not undertake any investigation into specific charges of corruption against individuals.

(3) Where in the course of an investigation it appears to the Commissioner that there is evidence of any corrupt act by any individual, he shall report the matter to the Governor with his recommendations as to any further investigation he may consider proper.

(4) The Commissioner shall not investigate

- (a) any matter in respect of which the complainant has or had
  - (i) a remedy by way of proceedings in a court, other than by way of judicial review; or
  - (ii) a right of appeal, objection, reference or review to or before any person, tribunal, board or other authority appointed or constituted by or under an enactment;
- (b) any such action, or action taken with respect to any matter, as is described in the Schedule.

Schedule

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (4), the Commissioner may investigate a matter notwithstanding that the complainant has or had a remedy by way of proceedings in a court, if satisfied that in the particular circumstances it is not reasonable to expect the complainant to take or to have taken such proceedings.

6. (1) In determining whether to initiate, continue or discontinue an investigation, the Commissioner shall, subject to sections 4 and 5, act in his discretion and, in particular and without prejudice to the generality of this discretion, the Commissioner may refuse to initiate or may discontinue an investigation where it appears to him that

Discretion of Commissioner.

- (a) a complaint relates to action of which the complainant has had knowledge for more than twelve months before the complaint was received by the Commissioner, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that in the particular circumstances it is proper to conduct an investigation into a complaint not made within that period;
- (b) the complaint is made anonymously or the complainant cannot be identified or traced;
- (c) the complaint is not made by
  - (i) the individual aggrieved himself;
  - (ii) his personal representative or by a member of his family or other individual suitable to represent him, where the individual by whom the complaint might have been made has died or is for any reason unable to act for himself; or
  - (iii) a member of the Legislative Council pursuant to section 4(2)(b);
- (d) where the complaint is made on behalf of a body corporate, the body corporate has not authorised the making of the complaint;
- (e) the complainant does not have a sufficient interest in the subject matter of the complaint;
- (f) the subject matter of the complaint is trivial;
- (g) the complaint is frivolous or vexatious or is not made in good faith;

- (h) the complaint, or a complaint of a substantially similar nature, has previously been the subject of an investigation as a result of which the Commissioner was of the opinion that there had been no maladministration; or
- (i) any investigation or further investigation is for any other reason unnecessary.

(2) Where the Commissioner decides not to undertake or continue an investigation into a complaint, he shall inform the complainant, in writing, of his decision and of his reasons.

Power to investigate in the public interest.

7. Where the Commissioner is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to do so, he may undertake or continue an investigation into a complaint notwithstanding that the complainant has withdrawn the complaint and, in any such case, the provisions of this Act shall apply to the complaint and the complainant as if the complaint had not been withdrawn.

Preliminary inquiries.

8. For the purposes of determining whether to undertake an investigation, the Commissioner may conduct such preliminary inquiries as he considers appropriate.

Dealing with complaints by mediation.

9. (1) The Commissioner may decide to deal with a complaint by mediation under this section if he is of the opinion, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, that the subject matter of the complaint involves no, or only minor, maladministration.

(2) The Commissioner shall appoint in accordance with section 21, such person as he thinks fit to be a mediator in any mediation.

(3) The Commissioner shall not participate in any mediation.

(4) Participation in the mediation by the complainant and the relevant department of Government or public authority is voluntary, and any party may withdraw at any time.

(5) The mediator may terminate the mediation at any time.

(6) Where an attempt to deal with a complaint by mediation under this section is unsuccessful,

- (a) the complaint is to be treated as if the mediation had not taken place; and

- (b) the mediator is excluded from participating as an investigating officer in any subsequent investigation of the complaint.

(7) Anything said or admitted during the mediation and any document prepared for the purposes of such mediation shall not be admissible in evidence

- (a) in any subsequent investigation of the complaint concerned unless the person who said or admitted the thing, or to whom the document relates, consents to its admission;
- (b) against any person in any court or at any inquiry or in any other proceedings, and no evidence in respect of the mediation may be given against any person.

(8) Nothing in this section prevents a complaint from being dealt with otherwise than in accordance with this section.

10. (1) Before investigating any action, the Commissioner shall, subject to subsection (2), inform the head of the relevant department of Government or public authority of his intention to conduct an investigation and may seek his comments.

Proceedings of Commissioner.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not apply where the Commissioner is of the opinion that compliance is inappropriate in the particular circumstances of the case and, instead of complying with that subsection, informs the Governor of his intention to conduct an investigation.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Act and any rules made under section 30, the Commissioner may

- (a) obtain any information, document or thing from such persons, and make such inquiries, as he thinks fit; and
- (b) regulate his procedure in such manner as he thinks fit.

(4) Every investigation shall be conducted in private and, subject to subsection (6), legal practitioners shall not have any right of audience before the Commissioner, but may appear before him if he thinks fit.

(5) It shall not be necessary for the Commissioner to hold any hearing, and, subject to subsection (6), no person shall be entitled to be heard by the Commissioner.

(6) If at any time during the course of an investigation it appears to the Commissioner that there may be sufficient grounds for him to make a report or recommendation that may criticise or adversely affect an officer, department of Government, public authority or person, he shall give the officer, the head of the department or authority or the person an opportunity to be heard, either personally or by his legal practitioner.

Power to obtain evidence.

11. (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), the Commissioner shall have the powers of the High Court to summon witnesses to appear before him and to compel them to give evidence on oath and to produce documents relevant to the proceedings before him and all persons giving evidence at those proceedings shall have the same duties and liabilities and enjoy the same privileges as they would have in civil proceedings in the High Court.

(2) The Commissioner shall not have power to summon the Governor or a Minister to appear before him or compel the Governor or a Minister to answer any questions relating to any matter under investigation by the Commissioner, but the Commissioner

(a) may, in his discretion, consult the Governor or a Minister on the matter; and

(b) shall, on the request of the Governor or a Minister, consult the Governor or the Minister on the matter.

(3) The Commissioner shall not have power to summon any witness to produce any Executive Council papers.

(4) The Commissioner shall have power to enter and inspect the premises of any department of Government or public authority, to call for, examine, make copies of and, where necessary, retain any document kept on such premises and there carry out any investigation in pursuance of his functions.

Report on investigation.

12. (1) Upon the completion of an investigation, the Commissioner shall provide the relevant department of Government or public authority with a report containing his findings of fact, his opinion and the reasons for his opinion.

(2) Where the Commissioner is of the opinion that any person has sustained an injustice as a result of maladministration, he shall include in his report such recommendations as he thinks fit and a request that the relevant department of Government or public authority notify him, within a specified time, of the steps, if any, that it proposes to take to give effect to his recommendations.

(3) The Commissioner may in his report, or at any later stage if he thinks fit, specify the time within which an injustice should be remedied.

(4) The Commissioner shall send a copy of his report to the Governor and each member of the Executive Council.

13. Where an investigation is undertaken as a result of a complaint, the Commissioner shall inform the complainant, and in the case of a complaint under section 4(2)(b) the relevant member of the Legislative Council, of the result of the investigation and may make such comments on the matter as he thinks fit.

Complainant to be informed of result of investigation.

14. (1) If, within a reasonable time after the Commissioner issues his report or the time specified under section 12(3), no action is taken which seems to the Commissioner to be adequate and appropriate, the Commissioner, after considering the comments, if any, made by or on behalf of the relevant department or authority, shall lay a special report on the matter before the Legislative Council.

Special report where no appropriate action taken.

(2) The Commissioner shall attach to every special report under subsection (1) a copy of any comments made by or on behalf of the relevant department of Government or public authority.

15. No proceeding of the Commissioner may be held bad for want of form and, except on the ground of lack of jurisdiction, no proceeding or decision of the Commissioner conducted or taken in good faith is liable to be challenged, reviewed, quashed or called in question in any court.

Appeals restricted.

PART III FINANCIAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

16. (1) The funds of the Commissioner shall consist of Funds of the Commissioner.

- (a) such monies that are appropriated to him by the Legislative Council for the purposes of this Act;
- (b) monies received by the Commissioner from agencies, other than the Government, approved by the Minister of Finance for the performance of his functions; and
- (c) donations, endowments and other gifts received by the Commissioner.

(2) The funds of the Commissioner shall be kept in such bank as the Minister of Finance may approve.

(3) The Commissioner shall cause to be prepared proper estimates of receipts and expenditure in respect of the performance of his functions for each financial year and the estimates shall be submitted to the Minister of Finance not later than such date as the Minister of Finance may direct.

Accounts and audit.

17. (1) The Commissioner shall cause proper accounts of all financial transactions to be kept in such form as the Chief Auditor may direct.

(2) The Commissioner shall, as soon as practicable after the end of the financial year, prepare a statement of his accounts.

(3) The accounts required to be kept under subsection (1) and the statement of accounts required under subsection (2) shall be audited, as soon as practicable and in any case within four months after the end of each financial year, by the Chief Auditor or an auditor appointed for the purpose by the Chief Auditor.

Fees prohibited.

18. No person shall be required to pay any fee in respect of a complaint or for any mediation or investigation under this Act.

Remuneration
of the Commissioner.

19. The salary, allowances and other benefits payable to the Commissioner shall be determined by the Governor in Council and shall be paid out of the Consolidated Fund.

Appointment of staff.

20. (1) The Commissioner shall be provided with such staff as the Governor, after consultation with the Commissioner, considers necessary for the efficient administration of this Act.

(2) The Governor may, after consultation with the Commissioner, appoint the staff of the Commissioner either in accordance with the Public Service Commission Regulations, 1969 or on contract.

S.I. 1969 No. 29

(3) The salaries, allowances and other benefits payable to the staff of the Commissioner shall be determined by the Governor and shall be paid out of the Consolidated Fund.

Appointment of mediators and advisers.

21. (1) The Commissioner may, from time to time, appoint

- (a) mediators for the purposes of section 9; or
- (b) professional or technical advisers to assist him in the performance of his functions.

(2) Persons appointed under subsection (1) may be paid such remuneration as the Commissioner may approve.

(3) Any remuneration payable pursuant to subsection (2) shall be paid out of the funds of the Commissioner.

22. (1) Where the Commissioner is absent from the Territory or is for any other reason unable to perform the functions of his office, those functions shall, until such time as he resumes the functions of his office or another person is appointed as the Commissioner under section 66A of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976, be assumed and performed by such person as may be appointed in writing by the Governor to act as Commissioner.

Acting
Commissioner.

U.K.S.I. 1976
No. 2145

(2) Section 66A(3) and (5) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976 and section 25 shall apply to a person appointed under subsection (1).

23. The Commissioner may lease such premises and acquire such equipment as are necessary for the efficient operation of his office.

Premises and supplies.

PART IV MISCELLANEOUS

24. (1) The Commissioner shall, within six months after the end of each financial year, furnish

Laying of annual reports.

- (a) a full report on the performance of his functions during that financial year, which shall include a general survey and statistics in relation to complaints received by him, the results of mediations and investigations conducted under this Act, steps taken to implement his recommendations and such other matters or developments as he thinks fit;
- (b) a copy of the statement of accounts required under section 17(2) and the auditor's report on that statement of accounts, to the Governor who shall cause them to be laid before the Legislative Council within a period of three months after their receipt.

25. Before commencing the duties of his office, the Commissioner shall take an oath, to be administered by the Governor, that he will faithfully and impartially exercise the functions of his office and that he will not, except in accordance with section 26(3), disclose any information received by him as Commissioner.

Oath of office and secrecy.

Commissioner and staff to maintain secrecy.

26. (1) The Commissioner and every person appointed under section 20, 21 or 22 shall, subject to subsections (2) and (3), maintain secrecy in respect of all matters that

- (a) arise from any investigation or complaint made to the Commissioner; and
- (b) come to their actual knowledge in the exercise of their functions.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not apply so as to prevent the Commissioner or any person appointed under section 20, 21 or 22 from

- (a) disclosing in the course of proceedings for an offence under this Act, any matter relevant to those proceedings;
- (b) reporting evidence of any crime to such authority as he considers appropriate;
- (c) disclosing to a person any matter referred to in subsection (1) which, in the opinion of the Commissioner or the person so appointed
  - (i) may be ground for a complaint by that person; or
  - (ii) is necessary to be disclosed to that person for the purposes of investigating a complaint or deciding whether an investigation should be undertaken, continued or discontinued.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), the Commissioner may disclose in any report made by him under this Act such matters as in his opinion ought to be disclosed in order to establish grounds for his conclusions and recommendations.

(4) The Commissioner shall not disclose in any report made by him under this Act

- (a) the nature or substance of any consultation with the Governor or a Minister pursuant to section 11(2) or whether or not any such consultation was requested or has taken place; or
- (b) any matter in respect of which the Governor certifies that its disclosure might prejudice security, defence or international relations (including relations with an international organisation) in respect of the Territory or would otherwise be contrary to the public interest.

(5) A person who fails to comply with subsection (1) or (4) commits an offence and is liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or both.

27. Except on the trial of any person in respect of his sworn testimony, no statement made or answer given by that or any other person in the course of an inquiry by or any proceedings before the Commissioner is admissible in evidence against any person in any court or at any inquiry or in any other proceedings, and no evidence in respect of proceedings before the Commissioner shall be given against any person.

Protection of witnesses.

28. No proceedings shall lie against the Commissioner, or against any person appointed under section 20, 21 or 22, for any act done or omitted to be done in the performance or purported performance of any function, or the exercise or purported exercise of any power, under this Act, unless it is shown that he acted in bad faith.

Immunity.

29. A person who

Offences.

- (a) without lawful excuse, willfully obstructs, hinders or resists the Commissioner or any other person in the performance of his functions under this Act;
- (b) without lawful excuse, refuses or willfully fails to comply with any lawful requirement of the Commissioner or any other person under this Act; or
- (c) willfully makes any false statement to or misleads or attempts to mislead the Commissioner or any other person in the exercise of his functions under this Act, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or both.

30. The Governor may make rules for the guidance of the Commissioner in the exercise of his functions.

Rules.

Application.

3. This Act binds the Crown.

PART I
APPOINTMENT OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Appointment of Auditor General.

4. Whenever the office of Auditor General is vacant, the Governor shall, acting after consultation with the Public Service Commission, appoint to hold that office a person the Governor considers to be suitably qualified.

Terms of appointment of Auditor General.

5. The person holding the office of Auditor General holds that office on terms of appointment from time to time determined in accordance with sections 19 (1) (d) and 65 of the Constitution.

U.K. S.I. 1976 No. 2145

Determination of appointment of Auditor General.

6. (1) The appointment of a person to hold the office of Auditor General shall not be revoked by the Governor except on the grounds of disability, neglect of duty or misconduct after the Governor has consulted the Public Service Commission.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prohibit

(a) a person being appointed to hold the office of Auditor General for a specified period; or

(b) the appointment of a person to hold the office of Auditor General from providing that the appointment is to determine when the person reaches a specified age, being an age not less than sixty years and not more than seventy years.

Auditor General not to hold other office.

7. The person holding the office of Auditor General ceases to hold that office if he becomes the holder of any other office of emolument under the Crown.

Appointment of Acting Auditor General.

8. (1) Where

(a) the office of Auditor General is vacant, or

(b) the Governor is satisfied that the person holding the office of Auditor General is unable to perform the duties of the office, the Governor may appoint a public officer to be the Acting Auditor General.

(2) A person appointed to be the Acting Auditor General

- (a) holds the office on such terms and conditions as the Governor may determine; and
- (b) while holding office
  - (i) shall perform all the duties of the Auditor General; and
  - (ii) may exercise all the powers of the Auditor General.

Auditor General's staff.

9. The Governor may, at the request of the Auditor General and after consultation with the Public Service Commission, appoint such number of public officers as the Auditor General may consider necessary to assist the Auditor General in the performance of his duties.

Exercise of powers and performance of duties on behalf of the Auditor General.

10. (1) A duty of the Auditor General, other than the duty to issue an audit report to the Minister in accordance with section 66(3) of the Constitution, may be performed by

- (a) a member of staff of the Auditor General authorised to do so by the Auditor General; or
- (b) a person appointed to do so by the Auditor General.

(2) A person authorised or appointed to perform a duty under this Act is not subject to the direction or control of any other person other than the Auditor General when performing that duty.

(3) A power of the Auditor General may be exercised by

- (a) a member of staff of the Auditor General authorised to do so by the Auditor General; or
- (b) a person appointed to do so by the Auditor General.

PART II DUTIES OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Duties of the Auditor
General – annual audit.
U.K. S.I. 1976 No. 2145

11. (1) The Auditor General, acting in accordance with section 66(2) of the Constitution, shall undertake an audit of the accounts of the Legislative Council and all Government departments and offices, including the Public Service Commission, for each financial year.

(2) The audit shall be undertaken in accordance with good auditing practices and standards generally accepted as applicable to the auditing of the accounts of governments.

(3) At the conclusion of each audit the Auditor General shall submit a report on the audit to the Minister.

(4) The report shall include

- (a) a certificate stating that the audit of the accounts for the financial year has been completed;
- (b) an opinion as to whether those accounts present properly
  - (i) the assets and liabilities of the Legislative Council and all Government departments and offices, including the Public Service Commission, at the end of the financial year; and
  - (ii) the receipts and payments of the Legislative Council and all Government departments and offices, including the Public Service Commission, during the financial year; and

- (c) such other information as the Auditor General considers necessary or appropriate to assist in a consideration of the audited accounts for that financial year.

Duties of the Auditor General – supplementary audit.

12. (1) The Auditor General shall submit to the Minister a supplementary audit report in respect of each annual audit.

(2) The report shall contain

- (a) details of any instance when a public officer or other person did not fully comply with a requirement by the Auditor General;
- (b) details of any instance the Auditor General considers significant where
  - (i) money was not collected, paid or accounted for in accordance with the law; or
  - (ii) other property was not received, held, issued, sold, transferred, destroyed, or accounted for in accordance with the law; and
- (c) such other comments or observations as the Auditor General considers relevant to the audit including, in particular, comments or observations on
  - (i) any matter relating to the performance of his duties or the exercise of his powers;

- (ii) the records that are being kept or should be kept; and
- (iii) whether resources are being used with proper regard to economy, efficiency and effectiveness.

(3) The Auditor General shall submit the report to the Minister within six months after the conclusion of the relevant annual audit.

(4) The Minister shall, within three months after the receipt of the report, lay the report before the Legislative Council.

Other duties of the Auditor General.

13. The Auditor General shall perform such other duties as are prescribed by any other law.

Principles to be followed by the Auditor General.

14. In performing his duties under this Act, the Auditor General shall, in particular, satisfy himself

- (a) that funds have been used for purposes approved by law and for no other purposes;
- (b) that each payment and receipt was made or received in accordance with the law;
- (c) that adequate instructions have been given to ensure
  - (i) that money is collected, paid and accounted for in accordance with the law, and
  - (ii) that property is received, held, issued, sold, transferred, destroyed, and accounted for in accordance with the law, and that those instructions are being complied with; and

- (d) that adequate records are being kept
  - (i) of the collection and payment of money; and
  - (ii) of the receipt, custody, issue, sale, transfer or destruction of property.

Auditor General to report offences.

15. If in the course of carrying out his duties it appears to the Auditor General that an offence has been committed, he shall report that fact to the Financial Secretary and the Attorney General.

Disclosure of information.

16. (1) The Auditor General shall not disclose information obtained in the course of performing his duties or exercising his powers.

(2) A person performing a duty on behalf of the Auditor General or exercising a power of the Auditor General shall not disclose information obtained in the course of performing the duty or exercising the power.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a disclosure

- (a) required or permitted by this or any other enactment;
- (b) lawfully required or permitted by a court;
- (c) which, in the opinion of the Auditor General, should be made known to the Financial Secretary and the Attorney General in accordance with section 15; or
- (d) which the Police may require in the course of conducting investigations into an offence.

(4) A person, other than a public officer, who contravenes subsection (2) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

Auditor General to provide annual estimate of cost of running office.

17. (1) Prior to the start of each financial year the Auditor General shall prepare and submit to the Minister and the Financial Secretary an estimate of the money that needs to be approved by the Legislative Council for the expenses of his office during that financial year.

(2) Where the Auditor General is of the opinion that the amount proposed for the expenses of his office in the Government's estimates submitted to the Legislative Council is insufficient to allow him to carry out his duties, he may submit a report in respect of the insufficiency to the Speaker of the Legislative Council.

(3) The Speaker shall send a copy of the report to each member of the Legislative Council.

(4) The Auditor General shall at the same time as submitting the report to the Speaker submit a copy of the report to the Minister and the Financial Secretary.

(5) The members of the Legislative Council shall, in discussing the Government's estimates, take into account the report submitted by the Auditor General.

Limit on the Auditor General undertaking work outside his duties.

18. The Auditor General shall not undertake work outside his duties except with the written approval of the Governor.

PART III POWERS OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

Powers of the Auditor General.

19. (1) The Auditor General has all the powers necessary to enable him to perform his duties.

(2) In particular, the Auditor General has power to require a public officer

(a) to conduct, on behalf of the Auditor General, an inquiry, examination or audit and to report his findings to the Auditor

General;

- (b) to give the Auditor General access to property that is in the public officer's possession or under his control as a result of the officer's duties;
- (c) to search and provide extracts from Government records or records to which the Government has access; or
- (d) to give or provide to the Auditor General any explanation or information the Auditor General considers necessary to enable him to perform his duties.

(3) A public officer shall comply with a requirement under subsection (2).

Auditor General may submit special report.

20. (1) The Auditor General may at any time prepare and submit a special report to the Governor if he is satisfied that there is a matter that should be brought to the attention of the Governor.

(2) The Governor shall, within three months of the receipt of the special report, cause the report to be laid before the Legislative Council.

(3) The Auditor General shall at the same time as submitting the special report to the Governor submit a copy of the special report to the Minister and the Financial Secretary.

Auditing of accounts of bodies corporate, etc.

21. (1) Where by virtue of any enactment the Auditor General is appointed to audit the accounts of a body corporate or other body established by such enactment, he

- (a) shall have, in relation to the body corporate or other body and its members, officers and employees, the same discretion and powers as are conferred upon him under this Act in relation to the accounts of the body corporate or other body; and
- (b) may authorise any person who appears to him suitable to inspect, examine or audit the books, accounts and other records of the body corporate or other body and submit a report to him upon the completion of the inspection, examination or auditing.

(2) Any person authorised under subsection (1)(b) shall be subject to the provisions of section 16(2) and (4).

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1) or anything to the contrary contained in any enactment, the Auditor General may, in the public interest, audit the accounts of any body corporate, or other body established or funded, in whole or in part, by the Government, and in the performance of that duty the Auditor General shall have the same discretion and powers as are conferred upon him by this Act.

(4) Where the Auditor General audits the accounts of a body corporate or other body under subsection (3), he may, upon the completion of the audit, prepare and submit a report to the Governor who shall, within three months of the receipt thereof, cause the report to be laid before the Legislative Council.

(5) The fee for any inspection, examination or audit effected in accordance with this section shall be determined by the Auditor General and be charged upon the funds of the body corporate or other body concerned.

PART IV MISCELLANEOUS

Repeal.
Cap. 173

22. The Audit Ordinance, 1970 is repealed.

Transitional provision.

23. (1) The person, if any, who immediately before the commencement of this Act held the position of Chief Auditor under the Audit Ordinance, 1970 holds as from that commencement the office of Auditor General as if the person had been appointed to that office in accordance with this Act.

U.K. S.I. 1976 No. 2145

(2) Until the Governor otherwise determines in accordance with section 19 (1) (d) of the Constitution or his salary or other remuneration is otherwise prescribed by or under a law enacted in accordance with section 65(1) of the Constitution, the terms and conditions of service of a person to whom subsection (1) applies are the terms and conditions applicable to that person immediately before the commencement of this Act.

(3) Subsection (2) is subject to section 65(3) of the Constitution.

Amendment of Interpretation Act.
Cap. 136

24. Section 43 of the Interpretation Act is amended by deleting the words "Chief Auditor" and the definition assigned thereto and substituting the following in the appropriate alphabetical order:

““Auditor General” means the Auditor referred to in section 66 of the Constitution and appointed under section 4 of the Audit Act, 2003;”.

3. This Act binds the Crown.

PART II
COMMERCIAL OPERATION OF AIRPORTS

4. (1) The Government shall form a company for the purpose of carrying on the business of operating the international airport and any other airport that the Executive Council may, by Order, determine, as commercial undertakings. Limited liability company to be established to operate airports.

(2) The Company shall be a company limited by shares and registered under the Companies Act. Cap. 285

(3) Notwithstanding section 5 of the Companies Act, the Government shall be the sole shareholder of the Company and shares in the Company shall be held by, and in the name of, the Financial Secretary for and on behalf of the Government.

(4) The Company shall ensure that each airport it operates is licensed under article 103 of the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001. U.K.S.I. 2001
No. 2128

5. The objects of the Company shall include Objects of the Company.

- (a) to acquire, own, operate, control, manage, develop, administer and maintain the international airport and any extension thereof, as a commercial undertaking, in a manner which recognises its role as an international airport and for the benefit of the economy of the Territory;
- (b) to acquire, own, operate, control, manage, develop, administer and maintain any designated airport in the Territory as a commercial undertaking and for the benefit of the economy of the Territory;
- (c) to provide and maintain on a commercial basis, facilities and services for air transport and such other facilities and services as are necessary or desirable for, or in connection with, the international airport or any designated airport;
- (d) to collect such dues and charges as the Company may be authorised by an enactment to collect;
- (e) to use, develop and manage on a commercial basis, all lands vested in, transferred or leased to, the Company;
- (f) generally to carry out the provisions of this Act;
- (g) to do anything that is incidental to or connected with the objects of the Company.

6. (1) The Company shall be managed by a Board of Directors who shall determine policy and direct and control the affairs of the Company in accordance with the provisions of the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001, this Act, the Companies Act, and the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company.

(2) The Board shall consist of

- (a) a non-executive Chairman;
- (b) two executive directors, one of whom shall be the Managing Director; and
- (c) at least two non-executive directors.

(3) The members of the Board of Directors shall hold office in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association of the Company.

(4) The Articles of Association of the Company may make provision for the appointment and removal of alternate directors.

PART III FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

7. The funds and resources of the Company shall comprise

- (a) such rates, fees, dues and other charges as are payable to the Company;
- (b) such monies as may be appropriated by the Legislative Council for the purposes of the Company;
- (c) monies paid to the Company by way of grants, rent, interest and other income derived from the investment of the Company's funds;
- (d) monies derived from the disposal of or dealing with real or personal property held by the Company;
- (e) monies borrowed by the Company; and
- (f) any other monies or other property lawfully payable, accruing or made available to, or vesting in, the Company.

8. The funds of the Company shall be applied in accordance with its Memorandum and Articles of Association and in the payment of the following: Application of the funds of the Company.

- (a) the interest and other charges related to the repayment of any loan payable by the Company;
- (b) the sums required to be paid towards the repayment of the principal amount of any loan made to the Company;
- (c) the salaries, remuneration, allowances, pensions, gratuities, provident fund and other superannuation benefits of the officers and staff employed in or in connection with the activities carried on by the Company;
- (d) the working and establishment expenses of the Company, including expenses relating to the maintenance of the property and installations of the Company and the discharge of the functions of the Company properly chargeable to revenue;
- (e) such sums as the Company may deem appropriate to set aside for the purposes of the future removal, replacement or renewal of property or installations due to obsolescence and depreciation;
- (f) the cost, or any portion thereof, of any new works, property or installations, not being a replacement or renewal of property or installations, as the Company may determine to be properly charged to revenue;
- (g) any other expenditure authorised by the Company and properly chargeable to revenue.

9. (1) Subject to article 106 of the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001, the Company may with the approval of the Executive Council, by Order, fix the rates, fees, dues and other charges for or in connection with any service provided by or at the international airport or a designated airport. Fixing of rates and fees.
U.K.S.I. 2001
No. 2128

(2) The tax and fees specified in Schedule 1 and the rates, fees, dues and other charges imposed under subsection (1) shall be collected and retained by the Company for its own use. Schedule 1

Guarantee of loans.

10. (1) The Minister of Finance, acting for and on behalf of the Government, may, with the approval of the Legislative Council, guarantee, in such manner and on such terms and conditions as the Executive Council thinks fit, the payment of the principal of, and any interest and other charges on, any sums borrowed by the Company.

(2) A guarantee given under this section shall be given in writing in the name of the Government, and may be signed for or on behalf of the Government by the Minister of Finance or any person authorised in writing to do so by the Minister of Finance.

Exemption from taxes.

11. Notwithstanding any other enactment, the Company is exempt from the payment of

- (a) customs duties, fees, taxes or port wharfage on goods imported for its own use;
- (b) taxes in respect of lands owned or leased by the Company;
- (c) stamp duty; and
- (d) income tax and any other tax imposed on the income or profits of the Company.

Vesting of certain property rights and liabilities in the Company.

12. (1) Subject to section 13, upon the commencement of this Act, all property including lands and buildings, and all interests therein of whatever nature, belonging to the Crown, and used or acquired exclusively for the purposes of the international airport and its operations shall be transferred to and be vested in the Company on such terms and conditions as the Government, the Company and any other interested party may agree upon in writing.

(2) Where a question arises as to whether any property, lands or buildings to which subsection (1) applies were used or acquired exclusively for the purposes of the international airport, a certificate to that effect under the hand of the Minister shall be conclusive.

Certain assets to be free of interest or capital obligations.

13. All assets transferred to and vested in the Company by the Crown, whether under section 12 or otherwise, shall be free of any interest or capital obligations, except such as are being financed by loans raised by the Government or unless the Government, the Company and any other interested party agree otherwise in writing.

14. (1) The Company shall

- (a) keep proper books of account of its income and other receipts and expenditure; and
- (b) ensure that
  - (i) all monies received are properly brought to account;
  - (ii) all payments out of its monies are correctly made and properly authorised; and
  - (iii) adequate control is maintained over its property and installations and over the incurring of liabilities by the Company.

(2) The books of account kept under subsection (1) shall be maintained in such form and manner that they

- (a) are sufficient to record and explain the Company's transactions;
- (b) enable the Company's financial position to be determined with reasonable accuracy at any time; and
- (c) are sufficient to enable the Company's financial statements to be prepared and audited in accordance with this section.

(3) Within three months after the end of each financial year, the Company shall prepare and approve accounts containing

- (a) a statement of the assets and liabilities of the Company at the end of the financial year;
- (b) a statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Company during the financial year;
- (c) such other financial statement for the financial year as may be specified by the Minister; and
- (d) proper and adequate explanatory notes to the financial statements.

(4) The accounts of the Company shall, within six months after the end of each financial year, be audited by such person as may be appointed in respect of each financial year by the Board.

Annual report.

15. (1) Within three months of the completion of the audit of the Company's accounts in respect of any financial year, the Company shall submit to the Minister to be forwarded to the Executive Council,

- (a) a copy of its audited accounts; and
- (b) a written report of its operations and activities for that financial year together with a copy of the audited financial statements.

(2) Within three months of receiving the Company's audited accounts, report and audited financial statements, the Minister shall lay them in the Legislative Council.

PART IV STAFF PROVISIONS

Transfer of Government officers and employees to the Company.
Schedule 2

16. (1) Subject to subsection (2), every officer or employee of the Government who, immediately before the coming into force of this Act, is holding a post specified in Schedule 2 and is assigned duties at the international airport, shall, upon the coming into force of this Act, be deemed to be transferred from the service of the Government to the service of the Company upon terms and conditions not less favourable in aggregate than those which were attached to the appointments held by such officers and employees under the Government.

(2) Every officer and employee who is deemed to have been transferred under subsection (1) shall, within six months of the coming into force of this Act, have the option of electing

- (a) to continue in the service of the Company, in which case such service shall be retrospective from the date of his transfer and he shall be entitled to such pension, gratuity and other allowances and rights, if any, as he would have received had he been retired from the service of the Government on the abolition of his office on the date of his transfer to the Company;

- (b) to be transferred to another department of the Government, subject to a suitable vacancy existing, with his service with the Company counting as service with the Government in respect of his pension, gratuity and other allowances and rights, if any; or
- (c) to be deemed to have retired from the service of the Government on the abolition of his office on the date he ceases to be in the service of the Company.

(3) Where any officer or employee referred to in this section fails to elect as provided under subsection (2), he shall be deemed to have elected under subsection (2)(a) and he shall be treated accordingly.

(4) The Company shall reimburse the Government with the cost of any pension, gratuity and other allowances and rights, if any, arising from the period which any such officers or employees who elect not to continue with the Company did serve with the Company.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the right of the Company

- (a) to terminate the employment of any officer or employee transferred to the service of the Company, or
- (b) to vary the rate of pay or conditions of service of an officer or employee, in the manner and to the extent that the Government could have done had he continued in the service of the Government.

(6) Where any officer or employee has elected to continue in the service of the Company under subsection (2) or has been deemed to so continue under subsection (3), he shall not be entitled to be paid any pension, gratuity or other allowance that may have accrued to him whilst in the service of the Company, until the time when he would have qualified for a pension, gratuity or other allowance under the Pensions Act had he continued in the service of the Government. Cap. 161

17. (1) Where, immediately before the coming into force of this Act, the Government had

- (a) a contract of employment with a person, other than an officer or employee referred to in section 16, who is assigned responsibility for the management, control and supervision of, or duties at, the international airport; or Transfer of Government contracts of employment and service to the Company.

- (b) with any person a contract for the provision of a service at the international airport which has not been discharged, then, upon the coming into force of this Act, such contract shall continue to have effect in accordance with its terms as if it was originally made between such person and the Company, and all the rights, powers, duties and liabilities which accrued under or in connection with such contract shall be enforceable by or against the Company as if it were originally made between that person and the Company.

Appointment of authorised officers.

18. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Company may designate such of its officers or employees as it thinks fit as authorised officers for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Company shall not designate a person as an authorised officer unless that person is authorised, in writing, by the Minister, on the recommendation of the Board, to perform the functions of an authorised officer under this Act.

(3) The Company shall prepare guidelines, subject to the approval of the Minister, setting out the qualifications of an authorised officer and no person shall be designated as such officer except in accordance with those guidelines.

(4) The powers conferred on an authorised officer under this Act and the Regulations shall only be exercised by that officer in respect of the international airport or a designated airport.

(5) An authorised officer, other than a member of the Royal Virgin Islands Police Force, shall be provided with a suitable identification badge which he shall, in the course of the execution of his powers under this Act and the Regulations, carry on his person and produce upon request by any person.

PART V POWERS OF AUTHORISED OFFICERS

Power to arrest.

19. Without prejudice to any other powers conferred on an authorised officer under any other enactment, an authorised officer may, within the precincts of the international airport or a designated airport, exercise the powers of arrest under section 22 of the Police Act as though references to a member of the Force or a police officer in that section were references to an authorised officer.

Cap. 165

20. (1) Without prejudice to any other powers conferred on an authorised officer under any other enactment, an authorised officer may search any vehicle that is entering or leaving the international airport or a designated airport or any prohibited or restricted area within any such airport. Power to search vehicles.

21. (1) An authorised officer may Power to seize and destroy animals.

- (a) cause to be seized and impounded any animal found straying or tethered at the international airport or a designated airport; or
- (b) shoot and dispose of any animal found straying within the perimeter fence of the runway of the international airport or a designated airport.

(2) This section does not apply in respect of any animal which has arrived by air or is intended for despatch by air at the international airport or a designated airport and which is restrained by leash or confined in such other manner as to be under reasonable control.

PART VI MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

22. (1) The Noise Control and Abatement Act, 1996 shall not apply to aircraft landing at and taking off from the international airport or a designated airport. Noise control. No. 1 of 1996

(2) The Minister may direct the Company, in writing, to implement such measures as he considers necessary for limiting, or mitigating the effects of, noise or vibrations emanating from the international airport or a designated airport.

23. The Company shall take all reasonable steps to ensure that the operations of the international airport and a designated airport are carried out in such manner as to ensure that those operations have a minimal adverse impact on the environment. Environmental considerations.

24. (1) The Governor may make regulations for the security of, and the safety of persons and property at, the international airport or designated airports and in particular may make regulations in respect of any or all of the following matters: Regulations.

- (a) declaring any building or part of a building or any area of land at any such airport to be a prohibited or restricted place or area;

- (b) regulating and restricting the admission of persons, whether as passengers or otherwise, and of animals to any part of any such airport;
- (c) regulating and restricting the use of vehicles of any class or description on any part of any such airport;
- (d) the issue of permits for any purposes relating to the use of any such airport or any part thereof and conditions of issue of such permits and conditions to be observed by the holders of such permits;
- (e) making the contravention of, or failure to comply with, the Regulations a summary offence punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) The Company may, with the approval of the Minister, make rules

- (a) in respect of the conduct of persons at the international airport or a designated airport or in any part thereof;
- (b) appointing parking places for vehicles at the international airport or a designated airport and imposing tolls in respect of vehicles of any class or description entering or departing from any such airport;
- (c) regulating and restricting advertising within the international airport or a designated airport;
- (d) making the contravention of, or failure to comply with, the Rules a summary offence punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or both such fine and imprisonment.

(3) Regulations in relation to the use of motor or other vehicles on roadways in the international airport or a designated airport shall have effect notwithstanding that such roadways may be roads for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act or any regulations made thereunder.

Cap. 218

(4) Any person who contravenes, or fails to comply with, the Regulations may, in addition to any punishment to which he is liable for contravention of, or failure to comply with, the Regulations, be deprived by order of a Magistrate, of the further use of the relevant airport and its facilities for such time as in the opinion of the Magistrate, may be necessary to ensure the safety of the airport or the public.

(5) Any person who, being a person deprived of the use of any airport and its facilities pursuant to subsection (4), comes within the premises of the airport during the period for which he has been deprived of such use commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

25. (1) The Aerodromes Ordinance shall not apply to the international airport or a designated airport. Limitation of
Cap. 103.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), regulations made under the Aerodromes Ordinance that are in force immediately prior to the date of commencement of this Act shall, to the extent that they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, continue to apply to the international airport and a designated airport until regulations are made under this Act.

DENNISTON FRASER,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

LEGAL REPORT

This Act makes provision for the operation as commercial undertakings of the Terrance B. Lettsome International Airport (hereinafter referred to as "the international airport") and such other airports as the Executive Council may determine (hereinafter referred to as "designated airports").

By section 1, the Act will come into force on such date as the Governor may, by Proclamation, appoint. By section 3, the Act will bind the Crown.

Section 4 will require the Government to form a limited liability company under the Companies Act (Cap. 285) (hereinafter referred to as "the Company") for the purpose of carrying on the business of operating the international airport and designated airports as commercial undertakings. The Government will be the sole shareholder of the Company and shares in the Company will be held by, and in the name of, the Financial Secretary for and on behalf of the Government. Airports that are under the control of the Company will cease to be Government aerodromes as defined in the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001 (U.K.S.I. 2001 No. 2128) and will therefore need to be licensed by the Governor under article 103 of that Order. Consequently, the Governor through the Department of Civil Aviation will become the regulatory authority for the Company.

Some of the objects of the Company are set out in section 5. By section 6, the Company will be managed by a Board of Directors in accordance with the provisions of the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001, the Act, the Companies Act and the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company. The Board will consist of a non-executive Chairman, two executive directors including the Managing Director and at least two non-executive directors. The Articles of Association of the Company will govern the tenure of the members of the Board and the appointment and removal of alternate directors.

Section 7 will provide for the funds and resources of the Company, which will include rates, fees, dues and charges payable to the Company and monies appropriated to the Company by Legislative Council. The purposes to which the funds of the Company may be applied are set out in section 8.

Section 9 will enable the Company, with the approval of the Executive Council, to fix the rates, fees, dues and other charges for or in connection with any service provided by or at the international airport or a designated airport. This power will be subject to article 106 of the Air Navigation (Overseas Territories) Order 2001, which empowers the Governor to prescribe the maximum charges that the Company will be able to charge. Landing fees and parking fees which are now being collected at the international airport, will be collected and retained by the Company for its own use.

Section 10 will enable the Government, with the approval of Legislative Council, to guarantee sums borrowed by the Company. Section 11 will exempt the Company from customs duties, land taxes, stamp duty and income tax.

Section 12 will provide for the vesting of the international airport in the Company and section 13 will allow for the allocation between the Company and the Crown of responsibility for interest or capital obligations in relation to assets transferred to and vested in the Company by the Crown.

Sections 14 and 15 will provide for the preparation and auditing of the Company's accounts and the transmission of the Company's annual reports to the Executive Council and the Legislative Council.

Section 16 will make provisions for the transfer of the Government officers and employees listed in Schedule 2 to the Company. Government contracts of employment and service that relate to the international airport will also be transferred to the Company by section 17.

Section 18 will empower the Company to appoint authorised officers, who will, under Part V of the Bill, have certain powers within the precincts of the international airport or a designated airport, such as the power to arrest persons, to search vehicles and to seize and destroy animals.

Part VI of the Bill, which comprises sections 22 to 25, will make certain miscellaneous provisions in relation to noise control at the international airport or a designated airport, the duty of the Company to minimise the adverse impact that its operations might have on the environment, the making of regulations and the exemption of the international airport and designated airports from the provisions of the Aerodromes Ordinance (Cap. 103).

The Act was introduced in the Legislative Council on the 6th day of November, 2003 and passed through its remaining stages on the 23rd day of December, 2003.

In my opinion, His Excellency the Governor may properly assent to this Act in the name and on behalf of Her Majesty.

VIRGIN ISLANDS

NO. 19 OF 2003

An Act to provide for the establishment of a body to be known as the Financial Investigation Agency, the functions and powers of that body and for other matters connected therewith.

[Gazetted _____, 2004]

ENACTED by the Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be cited as the Financial Investigation Agency Act, 2003 and shall come into operation on such day as the Governor may, by Proclamation published in the Gazette, appoint.

Interpretation.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,

“Agency” means the Financial Investigation Agency established by section 3;

“Board” means the Board of the Agency referred to in section 3(2);

“Chairman” means the Chairman of the Board referred to in section 3(2);

No. 12 of 2001

“Commission” means the Financial Services Commission established under section 3(1) of the Financial Services Commission Act, 2001

“Director” means the Director of the Agency referred to in section 3(3);

“financial offence” means an offence under any financial services legislation;

No. 12 of 2001

“financial services legislation” means any legislation listed in Schedule 2 of the Financial Services Commission Act, 2001; actions of the Agency, the Board and the Steering Committee.

4. (1) In the exercise of its functions under subsection (2), the Agency shall be responsible for receiving, obtaining, investigating, analysing and disseminating information which relates or may relate to

- (a) a financial offence or the proceeds of a financial offence; or
- (b) a request for legal assistance from an authority in a foreign jurisdiction which appears to the Agency to have the function of making such requests.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1) and notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the Agency

- (a) shall receive all disclosures of information required to be made pursuant to any financial services legislation which is relevant to its functions, including information from any foreign financial investigation agency;
- (b) may, upon receipt of the disclosures referred to in paragraph (a), order in writing any person to refrain from completing any transaction for a period not exceeding seventy-two hours;
- (c) may, upon receipt of a request (whether through the Governor, Attorney General, Commission or otherwise) from a foreign financial investigation agency or a law enforcement authority, including the Commissioner of Police, order any person to freeze a person's bank account for a period not exceeding five days if satisfied that the request relates to the proceedings of a financial offence;
- (d) may require the production of such information, excluding information subject to legal professional privilege, that the Agency considers relevant to the performance of its functions;
- (e) shall retain a record of all information that it receives for a minimum of five years after the information is received;
- (f) shall, subject to such conditions as may be determined by the Director, provide information to the Commissioner of Police where the information may relate to the commission of a financial offence;

- (g) may provide information relating to the commission of a financial offence to any foreign financial investigation agency, subject to any conditions as may be considered appropriate by the Attorney General;
- (h) may, subject to section 19 of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976 and subsection (3) (b), enter into an understanding, in writing, with a foreign financial investigation agency which the Governor considers necessary or desirable for the discharge or performance of the functions of the Agency;
- (i) shall inform the public and financial and business entities of their obligations under measures that have been or might be taken to detect, prevent and deter the commission of financial offences.

U.K. S.I. 1976
No. 2145

(3) The Board shall be responsible for making the policy of the Agency and, in addition to any powers conferred by or under this Act, shall,

- (a) subject to section 13, approve the budget of the Agency;
and
- (b) exercise supervisory functions over the Agency in relation to the power specified in subsection (2)(h).

(4) Any person failing or refusing to provide the information required under subsection (2)(d) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty thousand dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to both.

(5) The Steering Committee shall be responsible for steering the conduct of investigations of the Agency and shall, in addition to any powers conferred by or under this Act,

- (a) on its own volition or upon the request of the Board or the Commission, investigate or cause the investigation of any matter referred to in any financial services legislation or which is the subject of a request for legal assistance pursuant to an enactment;
- (b) perform, subject to subsection (3), any of the functions referred to in subsection (2).

(6) A person who is aggrieved by an order under subsection (2)(c), may apply to a Judge in Chambers to discharge the order of the Agency and shall, if he so applies, serve notice on the Agency to join in the proceedings, but the order shall remain in force until the Judge determines otherwise.

(7) The Board may appoint to the service of the Agency, such investigating officers as it thinks fit, who shall have all the powers of police officers and shall, without prejudice to the generality of this subsection, be subject to such specific or general directions of the Governor, the Attorney General or any other authority in accordance with any relevant law.

(8) Where, in the performance of its functions, the Agency becomes aware of evidence that a criminal offence has or may have been committed in the Territory, the Agency shall report the matter to an appropriate officer of the Police Force, and that officer or such other officer as the Commissioner of Police may designate shall from that time take over the investigation.

(9) Where an investigation has been taken over by the Police Force under subsection (8), the Agency shall not participate further in the investigation unless ordered to do so by the Governor or the Attorney General, or requested to assist in the investigation by the Commissioner of Police.

Directions of the Board.

5. - (b) setting out the procedures for reporting a suspicious transaction orally.

(2) Suspicious transaction guidelines shall be issued in such manner as the Commission shall from time to time determine.

(3) The Commission may from time to time issue an amendment or revocation of any suspicious transaction guidelines.

(4) Without limiting subsection (1), suspicious transaction guidelines issued under this section may relate to one or more kinds of financial institution and such guidelines may make different provisions for different kinds of financial institutions and different kinds of transactions.

Consultation of proposed guidelines.

21. (1) The Commission shall, before issuing any suspicious transaction guidelines,

- (a) consult with such other agencies and entities as the Board may by Order designate and shall have regard to any representations made by such agencies and entities;
- (b) publish in the Gazette and in a newspaper circulating in the Territory, notice of its intention to issue the guidelines, which notice shall contain an invitation to financial institutions that are likely to be affected by the proposed guidelines, and industry organisations that are representative of those financial institutions, to express to the Commission, within such reasonable period as is specified in the notice, their interest in being consulted in the course of the development of the guidelines; and
- (c) consult with, and invite representations from, those financial institutions and industry organisations which express such an interest, and shall have regard to any such representations.

- (2) Nothing in subsection (1) prevents the Commission from
  - (a) adopting any additional means of publicising the proposal to issue any suspicious transaction guidelines or of consulting with interested parties in relation to such a proposal; and
  - (b) taking a final decision on matters arising from consultations.

(3) This section also applies in respect of any amendment or revocation of any suspicious transaction guidelines.

22. On request by any financial institution in respect of which any suspicious transaction guidelines are for the time being in force, or by any industry organisation that represents any such financial institution, the Commission shall, without charge, Commission to make guidelines available.

- (a) make those guidelines, and all amendments to those guidelines, available for inspection, by that financial institution or, as the case requires, that industry organisation, at the Commission's offices; and
- (b) provide copies of those guidelines, and all amendments to those guidelines, to that financial institution, or, as the case requires, that industry organisation.

23. (1) The Commission shall from time to time review any suspicious transaction guidelines for the time being in force.

Review of guidelines

(2) Section 21 applies, with all necessary modifications, in relation to any such review as if the review were a proposal to issue suspicious transaction guidelines.

24. (1) Section 27(2) of the Proceeds of Criminal Conduct Act, 1997 is repealed.

Consequential amendments and revocation.
No. 5 of 1997
S.I. 1998 No. 11

(2) The Reporting Authority (Constitution and Procedure) Order, 1998 is revoked.

(3) A reference in any enactment to the Reporting Authority established under section 27(2) of the Proceeds of Criminal Conduct Act, 1997 repealed by subsection (1) and the Reporting Authority (Constitution and Procedure) Order, 1998 revoked by subsection (2), shall be construed as a reference to the Steering Committee.

Meetings of the Board. 1. (1) The Board shall meet at least once every quarter at such place and time as may be designated by the Chairman.

(2) At every meeting of the Board, the Chairman shall preside.

(3) The quorum of the Board shall be four.

(4) At any meeting for the conduct of its business, the Board shall take its decision by a majority vote of the members present and in the event of a tie the Chairman shall have a casting vote.

(5) The Chairman shall at any time convene a special meeting of the Board upon receipt of a request signed by at least three members calling upon him to do so, and such meeting shall be held not later than fourteen days after receipt of the request.

(6) No act or proceeding of the Board shall be invalid by reason only of the existence of a vacancy among its members or of any defect in the appointment of a member.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in this paragraph, the Chairman may, in any matter he considers exceptional, make arrangements for a decision of the Board to be taken on such matter through a process of consultation without the need for an actual meeting.

(8) Subject to the provisions of this act, the Board shall establish its own rules of procedure for the purposes of the conduct of its meetings.

Official seal of the Agency.

2. (1) The Agency shall have an official seal for the authentication of documents issued by the Agency and the application of the seal of the Agency shall be authenticated by the signature of the Chairman or a person authorised to do so by the Board.

(2) A document purported to be executed under the seal of the Agency, or signed on its behalf, shall be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, shall be taken to be so executed or signed.

3. Anything permitted or required to be done by the Agency may be done by any member of the Board or any employee of the Agency who is authorized for that purpose by the Agency either generally or specifically. Things required to be done.
4. The Board may establish committees which may include persons who are not members of the Board or the Steering Committee. Ad hoc committees.
5. (1) The Director shall, subject to the provisions of this paragraph, be appointed by the Board and hold and vacate his office in accordance with the terms of his appointment and shall, on ceasing to hold office, be eligible for re-appointment. Appointment of Director.
- (2) The Director shall not be appointed or re-appointed for a period exceeding five years.
6. (1) The Director shall not, while holding office as such, hold any other officer or employment, whether remunerated or not, without the prior approval of the Board.
- (2) Subject to subparagraph (1), a person may not be appointed or remain Director who
- (a) is a member of the Legislative Council;
  - (b) is a public officer; or
  - (c) is director, officer or employee of, or has a controlling interest in, any financial institution.
7. The Board may appoint a Deputy Director or any person eligible to be appointed as Director to act temporarily in the place of the Director whenever the Director is absent or is unable to act. Deputy Director and Acting Director.
8. The Director may at any time by notice in writing to the Chairman resign his office. Resignation of Director.
9. If the Board is satisfied that the Director

PUBLIC FINANCE

Minister may limit expenditure.

4. Notwithstanding the issue of a warrant under the hand of the Minister in accordance with section 60(1) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976, the Minister may limit or suspend at any time any expenditure, other than

- (a) statutory expenditure, or
- (b) expenditure arising out of the Governor's exercise of his power to issue a warrant under the proviso of section 60(1) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976 or under any other enactment, with or without cancellation of the warrant if in his opinion the financial exigencies of the public interest so require.

Establishment of Contingencies Fund.

5. (1) There is established a Contingencies Fund to meet any urgent and unforeseen need for expenditure for which no other provision exists.

(2) There is to be paid into the Contingencies Fund

- (a) money from time to time appropriated to the Fund by a supply vote to meet such contingencies; and
- (b) the amount comprised in any supplementary estimate approved by the Legislative Council in accordance with section 63(2) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976.

(3) The Contingencies Fund

- (a) does not form part of the Consolidated Fund;
- (b) shall be kept in a separate account by the Accountant General; and
- (c) shall comprise not more than one half per cent of the total sum appropriated in an Appropriation Act for the relevant year.

Administration of Contingencies Fund.

6. (1) If the Minister is satisfied that due to exceptional circumstances an urgent need for expenditure has arisen

- (a) for which no money has been appropriated or for which the sum appropriated is insufficient;

- (b) for which funds cannot be provided under section 24(1); and
- (c) which cannot be deferred without serious detriment to the public service, the Minister may, by Contingencies Warrant signed by him, authorise an advance from the Contingencies Fund to meet that need.

(2) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest money standing to the credit of the Contingencies Fund in authorised investments.

(3) An investment made under subsection (2) and interest received from such an investment are part of the Contingencies Fund.

7. (1) There is established a Development Fund.

Establishment of Development Fund.

(2) There shall be paid into the Development Fund

- (b) any money appropriated for that purpose by a supply vote.

(3) A special fund

- (a) does not form part of the Consolidated Fund; and
- (b) shall be kept in a separate account by the Accountant General.

(4) The money in a special fund shall not be expended except for the specific purpose for which the fund was established.

(5) The Minister may declare, in writing, that a special fund is to be wound up and closed, and thereupon

- (a) after the liabilities of the fund have been paid, the fund shall be taken to have been closed accordingly; and
- (b) any balance standing to the credit of the fund shall be paid into the Consolidated Fund.

12. (1) The Minister shall appoint a public officer to be the accounting officer in respect of a special fund. Administration of special funds.

(2) A special fund shall be administered in accordance with such instructions as the Financial Secretary may issue.

(3) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest money standing to the credit of a special fund in authorised investments.

(4) An investment made under subsection (3) and interest received from such an investment are part of the special fund.

Trust funds.

13. (1) A trust fund established by an enactment other than an Appropriation Act is not a trust fund if the enactment that established it provides for the payment of money into the fund

- (a) out of the Consolidated Fund; or
- (b) from money which would otherwise have been paid into the Consolidated Fund, unless the enactment that established the fund specifically provides that the fund is a trust fund for the purposes of this Act.

(2) A trust fund

- (a) does not form part of the Consolidated Fund; and
- (b) shall be kept in a separate account by the Accountant General.

Administration of trust funds.

14. (1) A trust fund shall be administered in accordance with the enactment, deed of trust, trust instrument or agreement which created it.

(2) If in relation to a trust fund

- (a) there is no enactment, deed of trust, trust instrument or agreement relating to the administration of the fund; or
- (b) the enactment, deed of trust, trust instrument or agreement contains provisions for the administration of the fund that are, in the opinion of the Financial Secretary, inadequate, the Financial Secretary shall appoint a public officer to be the accounting officer of the fund and give instructions for the administration of the fund.

(3) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest money in a trust fund in authorised investments.

(4) An investment made under subsection (3) and interest received from such an investment are part of the trust fund.

(5) Nothing in this section authorises the terms of a trust to be altered or contravened.

15. (1) There is established a Reserve Fund.

Establishment of Reserve Fund.

(2) There shall be paid into the Reserve Fund money appropriated to the Fund by a supply vote.

(3) The Reserve Fund

(a) does not form part of the Consolidated Fund; and

(b) shall be kept in a separate account by the Accountant General.

16. (1) Money shall not be withdrawn from the Reserve Fund except upon the authority of a Reserve Warrant signed by the Minister.

Administration of Reserve Fund.

(2) The Minister shall not issue a Reserve Warrant unless the expenditure has been approved by an Appropriation Act or a resolution of the Legislative Council.

(3) Notwithstanding the issue of a Reserve Warrant, the Minister may at any time limit or suspend expenditure from the Reserve Fund with or without cancellation of the Warrant if he is satisfied that the financial exigencies or the public interest so require.

(4) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest money standing to the credit of the Reserve Fund in authorised investments.

(5) An investment made under subsection (4) and interest received from such an investment are part of the Reserve Fund.

PART III CONTROL AND MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC FINANCE

17. (1) It is the duty of the Minister to supervise the finances of the Government to ensure that a full account of them is made to the Legislative Council.

Power and duties of the Minister.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the Minister has, subject to this Act, the supervision and direction of every matter relating to the financial affairs of the Government.

Financial Secretary to be given information, etc.

18. A public officer shall provide the Financial Secretary or a person appointed by the Financial Secretary with any information, document or record he requires that

- (a) relates to public money, public stores or other Government property; and
- (b) is in the officer's possession or under his control.

Inspection of public money, stores and property.

19. A public officer shall allow the Financial Secretary or a person appointed by the Financial Secretary to inspect any public money, public stores and other Government property in the officer's possession or under his control.

Powers of Accountant General.

20. (1) It is the duty of the Accountant General

- (a) to compile and manage the accounts of the Government; and
- (b) to manage the Treasury Department.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the Accountant General may, with the written approval of the Financial Secretary, give instructions, not inconsistent with this Act, the Regulations or any Financial Instructions, for the management of public money and public stores.

(3) The Accountant General shall, in particular, ensure

- (a) that money owed to the Government is promptly paid;
- (b) that money received or paid by the Government is brought promptly and properly to account;
- (c) that money is not paid out by the Government unless it is properly payable; and
- (d) that adequate provisions exist for the safe custody of public money and public stores.

(4) The Accountant General shall report in writing to the Financial Secretary

- (a) any apparent defect in a department's control of public money or public stores; or
- (b) any breach or non-observance of this Act, the Regulations, any Financial Instructions or any instructions issued by the Accountant General.

21. (1) The Minister shall appoint by name and in writing an accounting officer in respect of each expenditure vote to control and account for the expenditure of money applied to that vote by an Appropriation Act. Accounting officers.

(2) An accounting officer is personally accountable for

- (a) public money received, collected or disbursed by the department or service for which the vote for which he is the accounting officer is provided; and
- (b) public money received, held or disposed of on account of that department or service.

(3) An accounting officer appointed in respect of a trust fund or any other fund established by or by virtue of this Act is personally accountable for the money in the fund and money received, collected or disbursed by the fund.

(4) An accounting officer

- (a) may, with the written approval of the Financial Secretary, appoint a public officer under the accounting officer's control to be the receiver of revenue for the collection of an item of revenue for which the accounting officer is accountable; and
- (b) if he does so, shall define in writing to the Financial Secretary's satisfaction the extent to which the powers and duties conferred and imposed on the accounting officer in respect of the receipt and collection of public money is to be exercised or performed on his behalf by that receiver of revenue.

(5) The appointment of a receiver of revenue under subsection (4) does not abate the personal accountability of the accounting officer who made the appointment.

(6) Without prejudice to subsection (4), an accounting officer may, and shall if required to do so by the Financial Secretary,

- (a) define in writing the extent to which the powers and duties conferred and imposed upon him in respect of public money may be exercised or performed on his behalf by a public officer under his control; and
- (b) give directions necessary to ensure the proper exercise or performance of those powers and duties.

Accountable officers to comply with instructions, etc.

22. An accountable officer shall comply with this Act, the Regulations, Financial Instructions and instructions given by the Accountant General under section 20(2).

Revenue etc. to be paid into Consolidated Fund.

23. Except as otherwise provided in the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976 and this Act, revenue and other money received for the purpose of the Government shall be paid into the Consolidated Fund in accordance with the Regulations, Financial Instructions and instructions given by the Accountant General under section 20(2).

Re-allocation within supply vote.

24. (1) If, in the opinion of the Minister, the exigencies of the public service make it necessary or expedient to increase the sum assigned to a purpose within a supply vote, he may direct, by means of a Re-allocation Warrant, that there be applied in aid of the purpose for which the sum assigned may be deficient, a sum out of any surplus arising on a sum assigned to another purpose within the same supply vote.

(2) A Re-allocation Warrant issued under subsection (1) shall be laid before the Legislative Council by the Minister before the expiration of six months after the end of the year to which it relates.

(3) The Minister shall not issue a Re-allocation Warrant if the effect of the re-allocation would be to avoid the terms and conditions attached to a grant or loan to the Government.

Investment of money in Consolidated Fund.

25. (1) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest money in the Consolidated Fund in an authorised investment.

(2) An investment made under subsection (1) and interest received from such an investment are part of the Consolidated Fund.

Statutory payments.

26. (1) The Minister may issue a warrant to authorise the Accountant General to meet any statutory expenditure that has become due.

(2) The Minister shall not issue a warrant under subsection (1) until the Minister has been informed by the Financial Secretary that he is satisfied that the sum is lawfully payable.

(3) Subject to subsection (1), the disbursement of money provided in a financial year to meet expenditure on statutory expenditure is under the control of, and shall be accounted for by, the Accountant General.

27. (1) An appropriation by the Legislative Council of public money for the service of a financial year ceases to have effect at the close of that financial year.

Appropriation and warrants to lapse at end of financial year.

(2) A warrant issued under this Act during a financial year ceases to have effect at the close of that financial year.

28. The Accountant General may, with the written approval of the Minister, pay out of the Consolidated Fund Refunds, etc.

- (a) money paid into the Consolidated Fund in error; and
- (b) money necessary to pay a refund, rebate or drawback in accordance with an enactment.

29. (1) Money in the Consolidated Fund shall be kept with such bank as may be specified by the Minister.

Consolidated Fund money to be kept with specified bank.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to money invested in accordance with section 25.

30. A public or official account shall not be opened at a bank without the written authority of the Minister.

Bank accounts.

31. (1) The Minister may, by Imprest Warrant signed by him, authorise the Accountant General to issue imprests from the Consolidated Fund to public officers for a purpose for which money has been appropriated from the Fund.

Imprests.

(2) Subject to subsection (4), a public officer to whom an imprest has been issued pursuant to subsection (1) shall retire the imprest before

- (a) the end of the financial year in which the imprest was issued; or
- (b) if some earlier date is specified in the Imprest Warrant, that earlier date.

(3) If a public officer to whom subsection (2) applies fails to retire an imprest in accordance with that subsection, the Accountant General may recover the amount of the imprest by deduction from the salary or other emoluments of the public officer.

(4) A public officer to whom an imprest has been issued to travel on duty outside the Territory shall retire the imprest in the manner and at the time instructed by the Financial Secretary.

(5) If a public officer to whom subsection (4) applies fails to comply with the instructions of the Financial Secretary, the Accountant General may recover the amount of the imprest by deduction from the salary or other emoluments of the public officer in such manner as the Financial Secretary directs.

(6) For the purpose of this section, a member of the Legislative Council is a public officer.

Restriction on borrowing.

32. The Government or any person acting on behalf of the Government has no power to borrow money except in accordance with an enactment or on the authority of a resolution of the Legislative Council.

Guarantees.

33. The Government or any person acting on behalf of the Government has no power to give a guarantee involving the Government in any financial liability unless the guarantee is given in accordance with an enactment or under the authority of a resolution of the Legislative Council.

Deposits.

34. (1) In this section, “deposits” means money, not being money raised or received for the purposes of the Government, which has been deposited

- (a) with the Accountant General; or
- (b) with any other public officer authorised to receive the money by the Accountant General.

(2) Deposits

- (a) do not form part of the Consolidated Fund; and
- (b) except as provided by subsection (4), shall not be applied for a purpose of Government.

(3) The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Minister, invest deposits in authorised investments.

(4) Interest received in respect of deposits invested in accordance with subsection (3) is to be paid into the Consolidated Fund.

PART IV
AUDIT AND EXAMINATION OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

35. (1) The Accountant General shall, within four months after the end of a financial year or such longer period as the Minister may approve in writing, transmit to the Auditor General accounts showing the financial position of the Legislative Council and all Government departments and offices, including the Public Service Commission, at the end of that financial year. Annual accounts.

(2) Where, pursuant to subsection (1), the Minister grants a longer period for the Accountant General to transmit the accounts to the Auditor General, he shall within thirty days of such decision, inform Executive Council in writing of that fact.

36. Where the Minister causes a report of the Auditor General to be laid in the Legislative Council in pursuance of section 66(3) of the Virgin Islands (Constitution) Order, 1976, the Minister shall cause a copy of the relevant annual accounts referred to in section 35, to be attached to the report of the Auditor General. Annual accounts to be laid in Legislative Council.

PART V
ABANDONMENT OF CLAIMS AND WRITE-OFF OF PUBLIC MONEY AND PUBLIC STORES

37. The Financial Secretary may, with the approval of the Executive Council, Abandonment of claims, etc. and write-off of public money and public stores.

(a) abandon or remit a claim by or on behalf of the Government; or

(b) write-off a loss of public money or public stores.

38. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Minister may give serviceable public stores not required for Government purposes to institutions or organisations in the Territory established solely or principally for educational, scientific, cultural or charitable purposes. Disposal of certain stores to charitable organisations, etc.

(2) The approval of the Executive Council is required if the value of the public stores referred to in subsection (1) exceeds five thousand dollars.

PART VI
SURCHARGES AND SET OFFS

Power to surcharge.

39. (1) The Financial Secretary may surcharge a person who is or was a public officer, a sum determined by the Financial Secretary if it appears to the Financial Secretary that the person

- (a) failed to collect money owing to the Government which it was his duty to collect;
- (b) was responsible for
  - (i) the improper payment of public money;
  - (ii) an expenditure of money in excess of the amount authorised; or
  - (iii) a payment of public money not properly payable;
- (c) was responsible for a deficiency in public money; or
- (d) was responsible for
  - (i) the loss or destruction of, or
  - (ii) damage to,

public stores or other Government property.

(2) Before surcharging a person under subsection (1), the Financial Secretary shall give the person a period of fourteen days to provide a satisfactory explanation for the person's action.

(3) The Financial Secretary, in determining an amount for the purpose of subsection (1), shall

- (a) take due account of the person's ability to pay the surcharge without undue financial hardship; and
- (b) determine a sum that does not exceed
  - (i) the loss suffered by the Government; or
  - (ii) twenty-five per cent of the gross annual salary or pension of the person, whichever is the lesser amount.

40. The Financial Secretary shall notify the person surcharged, the Minister, the Auditor General and the Accountant General, of the surcharge made under section 39. Notification of surcharge.

41. (1) A person aggrieved by a surcharge made against him may appeal to the Minister within Appeals against surcharge.

- (a) one month from the date on which he is notified of the surcharge in accordance with section 40; or
- (b) any longer period the Minister may allow after consulting the Financial Secretary.

(2) The Minister may, after making any investigation he considers necessary,

- (a) confirm the surcharge; or
- (b) direct that the person surcharged be released wholly or in part from the surcharge.

42. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Accountant General shall, on being notified of a surcharge in accordance with section 40, recover the amount of the surcharge from the person surcharged in the manner determined by the Financial Secretary under subsection (3). Recovery of surcharge.

(2) A surcharge cannot be recovered

- (a) until after the end of the period allowed under section 41 for the lodging of an appeal; or
- (b) if the person surcharged appeals under section 41, until the amount of the surcharge has been confirmed or otherwise determined in accordance with that section.

(3) The amount of a surcharge is to be recovered by deducting each half-month from the salary, wages or pension of the person surcharged such amount as is determined by the Financial Secretary except that

- (a) each half-monthly deduction shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of the gross half-monthly salary, wages or pension of the person surcharged; and
- (b) the number of deductions shall not exceed twenty-four.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (3), if the person surcharged is due to be paid money by the Government, other than by way of salary, wages or pension, the Financial Secretary may require the amount of the surcharge to be deducted from that money in whole or in part.

(5) The ability the Government has to surcharge a person does not prejudice any other legal remedy the Government may have against that person or any other person to recover the loss the Government has suffered.

Power to set off.

43. (1) If

- (a) the Government owes money to a person on account of a contract or otherwise, including money due by way of salary, wages or other emoluments, and
- (b) that person owes money to the Government, the Financial Secretary may direct that there is to be set off against any payment made by the Government to that person the money due from that person to the Government.

(2) Where an amount is set off in accordance with subsection (1)

- (a) the amount due from the Government and referred to in subsection (1)(a) is to be dealt with and accounted for as if it had been paid in full by the Government to the person whom it was owed; and
- (b) the amount due to the Government and referred to in subsection (1)(b) is to be dealt with and accounted for as if that amount had been paid in full to the Government by the person from whom it was owed.

PART VII
MISCELLANEOUS

Regulations.

44. (1) The Executive Council may, on the advice of the Financial Secretary, make such regulations as are necessary or expedient for the proper carrying out of the purposes of this Act, including regulations for

- (a) the care and custody of, and accounting for, any stores, supplies, plant, equipment, machinery, tool, vessel, vehicle, livestock or thing being the property, or in the possession or under the control, of the Government;

- (b) the appointment of a Tenders Board and for the procurement of goods and services by the Government, whether by tender, direct purchase or otherwise;
- (c) the disposal by auction, sale, transfer or otherwise, of any stores, supplies, plant, equipment, machinery, tool, vessel, vehicle, livestock or thing being the property, or in the possession or under the control, of the Government;
- (d) the giving on loan or hire of any stores, supplies, plant, equipment, machinery, tool, vessel, vehicle or thing being the property, or in the possession or under the control, of the Government;
- (e) the appointment of an Accident Investigation Board to enquire into the causes and costs of accidents involving damage to any plant, equipment, machinery, vessel, vehicle or other thing being the property, or in the possession or under the control, of the Government and to assess the extent of any blame or negligence on the part of the drivers or operators responsible for, or in control of, such plant, equipment, machinery, vessel, vehicle or thing.

(2) Regulations made under subsection (1) shall be subject to an affirmative resolution of the Legislative Council.

45. (1) The Financial Secretary may, from time to time after consultation with the Minister, issue financial instructions, not inconsistent with this Act or the Regulations, to public officers on how they are to handle public money, public stores and other Government property.

Financial Instructions.

(2) The Financial Instructions may, in particular, direct public officers on

- (a) how public money is to be collected, spent and accounted for;
- (b) how public stores are to be acquired, issued, looked after, accounted for and disposed of; and
- (c) what records, examinations, inspections and departmental checks shall be made.

(3) The Financial Secretary shall ensure that the Financial Instructions are brought to the notice of public officers affected by them.

Enforcement.

S.R.O. 29 of 1969

46. Without prejudice to the institution of criminal proceedings or the imposition of a surcharge against him, disciplinary proceedings under the Public Service Commission Regulations, 1969 may be taken against a public officer who contravenes this Act, the Regulations, the Financial Instructions or any instructions issued by the Accountant General under section 20(2).

Repeal.
Cap. 174
Cap. 175

47. The Capital Fund Ordinance and the Finance Ordinance are repealed.

Transitional provisions.

48. (1) Money standing to the credit of the Capital Fund established by the Capital Fund Ordinance immediately before the commencement of this Act is to be taken on that commencement to be money standing to the credit of the Development Fund established by this Act.

(2) Any instructions given by the Financial Secretary in respect of financial matters and in effect immediately before the commencement of this Act have effect on that commencement as if they were Financial Instructions given by the Financial Secretary under this Act in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Passed by the Legislative Council this 26th day of February, 2004.

V. INEZ ARCHIBALD,
Speaker.

DENNISTON FRASER,
Clerk of the Legislative Council.

- (a) education suitable to the requirements of persons over compulsory school age who are not enrolled for secondary education in any school or, if enrolled in secondary education, have completed a course of secondary education; and
- (b) college or university education and instruction normally available at institutions for teacher training, vocational training and technological training.

Statement of purpose.

3. The purpose of this Act is to provide for the orderly and co-ordinated development of a relevant, varied and comprehensive educational system in the Virgin Islands characterised by excellence.

PART 1

ADMINISTRATION OF THE EDUCATION SYSTEM

DIVISION 1

RESPONSIBILITIES AND POWERS OF THE MINISTER

Responsibilities
of the Minister.

4.(1) The Minister is responsible for the overall administration of this Act, and shall, subject to available resources, exercise the powers conferred on him under this Act so as to ensure

- (a) the establishment of a varied, relevant and comprehensive educational system that is characterised by excellence;
- (b) the promotion of the education of the people of the Virgin Islands by the establishment of institutions for the purpose of fostering the spiritual, emotional, cultural, moral, intellectual, physical, social and economic development of the community;
- (c) the framing of an educational policy designed to give effect to the purposes of this Act;

- (d) the effective execution of the educational policy of the Government; and
  - (e) the establishment of a co-ordinated educational system organised in accordance with this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1) the Minister is responsible to ensure the establishment and pursuit of the goals and objectives that

- (a) encourage the development of the basic knowledge and skills in all persons, including
  - (i) the skills of literacy, listening, speaking, reading, writing, numeracy, mathematics, analysis, problem solving, information processing, and computing;
  - (ii) critical and creative thinking skills for today's world;
  - (iii) an understanding of the role of science and technology in society together with scientific and technological skills;
  - (iv) appreciation and understanding of creative arts;
  - (v) physical development and personal health and fitness; and
  - (vi) the creative use of leisure time;
- (b) develop self-worth through a positive educational environment;
- (c) promote the importance of the family and community;
- (d) provide opportunities to reach maximum potential;
- (e) promote the recognition, understanding and respect for the Constitution, laws and national symbols of the Territory;
- (f) develop an understanding of the principle of gender equality;

- (g) promote understanding of the history, language, culture, rights and values of the Virgin Islands and their changing role in contemporary society;
  - (h) increase awareness and appreciation of the natural environment of the Territory;
  - (i) promote a Caribbean identity through regional co-operation;
  - (j) develop an understanding of the historical and contemporary role of business and commerce in society;
  - (k) prepare the people of the Virgin Islands for participation in the local and global society.

(3) In addition to the responsibilities referred to in subsections (1) and (2) and the several duties imposed on the Minister under this Act, the Minister is responsible for

- (a) devising a system of education designed as far as possible to ensure that the intellectual and vocational abilities, aptitudes and interests of students find adequate expression and opportunity for development;
- (b) establishing public schools and determining their location and classification;
- (c) making, subject to this Act, provision for the admission and transfer of students in public schools and assisted private schools;
- (d) establishing and maintaining or assisting in the establishment and maintenance of schools, institutions or other facilities for tertiary, adult and continuing education and special education as the Minister considers necessary, including -
  - (i) teachers colleges for the training of teachers; and
  - (ii) technical colleges and training centres considered necessary for fulfilling the requirements of technological and vocational education;

- (e) taking such other action as the Minister considers necessary for ensuring that the requirements of teachers in public schools are satisfied;
- (f) conducting, managing and assisting schools in accordance with this Act and regulations;
- (g) rendering, to such students or class of students, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, such forms of assistance as may be necessary for enabling the students to take full advantage of the educational facilities available;
- (h) evaluating the work of public schools and assisted private schools with particular reference to the curriculum to be followed therein, and making provision for the examination and testing of students and the award of certificates;
- (i) the referral of children who have been identified by the Chief Education Officer as having learning difficulties to appropriate medical, educational, social services or other agencies where they exist for remedial treatment or assistance;
- (j) providing educational opportunities for meeting the demands for higher education and in particular taking such steps as may be necessary for the carrying out of the Government's obligation to the Caribbean Examinations Council, the University of the West Indies or any other institution of higher learning; and
- (k) actively encouraging the formation, functioning and development of student councils in all schools and a National Student Council.

Powers of Minister.

5.(1) For the purpose of the performance of his responsibilities and duties under this Act, the Minister may

- (a) require attendance of persons of compulsory school age at schools established and conducted under this Act;

- (b) regulate the operation of public schools, assisted private schools, and private schools;
  - (c) make provision for the professional training of teachers for the entire system of education, and lay down standards that are applicable to the recruitment of teachers, their training, professional development and conditions of service;
  - (d) designate the grades or classes and special programmes to be offered in public schools and assisted private schools;
  - (e) prescribe forms and notices as required for the administration of this Act;
  - (f) constitute committees or other bodies to offer advice from time to time on educational and related matters;
  - (g) prescribe lists of textbooks and practices in all public schools and assisted private schools so as to ensure conformity with national standards of education provided that in the case of assisted private schools textbooks for religious education shall be determined by the denomination establishing the school;
  - (h) determine the level of assistance to assisted private schools and regulate such assistance;
  - (i) establish or disestablish public schools including schools for technical education and inaugurate classes or discontinue classes in those schools when necessary;
  - (j) prescribe, in accordance with this Act, curriculum for public schools and assisted private schools; and
  - (k) provide for any other matter or do all such things as may be expedient from time to time for the carrying out of the Minister's responsibilities for education and training.

(2) In the exercise of the powers conferred by subsection (1) (c), (g) and (j), the Minister shall consult such organisations representing the teaching profession as the Minister considers appropriate.

Annual report.

6. The Minister shall table in the Legislative Council an annual report on the state of education within three months of the end of the school year for which the report is made.

DIVISION 2

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHIEF EDUCATION OFFICER

Duties of Chief
Education Officer.

7.(1) The Chief Education Officer is, subject to section 4 and the directions of the Minister, responsible for the general administration of this Act.

- (2) The Chief Education Officer shall
- (a) ensure that schools are administered in a proper and efficient manner;
  - (b) develop administrative principles and procedures for implementing general policies and administering the school system;
  - (c) after prior consultation with the Permanent Secretary, delegate authority to professional staff of the Ministry for administering various aspects of the system of education including the registration and administration of private schools;
  - (d) develop and direct training of all professional personnel;
  - (e) initiate, subject to the provisions of this Act, curriculum innovation and reform and the establishment of appropriate procedures for evaluating the instructional programme of schools and other educational institutions;
  - (f) advise the Minister on matters affecting education in the Territory;
  - (g) ensure that school premises, property and stock are protected against improper use;
  - (h) initiate, organise and conduct courses of induction and training for untrained teachers;

- (i) submit reports on matters relating to the discipline of teachers;
- (j) arrange for the approval of such leave to teachers as may be granted them in accordance with regulations made under section 173;
- (k) consider and assess the confidential reports of teachers;
- (l) furnish such returns as may be prescribed or required;
- (m) ensure the observance of the provisions of this Act and regulations made thereunder pertaining to the conduct of schools and other educational institutions; and
- (n) perform such other duties under this Act as the Minister may from time to time assign to the Chief Education Officer.

Delegation of authority by Minister.

8.(1) The Minister may delegate in writing to the Chief Education Officer any responsibility or duty conferred on the Minister by this Act or regulations, but this does not preclude the Minister from exercising any or all of the duties so delegated where the Minister considers it necessary.

(2) In cases of emergency and after consultation with the Permanent Secretary and the Chief Education Officer, the Minister may give general or special directions in writing to any public officer in the Ministry respecting the Minister's duties under this Act and the public officer shall carry out the Minister's directions.

(3) Where by this Act or any enactment made under this Act the Chief Education Officer is required, or permitted or otherwise to perform any duty, the Chief Education Officer may, with the agreement of the Permanent Secretary, authorise in writing an education officer or another public officer who is accountable to him to perform the duty.

Chief Education Officer accountable to Minister through the Permanent Secretary.

9. Unless specified otherwise in writing by the Minister, the Chief Education Officer shall be accountable to the Minister through the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry for the performance of his duties and the administration of this Act; but this does not preclude the Chief Education Officer from having direct access to the Minister.

---

DIVISION 3
ESTABLISHMENT AND FUNCTIONS OF THE EDUCATION ADVISORY BOARD

Establishment of Education
Advisory Board.

10.(1) The Minister shall establish a body to be called the Education Advisory Board.

(2) The Education Advisory Board shall consist of at least ten members including

- (a) one representative nominated by the H. Lavity Stoutt Community College;
- (b) five members nominated by the Minister in his discretion from among persons representing
  - (i) expert educational opinion;
  - (ii) parent teacher associations;
  - (iii) technological, vocational or business education;
  - (iv) organisations concerned with community development; and
  - (v) the religious community;
- (c) one representative nominated by the School Principals Conference;
- (d) one representative nominated by the duly recognised organisation representing teachers;
- (e) one representative nominated by the University of the West Indies School of Continuing Studies; and
- (f) one representative nominated by the B.V.I. Chamber of Commerce and Hotel Association.

(3) The representatives nominated by the Minister and the organisations specified in subsection (2) (b), (c), (d) and (f) shall be appointed by the Minister by instrument in writing with the approval of Executive Council.

(4) The Education Advisory Board shall appoint a chairman and a vice-chairman from among its members.

(5) The appointment of a member of the Education Advisory Board shall be for a period not exceeding two years, but the member shall be eligible for reappointment.

First Schedule.

(6) The provisions of the First Schedule shall apply in respect of the constitution and procedure of the Education Advisory Board and otherwise in relation thereto.

Functions of
Advisory Board.

11.(1) The Education Advisory Board shall advise the Minister on matters

- (a) connected with education as it thinks fit;
- (b) respecting the performance of any of his responsibilities or the exercise of his powers under this Act and regulations as the Minister refers to it; and
- (c) relating to the promotion of education as the Minister refers to it.

(2) Any advice given to the Minister, whether accepted by the Minister or not, shall be deemed confidential and so held to be by each member of the Education Advisory Board.

Powers of the Board to hold public hearing.

12.(1) Prior to advising the Minister on any matter concerning the promotion of education, the Education Advisory Board may, where it thinks advisable and with the approval of the Minister

- (a) hold a public hearing into the matter;
- (b) appoint one or more members to hold a public hearing into the matter; or
- (c) solicit written memoranda from the public on the matter.

(2) The Minister may require the Education Advisory Board to hold a public hearing respecting any matter affecting the promotion of education and when so required, the Education Advisory Board may adopt the procedure outlined in subsection (1) which it considers most appropriate.

Minister not bound by advice of Board.

13.(1) The Minister is not bound to accept the advice of the Education Advisory Board, and where he considers it advisable, he may refer a matter back to the Education Advisory Board for reconsideration.

(2) Where after reconsideration, pursuant to subsection (1) the Education Advisory Board adheres to the advice it had previously given, the Minister may reject the advice or adopt it either wholly or with such modification, additions or adaptations as he thinks fit.

Special Committees.

14.(1) Notwithstanding section 10, the Minister may appoint such special committees as he considers necessary to advise him with respect to any specific matter that may arise from time to time.

(2) A special committee shall comprise such members as the Minister appoints and has such duties as the Minister specifies.

(3) The Minister may refer any matter to a special committee appointed under subsection (1) notwithstanding that the Education Advisory Board considered or has power to consider that matter.

PART 2

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF STUDENTS AND PARENTS

DIVISION 1

STUDENTS' RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Right to education.

15. Subject to available resources, all persons are entitled to receive an educational programme appropriate to their needs in accordance with the provisions of this Act and regulations.

Responsibility to students.

16.(1) The Chief Education Officer shall provide to every person of compulsory school age who resides in the Territory an educational programme consistent with the requirements of this Act and regulations.

(2) For the purposes of providing the educational programme to the student, the Chief Education Officer shall -

- (a) enrol the student in an educational programme, offered by a public school;
- (b) direct the student to attend an educational programme offered by another school where it is reasonable to do so.

(3) Except in the case of a student who is transferred under section 58 (1) (d), where a student is directed to attend an educational programme pursuant to subsection (2) (b) the Government is responsible for such fees and costs, if any, consequent to the student's attendance at the educational programme.

Free tuition.

17.(1) Tuition fees consequent to the student's attendance in an educational programme at a public school under section 28 shall not be charged to the student or the parents of the student.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) -

- (a) tuition fees may be payable in such amounts, for such purposes and by such persons or classes of persons who are not citizens of any Member State or Associated Member State of the Caribbean Community as the Minister may prescribe by Order published in the Gazette;
- (b) other charges may be imposed at a public school or assisted private school with the approval of the Minister.

Student responsibilities.

18. Every student enrolled in a public school or assisted private school shall -

- (a) observe the code of conduct and other rules and policies of the Ministry and of the school;
- (b) attend classes regularly and punctually;
- (c) participate in the educational programmes in which the student is enrolled;
- (d) be diligent in pursuing the prescribed curriculum; and
- (e) observe standards approved by the Chief Education Officer or the principal, as the case may be, with respect to -
  - (i) cleanliness and tidiness of the person;
  - (ii) general deportment;
  - (iii) attire;

- (iv) courtesy; and
- (v) respect of the rights of other persons.

Students accountable to teacher, principal and Ministry.

19.(1) Every student is accountable -

- (a) to the teacher for his conduct on the school premises during school hours and during such hours as the teacher is in charge of the student in class or while engaged in authorised school activities conducted outside of school hours; and
- (b) to the principal for his general deportment and conduct at any time that he is under the supervision of the school and members of the teaching staff, including the time spent in travelling between the school and his place of residence.

(2) Every student shall be under the general direction and control of -

- (a) the driver of a school bus, if the driver is an employee of or on contract with the Ministry; and
- (b) any person under whose supervision students are placed on the authority of the Chief Education Officer, in respect of the student's general behaviour and deportment on a school bus, or while under supervision, as the case may be.

Rights of the student.

20. Every student has the right to be treated with respect and dignity and in a fair and reasonable manner.

DIVISION 2

PARENTS' RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Rights and responsibilities of parents.

21.(1) Subject to section 23, parents of students attending public schools and assisted private schools are entitled -

- (a) to be informed of the progress, behaviour and attendance of their children;
- (b) upon reasonable notice to the principal and teacher, to observe the instruction of their children if the parental visitation does not impede the instruction of other children;

- (c) to appeal decisions that significantly affect the education, health or safety of their children; and
- (d) to be consulted in the development of any special education programmes prepared for their children.

(2) A parent of a student attending a school may, and at the request of a teacher or principal shall, consult with the teacher or principal with respect to the student's educational programme or conduct.

(3) Every parent shall inform the principal in writing of any medical or other condition peculiar to their child -

- (a) on admission of the child; or
- (b) as soon as the parent becomes aware of such medical or other condition.

(4) The information provided under subsection (3) shall constitute part of the student's record pursuant to section 23 of this Act.

Choice of education.

22. Subject to the provisions of this Act, parents may choose for their children a home educational programme in accordance with section 89, or any other educational programme provided by a private or public school for their children.

Students' records and reports.

23.(1) Every principal shall establish and maintain a student record for each student enrolled in the school managed by the principal in accordance with the guidelines established by the Chief Education Officer.

(2) Every school shall provide to the parents of a student a periodic or termly report of the student's academic performance and conduct.

(3) The report referred to in subsection (2) shall be in such form and contain such information as the Chief Education Officer may determine.

(4) The following persons may examine and copy a student's record or request a certified copy of a student's record:

- (a) the parents of a student who is below eighteen years of age;

- (b) a student who is eighteen years of age or older; and
- (c) the parents on behalf of a student who is eighteen years of age or older.

(5) Subject to subsection (2), a student's record is privileged for the information and use of school and departmental officials as required for the performance of their functions and is not available to any other person or institution without the written permission of the parent or, where the student is eighteen years of age or older, the student.

(6) Persons who contribute information to a student's record are exempt from any liability with respect to the provision of that information if those persons, in providing the information, acted -

- (a) in good faith;
- (b) within the scope of their duties and responsibilities; and
- (c) with reasonable care.

(7) If, on examining a student's record, a person authorised under this section is of the opinion that the student's record contains inaccurate or incomplete information, that person may request the principal to rectify the record.

(8) Where the principal refuses to rectify the record when so requested under subsection (7), the person who has requested the rectification may, within fourteen days of the refusal, refer the matter to the Chief Education Officer who shall review the request and provide direction to the principal.

(9) Where the person who has referred a matter to the Chief Education Officer under subsection (8) or the relevant principal is dissatisfied with its disposition by the Chief Education Officer, that person or principal may appeal the matter to the Education Appeal Tribunal pursuant to this Act within fourteen days of the disposition.

(10) Any person who discloses information from a student's record in contravention of subsection (5) or tampers with a certified copy of a student's record referred to under this section commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

Damage to school property.

24.(1) Every student in a public school or assisted private school shall take good care of any property placed at the student's disposal and where such property is to be returned, the property shall be returned in good condition at the end of the school activities on a day and time determined by the principal.

(2) If a student fails to comply with subsection (1), the Chief Education Officer may claim the value of the property from the parents of the student if a minor or from the student if the student is eighteen years of age or over.

(3) If the property of a public school or assisted private school is destroyed, damaged, lost, or converted by the intentional or negligent act -

- (a) of a student who is a minor, the student and the student's parents are liable in respect of the act of the student; or
- (b) of two or more students who are minors acting together, the students and their parents are jointly and severally liable in respect of the act of the students.

(4) If the property of a public school or assisted private school is destroyed, damaged, lost or converted by the intentional or negligent act of one or more students who are eighteen years of age or older -

- (a) the single student is liable in respect of his sole act; and
- (b) the students who acted together are jointly and severally liable in respect of their act.

Parent Teacher Association.

25.(1) Parents and teachers may, in accordance with regulations made under this Act, form associations to be known as Parent Teacher Associations.

(2) The Minister shall encourage and assist in the formation of-

- (a) Parent Teacher Associations; and
- (b) a National Council of Parent Teacher Associations.

(3) Parent Teacher Associations may be established in public and assisted private schools.

(4) The objects of Parent Teacher Associations shall include the promotion of the interests of the school by bringing parents, members of the community, students and teachers into close co-operation.

(5) Parent Teacher Associations may, subject to this Act and regulations, make rules for the regulation and control of their business.

(6) On the formation of a Parent Teacher Association, the names of the members of the executive shall be forwarded to the Chief Education Officer and subsequently after every election of a new executive.

School
Committees.

26.(1) Subject to subsection (2), where a Parent Teacher Association does not exist, the principal, in consultation with his staff, may establish a school committee comprising such number of parents, teachers and members of the community as the principal determines.

(2) A school committee shall not come into existence without the written approval of the Chief Education Officer.

(3) A school committee shall be an advisory committee to the school for which it is established.

(4) A school committee shall -

- (a) advise the school administration when requested by the principal or whenever it considers it necessary on any matter relating to the school;
- (b) perform any duty or function referred to it by the Chief Education Officer; and
- (c) actively pursue the formation of a Parent Teacher Association.

(5) On the formation of a Parent Teacher Association, the principal shall dissolve the school committee forthwith.

Wishes of parents to be considered in education of students.

27. The Minister shall, in the performance of his responsibilities and duties under this Act, have regard to the general principle, that, so far as is compatible with the provision of efficient instruction and training and the avoidance of unreasonable public expenditure, the wishes of parents formally conveyed to him are to be considered in the education of students.

DIVISION 3

ADMISSION AND ATTENDANCE OF STUDENTS

Compulsory school attendance
and age limit.

28.(1) Every child shall attend school from the first day of the school calendar in the school year following that in which he attains the lower age of the compulsory school age until the last day of the school calendar in the school year in which he attains sixteen years of age or at the end of which he obtains a school leaving certificate or diploma, whichever occurs first.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if the Minister is satisfied that it has become necessary or expedient to raise or lower the compulsory school age, the Minister may, by Order, subject to affirmative resolution of the Legislative Council within sixty days of the making of the Order, direct that subsection (1) has effect as if for references therein there were substituted a reference to any age prescribed in the Order.

(3) A child shall not be retained as a student in -

- (a) a primary school after attaining the age of fourteen years;
- (b) a secondary school after the end of the school year in which he shall have reached the age of nineteen years, without the written permission of the Minister.

Mode of admission.

29.(1) A child shall not be admitted to a primary school unless at the time of such admission -

- (a) the child is accompanied by a parent or a responsible person eighteen years of age or over who has been authorised in writing by a parent to represent him;
- (b) the person accompanying the child brings a birth certificate giving the information required for the Student's Register;
- (c) the child shall have attained the lower age of the compulsory school age or will attain that age within six months of the beginning of the school year; and
- (d) a certificate issued by a registered medical practitioner or the Public Health authorities is produced indicating that the child has been immunised as may be prescribed by regulations.

(2) A child shall not without the written permission of the Chief Education Officer, be admitted to a primary school other than in September, or the beginning of the primary school year.

Prohibition of discrimination.

30. Subject to the provisions of this Act, a person who is eligible for admission to a public school or an assisted private school as a student shall not be refused admission on any discriminatory grounds including race, place of origin, political opinions, colour, creed, sex, mental or physical handicap.

Age limit for secondary schools.

31.(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), a child without the written permission of the Chief Education Officer shall not be admitted as a student to a public secondary school or assisted private secondary school before the child has reached the age of eleven years.

(2) A child below eleven years of age may be admitted to a secondary school on the written approval of the Chief Education Officer on the grounds of exceptional ability and consistently high academic performance as evidenced by -

- (a) outstanding performance in termly and annual class examinations with a Grade A average or its equivalent in each examination;
- (b) the child's assessment results at the key stages as provided for in section 151; and
- (c) the written recommendations of teachers who have taught the child.

(3) A child below eleven years of age who prior to the child's residence in the Territory attended or gained admission to a secondary school or the equivalent of a secondary school may on the written approval of the Chief Education Officer be admitted to a public secondary school or an assisted private secondary school.

(4) A student shall not without the written permission of the Chief Education Officer, be retained in a public secondary school or an assisted private secondary school after the end of the school year in which he shall have reached the age of nineteen years.

Students' Register.

32.(1) The principal of every school shall maintain a register of students which shall be known as the Students' Register.

(2) The Students' Register shall include -

- (a) upon admission of a student to a school -
  - (i) the name, telephone number (if any), address and date of birth of such student;
  - (ii) the date of admission;
  - (iii) the name and residence of the student's parent;
  - (iv) the name of the last school, if any, which the student attended;
  - (v) where appropriate, the date the student left the school from which he transferred as far as it can be ascertained;
  - (vi) the standard, class or form of the student at the date of leaving the school from which he was transferred;
  - (vii) the standard, class or form to which the student is admitted; and
- (b) upon the departure of a student from a school -
  - (i) the date of the student's departure;
  - (ii) the standard, class or form of the student on the date of departure; and
  - (iii) where appropriate, the school or other location to which the student is being transferred.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), the Students' Register shall include such other information as may be prescribed in writing by the Chief Education Officer from time to time.

Transfer of students.

33.(1) Subject to the approval of the Chief Education Officer, a student who seeks admission from one school to another shall not be admitted to that other school except -

- (a) on presentation of a letter of transfer signed by the current principal; and

- (b) after consultation between the current principal and the receiving principal concerning the availability of a place in the receiving school.

(2) A principal shall furnish on request to every student a letter referred to in subsection (1) (a).

(3) Letters of transfer shall be retained by the principal of the admitting school and copies thereof shall be submitted by the principal for information to the Chief Education Officer.

(4) In the event that a dispute arises between two or more principals when a student seeks to transfer from one school to another, the Chief Education Officer shall make a final determination.

Effect of contagious diseases.

34.(1) Subject to section 35, a student suffering from or exposed to a contagious disease shall not be admitted to or permitted to remain in any school.

(2) Where the principal discovers or has reason to suspect the presence of a contagious disease the principal shall immediately report the same to the parents of the student concerned, the Chief Education Officer, and the Director of Health Services.

Readmission of student on production of medical certificate.

No. 4 of 2000.

35.(1) A student who has been refused admission to a school on the ground that the student is suffering from or exposed to a contagious disease shall not be re-admitted except upon production of a medical certificate from a medical practitioner registered under the Medical Act to the effect that such student is free from such disease and is unlikely to be a source of infection to other persons in the school.

(2) The medical certificate required by subsection (1) shall be issued free of charge by any Government medical officer issuing the same.

Temporary or permanent closing of schools.

36.(1) Where -

- (a) as a result of the total or partial destruction by hurricane, earthquake, fire, flood or other natural disaster of all or any of the buildings used in connection with any public school or assisted private school; or
- (b) as a result of the outbreak of any infectious or contagious disease; or
- (c) for any other reason,

---

attendance at any public school or assisted private school has fallen to such extent that in the opinion of the Minister justifies the temporary or permanent closing of the institution, the Minister may, notwithstanding anything contained in this or any other enactment, direct that the school be temporarily or permanently closed, as the case may be, and the school shall, with effect from the date of the direction, be closed.

(2) Where a school is permanently closed, the Minister shall provide an alternative facility for the students affected by the closure.

(3) The powers conferred on the Minister by this section are in addition to any powers conferred upon the Minister in any other enactment.

(4) Without affecting subsection (1), the Minister may delegate to the Chief Education Officer the power conferred on the Minister by that subsection to temporarily close a school referred to in subsection (1).

(5) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (3), the principal of a school may, in an emergency and where it is impractical to obtain the prior approval of the Minister or Chief Education Officer, close a school temporarily and inform the Minister or Chief Education Officer as soon as practicable thereafter.

Zoning of schools.

37.(1) The Minister may by Order introduce a scheme of zoning for the admission and transfer of students to public schools and assisted private schools, whether primary or secondary.

(2) The scheme of zoning shall link the place of residence of the student and the location of the school of attendance.

(3) Residency of a student shall be determined by the residency of the student's parents.

---

DIVISION 4
COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AND SCHOOL GUIDANCE COUNSELLING

Duty of parent to enforce attendance.

38. Subject to section 39, the parent of every child of compulsory school age shall ensure that the child receives an education by regular attendance at school.

Valid excuses from attendance.

39.(1) Subject to subsections (2) to (6), a child of compulsory school age shall be excused from school attendance if -

- (a) the Minister is satisfied after consultation with the Chief Education Officer that the child is receiving satisfactory instruction at home or else where;
- (b) the child is excluded from attendance at school under any provision of this Act or regulations;
- (c) the child is unable to attend school because of sickness, danger of infection, infirmity, sudden or serious illness of a parent or other related cause;
- (d) the child is suffering from a physical or mental disability that, in the opinion of a registered medical practitioner, makes the student incapable of being educated by ordinary methods of instruction;
- (e) the child is granted permission by the principal of the school to be temporarily absent from school for good and sufficient reason;
- (f) the child is a participant in observances, celebrations, or activities recognised by a religious denomination;
- (g) the child has been suspended by a school in accordance with the provisions of this Act and has not been given permission to enrol in another school;
- (h) the child is engaged in work experience or other educational programmes authorised or approved by the principal;

- (i) the child is representing the Territory in an educational, cultural or sporting event or in any other official capacity.

(2) The parent of the child of compulsory school age who wishes the child to be exempted from school attendance under subsection (1) (a), (c), (d), (e) and (f) shall apply for a certificate of exemption from such attendance in accordance with subsection (3).

(3) An application under subsection (2) shall be made -

- (a) in the case of paragraphs (a) and (d) to the Chief Education Officer; and
- (b) in the case of paragraphs (c), (e) and (f) to the principal of the school, and the Chief Education Officer or the principal, as the case may be, may grant or refuse a certificate.

(4) A certificate granted under subsection (3) exempts the child to whom it relates from attendance at school to the extent specified in the certificate.

(5) A parent who is dissatisfied with a refusal under subsection (3) may appeal to the Minister, who may overrule the refusal.

(6) The decision of the Minister on appeal under subsection (5) is final.

(7) Section 47 does not apply in the case of a child with respect to whom a certificate has been granted under this section or to a child who is exempted under subsection (1) (b), (g) or (h).

School attendance officers.

40. The Minister may, by Order, designate school attendance officers to assist in the enforcement of the compulsory attendance provisions of this Act.

Responsibility of school attendance officer.

41. A school attendance officer shall be responsible for the enforcement of compulsory school attendance in respect of all children of compulsory school age within the district or area to which he is assigned.

Power to enter premises and question children.

42. For the purposes of section 41 a school attendance officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a person is in contravention of this Act or regulations and upon presentation of his credentials, may at any time -

- (a) enter premises and make such inquiries as are necessary to determine whether section 38 is being complied with or whether anyone is in contravention of sections 47 and 48 in relation to a child of compulsory school age whom the school attendance officer has reasonable cause to believe to be frequenting, visiting, residing or employed on the premises;
  - (b) stop and question any child who appears to be of compulsory school age but is not at school concerning -
    - (i) his age;
    - (ii) his name and address;
    - (iii) the school at which he is registered;
    - (iv) the reason for his absence from school; and
    - (v) any other matter relevant to the inquiries referred to in paragraph (a).

Offences against school attendance officers.

43.(1) A person commits an offence if that person -

- (a) assaults, obstructs, or uses insulting, abusive or indecent language to -
  - (i) a school attendance officer in the execution of his duties; or
  - (ii) any other person executing a duty imposed on that person by this Act or regulations, in relation to the attendance of any child at school;
- (b) being a parent, fails, without reasonable cause, having been requested by a school attendance officer to give any information concerning -
  - (i) the name, age, residence, parent, enrolment and the attendance of any child at school;
  - (ii) any other matter, relevant to the attendance of any child at school; or

- (c) gives to any school attendance officer, knowing it to be false or misleading, any information concerning any matter mentioned in paragraph (b).

(2) Subsection (1) applies, notwithstanding that the child in relation to whom the offence is committed is not of compulsory school age.

(3) A person who is convicted of an offence under subsection (1) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months or both.

Power to deliver absent student.

44. A school attendance officer may, at the request of the parent, apprehend and deliver to the school from which he is absent or to his parent, any student found absent from school without having been excused under section 39.

Duties of school attendance officer.

45. A school attendance officer shall -

- (a) report monthly to the Chief Education Officer;
- (b) perform his duties under the direction and supervision of the Chief Education Officer;
- (c) inquire into every suspected case of unlawful failure to attend school within his knowledge or when requested to do so by the Chief Education Officer or the principal of a school;
- (d) give -
  - (i) written warning of the consequences of failure to attend school to the parent of the child who is not attending school; and
  - (ii) written notice to the parent to cause the child to attend school forthwith; and
- (e) report monthly or whenever necessary to the relevant principals regarding cases of non-attendance reported to him under section 46 (a).

Reports by principals.

46. Every principal of a school shall -

- (a) report in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed to the school attendance officer, the names, ages and residences of all children of compulsory school age who have not attended school as required;

- (b) furnish the Chief Education Officer with such other information as the Chief Education Officer requires for the enforcement of compulsory school attendance; and
- (c) report in accordance with section 57 to the Chief Education Officer every case of suspension and expulsion.

Liability of parent.

47.(1) A parent of a child of compulsory school age, who neglects or refuses to cause the child to attend school, unless the child is excused under section 39, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars.

(2) The court may, instead of imposing a fine, require a person convicted of an offence under subsection (1) to enter into a bond not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars, with one or more sureties to be approved by the court, on condition that the person shall, before the expiration of five days, cause the child to attend school as required.

Compulsory school age and offences.

48.(1) Subject to subsection (3), a person who employs a child of compulsory school age during the school year commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars.

(2) If a body corporate contravenes subsection (1), in addition to the said body corporate, every director and officer of the body corporate, who authorises, permits or acquiesces in such contravention commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to the same penalty as the corporation.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a person or body corporate may employ a student over fourteen years of age -

- (a) during the vacation period of the school year as specified by the Minister;
- (b) during the school year -
  - (i) on weekends; or

(ii) after school hours during the week for not more than two hours and not beyond 6:00 p.m.; or

(c) if the employment of the student is part of the school programme to prepare students for future employment.

(4) Except with the permission of the principal or under the supervision of a teacher deputed by the principal for the purpose, a child of compulsory school age shall not be admitted, on payment or otherwise, to any cinema show or other similar form of entertainment on any day and at any time at which attendance at school is by this Act or regulations required.

(5) A child of compulsory school age shall not be allowed to loiter on the licensed premises of any person or body corporate who carries on any business in connection with the sale, storage or conveyance of intoxicating liquor within the meaning of the relevant provision of the Liquor Licences Act.

Cap. 106.

(6) Any person or body corporate, as the case may be, who contravenes any of the provisions of subsections (4) and (5), commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months or to both.

Legal proceedings.

49.(1) Prosecutions under sections 47 and 48 may be instituted by the Chief Education Officer.

(2) In prosecutions under sections 47 and 48 a statement as to the attendance or non-attendance at school of any child, signed or purporting to be signed by the principal of the school, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

(3) In any prosecution under this section, a birth certificate or a copy thereof purporting to be certified under the hand of the person in whose custody such records are held is evidence of the age of the person named in the certificate or copy.

(4) In the absence of any certificate or copy mentioned in subsection (3), or in corroboration of any such certificate or copy, the court may receive and act upon any other documents or information relating to age that it considers reliable.

(5) In any prosecution under sections 47 and 48, the court may draw inferences as to the age of a person from the person's appearance, demeanour or from statements made by the person in direct examination or cross-examination.

Responsibilities of school guidance counsellors.

- 50. A school guidance counsellor is responsible for -
- (a) supporting the students in enhancing their efforts and ability to learn;
  - (b) guiding students in developing a realistic concept of self and society;
  - (c) counselling students in order to help them resolve or cope constructively with their problems and developmental concerns;
  - (d) consulting, in corroboration with parents, teachers, administrators, school psychologist, social workers, medical professionals and community health personnel, to plan and implement strategies to help students be successful in the education system;
  - (e) assisting in co-ordinating all efforts for helping students and their parents in obtaining required services through referrals between the relevant school and community agency; and
  - (f) assisting students generally in their personal, social, academic and career development.

Referral to counselling.

51. A principal of a school may, in consultation with any teacher he considers relevant or on the recommendation of a teacher, refer a student for counselling to a school guidance counsellor, where in his opinion or in the opinion of the relevant teacher, a student through his behaviour, attitude or demeanour, or failure to diligently pursue the prescribed curriculum, is in need of counselling.

Power to enter premises for counselling purposes.

52.(1) For the purposes of sections 50 and 51 a school guidance counsellor may offer counselling services to students and parents either on school premises or any other premises that he considers suitable including the home of the student or parent.

(2) A school guidance counsellor may enter any premises or home for the purposes of subsection (1).

Offences against school guidance counsellors.

53.(1) A person commits an offence if that person assaults, obstructs, or uses insulting, abusive or indecent language to a school guidance counsellor in the execution of his duties.

(2) A person who is convicted of an offence under subsection (1) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months or both.

DIVISION 5

DISCIPLINE, SUSPENSION AND EXPULSION OF STUDENTS

School rules to govern discipline.

54.(1) The Minister may in consultation with the Chief Education Officer prescribe rules to govern the attire, conduct and discipline of students attending a public or an assisted private school.

(2) The rules established under subsection (1) shall be circulated to the parents of the students of the school.

(3) The rules that affect students shall be posted in conspicuous places within the school and shall be brought to the attention of the students of the school at the commencement of each school year.

(4) The rules established pursuant to this section shall be applied without discrimination to all students and shall be consistent with this Act and the regulations.

(5) Any rules of a public school or an assisted private school other than those prescribed under subsection (1), shall not come into effect unless approved by the Chief Education Officer, and shall comply with subsections (2) and (3).

(6) Discipline of students shall be administered in accordance with this Act and the rules prescribed under this section.

Corporal punishment.

55.(1) In the enforcement of discipline in public schools, assisted private schools and private schools degrading or injurious punishment shall not be administered.

(2) Corporal punishment may be administered where no other punishment is considered suitable or effective, and only by the principal or deputy principal and one senior teacher appointed in writing by the principal for that purpose, in a manner that is in conformity with guidelines issued in writing by the Chief Education Officer.

(3) Whenever corporal punishment is administered an entry shall be made in a punishment book that shall be kept in each school for such purpose with a statement of the nature and extent of the punishment and the reasons for administering it.

(4) A person other than those mentioned in subsection (2) who administers corporal punishment to a student on school premises commits an offence and is liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars on summary conviction.

Suspension for minor offences.

56.(1) A principal may suspend a student for a period not exceeding two school days for any breach by the student of the duties specified in section 18.

(2) When a student has been suspended, the principal shall -

- (a) make every effort possible to inform the student's parents of the suspension and the reason for it; and
- (b) meet as soon as possible with the student and the parents of the student to review the circumstances surrounding the suspension and to determine appropriate corrective action, which may include counselling for the student and the parents.

(3) If there is no resolution within two school days, the principal shall decide either to reinstate or to suspend the student in accordance with section 57.

Suspension for major offences.

57.(1) The principal of any public school or assisted private school may suspend a student for a period of more than two days but not exceeding ten school days for -

- (a) gross misconduct that may be considered a risk or danger to members of staff or other students;
- (b) breach of the school rules that imposes a penalty of suspension;
- (c) persistent breach of school rules other than those specified in paragraph (b);
- (d) a refusal by the student to be inspected, examined, immunised or treated by a duly qualified medical practitioner or nurse acting in accordance with any scheme or school health programme in operation in the Territory;

- (e) destroying or damaging without lawful excuse the property of the school;
- (f) assaulting the principal, a member of staff or other employee of the school, a student or any other person lawfully present in the school;
- (g) possession of any article made or adapted for use for causing injury or intended by the student for such use by him or by some other person; and
- (h) possession or use of alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs and substances.

(2) A student who is suspended under subsection (1) (d) shall only be re-admitted on the production of a medical certificate signed by a duly qualified medical practitioner.

(3) For the purposes of subsections (1) (d) and (2), "duly qualified" in respect of a medical practitioner, means registered under the provisions of the Medical Act 2000.

No. 4 of 2000.

(4) When a principal suspends a student under this section the principal shall report in writing to the parents of the student and state the reason or reasons for the suspension and shall submit a copy to the Chief Education Officer and the Board of Management if one exists.

Action by Chief
Education Officer.

58.(1) The Chief Education Officer may, after the receipt of the report under section 57 (4) order, after consultation with the Board of Management if one exists, that -

- (a) the student be placed on a suspension that exceeds ten school days and that ends at the end of the term or semester or school year, whichever occurs first;
- (b) the term of suspension be extended for a specified number of days to enable proper enquiries to be made;
- (c) the student to be reinstated after due investigation and, if the circumstances warrant this, on a date to be fixed by the Chief Education Officer;
- (d) the student be transferred to another school including a special school; or
- (e) the student be expelled.

(2) The parents of a suspended student who is a minor or the representative of a suspended student who is eighteen years of age or over may make representations to the Chief Education Officer with respect to the suspension within seven days of the suspension by the principal.

(3) The Chief Education Officer shall make a decision within ten days of the representations being made to him and the student shall remain suspended during that period.

(4) A student or a parent of a student or the relevant principal may appeal within fourteen days of receipt of a decision by the Chief Education Officer to the Education Appeal Tribunal established pursuant to this Act.

(5) The Chief Education Officer shall inform the student, the parents of the student and the relevant principal of the right of appeal under subsection (4) at the time of notifying them of his decision under subsection (3).

School security officers.

59. The Minister may by Order designate school security officers to assist the principal and teachers of any school, whenever he considers it necessary, in ensuring that students uphold the rules and regulations of the school.

Responsibilities and duties of school security officers.

60.(1) A school security officer is responsible for -

- (a) checking the identification (ID) cards of students upon arrival at school;
- (b) ensuring that students who are out of class after five minutes of the bell having been rung for the completion of one period and the commencement of another have valid reasons or a pass from the principal, assistant principal or relevant teacher for being out of class;
- (c) referring and escorting students without a valid reason for being out of class to the principal, and taking note of such incidents in a log book provided by the school;
- (d) discouraging students from entering the school premises from undesignated areas and leaving campus without permission;

- (e) ensuring that such incidents referred to under paragraph (d) are immediately reported to the principal;
  - (f) patrolling the school premises as a deterrent to any illegal and immoral conduct, including but not limited to gambling, drug and alcohol use, loitering, sexual misconduct, vandalism, and pranks of a potentially dangerous nature, among others;
  - (g) referring students who are not in proper uniform to the principal or assistant principal;
  - (h) assisting with the parting of fights and any other disturbances on the school premises;
  - (i) finding the relevant facts relating to any incidents referred to under paragraph (h) or any incidents that cause disruption or violate school rules and regulations and referring those findings to the principal; such findings to be noted in a log book provided by the school;
  - (j) reporting any student who is in violation of any school rules or regulations to the principal or assistant principal and taking note of any such violation in the log book provided by the school;
  - (k) assisting with all emergency evacuation exercises; and
  - (l) performing any other duties assigned by the principal or assistant principals of the relevant school and the Chief Education Officer or his designate.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), while on school premises, a school security officer shall be directly supervised by and report to the principal of the school or his designate.

(3) A security officer shall not be assigned to duties under this section unless he has successfully completed a programme of training as may be prescribed.

Offences against school security officer.

61.(1) A person commits an offence if that person assaults, obstructs, or uses insulting, abusive or indecent language to a school security officer in the execution of his duties.

(2) A person who is convicted of an offence under subsection (1) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months or both.

Power of staff to restrain student.

62.(1) A member of the staff of a school may use, in relation to any student at the school, such force as is reasonable in the circumstances for the purpose of preventing the student from doing, or continuing to do, any of the following, namely:

- (a) committing any offence;
- (b) causing personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the student); or
- (c) engaging in any behaviour prejudicial to the maintenance of good order and discipline at the school or among any of its students, whether that behaviour occurs during a teaching session or otherwise.

(2) Subsection (1) applies where a member of the staff of a school is -

- (a) on the premises of the school; or
- (b) elsewhere at a time when, as a member of its staff, he has lawful control or charge of the student concerned;

but it does not authorise anything to be done in relation to a student that constitutes the giving of corporal punishment within the meaning of section 55.

(3) Subsection (1) shall not be taken to prevent any person from relying on any defence available to him otherwise than by virtue of this section.

(4) In this section and section 63 -

"member of the staff", in relation to a school, means any teacher who works at the school and any other person who, with the authority of the principal, has lawful control or charge of students at the school;

"offence" includes anything that would be an offence, but for the operation of any presumption that a person under a particular age is incapable of committing an offence.

Offences
against staff of school.

63.(1) A person commits an offence if that person assaults, obstructs, or uses insulting, abusive or indecent language to a member of the staff of a school in the execution of his duties.

(2) A person who is convicted of an offence under subsection (1) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months or both.

PART 3

ADMINISTRATION OF SCHOOLS

DIVISION 1

MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC PRIMARY SCHOOLS

Establishment and maintenance of public primary schools.

64. Primary schools that are public schools may be established and maintained in accordance with this Act and regulations.

Management of public primary schools.

65. All primary schools that are public schools shall be under the control of the Minister.

Board of Management.

66.(1) The Minister may by notice, if the Minister considers it necessary, appoint a Board of Management for any primary school that is a public school where it appears to him to be desirable to do so in the interest of economy, efficiency, and for the participation of the community in the management of education.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the Minister may appoint one Board of Management to administer more than one primary school if the Minister is satisfied that the general interest of education in the area in which these institutions are situated will be best served by a single Board.

(3) When the Minister exercises his power to appoint one Board to administer more than one primary school under subsection (2), the membership of the Board of Management may exceed the number prescribed for one Board of Management under section 67 (1), but may not exceed fifteen members and the principals of the relevant schools shall be ex officio members of that Board of Management.

Members of a Board of Management.

67.(1) A Board of Management appointed under section 66 shall include the following members:

- (a) the principal who shall be an ex officio member;
- (b) one member who shall be a representative nominated by the Parent Teacher Association of the school, provided that if no such association exists the Minister may appoint a parent after consultation with the principal;
- (c) one member who shall be a representative nominated by the staff at an authorised staff meeting;
- (d) not less than four members appointed by the Minister acting in his discretion from among persons representing -
  - (i) expert educational opinion;
  - (ii) the religious community;
  - (iii) organisations concerned with business;
  - (iv) organisations concerned with community development; and
  - (v) such other areas of national interest as the Minister considers appropriate.

(2) The persons named in subsection (1) (b), (c) and (d) shall be appointed by the Minister by instrument in writing.

Second Schedule.

(3) The provisions of the Second Schedule shall apply in respect of the procedure and functions of the Board of Management established under subsection (1) and otherwise in relation thereto.

Functions of a Board of Management for a primary school.

68.(1) Subject to subsection (2), a Board of Management appointed under section 66 shall -

- (a) control and manage -
  - (i) the expenditure of any grants for the repair and maintenance of the school;
  - (ii) the rebuilding or extension of the school;
  - (iii) other matters relating to the organisation of the school as may be referred to it by the Minister;
- (b) be responsible for the efficient maintenance of the school under its control and management and for the keeping of the buildings in a good state of repair and sanitation;
- (c) review, modify if necessary, and approve the school plan prepared by the school administration for each school operated by it;
- (d) establish policies for the administration, management and operation of the school including a student attendance policy;
- (e) prepare reports, information, and perform any duties as may be required under this Act, its regulations and guidelines, or by the Minister;
- (f) arrange for the examination and investigation of -
  - (i) student progress;
  - (ii) order among and discipline of students;
  - (iii) the system of instruction;
  - (iv) mode of keeping school records; and
  - (v) conditions of buildings and premises;
- (g) in consultation with the Chief Education Officer and the principal and staff, establish a procedure for resolving disputes between schools, parents and teachers; and

- (h) generally exercise any other function conferred on it by this Act or the regulations.

(2) In the performance of its functions under subsection (1) (a), (b), (c) and (d), the Board of Management shall consult the Chief Education Officer.

Submission of reports, statements and estimates.

69. Every Board of Management shall, after consultation with the principal, submit to the Chief Education Officer -

- (a) within one month after the end of the school year a report containing information on -
- (i) the discipline of students;
  - (ii) the attainment levels of the students;
  - (iii) the application of the curriculum;
  - (iv) the condition of the school and the maintenance of its property;
  - (v) student attendance; and
  - (vi) generally, any matter which directly or indirectly affects the school and its development;
- (b) not later than the 31st day of July in each year, or such later date as the Minister approves in writing, a statement detailing the expenditure of any grant made to the Board of Management; and
- (c) on or before the 31st day of July in each year, its estimate of expenditure for the school under its control in respect of the next financial year for the approval of the Minister.

Special or general directions.

70. Subject to this Act and regulations made thereunder, a Board of Management shall act in accordance with any special or general directions of the Minister concerning the exercise and performance of its functions under this Act.

---

DIVISION 2
MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Application of
Division.

71. This Division shall apply to any public secondary school established under this Act.

Management of public secondary schools.

72. Subject to this Act public secondary schools are under the management and control of the Minister.

Establishment of
Board of Management.

73.(1) The Minister may by notice, if the Minister considers it necessary, appoint a Board of Management for each public secondary school established under this Act where it appears to the Minister to be desirable to do so in the interest of economy, efficiency, and for the participation of the community in the management of education.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the Minister may appoint one Board of Management to administer more than one secondary school if the Minister is satisfied that the general interest of education in the area in which these schools are situated will be best served by a single Board.

(3) A Board of Management appointed under subsection (1) shall include the following members:

- (a) the principal who shall be an ex officio member;
- (b) one member who shall be a representative nominated by the Parent Teacher Association of the school provided that if no such association exists, the Minister may appoint a parent after consultation with the principal;
- (c) one member who shall be a representative nominated by the staff at an authorised staff meeting;
- (d) not less than five members appointed by the Minister acting in his discretion from among persons representing -
  - (i) expert educational opinion;
  - (ii) the religious community;
  - (iii) organisations concerned with business;

- (iv) organisations concerned with community development; and
- (v) such other areas of national interest as the Minister considers appropriate;
- (e) one member elected by the student council, if one exists.

(4) The persons named in subsection (3) (b), (c) and (d) shall be appointed by the Minister by instrument in writing.

(5) When the Minister exercises his power to appoint one Board to administer more than one secondary school under subsection (2), the membership of the Board of Management may exceed the number prescribed for one Board of Management under subsection (3), but may not exceed fifteen members and the principals of the relevant schools shall be ex officio members of that Board of Management

Second Schedule.

(6) The provisions of the Second Schedule shall apply in respect of the procedure and functions of a Board of Management established under subsection (1) and otherwise in relation thereto.

Functions of Board of Management for secondary schools.

74.(1) Subject to subsection (2), the functions of a Board of Management in relation to the school for which it is established are -

- (a) to be responsible to the Minister for the management, control, operation and maintenance of the school;
- (b) to receive, disburse and account for the expenditure of such sums as may from time to time be allocated to it by the Ministry for the operation of such school;
- (c) to review, modify if necessary, and approve the school plan prepared by the school administration for each school operated by it;
- (d) to establish policies for the administration, management and operation of its schools, including a student attendance policy;
- (e) to prepare reports, provide information, and perform any duties as may be required under this Act, its regulations and guidelines, or by the Minister;

- (f) to arrange for the examination and investigation of -
  - (i) student progress;
  - (ii) order among and discipline of students;
  - (iii) the system of instruction;
  - (iv) mode of keeping school records; and
  - (v) conditions of buildings and premises;
- (g) in consultation with the Chief Education Officer and the principal and staff, establish a procedure for resolving disputes between schools, parents and teachers;
- (h) to make recommendations to the Minister with regard to any matter directly or indirectly affecting the school or the development of secondary education generally;
- (i) to appoint where necessary committees consisting wholly or partly of members of the Board of Management; and
- (j) to perform such other functions in relation to the school as the Minister requires or as may be prescribed by this Act or regulations.

(2) In the performance of its functions under subsection (1) (a), (c) and (d), the Board of Management shall consult the Chief Education Officer.

(3) For the purpose of performing its function under subsection (1) (b) the Board of Management shall appoint an Accounting Officer who shall be paid from the funds received from the Ministry under subsection (1) (b).

Funds and resources of a Board of Management.

- 75. The funds and resources of a Board of Management are -
- (a) moneys allocated for the purposes of the Board of Management by the Ministry;
  - (b) moneys or property payable to or vested in the Board of Management in respect of any matter incidental to their functions;

- (c) moneys derived from fund-raising activities; and
- (d) moneys and other property derived by way of gift, bequest, trust, or donation, or in any other manner.

Accounts and audit.

76.(1) Every Board of Management established pursuant to sections 66 and 73 shall keep proper accounts of its transactions, and the accounts shall be audited annually by the Auditor General or any person authorised by him in that behalf.

(2) The Auditor General shall, at the request of the Minister or on his own initiative, carry out at any time an investigation into or a special audit of the accounts of a Board of Management.

(3) The members and employees of a Board of Management shall -

- (a) grant to the Auditor General or any authorised member of the staff of the Auditor General referred to in subsection (1), access to all books, documents, money and property of the Board; and
- (b) give to any person referred to in paragraph (a) such information as might be within the knowledge of the members and employees of the Board of Management in relation to the operation of the Board of Management.

Annual report,
statement of accounts of estimates.

77.(1) Every Board of Management under this Division shall, after consultation with the principal, submit to the Minister -

- (a) a report in accordance with section 69;
- (b) not later than the 31st day of August in each year, or such later date as the Minister approves, a statement of its accounts, audited in accordance with section 76, for the financial year ending that year; and
- (c) on or before the 31st day of July in each year, its estimates of revenue and expenditure in respect of the next financial year for the approval of the Minister.

(2) The Minister shall, within six months of receiving the documents referred to in subsection (1) (a) and (b), cause copies thereof to be laid in the Legislative Council.

Minutes of Board receivable in evidence.

78. Minutes of meetings of any Board of Management established pursuant to sections 66 and 73 are, if duly signed by the chairman, or deputy chairman, receivable in evidence in all legal proceedings without further proof and every meeting of a Board of Management in respect of which minutes have been signed shall be deemed to have been duly convened and held, and all members present at the meeting shall be deemed to have been duly qualified to act.

DIVISION 3

MANAGEMENT OF ASSISTED PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Management of assisted private primary schools.

79.(1) Every primary school that is an assisted private school shall be administered by a Board of Management appointed by the Minister, which shall consist of not more than nine persons appointed as follows:

- (a) four persons including the chairman nominated by the proprietor or denomination which owns the school;
- (b) the principal of the school who shall be an ex officio member;
- (c) one member nominated by the academic staff from among its members;
- (d) one member nominated by a recognised local community group;
- (e) one member nominated by the Minister; and
- (f) one parent nominated by the Parent Teacher Association where such an association exists.

(2) The quorum shall be four members and shall include the chairman or the vice-chairman of the Board of Management.

Management of assisted private secondary schools.

80.(1) Every secondary school that is an assisted private school shall be administered by a Board of Management of not more than twelve members appointed by the Minister in the following manner:

- (a) three members including the chairman nominated by the proprietor or denomination which owns the school;

- (b) the principal of the school who shall be an ex officio member;
- (c) one member nominated by the Minister;
- (d) two members nominated in the following manner:
  - (i) one by the academic staff; and
  - (ii) one by the student council;
- (e) two members nominated as follows:
  - (i) one by the alumni of the school;
  - (ii) one by the Parent Teacher Association where such an association exists; and
- (f) three members nominated by the Board of Management for their particular expertise.

(2) The quorum shall be five members and shall include the chairman or vice-chairman of the Board of Management.

(3) The procedure of a Board of Management established under sections 79 and 80 is set out in the Second Schedule and otherwise in relation thereto.

Second Schedule.

Denomination or proprietor may add duties.

81.(1) In addition to the functions conferred by the denomination or the proprietors of an assisted private school, a Board of Management established under sections 79 and 80 shall -

- (a) if the school for which the Board of Management is established is a primary school, perform the functions established under section 68; and
- (b) if the school for which the Board of Management is appointed is a secondary school, perform the functions established under section 74.

(2) The proprietor of a denominational school that has become an assisted private school, whether primary or secondary, shall not direct, request or encourage the Board of Management established under sections 79 and 80 to perform functions and duties inconsistent with the provisions of this Act or regulations.

Appointment of joint Board of Management.

82.(1) Notwithstanding sections 79 and 80, the Minister may appoint a Board of Management to administer more than one assisted private school if -

- (a) these assisted private schools have the same proprietors;
- (b) the proprietors agree to the appointment of a Board of Management;
- (c) the proprietors agree to the composition of the membership of the Board of Management under subsection (2); and
- (d) the Minister is satisfied that the general interest of education in the area in which these assisted private schools are situated will be best served by a single Board of Management.

(2) Where a Board of Management is appointed to administer more than one assisted private school, the membership of that Board of Management may exceed the number prescribed for one Board of Management, and in the appointment of additional members consideration shall be given to the different categories of persons to be represented on the Board of Management.

DIVISION 4

MANAGEMENT OF TERTIARY INSTITUTIONS

Establishment and management of tertiary institution.

83.(1) The Minister may establish and maintain, in accordance with this Act and regulations, colleges, technical institutions, universities, and any other institution of higher education at such places as the Minister may determine.

(2) A technical institution or other tertiary institution may be established as a department or part of a public secondary school.

(3) Where a tertiary institution is independently established the Minister may by Order provide for -

- (a) its curriculum;
- (b) the criteria for admission of students;

- (c) the payment of fees;
- (d) the appointment of the staff, including their terms and conditions of employment;
- (e) its management;
- (f) regulations regarding the -
  - (i) professional behaviour of instructors, lecturers and tutors; and
  - (ii) conduct and discipline of students and trainees.

PART 4

THE STAGES AND FORMS OF EDUCATION

DIVISION 1

STAGES AND FORMS

Stages and forms of public education.

84.(1) Subject to subsection (2), the system of public education shall be in the following stages:

- (a) primary education;
- (b) secondary education; and
- (c) tertiary education.

(2) The Minister may, as resources permit, include as part of the system of public education -

- (a) early childhood education;
- (b) education to meet the requirements of students who are gifted or have exceptional ability;
- (c) special education in accordance with the provisions of this Act;
- (d) adult and continuing education; and

- (e) distance education.

DIVISION 2

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION SERVICES

Establishment of early childhood education services.

85.(1) Subject to satisfying the provisions of Division 2 of Part 5, a private school specified in section 99 may provide an Early Childhood Education Services Programme suitable to the needs of children under five years of age.

(2) A private school that provides early childhood education services may charge the parents of children attending the programme fees in respect of the programme.

Programmes and policies.

86. A private school offering early childhood education services shall develop and maintain policies and programmes consistent with the early childhood education services, policies, programmes and plans prescribed by the Minister.

Council on early childhood education services.

87.(1) The Minister may, when the Minister considers it necessary, establish a Council on Early Childhood Education to advise him on policies to guide the implementation of this Division.

(2) Where a Council on Early Childhood Education is established, the Minister may by Order provide for its -

- (a) membership;
- (b) procedures for the conduct of its business; and
- (c) powers and functions.

Regulations.

88.(1) The Minister may make regulations generally for the proper carrying out of the purposes of this Division.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), the Minister may make regulations -

- (a) prescribing the academic and professional qualifications of teachers or other persons employed in early childhood education services;
  - (b) respecting the records to be submitted to the Minister by a private school engaged in early childhood education services;
  - (c) concerning the safety standards that shall be satisfied by a private school;
  - (d) respecting the health requirements of the environment and of the persons employed in early childhood education services;
  - (e) concerning the buildings, premises, equipment and furnishings to be used in delivering early childhood education services;
  - (f) prescribing the ratio of staff to students required by the private school;
  - (g) respecting the needs of children of specified ages attending the programme offered by the private school;
  - (h) respecting teacher training and curriculum development; and
  - (i) respecting the need for insurance or some other form of indemnification.

DIVISION 3

HOME EDUCATION

Home education.

89.(1) A parent of a student may provide, at home, a home education programme for the student if the parent complies with this section and the programme meets the goals and objectives outlined in section 4 (2).

(2) The parent shall, prior to the commencement of a home education programme for the student and on an annual basis thereafter for as long as the home education programme is offered, register the student with the Chief Education Officer.

(3) An educational plan for each student who is receiving home education shall be prepared and provided to the Chief Education Officer subject to the following conditions:

- (a) the initial educational plan shall be prepared and provided to the Chief Education Officer three months prior to the commencement of the home education programme;
- (b) the educational plan shall be for a minimum period of three school years and shall cover every year of the home education programme;
- (c) the educational plan shall include a description of the learning activities for the student that will comply with the goals and objectives set out in section 4 (2); and
- (d) the educational plan shall be based on the national curriculum as established by the Minister under Part 8.

(4) The parent of a home education student may request that tests be administered to the student subject to the requirements of the regulations and to payment of fees prescribed by the regulations for any tests that are administered.

(5) A student in a home education programme may attend courses offered by the Ministry subject to any terms and conditions established by the regulations.

(6) Subject to regulations made under this Act, the parent of a home education student may receive, for the student, educational resource materials and use of school facilities and equipment.

(7) For the purposes of this Division, the Chief Education Officer shall -

- (a) provide for the assessment of the student's achievement on a regular basis and communicate the results to the parent;
- (b) advise the parent if, in the opinion of the Chief Education Officer, the student is not making reasonable progress in the programme; and

- (c) provide the parent with recommendations that will assist the student in improving the level of achievement.

Termination of programme.

90.(1) Notwithstanding section 89 (1), the Chief Education Officer shall, in writing, terminate the home education programme if the Chief Education Officer is of the opinion, after considering the abilities of the student, that -

- (a) the home education programme no longer meets the requirements of section 4 (2); or
- (b) the student has failed to meet standards of student achievement, as measured by achievement testing, comparable to those of students in public schools.

(2) The Chief Education Officer shall, in conjunction with the notice of termination, direct the student to attend a school established by or registered under this Act effective on the date specified in the notice of termination.

(3) Where the parent disagrees with the decision of the Chief Education Officer made under subsection (1), the parent may appeal to the Education Appeal Tribunal established pursuant to this Act within fourteen days of the decision and the decision of the Tribunal shall be final.

DIVISION 4

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Special education.

91.(1) The Chief Education Officer is responsible for providing special education programmes for students of compulsory school age who by virtue of intellectual, communicative, behavioural, physical or multiple exceptionalities are in need of special education.

(2) A student who is entitled to a special education programme shall have the programme delivered in the least restrictive and most enabling environment to the extent that resources permit and it is considered practicable by the Chief Education Officer in consultation with professional staff of the school and the Ministry and the parents, having due regard for the educational needs and rights of all students.

(3) A special education programme may take the form of an individual education plan in that the plan is tailored to the specific or individual needs of the student.

(4) Where it has been determined that a student eighteen years of age or older requires an individual education plan, the costs of developing, providing and maintaining that plan may be apportioned between the student or the parent of the student, as the case may be, and the Ministry in such manner as may be prescribed by regulations.

Determination of special educational needs.

92.(1) Where a determination cannot be made under subsection (2), the following procedures shall be followed:

- (a) the student shall be referred to the Chief Education Officer for a determination of the assessments that may be required to be performed;
- (b) the parent of the student shall receive written information concerning the procedures outlined in this section;
- (c) prior written informed consent by a parent for the administration to the student of the psychological and other specialised tests that are not routinely used by teachers shall be obtained;
- (d) where possible, the assessment shall be multi-disciplinary;
- (e) the results of the assessment reports shall be provided and explained to the parent;
- (f) a parent and, where appropriate, the student shall be consulted prior to the determination of and during the implementation of the special education programme; and
- (g) the parents shall be provided with information concerning the right of appeal to the Education Appeal Tribunal.

(2) The principal in consultation with professional staff and parents or, where a child is not in attendance at a school, the Chief Education Officer, in consultation with professional staff and parents, shall determine whether a student is a student with special educational needs, and if so, what special education programme is appropriate to meet the needs of that student.

(3) Parents may, in writing addressed to the Chief Education Officer, request for their children a determination in accordance with this section.

(4) A principal may invite a parent to be a member of a school based team that is established for the provision of a special education programme for a student.

(5) The school based team referred to in subsection (4), shall comprise persons selected on the basis of their expertise by the principal of a school to advise on a programme specified to the needs of a particular student or group of students.

(6) Where there is more than one parent for a child, consultation with one parent shall be deemed to be compliance with any consultation requirements of this section; and where legal custody rests with one parent consultation shall be with that parent.

Special needs
appeals.

93.(1) If a disagreement arises respecting a decision concerning -

- (a) the identification of a student as a student with special educational needs;
- (b) the individual education plan established for a student;
- (c) a request by a parent for a determination pursuant to section 92 (3);
- (d) the implementation of the individual education plan in an environment other than the regular class;
- (e) the non-implementation of an individual education plan in a school where the student would normally attend; or
- (f) the apportionment of costs, between the Ministry and the parents of the student for the provision of an individual education plan, the parent, student, or Board of Management may, within fourteen days of the decision, appeal the matter to the Education Appeal Tribunal established pursuant to this Act.

(2) A decision under subsection (1), shall be communicated in writing to the parents, student or Board of Management, as the case may be.

(3) When an appeal is made to the Education Appeal Tribunal, the student shall be enrolled in the programme determined in accordance with section 92 until the Education Appeal Tribunal makes its decision.

Council on Special Education.

94.(1) The Minister may establish a Council on Special Education to advise him on guidelines for the implementation of this Division.

(2) Where a Council on Special Education is established the Minister may by Order provide for its -

- (a) membership;
- (b) procedures for its business; and
- (c) powers and functions.

PART 5

CATEGORIES OF SCHOOLS

Organisation of schools.

95. For the purposes of this Act, the school system shall be organised in the following categories:

- (a) public schools;
- (b) private schools;
- (c) assisted private schools; and
- (d) denominational schools.

DIVISION 1

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Status of public schools.

96. All public schools existing at the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been established by this Act and shall continue as public schools under this Act.

DIVISION 2

---

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Interpretation.

97. The words "school" or "institution" where used in this Division to refer to the subject of rights or obligations, mean the person operating the school or institution to which the provision concerned applies.

Body without legal personality.

98.(1) In the case of a body not endowed with legal personality, the provisions of this Act shall apply as if the body were endowed with legal personality.

(2) The obligation to comply with the provisions of this Act lies with the persons responsible for the administration of the body.

(3) In the case of a school or an institution established by partnership, the obligation lies with both the partnership and the partners.

Applicability.

99. This Act applies to every private school dispensing all or some of the educational services belonging to one or more of the following categories:

- (a) early childhood educational services;
- (b) primary school education;
- (c) organisations, schools or other institutions providing special education;
- (d) secondary school education;
- (e) secondary school instructional services in vocational education;
- (f) secondary school adult education services;
- (g) secondary school adult education services in vocational education;
- (h) instructional services in general education at the tertiary level; and
- (i) instructional services in vocational training at the tertiary level.

References and object.

100.(1) Section 99 (a) to (d), (f) and (h) refers to education or instruction intended mainly to develop students' abilities in subjects preparing them for studies at the primary, secondary, post-secondary, tertiary or university level, as the case may be.

(2) Section 99 (e), (g), and (i) refers to vocational education or vocational training which is intended mainly to develop students' abilities so as to prepare them for an occupation, a trade or a profession.

Permit.

101.(1) Subject to section 103, a person may not operate a private school to which this Act applies unless that person is the holder of a permit issued by the Minister, for the school and the educational services or categories of educational services mentioned in section 99.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months, and, in the case of a continuing offence is liable to a further fine not exceeding two hundred dollars for each day during which the offence continues after the first conviction.

Presumption.

102. Any person or body dispensing for profit or non-profit purposes, educational services for his own account and in the case of a body for its own account, shall be deemed to be operating a private school.

Existing private schools.

103.(1) A person who, at the commencement of this Act, is keeping a private school, shall, within one year of the commencement of this Act or of such further period as the Minister may by notice allow, comply with section 101.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months, and, in the case of a continuing offence is liable to a further fine not exceeding two hundred dollars for each day during which the offence continues after the first conviction.

Private schools register.

104.(1) The Chief Education Officer shall keep in such manner as may be prescribed, a register of private schools to be known as the Private Schools Register, in which shall be entered the particulars of every private school in respect of which a permit has been issued by the Minister.

(2) The Chief Education Officer shall annually certify a copy of the Private Schools Register and the copy so certified shall be published in the Gazette on such date as the Minister may determine.

(3) The Chief Education Officer shall certify any amendment to the Register and the amendment shall be published in the Gazette.

Application for registration.

105.(1) An application for a permit to establish a private school shall be made in the prescribed form by or on behalf of the proprietor of the private school and shall contain the prescribed information.

(2) The Minister shall, upon the receipt of an application made in accordance with subsection (1) cause the private school to be inspected.

Requirements for registration.

106. Where a private school in respect of which an application is made under section 105 has been inspected, the Minister shall, subject to any condition that the Minister may specify, cause the school to be registered if the Minister is satisfied that -

- (a) the premises are suitable for the activities intended by the private school;
- (b) the furniture is adequate and suitable having regard to the number and ages of the students attending the private school;
- (c) the accommodation provided is adequate and suitable having regard to the number, ages and sex of the students attending the private school;
- (d) efficient and suitable instruction equivalent to that provided in an equivalent public school is being or will be provided at the private school having regard to the ages and sex of the students attending the school;
- (e) the code of conduct and rules of the school are comparable to those established for public schools and assisted private schools;
- (f) there is adequate land for the recreation of the students;
- (g) the proprietor or principal has not been convicted of or pleaded guilty to, an offence under this Act, or a criminal offence committed in relation to the operation of a private school in the three years preceding the application;
- (h) that the private school will have at its disposal the adequate human and material resources required for dispensing the educational services for which the permit is issued and sufficient financial resources for that purpose; and

- (i) the applicant is a fit and proper person and has paid the fee fixed by regulations.

Refusal.

107.(1)The Minister may refuse to issue a permit if, during the three years preceding the application, a permit held by the applicant was revoked.

(2)Where an application for a permit to establish a private school has been refused, the applicant shall be notified in writing -

- (a) of the refusal and of the reasons for refusal; and
- (b) of his right of appeal under section 119.

Limitation on instruction.

108. Notwithstanding section 101, the Minister may refuse to issue a permit authorising, in a primary school or in general education at the secondary school level, instructions limited to certain subjects or classes, or the Minister may subject the issue of such a permit to the conditions that he determines.

Number of students.

109.(1)The Minister may determine the maximum number of students who may be admitted to educational services or categories of educational services provided by the private school.

(2)The capacity of the facilities at the disposal of a school is the capacity determined by the applicant for a permit and approved by the Minister.

(3)Where the applicant fails to determine such capacity, the Minister may refuse to issue the permit.

Content of permit.

110. The permit to establish a private school shall state -

- (a) the name of the proprietor who shall be the holder;
- (b) the name and address of the school;
- (c) the address of the buildings or premises at its disposal;
- (d) the educational services or categories of educational services the institution is authorised to dispense;
- (e) where applicable, the authorisations and conditions determined under sections 106, 108 and 109; and

- (f) the maximum number of students who may be admitted under section 109.

Vocational education.

111. In respect of vocational education, the permit to establish a private school shall specify, where it concerns -

- (a) secondary school instructional services in vocational education or adult vocational education, the vocational education programmes that the school is authorised to dispense;
- (b) supplementary vocational training, the fields for which the permit is granted; or
- (c) general or vocational education at the tertiary level, the programmes that the school is authorised to dispense.

Duration and renewal of permits.

112.(1) On first issuance, a permit is valid for a period of three years.

(2) The Minister shall renew for five years, and subsequently for the same period, a permit held by a person who -

- (a) applies therefor in writing to the Minister within the time limit prescribed by regulations and furnishes, within that time limit, the information and documents prescribed by such regulations;
- (b) meets the conditions set out in section 106; and
- (c) has complied with the provisions of this Act and its regulations for the period of validity preceding the renewal.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), the Minister may issue or renew a permit for a different period or without a date of expiry where the Minister on the approval of the Executive Council considers it expedient.

Modification.

113.(1) The Minister may, at the request of a permit holder, modify the permit upon payment of the fees fixed by regulations.

(2) To modify the educational services mentioned in a permit, the holder shall meet the conditions for the issue of a permit that apply to the educational services for which the request is made.

Transfer. 114. A permit may not be transferred except with the written authorisation of the Minister.

Information. 115.(1) The holder of a permit shall inform the Minister -

- (a) of any change that renders the information provided for the issue, renewal or modification of a permit inaccurate or incomplete;
- (b) whenever the school or institution fails to provide all or some of the educational services mentioned in its permit.

(2) Every legal person or body holding a permit shall inform the Minister of any amalgamation, sale, charge or transfer affecting it, as well as of any change in the name of the school or institution.

Visits to private schools.

116.(1) The Minister or the Chief Education Officer or any other person authorised in writing by the Minister or the Chief Education Officer may for the purpose of making enquiries, carrying out inspections and discharging such other duties as are imposed on him by this Act or regulations, enter the premises of any private school during the hours of operation of that school.

(2) The proprietor of a private school shall during school hours, keep the school open to visits by the persons mentioned in subsection (1).

(3) A person who in respect of any person specified under subsection (1) -

- (a) obstructs that person in the performance of his duties;
- (b) makes a false representation to that person; or
- (c) refuses to furnish any information which that person may require under this Act or regulations, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Notice to comply.

117. Where the Minister is satisfied that a private school registered under this Act has ceased to be conducted in accordance with this Act or regulations, the Minister may serve on the proprietor of the school a notice of that fact, requiring him within the time specified in the notice to conduct the school in accordance with this Act or regulations, as the case may be.

Cancellation of registration.

118. Where a proprietor who is served with a notice under section 117 fails, within the time specified in the notice or within such further time as the Minister allows, to comply with the notice, the Minister shall -

- (a) cancel the permit and the registration of the private school; and
- (b) in writing inform the proprietor -
  - (i) that the permit has been revoked and the registration has been cancelled and of the reasons for the revocation and cancellation; and
  - (ii) of his right to appeal under section 119.

Appeal.

119.(1) The proprietor of a private school who is refused a permit and registration pursuant to sections 106 and 107 or whose registration is cancelled under section 118 (a) may, within thirty days of being notified of the refusal or cancellation, appeal to the Education Appeal Tribunal established pursuant to this Act against the refusal or cancellation, as the case may be.

(2) In the case of a refusal, a proprietor may appeal on any of the following grounds:

- (a) that the reasons given for the decision do not disclose any failure to meet any of the requirements for registration set out in section 106;
- (b) that the inspection of the school carried out pursuant to section 105 (2) was not adequate for determining whether the school meets the requirements set out in section 106; or
- (c) that there is no evidence available to support the decision.

(3) In case of a cancellation, a proprietor may appeal on any of the following grounds:

- (a) that no notice was served on the proprietor under section 117;

- (b) that the time specified in the notice served under section 117 or the further time allowed to the proprietor under section 118 to comply with the notice is unreasonable;
- (c) that the proprietor has complied with the notice served under section 117; or
- (d) that there is no evidence available to support the decision.

(4) Where an appeal is brought under this section against a cancellation of registration or a refusal to grant a permit, the Minister may not enforce the refusal or cancellation until the appeal is determined or withdrawn.

(5) The determination of an appeal by the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be final and binding upon the parties to any such decision.

(6) Where an appeal is dismissed or withdrawn, cancellation of the registration of the private school shall take effect from the date of the making of the order by the Education Appeal Tribunal dismissing the appeal, or the date of withdrawal of the appeal.

Registration and closure.

120.(1) Where the registration of a private school is cancelled pursuant to section 118, the proprietor of the school may, if the proprietor has complied with the notice served on him under section 117, apply to the Minister for the re-registration of the school.

(2) The requirements of section 106 shall apply to an application under subsection (1).

(3) From the date on which the cancellation of the registration of a private school takes effect, the school shall remain closed until it is re-registered.

(4) Where the Minister is satisfied that the notice served under section 117 has been complied with, the Minister may re-register the private school subject to any condition which the Minister may specify.

Returns.

121. The proprietor of a private school shall furnish the Minister with returns in the manner and containing the information required by this Act and regulations.

Health and sanitation.

122.(1) The Public Health Department shall require the same health and sanitary arrangements for private schools as are required for public schools and assisted private schools.

(2) The Minister may, on the advice of the Director of Health Services, require the closure of any private school or classroom at the school, or the exclusion of certain students for a specified time with a view to preventing the spread of disease or any danger to health.

Disqualification of teachers.

123.(1) A teacher employed in a private school shall possess at least the minimum qualifications required of a teacher employed in an equivalent public school.

(2) The Chief Education Officer may declare any person who does not possess the minimum qualification required under subsection (1) to be unfit for employment as a teacher in a private school and that person shall not be so employed.

(3) An appeal from a decision of the Chief Education Officer made pursuant to subsection (2) shall lie to the Education Appeal Tribunal established pursuant to this Act within fourteen days of the decision.

(4) The decision of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be final and binding on the parties to any such decision.

Prohibition of discrimination.

124. A private school that denies admission to a child or expels a student on account of the race, political affiliation, place of origin, colour or creed of the parents of the student commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

DIVISION 3

ASSISTED PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Creation of assisted private schools.

- 125. Subject to section 126, an assisted private school is either -
- (a) a school whose property is owned by a private proprietor, denominational body, a trust, an individual or any incorporated or unincorporated body and which has agreed to receive public funds for one or more of the following purposes:
    - (i) maintenance of the school;
    - (ii) provision of school furniture or equipment;

- (iii) the building of an extension to the school or the rebuilding thereof;
  - (iv) payment of the salaries of the staff; and
  - (v) any other purpose approved by the Minister; or
- (b) a school whose property is jointly owned by the Crown and a private proprietor or a denominational body -
- (i) and the management is jointly shared between the Minister and the private proprietor or denominational body; and
  - (ii) is in receipt of public funds for any of the purposes specified in paragraph (a); or
- (c) a school that is owned by the Crown and the Minister agrees that it should become an assisted private school for the purposes of its management.

Agreement to establish assisted private schools.

126.(1) An assisted private school comes into existence by mutual agreement between the Minister and the proprietor of the school.

(2) An agreement under subsection (1) shall -

- (a) be in writing;
- (b) exist for one or more schools;
- (c) be for a period of years; and
- (d) subject to this Act and regulations, specify the terms, conditions, the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the respective parties.

(3) Any party to the agreement may terminate the agreement by giving the other at least three years notice.

Publication of list of assisted private schools.

127.(1) The Minister shall publish in the Gazette by the 31st day of July of each year, a list of all assisted private schools and shall cause the list to be circulated to all public and assisted private schools.

(2) Where the Minister and the proprietor of a private school agree, a list published by virtue of subsection (1) shall detail the respective rights, responsibilities and obligations of the Government and the assisted private school.

Religious education in assisted private schools.

128.(1) Subject to subsection (2) where an assisted private school is owned or managed by a denominational body, the denominational body shall be responsible for organising and providing religious instruction or education to students that belong to its religious faith in accordance with a curriculum prescribed by that body.

(2) Where an assisted private school admits students who do not subscribe to the religious beliefs of the denominational school, no student, except with his own consent or, if he is a person under the age of eighteen years, the consent of his parent, shall be compelled or be required to receive religious education or instruction or take part in or attend any religious ceremony or observance prescribed under subsection (1).

Grants to assisted private schools.

129.(1) Where the proprietor or the Board of Management of any assisted private school requires financial assistance for the purpose of improving or extending the buildings of the assisted private school or erecting a new school in substitution for any discontinued assisted private school, the proprietor or the Board of Management may apply to the Minister for a grant from the Government.

(2) If upon consideration of an application for financial assistance under this section, the Minister is satisfied that the purpose for which the assistance is required ought to be carried out, the Minister may arrange to obtain a grant from the Government for that purpose.

DIVISION 4

DENOMINATIONAL SCHOOLS

Status of denominational school.

130. Except where a denominational school agrees to become an assisted private school, it shall not lose its status whether or not it is in receipt of a Government grant or subsidy or other form of financial assistance designed to meet in whole or in part the cost of the management and maintenance of the school.

Regulations for denominational schools.

131. The Minister may make regulations respecting -

- (a) the registration of denominational schools;
- (b) the capacity of the facilities used by the denominational school;

- (c) the educational services or categories of educational services the denominational school dispenses;
- (d) the number and frequency of inspections by the Minister or Chief Education Officer to denominational schools;
- (e) the annual returns of statistics to be furnished by the denominational school to the Minister;
- (f) the health and sanitary requirements to be maintained by the denominational school; and
- (g) the buildings, premises, equipment and furnishings to be used by the denominational school.

PART 6

TECHNOLOGICAL AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Establishment of Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council.

132.(1)The Minister may establish a Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council whose membership shall be as follows:

  - (i) two members appointed on the recommendations of the associations which represent employers;

- (ii) three members with expertise in technological and vocational education and training; and
- (iii) two members appointed on the recommendations of the duly recognised organisations representing employees.

(2)The Minister shall, by instrument in writing, appoint one member as chairman, and one member as deputy chairman.

(3)In the case of the inability of any member to act, the Minister may appoint a person to act temporarily in the place of that member.

Third Schedule.

(4)The Third Schedule has effect with respect to the procedure of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council and otherwise in relation thereto.

Functions of Council.

133. The functions of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council are -

- (a) to advise the Minister on policy relating to technological and vocational education and training;
- (b) to prepare plans for technological and vocational education and training in accordance with national policies and economic needs;
- (c) to monitor and make recommendations to ensure that agreed plans for technological and vocational education and training are implemented;
- (d) to advise on the co-ordination of technological and vocational education and training at all levels of the educational system;
- (e) to recommend standards for technological and vocational education and training;
- (f) to recommend training priorities, qualifications and accreditation;
- (g) to advise the Minister on the scheme of examinations which may be adopted to test students;

- (h) to determine the facilities and resources required to ensure satisfactory standards of technological and vocational education and training and the welfare of students, trainees and staff of training institutions;
- (i) to advise the Minister on the allocation of resources for technological and vocational education and training;
- (j) to advise the Minister on the making of grants and loans for the support and provision of technological and vocational education and training;
- (k) to make recommendation to the Minister on the making of regulations respecting technological and vocational education and training; and
- (l) to carry out such other functions relating to technological and vocational education and training as the Minister may require.

Directions. 134. The Minister may give directions of a general or specific nature to the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council and it shall comply with those directions.

Appointment and functions of committees. 135.(1)The Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council may appoint committees to perform, in relation to technological and vocational education and training -

- (a) such of its functions as it delegates in writing; and
- (b) such other functions as are specified in section 136.

Fourth Schedule. (2) The provisions of the Fourth Schedule shall apply in respect of the procedure and function of committees and otherwise in relation thereto.

Additional functions of committee. 136. The additional functions of a committee appointed by the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council are as follows:

- (a) to undertake research or assist persons in undertaking research into matters relating to technological and vocational education and training;

- (b) to advise the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council on specified aspects of technological and vocational education and training;
- (c) to advise the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council on the training facilities to be provided at institutions for persons employed or seeking training in technological and vocational education and training;
- (d) to advise on or make arrangements for giving selection criteria in respect of persons wishing to obtain technological and vocational education and training;
- (e) to make recommendations respecting arrangements for tests and other methods of ascertaining the standards of efficiency to be recommended by the committee for persons seeking technological and vocational education and training; and
- (f) to recommend the terms applicable to persons wishing to pursue technological and vocational education and training.

Training schemes.

137.(1)The Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council may, with the approval of the Minister and subject to section 134, formulate schemes for regulating training in any occupation.

(2)A term of any contract for training registered before the date of the coming into force of the scheme may not be revoked or varied by means of a scheme.

(3)A scheme may contain, in respect of any occupation to which it relates -

- (a) the qualifications, including the age and educational standards required for trainees;
- (b) the practical training that employers are required to provide for their trainees;
- (c) the theoretical training that is required to be provided by, or at the expense of, employers for their trainees, or that trainees are required to undergo, and the manner in which the training is to be provided or undergone;

- (d) the proficiency tests or examinations that trainees are required to take;
- (e) the maximum number of ordinary working hours including overtime, trainees may be required or permitted to work during any day, week or other specified period;
- (f) the days on which, the hours in any day before or after which, and the intervals during which, no trainee can be required or permitted to work;
- (g) the minimum wages and other conditions that apply to trainees;
- (h) the minimum remuneration and other conditions that apply in respect of any period during which a trainee is unable, by reason of any condition of training, or other circumstances, to render service to his employer during working hours; and
- (i) any other matter that, in the opinion of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council, with the approval of the Minister, is necessary for the effective operation of the scheme.

(4) Different conditions of training may be specified in a scheme in respect of different classes of employers, trainees or occupations and the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council may, in determining the different conditions for any scheme, apply any method of differentiation it thinks fit.

(5) A scheme may be amended by a subsequent scheme or by an Order made by the Minister on the recommendation of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council.

System for monitoring.

138. Subject to the approval of the Minister, the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council shall establish an effective system for monitoring the implementation of the technological and vocational education and training strategy and plan prepared under section 141.

Annual report.

139.(1)The Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council shall, not later than three months after the end of the school year, submit to the Minister a report containing -

- (a) an account of the activities of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council throughout the preceding financial year in such detail as the Minister directs; and
- (b) a statement of the accounts of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council for that financial year audited in accordance with regulations enacted for that purpose.

(2)A copy of the report of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council referred to in subsection (1) shall be printed and laid before the Legislative Council within three months after receipt of the report by the Minister, and published in the Gazette.

National policy.

140. Subject to the approval of the Minister, the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council shall prepare a national policy for technological and vocational education and training to meet the needs of society and the economy.

Plans for technological and vocational education.

141.(1)Subject to the approval of the Minister, the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council shall prepare a strategy and plan for technological and vocational education and shall update it each year.

(2)The strategy and plan referred to in subsection (1) shall identify outputs and priorities and recommend allocation of resources to implement the plan in the most cost effective manner.

(3)The strategy and plan shall only be implemented in public and assisted private schools on the written direction of the Minister to the Chief Education Officer.

Regulations
by the Minister.

142. The Minister may make regulations -

- (a) on the recommendation of the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council -
  - (i) prescribing the form and terms of any contract of training;

- (ii) prescribing the procedure for the registration and transfer of contracts for training, and for the notification of the expiration or termination of such contracts;
  - (iii) for the holding of tests in respect of any specified occupation, and for the granting of a certificate of proficiency to any person who enters for, and passes, any such test, notwithstanding that that person is not a trainee;
  - (iv) for the appointment of an Executive Director and other members of staff to manage its affairs; and
  - (v) respecting technological and vocational education and training generally and for matters related thereto;
- (b) establishing an employment and training fund for the purposes of promoting and supporting training and the upgrading of skills for the labour force;
  - (c) establishing and regulating the accounting and auditing of any funds received by the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council;
  - (d) respecting the criteria and eligibility for receiving grants or loans;
  - (e) respecting the procedures for the evaluation of proposals for grants or loans;
  - (f) establishing procedures for monitoring the performance and outcome of training required to satisfy the conditions for award of grants or loans;
  - (g) respecting the procedures regarding training schemes; and
  - (h) respecting the supervision of trainees by employers.

(2) A principal who fails to perform any or a combination of the professional duties specified in subsection (1) is liable to disciplinary action by the Teaching Service Commission in accordance with prescribed regulations respecting discipline.

PART 8

CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT OF STUDENTS

National curriculum.

149.(1)The Minister shall establish a national curriculum for public schools and assisted private schools.

(2)A curriculum established under subsection (1) shall be balanced and broadly based and shall, in addition to the goals and objectives specified in section 4 (2) -

- (a) promote the spiritual, emotional, moral, cultural, social, intellectual and physical development of students and of society; and
- (b) prepare students for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.

(3)The Minister may revise the national curriculum whenever the Minister considers it necessary and expedient to do so.

Core and foundation subjects.

150.(1)The curriculum for every public school and assisted private school shall comprise core and foundation subjects and specify in relation to each of them -

- (a) attainment targets that include the knowledge, skills and understanding that students of different abilities and maturities are expected to have by the end of each key stage;
- (b) programmes of study that include the matters, skills and processes that are required to be taught to students of different abilities and maturities during each key stage; and
- (c) assessment arrangements that include the arrangements for assessing students at or near the end of each key stage for the purpose of ascertaining what they have achieved in relation to the attainment targets.

(2)Subsection (1) shall not apply in the case of a school engaged in the delivery of special education.

Key stages of assessment.

151.(1)The key stages in relation to a student are as follows:

- (a) the period beginning with his attainment of compulsory school age and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of seven;
- (b) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of eight and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of ten;
- (c) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of eleven and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of thirteen; and
- (d) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of fourteen and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of students in his class attain the age of sixteen.

(2) For each key stage in subsection (1) the Chief Education Officer shall ensure that arrangements are made for the assessment of students to ascertain what they have achieved, in relation to the attainment targets.

(3) The assessments may be made by the Ministry or by a body or organisation designated or contracted to do so by the Minister.

(4) The Minister shall determine the frequency of the assessments.

(5) The Minister shall, within ninety days of receiving the results of the assessments, publish the results together with a commentary thereon by the Chief Education Officer.

Determination of attainment targets.

152.(1) The Minister shall by notice published in the Official Gazette establish -

- (a) the core subjects and other foundation subjects;
- (b) the attainment targets;
- (c) the programmes of study; and

- (d) the assessment arrangements that the Minister considers appropriate.

(2) A notice issued under subsection (1) may not require that -

- (a) any particular period or periods of time should be allocated during any key stage to the teaching of any programme of study or any matter, skill or process forming part of it; or
- (b) provision of any particular time should be made in school timetables for the periods to be allocated to such teaching during any such stage.

Subject panels.

153.(1) For the purpose of creating and revising the national curriculum from time to time, the Minister may constitute subject panels to develop syllabuses for the core and foundation subjects.

(2) A subject panel shall comprise the following:

- (a) members of the teaching profession with expertise in the subject;
- (b) officials of the Ministry; and
- (c) other persons, including parents, having relevant knowledge or experience in the subject;

(3) Subject panels shall consist of not less than five or more than nine members appointed by the Minister after consultation with the Chief Education Officer, of whom -

- (a) one shall be appointed as chairman; and
- (b) another may be appointed as deputy chairman.

(4) The Chief Education Officer or other official designated by him shall co-ordinate the work of the subject panels and ensure the testing and implementation of the recommended syllabuses into the school system.

Collective worship and religious education.

154.(1) Subject to subsections (2) and (5), the school day in every public or assisted private school shall begin with collective worship by all students in attendance at the school, and the arrangements made shall provide for a single act of worship which shall be Christian in character attended by all students unless the school premises are so constructed as to make it impracticable to assemble for that purpose.

(2)The collective worship required by subsection (1) shall not, in any public school and assisted private school, be distinctive of any particular religious denomination.

(3)Subject to section 155, religious education shall be part of the curriculum of every public school and assisted private school.

(4)It shall not be a condition of admission or attendance of any student in a public school or assisted private school that a student -

- (a) participates in religious education or attends or abstains from attending any place of religious instruction or worship;
- (b) if his parent objects, attends any religious observances or receives any education in religious subjects at a school or elsewhere; or
- (c) attends a school or an activity in any place on any day specially set apart for religious worship by the religious body to which he belongs.

(5)Where the parent of any student attending a public school or assisted private school requests that the student be excused from attendance at collective worship, any religious observance or any education or instruction in religious subjects at the school or elsewhere, then, until the request is withdrawn, the student shall be excused.

Religious education in public schools.

155.(1)The religious education given to any student in attendance at a public school pursuant to section 154 (3) shall be given in accordance with an agreed syllabus adopted for the school and shall not include any catechism or formulary that is distinctive of any particular religious denomination.

(2)In respect of public schools the Minister may constitute a standing advisory council on religious matters connected with the religious instruction to be given in accordance with an agreed syllabus and in particular, as to methods of teaching, the choice of books, and the provision of lecturers or teachers.

PART 9

INSPECTION AND REVIEW OF THE EDUCATION SYSTEM

DIVISION 1

INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS

Inspection of schools.

156.(1) The Chief Education Officer, an Education Officer, or a public officer authorised in writing by the Chief Education Officer or any other person authorised in writing by the Minister shall, at the times and in the manner prescribed, inspect public schools, assisted private schools, and private schools.

(2) Any person who, pursuant to subsection (1) inspects a school shall -

- (a) give such assistance and guidance to the teachers employed at the school as might promote the good conduct and efficiency of the school;
- (b) advise the principal of the school on matters relating to its welfare and development; and
- (c) give to the Minister, the Board of Management, or, in the case of a private school, the proprietor, a report on the school.

Schools to be opened for inspections and visits.

157.(1) The principal of a public school, an assisted private school and the proprietor or principal of a private school shall keep the school open at all times during school hours to visits and inspections -

- (a) by the Minister;
- (b) by the Chief Education Officer; or
- (c) by any other person authorised in writing by the Minister or the Chief Education Officer to visit or inspect the school.

(2) Any person who, pursuant to subsection (1), inspects a school may at the request of the Chief Education Officer examine the students in the subjects of instruction taught at the school.

Offences.

158. A person who -

- (a) prevents a person empowered or authorised under this Act or regulations from visiting or inspecting public schools, assisted private schools or private schools; or

- (b) assaults or obstructs a person empowered or authorised under this Act or regulations to visit or inspect a public school, an assisted private school or a private school during a visit or inspection of such schools, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars and in the case of a second or subsequent conviction to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months.

DIVISION 2

REVIEW OF THE EDUCATION SYSTEM

Appointment of Education Review Committee.

159.(1) Every five years or as soon as practicable thereafter, the Executive Council on the recommendation of the Minister, shall appoint an Education Review Committee of not more than five members to review and report on the education system of the Virgin Islands in accordance with section 160.

(2) The Education Review Committee shall comprise -

- (a) a member having relevant knowledge or expertise in education who shall be chairman;
- (b) one member from either -
  - (i) a Parent Teacher Association; or
  - (ii) a Board of Management;

APPEALS

Establishment of Education Appeal
Tribunal.

161.(1) For the purposes of determining appeals under this Act, the Minister shall appoint an Education Appeal Tribunal.

(2) The Minister shall appoint to the Education Appeal Tribunal -

- (a) fit and proper person as chairman;
- (b) a maximum of five other persons; and
- (c) a secretary who shall be a public officer.

(3) The chairman and the members of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be appointed for a period not exceeding three years and in the manner specified by the Minister.

(4) The Minister may solicit and consider nominations for the membership of the Education Appeal Tribunal from groups interested in education in the Virgin Islands.

(5) The chairman and the members of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall swear an oath of non-disclosure in the form prescribed by the Minister for information gained during an appeal in accordance with this Part.

Composition of Tribunal.

162.(1) An appeal referred to the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be heard by the chairman and two or more members chosen by the chairman.

(2) Subject to section 161 (2) (a), where possible, the qualifications of the members of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be appropriate to the matter under consideration by the Tribunal.

(3) The chairman may call upon such experts or consultants as are considered necessary to advise the Education Appeal Tribunal.

Mediation.

163. Prior to the consideration of an appeal by the Education Appeal Tribunal, the chairman may appoint a mediator to attempt to settle the matter under appeal.

Procedure of Tribunal.

164.(1) In considering the matter being appealed, the Education Appeal Tribunal may make any investigation it considers necessary.

(2) The Education Appeal Tribunal shall set the time, place, and date for a hearing of the appeal and shall notify the parties to the appeal of the time, place, and date of the hearing.

(3) A decision shall not be made by the Education Appeal Tribunal without giving the parties to the appeal an opportunity to make representations either orally or in writing or both.

(4) Parties to an appeal shall pay their own costs unless otherwise directed by the Tribunal.

(5) Unless the Education Appeal Tribunal decides otherwise, appeals shall be held in camera and may be heard in any place.

Powers of the Tribunal.

165. The Education Appeal Tribunal, in deciding a matter being appealed, may make an order doing one or more of the following:

- (a) confirming or varying the decision that is under appeal;
- (b) identifying a student as a student with special educational needs;
- (c) determining that an individual education plan be prepared for a student;
- (d) directing the Chief Education Officer to implement an individual education plan in a particular environment including, but not limited to, a regular class;
- (e) directing the Chief Education Officer to enrol a student in a school named by the Education Appeal Tribunal;
- (f) directing a determination to be made in accordance with section 93;
- (g) defining the contents of a student record when the appeal under consideration is pursuant to section 23; and
- (h) reinstating to school a student who has been expelled or placed on an indefinite suspension.

Matters to be considered.

166. In the determination of an appeal, the Education Appeal Tribunal shall consider -

- (a) the educational interests of the student who is the subject of the appeal;
- (b) the impact of a decision on the total school or class population; and
- (c) any other factor that appears to be relevant to the matter in dispute.

Final decision.

167. The decision of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be final and binding upon the parties to the appeal.

Enforcement of order.

168.(1) A copy of an order made by the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be filed with the Registrar of the High Court.

(2) On the filing of a copy of an order with the Registrar of the High Court, the order has the same force and effect as if the order were an order of that Court.

Copy to the Minister and parties.

169. A copy of the decision of the Education Appeal Tribunal shall be sent to the Minister and the parties to the appeal.

PART 11

SECOND SCHEDULE

[Sections 66, 73, 79 and 80]

CONSTITUTION, PROCEDURE, AND FUNCTIONS OF BOARDS OF MANAGEMENT

Interpretation.

1. In this Schedule "Board" means a Board of Management appointed under sections 66, 73, 79 and 80 of the Education Act.

Chairman and Deputy Chairman.

2.(1) Except in cases of Boards established under sections 79 and 80 of the Act, a Board shall elect a chairman and a deputy chairman from among its members.

(2) The membership of a Board as first constituted and any changes therein shall be notified in the Gazette.

Filling of vacancies.

3. If any vacancy occurs in the membership of a Board such vacancy shall be filled by the appointment of another member in the manner indicated in sections 66, 73, 79 and 80, and such person shall hold office for the remainder of the period for which the previous member was appointed, provided however, that such appointment shall be made in the same manner and from the same category of persons, if any, as the appointment of the previous member.

Employment of member.

4.(1) A member of a Board may not be appointed to any office or employment under the Board of which he is a member or any other Board.

(2) A person is not eligible for appointment to any office or employment under a Board within one year from the date on which the person last held office or acted as a member of that Board.

Duration of membership.

5.(1) Every member of a Board shall hold office for a term of three years unless, before the end of the term the member dies, resigns, is removed from office for any cause by the Minister or the appointing authority under sections 79 and 80 of the Act or ceases to be a member in accordance with subparagraph (4).

(2) Every member is eligible for reappointment for a further term.

(3) Any member of a Board who fails to attend three consecutive meetings of the Board without excuse acceptable to the Board shall cease to be a member thereof.

(4) A member of a Board may at any time resign his office by instrument in writing addressed to the Minister and transmitted through the chairman in cases of Boards established in public schools and through the denomination or proprietor in cases of Boards established in assisted private schools provided that the resignation shall be effective from the date of receipt by the Minister of such instrument, if a date is not specified therein.

(5) The chairman may at any time resign office by instrument in writing addressed to the Minister in cases of Boards established in public schools and the denomination or proprietor in cases of Boards established in assisted private schools provided that the resignation shall be effective from the date of receipt by the Minister of such instrument, if a date is not specified therein.

Meetings.

6.(1) A Board shall meet at least once in every school term and at such other times as may be necessary or expedient for the transaction of its business and such meetings shall be held at such places and times on such days as the chairman may determine.

(2) The chairman may at any time summon a meeting of a Board and shall summon a meeting within seven days -

- (a) if a request for that purpose is addressed to him by any three members of a Board; or
- (b) on a direction to that effect addressed to him by the Minister.

(3) The chairman, or in his absence the deputy chairman, shall preside at any meeting of a Board.

(4) At any meeting of a Board, in case of the absence or inability to act of both the chairman and the deputy chairman, the members of the Board shall elect one of their members to preside at that meeting.

Quorum.

7. At any meeting of a Board a quorum shall be the minimum number constituting a majority of the total members of the Board.

Decisions.

8. The decisions of a Board shall be by a majority of the votes of the members present and constituting a quorum, but in any case in which the voting is equal the chairman, deputy chairman or other member presiding at the meeting shall in addition to an original vote, have a casting vote.

Minutes.

9.(1) Minutes in proper form of each meeting of a Board shall be kept by the secretary or such person as the Board may appoint for the purpose and shall be confirmed by the Board at its next meeting and signed by the chairman or other person presiding at that meeting, and the secretary of the Board.

(2) A copy of the Minutes of each meeting as recorded by the secretary or such person as is referred to in subparagraph (1) shall be submitted to the Minister within one month of the confirmation of the minutes.

Attendance of Chief Education Officer.

10.(1) The Chief Education Officer may attend any meeting of a Board or a committee or subcommittee thereof or may be represented at any such meeting by a public officer authorised by him in that behalf.

(2) The Chief Education Officer or his representative may take part in the proceedings of any such meeting but shall not be entitled to vote or otherwise take part in the decision-making process of any such meeting.

Appointment of committees.

11.(1) A Board may appoint a committee for any of the purposes of the Board which in its opinion would be better regulated or managed by means of a committee, with or without restrictions or conditions, as it thinks fit.

(2) The number of members of a committee appointed under this paragraph and their terms of office shall be fixed by the Board.

(3) A committee appointed under this paragraph may include persons who are not members of the Board but the chairman and at least two-thirds of the members of every committee shall be members of the Board.

(4) Any committee appointed by a Board under this paragraph may, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Board, appoint a subcommittee of its members as it may determine.

(5) Any subcommittee appointed under this paragraph shall be constituted in such manner as, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Board, may be determined by the appointing committee; but the chairman and at least two-thirds of the members of every subcommittee shall be members of the Board.

(6) Subject to any restrictions imposed by the Board where a committee appointed by the Board appoints a subcommittee in the exercise of the powers conferred on it by subparagraph (4), it may delegate to the subcommittee, with or without restrictions or conditions as it thinks fit, any of its functions.

---

Power to delegate.

12. Without prejudice to paragraph 11, a Board, after consultation with the Minister, may delegate to any committee such of its functions as it considers appropriate subject to such restrictions or conditions as it thinks fit.

THIRD SCHEDULE

[Section 132]

PROCEDURE OF TECHNOLOGICAL AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING COUNCIL

- Definition. 1. In this Schedule, "Council" means the Technological and Vocational Education and Training Council established under section 132 of this Act.
- Duration of appointment. 2. A member of the Council holds office for a term of three years unless he dies, resigns or has his appointment revoked before the end of that term, but
- (a) a person who is appointed to fill a vacancy created by the death, resignation or removal from office of a member shall hold office only for the unexpired portion of the term of that former member; and
- (b) every member is, on the expiration of the term of his appointment, eligible for re-appointment for a further term.
- Leave of absence. 3. The Minister may grant leave of absence to a member of the Council and may appoint a person to act temporarily in the place of that member.
- Resignation of member. 4. A member of the Council other than the chairman may resign office by instrument in writing addressed to the Minister transmitted through the chairman and, from the date of the receipt of the instrument by the Minister if no date is specified therein, that member ceases to be a member of the Council.
- Resignation of chairman. 5. The chairman may at any time resign his office by instrument in writing addressed to the Minister and, from the date of the receipt of such instrument by the Minister if no date is specified therein, he ceases to be chairman and to be a member of the Council.
- Quorum. 6. Four members of the Council shall form a quorum.
- Decisions. 7. Decisions of the Council shall be made by a majority of the members present and voting, and where the voting is equal the chairman, in addition to his original vote, has a casting vote.

- Frequency of meetings.
- 8. The Council is required to meet at such times as may be expedient for the transaction of business and such meeting shall be held at such places and times and on such days as the Council determines.
- Special meeting.
- 9. The chairman or, in the event of his being absent from the Territory or for any reason is unable to act, the deputy chairman, is required to call a special meeting within seven days after receiving a requisition to do so by any four members of the Council.
- Minutes.
- 10. Minutes of each meeting are to be duly kept by the Secretary or other person appointed by the Council for the purpose, and are to be confirmed by the Council at its next meeting and signed by the chairman or other person presiding at that meeting and the Secretary.
- Co-opting of other persons.
- 11. The Council may co-opt other persons to attend any of its meetings for the purpose of assisting or advising it respecting any matters with which it is dealing, but a co-opted member does not have a right to vote.
- Procedure.
- 12. Subject to this Schedule, the Council may regulate its own procedure.
- Documents.
- 13. All documents made by, and all decisions of, the Council are to be signified under the hand of the chairman or any member authorised to act in that behalf, or by the Secretary.

---

VIRGIN ISLANDS

No. 15 of 2004

An Act to make provision for the orderly and progressive development of land in both urban and rural areas and for the protection of the environment and improvement of the amenities thereof, for the grant of permission to develop land and for other powers of control over the use of land; to confer additional powers in respect of the acquisition and development of land for planning purposes; and for other matters connected therewith.

[Gazetted 17th December, 2004]

ENACTED by the Legislature of the Virgin Islands as follows:

PART I

PRELIMINARY

- 1. (1) This Act may be cited as the Physical Planning Act, 2004. Short title and commencement.
  - (2) This Act shall come into force on such date as the Governor may, by Proclamation published in the Gazette, appoint.
  - 2. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, Interpretation.
- “adjoining land” means that portion of land extending a distance of one hundred feet landward from the spring high water mark or, where the land to that distance includes a cliff, to a distance of fifty feet landward from the seaward edge of the cliff top;

“advertisement” means any word, letter, model, sign, placard, board, notice, awning, blind, balloon, device or representation, whether illuminated or not, in the nature of, and employed wholly or partly for the purposes of, advertisement, announcement or direction, or calling attention to any person, matter, object or event, and (without prejudice to the preceding provisions of this definition) includes any hoarding, billboard, wall, fence, or similar structure used, adapted, designed, or intended for use, for display of advertisement and references to the display of advertisements shall be construed accordingly;

“agriculture” includes horticulture, fruit growing, seed growing, dairy farming, the breeding and keeping of livestock (including any creature kept for the production of food, wool, skins or fur or for the purpose of its use in farming the land), the use of land as grazing land, meadow land, for the cultivation of crops, as market gardens and nursery grounds, but does not include the use of land for fish-farming and “agricultural” shall have a corresponding meaning;

“amenity order” means an order made under section 55;

“Appeals Tribunal” means the Appeals Tribunal established under section 65;

“Authority” means the Planning Authority established under section 6;

“beach” means that area of the coastal zone from the seaward limit of the foreshore running inland to the vegetation line or other natural barrier whichever is closer to the landward limit of the foreshore, and a beach may consist of sand, stones, gravel, shingle, coral fragments or boulders;

“builder” means a person engaged as a contractor or otherwise in the erection, construction, alteration, improvement, maintenance, repair or demolition of buildings or works incidental to any of the foregoing;

“building” includes any erection, structure, chattel or movable structure in, on, over or under any land and any part of a building so defined (but does not include plant or machinery comprised in a building), an erection or structure permanently attached to the seabed or temporarily so attached for the purpose only of the exploitation of minerals in, on or under the seabed;

“building operations” includes the demolition of buildings or parts thereof, rebuilding operations, structural alterations of or additions to buildings and other operations normally undertaken by a person carrying on business as a builder;

“building or work” means waste materials, refuse and other matters deposited on land, and references to the construction of buildings or works shall be construed accordingly;

“Chief Planner” means the person so appointed under section 7;

- (a) the carrying out of works for the maintenance, improvement or other alteration of a building, if the works affect only the interior, and do not materially affect the external appearance, of the building;
- (b) the carrying out by the Government of works for the maintenance or improvement of a road if the works are carried out on land within the boundaries of the road;
- (c) the carrying out by the Government or by a statutory agency of works for the purpose of inspecting, repairing or renewing sewers, water mains, electric mains, pipes, cables or other apparatus, including the excavation of any road or other land for that purpose;
- (d) the use of a building or other land within the curtilage of a dwelling house for purposes incidental to the enjoyment of that dwelling house as such;
- (e) the use of land for the purposes of agriculture or forestry, but not including
  - (i) any building or engineering operation on the land;
  - (ii) the operation of a saw-mill on the land; or
  - (iii) the carrying out of any works or excavation on the land for the purposes of accommodation of livestock (not being livestock kept for the domestic needs or personal enjoyment of the occupants of the land), or for the storage of slurry or sewage sludge, within one hundred yards of the cartilage of a residential building, not being a residential building within an agricultural unit;
- (f) the erection of gates, fences, walls or other means of enclosure, not exceeding four feet in height where adjacent to a road or the sea, or six feet in any other case, and not constructed of asbestos, fiber glass or sheet metal
- (g) the enlargement, improvement or other alteration of a dwelling house, provided that
  - (i) the square footage of the enlargement does not exceed one tenth of the square footage of the ground floor of the house at the date of the development or of the house at the commencement of this Act, whichever is larger;

- (ii) the enlargement is an integral part of the existing house;
  - (iii) the enlargement complies with the requirements of any planning regulations for the time being in force; and
  - (iv) written notice of intention to carry out such work is given to the Authority through the Chief Planner;
- (h) in the case of buildings or other land that are used for a purpose of a class specified in an Order made by the Minister under this section, the use thereof for any other purpose of the same class;
